—The late S. Ritter Ickes, of Brantford, president of the Brantford Street Railway Company, who died a short time ago, left an estate of over $60,000, of which the Trusts and Guarantee Company, Limited, Toronto, have been appointed administrators.

Concluding Session Of The County Council

Wind-up of the Week's Work--Many Reports Presented, Adopted and Confirmatory By-laws Passed--Special Grant to Galway Agricultural Society.

County Council met in regular and final session at 9.45 this morning, the Warden in the chair, and all the members present.

It was moved by Messrs. Shaw and Garbutt that a grant of $50 be made to the Galway Agricultural Society, and that it be added to the grants in the finance report.—Carried.

Reports Adopted.

The following reports of Committees were read and adopted:—Petitions, Roads and Bridges, Equalization of Assessment, Schools, Finance and County Property.

The following were the reports presented:—

Report of Committee on Petitions.

The Committee on Petitions begs to report as follows:—

1.—That the communication from the Ontario Municipal Association be received and that no action be taken.

2.—That the communication from the Chief Constables Association be received and that no action be taken.

3.—That the communication from the Eastern Ontario Good Roads Association be received and that no action be taken.

Respectfully submitted.
ROBERT SHAW,
Chairman.

County Council Chamber, Peterborough, 21st June, 1906.

Report of Property Committee.

The Committee on County Property begs to reports—

1.—That the letter from the Registrar of Deeds regarding fittings for the Registry Office be received and that action thereon be postponed until a subsequent meeting.

2.—That the Chairman and County Solicitor be requested to examine the title to the land in the rear of the Court House and report at the next session of the Council.

Respectfully submitted.
J. CAREY,
Chairman.

County Council Chamber, Peterborough, 21st June, 1906.

Report of Road and Bridge Committee

The Committee on Roads and Bridges begs to report as follows:—

1.—That a grant of $100 be made towards the erection of a new bridge in place of the one known as Buck's Mill Bridge in Dummer provided the Government grant $200 towards the same, and the Township of Dummer complete the work and that Mr. Webster be Commissioner over such expenditure.

2.—That the special grant of $200 made by paragraph 12 of the Report of this Committee in June 1905 be applied towards repair of the North approach to Gannon's Bridge and that Mr. Shaw be Commissioner over such expenditure.

3.—That the conditions attached to the grant of $100 to aid in construction of a road in the Township of Smith by paragraph 9 of said Report be struck out and that Mr. Stanton be Commissioner over the expenditure.

4.—That the conditions attached to the grant of $80 made by said Report to the Townships of Galway and Cavendish be struck out, and that such grant be paid to the Treasurer of said Municipalities.

5.—That the conditions attached to the grant for roads in Ennismore made by paragraph 13 of said Report be struck out, and that Mr. Garbutt be Commissioner over such expenditure.

6.—That the special grant of $75 to Galway and Cavendish made by Report of January last of this Committee be paid to the Treasurer of said Municipalities.

7.—That a special grant of $150 be made to the Township of Asphodel towards the cutting down and repairing of Cameron's Hill on the Westwood road, provided that the Township of Asphodel contribute at least the same amount for that purpose, and that Mr. Beak be Commissioner over such expenditure.

8.—That the petition of John Cole and others for a grant towards repair of the boundary road between Hastings County and this County be received and that a grant of $50 be made for this purpose on condition that the County of Hastings contribute an equivalent sum for that purpose and that Mr. Andrews be Commissioner over such expenditure.

9.—That a special grant of $50 be made to the Township of Shandos to assist in repairing the Methuen Road North of the 13th Concession, and that Mr. Monogue be Commissioner over such expenditure.

10.—That a special grant of $100 be made for repairs of roads in Dysart and that Mr. Moloney be Commissioner over such expenditure.

11.—That a special grant of $150 be made for repair of the Benafort Road in Connaree and that Mr. Johnston be Commissioner over such expenditure.

12.—That a special grant of $100 be made for repair of road between Asphodel and Dummer, provided $100 be given by each of said Townships for that purpose, and that Mr. Webster and Mr. Andrews be Commissioners over such expenditure.

Respectfully submitted.
D. MOLONEY,
Chairman.

County Council Chamber, Peterborough, 21st June, 1906.

Finance Committee Report.

The Committee on Finance begs leave to report as follows:—

1.—That the payments set forth in the Statement attached marked "A" of accounts and moneys paid by the Treasurer on the authority of the Warden or under contract be confirmed.

2.—That the accounts set forth in the statement attached marked "B" be paid.

3.—That a grant of $60 (in addition to that voted at the January Session) be made to the Children's Aid Society.

4.—That the grants required by Statute ($25.00) each be made to the East and West Peterborough Farmers' Institutes.

5.—That a grant of $150 be made to the East Riding Agricultural Society, $50 of this being granted in view of the losses through inclement weather sustained by the Society last year.

6.—That the conditional grant voted in June 1905, towards the Harvey Agricultural Society be rescinded and that in substitution there be granted to the said Society an unconditional grant of $50 and to the Lakefield and Keene Agricultural Societies $50 each, and also that a grant of $50 be made to the Galway Agricultural Society.

7.—That the sale of the Debentures issued under By-law to raise $30,000 for erection of the House of Refuge be left in the hands of the Warden and the Chairman of the Finance and House of Refuge Committees and the County Solicitor.

8.—That the application of the National Sanitorium Association for a grant be left in the hands of Warden and Chairman of this Committee.

9.—That it having been provided by recent Statute that all County Rates must be paid by the 31st December in each year by-law No. 480, providing for time of payment thereof be rescinded.

10.—That the Clerk and Treasurer's salary be increased to $1,500 per annum from 1st June, instant.

11.—That the Auditors' Report for the past year be adopted.

12.—That the estimates of the expenditures and resources for the present year submitted to this Committee be adopted.

13.—Your Committee recommends that the rate for 1906, to be assessed and levied on the whole rateable property within the County sufficient to pay all valid debts of the Corporation whether of principal or interest falling due within the year shall be fixed at two and four-fifth mills on the dollar.

14.—Your Committee recommends that the rate for 1906 to be assessed and levied for school purposes on the property in the County assessable therefor shall be fixed at 1,476-10,000ths of a mill.

Respectfully submitted,
WM. BUCK,
Chairman.

County Council Chamber, Peterborough, 21st June, 1906.

By-laws Passed.

A bylaw was passed repealing bylaw No. 480, and fixing the rate of taxation at 24-5 mills.

Bylaws were also passed confirming the various reports as adopted.

House of Refuge.

It was moved by Messrs. Buck and Moloney, that the Clerk and Treasurer be authorized to procure bylaws regulating other Houses of Refuge, and report at the August session of this council.—Carried.

Good Roads.

Moved by Messrs. Shaw and Moloney, that the Warden, County Solicitor and chairman of Roads and Committee be a committee to take into consideration the question of good roads.

Sale of Scrap Iron.

Moved by Messrs. Shaw and Moloney, that the County Solicitor be authorized to prepare a bylaw regulating the sale of scrap iron in the county of Peterborough.—Carried.

The Council adjourned.

Coronation Was Marked By Very Striking Ceremony

Norway's King and Queen Crowned In Old Cathedral.

BY OLD NORSE CEREMONY

In Which the Bishop of Trondhjem and the Respective Ministers, Play an Important Part — People Cheered and Guns Thundered Over Haaken and Maud's Anointing Which Took Place Yesterday.

Trondhjem, June 22.—Coronation Day opened yesterday with a glowing but cold sun shining. The city was alive at an early hour, and by 8 o'clock the avenues reaching to the cathedral were filled with straggling lines of people making for the choicest points of vantage from which to see King Haakon and Queen Maud, both in ermine robes, and the distinguished guests enter the cathedral. The doors were opened at 10 a. m., and soon afterwards three bishops, robed in black and white, drove up in a phaeton. The crowd uncovered when the bishops entered the cathedral.

The arrival of the bishops was followed by the appearance of a number of priests, all robed in white. The royal and special ambassadors soon afterwards began arriving. The Prince and Princess of Wales entered last at 10.55 a. m.

King and Queen Start.

The King and Queen after a brief delay in arranging the carriages and cavalry escort started for the cathedral, preceded by their suites. A great cheer announced the departure of the royal party. The King smiled and saluted in reply to the salutations of the people. The crowd seemingly was impressed by the coming religious ceremony, and the people generally were silent. Occasionally, however, there was an outbreak of cheers.

The royal coach, drawn by four handsome bays, led by footmen, reached the cathedral at 11.10 a. m., where their Majesties were received by the clergy.

The Ceremony.

When the royal party entered all present in the cathedral arose and the ceremonial began immediately, which was conducted by the Bishop of Trondhjem and the Chief Justice, Prime Minister, Minister of Foreign Affairs, Minister of War, and concluded by the bishop in an invocation.

The completion of the crowning of King Haakon was communicated by two army signallers, wi-wagging, across the city, from the cathedral to the hill batteries, whose booming carried the tidings over the city and harbor.

The crowning of Queen Maud commenced immediately afterwards. Her Majesty, who is of a naturally timid and retiring disposition, bravely faced the ceremony. She looked dainty and attractive.

The ceremony of crowning King Haakon and Queen Maud was striking and sombre in its simplicity. There were no unfortunate attempt at decoration to mar the granite grandeur of the background furnished by the noble cathedral.

God Save King and Queen.

When the newly-crowned King and Queen returned to their thrones after the Episcopal benediction all the royal guests and special ambassadors saluted their Majesties with deep reverences.

At the termination of the proceedings the president of the Storthing called out "God save the King and Queen," and the whole distinguished company heartily took up the cry.

Nothing occurred throughout the ceremony to cause the principal participants the slightest uneasiness.

Congratulations.

On their return to the palace the King and Queen received the congratulations of a deputation from the Storthing and the members of the Government.

The vast throng outside the palace broke out into cheering in response to their Majesties' appearance at the window, still wearing the coronation robes.

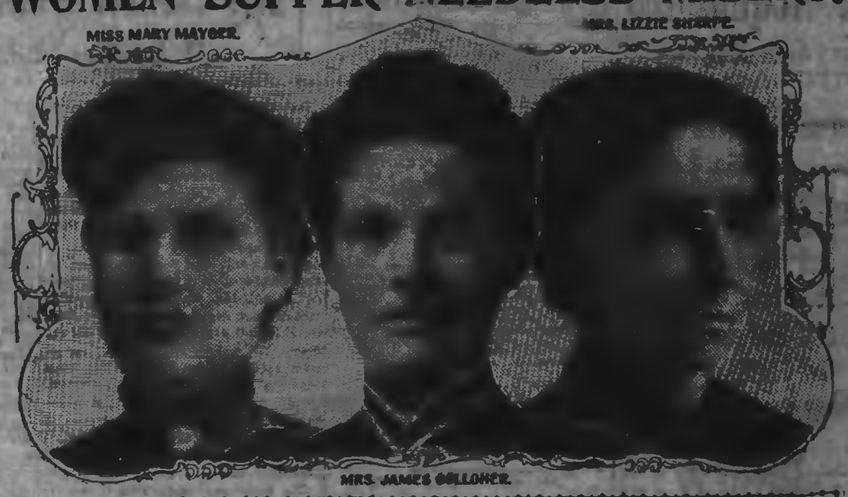
Celebrated at London.

London, June 23.—All the British naval and military stations yesterday celebrated the coronation of King Haakon and Queen Maud of Norway with firing of salutes. In addition the warships "dressed ship" and the bells of Windsor were rung.

Gained 25 Pounds.

"I was very much run down in health, could not sleep, was very nervous and so weak that I could hardly get around. Some months ago I began to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and to-day I am pleased to say I am completely restore to health. I have gained over 25 pounds in weight since well and feel strong and healthy."—Miss Jessie Bunn, 20 Gerrard [illegible]

WOMEN SUFFER NEEDLESS MISERY.



There are hundreds of thousands of women in America suffering from Pelvic Diseases, endangering their lives by neglecting treatment. If they will write to me I will give them the benefit of my extensive experience in treating this class of ailments. —S. B. Hartman, M. D.

IN view of the great multitude of women suffering from some form of female disease and yet unable to find any cure, Dr. Hartman, the renowned gynecologist, has announced his willingness to direct the treatment of as many cases as may make application to him during the summer months, without charge.

Miss Mary Mayger, 206 Delhi street, Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

"Before taking your medicine I was completely run down.

Headache and Backache.

"My back and head ached all the time and I was so nervous that it was impossible for me to attempt any work.

"After using two bottles of Peruna there was a wonderful change and I am now a well woman.

Gratitude.

"I cannot express my gratitude sufficiently and I am recommending it to all my friends."

Dr. Hartman's treatment will be conducted by correspondence.

The medicines prescribed can be obtained at all drug stores.

Complete Treatment.

The Doctor will prescribe all medicines, applications, hygienic and dietary regulations necessary to effect complete relief.

Furthermore, all correspondence will be held strictly confidential.

Entire System Affected.

Mrs. James Golloher, Norwood, Ontario, Can., writes:

"I was suffering from systemic catarrh for about two years.

"In damp weather I was unable to do my work, as my back and sides would ache, and I thought if I did not soon find a cure I could not live long.

"I saw where Peruna had cured hundreds who had suffered as I was suffering. I decided to try it.

"After taking the first bottle, I felt a big change.

Completely Cured.

"I have taken five bottles and I am completely cured.

"I thank Dr. Hartman for his kind advice to me."

Dr. Hartman's offer will hold good during the entire summer months.

Any woman can become a regular patient by sending a written statement of her age, condition of life, symptoms of her derangements, and previous treatment.

Dr. Hartman's Advice.

Mrs. Lizzie Sharpe, 208 Friendship street, Providence, R. I., writes:

"Some time ago I wrote you, asking advice in regard to my health, describing my symptoms.

"Following your advice and taking your medicine for only five weeks, I am thankful to say I am a well woman.

"I had suffered for a number of years with constipation, indigestion and female troubles of the worst form. I was unable to do my housework without help.

Satisfactory Results.

"After taking Peruna I have experienced the most satisfactory results. I am like a new woman.

"I do all my own housework for seven rooms, thanks to Peruna.

Recommends Peruna.

"I want to recommend Peruna to all who are similarly afflicted."

The principal remedy which Dr. Hartman relies upon in curing catarrhal diseases of women is Peruna.

Hundreds of women sufferers find Peruna a household remedy. Many of these women have written letters of thanks for the benefit they have obtained.

Dr. Hartman's Experience.

As is well known, Dr. Hartman is the President of the Hartman Sanitarium, an institution which has a department devoted to the treatment of female diseases.

He is thus brought to see a great many of such cases every year, the most of whom return to their homes to complete their treatment by correspondence.

Those wishing to become patients by correspondence should address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium Columbus, Ohio.

A STREET SCARECROW.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—I must compliment the street authorities upon the beautiful ornament at the Hunter street crossing over the sewer connection trench to Miss Scott's residence. This trench was filled in in so loose and slovenly manner that it has sunk and to ward the public of the danger a rough stick has been set up about 6 feet long, propped up by another rough stick, and surmounted by a bundle of old newspapers, looking like a scare-crow in a cornfield; it has been a ghastly object of ridicule for some days.

Why are our streets so outrageously neglected? I saw the men filling in the trench, and the man with a tamper lifted it about an inch at a time—slow time—and let it fall with about enough force to break a thin eggshell. His work was of no more use in packing the earth in the trench than dropping matches upon it. The trench was filled in such a sloppy way that when the rains came it caved in, making a gaping hole, dangerous to pedestrians and vehicles. Why is not work done properly? Why is the public money wasted so villainously? Why are our streets, as a whole, with their scarecrows, sink-holes and bumps and hollows, permitted to remain the laughing stock of visitors

Yours,
DISGUSTED.

WANT OF READING MAY MEAN WASTE

Failing to read the classified advertisements in the Peterborough Examiner may mean serious waste. Some person may wish to pay cash for what you consider junk, fit only for the scrap heap. Some person may be advertising to sell what you want at a price wholly incompatible with its absolute value. Always glance over the Examiner classified advertisements, for this simple operation, requiring only a few minutes, may save or make money for you. They will interest you, anyway.

Lady Requested Weaker Beverage

Result Was a Night Spent in the Cells.

"Drunk and disorderly" were the charges against Andrew Fawcett, who lives at the corner of Isabrams and London streets, and Mrs. Thompson, both of whom appeared before the Magistrate this morning.

It appeared from their stories that they formed a friendship on the street yesterday evening, and Mrs. Thompson requested a drink of tea for her associate. By each other's assistance they reached Mr. Fawcett's house, but helplessness caused their inability to obtain the beverage.

The police were informed of the little episode, and hence their arrest. They were discharged this morning by the Magistrate, with some advice.

Had a Bad Leg.

"For twelve years I was a great sufferer with eczema on the inside of the leg. There was a raw patch of flesh about three inches square, and the itching was terrible. Dr. Chase's Ointment completely cured me, took away the itching and healed up the sore."—Mr. Alex. McDonell, Postmaster, Broad Cove, Marsh.

Mr. Daniel Sullivan; A Sixty-Years' Resident

Mr. Daniel Sullivan, the subject of this sketch, is another of the pioneer residents who has been a Canadian for nearly 60 years, and is another citizen who has demonstrated that in this country, the young man from the Old Country, who is willing to be industrious and work for even small wages rather than starve or be dependent, can make an honest and comfortable living, and an honest name. Mr. Sullivan, at the ripe age of four score years, has an honorable and clear record to look back upon. He enjoys quite a distinction in a modest way. He was the first Separate School teacher in the County of Peterborough, the first postmaster of Douro, the first township clerk of Douro, after the municipal system was established, and the first township school inspector in Douro.

Mr. Sullivan was born on the shores of the beautiful Lakes of Killarney, in the beautiful county of Kildare, Ireland, on July 4, 1826. He never saw his father, and his mother died, leaving him doubly orphaned, at the age of five years. He was educated at the Christian Brothers' School at Killarney, and at the age of 16 was sufficiently advanced in education to qualify him to teach in the National School, which he began to do at that age—at Dungarven, County Waterford, where he put in two years. In 1846, owing to failure of the potato crop, the staple food of the poorer classes, the terrible Irish famine resulted. In 1847, its work of destitution and decimation had made such havoc that Mr. Sullivan found this occupation gone—he had no no pupils for his school. That section of Ireland was splendidly fertile, but crop failures had wrought the ownk of war or pestilence. The people died in great numbers from starvation.

About this time he was lodging with one of the better families of the neighbourhood, where, after and before regular school hours, night and morning, he taught the children of the family at their home. One evening, while they were taking tea, Mr. Sullivan witnessed one of the common sights of the famine year. A man and a woman were passing the house, carrying a small, oblong box by the help of sticks thrust through a rope bound round the box. This box contained the body of the woman's starved infant, which had died, while its father, a herdsman, was absent in the mountains. The poor woman was so weak herself from lack of food that she could not carry her end of the sticks without passing them through slits in her cloak to lessen the weight on her hands. Mr. Sullivan left his supper, and went out and helped bury the child.

Seeing many scenes of a similarly sad character, he resolved to leave the country and cross the seas to this continent. He joined the tremendous tide of emigrants—for at that time, all who could do so, left Ireland—taking passage at Waterford in a ship carrying 500 passengers. When he left Ireland he had no fixed destination, but receiving great kindness from, and forming an intimacy with, a great many coming to Canada, and to Douro, Mr. Sullivan came to this country. Many, as remarked, came to Douro, but they have all died and gone, or scattered. Mr. —, English, of Hastings, is the only one living in the vicinity, besides Mr. Sullivan, that crossed the ocean in the Abertoyle in June, 1826.

After a good voyage of five weeks and three days, reached Quebec on July 4, Mr. Sullivan's birthday, the day when he became 21 years of age, and a Canadian, and a man in his own right, so to speak. While the passengers were detained at quarantine, Mr. Sullivan, with others in good health, was allowed to go to the island containing the quarantine hospital. The year 1847 was the year of the cholera, as well as the famine, and emigrants died by hundreds, and were placed in rude boxes and buried—sometimes one on top of another—in a long trench, like a sewer.

Mr. Sullivan reached Cobourg on July 12. On the 13th he came by wagon to Gore's Landing, and thence by the small boat, the Forester, to Peterborough, the boat tying up in the river, near the market square, which was then without buildings, and surrounded by streets—Simcoe, George, Charlotte and Water. An old log postoffice stood somewhere near the present site of the Bank of Montreal. The door was so low that a tall man had to stoop in entering it. Mr. Sullivan relates that it was the custom to keep posted a list of letters on call. If a farmer came to town and saw a letter there for a neighbour, he would, on his return, tell him of it, so that he could take it "out of bond," for it was a serious matter to get a letter from the Old Country in those days, when the postage was 2s. or 2s. 4d. One man, whose neighbour—for neighbours lived wide apart then—had ridden five miles to tell him of a letter in the postoffice, came to town with a basket of butter and eggs to raise money to "lift the letter," and it was with great difficulty that he persuaded a good natured merchant to give him enough money to pay the postage. As a rule, at that time, money was only used to pay postage and taxes, all other trade being by barter.

A week after Mr. Sullivan's arrival he was employed as a teacher for school section No. 4 Douro, at the princely salary of "$12 per month, and board yourself." Hired men then got $8 or $9 per month. Mr. Sullivan got something besides a big salary — he got the fever and ague, and, for eight months "shook" every alternate day. Quill pens only were used at that time, and on many an occasion in the school room Mr. Sullivan has placed one between his teeth to keep them from chattering from "the shakes."

His services as a teacher were appreciated, and as time went on, his salary was raised to $28 per month. The manner in which his services were appreciated is shown by the fact that he taught school in the

—the first Monday in March—and it was a fine sight to see the men shovelling snow off the roofs unto George street. There was only one yoke of oxen for sale on the square that day, and that pair came the night before. They were purchased by a Dummer farmer. Mr. Sullivan saw them at Hogan's Hotel, on George street, about where the City Hotel is now.

Mr. Sullivan says that the proudest recollections of his school teaching days are associated with the many of his pupils who became priests — five of his Douro pupils, and one in Peterborough. The former were Rev. Father O'Donnell, brother of Mrs. Garret Galvin, Charlotte street, with whom Mr. Sullivan at present resides; Rev. Father Condon, deceased; Rev. Father Morgan O'Brien, deceased; Rev. Father Welsh, and Rev. Father O'Brien, both in the United States. The Peterborough pupil was Rev. Father Leonard, brother of Charles Leonard, barrister, Toronto, and Mr. Alfred Leonard, city.

Three years after his return to Douro, Mr. Sullivan was appointed the first postmaster at South Douro, and when the post office was opened, the stage line from Warsaw was included to take in Douro. It was driven by one Mulcahy, who is, or was, living in Otonabee. Mr. Sullivan was the first township clerk—for five or six years—after the municipal law came in force; and before county inspectors were appointed, he was the first township school inspector—for two or three years.

On October 1st, 1848, Mr. Sullivan married a daughter of Daniel O'Brien of Douro. This was the second year after he came to Peterborough. He lived a while on the 21 acres which his wife brought him, and then bought from the late William Landy two acres near St. Joseph's church, and built a house, (still standing) and barn. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan lived together for 52 years — from October 1st, 1848, till April 17th, 1900—when Mrs. Sullivan died. He came to Peterborough in 1881, and conducted a grocery business on Rubidge street till the death of his wife. He has since lived retired.

When Mr. Sullivan lived—in 1842—in Peterborough, the parish priest was Rev. Father Butler, uncle of Mrs Thomas Mahoney, Downey street. Peterborough citizens, now living, who were pupils of Mr. Sullivan, in the first Separate school, are Mr. John Kelly, and the three Leplantes.

Mr. Sullivan has lived to see nearly all his old neighbours in Douro pass away. He only knows of four or five members of the "old guard" of his day, who are now living—Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Maher, Mr. Wm. Maher, Mr. Jeremiah Creegh, and Joseph Conlon.

NO OVERCHARGING IN PETERBOROUGH

They have no bylaw in Lindsay regulating cab tariffs—a contrast to Peterborough, and the Lindsay Post has the following "street chat" with a lady visitor:—"Is there a bylaw in Lindsay governing the charges of your cabmen? If there is, the police should look after them occasionally at the steamboat wharf and at the station, where travellers have time to make complaint. One evening lately I landed from the steamer Kathleen with a friend, and employed a cabman to drive us to the C.P.R. station, a couple of blocks off. On arrival the cabman demanded 50 cents, an extortionate charge for the distance, but as the train was about to start I had no time to register a complaint. Visitors should be protested or they will get a poor impression of the town."

MANITA ON ROUTE EARLY IN JULY

The Manita, which was partially destroyed by fire, is being rapidly repaired, and will likely be running on this route again about July 1. In the meantime Capt. Hengoyne is giving good connection between Fenelon Falls and Coboconk with the Kawartha. There is, however, no connection between Fenelon Falls and Lindsay by water, which cannot fail to be an injury to the tourist trade of this village.—Fenelon Falls Star.

With The Warriors At The Cobourg Camp

The Citizen Soldiers Being Rounded Into Good Smart Military Condition by Camp Drill, Exercises and Discipline--Miscellaneous Notes of Camp Conditions.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Cobourg Camp, June 22.—The camp work is narrowing down to regular routine very much, and day after day the troops are drilling, skirmishing, manoeuvring and executing other military "stunts" on the big field near the camping grounds. Bands are playing incessantly, men in various uniforms are moving to and fro like a lot of bright-hued bees, commands are being shouted here and there, there is the sound of boisterous laughter always in the air, though strict military discipline and orderly confusion reign supreme.

The men and officers are beginning to show the effects of the blistering sun, and many that came to camp from offices and other places of indoor employment with skins as fair as the lily, will return home with complexions not unlike that of a widely different flower—the beet. "By Jove it's hot," is heard everywhere and constant exposure to the sun with no other protection than forage caps is not likely to be conducive to a transparent complexion.

But the "Whole outfit" is a bundle of good humour and incidents that ordinarily would not even attract a man's attention, will cause almost convulsions of laughter.

The men are of all shapes and sizes and manners of countenances and afford a wide field for the student of human nature. But there are no students of human nature among the country's defenders—they haven't time for that. They are certainly a happy-go-lucky crowd for the time being and while they are thoroughly enjoying themselves in the pretty town of Cobourg, they are nevertheless conducting themselves most creditably.

The Music in the Air.

Mayor Ewing of Cobourg, honoured the camp with an informal official visit to-day and was particularly well pleased with its appearance. He found everything clean and neat and in good order. He spoke very highly of the conduct of the men on the streets and in camp and said they were most welcome visitors to Cobourg.

"They have steadied down wonderfully," he remarked, "since commencing drill, and are getting into more soldierly shape every day."

His Worship experienced considerable difficulty in getting electric lights put into camp and had to consult the railway commission before he was allowed to do so, as the wires had to be strung across the track. The lights are a great convenience and much appreciated by all the officers and men.

"I will do everything in my power to see the troops well," he remarked, "and make them think that Cobourg's the best little town on earth." And he's doing it.

To-night he paid a visit to the officers and needless to say was warmly welcomed.

The band of the 46th, the Cobourg Regiment, is giving a concert in the park this evening. The bandsmen are in their tents at many seasons the fair maidens of the town and the citizens as well, were on hand and the scene presented, with all its variety of colour and gayety, is certainly striking. The Joshua Simpkins troupe with its band, struck the place yesterday for a one night show, but so well was their performance of last night patronized by the soldiers of the King, that they are on again for to-night.

The 19th artillery brigade had foot drill to-day, and mounted parade and gun drill as well, both the 24th and 14th batteries executing their movements with commendable smartness and precision. They are coming along all the time, and are attracting much attention in the town as well as in camp.

T. W. McDonough, or "Mac." at least, has an innings with his horn, and is sergeant trumpeter for the 24th. He plays with the ease of a professional, and develops a rich tone, like an auto clarion.

There are 92 signallers in camp—the largest signalling corps in Canada.

An automobile shot through the lines to-day and had a lot of the horses with troopers hanging on to their halter straps, loudly shouting "whoa!" and unwillingly doing stunts like the grandstand wire riders. Nobody was hurt, however, but considerable dust was raised for a time.

Talking about dust being raised, but there is one man at least in the camp who can't "raise the dust" he once could do. He is Private Loyst of No. 8 Company, 47th Regiment. He is mourning the loss within the lines of the 47th—or else was "touched" for a purse containing a gold ring, two five dollar bills, two two dollar bills, and also two notes, amounting to $17. Finder will be suitably rewarded upon leaving the above articles at the camp headquarters or at the Examiner office.

Major General Lake expressed the opinion that the general state of the camp is satisfactory, and that the grounds are good, although they are somewhat small. The general discipline of the troops is satisfactory also.

At the Y.M.C.A. camp to-night Mr G. A. Lowes gave an inspiring talk on "Personal Purity," and last night delivered an impressive address on "Hell." The meetings were well attended and the men evidently appreciate the good work being carried on by the Y.M.C.A., and the conveniences it affords.

The infantry regiments were put through company drill this afternoon, did some skirmishing, and were instructed in the elementary principles of attack.

Sports are going on every night and are being arranged by a committee consisting of Lieut.-Col. Young and one of the officers from each regiment. Baseball is the favourite game and throughout the day at intervals of leisure the men are continually knocking out flies between the rows of tents and playing catch.

The expense in connection with the camp will probably be between $40,000 and $50,000, it is stated on the best authority.

On Sunday next there will be a church parade on the grounds. All regiments and bands will be in attendance. The chaplains from various regiments will speak, and a drum service will be conducted. A short, printed form of divine service has been issued in the form of pamphlets by the Government, and will be distributed among the officers and men.

In the 40th Regiment there are 14 Indians in one company, No. 6, under Sergeant S. Comeys.

The cavalry brigade, consisting of the 3rd Dragoons and 4th Hussars, were inspected this afternoon at regiment and brigade drill, by Col. Leggard, of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, Toronto, inspector of cavalry. At 12.30, General Lake and the camp staff inspected the horse lines of both regiments. Both inspections revealed a highly satisfactory state of military and disciplinary efficiency.

Instruction Car Visits Peterboro'

G. T. R. Men Are To-day Being Educated in a New Way.

The G.T.R. instruction car under the charge of Mr. W. Wright arrived in the city yesterday and the railway men are being instructed in the use of air brakes, etc. The car is a very handsome one, containing many models and charts which help train men to get a more accurate idea of the machinery of which they are in charge. This car travels from end to end of the G.T.R. lines and it traverses the circuit. There are about twenty men in Peterborough who will receive instruction.

Garden Party and At-Home Most Delightful Function

Maple Hall, the beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Kennedy, was last evening the scene of a delightful garden party and at home by Mrs. Kennedy, in honour of her guest, Mrs. (Dr.) Jeffs, of Toronto.

The disagreeable weather of the past week was dared, with the pleasantest results, and the lawn around the beautifully decorated house was in perfect shape, and the afternoon could not have been lovelier for such an interesting function. Mrs. Kennedy was assisted by Mrs. D. Kennedy, and Mrs. (Dr.) Jeffs, in the reception of the hundred and fifty or more guests, who arrived shortly after four o'clock.

The verandah, which extends all the way around the house, was artistically decorated with Union Jacks and palms, and fitted up with many cosy corners. The beautifully kept green was covered with many rugs, where numerous chairs and settees were placed for the comfort and enjoyment of the guests. In one corner of the ground a marquee was situated, in which the band, in charge of Mr. Gliddon, delighted with many selections, the merry party. The hostesses were Mrs. (Dr.) Scott, Mrs. William Madill, and Mrs. W. H. Robertson. Mrs. Nugent was in charge of the tea room, and Mrs. S. Clegg, assisted by five young ladies, Miss Sherin, of Lakefield; Miss Belle Morrow, Miss Potter, Miss Campbell, and Miss Aita Bradd served the tea.

The guests were served with all sorts of dainties from the large refreshment marquee, which was set on the southern border of the tennis grounds. Mrs. Kidd and Mrs. F. Kennedy served the lemonade. The catering was admirably conducted by Mr. Long. The table was prettily adorned with pink and white peonies, supplied by Mr. Cobb, the florist.

Altogether the event was one of the most delightful that has taken place in social circles in the city for some time, and one long to be remembered by those who were present.

THE 20th ANNIVERSARY

This evening at 7.30, a delightful function will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Stevens, 631 George street, when they will celebrate the twentieth anniversary of their wedding day. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens expect about forty-five guests, many of whom are coming from a distance. They have enjoyed a score of years of married life, five of which were spent in Peterborough, where they have secured a host of friends, who will heartily wish them continued success and prosperity in future years.

Among the out-of-town guests who have received invitations to the prospective event, are Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Deyman, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. M. Maundy, of Bowmanville; Mr. and Mrs. James Wood of Suttons; and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Jones, Toronto.

The invited guests from Peterborough include Mr. and Mrs. J. Pentland, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Knapman, Mr. and Mrs. H. Foote, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. T. Rutherford, Dr. and Mrs. McClellan, Mr. and Mrs. McWhinnie, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Cameron, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Gibson.

The Whole Grain Trade of Canada's Great Northwest

Will Be Inquired Into By a Government Commission.

THE MANITOBA GRAIN ACT

The Estimates For the Yukon — Mr. W. F. Maclean Records—Charges Against Judge Dugas and Other Yukon Officials—Sault Ste. Marie Electrical Smelting Experiments—Railway Subsidies.

Ottawa, June 22.—The House of Commons began work yesterday morning on the bill to amend the Manitoba grain act.

Hon. Mr. Fisher explained the bill, and announced that a commission will be appointed to go over the whole grain trade question and will report to Parliament next session.

Under this bill the grade known as extra Manitoba hard is abolished and the word "plump" is eliminated from the definition of Manitoba No. 1 hard.

A new grade of winter wheat is established, No. 1 Alberta red, No. 2 and No. 3, which, it is believed, will give winter wheat a better standing in the grain market.

Yukon Estimates.

The House went into Committee of Supply on the Yukon estimates. Mr. Foster suggested that the expenses of administration there should be reduced, as the cost of living had been.

Mr. Oliver said a year or so ago the staff had been cut down, reducing the Yukon expenses some $50,000.

In the afternoon, W. F. Maclean (South York) asked what effort the Government was making in regard to transportation. The decay of the Yukon was largely due to the enormous charges for transportation. Had the Government any policy? The transportation problem must be solved, if anything was to be accomplished in that territory.

Mr. Oliver admitted that the transportation problem lay at the very foundation of the Yukon. The Government appreciated the duty of doing something, but what to do was the serious question. One railroad had a complete monopoly, and as it carried freight partly through American territory, the Railway Commission was helpless.

Mr. Maclean enquired as to whether a road could not go into the Yukon from Edmonton or from British Columbia. If the Yukon is valuable, Canada must approach this problem at once.

"That is really where the serious mistake was made in not accepting the railway the Government proposed some years ago," Mr. Paterson replied promptly.

Mr Maclean laughed at the trap he had fallen into, as Mr. Paterson gave him credit for having been largely instrumental in defeating that proposal.

Charges Against Judge Dugas.

Dr. Sproule occupied thirty minutes in reading part of a letter from Graham Campbell of Dawson, making charges against the fairness of Judge Dugas' administration and against some officials.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the Dominion Government were not responsible for the administration of justice in the Yukon, but if there was any charge to make it was a simple matter to impeach Judge Dugas. He asked for the correspondence and promised to look into the matter.

Mr. R. L. Borden called attention to Piles Make Life Wretched

BUT THERE IS QUICK RELIEF FROM ITCHING AND THOROUGH CURE IN

Dr. Chase's Ointment

It may be truthfully stated that piles produce more excruciating pain, misery and wretchedness of feeling than any known disease. Life becomes a perfect burden during the attacks of itching, burning, stinging pains.

It is a great mistake to imagine that the effects of piles are local, for, as a matter of fact, they sap the vitality of mind and body and slowly but surely lead to the ruination of the health.

This is true of itching and protruding as well as of bleeding piles, which, because of the loss of blood, are more rapid in their disastrous effects.

Dr. Chase's Ointment brings almost instant relief from the itching, burning, stinging sensations of piles and is a positive and thorough cure for every form of this wretched, torturing and often-times stubborn disease. This has been proven in so many thousands of cases that there is no longer any room for doubt that Dr. Chase's Ointment is the most satisfactory treatment for piles that was ever discovered.

Mr. James E. Thompson, Yonge Mills, Leeds County, Ont., writes:—"For seven or eight years I was troubled with piles and was so bad I could not work though I tried many remedies in the effort to obtain relief. I was told to try Dr. Chase's Ointment and this treatment completely cured me in less than two months. I am working on the G. T.R. now and never lose an opportunity of recommending Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Mr. Thomas Govert, Highland Grove, Peterborough County, Ont., writes:—"For years I was a great sufferer from piles and sometimes the terrible itching and burning was almost beyond endurance. Though I tried all sorts of remedies I never found a cure until I used Dr. Chase's Ointment. In my opinion this Ointment has no equal and I hope others will benefit by my experience."

Frequently when doctors have failed to cure piles and the surgeon's knife has proven futile Dr. Chase's Ointment has gladdened through cure. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

the fact that the output of Yukon gold had been $114,000,000, which, on the ordinary rate of royalty, should have yielded $7,600,000, but there had been only $3,250,000 returned.

Mr. Oliver replied that this would be accounted for by many mines producing a quantity small enough to be within the exemption provisions.

Soo Smelting Experiments.

On $5,000 for salary of the Superintendent of Mines, Mr. Foster asked as to experiments at the Soo in the electric smelting of iron.

Mr. Oliver said that the reports were very favorable. The smelting apparatus was sold to the "Soo" Company, and it was their intention to carry on experiments from time to time. The country would have the benefit of these experiments. The experiments carried on by Dr. Haanel demonstrated the possibility of economic production of iron and steel by means of electricity from ore.

G. T. Pacific Branch Lines.

During the hour devoted to private bills the G. T. Pacific Branch Lines Co. bill was considered. The bill stood for further consideration.

Payments to North Atlantic Co.

In Committee of Supply on the estimates for Immigration, Mr. Oliver, in reply to Mr. Wilson (Lennox), said nothing had been paid on account of bonuses for the current fiscal year to the North Atlantic Trading Co. It was estimated that the amount to be earned by the company this year would be $30,000.

Mr. Wilson said this was the smallest for some years and much less than for last year.

Mr. Oliver explained that the large amount paid last year was due to the fact that a number of outstanding accounts in former years had been cleared up. At the request of Mr. Wilson, Mr. Oliver briefly repeated the reasons which prompted the Government to cancel the contract, as a failure to produce the expected results from northern Europe, while taking advantage of the natural flow from southern Europe.

Mr. Wilson contended that Mr. Oliver had given no good reason for cancelling the contract. The vote went through with very little discussion.

After passing a number of items in the Interior Department the House adjourned at 12.30.

Railway Subsidies.

The railway subsidies were brought down by the Minister of Railways last night. They call for subsidies of $3,200 per mile up to a cost of $15,000 per mile for construction, and above that sum 50 per cent. of the cost of construction up to a maximum of $6,400 per mile. There are 43 lines to be subsidized, which cover a length of 2,885 miles, and on the basis of the minimum subsidy of $3,200 per mile represent a total of $9,236,800, including the lump subsidy of $88,800 to the Brockville, Westport & Sault Ste. Marie Railway.

Express Company Withdrawn.

Ottawa, June 22.—The special committee to consider the telephone and express company amendments to the Railway Act made progress yesterday respecting express companies, but no other subject was reached as this important matter occupied the entire attention of the committee. F. H. Chrysler, K. C., appeared for the express companies and stated the clients would not further contest the jurisdiction of the Dominion Government.

Arctic Inquiry Closed.

Ottawa, June 22.—The inquiry into the supplies for the Arctic terminated suddenly yesterday morning, and a report will be made to the House probably on Wednesday next.

The Conservative members of the committee, it is expected, will present a minority report, as it is not probable that there will be an agreement on all points.

When the committee met yesterday morning, Mr. Northrup, who has been the chief examiner of witnesses for the Opposition, made a brief statement.

He said that the Conservative members were prepared to call a couple of witnesses to give evidence as to the conduct of the crew of the Arctic with the Eskimos during the eight months the ship was icebound at Fullerton.

Mr. Pardee assured Mr. Northrup that it would be useless to summon the witnesses, and it was mutually agreed to close the inquiry.

The members of the committee then settled down to work to select the evidence it will be necessary to print.

Some of Them Kill.

Ottawa, June 22.—Dr. Roddick, of Montreal, appeared before the committee on patent medicines yesterday morning. He strongly urged that the formulae of all patent medicines should be submitted to the Government for examination. He condemned soothing syrups, and said they should be abolished altogether, as their careless use led to many infantile deaths.

Dr. Roddick claimed that the public was entitled to know the contents of preparations containing dangerous drugs.

Mr. Watters, an Ottawa druggist, gave evidence along much the same lines. He said that from one to ninety per cent. of the patent medicines sold were harmless—and useless.

A draft bill prepared by Mr. MacFarlane, the chief analyst, was explained by its author. It requires all patent medicine manufacturers to submit samples to the department. The proprietory medicine manufacturers have themselves offered to furnish the Government with samples and affidavits that their preparations do not contain any excess of alcohol and other dangerous poisons, and giving the Minister power to prohibit the sale of preparations which after analysis are judged unsafe.

Public Accounts Committee.

Ottawa, June 22.—George J. Desbarats, of the Public Works, was examined at the public accounts committee yesterday. He said that he did not purchase the steel piles and piers from Mr. Stubbs, but he received the goods at Sorel. Dr. Roddick moved that he was asked by Mr. Prefontaine to go and see the piles and find out if they could be utilized at Sorel. He would not have purchased so many if he had been ordering them. He might have ordered 25 or 30 dozen. This order amounted to 244 dozen. Stubbs gave fifteen per cent. discount.

Mr. Busteed, of Busteed & Lane, Montreal, said that the piles were invoiced in the first instance to Rolland Prefontaine, son of Hon. R. Prefontaine. Rolland Prefontaine said that either he did not order the piles or that he did not order so many, and would not accept them. Mr. Busteed said that he asked the Minister about the order, but he said that he knew nothing about it. The goods were finally sold to Mr. Strubbe for $2,134, who apparently resold them to the Government for $4,700.

Mr. Geoffrion was appointed chairman of the committee as Mr. Desbarats is leaving for Europe.

RIVER LIFTED WAGON BOX.

Mother and Child Drowned While Driving Through River.

Innisfail, Man., June 23.—A drowning in the Red Deer River is reported. Mrs. Band, Mrs. Michael Lamarche and daughter, all of Bolheims, attempted to ford the river near Penhold station, when the wagon box was lifted by the current and all were thrown into the river.

Mrs. Bond succeeded in regaining the wagon box and bravely recovered Mrs. Lamarche, but she was dead. The child was also drowned. A husband and eight children survive.

To Revise the Statutes.

Toronto, June 23.—At yesterday's meeting of the Provincial Cabinet commission to revise the statutes was appointed. The names were not officially announced, but it is understood that the commission will consist of Mr. Justice Osler, Chief Justice Meredith, Mr. Justice Garrow, Mr. Justice Street, Mr. Justice Anglin, Mr. Justice Teetzel, the members of the executive council and a prominent member of the Opposition in the Legislature. Several lawyers will be employed by the Government to assist in the work of revision. The statutes are revised every ten years. The commission will get to work almost immediately.

SENTENCES PASSED.

Heavy Fines For Packing Firms and the Burlington Railway.

Kansas City, June 23.—In the U. S. District Court here yesterday morning Judge Smith McPherson of Red Oak, Iowa, passed sentence upon the seven defendants recently convicted in this court of making concessions and accepting and conspiring to accept rebates on shipments. Judgment in the nature of fines were assessed a follows:

Swift & Co., $15,000; Cuddhy Packing Co., $15,000; Armour Packing Co., $15,000; Nelson, Morris & Co., $15,000; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway, $15,000.

George L. Thomas of New York was fined $6,000 and sentenced to four months in the penitentiary.

L. B. Taggert of New York, freight broker, was fined $4,000 and sentenced to three months in the penitentiary, for securing rebates from railways on shipments from New York to St. Louis and Kansas City drygoods concerns.

RIOTING PROVOKED BY POLICE.

Governor Prolonged It, Says Report of Duma's Commissioner.

St. Petersburg, June 23.—At a crowded meeting of the Constitutional Democratic Club last night, Deputy Stchepkin reported the findings of the committee of the Lower House of Parliament, which went to Bialistok to investigate the facts in connection with the anti-Jewish outbreak there.

According to this report, the police, with the aid of subordinate officers of the police and military, provoked the outbreak by the circulation of false rumors against the Jews.

The Governor of Bialistok, though not directly responsible, was said to have been criminally guilty of prolonging the excesses by absence from his post.

SYMPATHY OF U. S. SENATE.

Horrified by the Reports of the Jewish Massacres.

Washington, June 23.—The Senate yesterday adopted the following joint resolution:

"That the people of the United States are horrified by the reports of the massacre of Hebrews in Russia on account of their race and religion, and that those bereaved thereby have the hearty sympathy of the people of this country."

The resolution was adopted without debate. As it is a joint resolution it will be necessary for it to be acted upon by the House and signed by the President to be complete legislative act.

Lieut. Donnelly Injured.

Montreal, June 23.—Lieut. Donnelly of Stafford Field Battery was seriously injured internally in camp at Sherbrooke, his horse falling back on him.

Boy's Serious Condition.

London, June 23.—The 14-year-old son of Joseph Moisse was taken to the hospital Thursday night. The young lad had some firecrackers in his pocket on May 24, and they ignited and burned his hip very badly. It has been discovered that blood poisoning has set in and his condition is serious.

Teller Has Disappeared.

Medicine Hat, Alta., June 23.—W. R. Compton, teller in the Union Bank here, has disappeared, and there is a shortage in his books, but the amount cannot be learned. He is a young Englishman and had no relatives in Canada. Compton has been traced to Vancouver.

Cotton Weavers Strike.

Montreal, June 23.—The weavers and spinners at the Dominion Cotton Co.'s mill, at Magog, are on strike. They demand increase in the wages and recognition of the union. The company refuses recognition of the union. One hundred and fifty men are out.

School Question in Calgary.

Calgary, June 23.—At a meeting of the Synod of Calgary, Bishop Pinkham introduced the school question, complaining that, though Anglicans had asked for similar privileges as the Catholics in school matters, the same were not granted.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, June 22—To-day's market was weak from the start. Amal. COopper was the chief offender, leading the break, but B.R.T., Reading and U.P. showed a very weak undertone. The bank statement was better than expected, but did not check the fall at all. Crop news was unfavourable and the bears had things all their own way. The close was weak at the low of the day.

Small Market This Morning

Eggs Sold at 20c. Per Dozen—May is Dearer.

The market this morning was one of the most poorly attended of any this season. Eggs have soared in value up to the late fall and winter prices, and sold this morning from 19c to 20c per dozen. They scarcity is unusual for this time of the year. Butter was offered to-day at 20c and 21c per lb. Spring chickens sold at 90c per pair, and were eagerly sought for. Vegetables formed the chief portion of the outside market. Potatoes, onions, radish, lettuce, etc., were offered in large quantities. The former sold at $1 and $1.10 per bag. Young swine between five and six weeks old brought $6.50 and $7 per pair. Hay has again advanced in price to $14 per ton, and a few days during the past week was very much in demand.

The following were the prevailing prices:

Butter, per lb	20	to	21
Eggs, per doz	19	to	20

The Troops Have Turned Guns On The People

Sebastopol Terror-Stricken By Mutinous Soldiers.

3 BATTALIONS AFFECTED

Mutineers Took Possession of Guns in North Shore Batteries—Overawed by Appearance of Several Loyal Regiments of Infantry—Viborg Regiment at St. Petersburg Get Their Demands Granted.

St. Petersburg, June 22.—A serious mutiny, which for a time threatened to place the fortress of Sebastopol in possession of the mutineers, was suppressed Wednesday, according to a special despatch to The Novoe Vremya. The mutiny was started by a battalion of fortress artillery, which declined to obey orders, whereupon the men were promptly disarmed. Two other battalions then mutinied and took possession of the guns in the north shore batteries, but on the appearance of several loyal regiments of infantry the mutineers abandoned the idea of fighting and returned to their barracks.

Gen. Nepleuff, commander of the fortress of Sebastopol, is represented to be greatly concerned about the temper of the sailors as well as the soldiers of the fortress.

That the morale of the whole army is being shaken by the revolutionary propaganda is proved by the continual extension of the rebellious outbreaks among the troops. It appears to be confirmed that the Doltschoff Regiment at Ryasan has driven out its officers and burned the armory. Another report, says the soldiers deliberately attacked the officers' club at Ryasan, killing one officer and wounding two others. A panic prevails in the town.

Got What They Wanted.

Four companies of the Viborg Regiment, stationed in St. Petersburg, have presented demands which were acceded to and they have now returned to duty.

The soldiers of the notorious Semenovsky Regiment, whose name became synonomous with repression owing to the deeds committed by these troops at Moscow, are reported to have held a meeting and to have decided that they cannot any longer endure the public opprobrium and must wipe out the stain of the regiment.

The tenderness with which the military authorities are treating these and recurring exhibitions of the mutinous spirit among the troops is sufficient evidence that they fear the entire army is infected.

Terror at Sebastopol.

Moscow, June 22.—The Viedmeastic yesterday printed a special despatch from Sebastopol describing the mutiny there, according to which a company of the fortress artillery sent to disperse a meeting on the boulevard Tuesday night refused to do so and later were disarmed by the Brest Regiment. Wednesday a battalion of the same artillery, acting in sympathy with their comrades, took possession of the north side batteries, broke open the magazine, loaded the guns and trained them upon the city. The same night the Brest Regiment, reinforced by a regiment of Engineers, surrounded the mutineers who submitted without a fight. The population of Sebastopol was terror-stricken, fearing that the mutineers would open fire on the city.

TRIAL FOR THE GROCERS.

Investigation of Grocers' Guild Conspiracy Ends at Hamilton.

Hamilton, June 22.—The preliminary investigation into the grocers' guild conspiracy case was concluded at the Police Court at noon yesterday, when the defendants were committed for trial.

Go-Between Wins the $20,000.

New York, June 23.—Alex. Shield's (Toronto) 5-year-old Meddler—Indigo gelding Go-Between, carrying 110 pounds, and third choice in the betting at 6 to 1, won the $20,000 Suburban handicap yesterday at the Sheepshead Bay course of the Coney Island Jockey Club. The finish of the race was a terrific drive, and 30,000 racing enthusiasts rose to their feet and wildly shouted encouragement. Time, 2.05 1-5.

PUNISHED FOR SHOOTING.

Farmer Who Shot Wm. Scott, C. P. R. Contractor, Goes to Prison.

Bracebridge, June 22.—John Kelity, a farmer, living at Footes' Bay, Lake Joseph, was sentenced to two years less one day, for shooting William Scott, a C. P. R. contractor.

Kelity shot at Scott with a Winchester rifle for trespassing on his property, the bullet taking effect in his right side. Scott will recover.

Raid on Small Gamblers.

Toronto, June 22.—The police suddenly went out with a drag-net yesterday afternoon. They paid their attention to the alleged bucket shops and hand-book men, with the result that some 30 of the layers of odds were landed in No. 1 police station and summonses were issued to about the same number for those who "deal" in stocks. This raid had been planned for the past three weeks. Sixty police and detectives were sent to certain points and they simultaneously visited the suspected places and made a round-up.

Survives 25,000 Volts.

Ottawa, June 22.—Dr. Lee DeForest, while experimenting yesterday at the wireless telegraph station, met with a narrow escape from death. The whole out put of 25,000 volts passed through Dr. DeForest's body, enough to produce instant death in nine times out of ten. DeForest was knocked unconscious, but quickly revived, and aside from a partial paralysis of the limbs, which shortly passed away, has left no serious effects.

FORECAST OF FASHION.

Odd Floral Effects For Hats—Fussy Willows a Novel Decoration.

Flowers will again constitute one of the principal trimmings for hats. The manufacturers of floral decorations have turned out a collection more gorgeous than ever before. A novelty is an American Beauty rose with petals of buttonhole embroidery. Fussy willows are being used as hat decorations. These fussy little flowers add a touch of smartness to any trimming, and early experiments have proved so successful that it is a wonder some one has not thought of them before.

Flower hatpins should match the costume in color. There is a great diversity of shade in enameled orchids. Other flowers that are used for this purpose are violets, yellow mimosas and daisies.

The new bolero jackets resemble the Eton coats of last year with one or two notable exceptions. The Eton coat almost always had a plain, tight fitting sleeve, while the bolero of today has rather "fussy" sleeves, reaching to or a little below the elbow, finished off with pretty frills of muslin or lace.

Linen batiste skirts are more worn with the spring walking suit than silk ones. Well made, these batiste skirts leave little to be desired, as they wash and wear well. The most popular pattern is a triple corded stripe, which, if the garment be tucked, should come in the center of each fold. Hair cord muslins are always liked for summer wrappers for the same practical reasons.

The dainty hat pictured is of ecru crin. The high rolling brim is built up in the back with pink roses. About the crown is a box plaited quilling of blue malines. Two shaded wings give the skyscraping tendency so marked in all the smart hats of the season.

SHIRT WAIST HINTS.

Tailored Styles Carried Out In Sheer Materials—Long Sleeves.

The severe type of shirt waist is here this season, but it is made in sheer materials, such as handkerchief linen, wash muli, batiste and dimity and the many soft fabrics that are classed with these.

An attractive variation of the tucked shirt waist has its fullness laid to imitate double box plaits across the front. Down each side of the center box plait run narrow full ruffles of the material.

Scalloped turn back cuffs are seen on many of the newest shirt waists. Instead of being separate cuffs put on the finished sleeves, the sleeves themselves are cut long enough to allow for the cuff, which is scalloped at the top. Two sets of linked buttons are used to keep the cuffs in place, and the newest idea is to make them at home by sewing two buttons together on a long loop and buttonholing the loop.

Some of the shirt waists have the fronts and yoke cut in one. On the tailored models carried out in heavy linen this emplacement is scalloped and a small dot embroidered in each curve.

A shirt waist model is often cut with shoulders so wide that they extend over the upper arm in an epaulet effect that gives a military touch.

Most of the shirt waist sleeves are long, but some of them are cut with a puff to the elbow, where they meet a deep cuff.

The collar either matches the shirt waist with which it is worn or separate collars are used in keeping with the character of the waist. Turnover collars, hemstitched or embroidered, are the correct thing worn with a tie of lace trimmed linen or a smart silk bow.

The long cravat seen in the illustration is of lace insertion, edged with plaited ruffles. The butterfly bow is of plaited linen and the long tie of lace edged mull. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Buffalo Team Wanted Game

All-College Club After Contest With Peterboro' Ball Team.

Mr. Martin Connors yesterday received a letter from Mr. Archie Forbes, manager of the All-College Baseball Club, of Buffalo, N.Y., asking for a game with the Peterborough Club on July 2 or 6. The communication stated that the All-College team, which is one of the strongest in Buffalo, would play in Toronto on July 5, and were anxious to secure a game here. Mr. Connors informed the writer that the local club had disbanded, but made an offer, and if this is accepted, will re-organize the team for July 6.

COMPETITION FOR LAWN BOWLERS

In the afternoon yesterday the following scheduled game was played which aroused a great deal of interest:—

Dr. Boucher	G K Martin
D Belleghem	W F Johnston
Dr. Caldwell	A R Kidd
Dr. McClennan, 14.	W E Talbot, 12.

Results of games played last night:—

B A Lillie	Chris. Wood
A Talbot	A Belleghem
Sam Sharpe	W F Johnson
E W Cox, 19.	J McIntyre, 13.
E H Howsan	V Davies
A Waddell	G K Martin
W H Isaac	L Potvin
Dr. McKinnon, 14.	R Waddell, 11.
R Kerr	J Cunningham
T Pratt	D Belleghem
R Cottrell	Dr Marshall
Dr. Greer, 18.	J E Fitzgerald, 12.
L Taylor	R Crane
W McClellan	W S Robinson
J W O'Brien	W Atcheson
G H Giroux, 11.	W H Moore, 6.

After the above games were played there was a meeting of the executive held when it was decided that in the contest for the prize in the singles, leads shall play against each other, seconds shall play against each other, vices shall play against each other, and skips shall play against each other till it reaches the semi-finals.

In the competition for the doubles, it has been decided that a lead and second shall play against lead and second and the final winners to have one pair of bowls for the ownership of which the said winner shall play off a skip and vice and the final winners to play off the bowls. It is understood that a skip may select a first or second man instead of a vice, but in no case can two skips compete together in this contest for doubles.

It will be seen from the above that one pair of the bowls must inevitably go to either a lead or second player and its up to the new man, who wish to become proficient and earn a pair of bowls to send in their names at once to the secretary so that the schedule may be prepared without delay.

Nearly every member of the club can easily reach the secretary by 'phone and inform him whether he will compete for these prizes and as the rules adopted are specially drafted in the interest of the newer players it is hoped that every member will avail himself of the opportunity to compete for such beautiful prizes and show their appreciation of the donor's generosity.

Schedule for Monday evening:—

W G Ferguson versus R Kerr.
R M Waddell versus D Belleghem.
W F Johnson versus G K Martin.
J McIntyre versus Ed. Runnells.
Thos. Pratt versus T. F. Matthews.

The Greatest Of All Animals Is The Cow

Says Col. F. W. Woods at an Auction Sale—Every Part is Useful to Man—She Works Both Night and Day for Him—Should be Treated Kindly—Take Off Your Hat to the Cow.

In a recent auction sale at Springfield, Ill., Col. F. W. Woods delivered an eulogy on the cow, and the words he uttered deserve to give him the appellation of the "Bob Ingersoll of the Cow." Col. Woods said:

"Of all the animal friends of man, she is the greatest. To her we owe the most. I wish that I, as you are about to sit down to the noonday meal, might remove from your table what the cow has placed thereon. I'd take the cup of milk waiting at baby's chair. I'd take the cream, the cheese, the butter, the custard pie, the cream biscuit, the steak, the smoking roast of beef, and leave you to make a meal of potatoes, beets, pickles and toothpicks.

"There is not a thing from nose to tail but that is utilized for the use of man. We use her horns to comb our hair, her skin upon our feet, her hair keeps the plaster on our walls, her hoofs make glue, her tail makes soup, she gives us our milk or cream, our cheese and butter, and her flesh is the greatest meat of the nation; her blood is used to make our sugar white, her bones are ground to fertilize our soil, and even her paunch she herself has put through the first chemical process necessary for the production of the best white cardboard, and they have discovered that such paper can be made into the finest quality of false teeth.

"No other animal works for man both night and day. By day she gathers food, and when we are asleep at night she brings it back to rechew and convert it into all things of which I speak.

"She has gone with man from Plymouth Rock to the setting sun! It was her sons that turned the first sod in the settlers' clearing; it was her sons that drew the prairie schooner for the sturdy pioneers as inch by inch, they fought their way to prove that 'westward the star of empire takes its way,' with the old cow grazing behind, and when the day's march was done, she came and gave the milk, to fill the mother's breast to feed the suckling babe that was perchance, to become the ruler of this country. Who says that much of what we are we do not owe to man's best friend, the cow? Treat her kindly, gently, for without her words fail to describe the situation."

Anyone who reads these noble words will feel when he meets a cow hereafter like taking off his hat to her. There is an old song: "A Boy's Best Friend is His Mother." Perhaps, next to the mother, she who is the best friend to the boy is the cow.

Some mirth was created on Front street Tuesday afternoon by the capriolings of a spring lamb (of the coarser sex) which Mr. Simpson and Alger were preparing for the knife. After eluding its owners it ran up Front street and following a dog ran through Mr. P. Howard's store, out the back door, across Mr. Tate's store stoop, into the race, across the river bridge when it was captured. To-day it is doing duty, along with green peas, on some of the tables in town.—Hastings Star.

THIRTY-SIX GIRLS LEAVE ONE SHOP AND ALL TO GET MARRIED

(Examiner Special.)

Allegheny, Pa., June 20.—Various explanations are being offered of the phenomenon about to be described here:

Peek-a-boo shirt waists are very fashionable, and most of them are as open-faced as the town clock.

The moonlight nights have been beautifully clear and sufficiently warm.

June, the month of weddings, is more than half gone.

Rents are down for the summer.

The firm name of the big dry-goods store that figures is Boggs & Buhl. This explanation, rather Delphic, is given by three old bachelors.

The phenomenon:

One by one four young saleswomen of Boggs & Buhl went to the firm's timekeeper yesterday morning and said, blushingly:

"This is my last day here. I'm sorry—that is to say, I'm glad—I'm going to be married."

By noon a dozen more charming saleswomen in turn had told the timekeeper exactly the same thing, and before the store closed at 6 o'clock 36 girls had resigned because they are going to be married.

It was not concerted action; it was not a covert strike. For each lovely fiancee had kept her engagement secret lest the other girls would tease her. So Boggs & Buhl are studying the various explanations to find the right one and so to prevent a recurrence of the phenomenon.

Last Call.

We will sell the preserving pineapples, which we now have on hand, very cheap. This will be the last opportunity this season of buying good, sound pineapples at a low price. MILITARY NEWS OF LOCAL INTEREST

(BY OUTPOST)

Local Boy's Success.

Among the list of candidates who have successfully passed the Entrance examinations to the Royal Military College, for which there are 35 vacancies, appears the name of Lawrence Arnott, of the 57th Regiment.

The Sham Fight.

The big sham battle at the Cobourg camp will be held on Thursday, and the boys in red from here will again be given the privilege of displaying their military skill. Col. Miller will go down for the day to inspect the battle.

Change in Officer.

The companies for the composite brigade mustered at the drill hall last night for their final instructions. A change has been made in the personnel of the officers—Capt. Bennett will go as adjutant, and Capt. McLean will fill the vacancy. The boys are all eager to get away to join the military camp, from which so many fascinating tales are coming.

Legion of Frontiersmen.

With preferential tariffs, Imperial penny postage and an intercolonial cable service, Canada has definitely taken the lead in promoting the development of the Empire. It is quite natural, therefore, that the new scheme of the Legion of Frontiersmen should be of Canadian origin. The founder, Mr. Roger Pocock, based the ideas underlying the Legion upon his experience during many years' work in some 30 trades in the Canadian wilderness. Among the first adherents to the cause was Regiment No. 1, of the R.W.M.P., Col. S. B. Steele, who commanded Strathcona's Horse. Since then Canadians have been very numerous and active among the workers of the Legion.

The proposal, which now has the full approval of the Secretary of State for War, is for a creation of what will, in practice, be the Intelligence Arm of the Forces of War. It will be entirely civilian, self-supporting and self-governing; a society of men who have been trained by working, hunting, or fighting in wild countries, or at sea.

The training will be not by drill, which produces discipline for fighting, but by competition, which produces the initiative required for the intelligence service and the commands, competing one with another in all warlike exercises, will not only find their own leaders, but will select the best men for active service.

As men captured in the field out of uniform are killed as spies, a uniform will be necessary, based on the customary dress of the frontier: hat, kerchief round the neck, shirt and overalls, which is a cheaper and better dress than the usual military kit.

With permission of the authorities, the men will train in shooting on rifle club lines, and in time the corps will develop active service contingents, equipped, armed and mounted, either for home defence or for the general defence of the Empire.

So it is hoped that the Legion will produce a unit of local guides and interpreters, for every possible seat of war; a strong corps of frontier scouts, a corps of sharpshooters to support them, and a pioneer branch to handle every known means of transport, whether pack-horse, railway engine, motor car or boat. The Corps of Voyageurs supplied by Canada for the Nile campaigns is such a unit as the Legion will be able to supply in any emergency.

The council of the Legion has headquarters at 6 Adam street, Adelphi, London, and is trying to secure an honourary organiser in every Canadian district.

Patriots are offered the chance of rendering magnificent service to the Empire.

Epworth Leaguers At 'Caygeon Summer School

Many Young People From This City Will Spend Next Week in That Town—A Good Programme of Speeches—Sunday School Work, Too.

From the ranks of the Epworth Leagues in this city a great many young people will attend the Summer School, which opens next Tuesday, June 26, at Bobcaygeon. The school not only includes the Peterborough, Lindsay and Cannington districts, but is also open to persons outside of those districts. It is not only for the delegates from the Sunday schools and Epworth Leagues, but for any person outside of these bodies who wish to spend a couple of weeks in a special course of Bible study and recreation.

At this convention several interesting and instructive talks along the line of Sunday school and Epworth League work will be given and discussed, but it will not be all study, as numerous events in the way of outdoor recreation have been provided for. Reduced rates have been granted on the railway for those who attend. The school opens on June 26 (next Tuesday) and lasts until July 2.

Fire, Water and Light Committee's Short Session

Application From Fire Brigade Drivers for Increase in Salaries Laid Over—Committee Discussed New Fire Alarm Systems.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee held a short meeting last night at which several matters came up for discussion. There were present: Ald. Adams, chairman; Ald. Elliott, Ball, Duncan, Mason, and Mayor Best.

Walter and Richard Parnell, drivers in the fire department, applied for an increase in salary. The committee dealt favourably upon their request and agreed that they are deserving of more than their present salary of $475. They thought it better to take no action until the new firehall is completed, when a re-organization of the whole fire system may be instituted.

Chief Rutherford applied for a bicycle to use when on service, but the request was left in abeyance.

The Board expressed approval of the locations of the fire alarm boxes made by a committee appointed for the purpose. Eighteen of these locations will be entirely new, and they will be placed in the most advantageous positions.

The system has not yet been decided upon. Several companies, including a Montreal firm and the Anderson people of Toronto have been thought of in this connection.

Notes From Some Of Peterborough's Summer Resorts

cived. The various buildings have been repainted and present a very pretty appearance among the trees. The fishing is better than usual and several large catches of both bass and maskinonge are reported. Among the arrivals to date are, Mrs. Glen. H. Campbell, Toronto; W. S. Tuman, H. M. Webb, G. W. Kirkpatrick, A. S. Osbonne, G. E. Mosher, M. Walmsley, Rochester N.Y., and Geo. E. Oxley, Toronto.

Quiet Yet at McCracken's.

McCracken's Landing, Stony Lake, June 23.—The season has hardly started here yet, but the prospects for a good summer are very bright. A number have already booked for the Victoria House this year and a party is expected to arrive from Toronto and Cleveland on July 3rd. They will be the advance guard to a large number of other visitors. The fishing is splendid, local people having made some fine catches.

Mr. Sam Hunter the well known cartoonist of the Toronto World is at his cottage, "Pepacton" for the season.

Busy at The Point,

Young's Point, June 23.—Prospects are bright for a most successful season here this summer. All the resorts have been renovated throughout and visitors are already booking. The Lakeview House, Carleton House and South Beach Hotel all report that a good season is looked for, in fact that with favourable weather, it will be the banner year for Stony Lake.

ROCHESTER PEOPLE ARE EN PENSION AT BURLEIGH FALLS

(Examiner Special.)

Burleigh Falls, Stony Lake, June 23.—Fishing was never better than it is here at present. The season has fairly opened now, and although the arrivals have not been large so far, a large number have been booked, and the fine, new hotel will be filled, it is expected, before the middle of July. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Smith, of Rochester, N.Y., are at present guests at the hotel. A party of Rochester people, consisting of Messrs. Fox, Dr. Hall, G. E. Yates and his two sons, who have been staying here, left yesterday after having had a most enjoyable visit, in which many fish were caught. The "You Go, I Go" Club, of Peterborough, have been camping near here, and they also had good catches.

EXCURSIONS HAVE BEEN FREQUENT AT JUBILEE POINT

(Examiner Special.)

Jubilee Point, Rice Lake, June 23.—Fishing is reported as excellent in the immediate neighbourhood here, in fact, at all points on the lake. Good catches are being brought in every day. Mr. J. J. Gilman is again in charge of the Jubilee Point Hotel, and has made many improvements for the coming season. There have been many picnics here during the past week.

NEW TELEPHONES IN FENELON FALLS

The Fenelon Falls Star says:—The Bell Telephone Company are making extensive improvements to the village service and have a large force of men at work. About 2,000 feet of new cable are being put up, and all connections are being furnished with metallic plates and the long distance 'phone. A number of new 'phones are also being installed in the village.

Cold on the Lungs.

"We have seven children and have used Dr Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for every one of them and with good results. We get four bottles at a time and find it a good remedy to break up a cold on the lungs."—Mrs. R. D. Turner, Broadview, N.W.T.

D. Y. Moyes, 408 George St., has secured a manufacturer's sample of Blouses. They run from 75c to $5.00 each. They are beautiful goods, new and clean. Plain Lawn Blouse, hemstitched tucks, 53c each. Oddments in Blouses and Remnants of everything very cheap

Closing Sessions Of The Convention At Brighton

Several Reports Presented and Excellent Addresses Heard—Resolution of Sympathy—Mrs. Dr. Scott Re-elected President of Ladies' Circles and Bands—Next Year's Meeting at Port Hope.

Brighton, June 23rd. — On Wednesday and Thursday there was a large attendance of delegates at the various sessions of the Baptist convention being held here.

The devotional half hour was deeply spiritual, and was conducted by Rev. A. Davis, of Picton, who gave a Bible reading on "The Presence and Power of the Holy Spirit," which was very profitable.

The Obituary Committee reported twenty-three deaths in the churches comprising the Association.

There were passed resolutions pledging support to the following missions: Home, Foreign, Grand Ligne, Manitoba; also the Baptist, and Book Room, and the educational interests, and for the better unification of the Baptist churches in Canada, with a view of facilitating the various schemes, missionary and otherwise, in the denomination. The Grande Ligne Mission was most ably presented by Miss Senior of Toronto. A splendid description of the work carried on by Feller Institute, held the interest of the people from first to last, and everyone greatly enjoyed this address.

Immediately after this the news was received of the stabbing of the pastor of the Belleisboro church, and the following resolution was passed: "We desire to put on record our grief and abhorrence of this attack on our brother, and to express the sympathy of this Association to him, as well as our gratitude to God that his life was spared."

Rev. Mr. McLellan of Campbellford, followed with a paper, "My Lord's Money," in which was set forth the Christian's obligation in material things. Rev. L. McKinnon, of Gilmour Memorial church, gave an excellent address on "The State of Religion." He said: "This is a fascinating subject. Religion is the life of God in the soul; our concern is the state of religion is catholic, and not sectarian; real and not ritualistic. It is the concern of compassion, a great compassion. There is much evangelistic activity, and the triumph of the evangelical element in religious life. There is a true spirit of toleration, combined with intelligent and firm loyalty to Jesus. We are too weak in the sense of the Lordship of Christ. We need clear preaching, patient waiting and dealing, and much prayer.

Rev. F. J. Scott, Peterborough, whose subject was "The Strategical Importance of Sunday school Work," said amongst other good things, that "the Sunday school was a necessary adjunct to the church, but the church did not exist for the Sunday school, and the reason why the Sunday school work was strategical is that youth, and early youth, was the most successful time to gain recruits and wrest in this spiritual warfare captives from the ranks of the opposing forces. It fosters the practice of the study of the Bible. Because of the results to the teachers themselves — so it was strategical as to the home, the community, to the nation, to the race, and to church work.

Rev. L. S. Steedman of Warsaw, then addressed the gathering, and spoke to the subject of "Conversion, the Aim of the Sunday school." Everything about church work, in every branch, was subservient to this. There could not be the same outward change as in the older people at conversion, but children have the same sinful nature, only not developed. Conversion in childhood needs the direct operation of the Holy Spirit. Early conversion saves from many pitfalls and also from the need of unlearning many bad habits.

At that time the subject is freest from engrossing cares and companionships. Very few thorny ground hearers among the children. They are then most susceptible to good impressions. They are a great gain to the church, and amongst church members show, after a time, the best developed spirituality.

Rev. B. Davies and Mrs. Davies, of Colbourne, sang a duet, which was rendered in an excellent manner.

Rev. W. Quarrington, of Cobourg, then spoke on "The Teachers' Equipment," which was reading, inquiry, and the Bible. Our boys and girls manufacture a great deal of Biblical knowledge. To make every moment of the half hour count for Eternity. The equipment necessary, spiritual, moral of the heart, and of the mental. To know how to prepare the lesson and how to present it successfully. To know the pupil, circumstances of the home life, and the disposition. There is no excuse in this day of advanced methods for the teacher not being properly equipped.

Rev. G. V. Collins, of Lakefield, said we have not yet exhausted the possibilities of arrangement in our Sunday schools. We may increase our efficiency by exercising more discipline. The boys who may be so inclined, need not be allowed to ride rough-shod over the principle of good behaviour. We should also simply, but definitely, require more of our scholars than we do. We ought to increase our sense of moral obligation.

In the evening, an address on Manitoba and Northwest missions was delivered effectively by Rev. W. Tighe, B.A., of Oshawa.

An excellent paper was presented by Rev. C. H. Emerson on "The church's relation to the gigantic evils." A duet was sung by a minister and his wife, besides a solo by Rev. McLennan, and a home mission adress brought this very helpful and successful gathering to a close.

Rev. F. J. Scott, B.A., B.Th., of the Murray street Baptist church, Peterborough, was elected moderator for this year. Rev. W. Quarrington is clerk and treasurer.

Mrs. (Dr.) Scott, of Peterborough, was re-elected president of the Ladies' Circles and Bands, and a very efficient staff of associational secretaries to represent the various missions. Mrs. Wilfred Shiner, of Peterborough, was elected B.Y.P.U. representative.

The association will meet with the Port Hope Baptist church next year (D.V.). A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the entertaining church and pastor. Ample provision was made for delegates.

DRUGGISTS MUST BE CHARY

They Sell All Kinds of Hair Preparations, and Fear to Discriminate.

Druggists sell all kinds of hair preparations, and as a rule they are wisely chary of giving preference to any particular one, but many of them have come out plainly for Newbro's Herpicide, the new treatment that absolutely kills the dandruff germ. H. Swannell & Son, Champaign, Ill., say: "One customer of ours who did not have a hair on top of his head when he began to use Herpicide, now has a fair start towards a good head of hair. We believe Herpicide to be by far the best preparation of its kind on the market." Hundreds of similar testimonials from everywhere. Sold by leading druggists. SPECIAL SERVICES AT ST. PAUL'S

The Quarterly Review of St. Paul's Sunday school will be held on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the school room. The services will be of a special character, which should prove interesting.

Those taking part in the review are Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. Mr. Bright, and Mr. J. E. Hodgson. Special music will be rendered by the Sunday school orchestra.

ST. PAUL'S SUNDAY SCHOOL EXCURSION

St. Paul's Sunday school will hold its annual excursion this year over the Lift Lock to Dam No. Five, on the 4th of July. The steamer Wallace Lily has been secured for the afternoon, and the sail up the river over the Lock will no doubt be an enjoyable one.

Drowning Accident Averted By Brave Action

Miss Lizzie Kelly Plunged Into Lake After Little Peart Boy—He Was Rescued in the Nick of Time—A Brave Action That Should Not Go Unnoticed.

The bravery and presence of mind of Miss Lizzie Kelly, daughter of Mr. S. Kelly, Maria street, East City, was all that averted a fatal drowning accident on Saturday morning.

It appears that misfortune is following George Peart, the Englishman who is living with his family in a tent on the shores of the Little Lake, near the entrance of the canal. On Saturday his little son, two and a half years of age, followed his little sister down to the lake shore, where the girl was busy in picking up drift wood. The little fellow, unnoticed by his sister, walked out on a boom and slipped off, falling into about four feet of water. His sister was too frightened to be of any assistance, and the little one would have without doubt been drowned but for Miss Kelly.

That lady was walking near the shore when she heard the screams of the children, and hurriedly went to the rescue. Disregarding all possible danger to herself she waded out into the lake and seized the boy, who, fortunately, had not got beyond Miss Kelly's depth. He was almost gone when brought to the shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Peart are naturally very thankful for the escape of their child, and equally grateful to the young lady who so bravely rescued him. The little fellow wtook a prize at the baby show on the ship coming over here this spring.

The Isolation Hospital Will Cost About $10,000

According to Revised Plans of Architect Blackwell—Provincial Board of Health to Make an Inspection of the Peterborough Water Supply—Other Board of Health Notes.

The Board of Health held a meeting this morning at which several important matters came up for discussion. Among other things there was a letter from Dr. Hodgetts, of Toronto Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health to the effect that he will come to Peterborough to investigate the water supply of Peterborough and make a report of the conditions, particularly at Lakefield to the Board at its next meeting. According to the latest plans prepared by Architect Blackwell, the Isolation Hospital will cost in the neighbourhood of $10,000 without the addition of architect's fees and furnishings.

There were present, Messrs. Wm. Eyres, chairman; A. Parker, Geo. Schneider, Dr. Neil, Dr. Burnham, Dr. Bingham, M.H.O., Geo. I. Roszel, Sanitary Inspector and Architect Blackwell.

The following report from the Sanitary Inspector re the condition of the premises near 338 Water street, of which a complaint was received at the last meeting, was adopted:—

Gentlemen,—As requested by your honourable body, I beg to report on the yards and closets at the rear of Mr. Dumble's and Mr. R. Hall's property on Water street. I found the yards and closets in good shape. Mr. Dumble has two families and one office up stairs and on the ground floor two offices and one store. Mr. Hall six families living in his buildings also one dressmaker shop, one second-hand store and two offices. Neither of these two properties are connected with the sewer.

GEO. I. ROSZEL,
Sanitary Inspector.

Dr. Hodgetts, Secretary of the Provincial Board, wrote the Board as follows:—

Dear Sirs,—Your favour of the 18th inst., received. In reply would state that it is my intention to visit Peterborough at as early as date as possible so as to have a report in readiness for the Provincial Board to consider at its next regular quarterly meeting.

This question has not been overlooked, as might be inferred from your letter and the matter will be finally settled by the Board at its next meeting which will be the first held since the application was made by the Board.

CHAS. H. HODGETTS, M.D.
Secretary.

The chairman was appointed to accompany Dr. Hodgetts upon his visit of inspection.

On motion the Medical Health Officer and Sanitary Inspector were appointed to look into the matter of the most urgent cases of premises that should be connected with the sewer and report to the Board.

Isolation Hospital.

Architect Blackwell submitted his revised plans for the Isolation Hospital. These have been enlarged three times, as those consulted did not think the accommodation provided was sufficient. Plans showing a building to cost $6,500 were submitted to the Central Medical Association, who suggested certain changes. These changes include the putting of the kitchen of the establishment in the basement of the building instead of the ground floor, which will mean increased accommodation amounting to four extra beds. The physicians also suggested plumbing on the third floor which the architect had decided to leave unfinished, but with the connection completed. These changes would increase the cost.

The Board decided to defer taking action on the plans until a joint meeting of the Board and the Mayor and the Chairmen of the various city committees.

Another Industry Will Locate In This City

German Cardboard and Photo Mount Company is the Latest Addition to the List—Peterboro' Capitalists are Interested in the Company.

Another industry will, in a short time, be added to the ever-increasing list of those situated in Peterborough. The latest addition is the German Card-board and Photo Mount Company, who intend to erect a factory in Peterborough within a short time. Peterborough capitalists are interested in the new concern, which will start with every assurance of a successful business career. The company will go extensively into the manufacture of card-board, photo mounts, calendars, and other similar articles, for which there is a great demand. It would be premature to give the names of those who are at the head of the company, but they are well known in Peterborough.

Rev. Mr. Jolliffe Says Farewell

Large Congregations at Charlotte Street Church Yesterday.

Rev. W. J. Jolliffe closed his pastorate of the Charlotte street church yesterday preaching to large congregations at both services, the church being crowed to overflowing in the evening. Mr. Jolliffe preached a forceful sermon on "Christ's invitation to the marriage."

At the close of the sermon Mr. Jolliffe made a few remarks relative to his four years pastorate, which was closing. He would always look back with feelings of pleasure and satisfaction upon his stay with the people of the Charlotte street church. He may not have been able to please everyone—he did not believe any minister could be a true man and have the good will of everyone—but he had tried to carry on his work in such a way as to be of the greatest service to his congregation, and hoped that his efforts had been fruitful of good among them. He thanked all for their kindness to him and his family, and he assured them that the kindness would not be soon forgotten. He spoke a few words concerning Rev. Mr. Manning, his successor, whom he felt certain would be received with cordiality by the people whose pastor he was about to become.

In the afternoon Mr. Jolliffe addressed the Sunday school at an open session, at which the superintendent, Mr. Kidd, and Dr. Morrison and Mr. Tovey, also spoke in warm words of appreciation of Mr. Jolliffe's work in the school.

The musical portion of yesterday's services added materially to their effectiveness. In the morning the anthem was "God is Love," and during the offertory Mr. R. N. Jolliffe sang "Heaven is My Home." In the evening the anthem was "The Lord is My Light." Miss G. Hughem sang "The Outcast," and Mr. Jolliffe "The Penitent."

Rev. Mr. Jolliffe and family leave on Thursday morning for Clinton, their new home.

The South Beach Summer Resort

Many Arrivals Already at This Popular Clear Lake Spot.

Mr. W. E. Brooks, proprietor of South Beach summer resort, was in town to-day. He was accompanied by Mrs. Brooks, purchasing additional supplies for the house. Mr. Brooks states that guests are arriving earlier than last year, and that already his rooms are nearly all filled, or taken for a term. The fishing opposite the Par Hotel, his summer-ed, and his American visitors are revelling in the enjoyment of the sport with rod and trawl. The following arrivals are noted:—R. C. Strickland, Mrs. Strickland, Miss Edith Strickland, Miss Lydia S. Strickland, Lakefield; Wm. A. Peters, Mrs. Peters, Rochester, N.Y.; Miss Montgomery, Lakefield; Mr. A. E. Nelson, Chas. F. Partridge, E. John Wood, Geo. E. Woodcock, Rochester, N.Y., T. E. Bradbury, M.P.P., H. A. Morrow, Peterborough; Hedor Willimek, Rochester, Herman Gibbiak, Ratibor, Germany; Miss A. T. Selton, Miss R. M. Allan, Mr. L. LaClaire, Mr. Fred McFadden, Peterborough; Chas. Crouch, Mrs. Chas. Crouch, Mr. C. Crouch, Rochester.

Twelve more guests from Rochester are expected this evening and the "Carleton" party are also booked for this week.

HERPICIDE NOT A FAKE

Unsolicited Testimonials Tell of It's Superiority.

A.M. S. Kelley, residing at 2195 Devisadero Street, San Francisco, Cal., writes the following:—

"When I first purchased Herpicide. I thought, like the majority of hair preparations, it would prove a fake. I am happy to state that, on the contrary, it is all, and even more, than you claim for it. Quite a number of barbers throughout the section in which I travel have called attention to the new hair sprouting out on my scalp, and inquired of me what I have been using. I tell them 'Herpicide;' also give them your name and address." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Orme and Walsh, special agents.

King Edward In Poor Health

Alarm is Felt for His Safety—Organic Troubles Have Come.

London, June 25.—Alarm is felt today over King Edward's health, organic troubles having come with the increase in flesh. Drowsiness is the greatest enemy, and it is whispered that during the luncheon at Mrs. Longworth's, he was several times asleep, and also dozed in his box at the Ascot races.

Illuminated Canoe Parade

Promises to be a Most Brilliant and Spectacular Affair.

The ladies of the city seem to have received with enthusiasm the announcement of the illuminated canoe parade at the big regatta at Crowford's Grove about July 19. Already they are talking about decorations, and the fact that many valuable prizes will be given for the best decorated canoe is proving an interesting centre. Every boat, from the steam yachts to the smallest canoes will be decorated and illuminated, making one of the most brilliant spectacles ever seen in this locality. A display of fireworks from the boats will be a feature, adding greatly to the effect of the scene.

Park Meetings Was a Success

Large Crowd Gathered in Central Park Yesterday.

The park meeting at Central Park yesterday was an unqualified success. A large number gathered around the stand to listen to the addresses, which were bright and inspiring.

Mr. T. G. Young spoke on the subject, "Why the new birth is necessary;" Mr. H. A. Fife on "What the new birth gives," Mr. Stevenson on "The Joys of the new birth," and Mr. G. W. Mulligan on "What the new birth is." Several hymns were sung during the service.

Mr. C. B. Foster "May B" Married

Will be Wedded to Miss Mary B. Mackenzie, of St. Paul, Next Wednesday.

Mr. C. B. Foster, district passenger agent of the C.P.R., who has many friends in Peterborough, is about being coupled to the matrimonial train. He will be married on Wednesday to a Canadian girl resident in St. Paul, Minn. In view of this event, Mr. Foster was made, in Toronto, the recipient of three presentations, one from the employees of the company in this city, one from representatives of railway and navigation companies in other cities of Canada and also the United States, and a third from newspaper men of Toronto, all occasioned by Mr. Foster's approaching marriage.

Report of Committee on Schools.

The Committee on Schools begs to report:—

1.—That the reports of the School Inspectors be received.

2.—That in accordance with the provisions of the School Act as recently amended the Committee recommend that the sum of $1,077.00 (being the least sum directed by said Act) be levied on the taxable property of the County (as equalised) not included in villages or annexed to villages for school purposes.

Respectfully submitted.

H. GARBUTT,
Chairman.

County Council Chamber, Peterborough, 21 June, 1906.

Report of the Committee on Equalization and Assessment.

The Committee on Equalization and Assessment beg leave to report as follows:—

Your Committee recommend:—

1.—That all the Municipalities comprising the County of Peterborough be assessed at the amounts set forth after their names respectively, in the last column of the schedule hereto annexed and that such valuation shall be the equalized assessment for County purposes for the purpose of the apportionment of County rates for the year 1907.

2.—That the Council is willing to have the final equalization of the Assessment in case of appeal, made by the County Judge.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. WEBSTER,
Chairman.

County Council Chamber, Peterborough, 21 June, 1906.

By-laws.

A bylaw to assess, levy and collect certain sums of money for county purposes, for the county of Peterborough, for the year 1906:

Whereas, it is estimated that the sum of $22,577.47 is required for county purposes for the year of our Lord, 1906, for the payment of salaries, jurors, sheriffs, administration of justice in all its forms, for the county and municipal expenses, wolf bounty, repairs to roads and bridges, votes of council and other expenses;

And whereas the municipal council are required to levy and collect by an equal rate upon the taxable property of the whole county, (not included in urabn municipalities or annexed to any urban municipality for school purposes), according to the equalized assessments of the municipalities, the sum of $1,070, such sum being at least the equivalent of all special grants made by the Legislative Assembly to the rural schools of the county; and such sum being payable to the trustees of the respective schools receiving such legislative special grants in the same proportions as the said special grants are apportioned.

Be it therefore enacted by the Municipal Council of the County of Peterborough, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same that the sum of $22,577.47 be assessed, levied and collected from the following townships or municipalities, comprising the county of Peterborough, as follows:

Lakefield	$ 554 85

Former Resident Of Keene Died In Manitoba

Rev. Mr. Wilson Leaves on Wednesday for Sydney—Keene People Attend Douro Picnic—Villiers Picnic Will be Held on Friday—Many Persons Visiting in Keene and Vicinity.

Examiner Special.

Keene, June 22.—Mr. Walter Robins is visiting friends in this vicinity.

The death occurred on Monday, June 18, from heart failure, of Mr. Duncan McFee, of Rossar, Man., a former resident of this vicinity. Deceased was a son of the late Mr. Alexander McFee, of Otonabee, and was born in this township on the farm at present occupied by Mr. Zaoh. Renwick, jr. When a young man, Mr. McFee moved to Iowa, U.S.A. The remains will be interred at Mr. McFee's late home in Iowa.

Miss Belle McEwan, of Toronto, is visiting friends in Keene.

Miss Katie Keefe, who has been a student at the Normal School, Ottawa, is spending her holidays with her parents.

A number of Keene people attended the Douro picnic Thursday.

The annual Villiers picnic will be held in the Pine Woods at Villiers on Friday, June 29. Music will be provided for dancing.

Mrs. Harry Cruikshanks is the guest of her sister, Mrs. William Campbell.

Rev. Mr. Wilson, pastor of the Methodist church, leaves next Wednesday for his new charge, Sydney, near Belleville. Mr. Wilson will preach his farewell sermon Sunday, June 24.

Mr. Roland McWilliams, of Peterborough, was in the village on Tuesday.

Flower Sunday Was Very Fittingly Celebrated

Very Interesting Service at George Street Church Yesterday Morning---Pastor Used Flowers to Point Out Many Excellent Lessons--Large Congregation Present.

A most interesting service was held in the George street Methodist church yesterday morning, the occasion being Flower Sunday, which is annually celebrated there. It was essentially a children's service, and the presence of the little ones was a feature that made the event most enjoyable. The address of the pastor was given entirely to the children.

The Sunday school scholars assembled in the school room, and marched up into the church in classes. Here seats had been reserved for them in the body of the church. As each passed by the pulpit he or she handed a bouquet of flowers to those waiting to receive them, and quickly an enormous floral wheel was erected, the remaining flowers being placed at its base. The effect was most beautiful, and the many coloured flowers presented an extremely beautiful appearance.

Rev. Dr. Crothers gave a short address, which he said was entirely for the children. The text chosen was a most appropriate one, from Solomon's Song ii, 12, "The flowers appear on the earth." In simple language and employing similes that were easily understood by the smallest children, the speaker pointed out the many lessons that could be learned from the flowers. By means of the beautiful examples present he was able to give his little hearers much excellent and helpful advice. Among other things touched upon were the usefulness, the beauty, and the weakness of flowers.

A new feature of the service was the presence of a children's choir from the Sunday school, which took the place of the usual church choir. The young choristers gave several selections in splendid fashion.

The flowers contributed by the children yesterday are being distributed to the sick.

STILL COMPLAINIG OF THE CURRENT AT LOCKS

Several canoe men were heard complaining to-day of the dangerous conditions existing below the locks. The water is very high and the current is swift, and many eddies add to the danger.

"Inexperienced canoeists who value their lives," said one man this morning, "should carry their canoes around. It's no place for amateurs." Any one who has seen the place will concur in this opinion. It is certainly no place for amateurs, and even experienced paddlers have to use all their skill to avert an accident.

Mechanics For Electric Works

Thirty-two From the Old Country Arrived on Saturday.

Mr. R. H. Shepherd, of the C.G.E., who left for the Old Country some months ago returned on Saturday to Peterborough, bringing with him 32 young mechanics from England, Scotland and Switzerland to work in the Canadian General Electric Works. These men consist of tool makers, fitters, machinists, and brass finishers and will undoubtedly be good acquisitions to the employees of the Electric Company.

They came over by the steamer Lake Champlain and report a pleasant voyage. They are greatly pleased with Canada so far, and although they haven't seen much of Peterborough yet, are delighted with their situation. They begin work at the C.G.E. to-morrow morning.

The Foresters Attend All Saint's Church

Impressive Sermon Preached by the Rev. Mr. Major.

All Saints' Church last night was filled to the doors with those who had gone to hear the Rev. Wm. Major address the Ancient Order of Foresters, it being the occasion of their annual church parade. About ninety of the members of the society were present who eagerly listened to Mr. Major's eloquent and impressive sermon on the duties of the order.

He spoke from the text "The Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart"—a part of the 7th verse of the sixth chapter of Samuel I. In that text, he said, we have God's method of the selection of a workman in contrast with that of man. His method was and is always to choose a man after His own heart. It is a comfort and an encouragement to the Christian workers to know that the stamp of God's choice rests upon them as the majority of man are not working for the glory of God, which should be the aim of every person's life. The Almighty's idea was that we were made to do His will and help others. The low standard of honour, he said, which exists among human beings has been doing much to degrade the human race. Men will lie to one another to gain some trivial temporary advantage. We live in an age of unreality, for we are unable to detect the genuine from the spurious. In partyism, society, and even in religion this same miserable looseness of reality may be found. He pointed out that the pledged duty of the Foresters society was to attempt the remedy of this degrading state and promote the social, moral and intellectual welfare of those with whom they come in contact. They should stand firm in loyalty to God's law so that honour and virtue may be expressed every day in the life of each. Their object should have the effect of leavening and permeating the world through and through with moral teaching.

In referring to the progress made since the introduction of Christianity, he showed that the brotherhood of man had undermined the system of slavery and given a decidedly higher standard of morality. "The world needs a further development," he said, "and it rests with the Foresters to assist in the great work". Harmony must exist between co-workers else the work will not go on and it is the affinity or brotherhood of man, which brings to pass this result.

The society has done an uncalculable amount of good in the past, but its labours are by no means concluded. "Unitas Benevelentia Concordia" the grand motto of the Ancient Order of Foresters should be vigilantly and carefully carried out in all paths of life. The shield of faith wards all the arrows of trouble he said, and advised all members of the Order to join the Church of God on earth and, actuated by a spirit of brotherly love, help those with whom they meet and strive to lift up those who are in trouble and in sin and for their reward they would be received with a "well done, good and faithful servant" and would receive the just and well deserved reward—a crown of glory.

In addition to the members of the A. O. F. who attended the service last night were also fifteen ladies of the Company Circle, Queen Alexander, No. 113.

When the members reached their rooms after the parade, a brief meeting was held, Chief Ranger H. Heanwell being in the chair. A vote of thanks was passed to the Rev. Mr. Major, the choir and wardens of All Saints' Church, for the excellent sermon and hospitality shown them.

Jerking of the Limbs.

"Before using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I could not sleep, had no appetite, hands and feet were cold, my digestion was poor, and I had jerking of the limbs. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has made a radical change in my condition, building up the system and strengthening the nerves."—Mr. William Brenton, Victoria street, Strathroy, Ont.

ST. JOHN'S.

At the offertory at St. John's last evening Mrs. F. A. Clarke sang Gounod's "There Is a Green Hill Far Away" in a very pleasing manner, giving sympathetic rendering of the beautiful sentiment of the selection.

ST LUKE'S.

A meeting of the Girls' Auxiliary will be held to-night at 8 o'clock to make arrangements for their annual picnic.

Rev. Dr. Torrance and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt will hold a prayer service at Stewart's Hall, Otonabee, next Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

ST. ANDREW'S.

The Bell Auxiliary of the W.H.M. Society and Y. P. S. meet to-night at 8 o'clock.

A special meeting of the Ladies' Aid at the home of Mrs. Carter, Hulvar street, to-night at 8 o'clock.

Congregational prayer meeting on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

MURRAY STREET.

To-night the Young Peoples' meeting will be held. After the devotional services the regular quarterly business meeting will be held.

To-morrow night the deacons will meet at eight o'clock at the church.

On Wednesday night the prayer meeting service will be held, at which reports from the recent association will be given by Mrs. (Dr.) Hunter and Mr. Wilfred Shiner.

During July and August the Sunday school will be held at 10 o'clock a.m.

Next Sunday afternoon the Mission Band will have a Flower Service.

The annual picnic will take place on July 10th to Lakefield by train, and to Mount Julian by steamer.

PARK STREET.

"Echoes from the Brighton Convention" was the subject of the morning sermon. A most telling platform meeting in the evening was conducted by the pastor. Messrs. Roy Jackson and A. Haddow gave short gospel addresses. An after meeting followed, when six persons expressed their desire to start in the Christian life.

At a teachers' meeting it was decided to hold the annual picnic on July 19, and to charter the Water Lily and barge, and have an old-time jollification.

The B. Y. P. U. will meet to-night.

Public service Wednesday evening.

On Tuesday afternoon, at 3 p.m., the Ladies' Aid meets at Mr. W. C. Barre's residence, Bolivar street.

Next Sunday, by special request, the sermon, "Heaven—Shall we enter at death, and shall we recognize friends long dead," will be repeated.

ST. PAUL'S SUNDAY SCHOOL SERVICE

The Quarterly Review of St. Paul's Sunday School was held yesterday afternoon in the school room. Addresses were given by Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. Mr. Bright and Mr. Hodgson, which proved very interesting and instructive. A recitation was given by Miss Mabel Pringle, and a flute solo by Mr. Mendle. Special music was rendered by the Sunday School Orchestra.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, June 25.—To-day's stock market was dull and uninteresting. The opening prices were lower with some pressure on Copper and U.P., while S.R.T. lost over a point. After the first few minutes a little support appeared and steadied prices, market rallied to about Saturday's closing, with St. Paul and Reading about a point higher, but a break on nearly 5 points in Interboro turned the market downward again.

London was 1-8 to 1-2 lower. Crop news was more cheerful and wheat and corn were nearly a cent lower, but this had little effect on stocks.

About 2 o'clock a drive at Copper, which carried it down to 97 3-4, broke the general list to a lower level than before. The market became furiously active on the decline and closed weak at the low of the day.

Stabbing Affray Still a Mystery

Port Hope Police Fail to Find Any Clue to Work Upon.

The Port Hope Guide says:—Who stabbed the Rev. E. R. Nicholls, of Baltimore? This is the question which is being asked on all sides. Just at present the mystery is as dark as ever and the police are unable to fathom it. Chief Bond has forwarded his report of his investigation to Crown Attorney Kerr and further developments will be awaited with much interest. In a telephonic communication last night with Dr. Montgomery, who attended the reverend gentleman's injuries the Dr. appeared quite reticient about divulging any information. When asked as to whether the use of his telephone at Bewdley had been withheld from Mr. Nicholls, Dr. Montgomery stated that he had not investigated the matter. He declined to express himself as to public opinion concerning the affair and thought the press had already published sufficient information.

The chief thinks there is something strange in the matter and that likely Crown Attorney Kerr will order an investigation. He is quite as prepared to credit the statements of Mr. Sides in reference to the telephone communication as those of Rev. Nicholls, since the discovery that the testiomny failed to tally, but will take no further action until instructed by Crown Attorney Kerr.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column,—

Dear Sir, — I see that most of the merchants have signed a petition, providing for a half-holiday on Thursday during July and August. I would like to ask whether it is the intention of the merchants to cut off the pay of their clerks on those dates or not. It is said that some merchants are going to do this. If the majority of the merchants are going to pay the clerks the same as usual, it might be well to publish the names of those who dock the pay of their employees.

Yours truly,
"FAIR PLAY."

LOCAL BOYS WIN AT BELLEVILLE

The Ontario Deaf Mute Association closed with the most successful convention ever enjoyed since 1883, in Belleville, 200 delegates being present. Fifteen Peterborough's representatives attended. A few of them entered the long list of sports. Jack Creough won first prize for running and jumping, while Wm. O'Rourke captured the first prize for putting the 25-pound shot. He put it a distance of 29 feet. The Peterborough delegates all had a grand and more profitable time than they expected.

THE AXE OF THE SPOILSMEN

To the Whitney Government belongs the glory of having Russianized Canadian Government methods—seizing and punishing without trial or hearing contrary to the cardinal principle of British justice—dismissing officials without any cause assigned, or if cause assigned, of a frivolous character, simply ludicious and grotesque. To the Whitney Government belongs also the glory of having Yankeeized Canadian Government methods by having introduced the vicious and demoralizing "spoils" system—"to the victors belong the spoils." To the Whitney Government belongs also the glory of having a Premier and colleagues who break and disregard solemn pledges, made.

"For autocratic Czar-like methods for apparent disregard of anything like fair play, for deliberate contempt of public opinion, for Jedburg justice—hanging first and trying afterwards—the summary processes employed in dismissing Lt.-Col. Brown, Registrar of East Northumberland, and Mr. Geo. Cochrane, License Inspector of West Peterborough, have no parallels in the history of this country since the malodorous days of the Family Compact.

Lt.-Col. Brown, was discharged in defiance of the Premier's written statement to the former that he "would not be discharged without formal investigation, affording a chance for defence, not denied trivial cases." Yet Lt.-Col. Brown was dismissed from office, without investigation or a chance of defence, such as is afforded in the most trivial cases, and on charges very palpably trumped up in order to make a vacancy and give an office to a nephew of Hon. Dr. Willoughby, a colleague of Premier Whitney.

The dismissal of Mr. Geo. Cochrane is equally curt and unfair. He was requested to resign and because he refused to do so and thus admit that he was guilty of something justifying his dismissal, he received the letter printed in another column, directing him to turn over his keys and papers to Mr. Joseph Stewart, appointed to fill an office already efficiently and satisfactorily occupied. Why was Mr. Cochrane dismissed? It was not because of imperfect or unsatisfactory discharge of his duties. His services were satisfactory to the Board and presumably satisfactory to all concerned in the enforcement of the License Law. The License Board had received or made no complaints; on the other hand the chairman of the Board expressed his regret at Mr. Cochrane's dismissal and paid a tribute to the satisfactory nature of Mr. Cochrane's discharge of duty, as an inspector. The Moral Reform League, and the Ministerial Association, two bodies very active in promoting temperance interests, so far as known, made no complaints in regard to Mr. Cochrane. In fact there was no fault found with Mr. Cochrane except on the part of those who had no earthly interest in, or care for, the enforcement of the license law. His place was wanted for a protege of local association of Conservatives, and his dismissal has been the outcome of a deliberate plan to get a bit of spoil for a local Conservative of doubtful claim, from even a party point of view, to such a favour. It has been known any time within the past year that it was decided in the councils of the baser elements of the Conservative party here, that Mr. Cochrane was to be beheaded as soon as the licenses were issued. Now he has been dismissed without cause, without charges made, without hearing given. The order for surrender of his papers to his successor reminds one of a Russian police tyrant seizing a man and packing him off to Siberia without a thought of trial.

Mr. Joseph Stewart has been appointed License Inspector at an increase of salary of $150 over that drawn by Mr. Cochrane. What has Mr. Stewart done, any more than any other local Conservative, that he should get the plum? Upon what particular merit was his claim to the office based? Is he better qualified than Mr. Cochrane, or does he occupy a higher place in the esteem of the better element of the city and county? He was pitchforked upon the police force, and has been enjoying that position since Mr. Stevenson appointed him for political reasons. If "to the victors belong the spoils," what claim has he to pose as one of the "victors"? Why should he, the double favourite of the ward heeler exigencies of the Conservative party, be selected for an office requiring special qualifications not acquired in a ward committee room or a young Conservative club? Why should Mr. Stewart have $150 more salary than Mr. Cochrane? Why is $75 taken out of the pockets of Peterborough ratepayers to fatly finance Mr. Stewart? There is only one answer to all these questions—"to the victors belong the spoils."

Mr. Whitney has not done himself any credit by yielding to the clamour of the baser element in the Conservative party in Peterborough, and dismissing a capable official for no offence of a character affecting his public relations. He has not done himself any credit in breaking faith and going back on his solemn pledge that officials would not be dismissed without formal investigation. Neither has Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M. P.P., done himself any credit, nor added to his popularity or strength by weakly yielding to the clamours of the baser section of his supporters, and committing or permitting an action which is reprobated and condemned by the substantial, respectable and self-respecting members of his supporters—in going against the known wishes and earnest advice of men who have borne the burden and heat of the day, and advanced their party's interests with their means and influence, and truckling and surrendering to the section of his supporters who have neither means nor influence, and who simply do the cackling and concocting. Ever since his election, he has shown his gratitude by doing—about all he has done as the representative of West Peterborough — in co-operating with the spoilsmen to create vacancies by crowding out Liberal officials.

The situation is one that will stand a deal of thinking over.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The best feature in connection with the "Flower Sunday's" celebration in our churches is the disposition made of the floral offerings of the children—given to cheer the sick. "I was sick and ye ministered unto me." The cup of cold water can take no more beautiful form than the Divine Gardener's most beautiful of all created things—flowers.

The first piece of business transacted by the new Provincial Railway and Municipal Commission was, the Hamilton Herald remarks, a good piece of business. The Board sanctioned the raising of a loan for the extension of the municipal gas works in Belleville. Thus the Commission begins its work by helping the cause of public ownership of public utilities. The Herald should not be too optimistic. Better wait to see what successful use Belleville makes of the "good piece of business" done by the Commission. It all depends whether Belleville should be grateful or otherwise.

The Liberals of the Province of Nova Scotia have held offices by favour of the people for nearly twenty-five years. The last Conservative Government which Nova Scotia had was that of Mr.—afterwards, Sir—John Thompson, which went out of office in 1882, twenty-four years ago. The Pipes Government, which succeeded it, and of which Mr. Fielding, the present Minister of Finance of the Dominion, was a member without portfolio, held office until July, 1884, when it was succeeded by the Fielding Government, which held office until 1896, when Mr. Fielding entered the Dominion Parliament. Mr. Murray, who had been a member of the Fielding Government, then became Premier, has been Premier ever since, and has just been returned by a sweeping victory to be Premier for another five years.

The Conservative newspaper in Winnipeg only gave some three inches of its space yesterday to the news of the Provincial general election in Nova Scotia, under the heading, "Conservative Gains in Nova Scotia Elections." This heading, remarks the Winnipeg Free Press, was in strict accordance with the truth. There were two Conservative members in the late Nova Scotia Legislature; there are five in the new Legislature, out of a total of thirty-eight. That is a gain of three undeniably. "It is a mere matter of arithmetic," as Mr. Bobbin said on a certain occasion. In comparison with the last Dominion general election in which the Conservatives in Nova Scotia succeeded in getting every one of their candidates in that Province defeated, including Mr. Borden himself, it is still more undeniably a gain. He would be a churlish Liberal who would not be ready to congratulate the Conservative paper in Winnipeg on its power of looking on the bright side of things.

Canadian Invades Darkest Africa

A Peterboro' Boy Forms Canadian Contingent to a Picturesque Expedition.

A correspondent of the Mail and Empire, has the following in reference to a gentleman well known in Peterborough and vicinity:—

"In reference to the article on page 13, Saturday's issue of The Mail and Empire, headed "The Bioscope Will Invade the Depths of Darkest Africa," you may be interested to learn that one of the leaders of the expedition, Mr. Brian Bellasis, though English by birth, has lived the greater part of his life in Canada. He is the son of Major Bellasis, a former resident of Lakefield, Ont., and of Young's Point, Peterborough County. He was educated at Mr. MacKenzie's preparatory boys' school in Lakefield, and afterwards at Upper Canada College, Toronto. On leaving the latter he entered McGill University, Montreal, and later went to London, England, where he took up the study of art. Last year he revisited Canada, and spent the Summer and winter here, returning to England in February, 1906. We hear from him that on his return from this expedition he intends to give a lecture tour in this country, and expects to lecture in Toronto and Peterborough, and probably in Lakefield, where he is well known to all the residents."

Sergeant Elliott Tells of the 24th

Was Home From Cobourg on Leave of Absence.

Sergeant Elliott, of the 24th Field Battery, came home from the Cobourg Camp on Saturday on a leave of absence for three days on a business trip, and returned to-day on the noon train. He reports the camp an excellent one, notwithstanding the frequent rain storms. The Peterborough soldiers are all in good health and are enjoying the pleasant two weeks' outing in the lake shore town.

Additions To Livery Equipment

Mr. Bert. McCollum Purchases Two New Vehicles.

Mr. Bert McCollum, the hustling Water street liveryman has added two of the newest conveyances on the market to his already efficient equipment. They are equipped with bicycle tires, nickle plated wheels and doctor's body and are not only attractive in appearance but as serviceable as it is possible to have them. They will make an efficient addition to Mr. McCollum's large stock of vehicles.

Framery Has Changed Hands

Mr. Robert MacEwan Will be New Proprietor of Concern.

"The Framery," the well known picture framing establishment, has changed hands, the new purchaser being Mr. Robert MacEwan. Mr. Dunslow has gone into the manufacture of show cases entirely, and has disposed of his establishment to Mr. MacEwan. The new proprietor is very well known in the city, and has wide experience in the work in which he is now engaged. He will be found under the town clock, ready to take orders, and no doubt will be kept busy from the start.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury
as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Good Programme For Jackson Park

New Pictures, Bank, Box-Ball Alley and Other Amusements.

With the splendid weather conditions to-night's crowd at Jackson Park should be a record-breaker. A good programme is billed, including an entirely new set of moving pictures. The band will be present as well, and the merry-go-round will be running as usual. The box-ball alley will in all probability be ready for use, and should make a hit at once. It is most popular at the island in Toronto. The restaurant, it is expected, will also open to-night.

OBITUARY.

FLORENCE DUNN.

Florence Dunn, daughter of Chas. Dunn, 913 Water street, passed away yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock, at the youthful age of 10 years and 10 months. She is survived by her mother and three sisters, Mary, Genevieve and Margaret, to whom is extended the sympathy of a great many friends in the loss of their daughter and sister, who was always a bright girl with a fair future.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to St. Peter's Cemetery.

TIMOTHY FOBERT.

Timothy Fobert, an old resident of Romaine street, died on Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock from old age. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock to St. Peter's cemetery.

HIS WORK IS BECOMING KNOWN

Not alone from the city, but from distant parts of the county, people are coming to consult with Dr. Montgomery, the expert, who is at Sanderson & Co.'s Jewellery Store. During the past week he has diagnosed several cases of cataract, cured cross eyes in children, and relieved eye headaches in cases that had suffered for years. There is something better in store for eye-sight sufferers than wearing glasses that are partly right, and there is no need for any person to suffer one moment with eye headaches. Each day from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Dr. Montgomery conducts free examination for the public by his new system of "looking into the eye." If you need counsel and advice in regard to your eyes, do not miss this grand opportunity to receive a benefit for a lifetime.

Last Call.

We will sell the preserving pineapples, which we now have on hand, very cheap. This will be the last opportunity this season of buying good, sound pineapples at a low price. We are also receiving those extra fine Canadian hot-house tomatoes, and home-grown Boston head lettuce, which are so well liked by our customers. S. A. Oke. 376 George street. Telephones—Bell 18, Maskins 18.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. G. M. Roger went to Toronto this morning.

Mr. Addison A. Rogx, of Toronto, was in the city to-day.

Mr. G. Robinson, of St. John's, N. B., is visiting in the city.

Mr. G. S. Pearse, of Chicago, is registered at the Oriental.

Mrs. (Dr.) Gray left this morning to visit her sister, Mrs. A. R. Belleaye, of Omemee.

Mr. R. MacEwan has purchased the control of "The Framery," and has taken possession.

Mrs. E. Cosford will receive on Tuesday, the 26th, at 382 Stewart street, and not again until autumn.

Mrs. Leary and Miss Katie are in Cobourg visiting at "Castleton Place," Cobourg, during the military camp.

Mr. Kennedy Gray, of the Canadian Oil Co., Toronto, visited his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Gray, over Sunday.

Among the visitors from Toronto on Saturday was Mr. W. W. Cooke, painter, a former well-known resident of Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. S. McGeogh, of Omemee, and Miss Rose McGeogh, of Toronto, are visiting Mrs. P. Fitzsammons, 5 Wolseley street, city.

Mrs. H. P. Kennedy left this morning on the G. T. R., for a visit to friends in Stirling. Mrs. Kennedy will not receive again until September.

At the consecration of Rev. Wm. Andrew Macdonell, as Bishop of Alexandria, yesterday, Rev. J. O'Brien, of Peterborough, acted as master of ceremonies.

Mr. H. Rush returned to the city from St. Catharines on Saturday evening, after a pleasant week's vacation at "The Welland," of that city. Although Mr. Rush did not avail himself of the mineral baths, he speaks highly of "The Welland" as a resort for physical recuperation. The cuisine is excellent, and the management highly satisfactory.

How Whitney Guillotine Does The Beheading Trick

Interesting Correspondence With the Decapitation Department of Conservative Government in Toronto.

The following letters speak for themselves. The cold blooded character of the correspondence on one side especially, speaks for itself:—

Geo. Cochrane, Esq., License Inspector, Peterborough, Ont.:

Dear Sir.—I am directed by the Honourable, the Provincial Secretary, to inform you that Mr. Joseph Stewart, of the Town of Peterborough, has been appointed License Inspector for the License District of West Peterborough, said appointment to take effect on the 1st of July next.

Mr. Stewart has been instructed to make application to you for the books, papers, etc., pertaining to the office, which you will be good enough to hand over to him.

Your obedient servant,
E. SAUNDERS,
Chief Officer.

Ontario License Branch.
Toronto, June 22nd, 1906.

Mr. Cochrane has forwarded the following letter in reply:—

Peterborough, June 25th, 1906.

Sir,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your favour of the 22nd inst., informing me that Mr. Joseph Stewart, of Peterborough, has been appointed License Inspector for the License District of West Peterborough, and requesting me to hand over to him, the books, papers, etc., in my possession, connected with the office.

In answer thereto permit me to say that this action of the Department of Government is quite contrary to the public statements of the Premier of Ontario, and Minister in charge of the Department, who have both publicly stated, "that where an official had discharged his duty to the public, whose officer he really was, he would not be disturbed."

In my case the chairman of the License Board informed me that he was sorry to be notified of my proposed removal, as I had been, he believed a good official. In any case, no complaints have been made to me by either the Department or License Board, and I can conceive of no public reason for my removal other than the fact, that I had been appointed by a Government of different political persuasion.

Further, Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M. P.P., volunteered the statement to me personally, that I should not be removed; on the contrary I had discharged my duties satisfactorily. Then why your letter? Somebody wants my position I suppose, and you are not strong enough to resist — would rather eat your own words.

In any case, if I am to be unceremoniously dismissed from my position, as your letter indicates, permit me to say that in no case will I hand over any books or papers, in my possession, until they are properly audited by your departmental officer and accepted by him as correct.

I have the honour to be,
Yours faithfully,
GEO. COCHRANE.

WEDDING BELLS

THORNTON—VANEVERY.

A quiet wedding took place this afternoon at the residence of Mr. Wm. Van Every, 208 Rubidge street, when his daughter, Miss Agnes S. Van Every, was united in marriage to Mr. Louis T. Thornton, B. Sc, graduate of Queen's University, Kingston. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. G. Potter, in the presence of only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride was prettily dressed and was unattended.

After the ceremony, those present sat down to an excellent wedding dejeuner served on beautifully decorated tables. The presents to the bride and groom were numerous and pretty, and testified to the esteem in which they were held.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornton left on the C.P.R. train for Regina, Sask. They will visit in Owen Sound and Winnipeg on their way to the West.

Don't forget Mrs. Morrow's Recital To-Night in St. Peter's Hall. David Ross, Canada's Favourite Baritone.

Another Case Of Dog Poisoning

Jesse Irwin, 208 Perry Street, Loses Valuable Spaniel.

Another case of dog-poisoning is recorded, and it seems as if the unscrupulous person who is carrying on the dastardly work will escape undetected. The latest victim is a spaniel pup belonging to Mr. Jesse Irwin, 208 Perry street, which was poisoned on Saturday near its home. The dog was a thoroughbred and was very highly prized by its owner, who, naturally, is incensed over the death of the canine. If this poisoning of dogs continues it may be necessary for dog-owners to club together to secure the services of a detective, who should not have much difficulty in running down the persons who have been doing all the damage.

TELL THE TRUTH WHEN ADVERTISING

THE old reliable Optical firm of "TATE." The Tate Optical Co., Peterboro, have, during their 8 years of business in Peterboro, examined and made glasses as for over Thirty-Five Thousand (35,000) Patients and every Patient has been examined (not tested) by the objective methods of refraction.

That is:—1st, by the Opthalmoscope; and, by the Retinoscope or Shadow test, and the more difficult cases by the Opthalmometer as well. In fact our examining room is equipped with all the most modern instruments used in the practice of Optometry and yet we have never claimed (although the first to use this system of examination in Peterboro) to have the exclusive right of using it, or a corner on the market of dark rooms and shadow tests.

In addition to that we have our own lens grinding plant. The only one, in fact, (outside of the wholesale houses in Toronto and Hamilton and one retail in London) in any city between Montreal and Windsor. If you wear a compound lens and are unfortunate enough to break it, we can replace it, by grinding you an exact duplicate on an hour's notice and so save you the vexatious delay of a 3 or 4 days' wait.

That the people of Peterboro and vicinity appreciate our our methods of examination and enterprise is best evidenced by the fact of the large business done in the past and the steady increase from year to year.

Blood Flows From Wound Three Hours

Wesley Spence Receives Terrible Cuts and Slashes.

IN TORONTO ISLAND BRAWL

Two Men Arrested—Injured Man May Die of His Wounds—Method of Receiving Them Much in the Dark as Yet—The Third Say There is a Fourth Man Who Did the Wounding.

Toronto, June 25.—Wesley Spence, aged 26, expressman, 29 Elm street, is lying in St. Michael's Hospital, hovering between life and death.

Pietro Laber, aged 21, laborer, 118 Centre avenue, and Robert Kennedy, aged 24, moulder, 296 Perth avenue, are in jail on the charge of wounding Spence.

The affray occurred shortly before 10 o'clock Saturday night on the bridge across the lagoon leading to Turner's baths. The three men earlier in the evening had gone over to the sand bar, having with them a bottle of whisky, which they had brought from the city. After drinking this they commenced to wrangle.

Before the men were seen a revolver shot was heard by some of the cottagers.

"Help, Help, or I'll Be Dead."

Their loud talk and threats to each other attracted the attention of Mr. Chamberlain, who notified P. C. Johnston of their rowdyism. On his return he was met by Spence, who cried "Help! help! for God's sake, or I'll be dead in a few minutes."

Mr. Chamberlain seeing the man was wounded, took him to Eddie Durnan's boathouse, and Dr. Sphen was telephoned for at the Lakeside Home. He dressed the wounds.

Mr. Chamberlain took a revolver away from Spence when he met him and asked Spence if he was shot and how he came to have the revolver.

Spence replied he had taken it away from the fellow who attacked him.

Arrests Two.

Inspector Davis, who was in the vicinity, heard of the row and was soon on the scene. The two companions of Spence had disappeared. They were subsequently picked out of the crowd and promptly arrested by Davis, who brought them to the city and locked them up in No. 1 station. When searched Laber had a razor case in his pocket, but no razor, and his hands were covered with blood. The revolver, which was taken from Spence, contained three loaded and two empty shells. The smell of powder from the revolver showed it had been recently fired.

The wounded man did not wish the others arrested. All refused to talk about the fight, and claimed there was a fourth man who did the cutting. They did not know his name.

Spence's Terrible Wounds.

Spence lost an immense quantity of blood. His coat was slashed in three places, and his clothing was saturated with blood. In St. Michael's Dr. Killoran worked for three hours before the flow of blood was stopped, from a deep, ugly wound 3 inches long, extending from the top of and around the ear across the throat. There was another wound on the head, and a slash under the arm. He was resting quietly last night, but his recovery is still in doubt.

"It escaped early death by that," said the doctor, and his fingers measured the space of a quarter of an inch.

MONTREAL'S MURDER MYSTERIES

Montreal, June 25.—Three suspected cases of murder or manslaughter are being investigated here.

Joseph Chasut, M. de la Salle——

Wasting Brain and Nerve Force
AND UNDERMINING HEALTH BY USELESS WORRY—NEW VITALITY OBTAINED BY USING
Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Brain and nerve force is squandered in a way which would be utterly condemned in the use of money. And of what value is money as compared with health?

By useless fretting and worry, by overwork, and by neglecting to take proper nourishment, rest and sleep, strength and vitality are frittered away and no reserve force is left to withstand the attack of disease.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is valued because it actually increases the amount of nerve force in the body, overcomes the symptoms arising from exhausted nerves, and gives that strength and confidence in mind and body which is necessary to success in life.

Nervous headache, brain fag, inability to concentrate the mind, loss of sleep, irritability, nervousness and despondency are among the indications of exhausted nerve force. These are the warnings which suggest the necessity of such help as is best supplied by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mr. Thomas Covert, Jr., Highland Grove, Ont., writes:—"I used five or six boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for nervous debility and a run down system and found them of very great benefit. They are well worth the best recommendation I can give them."

Mrs. J. Dansher, 485 Bethune street, Peterborough, Ont., states: "I was troubled a great deal with nervousness and sleeplessness, and began a treatment with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I can say for a certainty that it is a splendid medicine, for besides steadying my nerves, it built up my system wonderfully, and enabled me to sleep and eat well."

If you would be healthy, happy and successful, test this great food cure. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

and Thomas Lathead appeared before Judge Lafontaine charged with having murdered Emile Clermont on Monday, 18th June.

When Charles Wm. Herton, a colored man, died in jail a coroner's jury was called. It was found that Herton had been thrown out of a saloon just before he was arrested, and there were marks of violence on his head.

The jury advised further investigation.

William Dayton, 32 years old, has been saved from the effects of swallowing a dose of Paris green. He says he cannot remember the circumstances under which he took the poison. He is expected to entirely recover.

POPULAR IN SOCIETY.

Absconding Bank Teller Was a Mover Among "the Best."

Medicine Hat, June 25.—W. E. Crompton, teller of the Union Bank, who has absconded, was popular in society circles.

A number of Medicine Hat young people with artistic aspirations formed an organization known as the Dominion Concert Co., and toured a number of the neighboring towns and cities. Crompton spent his two weeks' holidays acting as advance agent for the company. A week ago Saturday night he was in Wetaskiwin, and was to return to Medicine Hat by Monday morning. As he had not shown up by Wednesday, the inspector of the bank was summoned from Lethbridge and it was ascertained that there was a shortage.

Crompton is an Englishman, and came here from one of the bank's mercantile branches. He has been here three years, and was a great society man, an ardent polo player, and solo singer in the Presbyterian choir. The police have traced him to Vancouver. Being a wonderful mimic and clever at private theatricals, Crompton could disguise himself.

OUTLAWS WANT NEW TRIAL.

Unusual Course in B. C.—Grounds Upon Which Appeal is Made.

Victoria, B. C., June 25.—Edwards (Bill Miner), Dunn and Colquhoun, the three outlaws convicted of the hold-up of the C. P. R. train and sentenced to life and 10 year terms in the penitentiary, are making strenuous efforts, through their counsel, Mr. Maclaurin, to secure a new trial.

This is unusual in criminal matters in British Columbia, where in 99 cases out of 100, a conviction is accepted as finally disposing of the matter in issue.

The prisoners' counsel, in presenting his application to Mr. Justice Irving, urged two points—that the prisoners were not asked to plead at their second trial, and that counsel for the Crown had referred to the identification of a belt by one of the prisoners, no evidence being offered in this regard upon which such comment would properly rest.

His lordship held that there had been no point ruled upon at the trial which was unfair to the prisoners, and refused to grant a case stated.

Mr. MacIntyre will now appeal from this ruling to the full court at its autumnal session.

DINNER AND BALL.

Municipal Honors Paid to King Haakon at Trondhjem.

Trondhjem, June 25.—A state dinner and ball were given last night by the municipality of Trondhjem, in honor of the King and Queen and foreign princes.

There were present members of the diplomatic corps and a brilliant assembly of 300 persons.

King Haakon's First Love.

Trondhjem, Norway, June 25.—King Haakon and Queen Maud Saturday held their first levee, commencing at 11 o'clock in the morning, and the palace was again the town's centre of interest. All the special ambassador, statesmen, officials and other prominent persons attended.

DISTURBS ROYAL HONEYMOON.

Spaniard Tries to Intercept King Alfonso and Queen Victoria.

Lagranja, Spain, June 25.—At the moment when the royal automobile, containing King Alfonso and Queen Victoria arrived here from the theatre Friday night, a well-dressed individual evaded the guards and sought to intercept the royal couple. He was arrested and gave the name of Jos Marie of Madrid.

When searched papers of a suspicious nature and considerable money were found upon him.

An Italian who was acting in a strange manner was also arrested. He claimed that he was on his way to Bilbao, looking for work.

Colon, June 25.—The municipal elections in Colon yesterday passed off with very little disturbance. It is understood the Government was victorious but the results have not been announced. Yesterday morning clubs were freely used by both the political factions and several persons received broken heads.

Injuries Fatal.

London, June 25.—Robert Yuell, the foreman of the G. T. R. bridge department, died here Saturday morning at Victoria Hospital, as a result of injuries received Friday night from being run over a short distance west of the city by a light engine.

Canada is There.

London, June 25.—Two representatives from Canada are present at the gathering here of the International Institution of electrical Engineers.

Field Guns and Rifles Used to Disperse Discontented Russian Soldiers—Firing Continued an Hour on Khodinka Plain—Crew of Nishni-Novgorod, a Volunteer Cruiser Carrying Artillerists, Mutinies.

Ufa, Province of Ufa, Russia, June 25.—Prince Manvelioff, an extensive landed proprietor, and a former officer of the guards, was killed on the street here Friday. The crime, it is supposed, was committed for political reasons.

Three Slain.

St. Petersburg, June 25.—Two high police officials and a policeman were shot dead in the streets of Pietrekow, Russian Poland, yesterday.

Sergeant of Police Killed.

St. Petersburg, June 25.—A sergeant of police was killed Saturday night, near the Pahl factory, in the turbulent Narva district, which is the centre of an armed revolutionary organization.

Summary Justice.

Voronesh, Russia, June 25.—The peasants of the Village of Krutnyagorki, enraged at the killing of a cow by two members of the rural police, called a commune meeting, formally condemned the two men to death and executed the sentence.

FIRING NEAR MOSCOW.

Artillery Used to Disperse the Discontented Soldiery.

London, June 25.—The correspondent at Moscow of The Standard says that the sound of intermittent firing of field guns and rifle volleys was heard for an hour last night outside the town in the direction of Khodinka plain. He says it was impossible to secure details, but that it is believed an enormous meeting of discontented soldiers of the Moscow garrison was being dispersed by artillery.

CRUISER'S CREW MUTINIES.

More Disturbances in Russian Fleet, But No Fatalities.

Odessa, June 25.—While the volunteer fleet cruiser Nishni-Novgorod was carrying a corps of artillerists from Odessa to Sebastopol, the crew mutinied when the vessel was midway between the two cities and brought the ship back to Odessa.

RUSSIAN ROBBERS.

Get Away With $125,000 From Railway Messengers.

Kiev, European Russia, June 25.—Messengers on the Southwestern Railroad, who were carrying $125,000, were attacked Saturday by four robbers, who killed one messenger, wounded a second, seized the money and drove away at a gallop in a cab. Two of the messengers pursued the robbers and wounded the robber who was carrying the money, with the result that he fell from the cab and the money was recovered.

HOPEFUL FOR OPEN DOOR.

Japan Seems Ready to Accord the Privilege in Manchuria.

Pekin, June 25.—The leading commercial men are now taking a more hopeful view of the prospects for securing a share of the trade of Manchuria, and it appears that the Japanese Government seems willing to fulfill its promise of an open door in that country; at least it has shown a better disposition than the military authorities. There has been friction between the civil and military authorities concerning the policy to be pursued as to foreign trade privileges in Manchuria. The civil authorities are more liberal and it is believed that when the military administration is withdrawn, foreigners will be given greater freedom

Mrs. Shaughnessy Dead.

Montreal, June 25.—Word was received here yesterday of the death of Mrs. Shaughnessy, mother of the vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The lady, who was 77 years old, had always resided in Milwaukee.

Four Drown.

Newport, June 25.—Through the overturning of a canoe, in which they were enjoying an outing on Lake Memphremagog, late yesterday, four young persons were drowned.

The Quakers Defeat Bowmanville In First Of The Final Games

Game Was Played on the Losers' Grounds—Score Stood 1-0 at the Finish--Best Midland League Game of the Season--Winners of the Stratton Trophy Decided Next Saturday on Riverside Park--An Interesting Journey.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Bowmanville, June 25.—On Bowmanville grounds on Saturday afternoon the Peterborough Quaker intermediate football team won the first of the final games for the Stratton Trophy by defeating Bowmanville by 1 goal to 0. With but one exception it was the Junior Quakers who did the trick, most unexpected as it was, as far as the home team was concerned, and the victors deserve a great deal of credit for their wonderful showing this season and also more support than the City of Peterborough has given them.

It was the first time Bowmanville had been defeated on their own grounds this year, and the loss of the first final game was a hard pill to swallow. Yet they put up a fine exhibition of football and were the fastest and best aggregation the Quakers have struggled against this season. The latter's record still increases. They have played and won their ninth game with a total of 21 goals to their favour with but 3 charged against them. With but one more game to play they conclude the intermediate series of the Midland League, and appear to be the champions of both the series.

The only goal was scored about the middle of the first half by Boycott, the fast outside left. He shot a swift one on goal which was up to Smith, the home team's back, to stop. He was too hard pressed by the remaining Quaker forwards and in his strenuous attempt to relieve, rolled the ball between the stakes. During the rest of the game James in goal was compelled to get in the way of a dozen or more hot ones and he proved an apt defender.

The visitors had by far the better of the game. Their backs were easily equals of those of the home team, while their halves excelled. The combination of the Quaker forwards was even admitted by the unprejudiced of the home team's supporters to be superior to the Bowmanville pets, in the latter half especially, the Quakers seemed to get a new vitality and ran away from the ever vigilant gaze of the defenders of the home citadel. Although they were not able to notch a second counter there were some hair-breadth escapes which made the Bowmanville rooters hold their breaths for a time.

The home team nevertheless were not wholely on the defensive. Their forwards were always on the alert and broke away many times with some sensational runs. McFadden had to stop a couple of the hottest which he has yet met this year, and one of these looked to be an almost certain goal.

The game was played before a large crowd on a plateau in the Exhibition Grounds, encircled by a race track. The drop on either side occasioned considerable disadvantage to the Quakers, yet they soon adapted themselves to the circumstances. They have now become accustomed to kicking on hills or in the valleys, as in Lakehurst, or on table lands and it has yet to be said that they didn't "fall in" with the irregularities.

McFadden this year has been playing better ball than ever and Saturday his brilliant stops were features of the game. The back division—Evans and Doris—played perfect ball and combined repeatedly to clear the goal. Their strong punting often sent the leather from end to end. Captain Fitzgerald whose strenuous labours have made the team what its record indicates, kicked at centre half in his initial game of the season. Those who saw his brilliant playing two years ago can form an idea how he looked after the ball on Saturday. Archibald and Ray Best are also two of the best halves who have donned football suits and worried their checks so that they could not break away. Crough played a fearless game, being always on the spot to receive the ball when it came his way. He and Baker did some pretty combination work on the right wing and easily evaded their checks. Armstrong and Boycott on the left were as tricky and speedy as ever and put up the best game of the season. The latter's kicking on goal from the touch was always accurate and resulted in the only score of the day.

For the home team the backs, Kerslake and Smith, were sure men and withstood successfully many of the Quaker attacks. The left wing was speedy, especially Haur, who got away with a few sensational stunts, but was too closely watched by Archibald to be dangerous. James in goal handled a few in excellent style and proved a great source of strength to his team.

Sharin, of Omemee, who kept the teams playing the ball the whole time. There were some penalised.

The return game on Riverside Park next Saturday concludes the series and decides the championship and will be the keenest of football matches ever witnessed in Peterborough.

The line-up of the teams which played on Saturday was:—

The Trip.

The varied journey of the team to Bowmanville on Saturday was a memorable one—in fact second only to the immortal journey to the back country last week with which the boys in red and white were so much taken up. They entrained at the G.T.R. station on the 11.45, amid a downpour of rain. The first difficulty was experienced here—one of the Quaker grips had miraculously disappeared and given up for lost. It was, however, politely handed over at Port Hope by an English emigrant. Bowmanville was entered on time and the game began at 2.30 in a shower of water drops. "Wait til the clouds roll by" was sung and they did. Without refreshment since the morning, the team with their four or five supporters left in 'busses at 4.45 for Burketon to catch the local. One party was successful with the exception of some dry goods but the unfortunates—two minutes late—waited on the next freight, which rolled peacefully into Peterborough at eleven o'clock. But the game was won and the inconvenience of the journey was lost amid the buoyant spirits of the merry party.

The game was refereed by Milt.

Oshawa Juniors Were No Match For Shamrocks

Local Juniors Were Good Mud-Horses and Won in Easy Fashion in C. L. A. Game—Score Was 11-1, and Shamrocks Had No Trouble in Pulling Out Ahead.

In the rain, the mud and the sun at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon the Peterborough Junior Shamrocks defeated the fast Oshawa twelve in a league game by a score of 11 goals to 1. This makes these two teams a tie for this district. Port Hope dropped out and each team won on their own ground. Although Oshawa gets credit for a win when the locals played in the Lake Town, they did not get it on the field, but through the referee. The tie will likely be played off in Lindsay some Thursday afternoon.

The game on Saturday was a very good exhibition of lacrosse, considering the weather, which also had an effect on the attendance. Only about 100 spectators occupied the stands.

The visitors were at no stage of the match dangerous, although they played some very pretty combination and showed speed at times. They were very erratic, and had it not been for the good work of Thomas in goal and Guinett and Swanson on the defence they will have been swamped. Guinett was certainly their star and is the makings of a good defence man. Hare and Canning were the pick of the home.

The locals showed a big improvement over their game with Port Hope, although handicapped by the slippery grounds. The boys played great lacrosse, especially in the last half, when they played all around the visitors and had them faded to a cinder. If they keep on improving like they have done since the last match, it looks as if the championship's chances of coming this way were good. In fact Manager Doris has tipped it off to the boys that he wants nothing but the cup, emblematic of the junior championship.

R. Arena, the star goal tender of Orillia Lacrosse Club refereed the contest and his work was highly satisfactory, to both twelves.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Shamrocks.		Oshawa.
	Goal.
Gilman		Thomas
	Point.
White		Guinett
	Cover Point.
Seymour		Swanson
	First Defence.
Devlin		Harding
	Second Defence.
Doris		G McCullough
	Third Defence.
Dusty		Robinson
	Centre.
Tucker		Kempt
	Third Home.
Saunders		W McCullough
	Second Home.
Bassitt		Lake
	First Home.
Feeney		Punshon
	Outside Home.
Dobson		Hare
	Inside Home.
McNichol		Canning
	Field Captains.
McCabe		Paines

Referee—R. Arena.

SUMMARY.

First quarter:—
1. Shamrocks, Dobson, 4 minutes.
2. Shamrocks, McNichol, 11 minutes.
3. Shamrocks, McNichol, 31-2 minutes.

Second quarter:—
No scores.

Third quarter:—
4. Shamrocks, Dobson, 38 seconds.
5. Shamrocks, Dobson, 61-2 minutes.
6. Shamrocks, Bassitt, 5 minutes.
7. Shamrocks, Dobson, 3 minutes.
8. Shamrocks, McNichol, 1 minute.
9. Oshawa, Hare, 3 minutes.

Fourth quarter:—
10. Shamrocks, Feeney, 5 minutes.
11. Shamrocks, Feeney, 2 minutes.
12. Shamrocks, McNichol, 3 minutes.

The following players were penalised:—Shamrocks, Tucker 2, Doris, McNichol, Bassitt, Devlin, White. Oshawa, Luke, McCullough,

NOTES.

"Ikey" Gilman between the flags is one of the most promising net guardians, Peterborough has developed for some time.

Bassitt, the new man, shaped up well and has all the ear marks of a good un.

White was ruled off Saturday for the first time since he started to play the game.

Guinett, the Oshawa point player, is certainly a dandy. He stopped as many shots as the goal tender.

Dusty uses his body very effectively and when he gets his stick handling down he will make one of the most useful players on the defence.

White, who plays point, is a namesake of the great Cornwall defence man, but he is not a red man. He promises to develop into a star.

The playing of Doris reminds one somewhat of "Skooky" Main.

Fast Guild Ball Game To-night

Charlotte Street and St. Paul's Will Meet at Riverside.

There will be a great game in the Guild League to-night, when Charlotte Street and St. Paul's will meet. The two teams have played one exciting game this season and the interest to-night will be red-hot. A run for Charlotte Street over St. Paul's, would practically win the championship, but the Presbyterians may be depended upon to put up a great struggle before going down and out. The batteries will be Swanston and Gillespie for St. Paul's and Roddy and Laing for Charlotte Street.

LAWN BOWLING

Even on Saturday afternoon, wet as the lawn was, some enthusiasts had a game, but they did not hand in the score or names—they were wise.

There will be a meeting of the Executive at the club house at 7.00 p. m. this evening to consider important matters in connection with the visit of the British Bowlers, a full attendance is requested.

Schedule for to-night:—
Ferguson versus Kerr.
Waddell versus Bellegham.
Johnson versus Martin.
McIntyre versus Russells.
Pratt versus Matthews.
W J Thompson versus Dr. Greer.
J Fitzgerald versus E W Cox.
K G Loch versus S T Medd.
D H Moore versus Wm. McIlroy.
Dr. McKinnon versus W E Talbott.

LAWN TENNIS

To-night from six to seven o'clock, weather permitting, the gentlemen of St. John's A. Y. P. A. Tennis Club, will entertain the ladies at tea on Nicholls Oval, after which games will be played on all courts. Strangers to the tennis courts will be cordially welcomed and any member or adherent of the church is invited.

GOLF

On account of the unfavourable weather the time has been extended until Wednesday, June 27th, for the second round of the Stratton trophy.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

Games Afforded Many Interesting Contests

In Spite of the Rain Toronto Visitors Had an Enjoyable Afternoon's Sport--Peterborough Won the Ball Game--The Winners in the Different Entries.

Although the terrific rain, which, during the early part of Saturday afternoon, interfered to some extent, with the arrangements made for running off the games in connection with the excursion of the Toronto Iron Moulders and Core Makers, yet a very successful programme was held. It was the intention originally to have the sports held at the Oval, but the rain prevented this, and it was found necessary to carry out the programme at Central Park. The first events took place in the drill hall, which was placed at the disposal of the excursionists. After two or three events, however, the weather conditions grew more favourable, and the balance of the sports were finished on the cinder path in the park.

The races were all well contested, and afforded considerable amusement. The majority of the visitors were present at the park, and in addition, there was a large number of Peterborough people in attendance. The 57th Regimental Band rendered delightful music during the afternoon from the stand of the park, adding greatly to the affair. Much interest was taken in the sports among the visitors, and the favourites were loudly cheered. The wife of "Skimer" Skimerton, the energetic secretary of the committee, in the running race for men forty years and over, was very popular. Peterborough men carried off several prizes, and the local moulders defeated the visitors by 9—4 in a five-innings game of ball.

Following is a list of the winners:

100 yards race, moulders and coremakers—J. W. Reid, Toronto, ton of coal, value $2; 2 R. Smith, Toronto, carving set, value $2; 3 W. Green, local union No. 191, box of cigars.

50 yards race, married ladies — 1 Mrs. Liston, Toronto, box biscuits, value $5; 2 Mrs. Chadwick, 5 lbs. of tea, value, $2.50.

75 yard race, moulders and coremakers, 45 years and over — 1 W. M. Skimerton, Toronto, 8 lbs. saddle tobacco, value $6; 2 W. O'Herne, box soap, $5; 3 — Black, box cigars.

Smoking race, 100 yards, open to union men — 1, C. Taylor, Toronto, 8 lb. saddle tobacco, $6; 2, A. Taylor, Toronto, two bottles of wine, $2; 3 W. Green, local union 191, box of cigars.

100 yards race, open to union men only — 1, —. McCurdy, Toronto, box of soap, $5; 2 W. Reid, Toronto, table, $3; 3 George Pearson, box of cigars.

Young ladies' race — 1 Miss Emmett, silverware, value $5; 2 Miss Currie, candles; 3 Miss Worrell, toilet set.

100 yards race, apprentices — 1 George Pearson, moulders' tools, $5; 2 W. Hastings, Toronto, moulders' gators, $1.50; 3 W. Taylor, straw hat, $1.

The running hop, step and jump was an interesting affair. J. Callaghan of Peterborough made the best jump, but was ruled out on the ground that he was an apprentice, and hence not a member of the union. The prize, goods to the extent of $4, was given to S. Houlihan, local union 191.

Baseball Game.

The local moulders had not much trouble in putting away the visitors nine in the ball game for a prize of $10. The locals were five runs to the good at the end of five innings, the score standing 9—4 in their favour. The game afforded plenty of amusement and some good ball was seen although the grounds were very wet. Houlihan, in the box for the locals, seemed unhittable and shut the visitors out until the fourth. Andrews, behind the bat, gave him good support. The Toronto bunch tried three twirlers in the five innings, but all looked alike to the local artists. The games were in charge of Charles H. Woodward, chairman; W. M. Skimerton, secretary; and R. Emmett, treasurer. T. J. Stenson and J. Weir of Peterborough, were the judges, and in that capacity gave satisfaction to all concerned.

Drawing Contest.

The drawing contest concluded the day's festivities and aroused a lot of interest. Tickets had been sold for some time in advance, and the holder of the lucky number drew the prize. The very prize was a very handsome stove donated by the Moffat Stove Company of Toronto, in aid of the Sick and Benefit Fund. The winning number was 4446, which was not held by any one in the crowd. The second prize, a carving set, was won by A. McGregor, Peterborough, and the third number, the prize for which was a tea kettle, was not in sight.

The excursionists left the city at 8.15. The 57th Band gave them a send off, and there were many citizens on hand to see the last of the visitors from the Queen City. They were a jovial crowd, and it is to be hoped that on their next visit to Peterborough they may be favoured with better weather.

Parents of Rev. Nicholls Have Heard No Details

Say There Was Opposition to Baptist Mission--He Was the Oldest of Fifteen Children—Took an Active Part in Sunday School Work of Olivet Baptist Church, Toronto.

The Toronto Star of Saturday, gives the following account of an interview with the parents of Rev. H. E. Nicholls, who was recently assaulted and stabbed at Bailieboro:

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nicholls, the parents of Robert Nicholls, who says he was stabbed at Bailieboro, where he has had charge of the Baptist Mission since last December, live at 91 Fermanagh avenue, Toronto. While a cutter for the Julius Safe Leather Goods Co., Limited, young Nicholls took an active part in the Sunday school and general work of the Olivet Baptist church, near the corner of Margueretta and College streets. He was offered the Bailieboro pastorate, and accepted, intending to return to Toronto in two years to complete his course for the ministry. In June last he married Miss Agnes Anketell, who was also a member of the Olivet church. Mrs. Nicholls, with her babe arrived home recently on a visit, but returned to Bailieboro last Tuesday when a telephone message reached her that her husband had been injured. There were no particulars, however.

"We are expecting a letter telling us everything," said Mr. Nicholls' mother this morning, "but so far know no more than the papers have told us. My son, is a good, quiet, truthful boy, and knowing him as I do, I am convinced that he would not divulge his assailant's identity even if he knew it. I have been informed that there has been a good deal of opposition to the Baptist Mission at Bailieboro, and that my son's predecessors suffered annoyance during their terms."

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nicholls have had fifteen children, of whom fourteen are living. Robert, who is 24 years of age, is the oldest. The youngest is an infant of three months. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholls were married in England twenty-five years ago. They came to Toronto nineteen years ago, and have resided here ever since. They are members of St. Jude's Anglican church, and Robert was confirmed when a boy. The father is a painter and paperhanger.

Emigrants Wanted To Live In The Big Furniture Van

Could Not Obtain a Place of Abode in the City—Offered Fuel and Cartage Company $7 Per Month—Building Operations Too Slow for the Demand.

Although the building operations in the city are going on with a Cobalt rush, the work does not seem to keep abreast with the abnormal demand for houses at the present time. Many are living in buildings abandoned many years ago by their owners for lack of better accommodations.

A large number of the immigrants from the Old Country are residing in tents throughout the city, and are glad to get a small allotment of ground on which to pitch them.

An Examiner representative was told this morning that an English family which arrived in Peterborough the other day offered the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Company $7 a month for their big furniture van. The wagon, with a few alterations, would make an excellent and comfortable place of abode, but the company's business was too pressing to allow them to give up the big movable house, and the immigrant family were forced to find a dwelling in other quarters.

$65 Stolen From Mr. H. O. Fisk's House

That Sum Was Taken From His Trousers' Pockets on Sunday Night—Took the Money While He Slept—Police Said to be Working on the Case.

Burglars are evidently at work in the city, and it would be good policy on the part of those who have any valuables in their possession to look them up securely at night. On Sunday night Mr. H. O. Fisk was relieved of $65 while he slept. The affair is more or less of a mystery at the present time, and while the matter was reported to the police they are not giving out anything for publication. It appears, however, that when Mr. Fisk retired he had $65 in bills in his trouser's pockets, and when he went to dress the next morning the money had disappeared. The supposition is that the robber climbed up the verandah and into the upstairs window, which was open, and took the money; though how anyone should have known that it was there is a mystery. Mr. Fisk heard no noise in the night, but there seems to be no other reasonable explanation of the affair. The police are working on the case now.

Ald. Ball Thinks That Railway Owns The City

Says Council Gave It To Them Two Years Ago—Mr. J. L. Hughes Objects to Street Railway Switch on Charlotte Street.

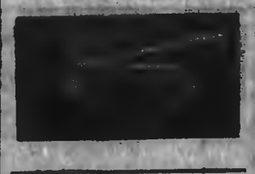
"The Street Railway owns the town; the council gave it to them about two years ago." This is Ald. Ball's opinion, expressed at the Council meeting last night when the switch line being laid by the Radial Railway Company on Charlotte street in connection with its Jackson Park line was under discussion.

Mr. J. L. Hughes appeared before the council to protest against the construction of the switch, claiming that it injured his property on Charlotte street, west of Park. He pointed out that the location of the new switch made it difficult to drive on to his property and he asked that the council use any influence they might possess with the Railway Company to induce them to remove the switch. His opinion was that it would serve the purpose equally well if it was placed east of Park street on Charlotte opposite the small park.

Ald. Hicks explained that he had seen Mr. Larmonth in reference to the matter, at the request of Mr. Hughes, but the former had stated that the present location of the switch was the only one which was satisfactory to the Company. The agreement with the city gave the Company the right to lay their tracks on any street, except Crescent, and unless the Company were willing to place the switch at some other place the Council could do nothing.

The matter was referred to the Board of Works.

Good News For Eye Sight Sufferers



The new system of sight testing which we have taken up is indeed a revelation in optical practice.

No guess work, the curtain of nature is drawn and we "Look into the Eye".

Dr. Montgomery the Toronto Expert who is delivering a course of lectures and demonstrations at our store is doing a wonderful work here in Peterboro'. He has given sight to many who have never known good vision, and relieved eye strain in cases given up by all other opticians here.

Do not let this grand opportunity pass, if you are an Eye Sight Sufferer, come and learn the true condition of your eyes. Free examinations daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. in our new optical dark room.

Street Car "Jag" Rather Expensive

Wm. Foster Had to Shell Out for Creating a Disturbance.

Six dollars and fifty cents was the amount that William Foster was assessed at the police court this morning for creating a disturbance on a George street car. This, added to the cost of his jag, will mean a pretty costly outing. Foster grew so boisterous on a street car last night that when the centre of the town was reached the conductor gave him in charge of officer McGinty. He pleaded guilty at this morning's court.

Social Reception Postponed

Gathering at St. John's Will Not be Held Until Fall.

The social reception which was to have been given by the president of the Ministerial Association and the ladies of St. John's church to the ministers of the city and representative members of the different congregations on Tuesday next, has been postponed until the early autumn. This decision was reached this morning when it was found that a large number of the laymen of the churches would be out of the city and unable to attend, hence the chief object of the reception would be defeated.

The arrangements for this event made at a largely attended meeting of the ladies of St. John's yesterday will hold good on the later date upon which the reception will be held, and which will be announced later.

WEDDING BELLS

QUINLAN—McKEIVER.

At St. Joseph's church, Douro, this morning a pretty wedding took place, when Mr. Andrew Quinlan of Asphodel, was united in marriage to Miss Susan McKeiver, daughter of Mr. George McKeiver of Douro, in the presence of a number of friends of the bride and groom. The ceremony was performed at the nine o'clock mass by Rev. Father Kelly, the bridesmaid being Miss Clara Christie of Asphodel and the groomsman, Mr. Patrick Cavanagh of Otonabee. The bride was dressed in a becoming gown of white lustre, and the bridesmaid was similarly attired. After the ceremony the party drove to the residence of the bride's father, where the usual breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Quinlan will reside in Asphodel.

Irish Potato Weighed 3 Lbs.

Brought From Dublin by Mr. Robt. Shepherd.

Mr. R. H. Shepherd, who returned from the Old Country on Saturday, brought with him a monster potato from Dublin, Ireland, and presented it to Mr. B. J. Brady, Hunter City. The tuber tipped the scales at exactly three pounds, and was easily the biggest ever brought into the Examiner office.

Mr. Brady intends planting it and if the offspring are as lucky as the original and occur as frequently as the Canadian potato, the yield of 1907 in the Brady family will be considerably increased.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY IS MEETING AT CAMPBELLFORD

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, Presbyterial, convenes this morning at Campbellford, in the Presbyterian church there.

Among those who left this morning by the Grand Trunk, were: Miss Roger, Miss Alice Hall, Miss H. Bathgate, Miss E. Martin, Miss Fannie Kemsley, Mrs. J. G. Potter, Mrs. F. Pakenham and Mrs. E. Inman.

The Presbyterial will continue its session till to-morrow afternoon.

Rev. J. Annand, D.D., 25 years a missionary at Santa, New Hebrides, will address the convention.

Mrs. James Crank, of Port Hope, representing the First Central Society, passed through the city yesterday on her way to the convention.

SALVATION ARMY BAND GETS A GRANT OF $150

The Salvation Army Band will this year receive a grant of $150 from the City Council. The report of the Finance Committee, presented at the meeting of the Council last night, recommended a grant of $100.

Ald. Mason, as chairman of the committee, moved the adoption of the report, but an amendment moved by Ald. Duncan, and seconded by Ald. Tovey, that the grant to the band be $150, was carried, and with this amendment the report was adopted.

THE BAPTISTS PROTEST AGAINST NICHOLLS OUTRAGE

A telegram was sent to the Attorney-General from the Peterborough Association of Baptist Churches assembled in Brighton, re the outrage on pastor Nicholls. The following is the reply received by the Moderator, Rev. A. H. Brace:

The Department of Crown Attorney General, Ont.

Toronto, June 21, 1906.

Rev. A. H. Brace.

Dear Sir,—I have your telegram addressed to the Attorney-General, and have written to the Crown Attorney regarding the assault on the Rev. R. H. Nicholls.

Yours truly,
J. R. CARTWRIGHT.

Greeks' Boys Charged With Theft By Their Employer

Interesting Developments Expected To-morrow—Boys Claim That Mehail Pappas Owes Them Wages and That is Why They Left.

There is trouble in the Greek camp in Peterborough to-day. Three of the boys employed by Mehail Pappas at his shoe shine parlour, took French leave of their employer this morning, claiming that Pappas owed them wages. The sequel of the case is that Pappas has sworn out warrants for the arrest of the three boys on a charge of having stolen a quantity of boxes and bottles of potash.

Mikael Gokoleidis, the oldest of the three, claims to have sold the polish to Louis Pourgeordis at the usual retail price. Pappas' story is that he has entered into an agreement with the parents of the boys to supply them with two suits of clothes a year, and their board, while they are twenty-one, while their wages are being sent to their parents in Greece. The two Pourgeordis boys, Louis and George, are nephews of Pappas. Some interesting developments are expected when the case comes up in the police court to-morrow morning.

The Grand Lodge Committees to Meet

Interesting I.O.O.F. Notes Concerning Local Lodges.

The Grand Lodge Committee will meet to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, at 8 o'clock sharp, in the lodge room, when a large amount of business in connection with the coming session of the Grand Lodge will be transacted.

At the regular meeting of Mount Hebron Encampment, No. 66, this evening, the third degree will be conferred on two candidates.

USES NO MACHINES IN SIGHT TESTING

For years the practice of optics has been carried on by guess work. Science has been slow in coming to the relief of eyesight sufferers. Some ten years ago manufacturing optical house put upon the market machines of various kinds, which as they said would reveal the exact eye troubles. Many optimists bought these machines with the hopes that their troubles were over and the machines would take the place of brains. Every year or so a new machine would spring up until finally the "easy ones" found themselves with a room full of divers of the value of old iron.

But no machines are necessary, Dr. Montgomery, the expert, who is at Sanderson & Co's store teaching and practicing his new system of sight testing has discovered a better way, and it does away with all tedious examinations. Old style opticians will ask before it, but the curtain of nature is drawn and the eye is looked into. Many people who have already called to consult this specialist, are loud in their praise of the new way. He conducts free clinic each day from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. All are invited.

Confidence in Dr. Chase.

"My mother has kept Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house as long as I can remember, and we are all well acquainted with their merits. I have used them for kidney and liver disorders and they have always relieved me. Mother, has had Dr. Chase's Receipt Book for twenty years and I tell you it is a good one."—John Millar, South Kallander, Ont.

Government Is Repairing Piers At Young's Point

Some Fishermen Already at the Lakeview House.

Examiner Special.

Young's Point, June 23.—The funeral of the late Mrs. John McIlmoyle, who died on the 15th inst., was held on Sunday the 17th. The deceased was 65 years old and had been in poor health the past year. The remains were conveyed to the Lakefield Cemetery and the funeral was largely attended by friends and relatives.

The Government is repairing the piers above the village, at the entrance of Clear Lake. Mr. Joseph Yelland is overseer and has a number of men at the work.

We are much pleased to hear of one of our village young ladies achieving honour in Rochester, N.Y. Miss Mary Walsh, who has been practicing for a trained nurse, in St. Mary's Hospital in that city, the past three years, passed with honours last week. Miss Welsh had the highest percentage in that institution for which she received the prize of a nurse's set of instruments. We wish her success in future.

The following gentlemen opened the fishing season at the Lake View last week:—Messrs. J. M. Alexander, Major St. Myles, Alderman J. O. McMerrick, Toronto; S. O. O'Brien, J. M. Cashman, Rochester; A. Dunn, Peterborough. The Toronto gentlemen had very good luck with the finny tribe and especially Alderman McMerrick, who landed a 12-pounder lunge on Tuesday.

Two drives of logs passed through here already, one belonging to the McDonald Estate, with Mr. George Long, foreman, and Mr. J. Jackson was in charge of the other for the Dickson Company.

The crops and gardens look splendid in this neighbourhood; but we have had sufficient rain for the present.

Store Opens At McCracken's

Mr. H. Choate Will Attend to the Business This Year.

Mr. A. F. Choate opened up his store at the popular summer resort, McCracken's Landing, Stony Lake today. His son, Mr. Hal. Choate, will look after the business this season and the public who have patronized the place in the past are assured of the best of service during the tourist season of 1906 at the lakes.

A number of improvements to the store are being made which will greatly add to its efficiency in serving the public.

Sunshine Furnace

It is not the price you pay for a furnace that makes it cheap or expensive, but the fuel it afterwards consumes.

A common furnace may cost you $5 or $10 less than a "Sunshine," but if it eats this up the first winter in extra fuel, what do you gain? Nothing, but all the annoyance and extra work that go with a poor furnace.

The "Sunshine" is in use from Halifax to Vancouver, and we have hundreds of testimonials from pleased users.

Mrs. Morrow and Her Pupils Scored Great Triumph

Recital Last Night Was Successful From All Points of View—Various Artists Showed Effects of Careful Training and Their Work Was Most Effective Throughout.

To say that the recital given by Mrs. W. J. Morrow, and her pupils, last night was a triumph, is to employ a hackneyed phrase, which does not wholly express the success of the event. The commodious St. Peter's hall was scarcely large enough to accommodate the audience which, in addition to the music-lovers of Peterborough, included many people from Havelock, Lakefield, Keene and other surrounding places. The programme provided was one that not only pleased the audience, but also exemplified in no small degree the beneficial effects of Mrs. Morrow's system of teaching, as well as the skill of the pupils. The delight of those present was unbounded and every number was enthusiastically applauded. On all sides were heard expressions of appreciation of the excellence of the programme, and at the conclusion Mrs. Morrow received the congratulations of numerous admirers upon the success achieved by her pupils and herself. The assisting artist, Mr. Donald Ross, one of Canada's best known and most popular baritones, also shared in the triumph of the evening.

Mrs. Morrow is deserving of the congratulations of the musical community of the city, upon the showing made by her pupils last night. Her work in developing so many young people will be of great value, not only to themselves, but to their native places. Before several, at least, of those taking part, there seems to be a good future; certainly there were several voices which ought to bring their fortunate owners much fame in the course of time.

To Mrs. Morrow, who has been most untiring in her efforts to develop and nurture the genius of her pupils, much of the credit is due. Several of those contributing to the programme had taken part in a similar event last year, and the improvement manifested was a testimonial that spoke very strongly in favour of the efficiency of Mrs. Morrow's instruction. It would be unfair to particularize in the case where every performer was so successful. The most exacting critic could find little to complain of in the execution of the programme which, while lengthy, was sufficiently varied to be most appealing in its effect upon the audience.

Mrs. Morrow's vocal pupils were most prominent throughout the greater part of the programme being made up of vocal selections.

The first vocal number was "Nymphs and Shepherds," by Purcell, sung by Miss Bertha Curtis. That young lady displayed a soprano of much power and perfectly controlled. Her number was warmly applauded.

Mr. Firth Butler was most successful in his interpretation of "The Minstrel Boy." Mr. Butler has only been under Mrs. Morrow's instruction for three months, during which time he has made astonishing progress. He possesses a strong baritone, which was heard to good effect. Miss Nora Fitzgerald's sweet soprano was effectively displayed in Moore's exquisite song, "Believe me, if all those endearing young charms." The number was sung with feeling and expression, that made a very favourable impression on the audience. Arditi's "Enchantress," with its pretty trills, was a vehicle upon which Miss Kathleen Wilson was able to show the remarkable flexible qualities of her rich voice. She sang with an expression and finish which showed that she had been a diligent pupil.

Mr. Vernon Morphet was heard with great pleasure in "The Wolf," by Shield, a selection in which his powerful young voice was effectively displayed.

The two contraltos, Miss Molly Young, and Miss Lilian Bell, of Keene, both achieved a triumph. Miss Young sang Moore's never-to-be-forgotten "The Harp that once Through Tara's Hall," with feeling, and in beautiful voice. Miss Bell's number was Rossini's Rondo, "La Cenerentola." Miss Bell is the fortunate possessor of a magnificent contralto voice, which was effective in the rendition of this selection.

Miss Bernadette Hackett was another young lady whose efforts were crowned with success. Miss Hackett was called upon to take the place of Mrs. Callender, who was to have sung "With Verdure Clad," from "The Creation." She sang Moore's "As Sorrows over her Glad Days," shaded most sympathetically, and in excellent voice.

Miss Maud McKenna, a talented young lady from Havelock, carried off many honours. She sang Arditi's Italian song, "L'Estasi," in a most brilliant manner. Her rich soprano voice was powerful and clear as a bell and she seemed equally at home in the higher and lower registers. Perfect manipulation of her voice and perfect articulation were additional features that made her number one of the most enjoyable of the evening, and the enthusiastic applause from the delighted audience was indeed thoroughly merited. Miss Levina Halliday, while not a stranger to Peterborough audience, surpassed even her warmest admirers by her magnificent singing last night. In the jewel song from Faust her splendid voice was used to the highest possible advantage.

Congratulations must be offered to Mr. John King, whose work last night was a magnificent tribute to the careful instructions he has received from Mrs. Morrow. He has a most powerful baritone voice, which seems destined to make him famous. In his numbers last night he showed that he had gained complete control of his voice, and his selections were sung with spirit and expression. In Schumann's stirring song, "The Two Grenadiers," the resonant qualities of his voice were admirably portrayed, while at the same time he sang with a verve that made the number most inspiring.

Mr. King was heard with Miss Bernadette Hackett in Pinsuti's "Springtime," the two splendid voices blending most harmoniously. Another very effective and splendidly rendered duet was "The Bandero," by Beamont, sung by Miss Levina Halliday and Miss Lillian Bell. The soprano and contralto voices were heard to great advantage in this most tuneful song. The vocal quartette, "Invitation to the Dance," by Misses Wilson, McKenna, Young and Bell, was a number that was thoroughly enjoyed and showed that these young ladies were equally at home in ensemble work. The concluding selection, the chorus, "Serenade," was also much appreciated. Mr. King took the baritone solo splendidly, and the singing of the lady chorus was decidedly effective.

The instrumental numbers were a feature of the programme that is worthy of the highest praise, and demonstrated Mrs. Morrow's skill as a teacher of the pianoforte as well as of the voice. The programme opened with Gottschalk's grand concert waltz "Radina," which was brilliantly played by Mrs. Morrow and her pupil, Miss Myrtle Kline, of Lakefield. The latter is a musician of no mean ability, and her work last night was a proof that she has benefited greatly by the instructions she has received from Mrs. Morrow. The number was greatly enjoyed, and another duet for two pianos, Goria's "Marche Triomphale," by the same artists, was another splendid achievement. Miss Kline played Chopin's "Polonaise" in A Major Op. 40, in a manner that showed that she has attained almost perfect mastery of technique and remarkable brilliancy of execution. Miss Anna Lavasseur, a talented little lady of nine summers, was an astonishing example of the success attained by following Mrs. Morrow's system of teaching. She played splendidly Gabriel Maries "La Cinquantaine." An encore was demanded by the delighted audience.

Mr. Ross, the assistant artist, is too well known in Peterborough to need any lengthy reference to his work. It is sufficient to say that he has never appeared here in better form than he did last night. His splendid rich, resonant baritone always perfectly under control, is most pleasing in its effect, and last night he had to respond to several encores. His first number was Lohr's "In the Heather, My Lads," a spirited Scotch song that lost none of its effectiveness through the manner in which it was sung by Mr. Ross. As an encore, "Mavourneen" was sung with exquisite expression. Perhaps his finest number was his second, the beautiful "Flow, Gently, Sweet Afton." His splendid voice "Sweet Afton." His splendid force and clear articulation made this selection one that appealed to the sensibilities of the audience. Mr. Ross also sang Sarjeant's "Blow, Blow, Thou Winter Wind," with splendid effect.

Mrs. Morrow was the accompanist of the evening, and in that role was not only of great assistance to the vocalists, but pleased the audience as well with her beautiful playing. She is to be congratulated on her work as accompanist, as well as for the successful showing made by her pupils.

At the conclusion of the programme Hon. J. R. Stratton expressed the thanks of the audience to Mrs. Morrow and those taking part. He referred to the great assistance Mrs. Morrow has been to the music-loving people of Peterborough, not only in her college of music, but also in volunteering assistance in entertainments throughout the city. Mr. Stratton announced that Mrs. Morrow was to leave shortly for Europe, where she would spend three months in earnest study.

The affair was under the patronage of His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, Hon. and Mrs. J. R. Stratton, T. G. Bradburn, Esq., M.P.P., Miss Olive K. Bradburn, and R. R. Hall, Esq., M.P.

BLOOD POISON

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted; so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, blotches of the skin, eruptions or blotches, sores in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, bordered stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old fogy" treatment—beware of mineral poisons—beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Rant Boods will protect you. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. CURES GUARANTEED OR NO PAY. 25 Years in Detroit. 250,000 Cured.

500,000 Babies Are Sacrificed

State Official Declares Adulterated Foods an Appalling Menace.

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the National Association of State Dairy and Food Departments, the secretary of a state board made the assertion, and produced figures to prove it, that the death of nearly half a million little children in America last year was due to poisons administered in impure foods.

Welcome, indeed, is a food that is known to be pure and wholesome, rich in nutrition and good to eat—so good that no other food can take its place. We refer to Malta-Vita, that delicious crisp, whole-wheat food. Among all the cereal foods we believe Malta-Vita is the only food that is simply and wholly pure grain product and nothing else, except a little salt. It is free from any foreign sweetening agent or other adulterant, and is made in absolute cleanliness.

A perfect breakfast is impossible without Malta-Vita, and it's just as good three times a day. Containing every food element of the best white wheat and pure barley malt extract, it is intensely vitalizing and easily digested. Let your children have all the Malta-Vita they want and you need not fear for their health. Try some yourself with cream or fruit. You never tasted anything quite so good. All grocers, now 10 cents.

With The Warriors At The Cobourg Camp

Sunday In Camp--Monster Church Parade--Drum Head Service--Coming Social Military Function--Vet. Capt. Poole on Standing Veterinary Board---Creditable Standing of Peterborough Corps.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Cobourg Camp, June 25. — The church parade held yesterday attracted by far the largest crowd of any that has yet visited the camp. All the officers and men of the different brigades, with the exception of those men who were on duty, attended divine service. The Protestants assembled at a drum head service, at which the various regimental chaplains spoke, while the Roman Catholics marched to church in a body, a special mass being provided for them.

The picture presented was indeed an impressive one, and all the troops assembled in one large mass was a sight not soon to be forgotten. It was a gay one in a way, and yet one of great solemnity in which the spirit of the occasion was taken into consideration.

The discipline of the troops was remarkably good, and they formed up for service and marched to their quarters at the conclusion with the precision and ease of regulars.

The staff officers, attired in military frock dress, stood near the chaplains, while the officers and men of the regiments surrounded in the form of a square the open air pulpit. The Church of England form of service was of course adopted, the worshippers being provided with booklets containing the hymns and service. The 45th Regimental band of Cobourg, played the accompaniments for the hymns, and their music was sweet and low and of true "pipe organ" quality. Their splendid playing was much appreciated by those participating in the service, as well as enjoyed by the civilians present.

At the conclusion of this sacred function the regiments were paraded to their camp quarters, each regimental band playing. The peculiar contour of the grounds made it necessary for them to pursue a somewhat snake-like course and the procession, with its bright uniforms of different colours, was picturesque and attractive beyond description.

The service was a short one, lasting less than three-quarters of an hour.

The visitors to the grounds for the occasion were very numerous, and particularly those who came in conveyances, could be noticed before the service commenced, driving to different parts of the field, near the troops in order to view the interesting military-religious event. The equipages were of all sorts and kinds, and many were very noticeable, accoutred, as they were by handsomely attired men and women and drawn by spirited steeds.

The regimental ball to be given by the officer commanding and officers of the tenth brigade, C.F.A., at the Arlington Hotel, through the kindness of the proprietor, Mr. Albertins, promises to be a social event of much interest, both from a military and social standpoint. Five hundred invitations have been issued, and the officers commanding the brigades and regiments as well as many Cobourg people and visitors, being honoured. Music will be furnished by an excellent orchestra. The function will be a very brilliant one and will doubtless go down in Cobourg's annals of social events as one of the most important and successful ever held in the town. The committee in charge is composed of the officers of the 10th Brigade, and is as follows:—

Staff Officers 10th Brigade—Lieut.-Colonel N. F. MacNachtan, commanding; Captain W. C. Ashermam, Captain H. C. S. Elliott, Captain J. W. Fisher.

14th Battery.—Major A. A. Mulholland, Captain E. A. MacNachtan, Lieut. A. B. Colville, Lieut. Loucks.

24th Battery.—Major T. W. H. Yoops, Capt. Hazen Ritchie, Lieut. G. Hall, Lieut. R. Leary.

Heard on the Lines.

The mere fact that the 10th Brigade is encamped directly in the rear of the asylum is no indication of the sanity of its members.

Veterinary Capt. Poole has the honour to have been appointed on the standing veterinary board. There are a large number of veterinary surgeons on the grounds, and the appointment is therefore a distinctive recognition of Vet. Capt. Poole's ability.

It is said a green Irishman who has only been in Canada a very short time, strenuously objected to the blacksmith in one of the cavalry regiments puffing "red-hot irons" to the horse's feet. But the veracity of this anecdote is not vouched for by the war correspondent.

Mr. A. J. Tovey, better known in Peterborough as Bert, was a very welcome visitor among the boys of the 36th Battery and 3rd Dragoons. He is managing Thompson's drug store in Cobourg, and is well satisfied with life and business in the Lakeside town.

A cavalry officer, who has seen much service, informed the writer that the 14th Field Battery was this year exceedingly well horsed, and better, generally, than it has been in any previous year in his opinion it is the best horse regiment in the camp.

Instructor Corporal C. P. Fee, of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, is responsible in no small degree for the excellence of the 24th Battery, which, although practically new, has made a decided impression in camp. He said the men under his instruction were doing exceedingly well and that the battery was in good shape.

Seven stalwart soldiers of the King, who slept in a little hut the other morning, appeared before the officer commanding, charged with being followers of Rip Van Winkle. The colonel regarded the offence as a very serious one and threatened to deduct one day's efficiency pay, 10 cents, from the malefactors' salaries should they ever again be guilty of such a heinous outrage. The guilty ones left the tent with a crawling dread and held their heads as though the sun troubled their eyes.

The Y.M.C.A. held the following services in camp on Sunday last:—

11 a.m.—Address, Chaplain Craig.

3 p.m.—Address, "What Shall My Life Work Be?" Mr. G. A. Lowes.

8 p.m.—Great military mass meeting.

Boys Swimming In Park Without Proper Garb

Citizen Calls Attention to Conditions That Should be Remedied at Once—Ladies Will Soon Not be Able to go to Jackson Park at All.

A well-known citizen has called the attention of the Examiner, to the conditions existing at Jackson Park, which he says should be remedied at once. He states that on Sunday afternoon, when he, in company with two ladies, was taking a stroll in the eastern part of the park, they were confronted with a dozen or so perfectly nude young men who were swimming in the artificial lake. As soon as they saw the party approaching, the boys, or rather men, out of the water in full view of the ladies, and rushed into the woods. Such a state of affairs should not be allowed to exist in the beautiful park, or in any other part of the city for that matter. Ladies will have to stay away from the park altogether if boys are to be allowed to swim in the lake without proper bathing suits.

DIED FROM A KICK FROM FARM HORSE

The three-year-old son of Mr. Joseph Collins, of Otonabee, died Sunday night, from injuries received on Thursday last, and was buried this morning at the Donro Church. It appears that the little lad was playing around a horse on his father's farm. The animal was usually quiet, but on this occasion it was apparently cross, and when the little lad came behind it kicked him on the forehead, crushing the skull and inflicting such serious injuries that he died on Sunday night.

AN EARLY MAIL TRAIN FROM TORONTO EAST

Information from a private source in Toronto is to the effect that arrangements are in progress by which the Toronto morning papers will have that city considerably earlier in the morning than at present. For some time representations have been made from this city to the effect that a mail should leave Toronto for the east earlier than 9 o'clock, the present time of leaving of the first train east on the C.P.R. It will be welcome news, therefore, to learn that the proprietors of the morning papers are about to succeed in their efforts to secure an early train carrying papers.

Gasoline Ignited And Launch Was In Danger

Accident Was Caused by Gasoline Leaking--Launch Was Towed Ashore and Fire Extinguished by Means of Sand.

Mr. Rosque Gordon's gasoline launch was yesterday in extreme danger of being destroyed by fire and its occupants were placed in a by no means pleasant position. The trouble was caused by leaking gasoline which was accidentally ignited, and the flames threatened to destroy the little craft in which were its owner, Mr. Gordon, and Mr. R. Wilson, Mr. Bert Lorimer, of the Canadian Machine Telephone Company, was near the scene in his launch, and came to the rescue, towing the burning craft to shore, where the fire was extinguished by means of sand. The damage, it is said, will be considerable.

Jubilee Lodge 'Prentice Boys Met

Two Candidates Were Initiated at Last Night's Meeting.

Jubilee Lodge, No. 7, 'Prentice Boys, met last evening in the Orange Hall. There was a fair attendance of members. Bro. George McDonald, W. M., presided. Two candidates were initiated and five propositions were received for membership. It was decided to join with the district Orangemen in celebrating the coming 12th of July in the town of Lindsay; also to attend divine service on Sunday, July 8th, in the morning at Park street street church and in the evening at St. Andrew's church.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Meintz & Co.)

New York, June 26.—Liquidation was very much in evidence in the stock market again this morning. Although the London prices were slightly higher, this market opened lower, and on large transactions touched a new low level on this break. The chief weakness was in Copper, U. P., Reading, Smelters, St. Paul and the Steels.

After the first half hour a good rally took place, but this was followed about 11.30 by another drive at values which carried them back again. Supporting orders were in evidence this time, and when the stocks started to cover, the market rallied sharply again. Penna. was well bought, as were S. P. and C. P. R.

The afternoon market continued firm, but quiet. Smelters was strong, rallying over three points, while Copper and the Steels acted much better. A general round-up of the short interest in the late trading caused prices to advance to the best of the day, and the close was strong.

BLACK SPANIEL SCATTERED FEATHERS

Although the wholesale poisoning of dogs has been going on in the city, yet there are a few of the vicious representatives of the canine family left.

Yesterday evening, about 6 o'clock—in broad daylight—a black spaniel belonging to a resident on McDonel street, cast consternation in the poultry yard of Mr. Wilson, corner of Bethune and London streets, and left dead in the yard four large thoroughbred spring chickens. Its depredations would have continued had not the owners of the fowl driven off the offender before further destruction was caused.

The dog was followed to the owner's home, and if possible, the latter will be made responsible for the damage.

THE GOVERNMENT AND LOCAL OPTION.

In no other matter has the Whitney Government so brilliantly showed its inefficiency and disregard of pre-office pledges, as in its dealings with the license law administration and measures intended to diminish the evils arising from the abuse of the liquor traffic. The wishes of the people—a large majority—in regard to repressive measures, have been deliberately ignored and defeated. The matter of administration has been made the subject of the spoils system, in a manner familiar to all. Whatever the usefulness of local option, as a measure of temperance reform the people who favour it—the people who vote for it—are entitled to such conditions as will insure the maximum of possible benefit, from its most effective application. Whether or not local option is the longed-for panacea for the evils of intemperance, it is something that a large number of the people believe in. Before the last session, as the conditions then stood, they had a fair chance of having their wishes in regard to its adoption fairly carried out. The Whitney Government's legislation of last session, requiring a practically impossible majority, renders its adoption by popular vote, in other municipalities, exceedingly difficult. The courts decided the other day to quash a local option bylaw, passed by the township of Pickering. The bylaw was nullified on the ground of a mere technicality, not because the majority of the people had not been in favour of it. The point in this connection is, that under the new law the enactment of a similar bylaw will be next to impossible. The effectiveness or wisdom of local option is not in question. A large number of persons believe in it, and desire it. The wishes of the people should be supreme, and the aim of the Government consists in having passed legislation depriving the people of the privilege they previously enjoyed of trying the experiment of local option, without a handicap, that in nine cases out of ten, cannot be overcome. It is worth while referring to this to emphasize the disappointment and punishment of many temperance people. The latter in large number, voted against the Ross Government, on the ostensible grounds of having an improvement made in the temperance situation. In this, of course, they are not only disappointed, but punished, for turning down a Government which had done all in its power to promote the interest of temperance and temperance reform. Their situation illustrates the fact that there is a great deal of insincerity on the part of professed temperance people. Many temperance people, perhaps, voted honestly against the Ross Government, on temperance grounds, and many, no doubt, professing to act in the interests of temperance, voted against the Ross Government on political grounds. They were willing to sacrifice the cause of temperance for political advantage.

As a matter of fact, the temperance people, as a body, are to blame for the conditions which now prevail—they are the outcome of preferring politics to principles. They voted for a Government overtly opposed to prohibition, either in the form of a general law, or local option. They got what they wanted—they are getting what they practically bargained for.

SUNDAY MEETING AT THE Y.M.C.A.

The men's meeting held by the Evangelistic Band on Sunday afternoon was attended by 46 young men.

The meeting was a very successful one, addresses being given by Messrs. Harding, Shea, Hunt and Thornton.

The Strangers' Fellowship tea was held afterwards and a large number partook of the hospitality of the ladies of All Saints' Church, who supplied an excellent supper.

Is The Bell Company Bluffing The Council?

The Mayor is of the Opinion That This is the Meaning of a Letter Read at Meeting Last Night—States its Intention of Proceeding With Underground Work Inside of Ten Days.

Is the Bell Telephone Company working a bluff on the City Council? The Mayor thinks it is, but the letter which the Company has sent to the Council looks like business. It is signed by the local manager, Mr. F. W. Dean, and is as follows:—

With reference to our letter of April 28th, we beg to inform you that not having received notice of any action having been taken, we will proceed with the work of laying conduits within ten days on George street between Brook and Chertbrooke and we would be pleased if you would direct the officer to locate, direct and supervise the work.

The letter is dated June 22nd, so that, according to the statement made, by July 2nd, a start will be made by the Company to place the wires underground. The letter was read at the Council meeting last night, and the members declined to accede to the request contained in the letter, the position they took being that to send a City official to lay out the work would be an acknowledgment of the Council's willingness to have the work proceeded with. After some discussion, Ald. Adams moved, seconded by Ald. Hicks, that the City Solicitor be instructed to reply to the letter, protesting against the proposed action of the Company, until the latter had signed an agreement satisfactory to the Council. The motion was carried.

Find New Way To Cure Consumption

Dr. Frederick Delivered an Address on the "Opsonic" Process at Albany, N. Y.—Some Remarkable Cures Result From the Strengthening of Patient's Blood—White Corpuscles are Discovered to Carry Away Micro-organisms.

Dr. Frederick, of this city is an exponent of the new method of curing consumption, known as the "Opsonic" system, and recently, on invitation delivered an address before the Beaver Medical Research Club, of Albany, N.Y., on the subject. A London, Eng., despatch has the following in reference to this new method, which will no doubt prove interesting reading. It is as follows:—

The new "opsonic" method adopted in several London hospitals, of carrying on the war against consumption, was fully described yesterday to a newspaper representative by Mr. E.W. Morris, the secretary of the London Hospital. The treatment rests on the fact that it is now possible, by testing the patient's blood, to discover his exact power of resisting the disease, and to strengthen that power if it is below the normal.

"To put the matter as much as possible in non-technical language," said Mr. Morris, "if you look at a drop of blood through a microscope, you will see a lot of red corpuscles, and perhaps one in 500 of larger white corpuscles. Thirty years or so ago it was a great puzzle as to what was the exact duty of these white corpuscles.

"Experiment has shown that if a sterilised tubercle culture is added to a drop of fresh blood, and the whole placed in an incubator at the temperature of the body for a quarter of an hour, and then a microscopic examination made, the tubercle micro-organisms will have been collected in these white corpuscles, by which they are carried away.

'But this collection of the micro-organisms can only take place after they have been acted on by what is called the 'opsonin,' existing in the serum of the blood, which is the real protective agency. If this protective power is weak, the number of the micro-organisms captured, as it were, by the white corpuscles will be much smaller than in the case of a normally healthy person.

"What is needed, then, is some method of increasing the patient's power of resistance where it is weak, and this is found by injecting tubercle vaccine in a sterilised form. The immediate effect of such an injection is always first to lower slightly the power of resistance, but the decline is quickly followed by an increase, and it has been found quite possible by a series of injections to bring the patient's power of resistance up to the ordinary normal level."

"With the result that the patient has been cured?"

"Some remarkable cures have been obtained, and this particularly in cases of lupus. Lupus is caused by the same microbe as consumption. We have had cases in the hospital where the Finsen light has produced no effect at all. After endless sittings the patient's condition has been virtually unchanged, or every improvement has been followed by a relapse. When the blood of these patients has been tested it has always been found that their power of resistance to the disease has been far below the normal, while in other cases successfully cured, it has been nearly or quite that of the average healthy person. Many of the bad cases have by means of regular injections had their protective power raised, and the light treatment has then been attended with complete success."

"And do you think this treatment will be equally applicable to phthisis and other forms of consumption?"

"I believe it will be helpful. Of course, if a man has already a big cavity in his lung it will not give him a new lung; the treatment then will only be helpful in controlling the disease. But if the disease is stamped out it will be by testing the blood in suspicious cases—cases where there may be hereditary tendencies—before there is any actual attack of the disease. If the resistant power is found to be low it can then be raised to the normal level. At present it has been found that an injection once a month will keep up this normal level; and in this direction we must look forward to advance. Better methods will no doubt be discovered."

A POSSIBILITY

That Became a Fact and Pleased Many People.

A. R. Lewis, M. D., in a lengthy article in the columns of the American Journal of Health, says concerning hair: "It's deterioration is a constant source of worriment to humanity, consequently bald people are readily deceived by "fake" hair restoratives. The wish that a hair preparation will "fill the bill" is father to the fancy that it is likely to do so. A rare case in point is that of Newbro's Herpicide, which actually does "fill the bill." It destroys the parasite that attacks the hair root, and prevents dandruff, falling hair and baldness." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Company, Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, special agents.

Council Grants Salary Increase

City Treasurer Will be Paid $850 From July 1st.

A bylaw introduced by the chairman of the Finance Committee last night, providing for an increase of salary for the City Treasurer, aroused some discussion, though none of the members of the Council objected to proposed increase in salary for official whom all agreed was most competent. The discussion turned more on the system employed by the City in dividing up the work, and allowing the Treasurer of the City to also act in the capacity of Treasurer for the Water Commissioners. Some of the members were of the opinion that the City Council should pay its officials and have them perform only work for the Council, while others held the view that the present system was the better. Ald. Hicks thought that if the business was being conducted satisfactorily at present, it was a good thing to allow the system to remain in force.

The bylaw providing for the increase in salary from $700 to $850 was passed unanimously. Ald. Mason, to correct a wrong impression which had gone abroad, stated that the Treasurer had not asked for any increase in salary, but the speaker thought that the official was not being paid enough.

There were about 50 in the party, and no doubt a delightful outing will be enjoyed. The Board took this means of expressing their appreciation of the services of the choir.

Young Norwood Man Passes Away

Late Richard Bristow Was a Favourite in His Native Town.

Examiner Special.

Norwood, June 26.—The death occurred on Sunday evening about 11 o'clock, of Richard Franklin, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Bristow Moffat. Deceased has been in poor health for some time past, but not until the last three weeks has he been confined to the house. His death came as a shock to nearly every person, as it was not known he was so low. Mr. Moffat was in his 20th year, and will be very much missed by his many companions with whom he was a general favourite. He leaves to mourn his loss besides his parents, five sisters, Mrs. Roy Pickens, of Cuba, Mrs. Chas. Ballard and Miss Lillie, of Fort Stewart, Ont.; Miss Gertrude, of Dunnville, and Evelyn, who resides at home. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 from his father's residence, Colborne street, and proceed to the Norwood Cemetery.

Endless Annoyance and Misery.

"As a man of seventy years I am grateful to God and to Dr. Chase's Ointment for a cure of piles which has caused me endless annoyance and much misery. The itching and burning was almost beyond endurance, but Dr. Chase's Ointment brought quick relief, and I believe that the cure is lasting." — Rev. Wm. Thomas, Brownsville, Ont.

Bowlers Get Grant To Entertain Visitors

City Council Will Contribute $150 Towards Entertainment of the Old Country Bowlers in August—Deputation Waited on Council Last Night—Ald. Ball Objected.

The Peterborough Bowling Club Council. He moved that the matter intends to give the Old Country be referred to the Finance Committee. Ald. Hicks thought that the Committee should be given authority to deal with it without referring it to the council again.

After some discussion, Ald. Johnston suggested that the question of the grant be dealt with by the Council at that meeting, and Ald. Wilson moved that the council grant $150. The motion was seconded by Ald. Elliott. Ald Ball, objected, and moved that no grant be made. This was seconded by Ald. Duncan. Ald. Wilson's motion, with an addition to the effect that the Chairman of the Finance Committee be appointed to act on the Reception Committee in conjunction with the bowlers, was carried, Ald. Duncan and Ball alone opposing it.

Bowlers the time of their lives when they visit this city, about August 1st. A deputation representing the Club and comprising Messrs. D. H. Moore, President; G. H. Giroux, Secretary; T. F. Matthews, J. E. A. Fitzgerald, R. M. Waddell, G. K. Martin, D. Bellegham and others, waited on the Council last night to ask for a grant to assist them in entertaining their visitors. The council decided to spend $150 for this purpose.

Mr. D. H. Moore, President of the Club, submitted the case for the Bowlers and referred to the importance of the visit of the Old Country to the city. The local club had experienced considerable difficulty in securing these bowlers to visit this city. They represent the best class of gentlemen in the Old Country, and it was very desirable to have them to come to Peterborough if possible. Believing in the public spirited sentiments of the council the local Club agreed to the conditions imposed by the Central Committee, directing the visit of the bowlers. The Club intends to give them a banquet in the evening, at their own expense, and would also incur other expenses.

Mr. Moore suggested that the interval between after breakfast and 3 o'clock, (the hour at which the game is advertised to commence,) should be taken advantage of by the Council and a grant given by the Council to help entertain them. The local bowlers thought that the visitors should be taken over the lift lock. He referred to the fact that other municipalities had made grants to entertain the bowlers.

Mr. T. F. Matthews thought that the City could not spend their money to better advantage to advertise the city, and referred to the visit of the Scottish curlers, which, he said, had resulted most satisfactorily to the city, and after their return to the old land in the book published by the Chaplain, Peterborough was referred to in most favourable terms.

Ald. Adams stated that the matter was one which deserved the serious consideration of the

More Peterboro' Soldier Boys Off To Cobourg Camp

Two Composite Companies Left This Morning.

The G.T.R. station was the scene of a lively time early this morning before the two companies from the 57th Regiment left for Cobourg to join the Composite Brigade, on the 7.35 special train.

Three coaches carried the military men and one box car their accoutrements. All were in the happiest of moods with the anticipation of the pleasant four days' outing at Cobourg Camp. Capt. Bennet is the Adjutant for the two companies, and the company commanders, Capt. McWilliams and Capt. McLean. They were due to reach Cobourg at 9.15 and would immediately go into camp, forming part of the Composite Regiment under the command of Lt.-Col. Helliwell, of the 15th Regiment, Belleville. The programme for the three days is as follows:—

Wednesday—Brigade Drill.
Thursday—Sham Battle.

On Friday the camp will break up, and on Friday night the men will return home and prepare for the Brantford trip.

Regulations For The Brantford Trip July 1st

Commanding Officer of the 57th Regiment Issues Orders Governing Regiment During Its Annual Outing—Will Leave Here at 10 O'clock Saturday Night—The Programme for the Visit.

The following orders in connection with the Brantford trip have been issued by Lieut.-Col. Miller:—

Headquarters,
Peterborough,
June 26th, 1906.

Orders by Lieut.-Col. J. W. Miller, Commanding 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers.

No. 1.—The regiment, with both bands, one stretcher-bearer section, will parade, in drill order, with helmets and ball bags, at the armouries at 8.30 p. m., on Saturday, June 30th, 1906, and thence march to the C. P. R. station where they will take special train at 10.00 p. m., for Brantford, there to go into camp for two days—July 1st and 2nd.

Passengers.

No. 2.—After entraining, officers commanding will remain with their respective companies for 15 minutes and rejoin them 15 minutes before arriving in Brantford.

No passenger will be allowed to remain on the special train except regularly enlisted members of the 57th regiment in full uniform, or such as have the proper pass signed by the adjutant.

Duty Roster.

No. 3.—(a) Orderly officers are detailed as follows:—

1.—Captain Clegg, Lieut. Higgins.
2.—Captain Bennett, Lieut. Comstock
3.—Captain Hounsell, Lieut. Gemmell.
4.—Captain Cluxton, Lieut. Wallace.
5—Captain McWilliams, Lieut. Best.

(b) Captain McLean is detailed as Transport Officer.

(c) The roster of duties for non-commissioned officers and men will be supplied by the Sergt.-Major.

(d) The tour of duty will extend from 9.00 p. m. to 9.00 a. m. and from 9.00 a. m. to 9.00 p. m.

Orderly Officers,

No. 4.—It will be the special duty of the orderly officers to have control of men while in camp. They will inspect, march-off, and dismiss all guards and other duties, attend all parades, see that the meals are good and according to contract, and assist in carrying out the Daily Routine of the Camp.

Advance and Other Parties,

No. 5.—(a) An "Advance Party", consisting of such men as the Quarter-Master will require, will proceed to Brantford on Thursday, June 28th, 1906, to make the necessary camp and other arrangements for the reception of the regiment.

(b) A "Baggage Party", consisting of one man from each company, from the brass band, from the bugle band, and from the stretcher bearer section, will report to Captain McLean at the drill hall at 6.30 p. m., sharp, on Saturday, the 30th, inst.

(c) A party from each company and from the brass band, consisting of a sergeant and four men, and a party from the bugle band and from the stretcher-bearer section, consisting of a corporal and two men, will be detailed to report at the Quarter-Master's stores on the camp ground at Brantford immediately after arrival there, to draw the necessary blankets, rugs, utensils, etc.

Baggage.

No. 6.—(a) Men will provide themselves with towels, brushes, soap, and other necessaries for toilet and for cleaning clothing and accoutrements. Rifle oil may be procured from regimental stores.

(b) Company kit boxes and all other baggage must be in the Drill Hall and ready for shipment not later than 6.00 p. m. on Saturday, June 30th, 1906.

Dress.

No. 7.—All ranks must appear at all parades and when "walking out" tidy and clean in person and attire and in proper dress. Faces must be shaven, hair properly cut, buckles, buttons and brasses thoroughly polished, and belts and clothing kept neat and clean. All will wear black leather boots and see that the same are kept cleaned and well shined.

Meals.

No. 8.—(a) Arrangements will be made with the hotels in Brantford to supply meals. The duty bugler will call a mess parade 15 minutes before each meal hour, when the colour-sergeants will parade their respective companies at the Quarter-Master's tent, where each will receive from the officer commanding the company, a requisition, countersigned by the Quarter-Master, for meals for the company.

Souvenir Views of Peterborough.

Unless you have been through the Peterborough Bookstore recently you can form no right idea of the variety, beauty and attractiveness of the many new souvenier views of Peterborough in stock. The scenes are all well taken and are depicted in artistic detail. We show them in medallion form, and on wood, leather, china, etc., plain and coloured effects, at a wide range of moderate prices. Kidney Disease On The Increase

BUT PREVENTION AND CURE ARE READILY OBTAINED BY THE USE OF

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Recent reports of the New York Board of Health prove that the mortality from kidney disease is greatly on the increase.

Bright's disease as well as the other dreadfully painful forms of kidney disease can usually be prevented and cured by giving some attention to the diet and to the activity of the liver and kidneys.

Excesses in eating and the use of alcoholic drinks must be avoided, and the filtering organs can best be kept in good working order by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The derangements which lead to Bright's disease usually have their beginning in a torpid liver and there is suffering from headaches, biliousness and indigestion before the kidneys fail and such symptoms appear as backache, scanty, highly coloured urine, painful, scalding urination, deposit in urine, etc.

Mr. James McGuire, blacksmith, Mount Forest, Ont., states:—"In my work as blacksmith there is probably more straining and exposure to sudden changes of temperature than in any other trade. This, no doubt, accounts for so many blacksmiths' suffering with headache and kidney disease.

"I was troubled a great deal with my kidneys and the bending over my work so much caused great suffering from backache. I found Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills the best treatment I could secure for this trouble. They act directly and promptly and I would not think of using any other medicine."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills succeed where ordinary kidney medicines fail, because of their direct and combined action on the liver and kidneys. This has been proven in thousands of cases of serious and complicated diseases of the kidneys. One pill a dose. 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Red Rose Tea Uniformity

A TEA that is good to-day and poor to-morrow is unreliable.

Have you ever noticed variations in the quality of the tea you use? One package good, the next bitter, herby, perhaps weak and insipid.

A lack of expert knowledge by the tasters and blenders of that tea produced that result. There was a failure at a vital point, an ignorance of combining qualities in teas, poor judgment in the blending of that maker's teas, a weakness which invariably gives just such results as your poor tea.

Every chest of Red Rose Tea is tested at the gardens, again by the Eastern Red Rose shippers, then at the Red Rose warehouse upon its arrival before blending; after that an experimental blend is tested, and the final or actual blend is also tested before being packed.

That is why that "rich fruity flavor" is always present in Red Rose Tea.

Why Red Rose Tea is always uniform, why

Red Rose Tea is good Tea

Harold Armstrong Going To Capital?

Report Says Ottawa Hockey Team Wants Him for Next Season—Some Early Hockey Talk.

Smith's Falls hockey team will in all probability be minus the services of Harold Armstrong next season. Already, with hockey weather five months off, Ottawa is said to be looking after this clever player. The Montreal Gazette had the following special despatch from Ottawa, yesterday:—

Rather unseasonable, but nevertheless interesting is a rumor in sporting circles that the Ottawa Hockey Club is already after men to strengthen next winter's Stanley Cup chasers, and with this object in view has secured Armstrong, of Smith's Falls, who made such a favourable impression last winter, when the Falls came after the championship. It is said that a good position has been secured for Armstrong here, and that he will be used at cover point.

HAROLD ARMSTRONG,
The Clever Hockey Player Who May be With the Ottawas Next Season.

Charlotte Street Won From St. Paul's Team

Score at End of First Half of Game Was 5-3.

Charlotte Street and St. Paul's played one of the best Guild League games of the season last night, the champions winning out by 5-3. The biggest crowd of the year saw the contest and excitement was at fever height throughout. It was a pitchers' battle between Roddy and Swanston and there was not much to choose between the two. Both struck out four men and allowed but four scattered hits. The fielding was comparatively clean although the errors made were costly. Two pretty running catches by McDonald in centre field were features.

Charlotte Street scored in the first on a charity to Crowe and an error.

In the second St. Paul's netted three. Simpson was hit, Dunsford singled and Boyd reached first safely. Roddy threw high to third to catch Simpson and the three runners scored. The champions got another in this inning on hits by Ryan and Roddy. In the third an error and a charity resulted in two more for Charlotte Street, and in the last another run was hung up for the Methodists on Roddy's single and an error.

Fred. Whitcroft was a satisfactory official although some of his decisions were not liked by some of the most ardent supporters of the teams.

The line-up:—

Charlotte Street.—Lang, c.; McWilliams, s. s.; Crowe, s. f.; Squires, 1 b.; Ryan, l. f.; Dusty, r. f.; Pilling, 3 b.; Roddy, p.; Heaslip, 1 b.

St. Paul's.—McDonald, c. f.; Green, s. s.; Gillespie, c.; Fitzpatrick, 3 b.; Simpson, l. f.; Dunsford, 1 b.; Swanston, p.; Boyd, 2 b.; Rosenburg, r. f.

BASEBALL

In a four innings game last night the Wellingtons defeated the Senior Lilies by a score of five runs to one. The Wellingtons batted out Dunsford with ease, while Hayes who pitched for the Wellingtons struck out many. In nine innings the Wellingtons won from the Lilies by a score of seven runs to five.

The line-up was as follows:—

Wellingtons.—J. Patterson, c.; C. Hayes, p.; R. Thompson, 1 b.; H. Darke, 2 b.; E. White, 3 b.; V. Hayes, s. s.; G. Sheehy, R. Field; V. Lewis, c. f.; W. Harris, l. f.

Lilies.—R. Hillier, c.; W. Dunsford, p.; F. Chamba, 1 b.; W. Dixon, 2 b.; O. Grose, 3 b.; B. Bartley, s. s.; H. Moore, r. f.; S. Price, c. f.; F. Scully, l. f.

Quinlan pitched winning ball on Saturday in Roseneath when Hastings defeated Roseneath by 8 runs to 4.

THE old reliable Optical firm of "TATE." The Tate Optical Co., Peterboro, have, during their 8 years of business in Peterboro, examined and made glasses as for over Thirty-Five Thousand (35,000) Patients and every Patient has been examined (not tested) by the objective methods of refraction.

That is:—1st, by the Opthalmoscope; and, by the Retinoscope or Shadow test, and the more difficult cases by the Opthalmometer as well. In fact our examining room is equipped with all the most modern instruments used in the practice of Optometry and yet we have never claimed (although the first to use this system of examination in Peterboro) to have the exclusive right of using it, or a corner on the market of dark rooms and shadow tests.

In addition to that we have our own lens grinding plant. The only one, in fact, (outside of the wholesale houses in Toronto and Hamilton and one retail in London) in any city between Montreal and Windsor. If you wear a compound lens and are unfortunate enough to break it, we can replace it. by grinding you an exact duplicate on an hour's notice and so save you the vexatious delay of a 3 or 4 days' wait.

That the people of Peterboro and vicinity appreciate our our methods of examination and enterprise is best evidenced by the fact of the large business done in the past and the steady increase from year to year.

Routine Business Of The City Council

Many Matters Come up for Consideration—Board of Works Will Have Plenty to Engage its Attention—Communications—What the Citizens Are Asking For.

The city council held a special meeting last night to dispose of regular routine business, which, in the ordinary course of events, would have come up next Monday night, had that not been a holiday.

The usual committee reports were presented, and, in a few cases, passed.

Those present were: His Worship, Mayor Best, and Ald. Johnston, Tovey, Hicks, Mason, Ball, Elliott, Duncan, Wilson, McIntyre, Adams and Graham.

The minutes of the last meeting were taken as read, and adopted.

Communications.

The following communications were read and dealt with as indicated:

A petition was received from a number of ratepayers asking for the construction of granolithic crossings on both sides of Brock street, at the Water street intersection. The petition pointed out that these crossings were used frequently by citizens going to the court house, and on Friday nights by those going to the band concerts. —Board of Works.

From Mark Dosbon, objecting to the construction of a granolithic sidewalk, on the east side of Dixon street from Smith street to the end of the city limits.—Board of Works.

From J. L. Hughes, protesting against the construction of a sewer on Downie street, from Charlotte to Hunter, if any of the cost of the said sewer is to be borne by him.—Board of Works.

The tax collector's statement for the year 1905 in full, is as follows:

To total amount of roll for 1905...	$114,811 27
To 3 per cent. interest added up to Nov. 16... ...	73 09

Former Resident Of Otonabee Dead

Mr. Alex. Graham Passed Away at Carberry, Man.

Word has just reached here of the death at her home in Carberry, Manitoba, of Mrs. Alex. Graham, a former resident of Otonabee. The deceased lady had been for a number of years a sufferer from heart trouble, but was in her usual health until a few days before her death, when she complained of not feeling well, and on the morning of the 13th, was seized with faintness. Medical aid was at once summoned, but she never rallied, sleeping peacefully to her end, which came about midnight.

The late Mrs. Graham was a Methodist in religion, of which church she was an earnest and consistent memarb until her death. She was of an amiable and affectionate disposition, a loving and devoted wife and mother, and a kind and helpful friend to all, and esteemed and respected by all who knew her.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Joseph Henry Elmhurst, of Otonabee. Henry and James S., of Otonabee, Thomas of New York, and Rev. J. R. Elmhurst of British Columbia, are brothers; her sisters are Mrs. John Hope and Miss Agnes Elmhurst, of Otonabee, and Mrs. L. D. Armstrong of Lakefield. These with her husband and six children are left to mourn her loss, but we sorrow not as those without hope, for our loss is her eternal gain.

Breaking Insulators On The C. G. E. Pole Line

Superintendent Patterson Complains to the Police About the Matter—Thirty Have Been Broken Since the Last Time Line Was Examined—Trouble Brewing for Someone.

Mischievous boys are causing the Canadian General Electric Company a great deal of trouble these days, by breaking the insulators on their pole line as the following letter received by Chief Rossel will show:—

Chief of Police:

Dear Sir,—We are again having a lot of trouble with the boys breaking the insulators on our pole line, particularly from Jackson Park around through the Barnardo Home district. Last fall we replaced every broken insulator on the line and yesterday I sent a man over the line to report on this condition, and he advised me to-day that there are thirty in that district, broken. It is really too bad that property will be destroyed in this manner and further than that a great risk is run by the boys in doing this, because in breaking an insulator, if the lines should fall and touch anybody, it would certainly be immediate death.

Yours, etc.,
E. G. PATTERSON,
General Manager.

The Chief of Police wished to warn the boys who have been following this practice, that they must stop at once or they will find themselves in serious trouble.

Work On Young's Point Line To Begin At Once

Mr. Robt. Stuart Said to Have Been Most Favourably Impressed With the Route—Extension Will be Begun as Soon as Arrangements are Made.

The Examiner learns on what it considers the best of authority, that the extension of the Peterborough Radial Railway Company's lines to Young's Point will be commenced almost immediately. The recent visit of Mr. Robt. Stuart was partly, at least, in connection with the extension. While here he went over the route of the proposed line, and is said to have made a most favourable report, which means that the work will be begun as soon as arrangements are completed. Mr. Larmonth, manager of the street railway company, was out of the city to-day, hence no official information about the matter could be obtained. His trip is said to be in connection with making arrangements for starting the work at once.

Four Years' Pastorate Of The Rev. W. J. Jolliffe

Growth of Church Membership Under His Ministration—Debt Extinguished—New Sunday School Building—Won High Respect of Both Flock and Public—Leaves for Clinton To-morrow.

The churches of the city, are so intimately and effectively associated with the moral standing, and higher well-being of the community, that nothing that affects the relations of one of them to the general public, can be alien to the sympathy of the better elements of the city. The severance of the pastoral relations of Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, with the Charlotte street Methodist church, is a circumstance which has a special concern for that congregation, as well as a general interest to the community.

During his four years' pastorate, Rev. Mr. Jolliffe has made a splendid record of achievement, affecting both the material and moral welfare of the church and congregation. According to the itinerant system of the Methodist Church, a minister comes to a congregation practically on trial. In the case of the Charlotte street church, this period of test was a short one. Every succeeding year, Mr. Jolliffe, by the effectiveness of his ministrations, endeared himself more closely to his flock, and every year he was invited to remain another, and, if it were left to the voice of the congregation, Rev. Mr. Jolliffe would not be removing to Clinton this year.

During his four years' pastorate, Rev. Mr. Jolliffe, so far as can be learned, has given the greatest satisfaction in all his relations to the church and congregation. The most important interest — the spiritual — has been, as far as human judgment can estimate, greatly strengthened — the membership of the church has increased, as well as the congregation. Mr. Jolliffe, while not neglecting the older members of his congregation, or the infirm, or the destitute, paid special attention, and with especial success, to the work among young people, and the work of the Sunday school. Without any evangelistic services or outside aid, there has been added to the church roll, between one hundred and fifty and one hundred and seventy-five converts, very largely young people, many of them coming from the Sunday school. His pulpit ministrations were given with great acceptability. Scholarly and studious, it followed that his sermons afforded spiritual nourishment, as well as food for thought. While never violent nor extreme, he spoke the truth boldly and rebuked sin, without fear or favour.

REV. W. J. JOLLIFFE,

Who Leaves To-morrow for Clinton, Successful Four Years' Pastorate of Charlotte Street Methodist Church.

During the four years of Mr. Jolliffe's pastorate, the material concerns of the church have thriven. The congregation has become a congregation of cheerful givers, so that the general contributions have been very largely increased, as well as the special donations. The debt of four or five thousand dollars remaining at the time of Rev. Mr. Crossley's departure, has been extinguished, the church edifice has been improved in many ways interiorally, and the Sunday school building, at a cost of between three and four thousand dollars, has been greatly enlarged — practically rebuilt — and made one of the most modern and complete buildings for its purpose in the city.

In addition to the effectiveness and acceptability of his ministration in sacred things, much of Mr. Jolliffe's popularity can be referred to his genial and unobtrusive courtesy. A Christian gentleman, his bearing towards the members of his congregation was not marked by truckling to the supposedly important or patronage of others. A quiet, loyal, consistent courtesy to all, made him persona grata to all, and he was, and is, held in the highest respect for both his office and offices—for himself and his work.

While giving the burden of his work to his church and its welfare, Mr. Jolliffe took a quiet, effective interest in moral reform. In his connection with the Ministerial Association, he was not distracted by side issues, such as politics, but was content to do his share in promoting the best interests of the spiritual and church activities represented by the Association. In his relations as a citizen he so bore himself, as to be able to leave Peterborough enjoying the highest esteem of all classes and denominations of citizens, and of his fellow clergymen as well as the love and affection of his congregation, to a degree vouchsafed to few men, leaving the city after a pastorate of four years. As will be noticed in the news columns of this issue, Mr. Jolliffe was the object of a very substantial recognition of his services as pastor of the church, on behalf of the members of his late flock.

While the Examiner and the citizens generally, and very especially his late congregation, regard Mr. Jolliffe's departure with regret, the latter are cheered with the certainty that in Rev. Mr. Manning, they will have a worthy successor. The Methodist church, and the people of Clinton, are to be congratulated upon securing such a pastor as will come to them to-morrow. There is every reason to believe that Rev. Mr. Jolliffe will compile in Clinton a similar splendid record as a minister and a man that he has done in Peterborough.

Junction With C. P. R. West Of Peterborough

Expected That New Short Line Will Connect With C.P.R. Near Brick Company's Plant—The Route Now Decided On—Crosses G. T. R. Near Lily Lake.

Doubt as to whether the new C. P. R. line to the Georgian Bay would touch the main line east or west of this city may be set at rest. The Examiner learns from a reliable source that there is a strong probability that the junction of the main and branch lines will be made just west of the plant of the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Company. From this point the branch will run northerly along the valley back of Mr. E. B. Edwards' residence, crossing the G.T.R. near Lily Lake. The surveyors have been at work on a number of lines, but this is recognized as the most feasible. This route will necessitate considerable cutting, but this is the case with any of the proposed routes, and it is said to be practically settled that this will be the route selected.

The Examiner's informant simply laughed at the idea of the junction being made east of Peterborough. The proposal was not to be thought of, he declared. The river and canal would have to be crossed, necessitating one, and perhaps two bridges on a swing, at which the company would have to keep a man stationed all the time. If the junction was made west of the city, of course the present bridges would be used.

It is probable that work will be commenced on the new line in a short time.

Annuitants To Take Estate's Entire Income

This is the Peculiar Construction Placed on Will of Late Mrs. Almira Grover Foley—Case up in Court in Toronto To-day—Means There Will be no Funds for Joint Committees.

Examiner Special

Toronto, Ont., June 27.—A peculiar will made by Almira G. Foley, of Peterborough, who died in 1892 leaving an estate of $45,000 to $50,000 was construed by Mr. Justice Anglin. The testator left her estate to the poor of Peterborough, subject, however, to annuities to some 22 people. Three of these annuities have died, and the point at issue was whether the portion of the income to which they would have been entitled should go now to the poor of Peterborough or be divided among the surviving annuitants. Mr. Justice Anglin decided that the intention of the testator was that the entire income should go to the annuitants so long as one survived.

This judgment will come as a great surprise to those who are interested in the matter here, and if the despatch is correct, there is no doubt that the judgment will be appealed.

Mr. E. A. Peck, solicitor for the committee, representing the county and city, appointed to administer the funds of the estate after the sums allotted to the annuitants have been paid, to-day stated that the case was up before Justice Falconbridge, not Justice Anglin, as the despatch has it, and intimated that in case the judgment was correctly reported and sustained there would be nothing for the committee to do, since there would be no funds to dispose of if all the money was given to the annuitants.

Now It's Wales For Earthquakes

Shocks Were Felt There During This Morning.

Examiner Special

Cardiff, Wales, June 27. —Violent earthquake shocks were experienced throughout South Wales at 9.45 o'clock this morning. Many houses were damaged. Hundreds of chimneys fell, pictures were shaken from walls, occupants of dwellings were thrown to the ground, and people fled from their houses, shrieking in panic with visions of the San Francisco disaster before them. There were no casualties so far as known.

57th Officers Wear New Belts

Sam Brown Leather Belts Will Replace White Belts.

Last night for the first time the officers of the 57th Regiment wore their new belts authorized by the Militia Department. Instead of the white belts as formerly used, the officers in future will wear belts of Sam Brown leather with shoulder straps, with their serges, but for the tunics the usual white belts will be worn. There is some difference of opinion among the officers as to the new belts, some of them being of the opinion that they are no improvement over those formerly worn. The officers will wear them on their trip to Brantford.

Especially For Women

FRUIT-A-TIVES are the finest medicine in the world for women.

As a mild and gentle laxative—as a positive and speedy cure for Constipation and Biliousness—as the only cure for weak and irritated kidneys and especially for "that pain in the back"—as a positive cure for headaches—and as a general tonic to build up and invigorate the whole system — FRUIT-A-TIVES stand supreme.

In cases of irritated Ovaries, Ovarian Pains, Vaginal Catarrh, Excessive and Scanty Menstruation, Ulcerations, Bearing Down Pains—and all those troubles peculiar to women—have the most remarkable effect.

Fruit-a-tives

Ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of Female Troubles are due to neglect. Bowels become constipated — kidneys irregular — skin neglected — and the poisons of the body, which should be carried off by these important organs, are taken up by the blood carried to the female organs and poison them, thus starting up a train of female troubles.

FRUIT-A-TIVES are made from fruits and by their remarkable action on bowels, kidneys and skin, rid the system of poisons, purify the blood, and restore the delicate organs of generation to new vigor and health.

No woman, who suffers, should ever be without them. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50, at your druggist's or sent postpaid by FRUIT-A-TIVES LIMITED - OTTAWA.

Professional Men Enjoy Outing To Gore's Landing

The Fifth Annual Excursion of the Lawyers and Medical Men is Past—The Excursion Was Best in the History of These Events—Big Ball Game Won by the Doctors —A Choice Day for a Voyage.

Doctors and lawyers, court officials and business men, mingled together yesterday afternoon in assisting to make the fifth annual outing of the city's professional men down the many Otonabee, the best in the history of these excursions. The day was a delightful one, and will always bring to memory many happy reminiscences of the pleasant time spent by the hundred-odd excursionists, who boarded the trim little steamer Water Lily, at the Wolfe street wharf yesterday afternoon.

The trip was under the auspices of the Lawyers' Association of the city which reciprocated the favours given them by the medical men in the year 1905. Invitations were also extended to the court officials, bankers, civil engineers, architects and others, each representative of the Association being granted the privilege of inviting one or two of their friends. Official duties or business of other character, prevented a larger number from attending. The party was just sufficient to fill up the avilable space of the steamer, so that the half day's outing was a rare enjoyment of a rare day in June.

The steamer left her moorings exactly at 1.30, and began the southward sail towards Gore's Landing, the objective point of the excursion. The ittinerary embraced the Otonabee River, whose wooded banks and winding course, never grow tedious to the eye of Peterborough citizens, or the tourist. A beautiful refreshing breeze blew from the west, and combining with the universal good feeling of the voyagers, made the downward cruise a happy event, and all too short for the jollity which reigned on board. The scenery on the Otonabee, from the steamboat's deck, at this time of the year, is at its grandest, and many were the expressions of delight and pleasant surprise of those who had tasted of its beauty for the first time. The river, together with the beautiful lake, into which it emptied its waters, is rapidly coming to the foreground among the chief of the Canadian summer resorts, and it certainly has justification to be considered thus. Rice Lake was at its prettiest yesterday. The waters, unmoved by waves, except when the steamer ploughed her passage through, reflected as perfectly as any mirror, the sky, the trees, and the islands. Black, Sheep and Sugar Islands, all in a row, displayed their beauty to the excursionists as the boat passed by.

Shortly after four o'clock the steamer hove in sight of Gore's Landing, as she sailed around Sheep Island. The Landing, nestling at the foot of some of the big mountains of Northumberland, was ideal in its beauty, and so fascinating that the excursionists were loth to leave Gore's Landing is one of the most delightful resorts on Rice Lake shores, and one which attracts many a tourist and angler.

The Baseball Match.

The annual baseball game between the Lawyers and the Doctors, was the big attraction of the day, and was played soon after the arrival in port of the steamboat. A brief workout was held in front of the Rice Lake House, and the teams, which were composed of the younger members of the professions, followed by baseball enthusiasts and rooters, repaired to the ball grounds. After a three innings game the score card showed the Medical Men had captured the honours for 1906 by 11 runs to 6. The loss of the game to the Lawyers, was due to the erroneous pitching and fielding in the first innings, which cost them 7 runs. They played the better ball towards the end, however, and in the third innings the doctors were unable to score. It was hinted that had the game continued much longer the surgeons would have been the losers.

Notes on the Game.

There were just 101 errors in the three innings.

The umpire was said to have been bought, but no truck of the rumour could be obtained by the press.

The feature of the game was a triple play made by a doctor on second base in the first innings. He caught the batter's high fly, and touched the man running from first and second.

Through the wisdom and ingenuity of the umpire in the several games played annually, it is a curious fact that the teams have won the honours alternately.

The umpire was never rattled for a moment and never attempted to draw fish out of a decision made.

The Supper.

Supper was ready in the spacious dining-room of the Rice Lake Hotel, when the game was finished, and this formed the objective point for the players, spectators and rooters during the following hour. The luncheon prepared by the proprietor, Mr. Thos. Harris, could not have been more inviting—thanks to Mr. John Green, who selected the spot for the excursion. The tables were amply filled with delicious foods, such as the hungry men on such a journey are glad to sit before. Everything was neat and in perfect order, and numerous floral decorations added to the enjoyment of the pleasant hour.

The Homeward Cruise.

The steamer left the Landing wharf at 7.40, just as the long rays of the evening sun were gradually vanishing from view. The homeward voyage was the delight of the day. A perfect calm rested on the water, and the refreshing evening air, together with the beauty of the sunset, lent a pleasing charm to the delightful sail. The wharf was reached before 11 o'clock, after a day of unmarred pleasure, and the lawyers deserve congratulations for the excellent outing they provided for their friends.

An orchestra, under the leadership of Professor Milner, was on board, and the music of the organ, violoncello, the cornet and violin greatly added to the charms of the day. Songs by a number of the excursionists interspersed the music of the orchestra.

The committee in charge of the excursion was composed of Messrs. John Green, chairman; E. A. Peck, G. W. Hatton, and L. M. Hayes, whose arduous efforts crowned the day with success.

These annual trips were inaugurated in 1902 through the instrumentality of Mr. John Green, who became the first president. He still takes a great interest in the event, which has been increasing in popularity every year, until now those who are so eager to attend can scarcely be accommodated.

Altogether, the fifth annual excursion of the doctors and lawyers, which has now passed into history, was one of those events long to be cherished in the memories of these professional men and others who attended, as the most successful and pleasing outing enjoyed in a long time.

A Simple Cure for Piles.

Pile sufferers know that Ointments and other local treatments sometimes relieve, but never cure. They don't remove the cause.

There is a little tablet that, taken internally, removes the cause of Piles and cures any case of any kind no matter how long standing. A month's treatment costs $1.00. Ask for Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid (a thousand dollar guarantee goes with every treatment).

Hem-Roid is the discovery of Dr. Leonhardt, of Lincoln, Neb., one of the most distinguished and successful physicians in the Western States.

Court Stanley Had Good Meeting

Two Applications for Membership Were Received Last Night.

The quarterly meeting of Court Stanley, A.O.F., was held last night in the S.O.E. hall. There was a large attendance of members. Bro. H. Hanwell, C. R., was in the chair, and two applications for membership were received. Court Stanley is in a very flourishing condition at the present time. Meetings are held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month, at which visitors are cordially invited to be present.

StopsHeadache

Zutoo, the Japanese headache cure, is a friend in need.
Don't without a trial, condemn it as something that will hurt you.
Taken when you suspect a headache, it will ward it off. Taken later it will cure the headache in twenty minutes. In every case it will leave you feeling good. It is harmless as the soda which is one of its ingredients.
If it does not do all that is claimed for it, then discard it. But don't confound it with the drug cures and condemns it without a trial. That isn't fair to

Man Who Invented "23" Given "Skidoo" By Judge; He "Beats It"

Patsy Morrison Claims to Have Been the Originator of the Now Famous Expression—Judge Thinks He Should be Punished For It.

Examiner Special.

Cleveland, June 26.—The man who invented 23, the founder of "skidoo," captured by the local sleuths Sunday, met his deserts in police court to-day, when Judge Whelan gave him $23 costs and three times 23 days in the works, then changed his mind and suspended sentence.

Patsey Morrison, one-time jockey at Sheepshead Bay racetrack, imbibed too much and was arrested in front of the Colonial Hotel in Prospect avenue. Patsy's number on the docket happened to be 23.

"No. 23," called the judge.

"That's me," said Patsy. "It sounds familiar. I started that expression."

Ha, ha," cried Whelan. "We have been looking for you. How did it happen?"

"You see, there is room for just twenty-two horses on the Sheepshead track. When one more is entered it has to go behind all the others, and gets a handicap that way. They generally figure to put the horse behind that has not any chance, anyway. I started things by yelling out '23 for yours' every time an old skinedbone got out on the track. The other jockeys took it up and it was not long till everybody was on."

"You deserve a year at hard labour," said the judge, "but it's your first time, and I'll suspend sentence."

The Season Opening With A Great Rush

Stony Lake Steamers Carried Heaviest Crowd of Season Yesterday—High Water Causing Some Temporary Inconvenience.

Examiner Special.

Stony Lake, June 26.—Mr. J. B. Clarke, Toronto, is a guest at the Victoria House.

Mr. J. S. Knapman went down to the city this afternoon.

Mr. C. N. Brown, Miss Brown and party, of Peterborough, came this morning to Forest Nook, which they have taken for a time.

Mr. John Hunter, of Lakefield, is having a cottage built on the Dummer shore north of McCracken's Landing.

Alterations in the way of a second storey are being made to Mr. R. J. Colville's cottage.

Mr. W. R. (Bob) McCracken had on exhibition his "first of the season," this afternoon. Although legally, it was of sufficient proportions, yet it might be placed under the heading, Section I.

The exceptionally high water is causing no small amount of trouble to cottagers and boatmen. Wharves are submerged, boathouses flooded and some of the cottages have taken quite a Venetian effect. It is expected that when the drives of logs, of which there are six between Clear Lake and Burleigh Falls to-day, have cleared Young's Point, the Lake will fall to its normal level.

To-day the passenger boats had the heaviest regular traffic since the opening of the season.

The Quarterly Board Treats Musicians to a Trip..

The outing of the Charlotte street choir to Stony Lake yesterday could hardly have been more enjoyable. About 45 of the choir members and friends left by special car in the morning for Lakefield, and took the round trip on the steamer Empress. The weather was all that could be desired and everything was provided to add to the pleasure of the day. The choir greatly appreciated the kindness of the Official Board in providing them such a very enjoyable trip.

Disastrous Fire Narrowly Averted

Flying Sulphur Set Fire to the Window Curtains.

A disastrous fire was narrowly averted last night at the residence of Dr. Johnston, V.S., by the agility of Mr. J. Agnew, a student practicing with Mr. Johnston. Dr. Steele and Mr. Agnew were in their chamber retiring for the night, when one of them, in lighting a match, allowed some of the burning sulphur to fall between a trunk and the window. The curtains instantly caught fire and illuminated the whole room. Mr. Agnew descended the stairs in night apparel, and, getting a pail of water, quickly extinguished the flames, which were then travelling at a rapid rate.

HOSE WAGON MET WITH MISHAP

The hose wagon belonging to the fire department met with a slight accident last night on George street, when he new fire horse recently purchased was being tried out. The animal became frightened at a street car, and swung against the pole, putting it out of commission for a short time.

The accompanying statement shows the result of the business of the bank for the year ending 31st of May, 1906; also its financial position as on that date.

The business of the bank continues to show satisfactory progress. The net profits, 13.21, are in excess of the previous year, when they were 11.34.

New business of a most desirable character, continues to be offered, and in order to take advantage of the large and growing business offering in the Northwest, and especially at Winnipeg, where results have far exceeded the best expectations of the management, your directors considered that it was in the best interests of the bank, to increase its capital, under the authority given at a special meeting of the shareholders, held on the 17th of April. An allotment of two million dollars was therefore made on the 21st of May, in the proportion of two new shares for each three held at the close of business on the first day of June. This allotment was made at 40 per cent. premium, being slightly below the proportion the Rest then bore to Capital, and, while it is only two weeks since the allotment was made, it has been most gratifying to the directors to find that subscriptions have already been received for nearly one million dollars, a large proportion of which has been paid, and with still many shareholders yet to hear from.

At the special meeting of shareholders above referred to the date for holding future annual meetings, after the present one, was changed by bylaw to the fourth Tuesday of January in each year, and as our stock is held almost entirely as investment, it is proposed that dividends hereafter shall be paid quarterly, and in order to bring these into even quarters for the year, a dividend for four months will be paid on the first of October and quarterly thereafter on the first of January and each succeeding three months.

Your directors hope to welcome the shareholders at the annual meeting in January next in the new and commodious bank premises now nearing completion on Yonge street. The bank has provided for ample accommodation in the building for future growth and expansion, and your directors have pleasure in stating that the demand for offices is quite equal to the most sanguine expectations. The vault accommodation will furnish absolute protection to the bank's securities, and it will be gratifying to know that every precaution has been taken in this respect to guard against loss by fire or otherwise.

During the fiscal year just closed, nineteen new branch offices have been opened, viz., thirteen in the Province of Ontario, two in Manitoba, including Winnipeg, three in Alberta, including Edmonton and Calgary, and one at Regina, Saskatchewan.

The different offices of the bank continue to receive the usual careful inspection.

C. D. WARREN, President.

The usual resolutions were moved and adopted.

The scrutineers reported the following gentlemen duly elected to act as directors for the ensuing year, viz., C. D. Warren, Hon. J. R. Stratton, C. Kloepfer, (Guelph,) W. J. Sheppard, (Waubaushene,) C. S. Wilcox, (Hamilton,) E. F. B. Johnson, K.C.

The meeting then adjourned.

At a subsequent meeting of the newly-elected directors, Mr. C. D. Warren was re-elected President, and Hon. J. R. Stratton, Vice-President, by a unanimous vote.

H. S. STRATHY, General Manager.

THE TRADERS BANK OF CANADA

In another column will be found the Annual Report and Statement of The Traders Bank of Canada, one of the most substantial and flourishing chartered banks doing business in Canada to-day. During the past year of the Bank which ended 31st May, its capital was increased from three to five millions of dollars, its reserve fund and rest account was increased by two hundred and fifty thousand dollars and now amounts to one million two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, its deposits advanced nearly five millions of dollars, and now amount to over twenty millions of dollars, its assets advanced by over five millions of dollars and now amount to over twenty-eight millions of dollars, and its net profits for the past year represented over thirteen per cent of its Capital. The Traders' Bank of Canada pays a dividend of seven per cent.

During the past year The Traders Bank of Canada has erected in the City of Toronto the highest and the finest financial and commercial office building to be found under the British flag. The perusal of its Annual Statement and Report as presented in another column reveals a most satisfactory condition of the affairs of this prosperous Banking institution. The association of this flourishing Bank with Peterborough is represented by the branch office at Lakefield, under the efficient management of Mr. R. P. Davidson.

THE GROWING TIME.

Immigrant arrivals in Canada for eleven months of the present fiscal year numbered 153,093. Of this number 102,251 entered by ocean ports and 50,842 came from the United States. This influx of the cream of American farmers to become Canadian citizens and join hands with Canadians in developing the natural riches of the West, is disquieting to some timid Canadians who fear that the Canadian national sentiment will not be readily absorbed by the new comers. But this influx is regarded with greater alarm by the United States, which is doing all it can to stem the tide, but in vain. It is vain to fight against the lure of the beckoning hand, which invites the Western American farmer to a land of unsurpassed fertility, and opportunity for homemaking, where a low rate of taxation, a good school system, security of life and property, and exceptionally good social and moral conditions. Canadian soil brings the United States farmer across the border, and the conditions cited keep him here.

IMPERIAL COTTON.

India is now following the example of Egypt in encouraging the substitution of cotton-growing for other crops. This year 6,000 acres in Sind are being seeded with Egyptian cotton, and the area of cultivation will be extended annually, as the Ryots are becoming accustomed to the Egytian method of growing, which is essential to the success of the experiment. This enterprise will be watched carefully and patiently by Canadians, as this is probably but the beginning of an extensive cotton-growing industry in India. With cotton established as an Indian product of value, as well as with Egypt turned to account as a valuable source of cotton production, Britain and these auxiliary Kingdoms may at no distant date dispense with a large portion of the imports of raw cotton from the United States. Certainly the empire, whether at the centre or in the outlying divisions, should be made, the Montreal Herald thinks, as self-sustaining as possible.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Toronto is gloating over the prospective success of the great Industrial Exposition. Their buildings have not enough room for manufacturers to display their exhibits.

If Premier Whitney has, as his admirers claim, to be credited with few sins of omission he can be charged with enough sins of "commission" to make a respectable average.

It is asserted that the McBride Government, British Columbia, will bring on the General Elections this autumn and the Liberal Opposition is not to be found napping. It is preparing for the expected fray.

The investigations of the affairs and methods of Canadian life insurance companies has not discouraged that financial industry. Not only are the old companies conspicuously still in the ring, but new companies are coming into existence. On Monday the Senate Committee on Banking and Commerce reported bills to incorporate the Anglo-Canadian Insurance Company, to incorporate the Sterling Life Insurance Company, and to increase the capital of the British America and the Western Assurance Companies.

A new divorce law, "the MacIntosh Bill" has passed its stages in Ottawa. It is hoped that the bill will not permit too great facility for the disrupting of the marriage tie. The safety of decent social conditions depends upon maintaining to the fullest possible degree the sanctity of the martial relation. We are unconsciously absorbing too many of the undesirable conditions which afflict our neighbours to the south of us, and we should avoid the possibility of a man going home at noon or at night and discovering that he is no longer a married man—that he has been divorced from his wife while the has been earning a living for her.

Our legislators at Ottawa, irrespective of party, are a canny collection of self-loyal patriots. The increase in sessional indemnity was made by a touching unanimity, where great public interests were involved in furnishing a financial equipment to the men that make our laws, which would keep the wolf from the door, and permit them to devote their attention undistracted by sordid solicitude as to financial ways and means, to the great national interests committed to their care. There was no divisions on party lines, no gratuitous carping, no unkindly imputation of motives. There was of course, some dissatisfaction with the provision giving a pension to ex-members of the Government. Now we have recognized right of public opinion to object to this pension list, which amounted to about $30,000 per year, this pension list has been abolished. But the increased sessional indemnity involving an expenditure of $450,000 a year is allowed to remain. The only fly in the ointment in regard to this latter, is the reluctance of the public to adopt the estimate of the members as to their value to the country.

BUSINESS GIRLS.

Need Rich, Red Blood to Stand Worry and Strain of Business Hours.

Business overtaxes a woman's strength. Weak, languishing girls fade under the strain. They risk health rather than lose employment and the loss of health means the loss of beauty. Thousands of earnest intelligent young women who earn a livlihood away from home in public offices, and business establishments are silent, suffering victims of overtaxed nerves and deficiency of strength because their blood supply is not equal to the strain placed upon them. Fragile, breathless and nervous, they work against time with never a rest when headaches and backaches make every hour like a day. Little wonder their cheeks lose the tint of health and grew pale and thin. Their eyes are dull, shrunken and weary; their beauty slowly but surely fades. Business girls and women look older than their years because they need the frequent help of a true blood-making, strengthening medicine to carry them through the day. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are actual food to the starved nerves and tired brains of business women. They actually make the rich, red blood that imparts the bloom of youth and glow of health to women's cheeks. They bring bright eyes, high spirits and make the day's duties lighter. Twelve months ago Miss Mary Cadwell, who lives at 49 Maynard street, Halifax, N.S., was run down. The least exertion would tire her out. Her appetite was poor and fickle, and frequent headaches added to her distress. The doctor treated her for anaemia, but without apparent results. A relative advised her to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using but six boxes she says she feels like an altogether different person. She can now eat her meals with zest. The colour has returned to her cheeks and she feels better and stronger in every way.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure blood-lessness just as food cures hunger. That is how they cured Miss Cadwell and it is just by making rich, red blood that they cure such common ailments as indigestion, rheumatism, headaches and backaches, kidney trouble, neuralgia and the special ailments which make miserable the lives of so many women and young girls. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GEORGE ST. CHURCH QUARTERLY BOARD

The first meeting of the Quarterly Board of George street church for the year was held last night when routine business was transacted. The affairs of the church are in a very satisfactory condition and the prospects for the coming year are bright.

DELIBERATE AND RECKLESS LYING

The Globe furnishes the following object lesson as to the manner in which the chief Conservative organ uses deliberate and reckless lying to serve its political purpose:—

The Lie.

Mail and Empire editorial Saturday—Hon. A. B. Aylesworth voted with relish for the Moncton land deal. This gentleman holds apparently that when the Government wishes to purchase a piece of property it is justified in allowing a middleman to get an option upon the lot and to make a "rake-off" by acting as go-between. Liberals, not the grafters, but the real, honest men in the party, may well ask themselves if Hon. Edward Blake would would lend himself to such a rascally principle.

Mail-Empire editorial Monday.—Having voted for the thief in the public service and for the Siftonian land deals, it was perhaps but natural that the new Minister, the "leader of Ontario Liberalism," should pronounce in favour of the "rake-off." The middleman, friend of Mr. Emmerson, secured an option upon property which he knew the Government intended to buy and within three weeks turned the land over to the Department of Railways at a profit of $8,505. This man made a "rake-off" of 187 per cent. And Mr. Aylesworth, who ought to have condemned the transaction, voted that as the sort of thing of which he approves. There is not a wrong principle that Mr. Aylesworth has not supported during the present session: and it is a great pity that such should be the case.

The Truth.

Mr. Aylesworth was not in the House at all when the Moncton land deal came up on Thursday night. He was on the way to Toronto when the vote was taken. The Mail and Empire invented the story about Mr. Aylesworth voting, and, as many habitual liars do, afterwards enlarged on its original untruth."

The Mail's offence consists in printing, as a matter of news, a deliberate untruth, and then editorially commenting upon the untruth, and daring to lecture on morals in the connection.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, Price, 75c. per bottle.

BIG FISH CAUGHT WITH THE ROD

A twenty-five and a half pound 'lunge was the prize captured by Mr. Jack Whaley, of Harwood, last Monday with the rod and line. Mr. Whaley was fishing for bass in the gap of the old railroad at the landing, when this hungry monster snapped at the minnow bait. Luckily the rod and line was a strong one and the prize was hauled in after considerable difficulty. Needless to say "Jack" was "proud of his catch and believes he holds the record for landing the biggest 'lunge with the rod this year.

London Man's Experience Of A Wonderful Box

The most wonderful box to be found in any home is a box of Zam-Buk. Mother, father, and children alike find it useful. Mr. A. J. Clarke, of Cavendish street, West, London, Ont., says: "I have used your Zam-Buk for lime burns and it heals them quicker than anything I ever saw. My wife uses it also on our little girl, who is continually falling and bruising herself. She always runs to her mother for some "stuff" as she calls it, knowing, young as she is, that Zam-Buk will soon make a sore better. I think it is a wonderful preparation and bound to have an enormous use."

This is but one instance out of thousands showing how varied are the uses of this great vegetable balm. The hard skin of the adult and the tender, delicate skin of the child are alike benefitted by its application. Zam-Buk is of excellent service in the home, because of its wonderful healing, soothing and antiseptic powers.

It heals cuts, burns, bruises, and abrasions, is an excellent embrocation and is a certain cure for pimples, eruptions, eczema, ringworm, ulcers, barber's rash, festering sores, insect stings, sore breasts, abscesses, boils, etc. All druggists supply Zam-Buk at fifty cents a box, or it is obtainable, post free, from the Zam-Buk Co., Colborne street, Toronto, upon receipt of price.

Greek Case Was Enlarged One Day

Pappas Had Not His Evidence Ready This Morning.

The three Greek boys, Mikel Cokolelides, and Louis and George Pourgeordis, charged by Mehail Pappas with stealing a quantity of boxes and bottled of polish, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Police Magistrate Dumble this morning. They were defended by Mr. D. O'Connell. The case was enlarged until to-morrow morning to allow the complainant an opportunity to obtain the evidence he required.

Jim Lisle had to face a charge of vagrancy, and, at the request of the chief, was remanded for eight days. Lisle said that he had money to pay his board.

How to Keep Cool In Hot Weather

A vexed question to some—to knowing ones, easy. Let us take things easier. We will then be cool, or, at least, much cooler. But how? Don't worry. Don't hurry. Don't get excited. Don't study the thermometer.

DON'T BE WITHOUT A HAMMOCK

No verandah is complete in hot weather without a good Hammock—for a siesta in a Hammock after meals and after work, soothes, calms, quiets, cools. Better get one before Dominion Day. We have an assortment of full-coloured double-woven Hammocks, size 76 in. x 10 in., with 10 inch Side Curtains, which we ask you to please inspect.

THE SUMMER RUSH IS ON

Before you get off to your vacation, let us show you some of the most catchy of recent novelties for "go-aways."

A GREAT GATHERING OF UNION CARPENTERS

Probably the greatest gathering of union carpenters ever held in America will be the convention of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, which will be held at Niagara Falls, N.Y., opening on September 14 and continuing for about two weeks. Delegates will be present from all over the continent, and it is probable that two members of the local union will be in attendance. At this gathering the result of the referendum vote on the proposal to unite the two societies will be announced. All the local unions have to send in the result of the vote to the secretary not later than July 20.

Turner Firm's Decorators Out

Gangs of Men Sent to Decorate for July 1st.

This morning Messrs. J. J. Turner & Son started out three gangs of men to decorate for Dominion Day. Mr. Webber Turner, with two men, left for Dresden; Mr. James Campbell and two men went to Waterford, and Mr. Reg. H. Turner and Mr. Walter Wesley with two more men have gone to Campbellford to beautify the places for the old boys' demonstration on Monday.

During the next month three other places will be decorated, Stayner for the 12th, and Berlin and Alvinston for old boys' re-unions. This firm has a great reputation for decorations, and this class of work is coming to them all the time.

Cold on the Lungs.

WEDDING BELLS

POTTER–THOMPSON.

A quiet wedding was celebrated this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. R. Thompson, 378 Stewart street, the principals being her daughter, Miss Nellie Thompson, and Mr. Donald Potter, son of Mr. Jas. Potter, of Kingston. The wedding took place at 2.30 o'clock and was performed by Rev. J. G. Potter, brother of the groom, only the immediate relatives being present. The bridal couple were unattended. The house was tastefully decorated with marguerites and although simple the wedding was very pretty. The bride was attired in a dress of white silk collienne and her going away gown was of black silk with net waist, and hat to match.

After the ceremony dainty refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Potter left on the 5.15 C.P.R. train for points west. They will spend a couple of weeks with friends at Eskinaba, Mich., before returning to Peterborough. They will reside at 378 Stewart street.

Mrs Potter received many beautiful presents. Both bride and groom are exceedingly popular in the city and were showered with congratulations by their many friends.

Among the gifts presented to the bride were a silver tea service by Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Kennedy, a silver pudding dish by the employees of Mr. H. P. Kennedy's store, a purse of gold by the drovers in connection with Mr. H. P. Kennedy's live stock business, and a cabinet of silver from the office staff of the Canadian Cordage Company.

CRUIKSHANKS–MILLER.

At the Murray street parsonage last night a quiet wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. F. J. Scott, the bride being Miss Ethelda Jane Miller, daughter of Mr. Alexander Miller, and the groom Mr. James Cruikshanks, both of this city. They were unattended, the bride being becomingly dressed. Mr. and Mrs. Cruikshanks will reside in this city.

CROSS–WALSH.

Another very pretty June wedding was solemnized this afternoon at 2.30, at the residence of Mrs. Robt. Walsh, 19 Conger street, when her daughter, Miss Emma Sephronia, was united in marriage to Mr. Henry Cross, son of Henry Cross, Murray street. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. F. J. Scott, of the Murray street Baptist church, in the presence of a large number of guests, the friends of the bride and groom.

The bride was attired in a pretty costume of cream crepe de chine, trimmed with lace and chiffon with chiffon hat to match. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Maggie Walsh, who was dressed in beautiful cream lustre, trimmed with lace and chiffon, and wore a chiffon hat to match. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Luther Cross. The flower girls were the two little sisters of the bride, Misses Terennia and Lavina.

The house was prettily decorated with carnations and roses, the flower scheme being pink and white.

After the ceremony the customary wedding dinner was served on beautifully adorned tables.

Many pretty presents were received by the bride and groom showing the esteem in which they were held by many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Cross will leave on the nine o'clock train this evening for Clayton, Ohio, where they will spend a week with friends, and returning will reside in Peterborough.

JOHNSTON–THORBURN.

This morning an interesting wedding took place at the residence of Mr. George Johnston, 83 Water street, when his youngest daughter, Flora Emma, was united in marriage to Mr. Archibald Thorburn, of Victoria Harbour, the ceremony being performed at 6 o'clock by Rev. J. G. Potter in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contrasting parties. The bride was prettily dressed in a travelling suit of navy blue silk, and was unattended. After the ceremony the usual wedding breakfast was served, and Mr. and Mrs. Thorburn left on the 7.20 G.T.R. train for Toronto, where they will take a steamer for Montreal. On their return they will live at Victoria Harbour. The bride, who is a very popular young lady, was the recipient of a large number of presents.

Peterborough Soldier Boys Reach The Camp

Are Digging Into Work To-day—Are Camped With Army Service Corps—Preparations for a Big Field-Day To-morrow.

Examiner Special.

Cobourg Camp, June 27.—The two companies of the 57th arrived here by special train yesterday at noon and at once went into camp on the south side of the camp grounds, next to the army service corps. They are in company with the men from Belleville and Kingston, and are in command of Lt.-Col. Helliwell. Yesterday afternoon was spent in getting used to their new surroundings, but this morning the regiment got down to hard work taking their places in the regular drill.

Last night the big military tattoo took place, and was witnessed by fully 5,000 people; eight bands took part, and the 24th Battery of Artillery fired the salutes. It was an impressive sight and the citizens of Cobourg were greatly pleased with it.

Preparations are being made for the great field day and sham battle to-morrow.

RODE THE BUMPERS TO DEATH NEAR PORT HOPE

Port Hope, June 26.—Arthur German, formerly of this town, who has been home for the past week from Wisconsin on a visit, was instantly killed at an early hour this morning a short distance this side of Cobourg while bumping his way back to Port Hope from the camp there.

The unfortunate young man, who was in his 24th year, had been down to see his brother, who is a member of the 46th, in camp at Cobourg, and, about 2 a.m., boarded a freight to return to Port Hope.

The body was mangled beyond recognition.

An inquest is being held this morning at Cobourg, after which the remains will be brought to Port Hope for interment.

HARWOOD ANGLER EXPECTS THE STAR'S STEEL ROD

The Toronto Star's prize to the angler who catches the biggest small-mouth black bass — the steel rod—is likely to find a resting place at Harwood next year. Mr. Wm. Robinson, a resident of that place, landed in a 7 1-4 lb. bass last Wednesday, while fishing off the old railway. The fish measured 23 inches long with a 17-inch girth. It was weighed in the presence of Mr. Johnston, a Rice Lake fish inspector, who has given his affidavit as to the weight of the big fish.

Mr. Robinson thinks he has all records beaten, not only for 1906, but for previous years, and is hopeful in his expectations of securing the prize—the pride of all anglers in Canadian waters.

Presentation To Rev. Mr. Jolliffe

A Purse and Address From the Church Which He is Leaving.

Last evening the recording steward of the Official Board of the Charlotte street church called upon Rev. W. J. Jolliffe at the parsonage, and presented him with a purse of $85. This was accompanied with a short address, which gave expression to the hearty appreciation of the Board and congregation of Mr. Jolliffe's services during his pastorate of four years, and wishing him every success and happiness in his new field of labour.

Band Presented With Clarionet

S. A. Musicians Took Part in Strawberry Festival at Keene.

The Salvation Army Band drove down to Keene last night, where they took part in a strawberry festival under the auspices of the Keene Methodist church. The affair was a great success, and the members of the band report a most enjoyable time. They supplied music generously throughout the evening. Dr. Harrison, of Keene, made a presentation to the band that was thoroughly appreciated. The gift was a handsome clarinet, a most acceptable donation, as the band is in need of new instruments.

Miss Dickson Was Elected President

Of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society Presbyterial.

The meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Presbyterial opened in Campbellford yesterday, and in the absence of the president, Mrs. Walter Roger, Mrs. (Rev.) J. G. Potter presided. The reports of the different bands and circles were presented, and the motion to accept the reports was made by Mrs. Frank Pakenham, of this city.

At the afternoon session, Rev. Joseph Annand, for 33 years a missionary to the New Hebrides, gave an address which was much enjoyed.

The election of officers took place yesterday afternoon and resulted as follows:

Hon. President, Mrs. Walter Roger.
President, Miss Martha Dickson.
Secretary, Miss Alice Hall.

To-day the closing meeting will be held, and the next place of meeting decided upon.

Miss Davidson, representing St. Paul's, and Mrs. Wm. Stevens, representing St. Andrew's, were in attendance at the meeting, in addition to those mentioned yesterday.

AN AUTO PARTY TO PORT HOPE

To-day is speech day at Trinity College School, Port Hope, and a number of ladies and gentlemen from this city will attend, one party consisting of Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Mr. R. H. Rogers and Mr. Lundy, going in the latter's automobile.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, June 27. — After opening higher this morning, the market resumed its downward course, liquidation and short selling again being in evidence. On sales of 4700 shares copper opened a point higher, and there were gains of from 1-4 to 3-4 in the active issues but these were immediately lost. Interboro, after opening unchanged, hesitated, and then slumped over 3 points to a new low record.

After the first half hour some support appeared in Norfolk, Atchison, O. and W., and the Steels, and the market steadied. The London market was strong on prospects of a successful settlement, Americans being buoyant with a gain of over a point recorded.

Liquidation broke out afresh shortly after noon; prices gave way rapidly and the market went lower than before. St. Paul lost 6 points, U.P. 4; Reading, 5; Smelters, 4; Copper, 4; C.F.I., 4; and declines of 2 points were general. An annual dividend of 2 per cent. was declared on O. and W. to-day, being an increase of 1-2 per cent over last week. The close was very active and weak, near the low.

BARRIE ODDFELLOWS TO RUN EXCURSION

Mr. H. S. Robertson and Mr. Senn, of Barrie, are in the city to-day, the object of their visit being to arrange for an excursion of Oddfellows to this city on Thursday, August 9th, the second day of the Grand Lodge meeting. They expect to bring a big crowd of three-link brethren here that day, and are arranging for the use of one of the city parks, in which to run off a programme of sports.

ONE MINISTER WHO APPRECIATES PRESS

To the Press of Peterborough—

Before leaving Peterborough I wish to state to the press of the city my appreciation of their kindness in publishing reports of church work and in the general interest it has shown in the same. In all my experience, I have never met newspaper men so willing to report church work as in Peterborough.

Wishing you continued and increasing prosperity.

Yours truly,
Rev. W. J. Jolliffe.

Talks on Orange Meat

(The Pure Food)

Popping Corn and Popping Wheat

Ever pop corn? Take a handful of tiny grains—heat them over the fire—and you have "about a peck" of pop-corn.

Corn is pretty nearly all carbo-hydrates, or starch. And it would take a lot of chewing to break up all the tiny cells so that the starch could be acted on by saliva in the mouth and be converted into sugars. Heat does it better than chewing.

Wheat is 75% carbohydrates. Like popcorn, the tough cell walls in wheat are broken by heat. That is why we cook the wheat in making ORANGE MEAT. It goes in huge steam cookers under 20 pounds steam pressure. Steam and moisture soften the cell tissues—the heat causes the starch to swell and burst the cells—the carbohydrates are free. That is why Dyspeptics, Rheumatics and all who can't eat "starchy" foods, may enjoy ORANGE MEAT. By adding malt, all the starch is converted into wheat sugar.

Orange Meat

Orange Meat weighs ⅓ more than any other package. 15c. and 25c. a package. At all grocers. Mercerized paper lining of the cartons insure Orange Meat being always fresh, crisp and clean. 15c. pkg. contains a coupon, good for premiums. 25c. size contains 2½ times as much as 15c. size. Write "Orange Meat, Kingston," for new premium catalogue.

Corticelli Home Needlework is a magazine that every lady should take. Issued 4 times a year, 96 pages beautifully illustrated. 50 cts per year. Write for sample sending 15 cents. Corticelli Silk Co. Ltd., St. John's, P.Q.

Lakehurst's Version Of Football Game

Mr. G. M. Cundal Disputes Statement That Boys From the North Were "Easiest of Them All"—What He Says About Quakers' Win.

Sporting Editor of the Examiner:

Mr. Editor,—If you will kindly give me a little space in your sporting columns. I would like to make a few corrections in the report of the game between the Quakers and Lakehurst on Wednesday evening, June 20, which appeared in your Daily of June 21.

In the first place no official referee came. Just a Quaker man, and we had the option of putting on a man at half time, but we had no man. It puzzles us to get enough players and as he guaranteed to show fair play, we accepted him.

The first thing I notice is that "Lakehurst was the easiest of them all". Well, if your reporter was good at figures, he could subtract 1 from 6 and have the same score as Harwood. In fact it ought to be a little better, as we scored one goal and Harwood didn't.

They commenced shortly after 6.30. For the first ten minutes the Quakers had it pretty much their own way until they scored a goal. After that the Lakehurst boys braced up and from that to the finish played every bit as good ball as the Quakers. I was in goal and had a good chance to view the field of play. Your reporter says I was called upon repeatedly to save my team from a bigger lead. I had just one goal kick which had been kicked off 20 yards from the goal and I stopped one shot on goal. That made 2 shots on goal by the Quakers in the first half, one that went through and one I stopped. The Quaker goal-keeper had four or five goal kicks.

In the second half Coones made a penalty. Boycott took the kick and made a bungle of it. Coones very nearly got it out, but it was passed over to Crough who had run in when the whistle blew and was therefore offside. The referee standing right there couldn't see that although he could see an offside on Lakehurst. I admit I was a little flustered over the penalty kick and never thought of it until it was too late. In fact, it was very noticeable to all the bystanders as well as the players that the referees blind eye was turned on the Quakers as he allowed them to shove with their hands and also to hold the players.

Lakehurst got one goal and several shots on goal. The Quakers got another goal and that ended the scoring, 2 to 1 in favour of the Quakers, but should have been 2 to 1. All through the second half Lakehurst put up a magnificent game and if they had had ten minutes more to play would undoubtedly have evened the score as the Quakers were getting badly fagged.

One thing noticeable about Evans and Doris was that during the early stage of the game they pressed down towards the centre of the field but when the Lakehurst forwards got behind them a few times and demonstrated their superior speed they hugged their own goal the remainder of the game. Doris was conspicuous for the way he missed the ball.

Mr. Milburn didn't referee satisfactorily and several of his decisions were disputed, but that was all the good it did. Had he refereed the first half as he did the second half, he certainly would not have been allowed to referee the second half.

That, Mr. Editor, is how the game went at Lakehurst. Thanking you in advance for your valuable space, I am

Yours truly,
G. M. CUNDAL.

Lindsay Wants Game With Locals

Y.M.C.A. Team Anxious to Meet Charlotte Street.

A telephone message from T. H. Stenson, of Lindsay, was received this afternoon by the Sporting Editor of the Examiner, asking for a game of baseball there on the 2nd of July between the Lindsay Y.M.C.A. and home team from this place. Lindsay is willing to guarantee at least $15 towards the expenses of the visitors, and are anxious to have a game with a Peterborough team. They would prefer to meet the Charlotte street Grid League team if possible, but since they go to Campbellford on that date that could not be arranged.

Mr. J. Carter Takes A Superintendency

An Employee of the Cordage Works to Have Charge of the Easton Cordage Company's Works at Easton, Pa.—Has Been Here Four Years—Had Fifteen Years Experience in Cordage Business.

Mr. J. Carter, who for the past four years has been employed at the Canadian Cordage Company's works here, has been offered, and accepted, the position of superintendent of the works of the Easton Cordage Company, of Easton, Pa., and will leave here on Friday to take up his new duties. The mill of which Mr. Carter will have the superintendency, is a 128 spindle mill, and employs 150 hands. Mr. Carter's 15 years of experience in the cordage business in the south and west fits him to fill the important duties involved in his new position, and he will be followed by the best wishes of his friends in this city, where he has made a great many during his four years' residence. He is a charter member of the Peterborough Lodge of Elks, and a popular young man.

His brother, Mr. P. C. Carter, who has also been employed in the Cordage works, will leave for Millageville, N.C., to work in a cotton factory.

Jackson Park Crowd Was Biggest Of Season

Peterborough's Pleasure Resort Thronged Last Night—New Features Were Well Patronized—Restaurant is Doing a Rushing Business Already.

Peterborough's beautiful pleasure resort, Jackson Park, was thronged with the biggest crowd of the season last night. Nightly the crowd increases in size, and last night assumed record-breaking proportions. The beautiful summer night, combined with the many attractions, made the park a most delightful place to spend the evening, and the programme provided seemed to meet with universal approval. Every department was booming last night. The merry-go-round seems to be continually increasing in popularity, and was filled all evening. To the little ones especially this attraction appeals strongly.

The box-ball alley, the latest feature, is already meeting with appreciation. It is situated at the rear of the skating rink, and is neatly furnished, and affords a very agreeable means of whiling away the hours, as well as of obtaining healthful exercise. The game is played under much the same rules as govern alley bowling, and last night a number of bowlers were among those who tried the new game. Their verdict was most favourable, and box-ball alley will likely be most popular.

Those who visited the restaurant, of which Mr. Thomas Hooper is the proprietor, were amazed at the splendid establishment which has been constructed. A section of the rink waiting room has been fitted up in a most convenient manner, with a marble top counter, soda fountain and other up-to-date fixtures. Soft drinks, ice cream, biscuits, candy, cigars and cigarettes, and many other articles may be obtained there. A splendid parlour has been obtained by placing a large awning over the platform of the rink. Mr. Chas. Cheverll, who is in charge of the restaurant, reports business very good.

The new bill of moving pictures is the most popular yet put on, and covers a wide range of interesting subjects. The last picture, showing the operations of a band of robbers, their thrilling flight, pursued by police officers, and finally their capture, is most interesting. The whole was very realistic. The 57th Band played a delightful programme of popular music during the evening.

The car service was all that could be desired, and the large crowd was handled well. The cars coming in were crowded, as were also the fenders.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propogates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, special agents.

No Dead-Heads On The Regiment's Trip This Year

Officers Decide That Only Those Legitimately Entitled to Go Will be Allowed on the Train to Brantford—Last Drill Held Last Night—252 Men Out—Ranks Depleted by Men at Cobourg.

The "dead-heads," who intend to accompany the 57th Regiment to Brantford, on Saturday, under the guise of members of the Regiment, will be up against it. While in the past some few persons, not members, have succeeded in getting on the train, and beating their way to wherever the regiment happened to be going, the practice will have to stop this year. The commanding officer and company commanders, are determined upon this point, and they have taken steps to be quite certain that everyone who goes has a right to go. It is announced that any person found on the train, after it has started, who has not a legitimate right to be there, will be put off, and the process may not be a very enjoyable one to the intruder, either.

The last drill before the regiment takes the trip, was held last night, and, owing to the fact that a large number of the men were at Cobourg, there was not the large attendance usual on the drill night preceding the regiment's trip. Two hundred and fifty two non-commissioned officers and men were recorded as the number at drill. The parade state were as follows:

A Company.....	14
B Company...	...23
C Company.....	...22
D Company...	...24
E Company.....	35
F Company.....	...26
G Company...	...7
H Company...	...27

Total non-commissioned officers and men, 252.

Only company drill was taken up last night, and the men were dismissed early, the officers being satisfied with the proficiency displayed. The regiment is in splendid shape in every way, and the Colonel is confident that it will do itself credit at Brantford. No further drills will be held this week, nor until after the trip, and it is not probable that the regiment will resume drills again this summer, the usual practice being to discontinue drill after the trip.

A New Carpenters' Union For This City

Amalgamated Society Will, In All Probability, Establish Branch Here—Mr. Wm. Scott, General Organizer of the Society, in the City—The Present Union is in Sympathy With Proposal.

There is a strong probability of a local union of the amalgamated society of Carpenters and Joiners being formed in this city. Mr. Wm. Scott, of Toronto, general organizer for the society, is in the city, and and will remain until Friday. In the meantime he expects to organize the new society of union carpenters.

It is rather a significant fact that the present Carpenters' Union in Peterborough is heartily in sympathy with the new union, and at the meeting of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, held on Monday night, Mr. Scott was present, and addressed the members in reference to the proposed formation of the new society.

There are in this city, it is estimated, 225 carpenters, about one-half of whom are members of the union. It is now hoped to enroll the balance in the new union being formed. They will work in harmony, so far as regulating rates of wages is concerned, and no friction whatever is anticipated.

The amalgamated society is an English organization, the head offices being in London, but there are a very large number of members in America.

At the meeting on Monday the Brotherhood voted on the proposal to unite the two bodies, and the majority expressed themselves as favourable to the scheme, which will probably be carried out in 1907, when the present working arrangement between the two societies expires. This will mean a very strong organization with over 400,000 members.

THE old reliable Optical firm of "TATE." The Tate Optical Co., Peterboro, have, during their 8 years of business in Peterboro, examined and made glasses es for over Thirty-Five Thousand (35,000) Patients and every Patient has been examined (not tested) by the objective methods of refraction.

That is :—1st, by the Opthalmoscope ; 2nd, by the Retinoscope or Shadow test, and the more difficult cases by the Opthalmometer as well. In fact our examining room is equipped with all the most modern instruments used in the practice of Optometry and yet we have never claimed (although the first to use this system of examination in Peterboro) to have the exclusive right of using it, or a corner on the market of dark rooms and shadow tests.

In addition to that we have our own lens grinding plant. The only one, in fact, (outside of the wholesale houses in Toronto and Hamilton and one retail in London) in any city between Montreal and Windsor. If you wear a compound lens and are unfortunate enough to break it, we can replace it, by grinding you an exact duplicate on an hour's notice and so save you the vexatious delay of a 3 or 4 days' wait.

That the people of Peterboro and vicinity appreciate our our methods of examination and enterprise is best evidenced by the fact of the large business done in the past and the steady increase from year to year.

Mr. Douglas Much Impressed With Railway's Prospects

And Wants to Buy Property at Stony Lake—Taken to Indicate an Early Extension of the Radial Railway Company's Line to Summer Resort—New Park Believed to be One of the Probabilities.

Mr. W. H. Douglas, who is interested with Mr. Robert Stuart, in the American Cereal Company, and allied concerns here, is a street railway man, and his presence in the city, with Mr. Stuart, and his trip over the proposed route of the extension of the Radial Railway line to Young's Point and Stony Lake, lends colour to the statement made in the Examiner yesterday to the effect that the company was seriously considering the immediate extension of the line.

This is further strengthened by the fact that Mr. Douglas is known to have made inquiries and conducted negotiations towards the purchase of property at Stony Lake, the exact location not having been learned.

He was at once deeply interested, as soon as he had seen the possibilities for business for a line to the Lake.

There is good reason to believe that in a very short time the Radial Railway will be running a summer park, similar to those in other cities conducted by street railways, outside the city limits, and it is believed that it will be located about four or five miles from the city, along the river bank, where a regular summer park on a large scale, with all the best attractions will be conducted.

It would not be at all surprising to those who know, to see an announcement to this effect at any time.

Englishman Charged With Forging Cheque

George Appleton Had Frenzied Finance Scheme of His Own--Cleared $14.80 on a Deal in Live Stock and Then Passed on the Animal Which He Bought With an Alleged Forged Cheque.

George Appleton, a young Englishman, has some ideas of his own in regard to frenzied finance, which would make Tom Lawson do some reflecting. Unfortunately for Appleton, his ideas are not original, nor do they conform to the opinions of the officers of the law. As the result of a transaction in cheques, there is a very serious charge against Appleton, in that of having forged the name of T. A. S. Hay to a cheque for $59.82 on the Bank of Ottawa.

It appears that on Tuesday Appleton went to John Kelleher, and, after some chaffing, purchased a cow and calf from him, in payment giving a cheque on the Bank of Ottawa for $59.82, signed by T. A. S. Hay. Kelleher gave the man $14.80, the change out of the note. Appleton said that he had been working for Hayes, who Kelleher supposed was Mr. J. E. Hayes, the contractor. Yesterday morning he grew suspicious, and, on investigation, found that Appleton was not working for Hayes. The cheque, as has been said, was signed T. A. S. Hayes, which are the initials of the city engineer. It is supposed that Appleton made a mistake in the initials of the two men.

This deal did not complete the transaction. Appleton was out for more than $14, and set about disposing of the cow, which he finally succeeded in doing. The animal was was sold to Mr. Jas. Mongraw, the Simcoe street barber, for $30, of which Appleton received $2 in cash.

A warrant was sworn out for Appleton's arrest yesterday, and a search was made for him. He was seen in the morning, but when the officers set out to look for him he was not to be found. He was not at his boarding house on Parnell street, and up to last night no trace had been found of him.

Instruction Car Leaves The City

Will be Next Stationed at Allandale, the Northern Terminal.

The G. T. R. instruction car left the city this morning after spending a week here instructing the employees. It will be next stationed at Allandale, the northern terminal point, where the large shops of the company are, and where more men remain over night that at any other point in the northern division. Mr. Wright, the instructor, made a host of friends in the city through his geniality and generosity in giving all desired information.

The GT.P. are already getting out cars as fast as possible in preparation for the heavy traffic expected on the new line.

AN EDISON CAR JUMPED TRACK

Just before 1 o'clock this afternoon one of the C. G. E. cars met with a slight mishap at the corner of Sherbrooke and Reid streets. As the car was turning the corner it jumped the track, and before it could be stopped ran the length of itself on the ties. One of the Jackson Park cars had to be sent to haul it back to the rails again.

Hotelman Found Dead In Sault Ste. Marie

Late William Kenneally May Have Met With Foul Play—Word Received in Lakefield To-day of His Death.

Examiner Special.

Lakefield, June 28.—Word was received here to-day by Mr. W. Leahy from Dr. McLurg, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., that Mr. William Kenneally, who left here about a week ago to work for the Algoma Commercial Co. in their lumber operations, had been found dead. No further details were furnished, and the relatives of deceased do not know whether he came to his death by foul or other means.

Deceased was about 55 years of age and was in apparent perfect health when he left here. He leaves a widow, and three sons and one daughter, Joseph, of the Bank of Ottawa, North Bay, being the eldest, and the others, Margaret, Harold and Laughlin, who live at home. Joseph has been notified, and will go to take charge of the body.

The late Mr. Kenneally was well known in Peterborough, where he at one time conducted the Commercial Hotel at the corner of Brock and George street, and news of his death will be received with regret.

Public Schools Are Closed For Vacation

At Noon To-day the Pupils Were Dismissed Until September—Majority of the Teachers Will Leave City.

The public schools of the city closed at noon to-day for the summer vacation, and the pupils and teachers left their rooms when the noon bell rang with feelings of relief.

The Separate schools will not close until to-morrow, and by to-morrow night all the schools in the city will have closed until early in September. The majority of the teachers will leave the city for the vacation. Those whose homes are elsewhere will leave shortly to join their relatives, while those who live here will, the majority of them, go out of the city on trips.

The results of the Public and Separate schools promotion examinations, will be ready for publication in a few days. Inspector Walker has already received reports from some of the schools, but will not issue them until all the reports are in.

Thought He Knew.

Boston Herald.

WHILE I WAS a student in the medical college I had a patient, an Irishman, with a broken leg. When the plaster bandage was removed and a splint, one put on in its place, I noticed that one of the pins went in with great difficulty, and I could not understand it. A week afterward what was my astonishment to find that the pin had been run through the skin twice, instead of through the cloth.

"Why, Pat," said I, "didn't you know the pin was sticking in you?"

"To be sure I did," replied Pat. "But I thought you knew your business, so I left me tongue."

Cure Death to Mosquitoes.

Kansas City Star.

A MEMPHIS, Mo., man has discovered a new way to get rid of mosquitoes. He says to rub alum on your face and hands. When the mosquito takes a bite it quickens the burner so it can't sting. It sits down in a damp place, tries to dig the quicker loose, catches its death of cold, and dies of pneumonia.

Or High Heels—

There is not in Semi-ready tailor-made clothes the good, better and best of workmanship.—The $15 Semi-ready Suits are made by the same tailors who make the $20 and $25 Suits.—There is one quality only—the best.

The difference in price is the difference in cost of the materials used. In a $25 Semi-ready Suit one gets the cloths carried only by the high-class tailor who makes capital out of his exclusive one-suit cloth lengths.

We buy our cloths in the web—70-yard lengths—and perhaps 10 or 20 webs of each pattern—direct from the British woollen mills.

The Derailed Cars Caused Late Train

Grand Trunk From Lindsay Two Hours Late Last Night.

Some freight cars were derailed at the Queen street crossing, Toronto, last night, before the G. T. R. train, which arrives here at 9 o'clock had passed. This caused a delay of more than two hours, so that it did not arrive in the city until after 11 o'clock. It was preceded by the train which arrives in Peterborough at 10 o'clock, which left Toronto first.

The Toronto World of this morning says:—A broken axle on a coal flat car was yesterday afternoon responsible for the derailing of five freight cars, blocking the main line of the Grand Trunk at East Queen street Crossing three hours, the street cars and street traffic one hour, and causing a property damage approximating $5,000. No one was hurt.

The accident happened at 4.30 p.m., and was due to an axle breaking on a coal flat car, coupled next to the engine, on a long transfer train bound from York to Mimico transfer. The train was approaching the Queen street crossing on a gasoline track paralleling the main line, when the axle broke and the forward trucks jumped along on the ties till it struck the planking at the crossing, where it caused the car to buckle and derail the next four cars following—a refrigerator, a box and two gondolas. Just east of here in a shar pcurve, and a minute later a passenger train, west bound, was heard whistling for Queen street Crossing. The engineer of the wrecked train immediately sounded a danger signal, and the passenger train, running under good control, stopped 50 yards from the wreckage.

The Trinity College School Closing To-day

Exercises Commenced Yesterday With Cricket Match—Speech Day To-day—Special Trains Carry Visitors —Memorial Window to be Dedicated.

Port Hope, June 27. — Trinity College School closing exercises commenced this morning with the annual cricket match between the school and a strong team of old boys. At 4 p.m., an afternoon tea was held in the gymnasium.

This season has been one of the most successful in cricket in the history of the school. Altogether six games were played; four were won, one a tie and one lost. In the School League the team landed at the top, with Upper Canada College having won two and lost one game.

To Trinty College School again belongs the honour of having passed all the candidates sent up for the Royal Military College entrance examinations, and for the second successive year a T.C.S. boy has headed the pass list. The head boy this year was W. S. Lawrence of Stratford, who obtained a total of 5,777 marks out of a possible 8,000. Over forty candidates wrote on the examination.

For Speech Day on Thursday, a special train will be run as usual from Toronto, for the convenience of out of town visitors, leaving the union station at 8.30 a.m. At the 11 a.m. service in the chapel on Thursday, the stained glass window in memory of the late Edward Martin of Hamilton, and the Old Boys' South African memorial window, will be dedicated. The distribution of prizes will then take place in the gymnasium, followed by luncheon at 1.30. A large attendance at this year's closing is expected.

Peterboro' Lady Through San Francisco Disaster

Mrs. Weatherhead, the First Native of This City Who Has Returned Home—Is Seventy-three Years of Age —Residence of Her Son Smashed by the 'Quake—A Thrilling Tale of the Terrible Destruction—Scenes Were Indescribable.

The first native of Peterborough who has been through the great San Francisco disaster and returned home is Mrs. Thos. Weatherhead, mother of Mr. Albert Weatherhead, 834 Water street. The Examiner called upon her last evening at the residence of her son and listened to the tale of the big earthquake unalloyed by the tongue of rumour. Mrs. Weatherhead is three years past the three score and ten yet she passed through the greatest disaster of modern times with apparently the best of health, and recently travelled alone from the city of the Golden Gate to Peterborough. She would have remained longer in the ruined city but for the inconvenience which necessarily comes to one so old and feeble, in a situation such as San Francisco presents at the present time.

Mrs. Weatherhead while there lived with her son, Bruce, at 732 Hayes street—a street within three blocks —of Market street, where so much destruction through the shock and flames reigned. She felt the first shock about five o'clock in the morning when the big city was peacefully slumbering. The crash of broken glass aroused her immediately thinking burglars were within the house. She was sleeping on the third flat and hastily found her son to fathom the cause of the commotion. The sound of screaming and persons rushing to and fro throughout the building reached her ears and gathering a bundle of clothes she went to the lower storey and out upon the street. The house was severely damaged and the chimney toppled over at the first quake outwards upon the kitchen. Had it chanced to fall the other way Mrs. Weatherhead would have been in imminent peril of her life.

On the streets people were aimlessly rushing here and there—many in night apparel only—not knowing to what extent the destruction had been. Most of the houses in the vicinity where Mrs. Weatherhead lived were damaged, but not as seriously as those in other parts. Brick and stone buildings crumbled like dust before the waves of earth, but frame structures fared much better. In the big park, 25,000 of San Francisco's population lay encamped but Mrs. Weatherhead remained in another park till the danger had passed. Here beds were placed as thickly as space would permit and the occupants slept with no other canopy but the blue sky above. Ashes from the fires in the city fell upon the rich and poor alike whose lot had placed them on a common ground. Every half hour during the night the tramp of soldiers up and down the long lanes between the beds of ease could be heard.

For three days and three nights Mrs. Weatherhead lay awake in the park watching the hungry flames devour the entrails of the doomed city. Rain on the fourth day drove those who had homes to them and she remained there until her departure for Canada. The strict martial law of the soldiers prevented the kindling of fires in houses and only on calm days could they be made on the streets to boil the kettle. Generally the meagre suppers were eaten cold. At first those who had bread for sale charged 50 cents a loaf, but the soldiers forced these misers to sell at the normal rate.

Lights in dwellings was against the law. The military men were ordered to shoot down as burglars all those discovered with lights in their hands. This strict law was necessary on account of the scarcity of water the only preventive to delay the progress of the flames. Mrs. Weatherhead could distinctly hear rifle reports ringing out in the night air at frequent intervals when some poor looter lost his life. She could see from the park the firemen and others pull the dead from under bricks and rubbish and often from a distance watched her son assisting in the work. Here again the soldiers showed their authority. Dead bodies were buried just as they were in the first available spot that could be found.

Women kindled fires in their stoves to boil the kettle and cook a meal, not knowing their chimneys had been carried away by the shock. Many fires were started in this way which caused immense distruction.

A month and a half passed by before the street railway cars commenced to move again. At the earliest opportunity Mrs. Weatherhead left her son's home after having spent a year and a half there and travelled by street car to the bay. Here 20 or more steamers plied back and forth to Oakland, carrying passengers who were eager to get away from the stricken city. On her way to the bay she gleaned a much better idea of the extent of the terrible disaster. Not a building in the main portion of the city which was not razed to earth. Structures costing a million and a half, lay crumbled and still smoking. The only store an attempt was made to reconstruct before her departure, was the big departmental owned by Hale & Bros., in which her son, son, Bruce, had worked. Eleven churches were also among the burnt portion of the city.

Almost the first action the soldiers took was the blowing up of every saloon and brewery in the city to prevent the distribution of whisky among the inhabitants. Only what was needed in the hospitals was saved. No person could get the smallest drop from a bottle—a glass tumbler was the only vessel allowable. Many houses were also blown up with dynamite to prevent the spreading of the flames.

Doors of houses were broken into to provide shelter for the homeless and fatigued. Many attempted to prevent this but the soldiers' action was law and the owners become the sufferers.

Mrs. Weatherhead thinks that if any of the inhabitants deserve a crown of glory they are the gallant firemen who worked continuously to save the lives and homes of San Francisco's sons and daughters and who helped dig out the dead and dying from the debris on the streets.

California in Mrs. Weatherhead's opinion is one of the most beautiful countries under the sun and she would under no consideration have left had it not been for the force of circumstances. Although 73 years of age she is yet rather hale and hearty and apparently able to withstand another such a scene which she says is wholely indescribable.

Speech-Day At The Preparatory School

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt Presented Prize for Most Popular Boy in School—An Interesting Day's Programme at That Institution Yesterday—Boys Away Home for Vacation.

Examiner Special.

Lakefield, June 226.—Yesterday was speech day and presenting of prizes at the Lakefield Preparatory School of which Rev. A. W. Mackenzie, M.A., is the head master. Several friends of the school were present to take part in the proceedings. The head master was chairman, and Mrs. E. R. Tate presented the prizes. The coveted prize of a silver medal for the best boy in the school, elected by the fellow-students, was won by Master Gordon Lumsden, of Orillia, to whom it was presented by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, who also addressed the boys. To-day the boys have left for their respective homes for the holidays.

The Grove Chronicle, the organ of the School, in a recent issue referred in the following terms to three special prizes presented by gentlemen well known in Peterborough. It says:—

The School has been the grateful recipient lately of several worthy prizes. Mr. Harry Strickland, the famous long-distance swimmer, has sent a medal for the 100 yards swimming race; Mr. Jas. Young, famous too through being the father of "Pete" and "Billy," has promised two prizes, a cricket bat and a prize for general proficiency in the third form; while the Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, of Peterborough, that staunch friend of the school, has presented a medal to be given, on vote of the boys, to the boy whose influence is best among his fellows. The decision will prove no easy matter, for a boy's influence for good energises in such a subtle, secret way, it is so absolutely devoid of any pretence to sanctity, that it is difficult to find out what real nature is. If the boy who receives the most votes is wholesome-minded, vigourous, kind to youngsters and of an average efficiency in class and games, the headmaster will heartily endorse the verdict.

St. Andrew's New Trustee Board

Was Elected at Congregational Meeting Last Night.

At a congregational meeting held in St. Andrew's Sunday School Hall last night, the election for the new trustees took place, resulting as follows:—T. C. Elliott, Frank Packenham, E. Bruce Fowler, W. A. Hunter, J. C. Anderson, Geo. Mather and Andrew McKenzie.

The meeting was presided over by the pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter, and Mr. John McClelland, secretary of the Board, acted as secretary.

On motion of Mr. T. C. Elliott, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the retiring trustees for their many many years of active and faithful service to the church. The new trustees will shortly hold a meeting for organization.

A Natural Laxative

Inward cleansing is as necessary as outward bathing. To keep the bowels free and regular is of even greater importance than to keep the skin-pores from becoming clogged. The neglect of either invites disease. Everyone needs a natural laxative occasionally, to free the bowels of accumulated impurities For this purpose take the greatest boon ever offered to those who suffer from the ills that follow constipation. For over fifty years Beecham's Pills have been famous as a Stomach corrective, a Liver regulator and Bowel laxative. They never gripe nor cause pain. Powerful purgatives are dangerous. Avoid them. Use Beecham's Pills. They give relief without doing violence to any organ. Their action is in harmony with physical laws. Take them regularly and the necessity for their use becomes less frequent. They are a natural laxative and a positive cure for Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache and Dyspepsia.

Mr. Austin Dunn Sells His Hotel Business

Becomes Manager of New Young's Point Saw Mill—Takes Charge on July 1st—Will Move to the Point in a Short Time—Good Fishing at the Summer Resorts—High Water a Convenience.

Examiner Special.

Young's Point, June 26.—The erection of the new sawmill here by Messrs. Young and Dunn has filled a vacancy which the point has been greatly in need of since the disastrous fire last year. The enterprising proprietors have equipped the new mill with all the newest machinery, and with a big cut of logs in stock the season will be a busy one.

Mr. Austin Dunn is selling out his hotel business in Peterborough, and will in future look after the mill here. He takes over the management of the new mill on July 1, and in a short time intends moving to the Point to reside.

The citizens of the village are glad to hear the sound of the saw again, and wish the proprietors every success in their progressive enterprise.

NOTE.—Inquiry from the parties interested here gave The Examiner information that the above despatch is correct, and Mr. Dunn's business will be sold.

The fishing in Lakes Clear and Katchawanooka is better than ever, and tourists at the Lakeview and South Beach are reported to have made some excellent catches.

The boatmen and lumbermen are glad to see the high water, as the assistance it renders them is no inconsiderable amount.

Justice Falconbridge Renders His Judgment

Mr. E. A. Peck Has Received Copy of His Judgment on Foley Will Case—Is Different From That Looked For—An Appeal May be Entered.

Mr. E. A. Peck, solicitor for the committee, formed of representatives of the city and county to administer the income from the will of the late Mrs. Foley, has received from Toronto a copy of the judgment delivered yesterday by Mr. Justice Falconbridge in the case at Osgoode Hall. The judgment is as follows:

"It was the intention of the testatrix that the payment of annuities should commence immediately after her decease, but as a matter of fact, the annuitants waited for about three years, and have not, except during the last year or two, received the whole amount of their annuities. I do not think that it was the intention of the testatrix that the sum which represents income or revenue, which would have been paid to deceased annuitants, should be applicable for charitable use, during the lifetime of any annuitant claiming under the will, who has suffered any deficiency.

The amount, therefore, of $960, in question, and any further sum which may accrue by reason of the death of annuitants, should be placed to capital account, and the income thereof applied to supplement pro rata the past shortages in annuitants, and until the last mortal annuitant shall have departed this life, or shall have received the full amount of his or her arrears. Costs to all parties out of the fund."

This judgment was entirely different from that expected by Mr. Peck, and he stated that he did not know yet what action would be taken. He contended that he did not believe the late Mrs. Foley intended the construction placed on her will which the judge had placed, and while it would be for the committee to decide, he would not be surprised if an appeal were made against the judgment. He intimated, however, that the different parties interested might arrange the matter themselves to their mutual satisfaction.

Rifles Will Wear Serges

Tunics Too Hot for the Dominion Day.

The Brantford Expositor yesterday said: In connection with the military manoeuvres on Dominion Day, the Dufferin Rifles are to be allowed to use their serge uniforms instead of the regulation tunics. The tunic is the proper thing for review order, but on account of it being heavily lined, the officers have decided that it would be too warm for the men. The place of the tunics will be taken by the lightweight serges and the soldiers are greatly pleased at the departure from the usual custom.

New uniforms were issued to the Peterborough regiment several weeks ago, and the visitors promise to enter a smart appearance on Dominion Day.

LOST A FINGER IN ACCIDENT

Mr. Harry Riches, an employee of the George Matthews Co., met with an unfortunate accident to-day, in which he lost a part of the middle finger of the left hand. He was operating a chopper when his finger accidentally got under the knife. A number of doctors were 'phoned for, but all were busy on their morning calls, and Mr. Riches found difficulty in having the wound dressed. He finally succeeded, and will only be laid up for a few days.

Advance Party For Brantford

Capt. Eastwood Leaves This Afternoon to Prepare Camp.

This afternoon the quartermaster of the 57th Regiment, Captain V. Eastwood, will go to Brantford with his quartermaster-sergeant, Wm. Edwards, and 10 men, for the purpose of arranging the grounds for the regiment for the 1st and 2nd of July.

This morning Capt. Eastwood was in telephonic communication with Col. Cameron, of the Dufferin Rifles, and the latter informed him that the tents and blankets had arrived, and he had directed them to be stored in the armoury until to-morrow, when the men from the 57th will be there to pitch them and prepare the camp.

Capt. Eastwood will return to-morrow afternoon, and on Saturday Major Hayes will be in Brantford to take charge of the preparations.

Y.M.C.A. Work At The Militia Camp, Cobourg

Mr. G. H. Williamson Returns and Reports on the Work.

Mr. G. H. Williamson, the local Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., returned this morning from Cobourg, where he has been for the past week, in charge of a department of the Y.M.C.A. work in connection with the Military Camp. Mr. Williamson reports that the work of the Y.M.C.A. at the camp this year was more satisfactory than in any previous year. In point of attendance at the tents and at the meetings this year's camp was most satisfactory. Mr. Williamson had charge of the Post Office department and 3,200 letters passed through this department during the week. A dry canteen was also conducted, and was largely patronized. Speaking of the general department of the men, Mr. Williamson said that it was splendid. After the first day he saw very few men the worse of liquor, and they conducted themselves with credit.

GRAND LODGE COMMITTEE MET

Good progress was made last night at the meeting of the I.O.O.F. Oddfellows' Grand Lodge Committee, arranging for the August session of Grand Lodge. It was decided to give the visiting members a trip over the Lift Lock, probably on the afternoon of Wednesday, Aug. 8th. Several other matters were also advanced a stage. The committee will meet again on Wednesday, July 4.

Science in Selecting Proper Foods

People Are Unhealthy Because They Do Not Eat The Right Food.

In these days of adulterated foods and food products such a food as is known to be pure and wholesome is indeed welcome. We have heard of many breakfast foods and cereal products—some broadly advertised as whole products, others as cure-alls for every disease known to man. No doubt they are all good and possessed of some merit, but most of them are manufactured with some foreign sweetening agent to make them palatable. Among all the breakfast and cereal foods offered the public to-day, we believe we are warranted in saying that Malta-Vita is the only food that is simply and wholly pure grain product and nothing else, except a little salt. Malta-Vita as it comes to you from the factory is all of the wheat. It has been thoroughly cleaned, steamed to gelatinize the starch, then added to it is barley malt extract made from selected barley—this, acting upon the starch, turns it into maltose or malt sugar, pronounced by physicians and food experts the finest, purest, most healthful sweetening agent known. Then the grain of wheat is rolled out flat into a thin wafer flake and baked in the ovens. It comes to you fresh and pure and sweet—absolutely nothing but a grain product prepared in the cleanest and most wholesome way and turned into the most delicious whole wheat food that can be found. Malta-Vita is sold by all grocers. Now 10 cents.

LITTLE BELL BIOGRAPHIES

Mozart

WOLFGANG AMADEUS MOZART, though but 35 years old at his death, left a name second only to Bach's. He was born in 1756 and died in 1791. He was the first "infant prodigy" of the musical world, and his career proves the necessity of having good music in the home for the making of a musician.

When the merest child, Mozart would always be found at the clavier picking out sweet little melodies. When four he was placed under a teacher and even then composed short pieces which astonished his parents and instructor. At seven he played so wonderfully that he made a concert tour of Europe. Before he was ten he had written six sonatas, one composition for full orchestra, and an oratorio. At twelve he wielded the conductor's baton. Of his many compositions the most popular are his opera, "The Magic Flute," and his "Requiem;" the latter sung by some friends and himself as his eyes closed in death.

As a pianist Mozart was the originator of the concert tour, and as great in his day as Paderewski in ours. But, like Bach, he was handicapped by the instrument he used—the clavier. How wonderful had been his music if he could only have played upon

MINING LAW MALADMINISTRATION.

The Whitney Government assumed office with a grandiloquently expressed claim to lofty motives, purity of administration and government for the people—not in the interests of corporations or persons. How splendidly they have forfeited all claim to credit for even an attempt to carry out such a programme is plainly evident. The administration of the license law was to be rigid and absolutely non-political. Yet no other department of the Government has been more systematically prostituted to serve the purposes of "graft" and advantage to the political friends and leeches of the Government. Now the whole Cobalt district is seething with discontent in regard to the mining law, and its administration, which without exaggeration, seems to be exploited for the benefit of the friends of the Government. The system of inspection and the arbitrary powers appear to be directed towards giving the friends of Ministers an advantage in respect of the rights of other applicants whose claims can be disposed of on a mere technicality. That this is no imaginary condition, is shown by the widespread and deep discontent of the miners and prospectors in the Cobalt district. Many of the political allies of the Government, but perhaps not party grafters, are as much discontented and disgusted as others of a different political affiliation. It is not too much to infer from the local feeling exhibited, that this state of things is deliberately created, in order to favour any person whom the Minister delights to honour, to the disadvantage of an applicant who might not be personally and politically agreeable to the autocrat in office. The discontent which has been engendered by these unsatisfactory conditions, is intense, in fact so intense that even good Conservatives, who are doubtless not of the favoured few of the household of faith are even threatening rebellion and secession, and public meetings are to be held to protest against the mining law and regulations and their practically partisan administration. A few years ago the Whitney Government party was loud in their condemnation of the mining laws enacted by a Liberal Government, and last session the Conservative Government essayed to show what it could do in the way of improvement. The law they passed was open to grave objection and much, and even more, of the evils predicted at the time the bill was under consideration, have been justified by the condition in the Cobalt district, where it appears that bona fide prospectors have not a fair chance or honest treatment as against political friends of the Minister or Government. The mining wealth of the district is too great, the public interests involved too momentous to be made a political plaything or a medium of rewarding political friends. The mining interests are not only jeopardized and actually injured but the commercial interests of the whole district affected by mining operations are being injuriously affected. The public interests should be the first consideration of the administration of a trust like that in question, but the Whitney Government in this, as in many other things, seems to have lost sight of this fact and given the preference to the promotion of party interests. The Government is called upon to act promptly to remedy the ruinous condition which exists. We are anxious to attract capital to develop our great natural resources, but the course the Government is pursuing will drive away capital, and obstruct the development of what is pronounced the richest silver mining district in the world. We have spent two or three million in exploring New Ontario and building a railway to promote the development of its undoubted riches—too large a sum to warrant—apart from considerations of a moral nature—these resources being used to promote the political interests of a Government by the enrichment of its friends and parasites.

Indigestion And Biliousness Cured

Bileans Restore an Amhers Man.

The value of Bileans in cases of longstanding indigestion and biliousness is illustrated in the experience of Mr. Thomas Molyneaux, of herst. He says, "For fully three years I was subject to indigestion and bilious attacks. The latter would come on every two or three days, and cause me great suffering. I had experimented during that time with I don't know how many different medicines, but the biliousness and indigestion went on just the same. I saw Bileans very highly spoken of in some of the newspapers, and obtained a supply. These I took according to directions, and I am pleased to say that from first commencing with Bileans I have not had another attack. I consider them a fine medicine."

Bileans for Biliousness cure headache, constipation, piles, liver trouble, indigestion and all digestive disorders, female ailments, skin eruptions, biliousness, sick headaches, bad taste in the mouth, foul breath, dizziness, fainting, buzzing noises in the head, feelings of uncomfortable fullness even after a light meal, wind pains, anaemia, debility, etc. They also act as a general tonic, and by improving the tone of the whole system, enable it to throw off colds, chills, rheumatism, etc. They improve the general circulation, and are a boon to pale-faced girls and weak women. For all purposes to which a household remedy is put, Bileans will be found of excellent service.

Obtainable from all druggists and stores at 50 cents per box, or direct from the Bilean Co., Colborne street, Toronto, upon receipt of price. Six boxes for $2.50.

A Local Angler Gets Big Fish

Mr. Wallace Wood Lands a 23-Pounder With Rod and Line.

Mr. Wallace Wood is being congratulated to-day on the big success he scored in one of his early pisatorial excursions to Keene. While fishing off Hickory Island on Rice Lake on Tuesday evening a monster lunge snapped at the bait almost dragging fisherman, rod and line into the water. "Wally," however, with the presence of mind of a tried angler, succeeded in landing the big fish with the greatest surprise in his life. When weighed the lunge turned the scale at just 23 lbs, 5 oz., and measured 46 inches from the end of the nose to the centre of the tail. This is one of the biggest fish which has been secured in the county this year and is a record hard to beat.

Peterborough Boys Are Working Hard

The Men in the Composite Regiment at Camp Yesterday Took Part in Regular Drills—Col. Gordon is Pleased With Their Appearance—Compliments the Officers—Great Field-Day To-day.

Examiner Special.

Cobourg Camp, June 28.—(With the Peterborough boys.)—One day and a half of the three days spent already, and the Peterborough boys are just beginning to get into touch with camp life. Yesterday the Composite Regiment, of which the two companies from the 57th form a part which they consider important—and very likely it is, was put through its paces and the general impression was that the men passed the ordeal creditably. Of course, taking a regiment of six companies made up from three distinct organizations, they were not quite as smooth in their evolutions as they would be had they worked together, but on the whole it is quite safe to say that they surprised some of the officers of the other regiments, and the city boys from Peterborough, Kingston and Belleville speedily became popular with the other soldiers in camp. It was no time before they had become acquainted with the other boys and last night they were bob-nobbing it as if they had been lifelong friends.

The new comers, too, dug into work like veterans and took all that was given them in the way of drills and said nothing. It was a pretty severe drubbing that they received yesterday, too. Col. Gordon, who is in command of the camp is a hard worker himself, and he expects the men to work, too. No scheming goes with him, and the men very soon discovered that fact. There was, however, on the part of the boys from Peterborough, no disposition to shirk their work, and by reason of this they very soon attracted the attention of the Commanding Officer, who complimented the officers in command of the Peterborough companies upon the soldierly appearance presented, and the qualities displayed by the men from the banks of the Otonabee. "You have a fine lot of men" he remarked to one of the officers—and he said it as if he meant it, too—and when the boys heard of it they very modestly remarked that of course they deserved it or Col. Gordon would not have said it.

To-day's programme is one to which the men have been looking forward for weeks—the Field Day and Sham Battle, and this will practically end one of the most successful camps in the history of No. 3 District. Not quite as successful, of course, as it it had been held at Peterborough, but good for Cobourg. Col. Miller is expected to arrive in camp this morning, and the Peterborough soldiers—that's the term to apply to them now since they have been to camp, are determined to do the 57th Regiment proud. It will be a great day for Cobourg, and it is expected that the largest number of persons in the history of the town will be assembled here to-day to witness the sham battle, in which the whole camp of 4,000 men will take part.

To-morrow the camp will break up, and the men will leave for their homes during the afternoon, the Peterborough companies expecting to arrive home early in the evening, and immediately get into shape for their trip to Brantford, which this little outing has just prepared them for.

Lawyers Couldn't Accommodate All

Regret That Many Friends Were Left Behind.

The lawyers of the city express their regrets that they could not accommodate more of their friends on the excursion Tuesday on account of the limited proportions of the steamer. There were many citizens whom they would have liked to have on board, but for this reason found it impossible. Next year they hope to have a larger boat for the big event so that all their friends may be permitted to join in the day's festivities.

Piano Recital By Pupils Of Miss Lilian Hurley

Successful Recital Given at Her Studio Last Night—Creditable Exposition by Pupils of Results of Successful Teaching.

Last night at the studio of Miss Lilian Hurley, her pianoforte pupils presented a delightful programme. The work of the contributors, the older, as well as the little artists, revealed evidences of excellent instruction in the way of technical facility and intelligent conception of the spirit of music. Nearly all the selections were played from memory, a very important feature of artistic playing. The pupils were assisted by Miss Mona O'Shea, a vocal pupil of Herr Wilhelmj, and by Mr. Hugh Brady, late of Montreal, a very satisfactory tenor. There was a large attendance of the parents and friends of the pupil who testified their enjoyment and appreciation of the programme by their close attention. The following is the

DOCTORS ENDORSE HERPICIDE

Because Its Formula is Submitted to Them.

Alexander McMillan, M.D., a prominent physician of Lansing, Mich., writes: "On three cases I have tested Herpicide for dandruff, and the result has been all that could be desired."

Herpicide is made upon an entirely new principle, that is, that dandruff and falling hair are caused from a microbe that infests the hair bulb, and, by destroying the microbe, one's hair is bound to grow luxuriantly. Herpicide is the only hair remedy that claims to, and really does destroy, the dandruff germs.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Sperial Agents.

SUTCLIFFE STOCK TO BE REMOVED SOON

The Lindsay Post says: A transaction of considerable importance has just been completed, whereby Messrs. J. Sutcliffe & Sons, have bought from the estate of the late J. Sutcliffe, the Peterborough business, consisting of about $25,000 worth of well selected millinery, mantles, dress goods, gloves, hosiery, smallwares, and general drygoods. Their attention would be too much divided if they were to continue the Peterborough business, so they have decided to clear it out, and in the event of their not selling the stock enbloc, they intend moving it to Lindsay or Oshawa about the first of August

The Christian Scientists' Park

Option Secured on Large Tract of Land.

Buffalo, June 27.—Christian Scientists from various parts of Canada and the United States are perfecting plans for the establishment of an international assembly park on the Canadian shore of Lake Erie between Rose Hill, Ont., and Windmill Point. An option has been secured upon 120 acres of land at this point owned by Franklin S. Buell, and the property will undoubtedly be purchased, as plans are already being drawn for the laying out of the Assembly Park. Summer cottages, a hotel and amphitheatre or lecture hall, are to be erected according to the plans of the promoters, who hope to have for Christian Scientists what the Chautauqua Assembly grounds are to the Methodists. The site of the proposed Assembly Park, is but a few miles west of Fort Erie, and is within sight of Buffalo. The site has an frontage of 3,000 feet on the beach.

Arrangements For The T. A. S. Picnic

Committee in Charge Has Spared no Pains to Make Monday's Event an Enjoyable One—Booths Erected and Seating Accommodation Provided.

Arrangements for the T.A.S. picnic on Monday next are progressing very favourably, and if the weather man is good the prospects are that it will be the greatest day in the history of the society. Yesterday a number of men were sent to the park to erect booths and a flag staff. A well has also been sunk on the park, where good clear water may be obtained by the excursionists. A lunch counter will be provided, where tea and coffee and lunches may be procured by those who do not provide it for themselves.

The committee in charge has received inquiries from a number of outside places in reference to train connections, and it is probable that a large number from outside the city will attend. The boats will make their trips to connect with the trains.

Tickets are being issued, in conjunction with the Street Railway and they entitle the holder to passage both ways on the street cars. It will be advisable for those intending to go to the picnic to purchase their tickets early. They may be procured at Lang & Maher's, Lane & Eano's and Merrell & Meredith's stores, and the T.A.S. rooms.

The committee is sparing no pains to contribute to the comfort and pleasure of those who attend the picnic, and a delightful day is fully assured.

Hastings May Get The Radiator Works

Ald. Mason and Mr. W. S. Davidson Address Special Meeting of Hastings Council—Ask Bonus of $5000, Free Site and Exemption—What the Council Offers.

Hastings, June, 28.—A special meeting of the village council was held on Thursday evening for the prupose of coming to some decision regarding the offer of the Peterborough Radiator and Boiler Company to locate in Hastings. All of the councillors were present and there was considerable discussion.

Messrs. Davidson and Mason were present in the interests of the company. The company asked for a $5,000 bonus, exemption from taxes for twenty years and a free site.

Several suggestions were made but the offer finally decided upon to make to the company was that proposed by Councillor Chapman, which was as follows:—The village to give the company exemption from taxes for twenty years and $5,000. The money to be paid as follows: The company to put up buildings, worth at least $5,000, and employ 25 hands, (fifteen of whom must be skilled mechanics,) continuously for one year, when half the bonus will be paid; the second year additional buildings to the value of $3,000 must be erected, the same number of men employed as the year before, when $1,500 more will be paid; and the balance, $1,000, to be paid at the end of the third year if the same number of men are employed. If at any time within the twenty years the company fails to fulfil their contract the plant will become the property of the village.

This offer made a very favourable impression with the company's representatives. It will be considered by the company and if satisfactory the necessary papers will be drawn up. The bylaw will be submitted to the property owners of Hastings for their approval or disapproval. The company are to put up bonds to the effect that if the bylaw carries and they fail to fulfill their contract they will have to pay the costs of the by-law.

How Eczema Is Recognized

HOW IT IS PROMPTLY RELIEVED AND THOROUGHLY CURED BY

Dr. Chase's Ointment

There are many kinds of eczema, but all have such symptoms as redness of the skin, with a yellow tinge, discharge of watery matter and the heat and inflammation, swelling, disformation of a crust.

The most constant and troublesome feature is the itching and burning which varies from that which is simply annoying to that which is positively unendurable.

Then there is the tendency for eczema to become chronic and spread to other parts of the body.

Persistent treatment is always necessary, but you can depend on it that Dr. Chase's Ointment will cure you. Relief will come after the first few applications, and the healing process will be gradual and natural.

It is due to its remarkable record in the cure of eczema that Dr. Chase's Ointment has become known the world over. For every form of itching skin disease or skin irritation it is of incalculable worth.

Mrs. B. Stoddard, Delhi, Norfolk Co., Ont., writes as follows: "I was troubled with eczema for over twelve years, and doctoring during that time with four different physicians, but found that they could give only temporary relief. I saw Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised, decided to try it, and before I had used half a box found great relief and change. Altogether, I have used three boxes, and am now completely cured. I have recommended it to my neighbors, and can say it is the best I have ever used, and, in my estimation, worth it weight in gold."

Mrs. A. McKnight, Kirkwall, Wellington Co., Ont., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know what Dr. Chase's Ointment has done in a very bad case of eczema on our baby. We had tried any number of cures without any permanent relief, but from the hour we commenced using Dr. Chase's Ointment there was great relief and the improvement continued until there was complete cure. We think it the greatest of family ointments."

Mothers use Dr. Chase's Ointment for the chafing and skin troubles of their babies in preference to unsanitary pore-clogging powders; 60 cts. a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Company, Toronto.

THE COUNCIL AND ALBERT STREET

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Ho! Ho City Fathers, awake from your slumbers and don't have the next generation cursing the days you sat in council as we might justly do with those who sat there before you for not securing the right of way for George and Alymer street, when it could have been done at a reasonable cost to the people and thereby avoid the enormous price that we will have to pay. Now here we have got Albert street coming to an end at Alfred street. Now by making a slight jog at Alfred street, Albert street could be carried through at a slight cost but in order to do this it must be looked after at once. This, I suppose, would be an unreasonable request to make of a council so slow they won't wake up and see the bear until he appears in the shape of a house where they could now put the street. I believe this to be an urgent matter as the field across the Boundary or Monaghan Road has been planned in lots and a continuation of Albert street has been left with this little block out of the centre. I would like to call your attention to the fact that there are some improvements going on on the said property at the present time. In my opinion the money would be better spent than entertaining Old Country bowlers as I have noticed by this evening's Examiner the council is very generous in this respect.

ALBERT STREET CITIZEN.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, June 28.—The stock market was under pressure during the first two hours again to-day. After a fractionally lower opening a slight rally took place only to be followed by a most vicious drive by the bears. The attack was centred upon St. Paul, U.P., Copper and Steel stocks. Long stocks were thrown overboard and many stop-loss orders reached. The steels sold at the lowest figure for months.

Many buying orders were found at the lower level and about noon a sharp rally set in. Prices rebounded quickly as the bears tried to cover and the early losses were soon regained. The market steadily acquired strength as those who had sold early tried to get back their stocks, copper and Southern Pacific being in especially good demand. We advise the purchase of Southern Pacific for a long pull. The close was active and strong at the best.

At the Bowling Lawn last night the record score in the history of the Brookside green was made. Skip Giroux won from skip D. Belleghem by 23 up which beats all past records of the club. The following are the results of last night's games:—

TURF.

Mr. John Aldous, of Fenelon Falls, Ont., is the gentleman who first discovered Little Hector, 2.11 3-4, formerly a half-mile track hero, and has been in the horse business ever since. He now owns Dan Finnister, 2.23 1-2, by Roadmaster; Antean, a fast trotting son of Antevolo, 2.19 1-4, and a number of colts and fillies. Mr. Aldous is a prominent business man of Fenelon Falls and a royal entertainer. In the language of old Rip Van Winkle, may he live long and prosper.—Horse World.

• • • •

Mr. Wm. Simpson, of Lindsay, Ont., is taking in the Canadian Circuit as a source of recreation this season. He owns Joe Allen, a fast pacing son of Malvolio, 2.17 1-4, and is one of the most highly esteemed gentlemen in Ontario. Mr. J. Carew, a wealthy lumberman of the beautiful city, drives Maplewood, 2.19 1-4, on the road, and he's the king. Mr. George Curtis has Minnie Keswick, 2.16 1-4, in training at the driving park. The dam of Maud Keswick, 2.08 3-4, has been re-bred to his horse Keswick, 2.13 1-4. Mr. George Lytle, editor of the Watchman-Warder, and an enthusiastic horseman, died recently. Too bad. Mr. W. A. Fanning is having great success with his monthly horse sale at his large repository. Truly Lindsay is one of the best towns of its size on the Canadian map.—Horse World.

• • • •

Everybody down the racing line knows Mr. George Powell, of Orillia, Canada. He is a model reinsman and a gentleman both in and out of the sulky. Recently he was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Watson, of Bowmanville, and the happy couple have been showered with congratulations. May a lucky horseshoe always hang over the door.—Horse World.

POLICEMAN ASKED THE TRAVELLER'S PARDON

The guests at the Oriental Hotel last night were witnesses to rather an amusing scene. It appears that at the G. T. R. station earlier in the day a member of the local police force and a traveller got into a wordy argument, the question in dispute being the enforcement of the license law. The story goes to the effect that the limb of the law told the traveller some things which would not look well in print, and the sequel was witnessed last night when the member of the force referred to, went to the hotel, and apologised to the traveller, much to the amusement of those who were witnesses to the affair. On this trip he was accompanied by the Chief of Police.

Greeks Were Discharged By Mr. Dumble

Interesting Case at Police Court This Morning.

Louis and George Pourgeordis and Mikhel Cokoleides, the three Greeks charged with theft by Michail Pappas, proprietor of the Greek shoe shine parlour, occupied the attention of Police Magistrate Dumble for two hours and a half this morning, and finally resulted in the three being discharged. The case had created a lot of interest in the city and the court room was well filled. The evidence was complicated and as the Magistrate remarked in summing up, it was hard for any court of justice to decide what had been proved. A significant fact that came out during the course of the evidence was that the boys received little or no pocket money, and one witness swore that he even gave the tips he received to Pappas. The Magistrate several times spoke rather severely of Pappas' conduct. Once he remarked that the case seemed to be one of an unnatural uncle who wanted to send his nephews to goal for $2 and at another time he compared him to that uncle who sent his little nephew and niece out into the woods to the redbreast.

Pappas himself was the first witness when the case was called this morning. He stated that the Pourgeordis boys were his nephews. They were with him until Monday morning when they left. On Tuesday morning he came down to his shop and found Cokoleides and Chris. Demetre there. He asked Cokoleides if his nephews had been there and was answered in the negative. Afterwards Pappas had found shoe polish and cloth in McDonough's cigar store where Louis Pourgeordis had established a stand. The value of the lot was about 20 cents.

To Mr. O'Connell, who appeared for the prisoners, Pappas said that he had lived in Canada for three years. He did not know why the boys had left him. He sent wages to their father.

Demetre, an employee of the shoe-shine parlour, was the next witness, and said that he had worked for Pappas for five or six months. His wages were $125 a year. He saw George and Louis in the shop on Tuesday morning. He stated that he saw both take polish and liquid. Louis had come back and got some more. Cokoleides had told him not to tell Pappas or he would lick him.

To Mr. O'Connell he said that he had received no wages yet. He said George put the polish in his pockets.

Louis Pourgeordis, one of the accused, was the first witness for the defence. He swore to having purchased three boxes of shoe polish and four rags from Cokoleides in Pappas' store for 50c. Cokoleides put the money in the cash register. Witness got the money from Demetre Brom., a cheque for $14.56, with which he purchased a bed, a chair and shoe stand, and $3.50 in cash. He did not get anything from Pappas' store which he did not pay for, nor was his brother George there at all.

Cokoleides and George Pourgeordis gave evidence corroborating that of the first defence's witness.

Pappas was recalled by the Crown and said that he had looked into the till after Cokoleides had left, and there was no money there with the exception of a five-cent piece.

The magistrate discharged the case, commenting rather severely on the action of Pappas in trying to send his two nephews to jail for $2. The boys were harshly treated and probably had good reason for leaving. He was ashamed that the case had been brought up. Sympathy in the case was evidently on the side of the boys and the general opinion is that their life was not a bed of roses.

Lively Runaway Cleverly Caught

Mr. L. Brooks Surprises the Onlookers of the Feat.

A sensational catch of a sensational runaway occurred this afternoon in front of Mr. LeBrun's dry goods store. A horse attached to a wagon made a dash for liberty down George street, when Mr. Louis Brooks, who was crossing at the corner of Hunter and George streets, reached out and caught the bridle. By his alertness he succeeded in checking the progress of the animal after he had been dragged 30 feet or more. The bystanders considered it a clever action on the part of Mr. Brooks to stop the horse, which was getting over the road at such a rapid rate.

The Man Who Robbed McGee Was Arrested

The Offender in Victoria Park Affair Caught at Cobourg.

Chief of Police Roszel last night received a telegram from Chief of Police Rose, of Cobourg, to the effect that the man who, two weeks ago, robbed John McGee of $65 and a gold watch in Victoria Park, had been arrested there yesterday. Chief Roszel at the time of the affair had notified the authorities of all nearby towns. The man will arrive to-night at 5 o'clock and will receive a preliminary hearing to-morrow.

Closing Days Of The Leafy Month See Many Weddings

O'DONOGHUE--KELLY.

A quiet wedding was solemnized this morning at eight o'clock at St. Peter's cathedral, when Miss Madge E. Kelly, daughter of Mr. J. Kelly, was married to Mr. T. J. O'Donoghue, son of Mr. Robert O'Donoghue. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate friends of the bride and groom, by Rev. Father McColl. He was assisted by Masters Sarsfield and Richard Sheehy. The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of point d'esprit over taffeta and carried a pearl covered prayer book, the gift of a friend. The bridesmaid was Miss May Kelly, a sister of the bride, who wore a dress of white organdie.

The groom was assisted by Mr. Fred McFadden. The wedding march was played by Miss Doherty.

After the ceremony the guests partook of a dainty wedding breakfast, prepared by Mr. Long, at the home of the bride's father. A large number of beautiful presents testified to the popularity of the young couple. They left on the 11.45 G.T.R. train for Toronto, Niagara, Buffalo and other southern points, and, on their return will reside on Bolivar street.

SMALLPIECE--SYLVESTER.

This afternoon in Toronto the wedding is taking place at the residence of the bride's father, of Mr. Frank Smallpiece, of the engineering staff of the Canadian General Electric Co., to Miss Sylvester, daughter of Dr. Sylvester. Mr. and Mrs. Smallpiece will reside in Peterborough.

TURNBULL--RODDY.

The wedding was quietly celebrated last night of Miss Annie Roddy, daughter of Mr. Edward Roddy, 329 Sherbrooke street, to Mr. Joseph Turnbull, of Kingston. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's father at 7.30 o'clock, by Rev. W. J. Jolliffe. Only the immediate relatives of the young couple were present, and the bride and groom were unattended. The witnesses were Mrs. McGill and Mr. Harry Roddy, sister and brother of the bride, respectively.

The bride was becomingly attired in white silk, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her travelling gown was of fawn coloured cloth with hat to match. After the ceremony a recherche dejuner was served. The wedding presents received were numerous and costly, testifying to the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

Mr. and Mrs. Turnbull left on the G.T.R. train for Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo. They will reside in Peterborough, Mr. Turnbull having secured a position in the C. G. E. works.

MULLEN--GRAY.

A pretty end-of-June wedding was solemnized at 7 o'clock yesterday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Gray, 209 Murray street, when their daughter, Miss Hattie, was united in marriage to Mr. George Edward Mullen, of Smith. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Canon Davidson, of St. John's church, in the presence of about 30 guests, the friends of the bride and groom. The wedding march was played by Miss Retta Stewart, East City. The bride was given away by her father, and was attired in a gown of white French silk, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Maggie Gray, a sister of the bride. She was attired in a dress of white organdie over taffeta and carried pink carnations. Miss Muzletta Nelson, of Lang, niece of the bride, was maid of honour, and wore white silk and also carried pink carnations. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Amos J. Mullen, of this city. After the ceremony, the guests retired to the dining-room, where a sumptuous wedding dinner was partaken of, and afterwards the evening was gaily spent in music and games. The presents were both numerous and costly, showing the high esteem in which the young couple were held. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and guard, and to the bridesmaid he gave a gold brooch. The happy couple left in the early hours of the morning for their future home in Smith, the bride's going-away dress being of blue cloth trimmed with cream satin and lace, with hat to match. The good wishes of their many friends are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Mullen for their future happiness.

MACKELLAR--BUTLER.

The Manhattan, (Nevada), News, of a recent date, has the following item, which will be of interest locally, the bride and her mother being formerly residents of Peterborough. The News says:

Dr. MacKellar, one of Manhattan's popular and successful physicians, has joined the ranks of benedicts. The doctor was united in marriage to Miss Clara Marjorie Butler of Chicago, at Tonopah last Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, the wedding taking place in the parlors of the Mizpah Hotel in that city. Rev. Dr. Driver, pastor of the Tonopah Baptist church, was the officiating clergyman.

The bride was attired in a dainty gown of dark blue foulard silk, trimmed with point Venice lace, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was Mrs. M. H. Gardner, and the groomsman was Mr. Arthur Philbrick. The hotel parlours were beautifully decorated in honour of the occasion with carnations, roses and greenery, looped and festooned about the apartment with artistic effect. At the upper end of the room, where the marriage ceremony was performed, were banked in effective profusion potted palms and ferns, intermingled with white roses and carnations, their fragrance filling the air with perfume and imparting an ideal June wedding effect to the occasion.

Mrs. MacKellar is the daughter of Mrs. (Dr.) Butler of Chicago, and is very pretty, additional grace being lent to her beauty by the charm of her personality. Her sunny and vivacious disposition, has endeared her to the residents of Chicago, and she will be a welcome addition to the ranks of Manhattan society.

Dr. MacKellar took up his residence in Manhattan shortly after the advent of the early pioneers, and has established a lucrative practice. His professional associate is Dr. Garner, also a leading practitioner. Both gentlemen are popular in the community and have been almost unvaryingly successful both in professional and social affairs.

The newly-wedded couple had intended passing their honeymoon at California coast points, but were forced to abandon the trip owing to the recent runaway accident in which Dr. Garner sustained a fracture of the left leg. Dr. and Mrs. MacKellar are at home to their friends at the Hotel Kirkwood.

LONDRY--McGREGOR.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of the bride, on George street, last evening, at six o'clock, when Samuel Londry, son of Mr. John Londry, and Miss Kate McGregor, daughter of the late Gregor McGregor, were united in the sacred ties of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. Steurnagel, pastor of Bethany Tabernacle. The invitations had been limited to the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride, who was tastefully attired in cream eolinne, was assisted by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Roy McGregor, while the bridegroom was supported by Mr. Roy McGregor. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Ald. Geo. H. Duncan.

Among the many gifts showing the high esteem in which the bride was held by her many friends, was a beautiful silver water set, the gift of the staff of Hazel Brae, of which the bride was a member for some years. After a sumptuous marriage supper and many hearty greetings the happy couple took the train for Port Hope, Toronto, Sarnia, and other points. Upon their return they will take up residence on McDonel street.

Engineer Writes In July "Power"

Mr. James Noble Proving Himself a Clever Writer.

An old townsman of Peterborough, James E. Noble, seems to be letting the Toronto people know that he is alive; incidentally he is proving that the best men come from Peterborough.

Some time ago it was the Examiner's pleasure to print a small news item about Mr. Noble's success as a writer on Engineering subjects. Since that time some fifteen articles from his pen have appeared in the technical papers. In this year's July "Power," the leading paper on steam power plants in America, appears a leading article by Mr. Noble, and also a description of an almatic boiler fit dreiner. Both articles are illustrated with drawings by the author. The Examiner is glad to learn about Jimmie's continued success, and is sure his many friends and acquaintances in Peterborough will share this feeling.

Contract Is Awarded For Extension To The Canadian General Works

Examiner is Informed That Montreal Construction Company, in Which H. Holgate is Interested, Has the Contract—Work to Commence at Once—Architect of the Company in City To-day.

The Examiner learns on the most reliable authority that the contract for the large extensions to the Canadian General Electric Company's here has been let to a large contracting firm in Montreal, and that work will be commenced at once.

It is understood that the intention of the contractor is to place a big staff of men on the job and rush the work as rapidly as possible, and inside of a month the buildings will be well under way. The presence in the city to-day of the company's architect, Mr. A. R. Leicester, of Toronto, is significant in this connection, and that he is here for the purpose of getting the work under way is not doubted. He is accompanied by Mr. Henry Holgate, of Montreal, who is a member of the contracting firm. Together, this afternoon, they went to Nassau to consider some proposed improvements to the power house there.

That the company had decided to proceed at once with the construction of the new buildings will be welcome news to the citizens of Peterborough, for it will mean at once a big increase to the business of all kinds, and especially those allied to the building trades. The Canadian General Electric Company evidently meant business when the agreement was entered into with the city to be given fixed assessment in consideration of extending their works.

Coal Oil Is Struck In Ennismore Township

Hickson Brothers Farm Believed to Contain the Hidden Treasure—Expert From Seattle Views the Situation—Should the Project Proceed Township Will Grow Rapidly.

Will Peterborough County have an oil well within its limits in the near future? This is a question which is being answered in the affirmative by many residents of Ennismore and from present indications, appearances are in favour of the big project being accomplished.

The oil is situated on the farm of the Hickson Brothers about two miles north-east of the Cross. Indications of its presence were first noticed a few weeks ago by Mr. Hickson and at the first opportunity he secured an expert who went over the ground where the petroleum was supposed to be hidden.

The expert was Mr. Nelson of Seattle, and although he has not yet given out an official statement, his reticence only lends a more hopeful aspect to the proposition of establishing an oil industry in Ennismore township.

Should this be done, and from the present outlook no scheme ever looked brighter, the future history of Ennismore will be materially changed. A large number of men will be necessary to run the factory and railway connections will no doubt be made.

An oil well in this section would greatly assist in the advertising of Peterborough County which is now coming to the front as one of the most industrious in the province.

Travelled Far To Buy Saw Mill Machinery

Mr. McKenzie, of Sydney, N. S. Wales, Australia, Here Inspecting Prices at Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company's Works—Is Interested in Milling in Distant Island.

That the fame of Peterborough's industries is spreading abroad is evidenced by the presence in this city to-day of Mr. H. McKenzie, of Sydney, N.S.W, Australia. This gentleman has travelled all the way from the southern island for the purpose of purchasing saw mill machinery. Mr. McKenzie is reported to be interested in the saw mill business in Australia, and has some 5,000 miles and travelled for five weeks, to obtain the necessary machinery. His visit to Peterborough is in connection with that object, and Mr. McKenzie has been investigating the prices of saw mill machinery at the William Hamilton Company's works here, with the intention of purchasing, if the terms are satisfactory. It speaks well for the good name of the products of this establishment that it should have reached the ears of a gentleman of the far-away colony of Australia.

afternoon, on the 5.30 G. T. R. train, accompanied by Mrs. Manning and two sons and two daughters. They have taken up residence at the parsonage and will spend the balance of the week, getting accustomed to the surroundings. Mr. Manning was very busy this morning when called upon by the Examiner, and had been in the city too short a time to be in a position to state his impressions of Peterborough. He is, however, not a stranger to the city, having some years ago being stationed at Port Perry, and was acquainted with a number of Peterborough people. Since that time, however, he notices a great change in this place. It has grown wonderfully and has taken on a metropolitan aspect, which was entirely lacking at that time.

On Sunday Rev. Mr. Manning will occupy the pulpit at both services.

Detective Wells Gives Up Game

Finds the Barton Murder Case Hopeless.

Toronto, June 29. — Provincial Detective Wells has arrived at the conclusion that further time spent in an endeavour to solve the Barton murder mystery, would not be productive of result. He is convinced that he came upon a valuable clue in his discovery of the kind of footwear worn by the victim, and that had he been commissioned to handle the case at the outset he would have been able to effect an arrest. As it is he has become wearied of an investigation which promises scant results. "I will not spend another hour on it," he declared yesterday.

57th Companies Best In Camp

Says Cobourg Citizen in the City Yesterday.

"The Peterborough soldier boys were the best in camp," said a Cobourg visitor in the city yesterday in conversation with Lieut.-Col. Miller. He referred to their excellent marching, their soldierly bearing and their conduct while stationed there and thought that Peterborough as well as the Commanding Officer should feel proud of turning out such excellent men.

Even if the boys have returned with nut brown faces they have gained a reputation which is an honour to them and the regiment to which they belong.

Col. Hellliwell the commander also had warm words of praise for the local boys.

The 57th is requested to send three companies instead of two to the military camp next year.

TUMORS CONQUERED

SERIOUS OPERATIONS AVOIDED

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the Case of Mrs. Fannie D. Fox.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

The growth of a tumor is so sly that frequently its presence is not suspected until it is far advanced.

Mrs. Fannie D. Fox

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by profuse monthly periods, accompanied by unusual pain, from the abdomen through the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation or displacement, secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound right away and begin its use.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., will give you her advice if you will write her about yourself. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine. Eighteen months ago my periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly that I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation.

"Soon after I read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After trying five bottles as directed the tumor is entirely gone. I have been examined by a physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my periods around once more, and I am entirely well."—Fannie D. Fox, 7 Chesnut Street Bradford, Pa.

A Pioneer Of Church Dead

Late Mrs. Weir, of Lakehurst, a Friend of Methodism.

The Christian Guardian of this week has the following: "Lydia Nelson was born in the county of Peterborough in 1812. She was married in 1836, and came to Lakehurst with her husband, William Weir, to hew out a home. She had early in life given herself to her Saviour, and in her new home in the woods, the visits of the itinerating preachers were times of pleasure and profit. There the first religious services of Harvey township were held, and she ever remained a faithful and loyal member of the Methodist church. She quietly, quickly and silently, passed away on March 9th, leaving a loving husband, five sons and one daughter, to mourn her loss. Her place in our midst will not soon be filled."

ANOTHER HELLO LINE FOR CITY

The Garden Hill correspondent to the Port Hope Times, says:—

"One of the speakers at the Ladies' Institute was surprised to find such an up-to-date people with so few telephones and remarked that in a great many places nearly every one had a telephone. Arrangements are under way to unite the telephone system of East Durham with that of West Durham. This will be accomplished in a very short time then every subscriber will have free connection with several hundred 'phones, which will be a boon to business men. It is expected that the great trunk line of the Provincial Independent line will reach Orono and from there extend to Garden Hill with connections in Millbrook. Peterboro and Peterborough where independent 'phones are giving excellent satisfaction. Several large crates of telephones arrived at Garden Hill station yesterday for the independent lines.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Appreciation Of Rev. H. M. Manning Shown

New Pastor of Charlotte Street Church Was Presented With Engrossed Address on Leaving Clinton—Was Most Highly Respected in That Town.

The Clinton New Era of this week will say, in reference to the departure of Rev. H. M. Manning, who leaves Wesley church to accept the pastorate of the Charlotte street church:—

"No better tribute of appreciation could be shown any one than was shown Rev. Mr. Manning on the occasion of his last Sunday in the pulpit of fthis church. On Sunday he was greeted by large congregations morning and evening, that of the evening being so large as to tax the accommodation of the building, and many of those present were members of other congregations. At the close of the service Mr. Lough stepped to the platform, and on behalf of the congregation, presented him with a farewell address, signed by all the members. It was beautifully engrossed, and encased in a decorated leather cover. Mr. Manning, in a few fitting, but embarrassed words, expressed his appreciation of it. He and Mrs. Manning left on Tuesday for Peterborough, the other members of the family having preceded them."

Bailieboro Affair Is Still Deep Mystery

Rev. Mr. Nicholls, However, Writes a Letter to the Press —Says Chief Bond of Port Hope Misunderstood Him— The Telephone Episode—No Motive Known for the Attack—Some Conflicting Stories in Reference to the Circumstance.

The Port Hope Times has some further particulars in reference to the Bailieboro mystery. It says:—

No solution of the Bailieboro mystery has been found and the affair is still wrapped in profound darkness. Mr. Nicholls was formerly a member of the church of England. He is a young man, is married and has one child, his wife and child being in Toronto at the time of the assault. It is difficult to imagine any reason for a murderous assault on him, although in an interview his mother says that there has been "a good deal of opposition to the Baptist mission at Bailieboro" and that her son's predecessors suffered annoyance. A prominent resident of the district speaking to a Times reporter remarked that Mr. Nicholls is very outspoken and recently preached a fiery sermon which was construed by some of his auditors as an attack upon Roman Catholics, of whom there are several living in the district.

Other persons who know Mr. Nicholls give him the highest caracter and say that he is extremely popular and has no enemies.

Recently a young man from Cobourg who said that he was a private detective employed by an American detective agency called upon Chief Bond and questioned him regarding the Bailieboro mystery. He said that he was working on another case but intended to enquire into the stabbing affair also. He intimated that he would call upon Mr. Nicholls.

Chief Bond understood Mr. Nicholls to say that after the assault he had gone to Mr. Sidey's house with the intention of telephoning to Chief Bond at Port Hope but that Mr. Sidey refused permission to use the telephone. Mr. Nicholls' statement as reported by Chief Bond was denied by Mr. Sidey and in a letter to the Times Mr. Nicholls says that Mr. Bond misunderstood him and that he did not go to Mr. Sidey's house and did not say that he did.

Mr. Nicholls' letter is as follows:—

Bailiboro, June 25, 1906.

Dear Editor:

My attention was drawn Saturday to an item in the papers, saying that I called for or asked, etc., use of Mr. Sidey's telephone at Bewdley and was refused.

Would you kindly correct this error by stating that this was not so, but is the result of a misunderstood conversation between Chief of Police Bond and myself. I did not stop at Sidey's but drove right through to Bailieboro. Having inquired about the use of the telephone at the house I went to after the stabbing, the information received did not prove satisfactory to me and therefore I made no further enquiry.

I informed Mr. Bond of this, but he misunderstood me, which resulted in the mistake.

Hoping this will be sufficient and the mistake corrected, I remain,

Fraternally yours,

H. E. NICHOLLS.

P. S.—If further information is needed I will be glad to give it.

Speaking to a Times reporter, Chief Bond said that when Mr. Nicholls told him that he wanted to telephone from Bewdley but found he could not do so he thought that Mr. Nicholls meant that he had enquired at the telephone office.

Dr. Montgomery, of Bailieboro, who dressed the wounds on Mr. Nicholls' arm, was called up on the telephone from Port Hope. In reply to questions he said that Mr. Nicholls' injuries were healing satisfactorily but he would not discuss the mystery any further.

A Silver Wedding Celebration To-day

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waterman, of Fraserville, Married Twenty-five Years To-day—Seventy-five of Their Friends Gather to Celebrate This Fact—A Presentation and Address—Dawson Family the Largest in the Township of South Monaghan.

To-day Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Waterman, of Fraserville are, celebrating their silver wedding anniversary, and the occasion is being marked by a gathering at their residence of about 75 of their relatives, at which congratulations are being showered upon Mr. and Mrs. Waterman upon having reached their quarter century mark in a married state which, to them, has been singularly happy and successful.

The ladies to whom credit is due for the success of the gathering today are Mrs. Maybee, Mrs. Edward Dawson and Miss Maggie Emberson. The guests were confined to relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Waterman, none of them being farther removed than cousins.

During the afternoon a presentation was made to Mr. and Mrs. Waterman, on behalf of their friends, accompanied by an address, expressive of their congratulations upon their silver wedding. The gifts presented were of an unusually valuable and appropriate character, and bore eloquent testimony to the high esteem in which they are held in the community.

The bride and groom of twenty-five years were the centre of attraction and thoroughly enjoyed the sensation of their second marriage. They were united in marriage in the same village in which they have lived ever since, and have won a wide circle of friends. Mrs. Waterman's maiden name was Kate Dawson, and she is a daughter of Mr. Joseph Dawson, who was at the celebration. His father was one of the earliest settlers of South Monaghan, and the Dawson family is still the strongest in the township as well as one of the most highly esteemed. Mr. Joseph Dawson resides at Lorenz, his wife having passed away some time ago.

The gathering at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Waterman was a most delightful one in every way, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all those present.

LINDSAY'S CONTRIBUTION TO PETERBORO' CITIZENS

The Lindsay Post says: "Last evening Policeman Smith, who is doing night duty, at the complaint of several south ward citizens, arrested a tramp by the name of John Ryan, from Orillia. He is a one-armed man and has been hanging around the houses. When Constable Smith went to arrest him, near the freight sheds, he jumped into a box car and crawled through an opening into Flavelle's coal sheds, where he was captured. Previously he did not heed the warnings of the neighbours that he would be informed on. He was locked up and this morning Police Magistrate Jackson gave 'Johnnie' just ten hours to clear out of the county. He struck off at once saying that he was going to Peterborough."

Machine Company Shareholders Met Yesterday at Toronto.

The annual meeting of the Canadian Machine Telephone Company was held yesterday at Toronto, when a large number of shareholders were present, including several from Peterborough. The officers all made favourable reports of the operations for the past year and the prospects for the future are bright. The old officers were re-elected.

Arrested On A Theft Charge

Frank McClure was arrested this afternoon on a charge of stealing a pair of shoepacks, a pair of shoes, and a razor from Alex. Ducefft, and a pair of trousers and a cap from Baptiste Lizard.

The case will likely come up before Magistrate Dumble, at a special session of the police court this afternoon. McClure is said to have taken the wrong bag.

A PESTIFEROUS GERM

Burrows Up the Scalp Into Dandruff and Saps the Hair's Vitality.

People who complain of falling hair as a rule do not know that it is the result of dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite burrowing up the scalp as it digs down to the sheath in which the hair is fed in the scalp. Before long the hair root is shriveled up and the hair drops out. If the work of the germ is not destroyed hair keeps thinning till baldness comes. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ, and until now there has been no hair preparation that would do it; but to-day dandruff is easily eradicated by Newbro's Herpicide, which makes hair glossy and soft as silk. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

Where Pedagogues Will Pass Holidays

The Pedagogic year has closed once more, and the teachers' staff are off, or making ready, for their all too-brief holidays. The following list of destinations will enable the School Board and citizens to keep tab on the teachers. As for the pupils—they don't want to see their faces for months—for the re-appearance of teachers means more school.

Of the Collegiate Institute staff, Principal Fessenden has himself away to Camp Le Nid, in the Bay of Quinte, where he and a brood of congenial spirits have visited every summer for over 25 years.

Mr. J. Jeffries, after a little torrid wrestling with departmental examinations in Toronto, will take refuge in the fruit orchards of the Niagara District.

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner will counteract high temperatures by absorbing coolness in high latitudes—among the glaciers of the Rockies in British Columbia.

Mr. J. E. Hodgson will spend some of his time in contemplating the flight of bullets from his rifle towards bullseyes on the Rockcliffe Ranges, Ottawa.

Mr. E. C. Scrigley will pass the dolce ar miente period in the vicinity of Peterborough till near the close of the holidays, when he will visit Newmarket.

The members of the Public School teaching staff, so far as known, will be distributed as follows:

Mr. J. W. Kelly, principal of the Ashburnham school, will remain in the city for a few weeks, but may take another trip to the Northwest.

Miss Ross will go to Allandale for the vacations, spending the two months at her home.

Miss Rankle will go to her home in Newmarket.

Miss Irene Noble will go to Bobcaygeon, where she will spend part of her holidays attending the summer school.

Miss Oulton will go to Campbellford, her home, for the greater part of her holidays.

Miss Coleman, of the Separate School staff, will spend her holidays at her home in Trenton.

Miss Lochead, teacher in the East Ward public school, has gone to Centreville, Frontenac, for the holidays.

Miss Williamson, Kindergarten Directress in the East Ward school, will spend her holidays in Regina, Sask.

Lindsay Redskins Here On July 1st

Will Play Against Peterboro's Senior Ball Team.

Arrangements were made this afternoon with the Redskins of Lindsay, for a baseball game here on Monday afternoon, July 1st at 3 o'clock with the Peterborough Seniors. The locals will be strengthened by Rattray, Quinlan and Pilling and the best ball game of the season will no doubt be witnessed. The Redskins are Lindsay's best team and the old rivalry between the two will make the game an interesting one.

Vice-President Of The Industrial Fair States His Position

Mr. Alex. Elliott, for the Directors, States the Case—Says it is Now Up to the City—Directors Are Still Willing to Assist in Every Possible Way.

Peterborough, June 29th.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—We have noticed several letters and editorials in the different papers regarding the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, and the action of the Directors in discontinuing it.

The Directors in the past three years worked faithfully, and spent a good portion of their time in attending to the details and work which was necessary. It cannot be denied that the Exhibition has been improving every year, and we can safely say that it was the best Exhibition every held in the city of Peterborough. The Directors feel that they are not getting the support from the town that the show deserves. Fortunately we have had good weather; but should there be a couple of rainy days it would mean a serious personal loss to each of the Directors connected with it.

We decided if the City thought it to the benefit of the community to have an Exhibition, that they should shoulder this responsibility, while we were willing to do all the work connected with the show, and use our best efforts to make it a success. Consequently the Board waited on the Council for a guarantee of $1,000 in case of loss, or a cash grant of $600. At a subsequent meeting of the Council, they decided to grant $400 with the proviso that the County Council give a grant of $250. As the County Council has several other Exhibitions in the County to which they grant sums amounting to some $700, and granted us $100 last year, we did not feel that it was fair to ourselves to continue the Exhibition. Consequently it was decided to drop it.

We might say in connection with this, that we feel very sorry to be obliged to take this step, and are still willing to do our utmost if the City will take the matter up. We think it is to the interests of the city to hold an annual Exhibition in Peterborough. It attracts people to the city who spend their money here. If the Exhibition is dropped this year, we fear the Government grant for all time to come, and it will be practicently impossible to re-establish the Fair.

Signed.

ALEX ELLITT,
Vice-President.

"IT IS A MIRACLE!"
—say Hamilton People
Bleeding Piles Cured
—after Years of Suffering.

Miracle-days may be past—but the day of saving people from suffering is ever-present.

What is more distressing than Itching, Bleeding Piles? Some say the only cure is the knife. We say, operation is unnecessary. Read this letter:

"For years I had Piles, which frustrated and baffled every. The itching pain was sometimes almost unbearable. Often I suffered so severely it was next to impossible to remain at duty. It was a hardship to walk. I tried many remedies, but with poor success. "This winter, in New York—at the Brach Show—I suffered greatly—was almost compelled to return to my room. I tried several remedies—outlined mine. "On my return home, Mira Ointment was advised. I used it. In only a short time, all the irritation and pain ceased. I can now walk with ease and attend my duties as a member of the Fire Department. "I strongly recommend Mira Ointment to anyone suffering from this annoying complaint. "Hamilton, March 9, 1906."

Angling Club's Annual Outing

C. G. E. Angling Club Will Spend Dominion Day at Lovesick.

The objective point of the C.G.E. Angling Club's annual Dominion Day outing this year is Lovesick, the same as last year where the fishing and other conditions were found so good that it was practically decided to make this point the permanent site of their annual camp.

This morning the advance guard took train en route to Lovesick. This consisted of Messrs. Jack Wilson, Percy Ryshe, Jack McCabe, Walter Greenwood, Percy White, Walker and Geo. W. Parrett. This advance guard will pitch tents and establish camp, which will consist of five tents—dining tent, three sleeping tents and a stores tent. These will be set up and the camp generally made ready for the main body of angle worm artists about 23 in number, who take the 5.30 train this evening, but Commodore Brown will not leave to join the party till Saturday morning. The club regrets not having with them this year ex-captain Andy Patterson, head of the production department, who is too busy producing dividends to engage in the production of the raw material of fish stories.

The generosity of Mr. W. J. O'Brien, the George street tobacconist, will have a tendency to make fish stories fit in with facts. He has donated a box of cigars to be given the member of the club catching—and landing—the largest fish—the largest in scales and not on paper.

This Lovesick lot will get homesick on Monday and return Monday night. It is probable that a big bag of fish will be captured. Chef de Cuisine Trombley has laid in a supply of about 500 dew worms, which, if the bass' appetite is sharp, should be good for a splendid bag.

New Arrivals Were Made Welcome

Interesting Service at the Salvation Army Barracks.

An interesting service was held at the Salvation Army barracks last night, when a welcome was extended to the Salvationists who came over on the last trip of the Kensington. The new-comers were Mr. and Mrs. Sandford, and the Misses Leader. Two others, Mr. and Mrs. Hedge, were unable to be present.

Speeches were made by Bandsmen Payton, Henry Green, Sergt.-Major Braund, and Staff-Capt. McAmmond, in which the new arrivals were given a cordial welcome to Peterborough and the local Salvation Army. These sentiments were re-echoed by the large attendance present, and the latest additions to the Salvation Army were made to feel thoroughly at home. All the arrivals from the Old Country replied, expressing the hope that they may succeed in Canada, and stating that they were delighted with the country.

During the evening the band contributed excellent music, and an enjoyable recitation was given by Miss Eva Stevenson. An interesting and rather pathetic feature, was the Lord's prayer in signs by the little deaf mute Lawson children.

FRIDAY, JUNE 29, 1906.

STILL GROWING.

The London Statist in submitting a comparative statement of the trade and commerce of Great Britain for the past two years, remarks that the rate of growth seems to have been accelerated, instead of diminished. For the month of May of the present year, exports of British produce have increased £4,447,000, or 16.4 per cent., compared with May of last year, and £7,398,000, or 30.4 per cent. compared with May, 1904. For the first five months of 1906 exports from the United Kingdom, showed an increase of £20,238,000 over the corresponding period of 1905, and £29,912,000 over the corresponding period of 1904. That is, the rate of increase since last year is 15.6 per cent., and since the previous year nearly 25 per cent. The returns for May raised the total increase for twenty-two months to the enormous sum of £59,067,000, and it is now probable that the total exports for 1906, will be over £350,000,000. The figures for 1905 were £330,000,000, and for 1904, £300,000,000. The continuing expansion of British trade and commerce gives the opponents of protection and "tariff reform" much comfort and satisfaction.

CAN'T RESIST THE SPOILSMEN

The Brantford Expositor in reprinting the Examiner's article, "The Axe of the Spoilsmen," in reference to the displacement of Mr. Geo. Cochrane, License Inspector, thus comments:—"We suppose the pretext which will be given for Mr. Cochrane's removal is that it is necessary to have license officials who are in accord with the policy of the Government—as if the Government had any distinctive policy. In this case, however, like that of the removal of Mr. Hastings and his associates in Toronto, the pretext is an unjustifiable one, seeing that the late license inspector was discharging his duties in a manner to command the approbation of the new license Board, the friends of temperance reform in the community and even of the member for the riding. The axe has fallen, in this as in many another instance, because the Government was unable to resist the demands of the spoilsmen."

ANOTHER TEAPOT TEMPEST.

When Moncton, N.B., was a small town, the Government of Sir John Macdonald bought land at the rate of $2,000 an acre. Last year the Dominion Government bought the remainder of the plot for $1,000 an acre, or exactly one-half. Meanwhile, the town had become a city, its population had trebled and the neighbourhood had been built up. But because a land dealer, whose price had been declared fair and reasonable by competent arbitrators of both sides of politics had made a commission on the land, prior to its coming into the hands of the Intercolonial authorities, the wiseacres on the Opposition side of the House of Commons have scented a scandal—they are quite sure someone grafted! And so, thinks the London Advertiser, the time of Parliament has been taken up with speeches dealing with assertion, suspicion and innuendo. And by-and-bye, so persistently will these unfounded declarations be repeated, that those ardent Conservative partisans will begin to believe they are founded on fact.

This mud-throwing has been carried to so great length in this session of arliament that were a really scandalous transaction now to be unearthed, reasonable people might be excused if they refused to credit it.

S.A. IMMIGRANTS.

An article recently published in the Ottawa Free Press, referring to Salvation Army methods was cabled to England and brought about a special investigation in reference to which the Ottawa newspaper thus speaks:

"The Salvation Army owes the Free Press its thanks for having drawn from Premier Whitney, Mr. W. D. Scott, and Mr. Thomas Southworth outspoken testimony as to the value o fthe Canadian immigration work which it is conducting at the present time. In the news columns today we print communications from these gentlemen in connection with the emphatic denial by Brigadier Howell of certain statements made by our Quebec correspondent.

We are glad that the Brigadier has been able to confirm the opinion previously held by the Free Press as to the merits of the Army's immigration methods and its conscientious endeavour to bring to Canada desirable settlers only. We know that the Army's organization for this immigration work is well-nigh perfect. On both sides of the Atlantic the individuals are handled in a most systematic manner and on arrival in Canada each is passed to employment directly and without any delay. We have not been able to communicate with our correspondent respecting the statements to which the Army takes exception, but Brigadier Howell has evidence to make us doubt the accuracy of the said statements. The correspondent may have been confusing Salvation Army immigrants with those brought out under other auspices.

By the way, there is one feature of the Army's immigration policy which is particularly pleasing — the encouraging of farmers to provide separate living accommodation for their help. Brigadier Howell says that the number of farmers who have erected cottages for their hired men has increased surprisingly during the past year in Ontario. We have contended that until Canadian farmers generally adopt this method, the farm labour problem will be always dangerously acute."

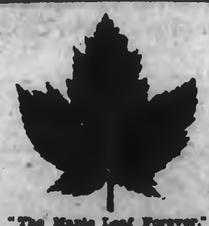
EDITORIAL NOTES.

"Toronto is going the way of Hamilton, introducing the American system of partizan control of municipal offices. According to the Mail and Empire the appointment recently of Hospital Trustees was made on this basis. There is nothing, remarks the Galt Reformer, quite so indefensible as the introduction into municipal affairs of party politics. Wherever it has been adopted the municipality has suffered."

The practice of licensing vendors of postage stamps is a relic of red tapeism which should not be allowed to continue. Why should not any person who wishes to do so sell stamps? Stamps are not sold for the profit, but as a convenience to the public. The people should alone be considered, for, for the people, as well as by the people, governments exist. The postal revenue is derived largely from the sale of stamps, thus on business principles the sale should be encouraged in every way.

The Mail and Empire suggests that a monument should be erected to the late Alex. Muir, author of "The Maple Leaf." We don't often get a chance to agree with the Mail, but this is one of them. Whatever form the monument, or memorial, may take, the school children of the country, past and present, should have a large share in procuring it. Muir was a teacher and since his stirring national melody leaped into popularity, it is probable that it has been sung oftener by school children than any other class.

Although the financial operation of the Intercolonial Railway has been, and must always be, says the Guelph Mercury, hampered because it was built in a circuitous fashion, often through miles of waste land, for political and strategic reasons, its huge accumulation of deficits is also in large part accounted for by the fact that successive ministers in charge have yielded to every variety of political pressure in its conduct. In this Province we should not make the same mistake in managing the Government railway to Temiskaming. It should be operated as a straight business proposition, and the Commission should receive the support of all who have faith in public ownership in the pursuit of this course.



"The Maple Leaf Forever."

TEN YEARS OF LIBERAL RULE WORTH A CYCLE OF STAND-STILL

(Montreal Herald, June 23.)

To-day the decade is complete. On the 23rd of June in the year 1896 the Dominion of Canada reversed the political creed to which it had clung for eighteen years. Sir Wilfrid Laurier swept the county with an immense majority, and at the same time there opened a period of unequalled national prosperity which has had no break.

The party which then came into power was described by its opponents as not having "the instincts of Government." That seems to-day a curious taunt to come from a party which has so degenerated as to show scarcely the ability to maintain itself in existence. Throughout its long career in the shades of minority, the Liberal party had constantly carried on an opposition of principle, of positive economic and social doctrine, of ideas. It come to power with a collection of well-defined theories, which had to be somewhat adapted to circumstances. When put into practice they were not the less effective for that. The history of the Conservative Opposition since 1896 presents no such spectacle. At no time has it rallied itself to any set of coherent principles, and in the current session, during which it has exhibited perhaps more individual ability than for some years past, it has sunk to the lowest level of partisan activity in a campaign of unjustified muck-raking such as has never before wasted the time and tarnished the reputation of the Dominion Parliament. Comparisons between the records of the two parties in power are an old story by now. Comparisons between the two oppositions are fully as attractive. Ten years ago the Liberal party was emerging from its long probation chastened, educated, consolidated, earnest and full of convictions, with all the qualities that make a party ready and able for power. To-day the Conservative party has acquired just one thing out of its own tribulations—an intense and unscrupulous hunger.

FIXED ASSESSMENT.

The Hamilton Times, discussing the objections raised to the fixed assessment proposed to be granted to the Brantford Screw Company, says:

If a man owns a tract of vacant land within the city limits, producing plentifully thistles, burdocks, and malaria, our sharp assessors, under our fearful and wonderful Assessment act, make his taxes very low. The law requires it; the assessors are not to blame.

But another year comes round, and the assessors find that some enterprising man has bought the lot, perhaps paying the speculative holder many times its value; has built a factory on it, equipped it with costly plant, and employs in it several hundred men.

One might think that that man by his expenditure of money and labour was a benefactor of the city, and would be treated as such by the law and by the city's officials.

Do they so treat him?

We shall see. If they obey the law as it has been made by big-headed politicians and small-minded municipal wire-pullers, they set about and assess him on all his improvements, buildings, etc., exactly as if they sought to fine him in proportion to his enterprise and expenditure in building up the city and giving employment to labour. The vacant lot speculators get off with the old nominal tax; the men who make the city are "salted."

While that is the law in theory and in operation, the people—even the very municipal officials who pulled wires to secure its passage—feel that it is wrong. They feel that to penalize improvement and industry is to prevent improvement and to discourage industry.

But, having made a bad law, instead of moving to repeal it, and to assert a good principle, they fear that the city may "lose taxes," and taxes is all they are after, so they proceed to "whip the devil around the stump," by making special exceptions, offering bonuses, exemptions, special water rates, etc., to overcome temporarily, to some extent, the evil of the penalizing industry, so as to induce men to invest in industries. This "fixed assessment" is one form these exemptions take.

Now, the fixed assessment has an educative value. It is invidious; it is probably illegal; it inflicts an injustice as between the favoured and unfavoured industries, and it complicates city tax business; but it teaches a good lesson in the economics of taxation. . . . . .

But why not make at once a general acknowledgment of the great truth? Why not treat all alike? Why not begin to remove the taxes from industry and improvement and give effect to the correct principle by laying more and more of the taxes on the land values that are not produced by any man, but by the community at large? Why should not the community take its own and cease to rob industry?

WHISKY WHICH CREATES HELL

The moral depravity of commercialism — that taking the sordid form of money-making, regardless of methods or results, is exemplified in the adulteration, and doctoring, of whisky. One would think whisky at its best were bad enough, but the way it is dealt with in the United States is, or should be, a terror to evil doers — hard drinkers.

In illustration, rather a remarkable incident occurred in the United States House of Representatives, during the passage of the pure food bill. The real feature of the debate was over the whisky provision. There had been a long and intensely bitter fight between the "bottled in bond" whisky men and the rectifiers. Representative Sherlay of Louisiana, exposed the bogus claims of the bottled-in-bond men, who say that the green stamp of the revenue office, is a guarantee of the purity of the contents of the bottle. Stalking down in front of the Speaker's desk, he poured a quart of pure alcohol into a giant beaker, spilled into a few drops of colouring matter that imparted a rich garnet glow, added a dash of bead oil to give the desired mellow taste which suggests old age, and finally some bitter flavouring extracts, stirring the whole concoction with a deft hand for an instant. Sherley held up to the admiring gaze and watering mouths of his associates a quart of fine old rye. "I defy any whisky connoisseur in this House," he declared, "to smell and taste this product, and distinguish between it and whisky that has been kept in a charred oak barrel for ten years. It is made of pure alcohol, yet you put this stuff into a man and it becomes pure hell. It would eat the insides out of a pile driver, and make a rabbit spit in a dog's face."

Vats Are Added To The Brewery

Work at This Establishment is Now Very Brisk.

The Calcutt Brewing and Malting Co. added two new 7,000-gallon vats to their factory yesterday. The are constructed of the strongest of oaken staves and are firmly bound by stout iron hoops and will be utilized in the lager brewing department.

Work at the brewery this month is particularly brisk, and the factory is now running overtime to supply the big demand upon the products of this popular establishment.

Friends and Countrymen, let me remind you that it is very warm and the sooner you provide yourself with the means of being cool the better. Now at B. Y. MOYES you can get all sorts of cool Summer Underwear, Blouses and Neckwear for prices that are simply cheap

GLANDERS BREAKS OUT IN COBOURG

The Port Hope Times says: Glanders, the most terrible disease that can afflict horses, has broken out at Cobourg and already three horses have been slaughtered in consequence. Glanders is an incurable disease that attacks horses, and which may also be contracted by human beings. As soon as a case is known to exist the law compels the destruction of the horse affected.

HIGH WATER MAKES THE FISHING POOR

Summer residents at Chemong Lake report that the water is this year over three feet above the average height and the recent heavy rains have tended to make the water still higher.

This state of the water is proving a drawback to the sport of the fisherman. The water being unusually high upon the banks the fish are able to secure plenty of food along the shore and consequently do not bite readily at the cunningly disguised and alluring baits of the disciples of Izaak Walton.

Campbellford Looks For Big Celebration

J. J. Turner & Sons Work in Decorations Much Admired —Town is Elaborately Bedecked With Flags for Old Boys Re-union on Monday.

This has been a busy week for the citizens of Campbellford. Everybody has been hustling either with the broom, paint brush, garden rake or some other implement of war, in getting things in shape for the great inauguaral celebration and Old Boys' Reunion on Monday next, and now the town presents an appearance of perfect cleanliness and the only thing which remains to be done to add to the beauty of the place is the decoration of flags, bunting, etc., which has been procured in abundance by everyone. The celebrated firm of J. J. Turner & Sons, of Peterborough, will start to-morrow to decorate the streets in a manner which, they say, will be a "beauty to behold," and admired by everyone who visits our town that day. The grounds have been fitted up handsomely; hundreds of electric lights being placed in the grand stand, in the palace, around the speakers' platform and throughout the grounds.

Every arrangement has been completed for the accommodation of the thousands of people who will join in celebrating the greatest day in the history of Campbellford. Let us pray for a fine day—"the prayers of the righteous availeth much."—Campbellford Despatch.

Composite Companies Broke Up Camp This Morning

Arrived Home From Cobourg at Nine O'clock—Greatly Pleased With a Soldier's Life—The 57th Companies Were the Best on the Grounds—Big Street Parade Yesterday.

The Composite Companies representing the Peterborough Rangers at Cobourg Camp arrived home this morning about 9 o'clock fresh from the glories of the big military camp. The boys universally say it was the best time of their lives and would willingly return for another period of four days. Although Kingston neglected to send their two companies to join the brigade yet Belleville and Peterborough were represented with the best man of the 15th and 57th, and both made a splendid showing in the Lakeshore town.

The local boys are proud of their officers and warm words were spoken for Captains Bennett, McWilliams, McLean and the lieutenants for their generosity in the treatment of their men. But the best of it was the boys had an excellent time, they enjoyed their drill and speak favourably of the kindest of feeling towards them from the citizens of Cobourg.

On Wednesday night the tattoo drill was one of the features of the four days' sojourn in camp. The fireworks were grand and the prettiest the boys had ever seen. The drill was much appreciated by the hundreds of bystanders.

Yesterday was to have been the date of the big sham battle, but owing to the limited grounds the fight did not come off. Instead there was a mammoth parade through the town in the afternoon in which the Composite Companies, the Batteries, Dragoons and Artillery took part. Over 4,000 soldiers were in uniform and presented a most pisturesque sight. The general opinion of the Cobourg citizens was that the two companies from the 57th Regimeat were the best of the infantry in the whole camp. Their marching and manoeuvres were perfect and received warm praise from all sides.

On the whole the Cobourg camp was a most satisfactory one and was instrumental in making Canada's military men, who attended, more skilful in the modes of warfare.

THE CHEESE QUOTATIONS HIGHEST IN HISTORY

Montreal, June 29.—R. M. Ballantyne, of the firm of Lovell & Christmas, cheese exporters, is responsible for the statement to-day, that the cheese quotations during June were the highest in the history of the trade. He believes it to be largely due to the lightness of the stock in the hands of retailers.

BAND IN PARK OR BROCK STREET RINK

The 57th Battalion Band will play in Victoria Park to-night, and, in the event of rain coming on, the programme will be finished at the Brock street rink, which has been very kindly placed at the disposal of the Band, if needed.

The programme, which appears below, is the same as that announced yesterday, and will be that presented by the band at the Brantford concert. To-night "Reminiscences of Bellini," the piece de resistence of the programme, will be played at 9.30. It will be of interest to note that three former members, who now live in Toronto, but have retained their membership, are in the city, and will play at to-night's concert, and accompany the band on their Brantford journey, and visit. The programme for to-night:

PROGRAMME.

BARBERS' NOTICE

The Union Barber Shops of the City will be open from 7.30 a. m. until noon on Monday, July 2nd. A. Gaisey, Sec'y

THE WEATHER

The weather to-day, and in fact for several days, has been oppressively warm, though no very high readings of the thermometer have been recorded. Yesterday's highest was 84 degrees in the shade, while at noon to-day the mercury was 83 degrees. The atmosphere has been very humid, or damp, which accounts chiefly for the personal evidences of extreme heat.

THURSDAY—HALF HOLIDAY

According to Agreement all Stores will be closed during July and August, every Thursday afternoon, excepting Grocers and Druggists. The public are requested to bear this in mind and co-operate in the movement.

Wheels Pass Over The Child's Body

Little Son of Mr. Wynn Narrowly Escapes Death.

Residents of Charlotte street who saw a vehicle with two occupants pass over the body of the little son of Mr. Wynn, the other evening, are still wondering how the little fellow escaped with his life. He was playing on the roadside in front of the Curling Rink and did not notice the vehicle approaching. Both wheels passed over his body and the end of the shaft narrowly escaped striking him in the head. He was helpless when carried into the house, but the injuries although severe are not considered fatal.

The driver did not appear to notice him until he was under the wheels, but even then drove on as if nothing uncommon had occurred.

BUSY SEASON AT BURLEIGH FALLS

Mr. Warnie Darcy, proprietor of the Burleigh Falls Hotel, was in the city to-day. He reports that the season is just beginning to get busy at the Lakes and expects a large number of guests during the next couple of weeks.

The fishing around the Lakes, he says, is unusually good, and many catches have been made by guests at the hotel.

Last Call.

We will sell the preserving pineapples, which we now have on hand, very cheap. This will be the last opportunity this season of buying good, sound pineapples at a low price. We are also receiving those extra fine Canadian hot-house tomatoes, and home-grown Boston head lettuce, which are so well liked by our customers. S. A. Ore, 376 George street. Telephones—Bell 18, Machine 18.

WEDDING BELLS

FRENCH—BRAY.

A quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Dickens, Lafayette avenue, last night, when Miss Rebecca Bray, was united in marriage to Mr. John Alfred French, both of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Staff-Captain McAmmond of the Salvation Army, in the presence of a few friends.

The bridesmaid was Miss Florence Dickens, while the groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Harry French. A wedding supper was served at the conclusion of the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. French will reside on Reid street, city.

"Tally Men" In A Big Riot At Kingston, Ont.

Kingston Policemen Attacked With Knives and Pistols.

TWO OFFICERS ARE STABBED

One Hundred Italians, Employed by the Grand Trunk, Go on Strike and Chase the Police, When the Magistrate Called Out the Regular Troops, Who Quell the Riot — Grave Fears For One Wounded Man.

Kingston, June 29.—Two officers of the law were seriously wounded with stilletos in the hands of Italians during a riot following a strike of 100 foreigners yesterday. The Italians chased the police, who had been sent by the authorities to quell the disturbance, and the mayor and police magistrate called out the regular troops.

The riot occurred at the outer depot. About 100 navvies, chiefly Italians, are employed by the Grand Trunk repairing the road. Yesterday morning they became dissatisfied with their wages. They have been getting $1.40 per day, and want $1.65. They board and sleep on old cars at the depot.

Yesterday morning the railway foreman ordered them to make up a train and proceed to Collins' Bay to work, and then trouble began. The strikers assembled on the station platform and raised a disturbance.

Special G. T. R. Agent McRae and Detective James Harrott arrived on train No. 1 from the east and endeavored to quell the row. The police were telephoned for and Sergt. Nesbitt, P.C. S. Naylon and McAdoo hastened to the scene.

Fought With Clubs.

The rioters were gathered on the platform making all kinds of threats. The policemen ordered them off, and when they refused to obey drew their clubs and endeavored to put them off by force.

Thereupon the strikers drew knives and revolvers and started to attack the officers. Mr. McRae and Detective Harrott came to the assistance of the local police, and a fierce fight ensued. The officers of the law were not armed with revolvers, but fought manfully with their clubs and did great execution, knocking about a score of the strikers senseless. The latter succeeded in retaliating, however, and the policemen were finally forced to beat retreat, pursued to their cab by the maddened foreigners.

Slashed By Striker.

In the fight Police Sergt. Nesbitt was badly wounded in the left arm, it being slashed open with a stiletto from the shoulder to the elbow. Special Agent McRae was also even more seriously wounded, and the gravest fears for his condition are felt. He sustained a deep stab with a stiletto in the abdomen.

The police brought the two wounded men back to the city and drove them to Dr. Bogart's surgery. Mr. McRae was later removed to the General Hospital. P. C. S. Naylon and McAdoo escaped unhurt. They claim that it was a miracle that they were not all killed. Revolvers were drawn by the dozen and many shots fired. The rioters were all armed with knives and fought like mad creatures, and the batons of the policemen were spattered with blood, showing that they had not remained inactive. Detective Harrott carried a leather baton, which he exhibited showing where the heavy seam in the leather had been severed by the force of the blows dealt.

Troops Called Out.

When the police returned to the city the police magistrate and Mayor Mowat were notified. After a brief consultation it was decided to call out the regular troops, and a call was made on the officers and men of the R.C.H.A. A prompt response was met with and shortly after 3 o'clock a mounted detachment from the battery, armed for a fight, hurried off to the scene of the disturbance.

On arrival the battery men surrounded the cars in which most of the navvies had meanwhile entered. But some of the disturbers took to the woods at sight of the mounted men, and the city police went in pursuit. Police Constable Driscoll arrested a man who is supposed to have done the stabbing, and he was brought into the police station. Nine others were also arrested, and all the ringleaders will be brought to the city for trial.

About 70 of the rioters are still in the woods.

Strike At St. Anne.

Montreal, June 29.—Because of a strike of laborers at Macdonald Agricultural College, St. Anne, who were replaced by a gang of Italians from Montreal, provincial police were sent out yesterday to keep order. Bricklayers and masons then refused to work under police protection, so a general strike was ordered. The laborers demanded an increase from $1.50 to $2.20 a day and were offered $1.75.

Health The Prize Most Sought For

AND TO THOUSANDS OF WEAK, SICKLY PEOPLE HEALTH IS RESTORED BY

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

You want to be strong and healthy. Everybody does. Women as well as men.

There was a time when women prided themselves on looking pale and delicate.

That day has past.

To-day robust health is the ideal. A well-rounded form, firm flesh and muscles, strength and elasticity of movement and a healthful glow to the complexion — these are what all are striving for, and many are attaining their object by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

When the food which is taken into the body fails to supply the required amount of rich, life-sustaining blood external assistance must be sought until the system is fully restored.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food supplies the very material which goes directly to the formation of blood, pure, health-giving blood.

Mrs. J. Hatcher, 224 Sherbrooke street, Peterborough, Ont., and whose husband is a moulder at the Hamilton Foundry, states:—"I had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism which left me in a very run down state of health, and in fact my whole nervous system seemed exhausted and worn out. I could not sleep and at times the pains in my head were almost unbearable. As a result of these symptoms I was unable to attend to my housework, and felt miserable most of the time. On the advice of a friend I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that it has proved of very great benefit to me. I am able to do my own work now, and feel stronger and healthier than I have for years. I can truthfully state that this is due to the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I consider a great health builder."

Weakness, irregularities, headaches, dizzy spells, feelings of fatigue, discouragement and despondency soon disappear before the splendid restorative influence of this great medicine, and for this reason Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has become so popular; 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

CRIME AT ORANGEVILLE.

Woman Dead—Two Men Flee—Warrants Issued Charging Laundryman and Druggist With Serious Crime.

Orangeville, June 29.—On the serious charge of attempting to procure child abortion, leading to the death of a woman, warrants have been issued for the arrest of Walter Jackson of the firm of Jackson & Wells, Orangeville, and Arthur Douglas, druggist. Both men have disappeared.

Miss Elizabeth Wells, aged 30, who was junior partner in the firm of the Jackson & Wells Laundry Co., is the dead woman. She was taken violently ill at the office Friday last. She was removed to her home and Dr. Carson called. He found her suffering from a severe attack of dysentery, superinduced by powerful tablets she had taken, so it is stated, at the instance of Jackson to relieve a condition of which he later acknowledged responsibility for.

Miss Wells is said to have told the facts to the physician, and then lapsed into unconsciousness, expiring two hours later at 3 p. m.

She was buried at 3 o'clock on Saturday without a burial permit having been taken out.

Coroner Henry, learning of the circumstances, ordered the body exhumed, and a post mortem examination was held.

From what can be learned, it appears that on Friday night, two weeks ago, an operation was performed on deceased to procure an abortion. The place where the operation took place was upstairs in the West End laundry building next to the postoffice, and the name of A. C. Douglass, a local druggist, is connected with this phase of the case.

The inquest will continue to-day.

Dr. Robt. Craik is Dead.

Montreal, June 29.—Dr. Robt. Craik, LL.D., for many years dean of the medical faculty of McGill, died yesterday morning at the age of 78. Dr. Craik graduated in 1834; joined the McGill staff in 1856 as demonstrator, and through various grades rose to the deanship. He leaves no family. He was well known as a breeder of stock, having won the Quebec Queen's Plate several times, and won prizes for his cattle at the Chicago World's Fair and at several Toronto Fairs.

Night Guards at Penitentiary.

Kingston, June 29.—On July 1, a new guard system will come into force at the penitentiary. Hereafter there will be a separate staff of night guards, who will do nothing but night duty. At present the system is a mixed one. The night guards will each receive $650 a year or $50 more than the day men. This is the outcome of the late escapes.

Alex. Muir Memorial Service.

Toronto, June 29.—A memorial service will be held in Gladstone avenue school beginning at 2 o'clock this afternoon, in honor of the late Alexander Muir.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, June 29.—To-day's stock market has been a repetition of yesterday's. The opening prices were fractionally lower and were followed by a rally in which Southern Pacific was the leader on talk of a dividend in August. There was a lot of stock for sale, both from those who bought on the break yesterday and the bears going short again. Prices gradually sank until yesterday's gain was lost, especially Steel, which seemed to be under pressure.

The London market was dull and heavy. $500,000 gold was withdrawn from the Bank of England for export to New York to-day. Call money here was firmer at 6 per cent., and this did not help the bulls any.

The market declined throughout the afternoon. Steel preferred was driven below par, and the general list gave way. Penna. was especially weak, and Pacific Mail broke five points. The close was weak and demoralized.

THE CZAR SLEEPLESS.

Sedition in the Army—Further Details of Revolt of Imperial Guards—Change May Be Near.

St. Petersburg, June 29.—The campaign which the opposition elements in Parliament are waging to compel Emperor Nicholas to dismiss the Goremykin Cabinet and accept the principle of a responsible Ministry promises soon to be crowned with success. When the Probrejensky Regiment, "His Majesty's Own," pronounced its solidarity with Parliament and its agrarian program, in the big camp of the Guard Regiments at Tsarskoe-Selo, less than a dozen miles from Peterhof, the Emperor's eyes were opened.

It transpired yesterday that all three battalions of the Probrejensky Regiment joined in the resolutions, but when they were surrounded by grenadiers, lancers, sharpshooters and a brigade of artillery, two of the battalions weakened. The other, however, faced the music, was disarmed and Wednesday night, with six officers, was sent under escort to Medvid, Province of Novgorod, where the Japanese prisoners were confined, to undergo trial by court-martial.

The court is about to return to Tsarskoe-Selo, owing to the discovery that there are revolutionaries among the palace servants at Peterhof.

Late last night it was reported that serious disorders had broken out in the garrison of Osowiec, one of the great fortresses defending the Polish frontier against German invasion.

Emperor Nicholas is quoted as saying yesterday that he had been so affected by the disloyalty of the Probrejensky Regiment, which he had so often honored by wearing its uniform that he had been unable to sleep for two nights.

MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE.

Harry Kendall Thaw Will Plead For Killing Stanford White.

New York, June 29.—Harry Kendall Thaw was indicted yesterday for murder in the first degree for the killing of Stanford White last Monday night on Madison square Roof Garden. His wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, appeared as a witness before the grand jury, but begged to be excused from giving any testimony whatever. Assistant District Attorney Garvan and the jurors did not insist that she should answer any questions. Thaw will plead to the indictment in court to-day.

Charlotte Street Once More Guild League Champions

Defeated St. Paul's Last Night by 2-1—Have Won Three Times and Examiner Trophy Becomes Theirs—Game Was Listless Exhibition.

The Charlotte street Guild, by defeating St. Paul's last night, won the championship of the Guild League for the third time, and incidentally the Examiner cup, donated by Hon. J. R. Stratton, comes permanently into their possession. The score last night was 2-1 in favour of Charlotte street, which gave them the game by a score of 7-4.

It was a listless exhibition, with but little interest to the small crowd of fans. Both twirlers pitched good ball, but two were thrown by the St. Paul's, which gave the game to Charlotte street, and allowed them to score two runs in the second innings. St. Paul's got one in the second, when Boyd scored on McDonald's hit. The fielding was good. Fred. Whitcroft gave satisfaction as umpire, and his rulings were undisputed. The teams were:—

Charlotte Street—Lang, c; McWilliams, ss; Squires, 2b; Roddy, rf; Dusty, lf; Pilling, 3b; H. Roldy, p; Heaslip, 1b; Crowe, cf.

St. Paul's—McDonald, cf; Green, ss; Gillespie, c; Fitzpatrick, 3b; Simpson, lf; Dungford, 1b; Swanston, p; Boyd, 2b; Bruce, rf.

Revival Of Indian Games And Customs

Will be Feature of Peterborough-Otonabee Regatta and Aquatic Sports—Committee in Charge Met Last Night.

A meeting of the committee who have taken in charge the Peterborough-Otonabee Regatta and aquatic sports, to be held about the middle of next month, met last night at the Oriental, when there were present Messrs. E. S. Clarry, chairman; Ald. Elliott, H. Rye, W. S. Davidson, and R. M. Glover. After a formal discussion of the nature of the programme to be held, the committee decided that it was necessary to secure funds before proceeding further, and therefore adjourned for one week.

The committee has been slightly re-organized, and now stands as follows:—Messrs. E. S. Clarry, chairman; R. M. Glover, secretary; Ald. G. E. Elliott, W. S. Davidson, H. Rye, H. C. Winch, C. H. Sawle and W. H. Tate.

It must be understood that the committee has been formed to act in conjunction with and assist Johnston Paudash, of Hiawatha, in getting up the revival.

The affair will partake of a revival of the old Indian games and customs. Indians will be seen in their full war regalia, paints and feathers and other adornments that were seen first by Champlain and his comrades as they passed down the Otonabee centuries ago. The committee have promises of a good representation of Indians from Hiawatha, Alderville, Rama, Scugog, Chemong, Roseneath, and other reserves. Several bands will be in attendance, and the affair, from all points of view, promises to be the most unique and interesting event of the kind ever held in Peterborough County.

The exact location of the course has not yet been decided upon, but it will not be far below the locks, and will be held probably on Thursday, July 19, although the date has not yet been fixed.

Peterborough Boys Carry Off Honous

At Trinity College School, Port Hope—Annual Speech-Day Ceremonies Held Yesterday—Work of Local Students is Praised by Head Master—Cricket Match on Wednesday—Alan Campbell's Good Record—Most Successful Year in School's History.

Examiner Special.

Port Hope, June 28.—Speech Day at Trinity College School for 1906, and everything pertaining to its many-sided festivities, is again a matter of history. Never in the life of the school have there been so many boys in attendance, nor has the success of the year's work been so manifest as during the scholastic year now closed.

Cricket Match.

Tuesday, June 26, opened the proceedings with a cricket match between the Old Boys and the boys of the school. It was a very exciting game, and the boys displayed much cleverness in bowling and batting. Among the T.C.S. eleven, one member of special interest to Peterborough and who played remarkably well, was Allan Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Campbell, whose effective, heady bowling was the subject of much favourable comment. In bowling for the consumption of Old Boys he captured no fewer than four wickets. The match was played with much vigour, and the respective players received enthusiastic applause from the onlookers.

At the end of the game of the T.C.S. eleven, 81p oints were scored. The highest score was made by Stone, captain of the T.C.S. eleven, with 28. In the Old Boys' game, Messrs. E. R. Rogers, R. B. Rogers and George Lundy handled the bat. Mr. R. H. Rogers had the honour of "carrying his bat," and made 31 runs, not out. Mr. E. R. Rogers played a very steady game and proved to be an excellent batsman, and with his brother, Mr. R. B. Rogers, helped to bring the score up to such an extent that the game, which at first appeared to be entirely in favour of the boys, was saved for the Old Boys by this excellent scoring. The T.C.S. eleven was defeated by the Old Boys by a score of 86-81.

Speech Day.

On Wednesday, which was the real Speech Day, Holy Communion was celebrated in the college chapel at 7.45 a.m. The special train from Toronto, which brought a large number of friends, arrived at 10.30, and at 11 the service began in the chapel, at which Rev. Canon Davidson, of St. John's, Peterborough, was the preacher. The prizes were given in the gymnasium, where the chancellor of the diocese, Dr. Dorrell, K.C., acted as chairman and presented the prizes. The headmaster, Dr. Rigby, in reviewing the history of the school, pointed out the high honours attained by the T.C.S. boys. It was his pleasure again to be able to state that the T.C.S. obtained the highest marks in the Entrance examinations to the Royal Military College, for which he had received from the Hon. the Minister of Militia, hearty congratulations. He instanced also several Old Boys having obtained high honours in their respective callings, foremost among them Dr. William Osler, Regius, Professor of Medicine at Oxford.

Of special interest to Examiner readers will be the fact that the Peterborough boys at the school did remarkably well. Allan Rogers, son of Mr. E. R. Rogers, obtained a Ross Rifle, donated by the Daughters of the Empire, for rifle shooting. Trinity College School is the only one in Canada which gives its scholars training in the use of the rifle. Allan Rogers also won the Challenge Cup, as captain of his cadets, who were inspected by Lieut.-Col. Young, D.O.C.M. Allan Campbell was the winner of the Cricket Challenge Cup, and that he is a favourite among his fellow students was manifested by the vociferous applause that greeted him after returning with cup and the bat.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt presented a prize in German.

After the presentation of prizes the boys and the guests were entertained at luncheon.

And there are others.—Post.

MILLBROOK WILL ENTERTAIN TEAM

Millbrook expects a gala day when the Souris lacrosse team visits town some day next week. The date is not yet set, but we ask all our readers to talk up the sport a game with the champions will give. As soon as the date is known it will be advertised in every post office and store in the district.—Reporter.

Final Football Game To-morrow

Concluding Match in Senior Series of Midland League.

Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon will see the greatest association football match ever witnessed on Peterborough grounds. Bowmanville, the winner of the Stratton trophy last year will be represented by the strongest team they can obtain in that well-known football town. They defeated Cobourg in two fast games by 6 goals and are playing excellent ball. The Quakers have the best aggregation they have ever had and their team work is good. They certainly deserve a better patronage from the public than they have been receiving after bringing the junior Midland League Championship to Peterborough.

The game will begin at 3.30 and the players are urgently requested to be on the grounds in time to give the Bowmanville team time to catch their train for home.

The Quaker team will be picked from the following:—

McFadden, Evans, Doris, Simpson Archibald, Fitzgerald, Best, Baker Crough, Boycott, Armstrong, Huston. Referee—Mr. Sherin. Omemee.

FOOTBALL

For the game at the Lakefield picnic the Quaker team that will play Bridgenorth will probably be the following:—

Goal—McFadden.
Backs—Simpson, Evans.
Half backs—Deforge, Fitzgerald, Best.
Forwards—Sullivan, Baker, Huston Crough, Armstrong.

* * * *

Cobourg football team visit Bridgenorth on Saturday where they play an exhibition game with Bridgenorth in the evening. This match will be keenly watched by local kickers as Cobourg have been playing good ball this year in the Midland League and as Bridgenorth who have not yet had an opportunity to test their abilities, will meet the Quakers next Monday at Lakefield.

LAWN BOWLING

Games played last evening:—

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

Choice Progromme By The Band At Jackson Park

Large Crowd Listened to the Excellent Music—Part of Brantford Programme Given—Rain Interfered With Entertainment.

Jackson Park was again filled with a large crowd of pleasure seekers last night. This popular spot is more attractive than ever, and with such a varied programme as was put on last night, there were none who could not thoroughly enjoy themselves.

The 57th Band, in full force, was present, and rendered one of those delightful entertainments which that skilful body is so accustomed to present to Peterborough's public. But last night's selections were unusually fine. They were the same which Mr. Gliddon will have the band play at Brantford on July 1st.

The rain which began to fall before the hour for closing had come, had the effect of scattering the people quickly and for this reason some selections which were particularly intended for last night's programme, had to be omitted.

The first number was the beautiful overture, Von Suppe's "Poet and Peasant," and was played with a vim which made it one of the most appreciated of the evening. The effective rendering of the cornet solo, "A Dream of Paradise," by Bandsman Hughes, displaying his intelligent conception of the spirit of the music, was a special delight. Morris' setting of a selection from the "Regent of Siam," was very artistically interpreted, and received with much favour from the big audience. The last contribution, the march, "Religioso No. 2," by Chambers, a sacred piece, was a most satisfactory number, and rendered with a facility and grace only to be obtained after the best instructions.

A euphonium solo, "The Vacant Chair," by Bandsman Cronk, would have been the next selection, but for the untimely interference of the rain, but it is to be hoped that the citizens will have another opportunity to listen to this, as well as to other selections of the Brantford programme, which were not given.

Dr. Hodgetts Inspects Source Of Water Supply

Carefully Examines Both Sides of River as far as Lakefield—He Will Report Upon the Subject.

The visit here yesterday of Dr. Hodgetts, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, may be regarded as an outcome of the action of the Peterborough Water Commissioners, who initiated and practically procured the legislation enacted at the last session of the Legislature, giving the province control of the sources of water supply to urban waterworks systems, in the interests of preventing pollution of streams and lakes.

Dr. Hodgetts came to the city yesterday morning, and was taken in hand by Mr. William Eyres, chairman of the local board of health. They drove up one side of the river to Lakefield, coming down the other. En route a most thorough inspection was made of both banks of the river, practically every domestic premises on both sides being visited and examined.

Dr. Hodgetts, when seen by the Examiner at the conclusion of his inspection, declined to furnish any details as to what he had discovered, or not discovered — he preferred to embody his remarks in the report he will promptly make upon the situation.

Dr. Hodgetts went up the west side of the river and visited all the places bordering on the water. It is understood that the Board of Health secretary found a number of places where conditions were far from satisfactory. Some time was spent at the waterworks pump house, and everything inside was found to be clean and well kept. Dr. Hodgetts, however, was not satisfied with the location of the intake pipe. It is in comparatively still water and quite close to the shore. The opinion was expressed that it should be farther into the river and the open end in the current. Additional screens are also recommended. It is probable that the Water Commissioners will be asked to take steps to carry out these recommendations as soon as possible.

In Lakefield, Dr. Hodgetts, it is understood, found conditions which were in many cases most unsatisfactory. It was found that the river was being polluted there to an alarming extent, and the worst feature of the situation is that those who are responsible are indifferent to the matter, declaring that they are no worse than Peterborough, which deposits its sewage in the river. Dr. Hodgetts reminded them, however, that the cases were different, since there was no large city below Peterborough taking its water from the river.

Dr. Hodgetts came back on the east side of the river, and was satisfied with the conditions which he found there.

PURE FOODS VERSUS IMPURE

The crusade against adulterated foods is commendable, and should be supported by all right thinking people, especially when it is considered that in the majority of cases the adulterated product is foisted upon the community at the price of the pure article.

It is refreshing to know that in Tea the people are protected by demanding the well known and reputable brand "Salada" Ceylon Tea which is sold only in sealed packets, each bearing the selling price and the registered trade name, which is the public safeguard against substitutes.

WEDDING BELLS

SMALLPIECE–SYLVESTER.

The Toronto Star of yesterday had the following report of the wedding of Mr. F. C. Smallpiece:—At 4 o'clock this afternoon at St. Paul's church, Bloor street, the marriage took place of Miss Alice Louise Sylvester, eldest daughter of Dr. Geo. Perry Sylvester and Mrs. Sylvester, to Mr. Frank Clifford Smallpiece, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smallpiece.

The church was decorated with palms, ferns, and syringa, and the ceremony was performed by Canon Cody in the presence of a large congregation of relatives and guests. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in a gown of white net flounced with Parisian lace. Her veil was of tulle, arranged over a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Delphine Sylvester, sister of the bride, was maid of honour, wearing a pretty dress of primrose crepe de chine and lace, white lace hat, crowned with yellow roses and long tulle streamers, and carrying a bouquet of sunset roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Caroline Nairn and Miss Meriet Cronyn, who were gowned in white dotted mull trimmed with Valenciennes lace and insertion, and lace hats wreathed with daisies, and carried large bouquets of daisies tied with green ribbon.

Mr. Norman Smallpiece, brother of the groom, attended as best man, and the ushers were Mr. John Green, Mr. Ernest Harcourt, Mr. Hugh Hoyles, Mr. John Richardson, and Dr. Canfield.

A reception was afterwards held at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Sylvester, in Church street, and later the bride and groom went away on the 6 o'clock train to spend the honeymoon. Mrs. Sylvester was wearing violet crepe de chine trimmed with Irish crochet lace and white tulle hat with feathers. Mrs. Smallpiece had on gray silk voile and grey hat with purple lilacs. The bride's youngest sister wore dainty white, sashed, with pink and white hat with pink bows.

McGER–HOWDEN:

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on the 20th June at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gustavus Howden, Fairbank, Emily, when their second daughter, Ella Maud, was united in marriage to Mr. Isaiah McGer, of the same township. At 7 o'clock p.m., to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Ella Swetzer, the groom took his place on the lawn under an arch of evergreens and flowers, standing on a mat of natural flowers. The bride followed on the arm of her father. The bride was becomingly attired in a handsome gown of white point d'esprit over white satin. She wore a coronet of orange blossoms with tulle veil, and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Pricilla Howden, cousin of the bride, dressed in white silk, acted as flower girl, carrying a basket of pink roses in which was concealed the ring. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. McCullough, of Omemee, in the presence of about 100 guests.

The dining-room was prettily decorated in white and pink. The presents were numerous and costly, showing the esteem in which the bride was held. She will be much missed in this vicinity, as she was a member of Bethel choir and took a prominent part in the church work. —Millbrook Reporter.

And he will answer you intelligently and to your entire satisfaction.

As one man said in speaking about the campaign of optical education which we are carrying on:

"It is a pleasure to meet and talk with a man who seems to understand the eye, and will tell us truthfully the true condition"

Such is a fact. Dr. Montgomery is here to help the people by giving them good vision, and by relieving their eye troubles.

He is here to teach us the new way of diagnosing errors of sight. He is here to help you if you are an eyesight sufferer.

Was Attended by Messrs S. A. and Walter Oke of This City.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Oke, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Oke, were in Port Hope on Wednesday last attending the wedding of Mr. William Oke, brother of the two gentlemen of that name in this city, which took place that day at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex McMaster, Hope Township. The wedding was quiet, being attended only by the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

Rice Remanded On Theft Charge

He Was Brought Back From Cobourg Yesterday by P. C. Stewart.

P. C. Stewart yesterday took a trip to Cobourg to bring back George Rice who is wanted on a charge of stealing $85 and a gold-filled watch from John McKee in Victoria Park two weeks ago. Rice was arrested at Cobourg and Chief of Police Ruse at once notified the local authorities.

Rice appeared before Police Magistrate Dumble at a special session yesterday and was remaded until July 5th to allow of evidence being secured.

A resident of East City was the centre figure at Police Court this morning on a charge of non-support, his wife being the complainant in the case. The man had been drinking and pleaded guilty to the charge. The Magistrate decided to remand him for a week to give him a chance to sober up. He was advised to keep away from whiskey.

STRAWBERRIES ARE VERY SCARCE FRUIT

It appears that the reports to the effect that the strawberry crop this year would be large are not founded on fact. To-day The Examiner was in conversation with one of the largest fruit importers in the city, and he stated that it was becoming very difficult to procure good berries. He had quotations to-day from the west for $2.25 for a two dozen crate, and express extra. The recent rains appear to have blighted the crop to a certain extent. There are practically no berried growing are practically no berried grown near Peterborough. At any rate, not nearly enough to supply the city's demand, and the dealers have to depend on the supply shipped in from the west.

DELIVERED BABY BOY TO THE HIRED MAN

One evening recently, about 9 o'clock, an immigrant girl knocked at the door of a prominent farmer near Heard's Station, and the lady of the house was handed a basket, which she was requested to deliver to the hired man. The girl departed and shortly after, a strange voice was heard in the room. The lady of the house opened the basket, and to her surprise beheld a crying infant boy, which was delivered as requested. The baby has now a happy home at Stirling.—Campbellford Despatch.

STOLE CANOE IN OWNER'S ABSENCE

On Friday night last some person broke into a boat house, on the river bank just below the village, and took a canoe belonging to Messrs. Cameron and Scott, two employees of the tannery who are at present with the militia at Cobourg. The canoe was put away about 9 o'clock Friday night and at 5 o'clock the next morning the door of the boat house was discovered broken open and the canoe gone. No trace of it has since been found. The canoe is of a red colour, and information as to its whereabouts will be gladly received.—Hastings Star.

Brantford Outing Promises To Be One Of Regiment's Best

The Officers and Men of the 57th Regiment Look Forward to Trip to Telephone City To-night With Pleasure—The Programme for the Visit—Regiment Will try to Create Good Impression.

Of all the trips which the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, have taken in the past—and there have been many — to none have the men looked forward with as pleasant anticipations as to their visit to Brantford, where they will be the guests of the Dufferin Rifles, a city regiment, with a reputation in this part of the province of being about the smartest in the service. Last year the local "sojer boys" went to Ottawa, where they were entertained by the Governor-General's Foot Guards in a right royal manner, and many pleasant memories are held of that visit to the capital.

Pleasant Expectations.

Pleasant, however, as that trip was the men, and the officers, too, for that matter, are looking forward to even a more enjoyable outing to the Telephone City, to-night, to-morrow and Monday. In anticipation of meeting, and being measured up by the Dufferins, the Rangers have been putting in some particularly hard drills during the past few months, and they are most desirous of creating a favourable impression, and of doing the regiment credit.

Two companies have been at Cobourg since Tuesday morning, as part of the composite regiment at the annual camp, and they have been having a touch of the strenuous life of a soldier. They returned last night, and declare that their four days at camp has served to whet their appetite for the more enjoyable feature, that of the trip to Brantford.

Will Look Smart.

There was considerable anxiety among both the officers and men earlier in the season, as to whether the new uniforms would be here in time for the trip, and when word was received to the effect that they had actually been shipped, they all breathed more freely. The uniforms have been issued to the men, and they—the men—look very much better. At any rate, that's the general opinion here—maybe Brantford people will not think so, however. At any rate, no one will do any boasting until the citizens of the best little city in Western Ontario have had an opportunity of sizing up the boys in red—they'll be—satisfied to abide by their judgment.

Military Spirit Dominant.

The regiment is well up to strength, and as an evidence of the military spirit which prevails here, it may be mentioned that in spite of the fact, that a new battery of artillery was organized here this year, and went to the camp full strength, and a large number of men are enlisted in the Third Dragoons, a cavalry regiment, the officers of the 57th have had no difficulty in keeping that regiment up to full strength—in fact some of the company commanders have been obliged to refuse to enlist men who have offered their services, solely because their companies were already over-strength. This anxiety to enlist may have been indused by the prospect of the trip to Brantford. At any rate, that is the condition which exists.

Trip Arrangements.

Orders have been issued by the Lieut.-Colonel to govern the regiment during the trip. They direct that at nine o'clock to-night the regiment will parade in drill order, with helmets and ball bags, at the Armouries, and thence march to the C. P. R. station, where a special train will be in waiting to convey the regiment to Brantford, the train leaving at ten o'clock sharp. The brass and bugle bands will accompany the regiment. Capt. A. P. McLean is transport officer, and his arrangements for the conveyance of the regiment are perfect. The special train will be in charge of Mr. W. T. Dockerill, travelling passenger agent of the C. P. R., who has accompanied the 57th on previous trips, and Mr. W. McIlroy, the popular city passenger agent of the same company. It is the intention to make a fast run—the C. P. R. always does, when it transports the 57th—and reach Brantford early to-morrow morning.

An advance party sent under the direction of Capt. Eastwood, Quartermaster, and in charge of Quartermaster Sergeant Edwards, left here on Thursday night, for the purpose erecting the tents, etc., for the men to-night.

The programme for the two days that the regiment will spend in Brantford, as indicated in the commanding officer's orders, is as follows:

Sunday, July 1st.

6.30 a.m.—Reveille.
7.30.—Breakfast.
9.00.—Guard mounting.
9.15.—Dress for parade.
9.30.—Church parade, in Divine Service order.
12.45.—Dinner.
6.30.—Supper.
Sunset—Retreat.
8.15. — Sacred concert by band on camp grounds.
9.00.—Guard mounting.
10.30.—Tattoo, first post.
10.45.—Lights out.

Monday, July 2.

6.30.—Reveille.
7.30.—Breakfast.
9.00.—Guard mounting.
12 noon.—Dinner.
12.45.—Dress for parade.
1.00 p.m.—Parade in Brigade Review order.
6.30.—Supper.
Sunset—Retreat.
9.30.—Fall in on parade ground.
10.00.—Entrain for Peterborough.

Lieut. Col. Miller is anxious that the trip shall be one which will not only be enjoyed by the men, but that the citizens of Lakefield will also look back upon it with pleasure, and this desire is indicated by the clause of his orders, which reads:

"In issuing the foregoing orders, the commanding officer desires to express the hope that the outing will be a thoroughly pleasant and enjoyable one for all ranks. He does not deem it necessary to ask the members of this regiment to be circumspect in their conduct and deportment as he has the fullest confidence that all will do their utmost to maintain the good reputation of their corps, and that they will have the greatest respect for themselves as soldiers, be a credit to the citizens of Peterborough and so conduct themselves that the citizens of Brantford will consider it a high honour to have entertained the Peterborough Rangers as their guests."

The regiment will leave here to-night in the best of spirits, and that they will have a good time is assured—leave that to the officers and men of the Dufferin Rifles, as the 57th are willing to do.

Stole Sweetheart In Her Nightie Down Rope Ladder

Then Lieferman Hurried Her to Chicago, Placed Her Behind Barricades and Waited for Her Brother With Shotgun and Revolvers.

Examiner Special.

Centralia, Ill., June 30.—William Liefman, a Lochinvar from Chicago, has fled with his sweetheart, Grace Monroe, the handsome eighteen-year-old daughter of the Rev. Alexander Monroe, pastor of the Chicago Lawn Congregational Church.

It certainly was awkward for the bride to race away in her night-robe, pluse no other article which may be called lingerie. Only a pair of cloth slippers covered her "tootsies". It was all for love and the whole countryside was with her, clothes or no clothes.

Just a week ago Pastor Monroe kidnapped his daughter from the Chicago parsonage, and, with the assistance of James Shanklin, a dental student of this place, forced her into a cab, drove to the Illinois Central station, and brought her to this city. Pastor Monroe has a lonely farm five miles from town and in the house on this farm, the girl was kept a prisoner. She lacks a month of being eighteen.

The minister insisted that she marry Shanklin. She refused. Lieferman obtained a warrant against the father for threats to kill and constables are waiting to serve it. He consulted lawyers and was told that a habeas corpus proceeding was the only thing.

This was too slow for him. Accompanied by a friend he arrived here yesterday. Five leading Centralia men offered to assist him in rescuing the girl. Plans were made, the success of which depended upon getting word to the distressed one.

In this they were successful.

A relay of fast horses was provided between the farm and Centralia. Last night two hours after the girl retired, Lieferman was under the window. He tossed her a rope ladder and she descended in her night clothes and slippers. She explained that her wardrobe was under lock and key.

Lieferman wrapped her in his overcoat and the driver galloped his horses two miles, when the second relay and five friends were picked up. The five miles were covered in fifteen minutes. There was just fifteen minutes to catch the 11.30 train to Chicago, and on this the sloners departed amid the congratulations and shouts of a small party. One of the men, a married one, received the blushing thanks of the bride-to-be when, in ten minutes, he dug up a skirt, a wrapper and other articles.

Behind Barricades with Girl Lieferman is Ready for Battle.

Chicago, June 30.—Lieferman arrived here this morning with Miss Monroe and immediately conveyed her to the home of his parents, No. 3216 Sixty-third place, in Chicago Lawn. Pastor Monroe and the rejected suitor Shanklin took up the pursuit and arrived in the city to-night.

The father is determined to recapture his daughter. The young couple heard of his advent and Lieferman armed himself and said he would kill the minister if he invaded the house in an attempt to carry off the girl. He placed her in a room and barricaded the apartment. Then he notified the police that if the minister attempted violence or engaged constables or policemen to invade the house he would resist to the death.

Lieferman armed himself with a shotgun and two revolvers and barricaded the front and back doors and the hallways. Two friends are holding the fort with him. Miss Monroe told him she would prefer death rather than return to her captivity.

The minister's more probable course will be in the direction of a warrant for abduction against Lieferman. In the mean time Lieferman is planning to escape from the home fort with the girl and slide away until they can marry.

Cupid and Death Fight For a Bride

Whitehall Jeweller Weds a Nurse as She Lies in Bed, Possibly Dying.

Examiner Special.

Fort Edward, N.Y., June 30.—With his bride lying in bed dangerously ill of typhoid fever and barely able to lift her voice above a whisper, Charles W. Jones, a jeweller of Whitehall, N.Y., was married to Miss Margaret E. Miller, a trained nurse, but of a wealthy and aristocratic family of Montreal, Canada. Her temperature was at 103 degrees, and, fearing that she might die at any moment, a minister was hurriedly sent for, and with the bridegroom standing by the sick-bed the clergyman pronounced the words which made them husband and wife, the bride, frail of body and almost exhausted, responding in a trembling voice, but with a heart full of devotion for her gallant lover.

The bride is a niece of ex-Mayor McShane, of Montreal. She became a nurse and drifted to Whitehall, falling in love shortly after with the man she wed. He is passionately in love with her and refuses to leave her bedside for a single moment. Night and day he watches over her, the scant food upon which he subsists being brought to the room where lies the girl who lives next to death's door and upon whom his gaze is continually fixed.

He has a valuable business, but pays no attention to it and says he would rather sacrifice all his earthly possessions than leave her presence for an instant. His marriage to the "pretty nurse girl from Montreal" has caused much criticism among the leading fathers and mothers of the village who have courted his attentions in the interests of their daughters and made him the hero at every social function for the purpose of winning him as a son-in-law. Young Jones, though, pays no attention to to their gossip and sticks constantly to his bedside bride and says he will nurse her back to health and strength. Physicians and friends have urged him to place her in a hospital for treatment, but he scorns their advice and asserts that no physician in the world knows her needs and desires as well as he and that none of them can give her the care her body and mind require for recovery.

CHAPTER VI.

IT was an investigating negro child of tender years who, possessed of a petty sense of cause and effect, brought an illuminative simplicity to bear upon the problem of the forces pump, and a multitudinous agitation greeted his discovery that the engineers had forgotten to connect their pipes with the river.

This naive omission was fatal to the second warehouse. The wall burst into flame below Crailey Gray, who clung to the top of the ladder, choking, stifled and dimly fighting the sparks that covered him, yet still clutching the nozzle of the hose line they had passed to him. When the stream at last leaped forth, making the nozzle fight in his grasp, he sent it straight up into the air and let the cataract fall back upon himself and upon the two men beneath him on the ladder.

There came a moment of blessed relief, and he looked out over the broad grey blur of faces in the street, where no one wondered more than he how the water was to reach the roof. Suddenly he started, wiped his eyes with his wet sleeve and peered intently down from under the shading arm. His roving glance crossed the smoke and flame to rest upon a tall, white figure that stood full length above the heads of the people upon a pedestal wrought with the grotesque images of boys; a girl's figure, still as neon, enrapt, like the statue of some young goddess for whom were made these sacrificial pyres. Mr. Gray recognized his opportunity.

A blackened and unrecognizable face peered down from the eaves, and the voice belonging to it said angrily:

"Why didn't they send up that line before they put the water through it?"

"Never mind, Tom," answered Crailey cheerfully, "I'll bring it up."

"You can't. I'll come down for it. Don't be every kind of a fool!"

"You want a monopoly, do you?" And Crailey, calling to Tappingham Marsh, next below him, to come higher, left the writhing nozzle in the latter's possession, swung himself out upon the grappling ladder, imitating the chief's gymnastics, and immediately, one hand grasping the second rung, one knee crooked over the lowest, leaned head down and took the nozzle from Marsh. It was a heavy weight, and, though Marsh supported the line beneath it, the great stream hurtling forth made it a difficult thing to manage, for it wriggled, recoiled and struggled as if it had been alive. Crailey made three attempts to draw himself up, but the strain was too much for his grip, and on the third attempt his fingers melted from the rung, and he swung down fearfully, hanging by his knee, but still clinging to the nozzle.

"Give it up, Crailey. It isn't worth it," Vanrevel called from overhead, not daring the weight of both on the light grappling ladder.

But though Crailey cared no more for the saving of Robert Carewe's property than for a butterfly's wing in China, he could not give up now, any more than as a lad he could have forborne to turn somersaults when the prettiest little girl looked out of the schoolhouse window. He passed the nozzle to Tappingham, caught the second rung with his left hand, and, once more dangling head downward, seized the nozzle; then, with his knee hooked tight, as the gushing water described a huge semicircle upon the smoke and hot vapor, he made a mad lurch through the air, while women shrieked, but he landed upright, half sitting on the lowest rung. He climbed the grappling ladder swiftly, in spite of the weight and contortions of the unmanageable beast he carried with him. Tom leaned far down and took it from him, and Crailey, passing the eaves, fell exhausted upon the foot. Just as he reached this temporary security a lady was borne, fainting, out of the acclaiming crowd. Fanchon was there.

Word had been passed to the gentlemen of the engine company to shut off the water in order to allow the line to be carried up the ladder, and they received the command at the moment Tom lifted the nozzle, so that the stream dried up in his hands. This was the last straw, and the blackened, singed and scarred chief, setting the trumpet to his lips, gave himself entirely to wrath.

It struck Crailey, even as he lay coughing and weeping with smoke, that there was something splendid and large in the other's rage. Vanrevel was ordinarily so steady and cool that this was worth seeing, this berserker gesture; worth hearing, this wonderful profanity, like Washington's one fit of cursing, and Crailey, knowing Tom, knew, too, that it had not come upon him because Carewe had a daughter into whose eyes Tom had looked; nor did he rage because he believed that Crailey's life and his were in the greater hazard for the lack of every drop of water that should have issued from the empty nozzle.

Their lungs were burdened with smoke, while the intolerable smarting of throat, eyes and nostrils was like the incision of a thousand needles in the membranes. Their clothes were luminous with glowing circles where the sparks were eating. The blaze widened on the wall beneath them, and Marsh was shouting hoarsely that he could no longer hold his position on the ladder, yet Crailey knew that none of this was in Tom's mind as he stood, scorched, blistered and haggard, on the edge of the roof, shaking his fist at the world. It was because his chance of saving the property of a man he despised was being endangered.

Crailey stretched forth a hand and touched his friend's knee. "Your side of the conversation is a trifle loud, Tom," he said. "Miss Carewe is down there across the street on a pile of boxes."

Tom stopped in the middle of a word, for which he may have received but half a black stroke from the recording angel. He wheeled toward the street and, shielding his inflamed eyes with his hand, gazed downward in a stricken silence. From that moment Mr. Vanrevel's instructions to his followers were of a decorum at which not the meekest Sunday school scholar dare have cavilled.

The three men now on the long ladder—Marsh, Eugene Madrillon and Will Cummings—found their position untenable, for the flames, reaching all along the wall, were licking at the ladder itself between Marsh and Eugene. "I can't stand this any longer," gasped Tappingham, "but I can't leave those two up there either."

"Not alone," shouted Cummings from beneath Madrillon. "Let's go up."

Thus it happened that when the water came again and Vanrevel let it fall in a grateful cascade upon Crailey and himself three manly voices were heard singing as three men toiled through the billows of rosy gray below the beleaguered pair:

"Oh, the noble Duke of York,
He had ten thousand men;
He marched them up the side of a house
And marched them down again!"

A head appeared above the eaves, and Marsh, then Eugene, then Cummings, came crawling over the cornice in turn to join their comrades. They were a gallant band, those young gentlemen of Rouen, and they came with the ironical song on their lips and, looking at one another, ragged and scarified, burst into hoarse but indomitable laughter.

Two others made an attempt to follow and would not be restrained. It was noticed that parts of the lower ladder had been charring, and the ladder men were preparing to remove it to a less dangerous point when old General Trumble and young Jefferson Bareaud made a rush to mount it and were well upon their upward way before the ladder, weakened at the middle, sagged, splintered and broke, Trumble and Bareaud falling with it. And there was the grappling ladder dangling forty feet above the ground, and there were the five upon the roof.

The department had no other ladder of more than half the length of the shattered one. Not only the department, but every soul in Rouen, knew that, and there rose the thick, low sigh of a multitude, a sound frightful to hear. It became a groan, then swelled into a deep cry of alarm and lamentation.

And now almost simultaneously the west wall of the building and the south wall and all the southwestern portions of the roof covered themselves with voluminous mantles of flame, which increased so hugely and with such savage rapidity that the one stream on the roof was seen to be but a ridiculous and useless opposition.

Everybody began to shout advice to his neighbor, and nobody listened even to himself. The firemen were in as great a turmoil as was the crowd, while women covered their eyes. Young Frank Chenoweth was sobbing curses upon the bruised and shaking Trumble and Jefferson Bareaud, who could only stand remorseful, impotently groaning, and made no answer.

The walls of the southernmost warehouse followed the roof, crashing in one after the other, a sacrifice pyre with its purpose consummated, and in the seeth and flare of its passing Tom Vanrevel again shaded his eyes with his hand and looked down across the upturned faces. The pedestal with the grotesque carvings was still there, but the crowning figure had disappeared—the young goddess was gone. For she, of all that throng, had an idea in her head, and, after screaming it to every man within reach, only to discover the impossibility of making herself understood in that babel, she was struggling to make her way toward the second warehouse, through the swaying jam of people. It was a difficult task, as the farther in she managed to go the denser became the press and the more tightly she found the people wedged, until she received involuntary aid from the firemen. In turning their second stream to play ineffectually upon the lower strata of flame they accidentally deflected it toward the crowd, who separated wildly, leaving a big gap, of which Miss Bett, took instant advantage. She darted across, and the next moment, unnoticed, had entered the gilding through the door which Crailey Gray had opened.

The five young men on the roof were well aware that there was little to do but to wait, and soon they would see which was to win, they or the fire, as they shifted their line of hose to the eastern front of the building, out of harm's way for a time at least, and held the nozzle steady, watching its work. And in truth it was not long before they understood which would conquer. The southern and western portions of the building had flung out great flames that fluttered and flared on the breeze like titanic flags, and steadily, slowly at first, then faster as the seconds flew, the five were driven backward, up the low slope of the roof toward the gable ridge. Tom Vanrevel held the first joint of the nozzle, and he retreated with a sulky face, lifting his foot grudgingly at each step. They were all silent now, and no one spoke until Will Cummings faltered:

"Surely they'll get a rope up to us some way?"

Will knew as well as did the others that there was no way, but his speech struck the sullen heart of the chief with remorse. He turned. "I hope you'll all forgive me for getting you up here."

A sound, half sob, half giggle, came from the parched lips of Eugene Madrillon as he patted Tom on the shoulder without speaking, and Crailey nodded quietly, then left the group and went to the eastern edge of the roof and looked out upon the crowd. Cummings dropped the line and sat down, burying his hot face in his arms, for they all saw that Vanrevel thought "it was no use," but a question of a few minutes, and they would retreat across the gable and either jump or go down with the roof.

* * * * * * *

Since the world began idle and industrious philosophers have speculated much upon the thoughts of men about to die, yet it cannot be too ingenuous to believe that such thoughts vary as the men, their characters and conditions of life vary. Nevertheless, pursuant with the traditions of minstrelsy and romance, it is conceivable that young unmarried men called upon to face desperate situations might, at the crucial moment, rush to a common experience of summoning the vision, each of his heart's desire, and to meet, each his doom, with her name upon his lips.

An extraordinary thing occurred in the present instance, for, by means of some fragmentary remarks let fall at the time and afterward recalled, such as Tappingham Marsh's gasping, "At least it will be on her father's roof!" and from other things later overheard, an inevitable deduction has been reached that four of the five gentlemen in the perilous case herein described were occupied with the vision of the same person, to wit, Miss Elizabeth Carewe, "the last, the prettiest, to come to town!"

Crailey Gray, alone, spoke not at all, but why did he strain and strain his eyes toward that empty pedestal with the grotesque carvings? Did he seek Fanchon there, or was Miss Carewe the last sweet apparition in the fancies of all five of the unhappy young men?

The coincidence of the actual appearance of the lady among them therefore seemed the more miraculous when, wan and hopeless, staggering desperately backward to the gable ridge, they heard a clear contralto voice behind them:

"Hadn't you better all come down now?" it said. "The stairway will be on fire before long."

Only one thing could have been more shockingly unexpected to the five than that there should be a sixth person on the roof, and this was that the sixth person should be Miss Betty Carewe.

They turned, aghast, agape, chopfallen with astonishment, stunned and incredulous.

She stood just behind the gable ridge, smiling amiably, a most incongruous little pink fan in her hand, the smoke wreaths partly obscuring her and curling between the five and her white dress, like mists floating across the new moon.

"Hadn't you better all come down now?"

Was it but a kindly phantasm of the brain? Was it the incarnation of the last vision of the lost volunteers? Was it a Valkyrie assuming that lovely likeness to perch upon this eyrie, waiting to bear their heroic souls to Valhalla, or was it Miss Betty Carewe?

To the chief she spoke—all of them agreed to that afterward—but it was Crailey who answered, while Tom could only stare and stand wagging his head at the lovely phantom like a mandarin on a shelf.

"My mother in heaven!" gasped Crailey. "How did you come up here?"

"There's a trap in the roof on the other side of the ridge," she said, and she began to fan herself with the pink fan. "A stairway runs all the way down—old Nelson showed me through these buildings yesterday—and that side isn't on fire yet. I'm so sorry I didn't think of it until a moment ago, because you could have brought the water up that way. But don't you think you'd better come down now?"

CHAPTER VII.

NOT savage Hun nor "barbarous Vandyke" nor demon Apache could wish to dwell upon the state of mind of the chief of the Rouen volunteer fire department; therefore let the curtain of mercy descend. Without a word he turned and dragged the nozzle to the eastern eaves, whence, after a warning gesture to those below, he dropped it to the ground, and, out of compassion, it should be little more than hinted that the gesture of warning was very slight.

When the rescued band reached the foot of the last flight of stairs they beheld the open doorway as a frame for a great press of intent and contorted faces, every eye still strained to watch the roof, none of the harrowed spectators comprehending the appearance of the girl's figure there, nor able to see whither she had led the five young men, until Tappingham Marsh raised a shout as he leaped out of the door and danced upon the solid earth again.

Then, indeed, there was a mighty uproar. Cheer after cheer ascended to the red vault of heaven. Women wept, men whooped and the people rushed for the heroes with wide open, welcoming arms. Jefferson Bareaud and Frank Chenoweth and General Trumble dashed at Tom Vanrevel with incoherent cries of thanksgiving, shaking his hands and beating him hysterically upon the back. He greeted them with bitter laughter.

"Help get the water into the next warehouse. This one is beyond control, but we can save the other two. Take the lines in—through the door!" He brushed the rejoicing friends off abruptly, and went on in a queer, hollow voice: "There are stairs—and I'm so sorry I didn't think of it until a moment ago, because you could have brought the water up that way!"

A remarkable case of desertion had occurred the previous instant under his eyes. As the party emerged from the warehouse into the street Tom heard Crailey say hurriedly to Miss Carewe: "Let me get you away—come quickly!" saw him suddenly seize her hand and, eluding the onrushing crowd, run with her round the corner of the building. And somehow, through what inspiration or through what knowledge of his partner's "temperament," heaven knows, the prophetic soul of the chief was unhappily assured that Crailey would offer himself as escort to her home and find acceptance. But why not? Was it Crailey who had publicly called his fellow man fool, idiot, imbecile, at the top of his lungs only to find himself the proven numskull of the universe! Tom stood for a moment staring after the vanishing pair, while over his face stole the strangest expression that ever man saw there; then, with meekly bowed shoulders, he turned again to his work.

At the corner of the warehouse Miss Carewe detached her hand from Crailey's, yet still followed him as he made a quick detour round the next building. A minute or two later they found themselves, undetected, upon Main street in the rear of the crowd. There Crailey paused.

"Forgive me," he said breathlessly, "for taking your hand. I thought you would like to get away."

She regarded him gravely, so that he found it difficult to read her look, except that it was seriously questioning, but whether the interrogation was addressed to him or to herself he could not determine. After a silence she said:

"I don't know why I followed you. I believe it must have been because you didn't give me time to think."

This, of course, made him even quicker with her than before. "It's all over," he said briskly. "The first warehouse is gone, the second will go, but they'll save the others easily enough now that you have pointed out that the lines may be utilized otherwise than as adjuncts of performances on the high trapeze." They were standing by a picket fence, and he leaned against it, overcome by mirth in which she did not join. Her gravity reacted upon him at once, and his laughter was stopped short. "Will you not accept me as an escort to your home?" he said formally.

"I do not know," she returned simply, the sort of honest trouble in her glance that is seen only in very young eyes.

"What reason in the world?" he returned, with a crafty sharpness of astonishment.

She continued to gaze upon him thoughtfully, while he tried to look into her eyes, but was baffled because the radiant beams from the lady's orbs, as the older Chenoweth might have said, rested somewhere dangerously near his chin, which worried him, for, though his chin made no retreat and was far from ill looking, it was nevertheless that feature which he most distrusted. "Won't you tell me why not?" he repeated uneasily.

When the Liver is out of Order calomel, cascara, salts, strong liver pills and purging mineral waters won't do any permanent good.

When a person is bilious, the liver is not giving up enough bile to move the bowels regularly—and some of the bile is being absorbed by the blood. In other words, the liver is in a weakened, unhealthy condition.

Now, purgatives don't act on the liver at all. They merely irritate the bowels, and afford only temporary relief. But FRUIT-A-TIVES are the one true LIVER TONIC. They act directly on the liver—strengthen and invigorate this vital organ—and put it in a normal, healthy condition.

FRUIT-A-TIVES also stimulate the glands of the skin—and regulate the kidneys and sweeten the stomach. When skin, liver and kidneys are normally healthy, there can be no biliousness, no constipation, no kidney trouble, no impure blood, no headaches.

No other medicine known to science is so reliable and so effective in curing Biliousness as these fruit liver tablets.

FRUIT-A-TIVES are fruit juices with tonics added—and are free from alcohol and dangerous drugs. 50c. a box or 6 for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price, if your druggist does not handle them.

LITTLE BELL BIOGRAPHIES

Beethoven

LUDWIG VAN BEETHOVEN, born at Bonn, 1770, died at Vienna, 1827, disputes with Bach the title—"The World's Greatest Musician." In such high honor was he held that 25,000 people—including the nobility, poets, artists, musicians and the populace of Vienna—attended his funeral. Like Bach and Mozart, he was early a musical prodigy. Until he was 25 he appeared privately as a pianist before the nobility. After 1795 he appeared in public, both as a pianist and as a conductor; but increasing deafness compelled him to give up both for composition.

He composed all forms of vocal and instrumental music—from the song to grand opera and oratorio, from the sonata to the concerto and the symphony. Of his nine great symphonies, the Pastoral, the Eroica and the Choral Symphony are universally admired. The pianoforte sonata, developed by Mozart and Haydn, he made perfect. His Opus 27 No. 2, popularly known as "The Moonlight Sonata," is a household favorite.

He was not so great a pianist as Mozart (who played the clavier), because he aimed more at originality and boldness in expression than at finish in technic. He was not so great as Liszt or Rubinstein because he was handicapped both by deafness and by an instrument which, while an improvement over the clavier, had nothing of the wonderful musical qualities of

HERE AND THERE.

Much Trimmed Blouses—High Linen Collars Smart—Checked Fabrics.

The newest and loveliest of the new blouses are just as much trimmed in the back as in front and on the sleeves.

The high linen collar, with its dainty muslin tie, has the seal of approval set upon it by the best dressed women of Paris.

Another model of white and black serge has a circular cut skirt with a bias front seam and straight sides, trimmed in flat, white silk fiber braid. The loose blouse is also trimmed with this braid, but the collar and cuffs are ornamented with lines of white and black soutache and the fronts finished with tiny black satin revers set with small gold buttons.

Checked materials for frocks are too much of a standby to cause a ripple of excitement in the sartorial world. Shaded light gray checked fabrics seemed the most approved of Dame Fashion. In spite of the theory that women who are, well—stout—should avoid light colors, these pale checked costumes are found to be very becoming.

Pink dotted mull makes the charming gown seen in the illustration. The skirt is trimmed with three lace edged ruffles, with a fanciful design of lace above them. The decollete bodice has a bolero effect, and the lace ruffled sleeves are adorned with a pretty flight of pompadour bows.

VOGUE OF SHADOW WORK.

Simple Embroidery That Involves Little Time or Effort.

Everybody who uses a needle at all seems to be doing shadow work, although, what at first thought seems a contradiction of its popularity, very little shadow embroidery finds a market. But it's simply that work which involves so little time and effort cannot command a price.

Its great claim to popularity is that very point. Women who like hand work, yet who have neither the money to invest in beautiful lingerie and blouses nor the patience to devote to the patient setting of wee stitches, gallop through the work on a blouse—in fact, finish an elaborate pattern in a day, make it up the next and wear it on the third day.

It's the same with lingerie as with blouses. The whole front of a chemise may be done in an afternoon as you work, half lazily, interrupting yourself to have a cup of tea cosily with the friend who is doing the very same work.

How the Work Is Done.

Shadow work is all done on the wrong side, without necessarily using embroidery rings or frames—another thing which commends it to those individuals who like to do everything in the laziest possible way. Only the merest line of stitches shows on the right side, except that frequent crossing and recrossing of stitches on the wrong side resolves itself upon pressing into a sort of heavy padding, which forces the material out on a level with the outlining.

But use a rather closely woven linen to do the work upon, so that these stitches may not be visible in detail, but only as a padding.

Choose a design which is simple in its lines—flowers with long, curling petals rather than round ones. And don't attempt to do the numerous round dots scattered over every sort of design this spring in shadow work. Not one woman in a thousand succeeds in making them look round, yet the very simplicity of that tiny stitch outlining the dot demands that the circle be perfect. Embroider the dots solid and then outline them, using the old fashioned back stitch to more perfectly simulate the other work.

Do the stems on the wrong side, or back stitching them on the right is probably an easier way.

A Japanese Effect.

Occasionally this work is applied to silk, but is usually then padded, which gives it a little the look of some unusual forms of Japanese embroidery. The padding is done with the finest raw cotton—that used by jewelers is best, if you can get it—a bit of it laid in place and held until the first few stitches have it secured.

Of course, this padding can only be used upon a waist which you have no intention of laundering, upon crepe de chine or upon the new chiffony forms of satin and taffeta and china silk. But put it in water once—only once—and your pretty padding will resolve itself into crooked, creased puckers, losing all semblance to its original beauty.

In the little guimpes children wear with summer dresses shadow work is most satisfactory. For the work of beautifying the small girl's clothes—so important a point to her mother if she is her own seamstress—becomes simplified without so very much work being required as is usually the case to take the place of money.—Philadelphia North American.

FRIBBLES OF FASHION.

The June Bride's Bouquet—Ruffle Panels an Innovation—Double Skirts.

White lilacs and lilies of the valley will form the bouquet of the June bride. She will very likely wear an empire or princess gown of some sheer, soft material. Chiffon is in high favor trimmed with folds of white satin and a draped girdle of the same.

A new way to trim the skirt of a summer gown is with a number of ruffles that go all around the skirt and at intervals run up into panels. These panels are outlined with bands of some kind, either of embroidery, ribbon or lace.

Plenty of double and triple skirts are popular with their flounces inset with motifs, edged with lace or incrusted with medallions of hand embroidery, and often all three are employed.

Indications point to the reign of the tan shoe. The smart shops all have extensive showings of this serviceable footwear.

On many of the percale and gingham dresses are seen crocheted rings used in place of buttons.

One of the latest fancies is the use of very wide liberty ribbons arranged as fichus with long ends.

The gown in the cut is of pale yellow organdie. The skirt is tucked about the waist, and at the foot between a Greek key design carried out in heavy insertion are rows of deep tucks. The bloused bodice has a pelerine effect, formed of tucked organdie and insertion. The round yoke is of valenciennes lace. The sleeves have double puffs and frills of lace.

Homemade Candies.

Peanut Candy.—Two cups of granulated sugar, a cup of molasses, half a teaspoonful of cream of tartar, a tablespoonful of butter and a pound of nuts. Put the sugar, molasses and cream of tartar on the fire and let boil until it will make a hard but not brittle ball when dropped in cold water. Just before removing from the fire add the butter. Have the nut meats ready in a buttered pan, and pour the candy over them. When cool enough cut into squares.

Cocoanut Drops.—Put two cupfuls of sugar and half a cupful of water together in a granite saucepan and boil without stirring until it forms a soft ball after being dropped in cold water. Add three cupfuls of freshly grated cocoanut and cook a little while longer. Take from the fire and let it stand undisturbed until a dent can be formed in its surface. Add vanilla and stir until creamy. Take out about a third of it and color pink. Reheat the white mixture over hot water, stirring constantly. Drop on paraffin paper, giving it a cone shape. At the apex of each cone put a little of the red candy.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL.

Stomach and bowel troubles kill thousands of little ones during the hot weather. Diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum sometimes come without warning and if prompt aid is not at hand the child may be beyond aid in a few hours. If you want to keep your children hearty, rosy and full of life, during the hot weather give them an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets. This medicine prevents illness and cures it when it comes unexpectedly. And the mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine is safe. Mrs. W. J. Munroe, Sintaluta, Sask., says: "For more than three years Baby's Own Tablets is the only medicine I have given my children, and I think the Tablets invaluable for stomach and bowel troubles." Sold by all medicine dealers, or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont. Keep the tablets in the house.

Hunt Up Crochet Tidies.

Have any of the housewives old fashioned crocheted tidies which they have concealed in the dark recesses of their closets? If so, now is the time to bring them out—not for ornamental use in the home, but for dress trimming. Fashion has set the seal of her approval upon handmade lace, and there is nothing more modish than the pretty crocheted lace with which every woman was wont to occupy her spare time a few years ago. Women folk were especially fond of making tidies of the little round wheels of crocheted lace. Now, while these tidies were hideous as ornaments for chairs, they are really lovely when taken apart and set in dainty waists as medallions. A tour of the shops will show many beautiful lingerie waists with yoke and other fancy effects formed of lace medallions. One clever girl who found an old fashioned tidy in the attic brought it to light of day and after washing and separating the wheels put half a dozen on the front of her new lingerie blouse. The effect was charming, and the girl is now receiving congratulations on her waist.

A Perfumed Motor Car.

The wife of the Austrian ambassador at Washington has got rid of the unpleasant smell of the gasoline in her motor car by using some special preparation which diffuses a pleasant perfume as the car goes through the streets. The secret of how it is made is kept very closely, but if it ever becomes generally known it will certainly remove a serious objection to the motor car, the perfume of which is at present anything but sweet.

SUMMER RECIPES.

Light and Tasty Dainties For Luncheons and Suppers.

The following dishes are selected with a view to meet the constant demand for something light and tasty and also smart and ornamental in appearance for supper luncheons and suppers.

For this purpose little souffles of asparagus are delicious. Boil some asparagus and rub the green heads through a sieve. Mix them with two eggs well beaten, a little milk and a pinch of pepper and salt. Fill small well buttered souffle dishes with this mixture and bake. Garnish each souffle with four heads of asparagus, care being taken that these are not overcooked or they will be apt to break and spoil the effect. It is better to cook them separately and add afterward. The dish can be served hot or cold. Spinach could be treated in the same way, garnished with hard boiled egg and slices of tomato.

Another delicious dish and exceedingly pretty is pineapple macedoine. This is made with a pineapple scooped out and the cavity filled with a macedoine of fruit flavored with liqueur, the whole masked with a meringue mixture dredged with powdered sugar and baked from fifteen to twenty minutes. The meringue mixture should be lightly patterned before baking with a sharp knife so as to represent as much as possible the rind of the pineapple. The green head of the fruit lightly frosted with sugar makes a pretty finish, or, if preferred, angelica cut into the likeness of the crest can be substituted.

This dainty peach dessert is a charming dish of a more elaborate description. Fill a border mold with jelly, claret for preference, or else lemon jelly colored pink with cochineal. When turned out fill the middle with quartered peaches (fresh or preserved) and whipped cream. Around the cream arrange the medallions. These are made by first lining each little mold with jelly. Set in this a little star of angelica, then fill with strawberry cream. When set turn out, and arrange the medallions at equal distances around the mound of cream.

Place an oyster shell in the teakettle, and it will collect the lime that is liable to form on the inside of the kettle. Wash the shells with a hard brush before using. Replace with fresh ones every few weeks if the water is hard. This method is much better than using a marble.

Graceful Dressing Gown.

This Japanese silk of a wiry texture makes a graceful dressing gown. Aside this line there are a lot of Jap and Chinese weaves with a thread or two of linen or prepared cotton in them, which imparts a durability, and, while claiming the silken texture, they tub satisfactorily, permitting one always to wear a pretty white gown.

Another silky fabric is known as pineapple voile. Words fail to invent phrases to describe how well these textures reproduce old tapestry effects. If the most critical of the wardrobe women of the French court were to step back into the present stage of events they would not discover the counterfeit.

Then there was a very Frenchy pattern on a lively ivory background. Long black ribbons of transparent texture seemed to be festooned and tied in bowknots here and there, catching bunches of yellow cowslip which shaded from rich orange to palest sunny yellow. It was a sunshine scheme from beginning to end.

A Bath For Hardwood Floors.

Oil is often not quite wiped off from a hardwood floor, and every particle left will catch the dust and ruin the appearance. After your floor is clean take one cup of skimmed milk and wipe up the floor with it, wringing the cloth as dry as you can. The change is wonderful, and it lasts longer than oil. This is also good for brick fireplaces.

Ratepayers Take Hand In Municipal Affairs

Held Meeting at Lakefield and Urged the Reeve and Council to Pass By-law to Close Street for Cement Company—Court of Revision Met.

Examiner Special

Lakefield, June 26.—An adjourned meeting of the Court of Revision of the assessment of the village of Lakefield was held in the town hall on Monday evening there being present the Reeve, Mr. Moore, in the chair and councillors Cornish, Burgess, and Carter.

First appeal brought up was that of Mr. John Hull and on motion of Councillor Cornish and seconded by Councillor Burgess Mr. Hull's assessment was reduced by eight hundred dollars.

The assessments of R. C. Strickland and Mr. Allan were confirmed.

Messrs. Tate and Lillicrap appealed for a reduction of $3,000. Their request was granted.

Moved by Councillors Burgess and Carter that assessment of Mr. J. E. Kelly be transferred to Mr. Wm. McGregor on the property on the west side of Queen street (north part lot 4.) —Carried.

Mr. F. A. Kilbourn appealed for a reduction of assessment of his property on Regent street and was granted a reduction of one hundred dollars.

Moved by Councillors Carter and Burgess that the assessment roll of the village of Lakefield as revised at this Court of Revision, be confirmed.—Carried.

The court then adjourned.

A good representation was present to wait on the council at the close of the Court of Revision to enquire why the Cement Co. by-law re the closing of the east portion of Dublin street, had not received the third reading and to urge the council to call a special meeting for the purpose of complying with the Cement Company's wishes in this matter. Messrs. R. C. Strickland, F. J. Lillicrap, W. H. Casement, E. A. Tanner, Robt. Graham, and others addressed the council pointing out the advantage to the village in giving this by-law its third reading at once.

Councillor Burgess brought in a motion seconded by Councillor Carter that Reeve Moore call a meeting that the matter might be dealt with that night.

Reeve Moore refused to read the motion, thereby tieing up the hands of the members of the council who were in favour of proceeding.

The meeting was then turned into a public meeting and Dr. J. R. Fraser was voted to the chair.

In his address to the council the doctor expressed his regret at the unprecedented disregard for the wishes of such a large body of rate payers as were assembled and opened the meeting for the discussion of matters of vital importance to the village of Lakefield, namely, the passing of a by-law for the closing of the east portion of Dublin street.

It was moved by Mr. E. A. Tanner, that the reeve be requested to call a special meeting of the council on Thursday evening, June 28th for the purpose of giving the Cement Company's by-law its third reading. The motion was unanimously carried.

The meeting was closed with three cheers for the king.

Electrical Storms To Be Common In July

Irl Hicks, the St. Louis Weather Prophet, Predicts That Next Month Will See Severe Storms—A Warning.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks, of St. Louis, has already issued his weather forecasts for the month of July, from which the following extracts are made:—

A regular storm period is central on July 5, having for its disturbing causes the equinoxes of Vulcan, Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn, with the Moon in opposition, in perigee and at extreme south declination. Great summer heat, in every probability will set in to the west the first days of the month. This condition will increase in area and intensity as it moves eastward, reaching a crisis from the 4th to the 7th. The astronomic conditions on and touching Wednesday, the 4th, to Sunday, the 8th, indicate disturbances of more than ordinary violence. Terrific electrical disturbances, with heavy, tornadic storms over central to north-westerly regions, will be perfectly natural. If severe and general thunder storms do not relieve the electric and magnetic strain, about the 4th to the 7th, the high temperature will increase to phenomenal readings and be followed by seismic and kindred perturbations over our own and other quarters of the planet. Normally, heavy rain, hail and thunder storms should occur from the 4th to the 7th and be followed by almost unseasonable changes to cooler.

A re-actionary storm period is central on the 10th, 11th and 12th. The crisis of this period will fall on and touching Thursday, the 12th. On this date the Moon crosses the celestial equator, coming northward. This fact will add to the probabilities of very high temperature, low barometer and thunder storms on and next to the 12th. The Venus period extends up to about the 25th, so that the extremes from summer heat to sudden cool are liable to characterize the storms and weather changes at all July storm periods up to that time.

A regular storm period covers the 15th to the 19th, central on the 17th. Notwithstanding "anybody can safely predict that it will be warm in July," we predict that it will be warmer at some times than others, and that this period—the 15th to 19th, will lead up to one of July's warmest periods. More thunder storms and local "cloudbursts" are probable about the 17th to 19th. A Venus revulsion to very cool might be normally expected immediately after these thunder storms, but for the fact that the new Moon, at a solar eclipse node, falls on the 21st. This fact calls for prolonged high temperature, low barometer and threatening, if not stormy conditions over the 21st and into the next storm period.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 22nd and 23rd, in which storms and seismic disturbances will be reported from the wide extremes of the globe. Within sixty hours of six o'clock p.m. on the 21st, earthquake and volcanic perturbations will reach a maximum tendency in most countries common to them. Change to rising barimeter and some cooler will follow these reactionary disturbances for two or three days —say from the 23rd to 25th progressively from west to east.

A regular storm period runs from the 28th to 30th, being central on the 29th. High temperatures and tendency to electrical storms are common on and touching dates when the Moon is passing over the celestial equator. Hence as early as the 26th, the last storm period in July will show decided indications of approaching summer storms. During Friday, the 27th, to Monday, the 30th high temperature, low barometer and threatening thunder gusts will pass eastwardly over most parts of the country.

Pump Chickens Full Of Porridge To Fatten 'Em

Packers Thus Prepare Millions of Pounds Annually for Choice Trade—Takes 21 Days to "Plump" Them—Machine Like a Sausage Stuffer.

Chicago, June 22. — about 10,000,000 pounds of machine made chickens are raised in the United States annually and a good share of this amount is exported to London.

So important is the branch of the food industry that the big packing firms in the United States have engaged in the business of raising chickens, ducks and other poultry. The total business done in this line amounts to millions of dollars annually.

In several of the western states principally in Iowa and Nebraska, are scattered dozens of feeding stations, where chickens, ducks and geese are raised for the world's markets.

Establish Feeding Stations.

The method of raising the chickens has undergone a scientific evolution. The ideal applied to-day would have sounded like a fairy tale to the chicken farmer of 25 years ago. They are entirely at variance with the old way of letting the barnyard hen hustle for its own substance. Near the big packing centres like Chicago, Omaha and Kansas City, feeding stations are in operation the greater part of the year. Here from early spring until the cold weather sets in, chickens are fattened for the market.

"We have a dozen of these stations scattered about the country," said Edward E. Hurlburt, manager of the poultry, egg and butter department of Armour & Co. "we buy them from the farmers when they are about six weeks old, and then we feed them for the market. About 25,000 chickens are thus cared for in each place on the average.

"A feeding station in the first place must be scrupulously clean. It takes about 21 days to fatten a fowl, every 21 days the chicken house is whitewashed. It must be kept free from odour and dust. Perfect sanitary conditions are the vital principle.

"The machine that is used to feed coops and packed so tightly that they can only find room to move comfortably about. But they cannot run. They are fed from four to six times a day, according to conditions. The food consists of porridge of which cornmeal and milk form the basic parts.

"The machine that is used to feed them is built on the lines of a sausage stuffer. A rubber tube extends from the receptacle. The feeder takes each chicken from the coop, places the rubber tube in its bill and then pumps it full of food. In 21 days the scrawny little chick comes out fat as a butter ball. As a rule it doubles its weight in that time.

"In this country most of these scientifically fed chickens are bought by the better class hotels, clubs and the wealthier people who can afford to pay a higher price for such stock. Milk fed stock forms only a small percentage of the chickens annually eaten in the United States. Probably four-fifths of the supply still comes from the farm barnyard.""

One Little Dog Parts A Husband And Wife

A Quarrel in a Chicago Restaurant Over a Woman's Efforts to be Rid of a Pet Dog Led to a Divorce.

Examiner Special.

Chicago, June 30.—Her little woolly white goodie was the cause of the separation of Albert Walch and his wife, and she has just obtained a divorce from him. Mrs. Walch loved the dog. Her husband hated it. It was the cause of frequent quarrels and bickerings. The woman, fond as she was of her pet, had considered the question of getting rid of it for the sake of domestic peace.

It isn't the easiest thing in the world to pick out the right person to whom to entrust a little dog to which one is strongly attached. Mrs. Walch considered this one and that of her acquaintances, but none seemed to fulfil all the requirements she had pictured as necessary in Tiny Tim's future master or mistress.

On a Sunday two years ago Mrs. Walch was to meet her husband at a restaurant and dined with him. She took the dog with her. She arrived first and set the dog, all clean and "fuzzy," in a chair beside her. A man, a stranger to Mrs. Walch, expressed admiration for Tiny Tim, and went up and petted the little creature. "I love this kind of dogs," he said, "and had one of my own once."

"He has a kind face," thought Mrs. Walch; "I wonder if he would not be the right one to take and care for Tiny Tim?"

"I am afraid I shall have to give him away," she said.

"In that case," the stranger said, "I wish you'd give him to me. Here is my card. You can inquire about me, you know."

Mrs. Walch handed him her own card. Just then Mr. Walch entered the restaurant, saw the exchange of visiting cards, and was angry. He, of course, had no notion of the talk which might have led to the elimination of the trouble in his household. Instead, his eyes told him his wife was flirting with a well-dressed chance acquaintance.

In a fury, he rushed upon his wife and shook her. The little dog, valiant in spite of his lack of size, attacked the husband in his mistress' defence, and bit him. Walch, in a rage, drew a small dagger and stabbed his wife. He was disarmed, arrested, and paid a heavy fine in court. Mrs. Walch never became reconciled. The divorce suit just decided was the sequel.

A man named Szekely, in Hungary, has been married four times, and has had fifty-two children, forty-eight of whom are still alive.

Regulations For The Brantford Trip July 1st

Commanding Officer of the 57th Regiment Issues Orders Governing Regiment During Its Annual Outing—Will Leave Here at 10 O'clock Saturday Night—The Programme for the Visit.

The following orders in connection with the Brantford trip have been issued by Lieut.-Col. Miller:—

Headquarters,
Peterborough,
June 26th, 1906.

Orders by Lieut.-Col. J. W. Miller, Commanding 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers.

No. 1.—The regiment, with both bands, one stretcher-bearer section, will parade, in drill order, with helmets and ball bags, at the armouries at 9.30 p. m., on Saturday, June 30th, 1906, and thence march to the C. P. R. station where they will take special train at 10.00 p. m., for Brantford, there to go into camp for two days—July 1st and 2nd.

Passengers.

No. 2.—After entraining, officers commanding will remain with their respective companies for 15 minutes and rejoin them 15 minutes before arriving in Brantford.

No passenger will be allowed to remain on the special train except regularly enlisted members of the 57th regiment in full uniform, or such as have the proper pass signed by the adjutant.

Duty Roster.

No. 3.—(a) Orderly officers are detailed as follows:—

1.—Captain Clegg, Lieut. Higgins.
2.—Captain Bennett, Lieut. Comstock
3.—Captain Hounsell, Lieut. Gemmell.
4.—Captain Cluxton, Lieut. Wallace
5—Captain McWilliams, Lieut. Best.

(b) Captain McLean is detailed as Transport Officer.

(c) The roster of duties for non-commissioned officers and men will be supplied by the Sergt.-Major.

(d) The tour of duty will extend from 9.00 p. m. to 9.00 a. m. and from 9.00 a. m. to 9.00 p. m.

Orderly Officers.

No. 4.—It will be the special duty of the orderly officers to have control of men while in camp. They will inspect, march-off, and dismiss all guards and other duties, attend all parades, see that the meals are good and according to contract, and assist in carrying out the Daily Routine of the camp.

Advance and Other Parties.

No. 5.—(a) An "Advance Party", consisting of such men as the Quarter-Master will require, will proceed to Brantford on Thursday, June 28th, 1906, to make the necessary camp and other arrangements for the reception of the regiment.

(b) A "Baggage Party", consisting of one man from each company, from the brass band, from the bugle band, and from the stretcher bearer section, will report to Captain McLean at the drill hall at 6.30 p. m., sharp, on Saturday, the 30th, inst.

(c) A party from each company and from the brass band, consisting of a sergeant and four men, and a party from the bugle band and from the stretcher-bearer section, consisting of a corporal and two men, will be detailed to report at the Quarter-Master's stores on the camp ground at Brantford immediately after arrival there, to draw the necessary blankets, rugs, utensils, etc,

Baggage.

No. 6.—(a) Men will provide themselves with towels, brushes, soap, and other necessaries for toilet and for cleaning clothing and accoutrements. Rifle oil may be procured from regimental stores.

(b) Company kit boxes and all other baggage must be in the Drill Hall and ready for shipment not later than 6.00 p. m. on Saturday, June 30th, 1906.

Dress.

No. 7.—All ranks must appear at all parades and when "walking out" tidy and clean in person and attire and in proper dress. Faces must be shaven, hair properly cut, buckles, buttons and brasses thoroughly polished, and belts and clothing kept neat and clean. All will wear black leather boots and see that the same are kept cleaned and well shined.

Meals.

No. 8.—(a) Arrangements will be made with the hotels in Brantford to supply meals. The duty bugler will call a mess parade 15 minutes before each meal hour, when the colour-sergeants will parade their respective companies at the Quarter-Master's tent, where each will receive from the officer commanding the company, a requisition, countersigned by the Quarter-Master, for meals for the company.

(b) Colour-Sergeants and Section-Commanders will be held responsible for the order and perfect regularity of all mess parades.

(c) The Commander of the Guard will see that all on guard duty get their meals by reliefs with their respective companies.

(d) The hours for meals will be—

Breakfast, 7.30 a. m.

Dinner, 12.45 p. m., Sunday; 12.00 noon, Monday.

Supper, 6.30 p. m.

Issues.

No. 9.—Officers commanding companies will make out, en route to Brantford, requisitions for the blankets, rugs, etc., required for their respective companies and will be responsible for the accurate count of the number and quantity drawn from and returned to stores.

Daily Routine.

No. 10.—Sunday, July 1st, 1906:—

6.30 a. m., Reveille.
7.30 a. m., Breakfast.
9.00 a. m., Guard Mounting.

Sunset retreat.
8.15 p. m., sacret concert by band on camp grounds.
9.00 p. m., Guard mounting.
10.30 p. m., Tattoo, first post.
10.45 a. m., Tatto, last post.

Monday, July 2nd, 1906:—

6.30 a. m., Reveille.
7.30 a. m., breakfast.
9.00 a. m., guard mounting.
12.00, noon, dinner.
12.45 p. m., dress for parade.
1.00 p. m., Brigade-Review Order.
6.30 p. m., supper.
Sunset retreat.
9.30 p. m., fall in on parade ground.
10.00 p. m., entrain for Peterborough.

Camp Regulations.

No. 11.—(a) Reveille and Retreat will be sounded by the Regimental Buglers, the time to be taken from the duty bugler.

(b) At Tattoo the Regimental Band will play a selection or two on the parade ground.

(c) Immediately after reveille all will be up and, if the weather permits, tent curtains will be rolled up, blankets and rugs will be folded and placed at the right side of the door way, with rifles placed beside blankets, clothing and accoutrements will be cleaned and everything put in order in the company lines and in and about the tents.

(d) Orders for striking tents, returning stores, and re-loading baggage will be issued later.

Guards.

No. 12.—The Regimental Guard will consist of one sergeant, one corporal, one bugler and 8 privates.

(b) The first guard will be mounted at the drill hall at 9.15 p. m., on Saturday the 30th, inst., and will report to the adjutant for instructions.

Guard Duties.

No. 13.—The guard will turn out at Reveille, Retreat and Tattoo and at such times as they are inspected by the orderly or commanding officers.

(b) The guard will:—

(1) Remain constantly in readiness for any alarm or emergency that may require them.

(2) Place two sentries to be relieved every hour.

(3) Take charge of all government and regimental property and see that nothing is misused or stolen.

(4) Pay proper compliments to all entitled thereto.

(5) Allow none to leave the camp unless properly dressed.

(6) Allow no loitering at or near the post.

(7) Take into custody and confine any disorderly or intoxicated men, and

(8) See that no nuisances are committed in or about the camp grounds.

No. 14.—In issuing the foregoing orders the Commanding Officer desires to express the hope that the outing will be a thoroughly pleasant and enjoyable one for all ranks. He does not deem it necessary to ask the members of this regiment to be circumspect in their conduct and deportment as he has the fullest confidence that all will do their utmost to maintain the good reputation of their corps and that they will have the greatest respect for themselves as soldiers, be a credit to the citizens of Peterborough and so conduct themselves that the citizens of Brantford will consider it a high honour to have entertained the Peterborough Rangers as their guests.

No. 15.—(a) The 57th Regiment Peterborough Rangers will form a brigade with the 38th Regiment, Dufferin Rifles of Canada, on Sunday, July 1st at 9.30 a. m. and at 1.00 p. m. on Monday, July 2nd, Lieut.-Col. Cameron commanding the 38th Regiment D. R. C. will command as Brigadier.

(b) At 9.30 a. m. Sunday, July 1st, the Brigade will parade, in divine service order, for the purpose of attending church service.

(c) At 1.00 p. m., on Monday, July 2nd, the Brigade will parade, in review order for a route march after which it will be reviewed by Lieut.-Col. J. W. Miller, commanding the 57th Regiment P. R., and march past after which the 57th Regiment P. R. will Troop the Colours.

By order,
D. WALKER, Captain,
Adjutant.

A Timely Suggestion

Everybody experiences a certain degree of lassitude during the period of early spring and summer. While this may not be at all alarming in the case of the robust and healthy, it is an entirely different matter to those whoare notnaturally strong, who take cold easily, who are predisposed to consumption, or who, from any cause are not "up to the mark." These require something to build up and fortify the system, something that will assist nature to restore a healthy and normal tone, not a stimulant, but a builder. The ideal system builder is a combination of Iron and Phosphorized Oil. FERROL is a food rather than a medicine. It is a perfect concentrated medicinal food, containing neither alcohol, dope nor harmful drugs of any kind.

FERROL is the original and only combination of Iron with Cod Liver Oil, and owing to the peculiar method of compounding and manufacture, FERROL is palatable, easy to digest, can be taken in all seasons, and never fails to restore the run-down system.

Many Visitors At Young's Point

Summer Rush Has Already Commenced—Other News.

Examiner Special.

Young's Point, June 26.—The garden party and sale of work held here at the English Church grounds on Tuesday evening was a great success. A large number from Lakefield attended, also the villagers turned out from the Point. The singing and piano solos were excellent; and the Rev. Mr. Battersby is to be congratulated on the success of his social.

Two large drives of logs are running over here at present belonging to the Rathbun Company. Mr. H. McCormick is the walking boss, and is hustling everything along.

Mr. Jas. Fenning and son, of Peterborough, were guests at Mr. R. Heard's, for a couple of days.

The following were registered at the Lake View House, the past week: Alderman MaMerrick, Mr. H. Alexander, Major Myles, Toronto; Mr. J. Cashman, Mr. F. O'Brien, Mr. All. Benjeman, Rochester; Mr. Frank Measer, Buffalo; Mrs. T. Connors, Gooderham; Mrs. E. McNeal, Chicago.

Mr. All. Benjeman had very good luck fishing the past three days. He landed two 'lunge weighing 16 lbs. and 10 lbs. respectively, also twelve bass averaging 3 1-2 to 4 lbs; not bad for a three days' catch.

Lakefield Church Selects Pastor

Rev. S. S. Burns, B.A., Chosen by Presbyterian Church.

A special meeting of the congregations of the Lakefield and North Smith Presbyterian churches, was held last night, when the question of the selection of a successor to Rev. C. A. Campbell, B.A., as pastor, was considered. Rev. J. G. Potter of this city, presided as interim moderator. Eight names were voted on, but Rev. S. S. Burns, B. A., of Stirling, was the practically unanimous choice of the congregation. The call will be presented at the regular meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery at Port Hope, on July 9th, and Messrs. Fairbairn and Clifford for the Session, and Mr. E. A. Tanner for the Board of Managers, were appointed to present the call, while the first two named gentlemen and Mr. Robert Graham, were appointed to reprresent the congregation at the Kingston Presbytery, and support the call, Rev. Mr. Burns being a member of that Presbytery.

She Can't Dance Into His Home

Farmer, Deserted by Wife, Doesn't Want Any More Women in His, Thank You.

Examiner Special.

New York, June 30.—Philip Glaab, a prosperous farmer, of No. 34 Mill street, Bloomfield, N.J., whose wife, Annie, disappeared a few weeks ago at the same time his hired man, Frank Mehle, left Bloomfield, received yesterday a letter purporting to come from Mrs. Alice Karry, of No. 647 South Main street, Butte, Mont. In part it read: "I see by the newspapers that your wife has eloped, which I do not consider a very nice act on ther part. If I lived near you I would hug you, then you would soon forget your troubles. It is now 15 years since I left Bloomfield, where I used to dance with you. If you have a cozy corner in your heart for me, get a divorce from that ungrateful woman and then send for me and I will hurry East at once."

She added that she had been a widow five years and was lonely.

Glaab says he has no recollection of the woman, and has not yet learned how to trip the light fantastic.

"I have enough troubles of my own," he said, "without bothering with her, and I don't think I want any more women in mine."

Glaab's wife took $500 of his money when she left. He has received no clue to her whereabouts.

Talks Imaginary Whiskers Off A Sensitive Girl

Prof. Quackenbos Gives an Hypnotic Clinic, and by Suggestion Seeks to Restore a Morbid Patient—Wrestles With Temper of an Unruly Miss—Tackles a Subject Having "Fits" and Nerves Her to Overcome Him.

Examiner Special

New York, June 20. — "Laura, you are going to have a peaceful, tranquil, refreshing sleep. You will wake from it rrefreshed and happy. The past will be hidden by a curtain of forgetfulness. From this one you will be glad, smiling, joyful."

Dr. John D. Quackenbos, professor in Columbia University, who has done more perhaps than any other American to apply so-called hypnotism to medicine, was giving a clinic at his residence, No. 331 West Twenty-eighth street, yesterday, to demonstrate his method to several medical men and some lay persons.

The patient, a handsome young girl, lay in an "induced" sleep on a low couch in his office. The blinds were so drawn as to throw a soft light upon the doctor and the patient. He leaned over lightly touching her brow with the left hand, while with his right he made passes over the girl's left side, as if to sweep away some trouble from her.

"All this notion that you have hair on your lip, hair on your chin, and hair on your arms, Laura, will pass away like a bad dream. There is nothing of the kind—it is nonsense. You have a little down on your arms, but no more than any brunette may expect to have. If you don't like it, wear long sleeves. In my opinion they are more modest anyway.

Whiskers! Nonsense!

"But as for you having hair on your face one would need a microscope to see it. Nobody is paying attention to it.

"There is nothing in this notion of yours that people are looking at you and saying there is hair on your face and hair on your arms. You will eb ashamed of yourself that you have given away to this nonsense—that you have embittered your own life and embittered the life of your father and mother for more than a year. Now you shall sleep. When I wake yout urn your back upon all that nonsense and be yourself."

Awakes Bright and Serene.

A half hour later the girl was awakened. She smiled and looked bright and serenely self confident. She had, as Dr. Quackenbos's monologue, indicated, been oppressed by a morbid self-consciousness caused by the almost invisible dark down that shows on the skin of many women of dark complexion.

The First Patients.

The first patient was a girl from a reform school in a neighbouring State. The matron had brought two pupils, who at times were not amenable to the discipline of the institution. The girl lay on the couch, wide awake, and resisting Dr. Quackenbos's efforts to obtain control of her. He spoke for a long time in the most soothing of voices, telling her she was in the hands of a sincere friend who was trying not so much to do anything for her, as to help her to do something for herself.

The listener's eyelids grew heavy, as the hypnotist healer's words rippled on. Gradually the patient's apprehensions faded away; the left arm lay limp above her head where she had flung it in a restless moment. Now the operator's talk ran on in suave persuasion.

"We all have our tasks to do, and are the better of it," ran the soft harange into the dreamer's ear. "You will be the better and the happier for doing yours."

Her Temper Stilled.

The dreamer smiled and lay peaceful and quiet. When she appeared an hour later she talked with some of the women like the most docile and sweetest-tempered of girls.

A third patient had been an epileptic, since receiving a blow on the back of the head. An operation on the skull had removed the primary cause of the fits but the fits were recurrent. Dr. Quackenbos, by "suggestive treatment," under hypnotic influence,, had reduced these both as to frequency and intensity. On the way to the office she had had one attack, but very slight.

"Maria," he said, "you are much better; you are going to make yourself entirely well by overcoming these sick spells. You will come to me at the end of next week, and tell me that you have hardly had any of them — perhaps none at all. After that you are going to the country for the summer to have a good time. When you feel one of these sick feelings coming on, when you feel dissy, you will sit down on the grass until it has passed by. You will have no fear of falling on the sidewalk."

Nervous and Worried.

Mr. Archibald Sutherland, Principal South Bar School, Sydney, N.S., writes, "I was greatly troubled with nervous dyspepsia, and after meals I often felt like vomiting, and my stomach was sore. I was nervous and worried, frequently had headaches and shortness of breath. When several doctors failed I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it has entirely cured me. I shall be glad to be the means of bringing this medicine to the notice of any one who is suffering as I did."

The manager of Blackburn corporation tramways in his annual report, states that the payment of bonuses amounting to $350 to drivers to encourage them to save current had resulted in the cost of power being reduced by nearly $1,500.

ENGLAND

An extraordinary story of faith-healing is being told in Wales. Although bedridden with paralysis, for many years it is stated that Mrs. Mary Jenkins, who lives in a cottage between Llandyssil and Newcastle Emlyn, is now able to walk again. Prayer meetings have been held on behalf of Mrs. Jenkins by the Rev. W. Williams, the vicar of her parish, Evan Roberts the great Revivalist and others who have called on the sick woman. Last winter remarkable revival scenes were witnessed in the cottage, and Mrs. Jenkins states that the effect upon her system was indescribable, and that a mysterious voice told her to leave her bed. Recently she had a vision, and on the following day a light flashed through her bed-chamber. For a short time afterwards she was in a state of collapse, and discovered that she could move neither arm nor leg. In her misery she states, she cried out, "O Father, how much more am I to endure before Thou wilt reveal Thyself!" The answer came immediately, "Arise and walk." Gradually she began to move her arms and legs until she stood upright. Mrs. Jenkins states that the next half-hour was spent in prayer, when a voice again told her to get up and dress, but not to leave the house until the Sabbath to attend Holy Communion. On the morning of the day named, Mr. Jenkins, with her husband attended the service at the church, the vicar stating that her recovery was due to a miracle in answer to prayer.

A tragedy of poverty, in which the pride of the victims stands out in pathetic relief, occurred at Cardiff recently. Thomas Perkins, who at one time was in the Royal Marines, and who subsequently threw up an excellent position as a Customs officer, murderously attacked his wife and four of his daughters, and then made a yet determined attempt to end his own life by cutting his throat. One of the victims, Alice, aged thirteen, has died from her injuries. When the neighbours and police, having discovered the tragedy, presented themselves at the front door, Maggie, the first born, though terribly wounded in the head and bleeding profusely, stood erect at the door and refused to let any one enter. The first intimation of the tragedy was the heavy thuds and stifled screams heard by those living next door. This was just as the day was dawning. One man looking out of his bedroom window into Parkins' garden saw the youngest child, Gladys, aged eight, creeping out of the house in a nude condition, and with blood streaming from a wound in her head. When spoken to even this little girl declared that her father "Hadn't hurt her much," and in a brave attempt to conceal the truth and to shield the family's name refused to say what had happened.

An impasse has been reached in the situation created by the serious interference of the London County Council's new generating station at Greenwich with work carried on at the Observatory. Although the generating station was opened only a few days ago, the vibration of the powerful engines in the mammoth power house—one of the largest in the world—are affecting certain of the instruments, and such a degree that the data they furnish are unreliable; the smoke and heat from the exceptionally tall chimneys render careful observation of the northern heavens practically impossible, while obstructing a clear view of the obelisk in Epping Forest, which denotes within a tenth of an inch the astronomical North from Greenwich. In all probability the situation will be discussed at the next meeting of the Council, for pressure is being brought to bear by the Admiralty, as the interests of the Navy would be seriously affected by the continued and possibly aggravated inaccuracy of the delicate implements in the Observatory. The chronometers of every ship in the Navy are readjusted to a tenth of a second at Greenwich after each voyage.

A thrilling scene was witnessed in the Assize Court, Newtown, Montgomeryshire, recently at the conclusion of a Welsh farm murder trial. In the dock stood Roland Llywarch, a London milk dealer. He was charged with murdering John and Mary Evans at their lonely farmhouse, Garthbeibio, Wales, while on a visit to his brother who lived near the victims. A dramatic hush fell on the court as the foreman of the jury announced the verdict, "Guilty; but insane at the time the deed was committed." The prisoner leaped to the side of the dock, "I am not guilty, you liars," he shrieked. A warder sprang upon him, but the great, burly milk-seller threw them off as a man might throw away a cork. Several policemen jumped into the dock, and in the struggle the panels in the front of the structure were smashed. The excitement in court bordered on a panic, the barristers and those near the dock striving to get clear. Eight warders and policemen wrestled with the infuriated prisoner, who was ultimately handcuffed.

How an innocent man suffered through a prosecutor's extraordinary mistake was shown in a case which came before a London magistrate recently. A young man was in his lodgings having breakfast, when the landlady's son, William Shaw, missed his waistcoat containing his watch and chain. The garment was supposed to have been left on a chair, and, despite his denials of having seen it, the lodger was given into custody on a charge of theft. The accusation was supported by the prosecutor's mother, and on the suggestion that the property must have been hurriedly conveyed to some one in the street, the defendant was remanded to prison, being unable to find bail. The sequel was dramatic. In the evening the prosecutor made the discovery that he had never lost his waistcoat and his watch and chain, but that he had it on all day under his shirt. He was actually wearing it in this way when giving evidence.

SCOTLAND

The strange and romantic career of Sir Halliday Macartney, K.C.M.G., came to a close a few days ago, in his native county of Kirkudbrightshire, when he died unexpectedly at Kinbank, in his 73rd year. Most of his life was devoted to the service of China, and for 30 years he was councillor and English secretary at the Chinese Legation in London, which caused him to be known as "the English mose of the Chinese Emperor." Very early in his days he drifted to China as an English Army surgeon attached to the 99th Regiment. Resigning his commission, he went into the Chinese military service, and, with the aid of "Chinese Gordon," quelled the Taiping rebellion of 1860. Then he founded and became governor of the first great arsenal in China. He conducted to this country the first Chinese Mission, which came in 1876 to apologize for the murder of a British Consular Agent. He retired from his post at the Chinese Legation last Christmas on a pension, which was the first ever awarded by the Chinese Government to an ex-official. The most startling incident of Sir Halliday's regime in Portland Place was the kidnapping of the Chinese reformer, Dr. Sun Yat Sen, who had fled from China to escape the vengeance of his own Government. On a Sunday morning, Sun Yat Sen was on his way to church, when he was accosted by a Chinaman, who, with the aid of two others, pleasantly and dexterously led him on, and then bustled him into the Embassy building, where he was seized and locked up. For several days he was kept a prisoner, but he succeeded in dropping from one of the upper windows a letter notifying his friends of his plight; and London became deeply interested in a curious international question, which Lord Salisbury brought to a close by firmly demanding and obtaining the release of Sun Yat Sen.

A tinge of romance attaches itself to the marriage which has just taken place of a waitress at a cafe in Edinburgh. The story of the young lady is full of interest and dates back to the time when as a little girl, attending school, she fell in love with a youth, and promised in later years to become his wife. Circumstances however, intervened, the love stricken youth went abroad to seek his fortune and the girl transferred her affections to another, and in due course of time was married. A few years ago her husband met with a fatal accident, and a week or so ago, to the surprise of the widow, her former sweetheart put in an appearance, renewed his protestations of affection, and succeeded in leading his early love to the altar. Unknowingly to her he had made a large fortune in South Africa.

A railway porter of Edinburgh, named Harvey, possessed a diamond ring, valued at 35 pounds, given him as a keepsake, and the true value of which he did not know. It is a ring with a history attached to it. Some years ago Harvey became acquainted with a former shunter named Phillips. The latter went to Africa, and asked Harvey to look after his home. Harvey did so, and when Phillips returned, at the end of a year, he gave him the ring in recognition of his kindness. Later, he returned to Africa. Harvey did not know the value of the ring, and quite recently heard that another porter named Hodgins, wanted to buy one for his young lady. The keepsake changed hands for 15s. Harvey now realizes his mistake.

Sir James Thompson, chairman of the Caledonian Railway Company, died a few days ago in Glasgow. He entered the service of the company in his 14th year, and rose steadily until he became general manager in 1882, a position which he only resigned in 1900. He took the final step in the abolition of the second-class on the trains of his company, and was one of the first to advocate the extension of third-class bookings by all trains, and under his rule workmen's special fares and cheap week end tickets were introduced.

Craigmillar Castle, near Edinburgh, now merely a picturesque ruin, but once a royal residence, is to be the scene of a pageant. The castle was a favourite residence of Mary Queen of Scots, and the idea of the promoters is to reproduce as nearly as possible life at the castle in those far-off days. The queen will be represented by Miss Keith MacDonald, and over 200 performers in the costume of that period will take part.

A marvellous escape from death occurred outside of Glasgow recently. A woman fell in front of a train which was travelling at the rate of forty miles an hour. She was knocked down into the four foot way, and she lay there quite clear of the rails and the wheels whilst the train passed over her. Directly afterwards she sprang up and ran away, but in jumping over the embankment she sprained her ankle. She has no marks of injury on her other than the sprained ankle.

IRELAND

London's three-century old connection with Ireland in the capacity of landlord and tenant is now all but severed. In the reign of James I. a grant of land in the plantation of Ulster was made to the Corporation of London and the City Companies with a view to colonisation. Of late years the Guilds have been disposing of the estates, and now the Irish Society, which represents the Corporation, has followed suit, and sold its property to the tenants at "bedrock prices." The old Government House has been disposed of, the local staff has been pensioned off, and in future the business of the society will be conducted in London alone. The funds will be expended, as before, for the benefit of the people of Coleraine and Londonderry. From the annual accounts just issued, it appears that the income last year was £22,225, of which £17,153 was derived from rents; while the expenditure included grants of £3,341 to schools of the several religions, £750 to charities, £3,709 to public improvements, and £1,200 to the Corporation of Londonderry.

An extraordinary story of a brutal assault upon a farmer by two of his labourers was told in the Belfast Police Court recently. Late in the evening, the farmer and his wife were roused by the windows of the house being smashed in and afterwards the door. Arming himself with a stick, the farmer went out to drive away the marauders, when he was knocked to the ground and stunned. The woman meanwhile escaped by a broken window, and ran to a neighbour's house for assistance, thinking the two men were murderers. Her husband, who was badly hurt, was able afterwards to escape from the house, and was medically treated. The cottage was a perfect wreck, scarcely a pane of glass being left whole, door and garden gate thrown down, besides bricks and stones having been thrown into the interior. The two men gave no reason why they attacked the farmer.

An extraordinary scene was witnessed in a fashionable Dublin street, a few days ago. A police constable, observing a fashionably dressed woman loitering about, stopped her and questioned the supposed lady, who replied in gruff tones. The officer, attempted to make an arrest, when he received a severe blow in the face. He grappled with his assailant, but was again knocked down. A crowd assembled and other constables arrived, and endeavoured to secure the "lady," who, for a time, resisted all their attempts. Fighting like an expert boxer, she cut the faces of two policemen, and badly damaged the right eye of another in such a manner that the sight is gone. It took six or seven men to convey her to the police station. In the struggle a fine, curly wig fell to the ground, a silk dress was torn to ribbons, and the supposed lady was disclosed as a man of herculean proportions. He admitted that he belonged to the navy.

Quite recently there were discovered in the library of a Belfast man, 17 of the rarest early English pre-Shakespearean plays. One is "The Trial of Treasure," 1576, of which only four other copies are recognised. Another is a 1577 edition of "King Daryus," unrecorded in Lowndes. A third is a rare edition of John Gale's morality play, "John, the Evangelist," printed by John Wesley. A "Lusty Juventus," "Appius and Virginia," 1575; "Octavia," a rare first edition; "Jacob and Esau," 1568; "A Nice Woman," of which only two copies are known.

Several marriages had to be postponed at Cork recently, owing to the action of some thieves, who broke into a church and attacked the safe. They wrenched off the steel bar to which the bolts were attached, but this only sent the bolts further into their sockets, and the thieves had to retire without obtaining any of the contents. The safe, however, could not be opened by the lawful owners, and as the marriage registers were inside, many weddings, which were due to take place had to be postponed until the safe could be opened.

Having supported himself as a pedlar for 75 years, James O'Dwyer, of Kilmihil, County Clare, who is now 102 years of age, was recently, for the first time in his life, compelled to ask for relief from the Kilrush Board of Guardians.

WILLIAM M. REED.

"For several years I have been troubled with gas around my heart, shortness of breath, in fact, if I walked my usual gait my breath would get so short I would be compelled to make several stops during my walk.

"Of late my food did not digest properly It turned sour in my stomach, causing me great distress; often, too, I had disagreeable attacks of belching gas and heartburn

"I was bothered with severe pains across the small of my back and the least bending or turning would cause me to almost cry out

AN ANSWER GIVEN ENQUIRER'S QUERY

The Examiner has been asked by "Enquirer" to solve the following question:—

"If a stenographer is not at her place of business on a public holiday such as "Dominion Day", is her employer supposed to pay her for that day?"

It all depends. If the employer is a whole-souled, appreciative and considerate gentleman, and if the stenographer is skilful, alert, correct, faithful, her employer would be expected to include Dominion Day in the pay roll. But if the employer is a crank, narrow-souled, slave driver and exacting, always insisting, like Shylock, on his pound of flesh, and if the stenographer is careless, incompetent, watching the clock more closely than her work, then of course, there would be some "docking" of pay. The question is one which can not be answered according to rule. It all depends.

CAMPBELLFORD OLD BOYS DEMONSTRATION JULY 2nd

The Grand Trunk Railway are putting on a fast special train from Campbellford on the evening of July 2nd in order to accommodate the Peterborough and Lindsay Campbellford Old Boys and others who are attending the demonstration and reunion at Campbellford on this date. This will give the "Old Boys" an opportunity of spending the day with friends in Campbellford and returning home the same day at a convenient hour.

Why Red Rose Tea is Economical

RED Rose Tea has all the good points of two good teas and none of the weaknesses of any. You never drank a cup of straight Ceylon or Indian tea that could compare in strength, richness, delicacy and fragrance with the "rich fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea.

Yet Red Rose Tea goes further and costs no more than either Indian or Ceylon teas alone.

Red Rose Tea is better than either Indian or Ceylon tea and is more economical because it goes further.

BE BRIGHT—WELL—STRONG BUILD UP WITH FERROZONE

Ferrozone Adds Vigor and Strength to the System, Purifies and Enriches the Blood, Vitalizes the Nerves and Assures Permanent Good Health.

Let your fight for health begin now, before you feel any warning of physical collapse.

Your whole system needs a thorough cleansing. Likewise, the blood should be purified, made rich and nutritious.

The one cure for that tired, drooping feeling is Ferrozone, the acknowledged king of all tonic medicines.

To restore your appetite you need Ferrozone, certainly you do.

You need it to restore your nerves and to enrich your depleted blood.

The strongest reason why you need Ferrozone is because it will build up your run-down system and make you well.

It's because we know Ferrozone is absolutely certain to cure that we urge everyone in poor health to use it. If depressed, tired, nervous, sleepless, Ferrozone will make you cheery, bright and happy, because it will make you well.

FERROZONE
A Good Appetizer.

MR. AUBREY E. TEMPLEMAN, of Mechias, writes: "I have found the greatest satisfaction in using Ferrozone, and consider it is the best tonic made. I was all run down a few months ago, and in a very miserable state of health. I took a few boxes of Ferrozone, and was surprised at the result. Ferrozone drove away that dull, heavy feeling, and put my system in splendid order. I am never nervous or sleepless, and have a hearty appetite. This is all due to Ferrozone, which I recommend in the strongest way possible."

FERROZONE
Gives Real Vigor.

MRS. NORMAN MACADAM, of Bridgeport, writes: "I am in good health to-day as the result of Ferrozone. Before using Ferrozone I was tired and miserable, lacked energy and ambition. But Ferrozone altered all that. It has built up my system, and given me more real vigor than I ever had before. Ferrozone is a good tonic."

Ferrozone Makes the Weak Streng—the Sick Well.

Ferrozone is sold only in 50c boxes, containing 50 Ferrozone Tablets. Six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

4TH OF JULY BALLOONS

SINCE ballooning is the most fashionable sport among men who can afford the luxury, it is quite fitting that you boys should take up the sport, too.

Of course, it must be in the toy fashion, for you have not the "chink" to pay for the mammoth silk "real" article and for the thousands of cubic feet of gas with which to fill it.

But you can get a lot of fun out of toy balloons, if you are sportsmen enough to make and well as fly them yourselves. This requires more skill and generalship than uninitiated boys might think. For you must produce a good shape, or the balloon will not fly, or also it will be very liable to accident.

Avoid too small a neck and mouth to your balloon, and avoid slim-looking articles. Make your balloon large and generously rounded, like the ones pictured here.

The best material is manilla paper, although for small balloons you can use tissue paper successfully.

In planning your balloon decide first on the dimensions; then cut out the gores (or side pieces), making them about a third longer than the length you desire the balloon to be. For example, if you want a balloon four feet high, make about thirteen gores, each six feet long and one foot wide, in the widest place.

It is best to be discreet, like the dressmakers, and cut a preliminary pattern out of heavy paper, and then cut the parts of the balloon from the pattern. A quick way to cut the pattern is to fold your heavy paper down the centre lengthwise, making it only about six inches from the fold to the edges. Now measure two inches or so from the fold along the bottom, and mark it. Then measure twelve inches or so above the bottom at right angles to the fold a distance of three or four inches from the fold, marking it. Then mark a point five inches or so from the fold two feet above the bottom.

After this, mark a point six inches from the fold, three feet four or five inches above the bottom. Then from this point up, decrease the distance from the fold until at six feet above the bottom (in other words, at the very top) you reach the fold again. Now, drawing a line through all these marked points, you will have a curved line. Cut along this curved line and unfold the paper. You will have the cigar-shaped pattern from which you can cut your thirteen gores for the balloon.

Then you must paste the gores together, edge on edge, till all thirteen are together in proper shape. (Don't be discouraged if your first attempt is a failure. I told you it requires skill. Remember, however, that practice makes perfect.)

Next you must find a hoop to fit the mouth of your balloon. Fasten it in by pasting the edges of the mouth around it.

To strengthen your balloon it would be well previously to paste a stout string along each of the thirteen gore seams, then when you put your hoop in fasten it in with these strings before pasting the edge of the mouth over it.

Any hole you find at the top of the balloon you can seal up by pasting a bit of paper over it.

Now, for the Fourth, you certainly want a fire-ball attached to your balloon. Make it of old-fashioned lampwick wound loosely into a ball, run a short iron wire through it and attach it to the mouth of the balloon by a hooked end. This fire-ball will make the balloon rise so high that very likely it will go out of sight before it collapses.

For a brilliant night effect take a Roman candle and colored balls, a piece of wire and an ordinary fuse, such as miners use. Make a kind of wheel out of the wire, and a couple of cross spokes. Now take out the powder and balls from the candle, wrap each ball together with some powder in a piece of tissue paper and tie them at regular intervals along the spokes. Then circle the fuse around and around inside the wheel, so as to pass through or against every ball, and the end will hang several feet below the wheel.

Now hang the fuse wheel to your balloon by a wire long enough so that when the balls explode they will not set fire to the balloon.

Light the end of the fuse and release your balloon. By the time the balloon has attained a considerable height the balls will begin to explode, making as pretty a sight as heart could desire.

Then when the balls have all exploded the fire-ball will continue to glow under the balloon until it passes out of sight.

Three Beast Princes of Velprato

ONCE there were three Princesses, each more lovely than her sister. This sounds inconsistent and impossible, but it is true, for they were so very different from one another that each in her own way was indeed lovelier than her sisters.

Now, in the neighboring kingdom of Velprato were three Princes, sons of the King, who fell deeply in love with the three beautiful Princesses and obtained the promise of their hands in marriage.

But just before the day set for the triple wedding they had the misfortune to incur the wrath of an evil Fairy, who turned them into animals —one into an eagle, one into a stag and the third into a dolphin.

Naturally enough, the father of the Princesses refused to give them in marriage to the three beasts. But the three Princes were determined not to lose their brides.

So the Eagle-Prince called upon all the birds of the air to aid him, and they responded by the thousands. Sparrows and swallows and thrushes and many other kinds of birds came to his side, and at his command they plucked every leaf and every blossom in the kingdom.

The Stag-Prince called upon all the four-footed beasts—the donkeys and horses, and pigs and cows, and rabbits and goats, and many others—and they came in great numbers, and at his command they destroyed every blade and every root that was worth eating.

The Dolphin-Prince called upon all the huge fishes of the sea, and at his command they raised a terrible storm that hammered all of the ships on the coast to pieces.

Then the King, thoroughly alarmed, gave in, and bade his three daughters go with the three beast-princes as their brides. The Queen-mother shed many tears as she bade them farewell, and gave each daughter a ring, with this injunction: "Preserve the ring with care, and always wear it. If you are separated, even tho' many years pass by, you will know each other by your rings, and so also will any of your kinsfolk recognise you."

Then the beast-princes carried away their brides; the Eagle-Prince took his to a great mountain high above earth, where he gave her a beautiful palace, and she lived like a queen; the Stag-Prince took his into a deep, dark wood, and gave her a most lovely house, surrounded by exquisite grounds; the Dolphin-Prince, who had the youngest sister for his bride, carried her to a great rock, where he provided her a palace filled with every luxury fit for a queen.

After a time, the Queen-mother, who had been left tearful and unhappy at home, had a little son born to her, whom she named Titone.

When Titone grew to be 14 or 15 years old he made up his mind to journey forth and seek out his three sisters, for his mother's unhappiness over their unknown fate made him unhappy, too.

His father and mother yielded at last to his wishes, and sent him forth with a ring similar to the rings worn by his sisters and with escort befitting a Prince of the kingdom.

For many years he wandered hither and thither without ever hearing or seeing a sign of his three sisters. But one day he happened on the mountain where the Eagle-Prince and his Princess made their home.

As he stood admiring the magnificent palace the Princess chanced to spy him from her window, and immediately she commanded a servant to invite him in. As soon as she learned that he was a Prince, and found where he lived, and who his parents were, and saw his ring, she said she knew he must be her brother, and embraced him long and tenderly. But for fear of her husband's anger, she hid him in the cupboard.

When the Eagle-Prince reached home she told him she was very homesick and longed to pay a visit to the King and Queen, her parents.

"But you can never go home until I am turned into a man again," said the Eagle-Prince, "so try to get over your homesickness, dear wife."

"Then suppose I invite one of my relatives to come to see us here," suggested the Princess.

"Why, certainly, my dear, if anyone will come so far," agreed her husband.

"Would you mind if some one had already come?" asked she.

"No, indeed; on the contrary, I should be very happy."

So the Princess opened the cupboard and Titone came out, and met the Eagle-Prince, who gave him a warm welcome, indeed, and invited him to make a long visit.

But, although he was very happy, Titone bethought him of his other two sisters, and after a visit of two or three weeks, announced that he must depart. So the Princess and the Eagle-Prince let him go, and the Eagle-Prince gave him a feather from one of his own wings, saying: "Take good care of this feather; if ever you need assistance, cry 'help' and throw it on the ground, and I shall come to help you."

Many days passed by before Titone, half starved and weary, came at last to the deep, dark wood where the Stag-Prince and his Princess lived. Here, too, he was kindly received by the Princess living in the beautiful house, and when she questioned him, she recognised him by his ring, and fell on his neck with tears of joy. And when she introduced him to her husband, the Stag-Prince gave him a warm welcome.

After two or more weeks, Titone said he must resume his journeying and find the youngest Princess, too. So the Stag-Prince gave him a hair from his own coat, which Titone was to guard carefully and use for calling the Stag-Prince to his assistance, if necessary.

Over plains and mountains, through woods and deserts he traveled, but no sign of his third sister did he find. At last he reached the sea, and took ship, because he did not know what else to do.

One day the ship came to a great rock, where Titone perceived a grand castle. So he went ashore and inquired to whom it belonged. Thus he met the third Princess, and she recognised him by his ring. Here, too, he found a friendly brother-in-law in the Dolphin-Prince, and he paid a visit of several weeks. But, remembering how anxious his parents must be, he only tarried a couple of weeks before preparing to return to his home. Accepting the gift of a scale from the Dolphin-Prince's back, he bade them farewell, took ship and sailed to the continent, there took horse and made straight for home.

On his way he came to a gloomy, swampy wood, and in the midst of it he discovered a tower, and in the tower, at an open window, he espied a beautiful maiden, guarded by a horrible dragon, which lay at her feet, asleep.

"Oh, noble young man," cried the maiden, "come to my rescue. This monster stole me from my father, the King of Meryvale, and brought me here, where I have been an unhappy prisoner for many days."

The Prince was dismayed, and knew not what to do, until he bethought him of his talismans. Then he got them out of his bag—the feather, the hair and the scale—threw them on the ground, and cried "Help, help!"

Instantly the Stag, the Dolphin and the Eagle appeared before him and said, "What do you want?"

"Help me rescue this Princess from the dragon," said Titone.

So the Eagle screamed aloud and called all the vultures to him, and these, at his command, flew to the window, and seizing the Princess in their powerful talons, carried her to the Prince and his three brothers-in-law.

While Titone was embracing her, and claiming her promise to become his bride, the dragon awoke, and seeing Titone, rushed forth to kill him.

But the Stag-Prince instantly summoned a great number of bloodthirsty lions and tigers and jaguars, which flew at the dragon and tore him into a thousand pieces.

Then the Dolphin-Prince went to a spring and caused it to flow so fast that soon a lake formed and spread and rose until it covered the tower and hid it from the eyes of the Princess, so that she might never have to see it again.

The Princess was about to thank the three beasts for rescuing her when, to her amazement and Titon's, instead of the three beasts, they suddenly perceived three handsome young men, whose faces fairly beamed with joy as they embraced their brother-in-law and his promised bride.

"Thanks to you, dear Princess," said the eldest of the three, "we owe our rescue to you. The only hope of our ever regaining mortal form lay in the chance of our rescuing some daughter of a king from some great danger. The chance has come through you, and now we live again!"

"Oh, cannot you fetch my other sisters and come with us to my father and mother?" asked Titone. "Think how happy they will be!"

So it was done, and in shorter time than any one dreamed it could be done joy and hope lent wings to love. And when the three long-lost daughters and their handsome husbands and Titone and his promised bride all appeared before the King and Queen, you can imagine their joy.

Then, of course, the three husbands hastened to Velprato to their long-sorrowing father, who received them with great joy, and gave them a feast such as never had been known before in the kingdom.

GOOD ANIMAL STORIES

Taught by an Insect.

BRUNEL, the famous engineer, was indebted to an insect for a great and useful invention. He was in a shipyard one day, watching the movements of an insect known in English as the naval woodworm, when a brilliant thought suddenly occurred to him. He saw that this creature bored its way into a piece of wood upon which it was operating by means of a very extraordinary mechanical apparatus.

Looking at the animal attentively through a microscope, he found that it was covered in front with a pair of valvular shells; that with its foot as a purchase it communicated rotary motion and a forward impulse to the valves, which, acting upon the wood like a gimlet, penetrated its substance, and that as the particles of wood loosened they passed through a fissure in the feet and thence through the body of the borer to its mouth, where they were soon expelled.

"Here," said Brunel to himself, "is the sort of thing I want. Can I reproduce it in an artificial form?" He forthwith set to work, and the final result of his labors, after many failures, was the famous boring shield with which the Thames Tunnel was excavated.

Carried by Bees.

An interesting experiment has been tried by a well-known naturalist. Having caught a number of bees as they returned to the hive laden with honey, he inclosed them in a light receptacle, and weighed them, the weight of the box being deducted from the total. The same bees were again captured on emerging from the hive, and again placed on the delicate scale. The result of the two operations showed that, when laden, the bees weighed three times as much as when empty.

Mr. Hedgehog (to Pincushion)—Good Morning! I Suppose You're a Young Porcupine.

The Largest Loaves

THE largest loaves of bread baked in the world are those of France and Italy. The "pipe" bread of Italy is baked in loaves two feet or three feet long, while in France the loaves are made in the shape of very long rolls four feet or five feet in length, and in many cases even six feet. The bread of Paris is distributed almost exclusively by women, who go to the various bakehouses at 5.30 A. M., and spend about an hour polishing up the loaves. After the loaves are thoroughly cleaned of dust and grit, the "bread porter" proceeds on the round of her customers. Those who live in apartments or flats find their loaves leaning against the door.

Epitaphs on Old Graves

THOUGH the whereabouts of the tomb upon which this epitaph was inscribed cannot be found, the inscription itself is too good to remain unheard. Poor Willie was a martyr to illness, and his relations intended that people should become aware of the fact:

"Willie Adam's gone from here,
Willie's in a higher sphere;
Kindly pause and shed a tear,
Sir or madam.
All diseases, every ill,
Came to trouble little Will;
All we could, we did—but still Willie Adam."

These are two very curious notices. The first one is in St. Mary's Winton College, Oxford, erected over Thomas Meridith, who was an organist there:

"Here lies one blown out of breath,
Who lived a merry life, and died a
Meridith."

The second one is to be seen at Cauldon Church, Staffs, England. It speaks for itself:

"Here lies my poor wife, without bed or blanket,
But dead as a door-nail, God be thankit."

Here is a reminder of the fate that sometimes overtakes those who follow Uncle Peter's example. Readers who have already divested themselves of their "winter flannels" should bear in mind:

"Beneath this stone, a lump of clay,
Lies Uncle Peter Dan'els,
Who, early in the month of May,
Took off his winter flannels."

All those who take seidlits powder should read this epitaph and heed its warning. It is inscribed on the grave of a young American woman:

"Here lies the body of Mary Ann Lowder,
Who died while drinking a seidlits powder!
Called from the world to her future rest,
She ought to have waited till it effervesced."

Game of Press Gang

FOR this jolly game you want about a dozen boys, one to represent an officer, half a dozen to represent his marines, and the rest to represent victims of the press-gang.

The officer and his marines catch one of their companions and call out:

"High ship, or low ship;
King's ship or no ship?"

If he says "high ship," or "low ship," or "King's ship," he is led off a prisoner in charge of two of the gang. But if he says "no ship," he is seized bodily by the entire gang and hustled off to the place reserved for pressed men. He meanwhile kicks and struggles for freedom, thus making a lot of excitement.

After all the victims have either been pressed or have been taken prisoners, they in turn represent a press-gang and do the same stunts to their companions.

They Say That—

The hair of vegetarians does not thin till the 60th year.

In Rome's cemetery over 4,000,000 people are buried.

The Greenland whale often lives 400 years.

There are 300 kinds of patent horseshoes. In Ireland it rains 208 days in the year.

King's X

"LONG, long ago, in the times of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," "Robin Hood" and "Ivanhoe," and other fascinating tales, the "King's X," which boys and girls all use so familiarly in their games, had its origin.

Did you know it was so very ancient a sign? Queer, too, like most other things of that day.

Such harmless games as football and golf were forbidden because they might distract people's attention from archery, which was the great game of England. Indeed, English law required small boys to practice with the longbow a certain number of hours each year.

Blacksmiths in those days were tailors, too, for they constructed those fearful looking, fearfully heavy suits of armor which are to be seen only in castles and museums nowadays, but were worn by every soldier and every cavalry horse in that day.

Poor people wore shirts and smocks; everybody ate with his fingers; and there were no electric lights, nor gas, nor even kerosene lamps; no telegraph, no telephone, no railways nor street cars nor waterworks; no sugar, no tea, no coffee, nor potatoes or corn; no turkeys, either.

There was no "square deal for everybody, high or low"; people had to look out each for himself; and when a poor, hunted creature had no other place to turn for help, he could flee into a church and there claim "sanctuary," or he could claim refuge in the king's house.

Our King's X is a relic of this king's house and sanctuary custom. It means King's Cross, or King's Excuse (King's X).

As long as a boy or girl keeps his fingers crossed and cries "King's X" he is safe from the "it" in the game that is being played.

Of course, you must use the "King's X" is not allowed to be used except when something unexpected has happened, like your shoe laces coming untied, or your ankle having turned, or your mother having called you.

None but "baby-players" ever take advantage of the "King's X" to save themselves from being caught.

SOME MILITARY GAMES

ON THE Fourth of July you will probably want some military games to play. Here are some for you to pick from.

First, however, a suggestion or two regarding the tables at which you seat the players for some of your games. You might cover each one with a flag, or, if a plain, smooth surface is desired, you might set up a flag in the centre, keeping it upright by inserting it in a block. And if you wish, station a toy cannon and an occasional giant firecracker here and there to add to the military looks of things.

Each table can be named after a fort —Fort William Henry, Fort Ticonderoga, etc., of Revolutionary times, or Fortress Monroe, Fort Sumter, etc., of Civil War days. Provide the players with flag postcards (they are usually to be purchased in the shops), consisting of a blue field without stars. Little gummed stars—forty-five in number—are given to each player.

Now the game is for each player to see how many of his forty-five stars he can stick on in five minutes. At the end of that time ring a bell and let the players exchange cards and count. Then award a nice prize to the winner.

Next you might have a card game on the Revolutionary War heroes and events. You can buy copies of such a game from any toy store—one for each table, and play it like any progressive game, the winners at each fort moving on at a certain signal to the next fort, but the winners at the head fort remaining at that table until conquered by some couple.

If you look about in the toy stores you will probably find some military puzzles that will just suit you. You can give one to each fort and play progressively as before. In these progressive games the players can use military score cards similar to these that have been described, each sticking one star on for every point he scores.

Next you can all adjourn to the piazza or lawn and play Liberty Bell. Have a large bell (covered with flowers if you wish) suspended from the ceiling or an overhead arch by red, white and blue streads, so as to hang not more than a couple of inches above the floor. Stand the children in a line about ten feet from the bell, and have them take turns rolling a ball aimed to strike the bell. Every one who succeeds in making it ring scores a point, and the final winner captures the prize, which might suitably be a Revolutionary story book.

Suppose you play a marching game next—Going to Jerusalem, for instance—to a series of spirited military airs played by an older person on the piano.

Then you can have a torpedo hunt. Having previously opened up a dozen or so packages of torpedoes—hiding them here, there and everywhere, give the children each a bag and bid them hunt for the torpedoes. After they have found them they can have the fun of firing them off.

Can't Stand by Themselves.

A great many plants are not strong enough to stand upright by themselves; and as they cannot get enough sun if they lie on the ground, they are obliged to clamber up their neighbors.

Look in the garden, and see if you can find a climbing plant, such as a honeysuckle or convolvulus, twisted tightly round a stick to keep it in an upright position. Doesn't it hold on firmly? If you pull it off you will probably break the poor thing off, and it will die.

POLLY EVANS' PUZZLES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

HERE is a puzzle for you. What three authors' names are represented in this picture puzzle? All are familiar.

Literary Love Tale.

Who can supply all the well-known titles of books in the following puzzle story?

A girl whose name was — — (the title of a poem by Whittier) is the heroine of our story.

She was born in — — — (by Oliver Goldsmith), and was as good and beautiful as (Spenser's) — —. For the purpose of educating their daughter, her parents left their native town for a large city, where they rented an — — — — — (by Hawthorne). Here they hoped their daughter would eventually become — — (by Sir Walter Scott) of some worthy man, and would be able to furnish them with plenty of — — — (by Charles Reade). However, — (by Rider Haggard) refused to carry out their wishes, and the family for a while had — — (by Dickens), instead of having their — — (by Dickens) realised.

Her most intimate friend was a girl by the name of — (by Rider Haggard). As they both had some artistic ability they decided to keep a — — (by Irving). This afforded them much amusement, as it did also for a young man to whom they often showed it and whom they often styled — — — (by Dickens). However, our heroine became suspicious that the young man was more attentive to her friend than to her, and so began to play — — (by J. Fenimore Cooper) upon him. — — — — — (by Charles Reade), and you can understand how he felt! Her worst fears were realised, for she saw the young man give her friend — — — — — (by Thackeray), and overheard the young lady give permission to call in — — — (by Barrie). As they lived in a sea-port town, the couple took one of the — — — — — — (by Beatrice Harraden) and started — — (by Charles Kingsley). The Cicada's Song.

Now hold your ears and move away,
I'm tuning up for summer today.
I must tighten my strings
And stretch out my wings,
Hark, how my shrill note rings!

THREE years under ground with nothing but a root tip to keep the life in my body! No wonder I feel jolly today, with the hot sun blazing down upon me and my bride working away on the next branch there! She is indeed a wife worth having. No matter what I may do or say, she never opens her mouth to contradict or argue with me. And for a very good reason, too. She is dumb. Watch her now as she lays her long rows of pearly eggs in the twigs.

In a few weeks our children will appear, queer, spidery-looking little chaps. Down they will drop to the ground, and dig deep into it, where they will remain for three years, as their father did before them. Each will build himself a little tunnel, and never know what he is missing till he crawls up into the bright world. Now, I must tune up my kettle-drums and cheer my lady, so busily working away. MARGARET W. LEIGHTON.

Game of Dancing Bear

A PLAYER, who doesn't mind going on all-fours at times, is covered over with a shawl, which, provided he cannot see through it, should otherwise be light. He is the bear, and his keeper leads him about at the end of a rope fastened round his arms and body, but adjusted so as to leave the arms free below the elbow. The keeper sometimes hums or whistles a tune, to which the bear will dance, but he warns the party that the animal is of uncertain temper, and will try to catch some one. This the bear constantly endeavors to do, the keeper doing his best to prevent him by pulling on the rope. When, however, the bear succeeds, the player caught becomes bear.

THE FABRIC OF LIFE.

In the loom of life we weave each day
On the warp of circumstance
The colours grave and the colours gay,
However the threads may chance,
But the web is ours to make or mar,
And the pattern we may choose;
We may make the fabric strong and fair,
And blend as we will the hues.
The glint of gold from our happy days
May shine through the sombre shades,
And love's warm gleams, like the morning's rays,
Add beauty that never fades.
When the Master Workman judge at last,
May He find our weaving good.
The texture fine and the colours fast,
And His purpose understood.

S. S. LESSON.

Lesson 1.—July 1, — Jesus and the children.—Matt. 18:1-14.

GOLDEN TEXT.

It is not the will of your Father which is in Heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.—Matt. 18:14.

NOTES.

Place and Time. — Capernaum, shortly after the Transfiguration; summer or autumn, A. D. 29.

Between the Lessons. — We have closed the last quarter with the study of the Transfiguration, which took place on Mount Hermon. At the foot of the mountain Jesus cured an epileptic boy, whom the disciples had been unable to help. Leaving the region of Cæsarea Philippi, Jesus and his apostles went through Galilee. On the way, he again foretold his death and resurrection. At Capernaum, the Master miraculously provided the half-shekel for the tribute money. Matthew's account of this discourse forms the subject of our lesson.

CRITICAL NOTES.

1.—In that hour. At Capernaum, in the privacy of a house. Matt. 17:24, 25; Mark 9:33. The disciples. The Twelve. Mark 9:35. Saying. Who then is greatest? Over this question they had disputed by the way. The subject was still in their minds; and Jesus knowing it (Luke 9:47), brought the matter to speech by inquiring what the discussion had been about. Mark 9:33. After a silence, they asked the question as here stated.

3.—In no wise enter. Not even enter, to say nothing of having precedence.

5.—In my name. Because the child belongs to Christ, and is loved by him. Comp. ch. 9:41.

6.—To stumble. Morally. To go astray from God, as illustrated by the wandering and lost sheep. Matt. 18:12. A great millstone. Not the millstone used in the home and turned by the woman of the household; but the heavier stone of the larger mill, which was worked by an ass. The sin of causing a little one to stumble is thus indicated.

7, 8, 9.—If thy hand.....foot.....eye causeth thee to stumble. If anything in thee be an occasion of sin or an incitement to sin. The eternal fire. "Unquenchable." Mark 9:43, 45. Enter unto life. The higher spiritual life in union with God, as is indicated by the contrast with commitment to hell and by the theme of the discussion, which concerns the kingdom of Heaven. Matt. 18:3.

10.—In Heaven their angels. Angels who minister for the sake of the little ones. Comp. Ps. 34:7; 91:11.—Westminster Teacher.

THE CLOUDS.

Some clouds rise from stagnant bogs and fens, others from the wide, clean, large ocean. But either kind, thank God, will serve the angels to come down by. In the old stories of celestial visitants the clouds do much; and it is oftenest of all down the misty slope of griefs, and pains, and fears, that the most powerful joy slides into the hearts of men and women and children.

Beautiful are the feet of the men of science on the dust-heaps of the world, but the patient heart will yield a myriad times greater thanks for the clouds than give foothold to the shining angels.—Geo. McDonald.

HIGHER STANDARDS.

Higher standards are not a matter of thought, but of life. We cannot raise our standards of life merely by thinking about them. No inventor ever grew in fertility of successful ideas by confining himself to abstract thought, or to paper-and-pencil theory. He must put his ideas into practical and successful operation if he would gain fresh and improving ideas. And this is our only hope of spiritual growth. God cannot, or will not, reveal new truth to one who is not living the truth that he knows. Standards have got to be lifted, if we would have them higher, and it takes the lift of life to raise them.

THE REIGN OF KINDNESS.

Brighter grows the world as men become more thoughtful of each other's comfort and happiness. In times past it was thought sufficient if laws prevented people from harming each other; a man's duty stopped when he had refrained from inflicting injuries. With the spread of the knowledge of Christ the scope of duty has widened and the world is being touched with a feeling of kindness that is broader than mere law, compelling people to refrain from inflicting blows.

THE WILL TO HELP.

We lack not so much the ability or the opportunity to do good, as the will. The golden moment comes. A little going out of our way, a little work or a little word would have done it; but the will faltered and then it was too late.

Whatever the duty, whatever the necessity, the whole life of the church might be stirred with fresh impulses, if instead of leaving all for others, individual Christians would say, "I will go and do it myself."

THE CHRISTIAN'S CONFIDENCE.

A brave, resolute, Christian life is not always smooth sailing; but the inward power becomes an overmatch for headwinds. Sometimes the gales of adversity sweep away a Christian's possessions, but there is an undisturbed treasure down in the hold—a gloriousness consciousness that One is with him that the world can neither give nor take away.—Theodore L. Cuyler, D.D.

THE WORK OF GRACE.

Believe and continue to believe against all seemings, that God takes possession of you, and that He will peaceforth "work in you to will and to do of His good pleasure," unless you consciously frustrate His grace. Let this be the continuous attitude of the soul; and repeat often. "I am the Lord's; He is working in me now that which is for my highest good."

Ninety-First Anniversary Of The Battle Of Waterloo

First Meeting of Wellington and Napoleon—Memorable Day in the History of Europe and the World—Incidents of the Great Fight Recalled.

Monday, June 18, was the 91st anniversary of the famous battle of Waterloo. In London, England, on that day, the Wellington monument is decorated with laurel, the emblem of victory since the age of the early Greeks, and in many other ways the memories of the glorious battle and the conquering hero are honoured. Can one picture the kaleidoscope of humanity, representatives of every nation beneath the skies, passing by, everyone pausing for a second to gaze at the great memorial statue? Even three thousand miles away one can feel that the very atmosphere is pervaded by the victory of that great day when the conquering legions of France, who, for a decade, had not known defeat, were crushed, and Europe, at least, if not the whole world, saved from falling subject to the tyrannical Napoleon.

It was on June 18, 1815, that Wellington and Napoleon first met. In April of that year Europe was panic-stricken to hear that Napoleon had escaped from Elba, had landed in France, and was marching on Paris with a large army which ever augmented as he went forward. In three weeks he was again emperor, the king, Louis XVIII., having hysterically fled.

The allies lost no time. By May the armies of England, Prussia, Austria and Russia were gathered for an attack. England and Prussia alone were ready, and Napoleon hoped to meet them separately before they united their armies. He did regulse the Prussians at Ligny on June 16, but on the same day Wellington abruptly checked Marshal Ney at Quatre Bras, and took up a strong position on the heights of St. Jean, above the little village of Waterloo, nine miles from Brussels.

The Great Battle.

The Prussians were still a long way off, but the general, Blucher, had sent word to Wellington on the 17th that he would join him on the following afternoon. There is some dispute as to the exact hour marking the opening of the battle of Waterloo, but it is generally put down as about 7 o'clock in the morning. The engagement opened with a brisk artillery duel, and when the British guns were finally silenced, Wellington could only hope to hold his ground until help arrived.

Time after time, now at one spot, now at another, the French charged against the immovable squares of British infantry, and fell back in disorder before their withering fire. But the day wore on, and 4 o'clock in the afternoon found the wearied troops spent out with fatigue, watching in vain for their allies.

At last, about 5, to Wellington and his staff, it became evident that the French were fighting the Prussians somewhere east of night. On they came, and about 7 o'clock the French made one last desperate charge on the English lines, and, being repulsed with a great loss of killed and wounded, fled in disorder. Then the Prussians turned to complete rout. More than 25,000 French soldiers lay on the field of battle, and even the British lost 1,300. But Napoleon's last breath of supremacy was smothered and the war was over. He fled to Paris and abdicated in favour of his son. He was later captured by the British, and sent to the island of St. Helena, and there he died.

An Historical Event.

Many accounts of the great battle have been written, but who is there that has not read the few beautiful stanzas in Byron's Childe Harold, putting the historical event into verse. There can be no more remarkable proof of Lord Byron's genius than the spirit and interest he has contrived to communicate to the picture of the oft drawn and difficult scene of the breaking up from Brussels before the great battle. On the night previous to the action, a ball was given in Brussels, and it is commonly and erroneously asserted that Wellington was surprised by the French while at the ball. But the duke had received intelligence of Napoleon's decisive operations, and it was intended to get off the ball. But on reflection, thinking it more important that the people of Brussels should be kept in ignorance, the duke not only desired that the ball should proceed, but the general officers received his commands to appear at it, each man taking care to leave as quickly as possible at 10 o'clock to join his respective division.

The Hero.

Arthur Wellesley, Duke of Wellington, was the fourth son of Garret, Earl of Mornington. Little is known of his early boyhood days. He was born in Ireland in the year 1769, and was sent to Eton, but subsequently to the military college at Angers. At the age of 18 he entered the army as an ensign of the 73rd Regiment, and was subject to rapid promotion, being advanced the rank of major of the 33rd 1793. His first experience of active service was in the disastrous campaign of 1794-95, when the British force under the Duke of York was driven out of Holland by Richep

In 1796 Wellington went with regiment to India, and it was the that he became known to the wor playing a most conspicuous part the war with Tippo Sahib. His efforts, especially at the famous s of Seringapatam, gained for him supreme military and political command in Mysore after the subjugation of the Nizam, and in the settlement and administration of the conquered territory. Wellesley rapidly acquired the habits and experience of a statesman. For the British crown, he made vast conquests and cemented the supremacy in India.

His Return Home.

In the spring of 1805, the duke of India, returned home, and engaged in politics. In the summer of 1808 he took command of the troops destined to oppose the French in Portugal and Spain, and his continued successes, notwithstanding the opposition of the armies which he had under his command, were remarkable, and brought him a peerage with the title of Viscount Wellesley.

Waterloo, one of the greatest achievements in history, consolidated his military career, for, from that regular circumstance, he became the most influential politician in Europe. Wellington, on the fall of Goderich's cabinet in January, 1828, became Prime Minister, and Catholic emancipation was the great act of his ministry. He retired from public life in 1846, being at the time nearly 80 years of age. Venerated and beloved by the great and the lowliest, the old hero entered, as it were, into the immortality of his fame while still among his countrymen. Death came to him at last on September 14, 1852, and he was buried under the dome of St. Paul's Cathedral in a manner worthy of the nation and the man.

The Citizens Object To Grain Route Cutting The Park

Deputation Waited on Committee of the Whole With Their Grievances.

The Manufacturers' Committee Will Interview the C. P. R. Officials.

The possible entrance of the Victoria Harbour C.P.R. route into the city at Jackson Park, is causing considerable irritation to residents and property owners of that district who do not wish to see the Park cut up. This was strongly manifested by a deputation which waited on the Committee of the Whole last night to present their grievances. The deputation consisted of Messrs. G. Hatton, H. Waddell, D. W. Dumble and R. A. Morrow.

Mr. Hatton was the spokesman and pointed out that they were present as ratepayers of the City of Peterborough as well as owners of property in North Monaghan regarding the Victoria Habour C.P.R. line which runs through North Monaghan and the city. The property through which it will run, he said, will be much needed for building sites. This property, he thought, was too valuable to be cut up and destroyed, and suggested that another route would be more suitable that the one decided upon. He would advise that the council nominate some independent, competent engineer to go over the route and see if any other could be obtained; now was the time to work for it. The surveyors say that the route which runs through Jackson Park in on a level with the Grand Trunk track and will have a cut through the hill. This will necessitate an overhead bridge at Weller and Elm street. He said the city was also vitally interested in the beauty of Jackson Park. The surveyors in their work, he mentioned also were very wanton in cutting down and destroying trees, etc.

Mr. Dumble thought the city should not allow railway lines to travel through the city like the spokes of a wheel. This line could now be avoided to the interest of the public. The beauty of Jackson Park would be destroyed should this line pass through as now intended. He thought the city should protest at once against such an outrageous cutting up of the city property and attempt to have the C.P.R. avert their route to a more suitable and less expensive route.

Ald. McWilliams said that the Manufacturers' Committee were interested to interview the C.P.R. officials with regard to the matter. They recognized the undesirability of having Jackson Park cut up by such

WILLING WORKERS PICNIC AT INVERLEA

Yesterday afternoon the Willing Workers Society of the Murray street Baptist church enjoyed a delightful picnic at Inverlea Park. What added to the pleasure of the occasion was its character as a farewell compliment to the president of the band, Miss Ivy Fisher, on the occasion of her departure to the Old Country. On Tuesday next, July 3, she leaves for a visit of two months' duration. foor a visit of two months' duration. She will sail from Boston with the delegates to the international convention held this year at Georgia. A delightful afternoon was spent, and so far as the Willing Workers are concerned, Miss Fisher will leave for her long journey precipitated with the good wishes of her co-workers.

CELEBRATE THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY AS ST. PAUL'S PASTOR

To-Morrow Rev. Dr. Torrance Will Have Completed Score and a Half Years in That Church.

Progress of St. Paul's Has Been Steady and Rapid and Prospects Are Very Bright.

To-morrow Rev. Dr. Torrance will celebrate the completion of his thirty years as pastor of St. Paul's church. It is very few pastors indeed who who have the honour of spending thirty years in charge of one congregation, and Rev. Dr. Torrance gives promise of many years of usefulness yet. In fact the universal wish of the members of the church and congregation is that he may yet celebrate his golden jubilee as pastor of the church which has been built up to its present splendid proportions very largely through his efforts. It is a singular fact that only two pastors have been in charge of this church, both serving long terms, the late Rev. J. M. Roger and the present pastor. The progress of the church has been steady and rapid, and the affairs are in a flourishing condition, and the members are working harmoniously for the success of the cause. All departments of the church are well equipped for work, and the prospects for the future are very bright. Rev. Dr. Torrance is being congratulated warmly upon reaching this milestone in his ecclesiastical career.

THE 24th BATTERY UP WITH THE BEST AT COBOURG CAMP

Major Young is Greatly Pleased With Work of the Artillery Battery at Camp.

General Lake Stated it Was the Best Horse Battery He Had the Pleasure of Inspecting in Canada.

The 24th Peterborough Battery returned from camp at Cobourg yesterday evening and the officers and men are unanimous in their assertions that they spent a most enjoyable ten days and that the camp was in every way a splendid success.

Major Young, the Commanding Officer was seen this morning and expressed himself as greatly pleased with the trip and with the very creditable manner in which the Battery acquitted itself at Cobourg. General Lake, who inspected the men at camp told the Major that he had the best horse battery he had inspected in Canada.

Lieut. Hall, who was in charge of the advance party, did his work well, and the 24th did not suffer from lack of provisions for men or beast, as some of the other regiments did. The Battery passed through the camp well and there were no accidents to speak of, none of the men being in hospital, while the horses too, were

A Warm Welcome In Store For The 57th In Brantford

MR. J. J. HARTLEY

Vice-President Peterborough Sandstone Brick Co., on article of which appears on another page in this paper.

The Dufferin Rifles Will Give Them a Good Time on the Holiday.

Preparations For Their Entertainment Are On An Elaborate Scale.

Examiner Special.

Brantford, June 30.—Brantford will endeavour to royally entertain the Peterborough regiment on the occasion of its visit to this city next Sunday and the holiday. According to the present arrangements the visitors will reach the city at an early hour Sunday morning, and will remain until late Monday night. Every moment of the time in Brantford will be filled, and it is the desire of the local regiment and of citizens in general to show unbounded hospitality.

A Popular Feature.

In this connection it may well be said that the visit of the Peterborough regiment is popular with the people of Brantford. There was a time when the militia was none too popular in this city; owing to a lack of public support the affairs of the regiment became badly disorganized; the ranks were thinning out and the prospects for the future were none too bright. It was at this time, about three or four years ago, that Col. Cameron, who is still in charge, assumed command and attempted a complete re-organization. So successful was he in his work that the regiment at once took a most important place in military ranks in this district. The progress was noted by the Government, to an extent sufficient to induce it to enlarge the local drill hall at a cost of over $30,000. The affairs of the regiment are now in a most prosperous condition, and altogether it is in a flourishing state. For this reason, the public interest in military matters has been revived, and the visit of the Peterborough regiment, whose good reputation has preceded it to Brantford, is hailed with delight.

A Military Centre.

And not alone is the visit of interest to the people of Brantford, but to those of the surrounding sections of the country as well. In these districts there are squadrons of the 3rd Dragoons, the members of which are taking an active interest in the completion of the plans for the Dominion Day celebration. They will participate in some of the features, both on Sunday and on Monday. This gives a rural tint to the occasion, and thus the whole county is anxiously awaiting an opportunity to turn out and do honor

School Concert Enjoyable Event

Held at Second Line of Smith School House.

The strawberry festival and concert which marked the closing of Middleton's School on the second line of Smith last night was the most successful ever held on the school grounds. Cake and strawberries were served on prettily decorated tables in the green-covered yard, and the largest crowd that ever visited the second line school was present to test the good things.

Many vehicles from the city carried a number of young people out to this popular spot.

The programme, which was under the supervision of the school teacher, Miss McConnell, was a very enjoyable one and greatly delighted the big audience that assembled in the school room.

The big storm towards the closing of the programme came at an inopportune time and made the departure of the big crowd disagreeable.

MILLBROOK BOY IS THE "HEAD BOY"

Master Tom Allen, son of the Rev. W. C. Allen, rector of Cavan, has passed the midsummer examinations at Trinity College School, Port Hope, in a most creditable manner, ranking as head boy, and winning the Chancellor, Classical and French prizes.

Another Severe Storm Does Considerable Damage

Three Transformers Burned in Sub-Station of the C. G. E. Works ---Shovel Factory's Transformer Burned---Sewer Falls In--- Crops in Country Lying Flat Upon the Ground.

The storm, which swept over the Electric City last night was the most severe of the many which Peterborough has witnessed this season. The electric fluid played about the wires strung around the city and caused considerable consternation for an hour or two.

Damage is reported from both the Shovel Factory, and the Canadian General, where a number of transformers were burned. Jackson Park was not forgotten, and here three of the big pine trees were shattered. The sewer under construction on Homewood avenue, fell in, and rendered the work of continuing very slow.

In the country the rainfall, which was an inch and a half, beast down the wheat, hay, barley and rye crops, as if rollers had passed over them. One farmer from Otonabee, stated to the Examiner this morning that his 32 acres of wheat were lying "flat as a pancake."

Smith and Douro townships almost escaped the big storm, only a small quantity of rain falling in these districts.

Transformer Burned,

The severe lightning played many pranks with the electric wires in the city last night and half the houses were in darkness. The transformer in front of the Shovel Company's factory caught fire and an alarm was sent in. No other damage was done except the destroying of the transformer and the burning of the post.

Lightning in Jackson Park.

Three trees were struck in Jackson park last night and totally destroyed. Those who saw the ball of fire described it as one of those startlingly beautiful sights rarely witnessed. One tree was hit twice, a rarity seldom seen.

New Sand-Lime Brick Has Fully Demonstrated Its Value For Practical Use

The Plant of Peterborough Sandstone Brick Company, Ltd., is Visited —The Process of Manufacture Explained—Company Turning Out a Superior Article---The Advantages Possessed by the New Brick---Company is Admirably Situated to Make Good Quality of Bricks---20,000 a Day is Plant's Present Capacity.

TORONTO CITY ARCHITECTS REPORT ON THE QUALITY OF SAND-LIME BRICKS

"The bricks tested showed unexpected strength and resistive powers. It only crumbled after 12,000 pounds had been applied to a single brick. The highest pressure on any other brick tested at the School of Practical Science was 93,000 pounds. The new brick, too, withstood half an hour in 4,000 degrees of heat. The building regulations require brick able to withstand a pressure of 6 tons to the foot. The Sand and Lime Brick have been been tested to a pressure of over 200 tons to the square foot."

From an article in the Toronto Star.

Sand and lime, one day, and bricks, in a house, the next, is the transformation made possible by the Kommick system of manufacturing the new sandstone bricks, the system used by the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Company, whose plant has recently been put into operation, and is now turning out the product at the rate of 20,000 bricks a day.

A visit to this plant is an hour or so most interestingly spent, and one can learn a whole lot of things which were unknown before. To those who have been accustomed to the old process of brick manufacturing, the process by which it was necessary to burn the brick after they had been made, for weeks at a time, in kilns, before they were ready to place in a building, the process used by this company appears little short of marvellous—it is, too.

The plant, which is situated on the line of the C. P. R. south west of the city, in the township of North Monaghan, is visited daily, since it was placed in operation, by scores of persons, who have heard of this new way of making brick, and who want to see for themselves. What they see satisfies them that the bricks are all right — it cannot help doing so.

The process of manufacture is simple, as all successful manufacturing processes are. It simply consists, first, in the thorough mixing of a quantity of sand and slaked lime, four or five parts of the former to one part of the latter. This substance is run through a machine, which, after again mixing it, applies several tons of pressure, and finally moulds the brick, which are afterwards placed in kettles, and subjected to a steam pressure of 120 pounds to the square inch for a few hours, when they are completed brick, ready to stand any pressure that the ordinary brick will stand. In fact it is stated that they are more durable than the old clay brick.

The finished sandstone brick is of a pretty, light grey colour, and a building constructed of them would present a splendid appearance.

This company has been singularly successful in securing property upon which there was a supply of first class sand, in fact it is claimed there is none better for the purpose in the world, and the supply is practically unlimited.

That the local company is manufacturing a good article is attested to by the fact that it is admitted that the brick made here is superior to that manufactured in the sand-lime brick plant in Toronto, the first to be established in this part of the Province.

The company is practically an entirely local concern, the officers being:—President, Mr. J. J. English, Hastings, a prosperous and prominent merchant of that town; Vice-President, Mr. J. J. Hartley, one of the best known building contractors in the city of Peterborough, and a man with undoubted faith in the sand-lime brick; and the Secretary, Mr. E. S. Clarry, one of the city's rising young business men. The other directors are Mr. R. A. Elliott, for years a successful merchant of Cobourg, and now a resident of this city, and Mr. Robert Harstone, of Warkworth, a business man of large interest. The manager of the company is Mr. W. Harstone, of this city, and a most careful, and at the same time, progressive business man. The superintendent is Mr. F. M. Sears, of Saginaw, Mich., the home of the sand-lime brick industry. He is a thoroughly competent man, with a complete technical knowledge of the details of manufacture, a very necessary requisite, because, while the process, as has been stated, is simple, there is considerable high-grade machinery employed, the operation of which requires a practical man such as Mr. Sears.

The originators of the company are all careful men, who looked thoroughly into the whole question before they embarked in the industry, and they fully convinced themselves that it was a good proposition, and that the sand-lime brick supplied a need, which, in Peterborough, was particularly apparent, since the rapid expansion of building operations made it difficult, through the ordinary channels, to procure sufficient building material at the time it was required.

The orders which the company has received since the plant was put into operation fully justifies this conviction—the builders have taken it up at once, and there are sufficient orders ahead to ensure the plant's steady operation.

The building, as it stands now, is 90x70 feet, and it is simply in its skeleton shape, the walls not having been bricked in yet. There are two reasons for this, the first being that there was such a demand for brick in the city that the company decided to commence manufacturing operations as soon as the machinery was installed and the roof on, and the second was that to demonstrate its own faith in the great quality of the brick, the company wanted to wait and erect the walls of its building with its own brick.

The two illustrations appearing on this page show the plant in this condition. The walls will be bricked in during the summer.

Power to operate the plant is obtained from an 80 h.p. steam boiler, supplying a 60 h.p. engine, the boiler and engine house being bricked in and separate from the rest of the plant. The building is lighted by electricity, and may be operated night and day. Another incidental but important, advantage possible to this kind of a brick plant, is that it may be operated the year round, the weather having no effect on it. About 18 to 20 men are employed in the process of manufacture, and they have rapidly become accustomed to the work, so that the plant now operates with a precision and smoothness which one would only expect to see after months of preliminary work.

A C.P.R. siding to the property affords excellent shipping facilities. The building, it may be mentioned, was erected under the supervision of Mr. J. J. Hartley, and is roofed with Carey's cement roofing.

In a word it may be said that the prospects for the company are excellent, and that it will rapidly develop into one of the city's most important industries, no one who understands the situation will doubt. The company is incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000.

It may not be out of place in this connection to refer briefly to some of the advantages of the new sand-lime brick:

That artificial stone could be produced out of sand and lime is a fact that has been known since the olden time. The cisterns of Salomo, near Pyrus, and other hydraulic works of that time, consist of this kind of artificial stone. In the ruins of Salomo Temple, near Jerusalem, well preserved remains of sand-lime masonry are found, and particularly noticeable are the four colossal courses of this masonry in the ruin, which are made of this material. Thousands of years have not been able to destroy these masses of sand-lime stone, but, on the contrary, they have become harder and firmer in the course of time, while the old buildings of burnt brick, and hard natural stone have long since succumbed to the influence of weather and have fallen to pieces.

The bricks are manufactured from pure sand and lime only.

Operation. — The lime is properly pulverized and hydrated or slaked, after which it is mixed with the sand. It is then conveyed automatically until it reaches the press, where the bricks are formed. They are then taken from the press, placed on the cars, and are run into long cylinders or boilers, where for eight hours they are under live steam pressure of 120 lbs. This finishes the process and the bricks are ready for use when cooled, taking less than 24 hours in the manufacture.

The following are claimed to be the characteristics of sand-lime bricks:

1—Improves with age.
2—Great crushing strength.
3—Low in porosity.
4—No efflorescence.
5—No scaling.
6—Slight heat conductivity.
7—Unaffected by acids.
8—Absolutely sanitary.
9—No disintegration with extreme climatic changes.
10—Practically no expansion from heat.
11—Great electrical resistance.
12—Economy in laying on account of uniformity of size, shape and colour; minimum of bats; facility with which brick can be cut.
13—The only brick with which a two-sided finished eight-inch wall can be built.
14—The natural colour is that of Indiana sandstone. All colours and shades can be made, and they are proof against climatic changes. Unlimited effects are possible in colours—many shades of which cannot be produced in other building materials.
15—Superior brick for underground purposes, especially sewers.

Interior View of the Plant of the Sandstone Brick Co., looking from the east. The machine in the centre foreground is the press. The end of one of the Baking Kettles is seen in the left of the picture. The Building is in an Unfinished State.

R. W. Hunt and Company submitted a sand-lime brick to a temperature of 2500 degrees F., for one half hour and it showed no bad effects, and no indication of fusing.

Sand-lime brick is without exception a fair substitute for clay brick, for all kinds of buildings, and is in many respects superior to it. For this reason the German municipal and state authorities, who, as is well known are very strict in their specifications and requirements, are giving sand-lime brick the preference more and more.

Many buildings in Germany have been erected of sand-lime brick, and have stood the test for years, so that it will be seen that it is no experiment to use this new product.

Claims To Be The Waltz Champion

Italian Danced for Thirteen Consecutive Hours.

Examiner Special.

Paris, June 30.—The world's waltzing record is claimed to have been established at a competition held in a dancing saloon in the Rue de la Douane. There were a dozen competitors, a girl of 11 being among them.

The condition imposed was that competitors had to waltz continuously from 1 o'clock on Saturday morning until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, that is to say, 13 hours. The girl competitor, Mlle. Adelies, stopped at the end of four hours. Others gave up after waltzing five, six, and seven hours. Constant Pozzoli kept the floors for 11 hours and then gave up the struggle.

The winner was Monsieur Corsini Gualliero, an Italian. During the 13 hours he was on the floor he danced in turn with six young women, who took regular turns of 10 minutes each. It might be noted that the pianist, Romeo Fusaro, accompanied the champion on the piano without stopping once. When he ate or drank, which was often, he was helped by friends. The champions lady partners fed him as they danced.

Detroit Girl Was Almost Deserted at the Altar.

Detroit, June 30th.—Sometimes, young woman, it is dangerous to be insistent on lending money to your sweetheart on your wedding eve. It may prove to be the disappointment of financial as well as marital hopes.

Miss Sophia Nimmet, 43 Graham street than whom there was no happier girl in all Detroit a few days ago, now mourns the loss of $200 and a sweetheart because she insisted on lending money to the groom-to-be. She charges the prospective husband, Paul Zesch, with betaking himself and her ten times 20 clinking simoleons out of her sphere of influence.

"Often I offered to lend him all my savings," she said Saturday, in telling Capt. McDonnell about the recreant lover. "He always refused. He was such a swell fellow—all the girls were stuck on him. But on Thursday night 12 hours before the time when we were to be married, he wanted a new shirt with gold buttons, and I peeled $5 off the roll of bills I had been saving and gave it to him. Afterward I missed the other $195."

"I think he'll come back," vouchsafed Capt. McDonnell, in cheery tone, "if I can get wind of where he went to."

Lightning Electrocutes Seven Head of Cattle

Belonged to Mr. John Fallis, of South Monaghan—Were Standing Beneath Pine Tree—Three Were Thrown Against the Fence—A Peculiar Situation.

Probably the greatest destruction left in the wake of the severe electric storm which passed over the county last night was the electrocuting of seven head of cattle in South Moaghan. The animals belonged to Mr. John Fallis, who lives a short distance across Hale's Bridge. They were standing in the pasture field beneath a big pine tree, when the deadly fluid did its work of destruction. Three of the cattle were knocked several feet into the fence corner and piled in a heap. The others were dying near by the tree.

The animals were all fine two-year-old steers, and worth about $35 each. The tree itself was shattered into splinters.

Mr. Waterman, a gentleman from that vicinity, told The Examiner today that he has known lightning to strike within a hundred yards of the same spot a dozen times since he has lives there. He believes that something peculiar about the situation exists that attracts the fluid, as he never known of such a peculiarity before.

Many Cottagers Are Arriving At Lakes

Some of the Peterborough People Who Have Become Domiciled at Stony Lake for the Summer—The Prospects are Excellent for a Busy Season—New Boat for Mr. Henderson.

The mise: Special.

Stony Lake, June 29.—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Chamberlain & Son, of Denver, Colo., are occupying Miss Ray's pretty cottage, "Raybourne."

A party, consisting of Messrs. E. M. Leacock, A. L. Peck, M. S. Campbell and Mrs. T. Campbell, Niagara Falls, N.Y., are at Minnie-Wa-Wa.

A large excursion under the auspices of the Methodist church, Lakefield passed up the lakes to-day on the steamer Stoney Lake, en route to Buckhorn.

Mr. S. Henderson, Toronto, launched his new yacht at Lakefield on Monday and came up to his cottage. The new craft is considerably larger than the one which Mr. Henderson has been using for some years, having seating capacity for about 30 persons, and is one of the finest on the lakes. It is equipped with a 6-horse-power double cylinder engine, and is very speedy. The yacht is of a handsome model with cigar-shaped stern, which gives it a steady appearance.

The new cottage, now in course of erection for Mr. H. Sherin, Lakefield, situated on the Burleigh shore, near Mt. Julian, promises to be one of the most elaborate on the Kawartha Lakes.

Mr. H. Stock, Peterborough, has opened his cottage for the season. Mrs. Stock and party are now in occupancy.

Sheriff Hall came up this morning to put his cottage in shape prior to the arrival of his family, who are expected on Saturday.

Although the summer season has scarcely commenced, yet every up-boat brings a number of health and pleasure seekers. By night, strange lights appear where familiar ones were seen last year, denoting that the advance agent is on the spot.

Among the numerous hotels and boarding houses, South Beach appears to be specially favoured as this popular house is said to have nearly all the guests that can be accommodated.

THE COBOURG CAMP GROUNDS UNSUITABLE

A Cobourg despatch to the Kingston News says:—"Water supply for the cavalry in camp is poor, and half the regiments have to go a mile or so to a creek to get sufficient water for the horses. Cobourg camp is a poor substitute for Barriefield in regard to water supply and for field manoeuvring and regiment and squadron drill."

It is understood that this is the last year that Cobourg will have the camp, the locality not being suitable for the purpose. Next year the camp will be at either Peterborough or Kingston, with claims in favour of the latter place, slightly, but Peterborough may succeed in securing it.

BIG BASEBALL GAME BILLED FOR HOLIDAY

The Peterborough baseball team will cross bats on Monday afternoon on the Riverside Park at three o'clock with Bill Cinnamon's Lindsay Red Skins. This game will, no doubt, draw a large crowd as everybody knows the rivalry between those two teams and a great battle can be depended upon. The locals have for the past two weeks been preparing for this game and will be strengthened by the service of Shea and Rattray. Shea is at present in Brantford, but will be down for the holiday and Rattray is catching for Havelock. He will be here for the game. Quinlan and Hickey will do the twirling for the locals. Lindsay will have their best team here. They declined to publish their new pitcher's name, but the public may rest assured they will have a dandy with them. This is the only attraction on the holiday and everyone should turn out to cheer for the locals to trim Lindsay. The Peterborough team will be picked from the following:—Sheridan, Hickey, Tasker, Quinlan, Fitzpatrick, Whitcraft, Callahan, Shaw, Shea, Doherty, Rattery, McMillan and Farnell.

Committee Will See Mr. Leonard

Re the Proposed Construction of Grain Route Through Jackson Park.

After the meeting of the Committee of the Whole last night, the Manufacturers' Committee met to decide what should be done regarding the entrance of the Victoria Harbour C.P.R. grain route into the city. They decided to call an emergency meeting to arrive at the means of having an interview with Mr. Leonard, of the C.P.R. construction work, and the naming of a committee of citizens to form a deputation.

Warm Welcome For The 57th

our to the occasion. If the day is fine there promises to be a record crowd in the city, to join in the demonstration.

The Camping Grounds.

To the Peterborough regiment, the two main points of interest during their stay in the city will probably be the Agricultural Park and the drill hall. At the park they will be encamped. The park embraces some 12 acres, being the largest outing spot in the city. It was donated to the city by the Cookshutt family, to whose liberality Brantford is much indebted in many ways. Favourably situated on the bank of the Grand River and opposite another fine park, known as Jubilee Terrace, this beauty spot is, indeed, a charming place for camp purposes. Every facility will be provided. At one time the grounds were utilized for exhibition purposes, and as a result there are several buildings on them. These can be used by the regiment to advantage. On the grounds, too, there is a half mile race track and a large lacrosse oval, suitably fenced, for sporting purposes. All kinds of sports are indulged in here, and in their spare moments the visitors will be afforded every opportunity to enjoy themselves in this line. The park is not distant from the city, being less than a quarter of a mile from the business district.

The Drill Hall.

The other point of interest to the visitors will be the drill hall, very centrally located on Jubilee Terrace, overlooking the river. The terrace is a beautiful park, with a promenade along the waterfront. Here is located the Soldiers' Monument, erected to commemorate the three Brantford boys who fell in the South African war. The monument, which was the first South African memorial to be erected in Canada, is an elaborate one in every way, and is always much admired by visitors. The drill hall is a most imposing structure, having been lately remodelled and re-furnished. The exterior is suggestive of the tower and battlement order. Inside the various departments and quarters are fitted up in elegant fashion. The visitors will be received with open arms and made to feel perfectly at home during every moment of their stay in the city.

Features of Programme.

Through the columns of The Examiner the people of Peterborough are already familiar with the programme that will be carried out here on Sunday and Monday. A word or two of further explanation, however, may be of interest. The big feature on Sunday will be the church parade in the morning. This will take place to Grace Anglican church, one of the largest and oldest in the city. The preacher will be Archdeacon Mackenzie. The regiments will prepare for the parade at 9 o'clock, and will arrive at the church at the usual hour.

Sunday afternoon has been left free in order that the visitors may see a part of the city. There are half a dozen parks within easy reach. Probably many will also take advantage of the Sunday cars which run between Brantford and Paris, a distance of seven miles. Midway between the points is a beautiful park, known as the Grand Valley, and operated by the radial company. Brantford is some too quiet on Sundays. While everything is not wide open, it can be said with candor that ice cream is sold openly on that day and there are also other features on the side.

Sunday evening will witness a massed band concert on the camp grounds. This will be well advertised, and a large number of local people will attend.

The Peterborough regiment will be quartered at local hotels for meals both on Sunday and Monday. Special arrangements have been made to this line, and the visitors are assured of the best there is to be had.

The Monday Plans.

The feature of the entire visit, of course, will be the Monday afternoon celebration, in which the Peterborough and Brantford regiments will combine. This includes a big parade in the afternoon and military manoeuvres at Agricultural Park. These plans have been pretty fully outlined in Peterborough.

All is Ready.

On Thursday the advance guard from the Peterborough regiment arrived in the city and has since been busy in completing arrangements for the reception of the men. Everything is now ready. The men say that all plans thus far have proved successful, and they are looking forward to a most pleasant visit.

The Dufferin Rifles.

The Dufferin Rifles regiment was organized in 1866 and now consists of eight companies. The regiment assumed the title of Dufferin by permission of Lord Dufferin, the then Governor-General of Canada. The present colonel of the regiment is E. D. Cameron, superintendent of the Six Nations Indians in this district, and an officer well known for his courtesy. The regiment is in a flourishing condition in every department.

"PE-RU-NA WORKED WONDERS"
Says a Well-Known Canadian.

MR. P. BRIEN.

Mr. P. Brien, Accountant, residing at 29 Third street, Limoilou, Quebec, writes:

"The fatigues entailed by my duties as accountant began to weaken my system about a year ago. I felt that I would not long be able to withstand the severe strain upon my nerves, as, a thing unknown to me before, I would long for office hours to be over in order to rest.

"I gradually grew weaker and a few months later my sight was impaired. I then broke down completely and was obliged to take my bed. I was also suffering from palpitation of the heart.

"After a few weeks' treatment by a local physician, I was in the same critical condition, and as the doctor held out no great prospects for me, I decided to experiment on myself.

"I took several remedies advertised as tonics, but did not derive any benefit.

"Peruna was then given a trial, and before I had taken it a week I felt my condition improving. After a few weeks more had elapsed, during which time I followed the directions carefully, my shattered nervous system became firmer, my sight stronger and I hoped to be out soon again.

"My expectations were realized, for in three weeks I assumed my duties as accountant at the office.

"Peruna certainly worked wonders on my system, and for persons run-down from overwork, I believe it is the most efficacious tonic."

Assistant War Correspondent Recommends Pe-ru-na.

Mr. H. B. Manley, assistant War Correspondent during the War in China, care "Black and White," 628 Craig St., Montreal, Canada, writes:

"When a man travels in extremely hot or cold climates, he realizes how valuable a friend he has if he carries a bottle of Peruna.

"I know of no article in my traveling outfit which I have learned to praise higher.

"If you are suffering with the extreme heat, Peruna restores you, or if you are afflicted with a cold, la grippe or bronchitis, Peruna restores you in a short time.

"Or if you suffer with sleeplessness or if your appetite is poor, again Peruna acts as a good, true friend and is the tonic needed.

"I have tried it for months, and am only too glad to acknowledge it as a true, loyal standby in times of trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend it to all."

For free medical advice, address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Pe-ru-na is a Systemic Catarrh Remedy, Especially Adapted to Cases of Nervous Prostration, Caused By Overwork, Mental Strain Or Extreme Summer Heat.

In latitudes where warm weather is of long continuance, the inhabitants become more or less accustomed to it.

In Temperate Zones, however, where the change from winter to summer is great, the system is sometimes poorly prepared to meet the exigencies of hot weather. This is the cause of much sickness.

Stomach catarrh, indigestion and dyspepsia are not among the least of summer ailments.

When the digestion is disturbed, the assimilation is also affected, and as a result the body does not receive the nourishment it should. Lassitude, weakness, brain fag, loss of flesh and nervous prostration are the natural results.

INDIGESTION CAUSES WEAKNESS.

What is needed is a remedy that will restore the digestive organs to their normal condition.

Such a remedy has been found in Peruna. It has proven itself of priceless value in thousands of cases of this kind.

Its action has been seemingly miraculous in restoring some patients who had given up all hope of recovery.

But there is nothing strange about Peruna's action. It simply tones up the mucous membranes of the organs involved, restoring them to their normal conditions and leaving Nature to perform her duties unhindered.

PE-RU-NA'S BENEFICIAL EFFECT.

That person who has sound, healthy mucous membranes lining the entire digestive tract is well-guarded against the usual summer ailments.

Peruna is the means whereby to attain this most desirable condition.

If you suffer from any of the above-mentioned symptoms, try a bottle of Peruna.

One bottle of this remedy is sufficient to convince any one of its merit as a safe and reliable remedy for all catarrhal conditions.

We have many letters of gratitude received from persons who have experienced its benefits.

These testimonials are proof to us that Peruna has not failed in the mission for which it was intended, that of relieving suffering and restoring health.

Citizens Object To Grain Route Cutting the Park

a route. As Chairman of the Committee he had gone to see Mr. Leonard, the head of all the C.P.R. construction work, but could not get an interview with him. He had spoken to Mr. Darlington, the next in authority, who explained that the whole thing to them was the question of grade and unless they have a certain grade, the road will not be built. They always take the cheapest route possible irrespective of property, after considering the grades. A survey of 10 miles, north and south, had been made, he said, which took in Mr. Dumble's proposed route and yet it was not agreed upon.

Ald. Elliott moved that Mayor Best, Ald. McWilliams and Mason, and Mr. Hatton be a committee to wait upon the C.P.R. official, Mr. Leonard, re entering the city of the Victoria Harbour Line.

Ald. McWilliams thought that either a deputation from the citizens or one from the Council be appointed instead of mixing property owners and members of the council.

An amendment was moved by Ald. Adams and Duncan, that the Manufacturers' Committee be a deputation to interview the C.P.R. officials regarding the proposed route. — Carried.

HE WILL REMAIN TWO MORE WEEKS

Dr. Montgomery, the eye-sight specialist, will remain at Sanderson & Co's store until July 14th. His optical work is the best ever done in Peterborough and no doubt his services will be much in demand during the remainder of his stay.

One-third of the roadwork is done the other two-thirds will not be done this year as the gravel pits have not been made ready on time although the roads need any amount of gravel. When the roads become all mud in the fall and travellers will be able to step from one large stone to another, but the old corduroy roads for mine.—Garden Hill correspondent to Port Hope Times.

SATURDAY, JUNE 30, 1906.

CANADA.

This is the thirty-ninth birthday of the Dominion of Canada, and at no previous occurrence of the anniversary, have Canadians had better reason to regard with greater pride, the advance the country has made, the magnificent thrift it at present enjoys, and the splendid future, to which everything points the way. Those of us who remember the first of July of 1867, can, in a general way, contrast the present position, and condition, of the country, with that in existence now. The fathers of Confederation, the men who assisted at the constitutional parturition of a nation, have, with one or two exceptions, passed away. These only are left to see to-day, how amply their faith in our future, which prompted their patriotic co-operation in forming the Confederation pact, has been realised, how their hopeful optimism has been more than justified. From a constitutional point of view, Confederation has been a signal success. So far the conflicting interests springing from the diverse natural interests of our vast and widely separated domain have been harmonised, without more than passing friction. The Confederation bond has sometimes been severely strained, but, thanks to wise restraint, a generous mutual sacrifice, it remains intact — teres atque rotundus. Not only constitutionally, but ethnically, one might say, Confederation has been successful. Though of different races and origins, we are to-day six millions Canadians, united in common aspiration, to work harmoniously for the good and greatness of our Dominion. This united effort, conjoined with our natural dower of inexhaustible resources, accounts for the progress we are making—a progress never more rapid, more solid, and more satisfactory, than to-day.

In 1867—July 1st—there were four provinces comprising Canada, Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. On July 15th, 1870, Manitoba came into the union. In 1871, British Columbia was admitted. It was not till 1873 that little Prince Edward thought better of her first refusal, and lent her little all to the expansion of Confederation. In 1870 the Northwest Territorities and Rupert's Land were made a part of the Dominion, and in 1880 by an Imperial Order-in-Council it was declared that all British possessions in North America, not already included, and all adjacent islands, with the exception of Newfoundland, should form a part of the Dominion of Canada. Thus "the whole boundless continent" — north of the 49th parallel — "is ours." Last year two great provinces, of almost continental expanse —Alberta and Saskatchewan—were carved out of the Northwest Territories, leaving material for other continental provinces to come.

While the Dominion, as an entity, has entered its fortieth year, some of the provinces are only in their babyhood. Canada is young in nationhood, but it is a lusty young giant, with a present, and potential, greatness of which we can to-day be justly proud, and justly hopeful. The progress of Canada since Confederation need not be ticketed and tabulated to give one an idea of how solidly rapid it has become. We entered Confederation with a scant adn scattered population—now we have six millions. But our growth in population is small, compared with our expansion in other ways. In 1867 our revenue was only $13,000,000; this year it is nearly 80 millions. In 1867 our total trade was only $130,000,000; to-day it is very close to 500 millions of dollars, equivalent to over 83 dollars per head, a greater per capita trade than that of any nation in the world, excepting Great Britain. Our imports of cheese and dairy products have increased six fold in the past thirty-nine years while our exports of bacon and hams have increased a dozen fold. In 1867 we had in Canada only 4,800 miles of railway, now we have 20,000 miles, and we are building this year alone more miles of new railway than we had in the whole of Canada when the first Dominion Day dawned. And in the next ten years we shall add, perhaps, ten thousand to our railway mileage. This tremendous activity in railway construction is the most adequate measure of our great growth imaginable. One reacts upon the other, our growth demands railways and railways mean growth. While we have every reason to feel gratified with our present position, the spirit of the people forbids us to be satisfied. We are great in many ways, we have the most splendid heritage ever intrusted to a single people; we have the widest diversity of resources, we have a constitution and form of government without a peer anywhere; we have a thrifty, sturdy, steady-going, progressive population, which is rapidly increasing by the addition of the very best ethnical elements of the world. We have the most magnificent stretches of inland waters in the world; we have countless acres of fertile soil capable of producing the "finest of the wheat;" we are an integrate part of the greatest empire of history, and we have all the elements of national greatness, and possessions ample to provide homes for millions. We Canadians, are a happy, prosperous, well-governed, well-behaved, progressive and enterprising people. Divine Providence has been splendidly partial to us in a thousand ways, and if we are true to ourselves, true to the calls of duty, faithful and diligent in the use of our talents, we shall for many years have occasion to regard, as we do this year, each recurring First of July, as another mile stone on the upward road of national greatness and national achievement.

THE CONUNDRUM.

On Monday—or possibly to-morrow, July 1st, Mr. Joseph Stewart will assume his position as Inspector for the License District of West Peterborough, and it is in order to inquire what earthly claims, arising from political qualifications, Mr. Stewart can present to justify his selection for a lucrative position, over long, tried and true members of the party. Where did he get his pull? We all know that Mr. Cochrane was displaced to make room for Mr. Stewart, without reference to the wishes or protests of, the responsible local members of the party. No one seems to exactly understand the why and the wherefore of this little party move, but there seems to prevail a general opinion that the "Ine Italian hand" of the ex-Dominion representative has been busy in connection with the dismissals of efficient officials, though no one can understand where such interference with purely provincial matters finds a consistent justification.

Our evening contemporary makes no attempt to defend this act of the Whitney Government in dismissing License Inspector Cochrane. It makes no attempt to justify the appointment of Mr. Stewart. It is wise in its self restraint, it cannot do the impossible. There is no defence for the actions mentioned. This seems to be another instance of the intention to place the liquor trade under the management of a local political committee or clique. The liquor interests in Peterborough know how things are much better than the Review. The disappointed applicants for Mr. Cochrane's position are much surprised and not well satisfied with the deal brought off, but it is said that the trade is well satisfied, and the political boss is satisfied. He has been successful in giving effect to his spirit of spite, and in side-tracking the nominal representatives of West Peterborough. What reason have the temperance interests to complain when the boss and his political allies are happy in having provided a party political attainment to the administration of the License Law?

ACCUSATIONS AND APPEALS TO POPULAR PREJUDICE

"Last year it was Sbarretti; this year it is Shearer!" And both accusations were born in prejudice and uttered with malice in the hope that class feeling might be aroused against Sir Wilfrid Laurier and work to his political hurt. Where direct and open statement would not serve the purpose of the political slanderer recourse has been taken to suggestive innuendo. What they they dare not say openly they whisper in the ear in secret places. What the rules of Parliament forbid, and what the press cannot do, is entrusted to the underground agents that ply either the church or the lodge, as occasion requires. In ways that truth cannot follow or check, the Prime Minister is falsely and maliciously accused of being in league now, with a Beelzebub of one type, and now with a Beelzebub of another. "Last year it was Sbarretti; this year it is Shearer!"

Nothing more disgraceful in itself, more discreditable to those who carried it on, or more insulting to religious feeling and political decency was ever known in Canadian politics than the "Sbarretti" campaign against Sir Wilfrid Laurier last year. The worst that malice could conceive was done in the name of civil and religious liberty. The changes were rung on "the hierarchy," "the Papacy," and "the Italian priest," and the coarsest appeals were made to Protestant prejudice. Those who knew the facts and who protested against the indecency with which the name of the Ablegate was used were assailed as sycophants or poltroons, and for weeks the firebrands of jealousy and suspicion were cast about among the inflammable materials of class and race and religion. "Last year it was Sbarretti."

"This year it is Shearer." Because the Prime Minister has set himself resolutely and with the highest national ends in view to put upon the statute book of the Dominion for the first time a Federal law safeguarding the weekly Day of Rest, he is being maligned by his political opponents as the puppet of the Rev. J. G. Shearer, the Secretary of the Dominion Lord's Day Alliance. Men who are not known to have done one unselfish or genuine public-spirited act in all their political service affect to sneer at those who are seeking to make and to keep the conditions of life in Canada a little higher than they are in countries where there is neither Sunday law nor Sunday rest. They pose as "liberalists," forgetting that the liberties they enjoy were won for them by men who would scorn their uses of liberty. They talk of "holy Toronto" as though Halifax and Winnipeg and Ottawa had not as much to do with the measure now before Parliament as Toronto had. They call Mr. Shearer "an Ontario ecclesiastic," shutting their eyes to the fact that the Alliance he represents is dominated by laymen of all classes and creeds, and that the power behind him is stronger in Nova Scotia than in Ontario, and represents an informed and organized opinion as strong in the West as in the East, as outspoken in French Catholic Quebec as in any Protestant district in Canada, and as unanimous and emphatic in the unions and brotherhoods of labour as in the courts or conventions of the church. The fact is, the men who are jealous of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, envious of his prestige with all classes and races and creeds, are blind to the real secret of his power, and think by appeals to sectionalism and prejudice to destroy a reputation based on personal character and public worth. They try first one piece of claptrap, then another. "This year it is Shearer."

The meanest and most contemptible innuendo is that of the small-sized slanderers of the Prime Minister, who, failing to injure him last year with their insinuations about "Sbarretti," and seeing no greater hope this year in talking about "Shearer," are beginning to whisper about an understanding with the Senate. It may be true that the Senate may kill the Lord's Day Bill, but it will not be at the suggestion or with the concurrence of the of the Prime Minister. The Senate has done unapproved things before, and may do them again, but in this matter it must act on its own responsibility. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is sincere and convinced in his course, and now that the Privy Council has laid the obligation of Sunday legislation on the Federal Parliament, having disproved the authority of the Provinces in this matter, it is his earnest desire to pass a law which will at once grant reasonable liberty, give reasonable protection to important interests, and safeguard, as a boon to humanity and a sheet anchor to Canadian social and moral life, the one day of rest in each week of consuming stress and toil. It is difficult to frame such a law for a whole continent, but the honest effort and conciliatory spirit of the Prime Minister ought to command the admiration of all true Canadians, and are themselves sufficient rebuke to the trifling or envenomed partisans who last year sneered about "Sbarretti" and this year sneer about "Shearer."—Globe.

How The Newspapers Can Assist Justice

They Must be Taken Into Confidence, However—The Philadelphia Kidnappers Caught Through the Help of the City Papers.

Toronto Star.

Although the newspapers sometimes get into trouble for what they put in, they seldom get credit for what they leave out. Instances could be multiplied in which panics have been averted, feelings saved, and family honour preserved by the wise rejection or prudent revision of news which has reached the editor's desk.

It happens in every newspaper office almost daily that reporters in the regular course of their duty, bring in information, which while it might interest the reader, would confer no public benefit by being printed. Indeed this is the rule in all reputable offices, and the more readily acted upon, because the men in charge are themselves human beings with the customary feelings of decency which prevail in good society. If it appears that more harm than good will result from the publication of an item of news, it is either discarded or laid by until events justify its disclosure.

Another case in point is the capture of the lible Freddy Muth's kidnapper in Philadelphia last Monday, in which the newspapers served the ends of justice not only by a judicious silence but also by active preconcerted deception to put the criminal off his guard. The story is an interesting one.

Soon after the kidnapping the police came upon a tangible clue to the identity of the kidnapper. About the same time the reporters following the case learned of this fact and began to hint that the police were not on the trail. Instantly the clue vanished.

The police knew the kidnapper was Kean, and knew he was in Philadelphia, but where or how he had hidden was a mystery. At nine o'clock on Friday night Superintendent of Police Taylor, determined upon an unprecedented move. He had just received through the Mails a letter from the kidnapper in which he threatened to kill the boy and himself. Each night city editor was asked to confer with Taylor. They went to the city hall. The police led bare everything — letters, evidence, names. Then Supt. Taylor and the captain of detectives, asked for help. As a result there was no leak.

The day following the conference the Philadelphia morning papers all printed stories on the Muth kidnapping, the kind known to the profession as "hot air." Most of them contained a fanciful tale about the police searching for an Armenian. Now it so happened that this was not altogether a deception on the readers. There really was an Armenian wanted by the Philadelphia police. They were searching for him in New York. But he was not wanted in connection with the kidnapping.

On Sunday night the most desperate card of the campaign was played. Through his dragnet Gang was placed in Mr. Muth's hands, a letter that nearly drove him frantic. It was the last message from the kidnapper. Its language indicated that the boy was as good as dead unless the police were called off at once. It directed Mr. Muth just how he was to call the police off. He told Muth to tell the police that he had been fooling them and that the boy was with relatives either at New Brunswick or Brooklyn. Captain Donaghy was much perturbed when Muth showed him the note.

But Donaghy had a plan to meet the emergency. Again he sent for the city editors, showed them the letter and asked them as a great favor to do a most unusual thing —to print a deliberate fake story. "Boys," said the detectives, "I want you to get together on a yarn to the effect that Muth has been fooling the police, and that they have thrown up the case in disgust. Muth will stand for anything you say. Bring in the places New Brunswick and Brooklyn in your story, so the man when he sees the paper will know Muth got his letter."

Every morning paper printed a story to the effect that Muth had broken down and had confessed that the boy had never been kidnapped at all.

The fake served its purpose. The kidnapper getting the morning paper was thrown off his guard. He peeped from his hole. The trap closed, and the mystery was a mystery no longer.

Oddfellows Want Grant From The City Council

To Assist in Entertaining the Grand Lodge Delegates in August—Letter Read Before Committee of the Whole—Oddfellows Committee Will Meet Committee of the Whole Next Friday Night.

A letter from the local Oddfellows was read last night at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council, asking for an unstated grant to assist in entertaining the Grand Lodge delegates, who will be in Peterborough for the Grand Lodge meeting from August 6th to the 10th. The letter pointed out that there would be in the neighbourhood of 1200 delegates in the city at that time. The matter was held over for further consideration until Friday night.

In the discussion which followed the reading of the letter Ald. McWilliams said that this was an opportunity of deciding in what way the city should assist in the entertainment of all such large conventions visiting the city. He thought the city should encourage the visitation of these big conventions, and considered that a definite plan should be followed.

Ald. Adams suggested that the matter be left to the Finance Committee. Ald. Hicks agreed with this position. He also remarked that he did not believe in spending money for the decoration of the city by the city council.

It was moved by Ald. Hicks, that the Finance Committee consider the matter, but this met with objections from some of the members of the Finance Committee, who thought that the whole council should settle the question.

Ald. Adams was of the opinion there should be a settled mode of lending assistance to all such delegations and that the council entertain in a certain method all such conventions, having a reception committee for this purpose.

Ald. Johnston said the Oddfellows had a committee on purpose to meet the council to arrange for such receptions. It was finally decided that a committee from the Oddfellows be asked to meet the Committee of the Whole Council, to consider the matter next Friday.

Presentation Made To The Retiring Manager

Mr. F. J. Jamieson Presented With Handsome Watch and Chain by Examiner and Employees To-day—Severs His Connection With the Paper After Nearly Forty Years Service—Has Seen the Examiner Grow From Small Weekly to be Important Daily Journal.

To-day Mr. F. J. Jameson severs his connection with the Examiner, after nearly forty years of association with this paper, in various capacities, and during those years the Examiner has passed through the usual evolutionary stages, until it has reached its present position.

To mark the occasion of his withdrawal from the position which he has held for so many years, with credit, the Examiner, and the staff, wished to express their regret at his departure, and, at the same time, to express their best wishes for his future, and this was given evidence to at noon to-day, when the employees gathered in the office, and on their behalf Mr. Yokome read the following address and Mr. Martin presented Mr. Jameson with a gold watch and chain, the former being suitable engraved:

Mr. F. J. Jameson,—

Dear Sir,—On the occasion of your retirement from the office which you have so long and efficiently occupied, we desire in this manner to recognize in a measure the faithful way in which you have fulfilled the discharge of your exacting and responsible duties and to bear testimony to the large share you have thus contributed to the condition of progress and prominence the Examiner enjoys.

We remember your nearly two score years of association in various capacities with the Examiner and we wish to bear witness to the fidelity and loyalty which characterized your association with the establishment. During your management of its mechanical and business department it has grown from a small weekly to be of the most creditable and prosperous among the Daily and Weekly Journals of this province and we all join in regretting that your valuable services are to be withdrawn.

In recognizing heartily your past services we would add the wish that you may prosper in your new sphere of activity in which we are sure that you will discharge your duties with equal faithfulness and continue to perform with credit and success the general duties of citizenship which have made you a respected and esteemed member of the community.

As an earnest of our regard and good wishes for your future prosperity, we ask your acceptance of this watch and chain with the hope that you may be long spared to use them. We are sure your interest in the Examiner will not cease with the severance of your official relations and that in you the Examiner will have as warm friend as we shall be to you.

On behalf of the Examiner and its employees,

J. R. STRATTON,
F. R. YOKOME,
R. M. GLOVER,
WM. COWIE,
W. H. DONNELLY,
ALBERT MARTIN,
H. LACHEUR.

Mr. Stratton referred to Mr. Jamieson's long and faithful connection with the Examiner. He had for nearly forty years been associated with the paper, and during that long period had seen it grow from a small country weekly to a large and flourishing weekly, and, later, a daily newspaper. The mechanical departments of the Examiner in their infancy were somewhat crude; to-day there was nothing superior in Ontario. Mr. Jameson had always had the fullest confidence of the publisher and carried with him the full powers and responsibility which he had never failed to meet. Perhaps no employee of any institution had ever been more faithful or more devoted to the interests he represented. He deeply regretted his retirement personally, and from a business standpoint, and hoped that his activities in an occupation that was not so exacting would be more congenial to him, and wished him every success, and hoped his expectations would be fully realized in his determination to take things easy during the balance of his days.

Mr. Jameson, to whom the affair was a complete surprise, expressed his appreciation in a few words, thanking Mr. Stratton, and his fellow-employees, for the expressions of regard for him, and stating that his best wishes were for the continued success of the Examiner. He referred to the conditions when he first entered the employ of the Examiner, and compared them with those existing to-day. He expected to see the paper make still greater progress in the future.

T. J. Farmer Was Killed By Lightning

Lightning Strikes Well-Known Fruit-Grower in Berry Field.

SOME OTHER FATALITIES

Mr. Farmer and His Wife Took Refuge Under a Tree, and Mrs. Farmer Was So Badly Shocked That She is Unable to Move—Neighbor Knocked Down While Ploughing in the Next Field.

Port Dalhousie, June 30.—During a severe thunderstorm here yesterday afternoon, Thomas J. Farmer, a well-known fruit grower of this section, was killed.

He, with his wife, were picking berries in the field when the storm came up, and to get out of the rain took refuge under a tree.

Mrs. Farmer also was badly shocked, and at present is not able to move.

Her skin, as well as Mr. Farmer's, was burned almost black from the effects of the flash.

Mr. Farmer has lived here nearly all his life, and was a highly-respected citizen.

A. Roberts, a neighbor, was ploughing in the next field, and he and his horse were knocked down, but beyond a bad shaking up are all right.

Killed by Lightning.

Pembroke, June 30.—Mrs. John Sullivan of Chichester, Que., was killed by lightning during a heavy storm that passed over this section Thursday night.

GRABBED A LIVE WIRE.

Frank Findlay of Hamilton Terribly Burned and May Die.

Hamilton, June 30.—Frank Findlay, a youth who boards at 73 West Main street, is lying unconscious in the City Hospital, and the chances of his recovery are not considered bright. During an electrical storm last evening one of the Cataract Power Co.'s wires at Main and Park streets broke. Findlay was sitting in front of the house, and in spite of warnings he ran out and grabbed the wire with his left hand. There was an alarming flash and the youth was thrown to the ground insensible. It was thought at first that he was dead, but signs of life were discovered and he was hustled off to the hospital. An examination showed that his hand was horribly burned, and that nearly the whole of his body was in a blister.

Both Arms Were Mangled.

Kingston, June 30.—Eva Wolfersley, working in the Imperial Laundry, will likely lose both of her arms. She was looking out of a window and turning around unthinkingly put her hand on one of the mangles. Trying to save it, her other hand was caught, and both were badly crushed almost to the elbows.

Whirled Around Shaft.

Welland, June 30.—Douglas McCallum was caught in a belt at Tewsley's sawmill in Wainfleet Township, whirled around a shaft and horribly injured. His right leg has been amputated, and he may die.

THE KINGSBRIDGE SHOOTING.

Feeling Over Guest List Led to the Cherivari Affair.

Goderich, June 30.—The Kingsbridge shooting affair of Wednesday night is assuming a more serious aspect. Joe. Hussey, the man who was shot, is not expected to recover. Twenty-seven shots, also "B," lodged in his body neck and head.

Early yesterday morning three young men, Matthew McCreight, Thomas Farrish and Charles Taylor, were lodged in the county jail. Further arrests are expected.

It appears that there was some ill-feeling on the part of a considerable number of people around Kingsbridge because they had not been invited to the Dalton-Moss wedding on Wednesday. When the crowd gathered around the Dalton house at midnight two or three of them had guns. Hussey came out of the house and fired a gun for the purpose of scaring the intruders away, and as he turned to re-enter the house some one in the crowd fired on him.

Hussey belongs to a well-known family of Ashfield Township. Rev. Father Hussey of Ridgetown is his brother, and he has arrived and is attending him. It is reported that one of the men under arrest has confessed to the shooting.

In 1901 the output of locomotives in the United States was 3,284; in 1905 it gained to 5,401. It is expected that this amount will go over 6,000 this year.

Czar Strikes Regiment From Rolls

Probrejensky Regiment of Guards Incurs Czar's Anger.

CZAR VIRTUALLY A PRISONER

Gen. Trepoff Redoubles Precautions to Prevent Surprises and Anything May Happen—Peterhof the Safest Place For the Emperor—Bomb-Throwing and Peasantry Annexing Land Continues.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—The crushing blow inflicted on the Emperor by the discovery of disaffection in his favorith regiment, the Probrejensky regiment of Life Guards, as shown by its adoption of resolutions recently upholding all the actions of Parliament and announcing that the men wanted no more police duty entailing the slaying of brothers or fathers, has so affected His Majesty that he has ordered the name of the disloyal first battalion to be stricken from the roll of the Imperial Guards. In addition, the soldiers and officers of the battalion have been deprived forever of the special rights enjoyed by guardsmen and hereafter the battalion will be designated "the special infantry battalion."

The general staff no longer conceals its fear that the morale of the entire army is profoundly shaken, and that with Parliament championing the cause of the mutineers in each instance as it arises the first big test may find troops in line up as the French guards did two days before the Bastille fell, on the side of the people and against the monarchy.

Look Horns.

The Constitutional Democrats and Radicals locked horns during yesterday's session of the Lower House over the project of the law of assembly drafted by the committee of the Constitutional Democrats. The project retains a number of the features of the provisional law promulgated last winter, such as the prohibition of meetings within a mile of the residence of the Emperor, and of the Parliament building; the requirement of the presence of a police representative and a day's notice of the intention to hold meetings, all of which were strongly attacked by the Radicals. The discussion was preliminary to the reference of the project to a committee.

An official denial is given of the report that the Emperor and court are leaving Peterhof and returning to Tsarskoe-Selo, owing to the discovery of a revolutionary plot among the palace servants.

Czar Virtually a Prisoner.

Since the revelations that disloyalty had invaded even His Majesty's Own Regiment (the Probrejensky Regiment of the Guards), it is asserted here that nothing would be surprising. Gen. Trepoff, commander of the palace, who is personally charged with protecting the safety of the Emperor's person, has redoubled his precautions. The garrison at Peterhof has been strengthened by a guard of Circassians, and the detachment of Cossacks about the palace has been doubled. The servants at the palace, as heretofore, are the Emperor's faithful Mamelukes and Tartars, some of whom do not speak the Russian language. The Russian servants are confined for the time being to tried lackeys and valets, but among these the terrorists have frequently boasted that they had spies. Newsboys carrying sacks are forbidden to enter the grounds of the old palace, to which the public is admitted, and no one is allowed within the walls surrounding the grounds of the small palace, where the imperial family resides, without a permit.

Bomb Misses Mark.

Warsaw, Russian Poland, June 30.—A bomb was thrown at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the chief of railroad gendarmes. Col. Muradoff, while he was driving through the streets in a cab. The cabman and a gendarme who accompanied Col. Muradoff were severely wounded, the colonel was slightly injured, and the horse attached to the cab was killed. The man who threw the bomb escaped.

Peasants Annex Land.

Nishni Novgorod, Russia, June 30.—The peasants of this province are not only annexing the land of the gentry, but are taking portions of the land of the well-to-do peasants. Property in the vicinity of Samara, valued at about $350,000, has been destroyed by the peasants during the past month.

Two Others Refused.

Moscow, June 30.—Special despatches to The Russky Slavo say that two regiments at Yelisabethgol have refused to fire on strikers.

Found Tied Near River.

Brandon, Man., June 30.—A man named Jack Berry was discovered Thursday night by some men passing, with his hands and feet securely bound lying in the scrub near the river, just east of the Western Canada Flour Mills in this city. Berry had been drinking for several days, and it is thought that his companions led him down to the river and bound him, for the purpose of robbery, as he was known to have money. He can give little information as to his doings.

Two hundred and fifty miles of rubber trees are being planted along the Uganda roads, Africa.

Act Repealed Respecting Annuities

The Government Bows to Canada's Supreme Law.

ABOLISHES THE PENSIONS

Lord's Day Bill Repealed — Quebec Legislature Is to Determine Certain Provisions—Grimsby Park Closed—Provincial Legislation Will Still Be Effective—Several Amendments Passed—Obstruct G.T.P.

Ottawa, June 30.—In the House yesterday Mr. Fielding introduced his bill to repeal the act respecting annuities to certain Privy Councillors. The measure sets forth that the act of last session is repealed from July 1, 1906. In reply to a question for an explanation, Mr. Fielding recalled the fact that near the end of last session a series of financial measures were presented to the House. For all these measures, he thought, reasons more or less forcible could be given. Nevertheless, it must be confessed that the whole of these financial matters, coming forward at that stage of the session, had not been received with any wild enthusiasm by the general public. This particular measure had been the subject of very special criticism, and the Government had come to the conclusion to present to the House a bill repealing what was regarded as an obnoxious measure. The measure was right in principle, and, while it was the present very unpopular, he believed the time would come when it would be received in a different way.

Question of Vested Rights.

Mr. Foster inquired whether the Government had taken into consideration the matter of vested rights, which might have been created under the bill. Certain action might have been taken by the beneficiaries of the act which involved others. Had any provison been made to meet such cases.

Mr. Fielding replied that having regard to the circumstances under which the matter was brought forward, he thought it could not be argued successfully that any vested rights had been created. Although some persons might have regarded the legislation of last year as settling the policy of the country, there was no bargain or contract constituting an arrangement between the beneficiaries and the Government.

Obstructed G. T. P. Branches Bill.

When the third reading of the G. T. P. Branch Lines Co. was moved by Mr. Crawford during the hour allotted to private bills last evening, Mr. Lancaster again renewed his objections to the measure, and moved in amendment the six months' hoist.

Dr. Sproule spoke at length in support of the amendment.

Mr. Turriff said he was glad the Opposition had offered this amendment. It would show the country, particularly the west, where the Conservatives stood with respect to the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific. The amendment was declared lost.

Through Mr. Henderson's amendment and Mr. Lancaster's speech the bill was or private bills standing on the order paper necessarily stood over also.

Lord's Day Bill Reported.

The Lord's Day bill was reported by the House last night, and stands for third reading. This was reached after the bill took on quite a new phase by an amendment which validates future as well as present provincial legislation on a subject which may be within the jurisdiction of the Provincial Legislatures. This obvious concession to the sentiment of the people of Quebec, which was moved by Mr. Piche of Montreal, was welcomed by Mr. Aylesworth as a recognition as well of the old Liberal doctrine of Provincial rights, and, after a lengthy discussion, in which it was seldom criticised, it was adopted unanimously. Just how much this amendment will detract, if any, from the objects of the Lord's Day Alliance is not clear, but it is clear, on the other hand, that it is a concession which goes far toward reconciling those who have been opposing the measure in the House.

The remaining hours of a long, hard day's work in perfecting the bill were marked by several other important changes. One is to limit the classes entitled to an equivalent of twenty-four hours of rest after working on Sunday to the industrial and transportation employes. Another amendment limits work in factories on Sundays, with a view to preventing Sunday becoming a general day for repairs. The hiring of small boats on Sunday will be allowed owing to the shortness of the season. Maple sugar making will be allowed owing to the shortness of the season. Provision is made against interrupting the grain traffic after Sept. 15, while other freight emergency problems may be referred to the Railway Commission. Grimsby Park custom of charging a Sunday admission will be cut off, and the bill will not come into force until March 3, 1907.

Pilotage Act Amendment.

Mr. Brodeur introduced a bill to amend the pilotage act, which, he explained, was designed to compel all steamships coming up the St. Lawrence to take pilots on board at Father Point. He explained that large vessels engaged in the coasting trade did not now take a pilot, the absence of whom sometimes resulted in accidents. The shipping interests had asked for the bill, claiming that the masters of vessels not in charge of pilots, not being well acquainted with the channel, work in the centre, and navigation was rendered more dangerous for other vessels.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, June 30.—To-day's short session has been characterized by much irregularity, with several weak spots. Panes made a new low record, melting down to 135, steel preferred to 99 and Reading to 120 1-2, with C.P.R. weak at 138 and Twin 109 1-4.

Some issues were notably firm, among these being Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Erie and Copper. The bank statement was not as good as expected but had no effect either way. The close was fairly firm. The market seems to be shaping itself for a good rally Monday and Tuesday.

Severe Storm Does Damage

Lawn Torn Up.

Mr. Walter Stocker's lawn in front of his new residence on Homewood avenue, was badly cut up by the heavy rain last night. The water ran down in torrents, making many miniature canyons in the lawn which will necessitate considerable work to have repaired.

Sewer Fell In.

The sewer, which is under construction on Homewood avenue, fell in last night. The pipes have not yet been laid, so that the work will have to be repeated.

The trench is filled up with slimy mud and stones, which will be difficult propositions to remove.

C.G.E. Transformer Burned.

At the Canadian General last night during the terrible electric storm, the lightning passed through the big building in blue streaks. Three transformers caught fire in the sub-station, but these could have easily been extinguished if the power could have been cut off at Nassau power house. Telephone communication with Nassau was cut off, so that the electric juice still flowed and the fire still burned. Considerable damage might have been done but for the prompt and brave action of Mr. Harry Roddy, who ran from home when he discovered the fire. Mr. Roddy jumped through the window into the sub-station while the power was on and pulled out the switch connecting the line to Nassau, and in stopping the short circuit eliminated the fire.

BAND CONCERT STORM-STAYED

The weekly band concert of the 57th in Victoria Park, had all the elements of a splendid musical treat, but the other elements broke in most inopportunely. The programme prepared was one of the best, and best worked up ever offered by the band, and the slope of the park was crowded with an immense mass of people. The band performed five or six of the dozen numbers scheduled, but the threatening weather made the people restless, and they were continually going and coming. Fortunately the splendid number, "Reminiscences of Balfe," was given and with splendid effect, before the storm broke. Then the people fled, and the rain poured down, compelling the band to remain to finish their programme to the thunderous applause of Jupiter Tonans, who was the only auditor. It is unfortunate that the splendid musical treat provided by the band was spoiled by the storm.

PETERBORO' MEN IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

The following article, clipped from the Cranbrook Herald, may be of interest to Peterborough people:

"McKinstry & Co., have sold their livery, feed and dray stable, at Marysville, to Messrs. Wm. J. Allen and Evans T. Crowley, formerly of Peterborough, Ont. Mr. Crowley will take over the management of the business and will endeavour to meet the demands and wishes of the public with all possible attention. Rigs and drivers supplied, saddle horses furnished; packing to all parts of St. Mary's valley. They will also conduct a feed and dray stable. The new firm will put boats on St. Mary's Lake and have them for pleasure and fishing parties."

Many Pleasant Ways To Spend The Holiday

The Usual Dominion Attractions Inside and Away From the City—Excursions to the Lakes—T. A. S. Picnic a New Feature—Baseball in the City—Many Citizens Will Travel.

Dominion Day, unless there is a celebration at home always sees one of the biggest exoduses from the city of the whole year; second only to Civic Holiday. This year the holiday will be celebrated on Monday, and, judging by the means provided for spending the day there will be no excuse for one who does not pass it pleasantly. There are the usual excursions out of the city, and the prospects are that the railways will experience almost, if not quite, a record Dominion Day business. The rush from the city has already commenced, and this morning all the trains leaving the city were crowded, extra coaches having to be added to them to carry the crowds who were taking advantage of the cheap rates to visit friends in other places. Both railways gave single rates for round trip tickets, good to return until Tuesday night.

There is only one purely city attraction for Monday—a baseball game between the Lindsay Redskins, Peterborough's old time opponents and a picked Peterborough team. This will be played at Riverside Park, and should attract a good crowd. It will, no doubt be well worth seeing.

For those who do not wish to go too far away from home, and who still feel that they would like to get out of the city, the T.A.S. picnic should appeal to them as an ideal outing. It will be held at T.A.S. Park, a beautiful natural park on the banks of the Otonabee, and the steamer will make frequent trips, carrying passengers for a small price. They may return at almost any hour of the day, and the committee promises that while they are there there will be plenty to entertain the visitors.

There will be the usual excursions to Stony Lake. The annual excursion under the auspices of the Asburn Sunday School will take place as usual, with the usual promise of a good crowd. The excursion of St. Luke's Bible Class is always well attended, and there is no reason to believe that this will not be the case this year. This outing will also be to Stony Lake.

Rev. Father Phelan's picnic, at Lakefield this year gives promise of being greater than usual. Extensive preparations have been made by an energetic committee and a splendid programme has been prepared and will be presented. The sports will be of an especially interesting character, one of the principal events being a football match between the old rivals, the Quakers and Bridgenorth. There will also be a number of good speakers present.

In Campbellford there will be the biggest celebration that burg has ever seen. A double programme is on the deck for that day, for not only will Campbellford doff the swaddling clothes of a village and rise to the status of a town, but in honour of that event a great reunion of the Old Boys will be held. A programme, including almost everything imaginable will be given, and it is certain that a large number from this city will attend. There are many Campbellford Old Boys in Peterborough, while many others have relatives or friends in that town, and it is quite probable that the trains going in that direction on Monday will be crowded. In anticipation of a big crowd, the G.T.R. has arranged for a special train to leave Campbellford on Monday night at 11 o'clock, and going as far as Lindsay. The Port Hope annual races and other sports will also attract a number of persons from Peterborough.

Jackson Park, the city's summer resort, will no doubt be a popular place on Monday. All the attractions will be running on full force that day, and it will be a nice place to go and spend the afternoon and evening. With such an array of places to go and things to do there will be no excuse for anyone to pass a dull day on Monday.

Mrs. Greenslade's Pupils Gave Piano Recital

An Enjoyable Musical Event at Mrs. Greenslade's Studio Last Evening—The Young Musicians Displayed Much Proficiency.

Agreement Submitted To Telephone Company To-day

Committee of the Whole in Session Last Night—Time Limit to be Fifteen Years—City to Have Benefit of Future Legislation in Parliament.

The momentous question—the conditions under which the Bell Telephone Company place their wires underground—was the subject of a lengthy discussion at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council last night.

The Company's local representative, Mr. Doan, had written the City Solicitor requesting that the council submit an agreement to the Bell people before 12 o'clock to-day. The Solicitor was therefore requested to draw up an agreement making a time limit for the Company to retain privileges granted them now.

There were present Mayor Best, Ald. Hicks, Graham, Wilson, Johnston, Adams, Elliott, McIntyre, Ball, McWilliams, Mason and the City Solicitor.

Mayor Best pointed out that the object of the meeting was to consider the Bell Telephone Company's proposition. The City Solicitor was instructed to reply to the Company's letter read on Monday night regarding the conduits on George street and received the following reply:—

E. H. D. Hall, City Solicitor,
Peterborough:

Dear Sir,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter without their permission and would respectfully request (as we have already been put to considerable trouble and expense by the Council's delay in handling this work, and we have now about completed arrangements to start it again) that if the council have an agreement they wish the Bell Telephone Company to sign, they present it to the office here not later than Saturday noon, 30th inst., for our Company's consideration.

Yours truly,
F. W. DOAN.

The Mayor explained the point was that the City might want to put in a large public conduit for all wires in the future and would then have to request the Bell Telephone Company to use this, so that a time limit was necessary.

Ald Hicks suggested that an agreement be drawn with a time limit and then if the Company wished, let them put in the conduits under protest.

All Elliott suggested that the matter be left over till the Dominion Government had settled the question under their consideration.

After considerable discussion by different members of the council it was moved by Ald. Hicks and Adams that the City Solicitor be instructed to draw an agreement to be submitted to the Bell Telephone Company with a time limit of 15 years and also to give the city the benefit of any legislation which may in future be passed by the Dominion Parliament.—Carried.

SHIP CARRIAGES TO PORT ARTHUR

Our enterprising carriage firm, Messrs. Geo. Fitzgerald & Co., shipped another of his favourite express rigs to Messrs. Wells & Emerson, Port Arthur. The local firm has done quite a trade with Port Arthur in this line since they sent the first rig to Wells & Emerson, the first year they started business there. Orders for sulky trucks and express waggons have been quite frequent.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

WHAT HERPICIDE DOES

Newbros' Herpicide destroys the tiny vegetable growth in the scalp that causes dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair and baldness. Once the microbic enemy of the hair is destroyed, and kept out of the scalp, the hair is bound to grow as nature intended, except in cases of chronic baldness.

WHAT SUNLIGHT DOES

Sunlight is nature's great germ destroyer and prophylactic. The effect of sunlight upon the scalp proves highly beneficial, if a complete plan of scalp cleanliness is carried out. This cannot be done without the use of Herpicide, which prevents reinfection and keeps the scalp pure and wholesome.

More Men and Women have gotten positive results from the use of Newbro's Herpicide than from all other hair remedies combined.

HOT WEATHER TROUBLES

The perspiration that exudes in increased quantities during the summer months carries out poisonous and refuse matter that would otherwise clog up the pores of the scalp.

Incomplete elimination of this waste produces a hot and feverish condition of the sweat glands known as Prickly Heat for which Herpicide gives immediate relief. Herpicide stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Col. Thomp Burton, Member of the Board of Managers of the Ohio Penitentiary, writes as follows of Newbro's Herpicide:—

"As to Herpicide I find it an excellent hair dressing as well as being the first and only absolute dandruff cure I have found. Upon my advice a number of my friends are using Herpicide, and the unanimous verdict is, that Herpicide is, in all respects, everything that its manufacturers claim for it.

How Many Million Are There in a Billion?

Editor of the Examiner:

Re your decision as to what constitutes a billion, permit me to say that you are wrong. Both the Imperial and the Century dictionaries say that a billion is a million millions. I would also refer you to an article in "The Scrap Book" for July, page 850. B wins the bet, not A as you state.

Got Three Months For Being Drunk

Other Cases at the Police Court To-day.

Andrew Fawcett was gathered in by the police last night. He was this morning charged with being drunk in a public place. He was found guilty and sentenced to three months in the County Jail.

A vagrant, faced His Worship, but pleaded not guilty, and was remanded for eight days.

A couple of family quarrels were ventilated in the court, one woman charging her neighbour with assault, while a young son of the latter woman had to face a charge of having kicked the first woman's son. His Worship gave them both a few words of advice, and dismissed both charges.

School Picnic At Jackson Park

Charlotte Street School Spend Very Enjoyable Afterdoon.

Yesterday was an ideal day for an outing of any description, and the Charlotte street Sunday School spent a most enjoyable time at Jackson Park, the occasion being their annual picnic. There was an unusually large turnout of the school and the parents of the children. After having assembled at the school room, the scholars were taken for a round trip on the street cars which had been specially engaged for the occasion, and the Park was reached shortly after 3 o'clock.

The afternoon was spent in races and games of almost every description and the usual attractions of the park proved very entertaining also. Children entered heartily in the spirit of the occasion and every minute of the time was greatly enjoyed. Tea was served at 6 o'clock and about 8 o'clock special cars were in readiness to convey the picnicers back to the city. To all present the day was very enjoyable and the picnic was pronounced one of the most successful in the history of the school.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Manning and family were present and the opportunity of meeting their new pastor was taken advantage of by the school.

24th Battery At Cobourg Camp

very lucky and only a few scratches were received.

Col. Fages, who inspects the Artillery, was greatly pleased with the 24th, and after his inspection remarked to Major Young, in the hearing of the men, that he had a fine crowd of fellows and they were a credit to the service.

The 24th returned on a special train travelling with the 16th of Campbellford, and went to the drill hall, where the saddlery and harness were turned in. Only one gun and some carriages were brought back, three guns having been shipped direct from Cobourg to Pettawawa, where in the fall the Battery will spend four days practising firing.

One noticable feature of the camp was the fact that the conduct of the men of the 24th and 11th was above reproach. They behaved themselves well, and the Commanding Officer is very proud of them. The officers of the Battery who attended camp were Major T. H. Young, Commanding Officer; Lieut. G. Hall, Lieut. R. H. Leary, and Dr. Blanchard, Veterinary officer.

Next year Major Young expects to have even a better regiment than he has at the present time.

Resurrection Of A Soul By A Surgeon's Knife

Details of the Remarkable Case of Bad Philadelphia Boy Made Good by Surgery—What is Likely to Result From the Experiment.

Examiner Special.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 30.—"It is ordered that Jacob Haddiman, the prisoner at the bar, be taken forthwith to St. Luke's Hospital by his mother and an officer of this court, and that the surgeons properly in attendance at that institution perform such operation on the said Jacob Hiddiman as will be necessary, in their judgment, to remove any and all such pressure on his brain as may be caused by adenoids or other secretions, and that the said Jacob Haddiman be detained in St. Luke's Hospital subject to the orders of court."

In so many words Judge Norris S. Barratt, of this city, gave judicial indorsement to the theory of Edward Dunlap, a convict, who offered his body and brain to establish the fact that crime is an evidence of disease or malformation.

Judge Julian Mark, of Chicago, and Judge Herald Salomon, of Stockholm, Sweden, were sitting on the bench with Judge Barratt in the juvenile court here when this unprecedented order was handed down, and both concurred in the thought that too many boys are sent to prisons who should be cared for in clinics.

Wicked Boy Becomes Lovable.

In Pennsylvania a judge may send boys to any one of several reformatories or to an asylum. Since he has made a special study of juvenile crime, Judge Barratt has committed several boys to the State hospital for the insane in Norristown, where, under competent medical and surgical treatment, wonders have been worked with incorrigibles.

Dr. Ernest La Place trephined the skull of Sturgeon Welty, and a very wicked boy became a lovable and capable little chap. Dr. Desiderio Roman, who accompanied Lieut. Peary in his hunt for the north pole, did the same for Jacob Haddiman in St. Luke's Hospital, and the boy, who was a daring and persistent thief, shows marked and increasing signs of moral regeneration. In the case of Jacob Haddiman, who, it was discovered, had a fractured skull, the result amounts to the resurrection of a soul.

Who, then, shall now insist that all criminals are merely vicious, and that none is diseased and malformed? The proposition advanced by Edward Dunlap, burglar, really seems to be close to proof.

The Theory of a Convict.

Hear Dunlap, who, when willing his brain to science, wrote, with the hand of death on him:—"I am, and have been all my life a criminal. Why?

"Was I born too late? Should I have lived in the days of the great adventurers—Drake and Cortes and all other gilligers and conquerors and heroic thieves who could trace their lineage back further than Jason, who quested for the Golden Fleece?

"Was I born too early — before the days of high finance and the unbearable thieves of this decade?

"Or was it because of some subtle quirk in my brain, some cerebral formation, some little grouping of the brain cells, that I, who should have been an honest man, an artist, a poet, perhaps, became a burglar? May it not be that a spicule of bone presses in a convolution of my brain and, so doing, perverts my whole nature?

"I do not know, and I have thought hard and long on the causes. But this, although I do not know, is what I am inclined to think: Real crime is a disease, or rather crime is the symptom of a subtle disease of brain and nerve, just as a rash is in some cases a symptom of a fever. All those who are criminals—and in this list I place the ancient conquerors, the gentleman adventurers, the burglar, the counterfeiter, the swindler, the priest of high finance, all of the under world, and all, too, of the upper world who are tinged with the evil—all those who are criminals I say have this disease.

"Crime is Contagious."

"It may be that the disease that germinates crime and criminals springs from a bacillus. There are many reasons for believing it is so. I have seen the criminal taint communicated in the most curious ways, hardly credible. I have seen criminal phenomena that paralleled the contagion of slow fevers, the stride of quick, destructive disease.

"Certainly crime is contagious. I have seen honest, law-abiding men tainted within a fortnight to criminals. I have seen others in whom the course of the inoculation was slower.

"Is there a subtle bacillus of evil, a germ of crime, that causes the ferment of the under world? I do not know. Perhaps my brain will tell. I have left it for the men of science to ponder over, to dissect, to examine microscopically. Perhaps they can find the germ of crime. So I, who all my life was the enemy of society, may by my death become its benefactor.

"Instead of prisons I would have scientific fair (fair treatment also implied). I would have the finest specialists for them. I would have the cause of criminality dealt with logically. Of course the criminal should be segregated, but the disease should be eradicated. The treatment of the criminal of to-day is paralleled by the treatment of the insane during the middle ages, and, in fact, as short a time ago as the eighteenth century. Crime is a disease to be corrected by surgery or by medicine, and some day a judge will come who will be big enough and brave enough to say so and act accordingly."

Scientists Studying Seriously.

Dunlap, to have his theory proved or disproved, willed his brain to the Wistar Institute of Anatomy and his body to Dr. John Chalmers Da Costa of Jefferson Medical College. The theory first advanced by Dunlap is now the subject of serious scientific study in both institutions of learning, and great results, beneficial to society, are expected.

When discussing his radical departure from all precedent and procedure Judge Barratt said:

"No court would knowingly send a lunatic to the gallows. No court should knowingly send a deficient to prison.

"To-day we have neurologists who can point out with almost unerring accuracy the defects of the subject to their examination.

"It is a common practice to call in alienists to advise the court as to the mental condition of persons accused of murder, and I see no reason why such advice should not be sought in the cases of other offenders who face long terms in prison.

"I see no signs of either crime of disease in boys who break windows, throw snowballs, play hookey when baseballs are ripe, or try high dives as soon as the ice is out of the river, but I do see evidence of both crime and disease in habitual liars, persistent thieves, and in all those guilty of offenses. Such offenders should be kept under restraint in properly equipped hospitals until the attending surgeons and neurologists can advise the courts as to whether or not operative surgery or continued medical treatment will serve any good purpose. At present our prisons are not fitted up for such work, but our state hospitals for the insane are, and it is my intention to commit hopeful cases to these hospitals until such time as penologists and legislators find means to provide the necessary hospital equipment at our established penal institutions."

Amazing Conduct of Two Yankees In Game Of Baseball In England

Rather Coarse Fellows and Their Language Was Remarkable—Almost Impossible to Understand, Y'Know, Their Strange Technical Terms—Would Knock "Block" Off—Strange Part of it Was There Was No "Block" Visible and No Box or Glass Arms.

Investigation fails to give any reason for the strange actions and intemperate language of two American players who had been especially engaged for the recent game of baseball between the Woolwich Arsenal and the Nondescript teams, which opened the season in England, says a London correspondent to the New York Herald.

They have sought passage for the United States, and they say that the mention of the recent contest is repugnant to them. The game, none the less, was rather interesting as showing what our English cricketers can do when they take up a sport practically unknown to them and apply to it the same deliberate and painstaking care, which is my characteristic of the British.

The two Yankee catchers, both of whom, it has since been learned, had been disciplined in the States for insulting umpires and judges on account of disagreements about points of the game, were retained because none of our native players would easy to catch such balls as the batsman might either purposely or unwittingly permit to pass him. The American players, however, covering their faces with what closely resembled bird cages, and padding their persons with air cushions, did not hesitate to make of themselves human wickets, to the great astonishment of the select assemblage which occupied the pavilion.

The Americans were Mr. Slants Rafferty, who was temporarily retained by the Woolwich team, and Mr. Bat Saunders, who officiated in a similar capacity for the Nondescripts. The speech of these persons during the progress of the game was so technical that our reporter, although he had been accustomed to taking the proceedings of Parliament, was nearly a week in transcribing his notes. Mr. Slants Rafferty, however, consented to revise the observations made by him and his associates, which enables us to present to our readers all that is necessary in order to enable them to form an opinion of what transpired.

The Woolwich team was first at the bat, or, in other words, it was first to play. The conduct of the American catchers was peculiar from the start. The pitcher for Woolwich was Mr. Thomas Squires, one of our most accomplished bowlers, yet his methods were so unsatisfactory to the Americans that he was almost immediately the subject of harsh criticism.

Strange Terms.

"Aw, wot ever's the matter with youse?" inquired Rafferty. "Aw, come off!" "Afraid of breaking that glass arm!" "For th' love of baseball, git a move on!" "Put it over the plate!" "Get a boiree!" "Do youse take me for a boird?" "I ain't no balloon, mother!" "Get some speed in yere delivery!" "You do dat again 'n I'll knock yer block off, understand!" "For th' love of the game, you wall-eyed, handy-legged ice-wagon, warm up!" "Well you look at that, you muscle-bound, rain-faced galoot!"

"There it goes! There it goes! He pasted it for a home run. Hope youse are satisfied!" "Ain't there no morgue near here?" "Where'd you git these dead ones, then?" "Gee! the lobster is cutting 'cross the diamond from first to thoird."

Mr. Bat. Saunders meanwhile was acting as coach for the Nondescripts, and his conduct was so nervous and his speech so hysterical that his fellow-players were often embarrassed by the unnecessary emphasis of his remarks. One of the Nondescripts, with commendable adroitness, knocked a ball back of him and entirely out of the field. He immediately began to score in the most agile manner, running completely around the so-called bases some 50 times. No special effort was made by the American player to find the ball and to stop this disastrous scoring. Saunders stood near a bench roaring violent language until many of the women guests felt constrained to leave the enclosure.

"Will you look at that goin' around the diamon' on a foul tip knocked over the gran' stan'!" "Say, you keep a-runnin', pink shoirt, and when you get through hang over de fence to dry. Say, Slants, if Mugsy McGraw wuz here he would faint!" Carrying the stick wid him, at that, and giving the bases little dinky pats wid it without putting hoof on the bag. Oh, my heart!"

Some negotiations followed, and owing to a technicality, on which the two Americans, although on opposing sides, agreed, the apparently phenomenal score made by the player was disregarded. As the game proceeded, both of the Americans manifested a constantly growing spirit of captiousness.

Spit on Their Hands.

It was also noticed that they displayed a reckless disregard for the properties of dress and deportment, moistening their hands in an unconventional manner and rubbing them in the earth. They brushed the resulting muddy mixture on their trousers. Rafferty flew into paroxysms of rage when one of the players neglected to prostrate himself on the earth and to crowd to the base in order to gain some slight advantage.

"It's a wonder you wouldn't slide, you acid-faced, glass-eyed, putty-headed excuse! I'm a mind to knock the block of youse! You can't think of muddying your trousers, bah jove, you can't! Say, you ought to be playing ping-pong. You guy with the butter mitts, you couldn't catch cold if youse broke through the ice. Say, youse there, gaste her out, beat her out, slug it! Soak 'em, oh! Well you look at that guy, after making a home run, coming back to first and stabbing the home plate with his dinky bat! dod youse forget something? Taut you could score with alsemande. This ain't cricket, it's baseball!"

Although relations between the British and American players became constantly more strained, the final break did not occur until what is technically known as the last half of the ninth inning. The score was 72 to 72, as near as could be ascertained, although the computer has forgotten a few runs. The Nondescripts were batting. When Mr. Saunders' turn came the Nondescripts had three men at the three stations, or bases, as they are vulgarly denominated. Saunders ceased his manifestations of petulance and approached his task with enthusias

"Watch me kill it!" he announced. Whereupon Lidy Muggles very properly shrieked. "Watch me 'knock him outen de box!" which was a manifest impossibility, for there was no box. "Just you watch me while I tear de cover off dis ball. Are you ready there? Play ball!"

Game Called for Tea.

What Mr. Saunders would have done had the opportunity arisen it is difficult to say, although it is said that he is a most effective batsman. Unfortunately, however, tea was announced, and he did not have his coveted chance. He complained that it would not be dark for an hour, and demanded why the game had been called. In fact, he became so violent in his ravings that Mr. Justice Smunk, who was present, very properly threatened to summons him.

The company and the players, however, went promptly to tea, and the occasion was an enjoyable one in spite of the remarkable contention of Mr. Saunders that the whole assemblage should remain to see him bat, even after tea had been announced.

It is to be hoped that at some future time the question of the supremacy of the rival teams will be determined. In the opinion of experts, however, the playing of baseball with mixed teams of Englishmen and Americans is far from satisfactory.

The Fatality Of Indigestion

WHICH ALMOST INVARIABLY ARISES FROM LIVER AND KIDNEY DISORDERS.

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

From insurance records it has been found that about 35 per cent. of the deaths of policy holders was attributed to diseases of the digestive organs.

To persons who have been accustomed to think lightly of indigestion, biliousness and liver derangements this statement will be rather startling but it cannot be refuted.

To a large extent the liver controls the digestive organs by supplying the bile to insure the prompt passage of the food along the intestines where the difficult part of digestion takes place.

Because of their immediate and direct influence on the liver, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills insure a good flow of bile, and by so doing positively overcome constipation and intestinal indigestion.

Wind on the stomach, rising of sour taste in the mouth, smothering sensations in the chest, pains about the heart, headaches and dizziness, drowsiness and discomfort after meals and sluggish inaction of the liver, kidneys and bowels, are the symptoms of this serious and dangerous form of indigestion.

Mr. R. Beach, 225 Sherbrooke street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—"About two years ago I became subject to cramps, which were caused I was told from acute indigestion. I was so bad that I would be laid up for weeks at a time. These attacks came on periodically and distressed me greatly.

"I then began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and have found them a wonderful medicine. They have entirely prevented a recurrence of my trouble, corrected the derangement of my digestive organs and made me feel like a different person.

Mr. A. VanEvery, grocer, Napanee, Lennox county, Ont., writes: "Having used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I can positively say that they are the best pills that I ever took. We always keep them in the house as a family medicine and have used them on several occasions with excellent results. They certainly do all that they are advertised to do."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will promptly overcome these symptoms. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Ask Him Any Question You Like About Your Eyes

And he will answer you intelligently and to your entire satisfaction.

As one man said in speaking about the campaign of optical education which we are carrying on:

"It is a pleasure to meet and talk with a man who seems to understand the eye, and will tell us truthfully the true condition"

Such is a fact. Dr. Montgomery is here to help the people by giving them good vision, and by relieving their eye troubles.

He is here to teach us the new way of diagnosing errors of sight. He is here to help you if you are an eyesight sufferer.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Stock Reduction Sale

The Greatest and Most Modern of all Sales

THE GREATEST AND MOST WELCOME OF ALL SALES, OUR CLEARING AND STOCK-REDUCTION SALE

will be inaugurated on FRIDAY, July 6th, and will be continued for the balance of the month of July. Our importations for Fall of British and Foreign Merchandise, as well as orders placed in the home markets, are larger than ever before, and in spite of the fact that our store has been recently enlarged and remodelled, we still find it necessary to greatly reduce immense stock to make room for our Fall Goods. Deep cuts will be made in every Department to accomplish our object.

Probably the Most Sweeping Reductions WILL BE MADE IN

Wash Dress Goods, Dress Goods and Trimmings, Waists, Suits and Skirts, Ladies' Coats and Suits, Dress Skirts, etc., etc.

White Underwear, Summer Millinery, Summer Underwear and Hosiery, Sheeting, Shirting, Towelling, Table Linens, Cloths and Napkins, Curtains and Drapery Materials, Carpets, Oilcloths and Linoleums.

The public know well the high grade of merchandise carried by this firm. No cheap, trashy stuff, but every article in the store the best that can be had for the money, and worth more to-day than the regular marked price, and come and see the Reductions. If you have ever attended one of our Stock Reduction Sales you will remember many sweet morsels, and this year can promise you better than ever.

Extra Sales People have been engaged for this Sale, and prompt attention to your wants will be a feature.

A Veritable Deluge of Bargains All Through the Store

Robt. Fair & Co

Any Dress Goods purchased during this Sale will be made up in our own work rooms at REDUCED PRICES.

Suppose you do like the tea you are using. How do you know it is the best tea you can get for the money?

MANY were satisfied with the tea they were using before they tried Red Rose Tea.

When they tried Red Rose Tea they found it had that "rich fruity flavor," found it was strong—that it requires less to make a cup of good tea than the brand of Ceylon alone they had been using.

Now, why not be sure you are getting the best tea to be had.

You cannot be sure till you try Red Rose Tea.

LORD STRATHCONA IN CHAIR

One of the Two Surviving Fathers of Confederation, Sir Charles Tupper, Present—Ideas That Draw Dominion Closer Within the Empire Expressed by the Speaker—An Enthusiastic Function.

London, July 3.—(C. A. P.)—Over 350 sat down at the Dominion Day banquet at the Hotel Cecil. Lord Strathcona was in the chair and among the numerous company present were the Bishop of Ripon, the Earl of Derby, Sir Chas. Tupper, Dr. Parkin, G. W. Cockburn and Sir Thomas Barlow.

Lord Strathcona on rising to propose the toast to the King received great applause. N. A. Belcourt, M. P., proposed the toast to the Queen and the rest of the royal family.

The Earl of Jersey proposed the Imperial Forces. He said Canada had set an example the Empire should follow.

Admiral Hopkins responding to same toast said when addressing Canadians he was not addressing strangers. He referred to the C. P. R. steamers having beaten the Cunard steamers.

Of Canada's Best.

Lord Strathcona in proposing the Dominion of Canada referred to Sir Charles Tupper as one of Canada's best and greatest men. Lord Strathcona said Canadians at Bisley and Henley and the Chambers of Commerce and medical associations visit to Canada would draw the Dominion closer to the Empire.

Lord Elgin, responding, claimed the right to share the affection Canadians had for their country, as he was a Canadian born. He congratulated Sir Charles Tupper as the day was his birthday. Referring to the freedom of the British citizen, Lord Elgin said there was no better example to-day than the French-Canadian.

Colin Campbell, Attorney-General of Manitoba, proposed "Our Guests."

The Bishop of Ripon and the Lord Mayor of London responded.

A very large number of those at the banquet afterwards journeyed westward to the Imperial Institute, to Lord Strathcona's at home.

Praise For Canada.

London, July 3.—(C. A. P.)—All the evening papers observe Dominion Day with editorials praising Canada's development, and noting her prosperity materially and morally. They comment on the growth of the imperial sentiment, and predict Canada's unlimitable future.

Canada's 20th Century Birthday.

London, July 3.—(C. A. P.)—Of Canada's birthday The Times says:

"Never have the auspices for Canada's future been fairer than to-day; never have the patriotic faith and confident assurance of Sir John A. Macdonald and his fellow-workers found more triumphant vindication. The long, disheartening winter of neglect at last is breaking up and to-day Canada bids fair to justify the proud boast that the twentieth century will belong to her."

The Times also points out the growth of imperial sentiment in Canada.

Canadian Pavilion at Milan.

London, July 3.—(C. A. P.)—The Canadian pavilion at the Milan exhibition was inaugurated on Dominion Day in the presence of local authorities, Canadian delegates and invited guests. Toasts were exchanged at the luncheon.

Tupper's Birthday.

London, July 3.—Yesterday was the eighty-fifth birthday of Sir Charles Tupper. In an interview with The News, he said, as compared with the conditions in his youth, the present development of Canada was enormous.

IN THE DOMINION.

In Toronto the stellar attraction of Dominion Day this year was the Horse Parade, in which there were over 700 turnouts, and 30,000 spectators in Queen's Park alone. Thousands left the city by rail and boat to spend the day elsewhere. A royal salute of 21 guns was fired by the field battery at noon In Brantford a military celebration was participated in by the 57th Regiment and band of Peterboro'. At Ottawa the 7th Fusiliers of London trooped the colour in the presence of 3,000 spectators. Petrolia had a callithumpian parade and a display of fireworks. At Hespeler her old boys from many places had a grand program of sports. In Old Quebec there was a parade of the 41st Regiment of Brockville and a salute from the citadel of 21 guns.

Toronto, July 30.—Mayor Daville of Aurora is the new sheriff for York County, in succession to the late Dr. J. H. Widdifield. Premier Whitney gave definite announcement of the appointment yesterday afternoon. Francis Turner Daville is a native of Welland County, having been born in the little Village of Middlefort sixty years ago. Going to Aurora 27 years ago he established in a small way the Daville Tannery, which has since grown to large proportions and is still under Mr. Daville's management.

Bookies Go Up For Trial.

Toronto, June 30.—The following "hand book" operators were formally committed for trial yesterday by Magistrate Kingsford, while the cases against the frequenters were adjourned for a week: Richard Jackes, Fred Vose, Samuel Clapp, Frank Beer, Herbert Frankland, Frederick Allison, John Allison, and William Allison.

Saskatchewan Educational Council.

Regina, June 30.—The appointment of the following educational council is announced: William Grayson, Moose Jaw; T. H. McGuire, Prince Albert, both for two years, and A. H. Smith, Moosomin; W. H. Sparling, Battleford, and D. Gillies, St. Andrews, for three years.

Great Theologian Dead.

San Anselmo, Cal., June 30.—The Rev. William Alexander, D.D., LL.D professor of church history in the Presbyterian Theological Seminary died at his home here yesterday.

Death Record For Three Days In Dominion

Many Hamilton Homes Stricken In That Short Period.

FATAL RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

Toronto Lady Killed—Charlie Scott, After a Quarrel With His Sweetheart Shoots Himself—Frank Wright of Toronto Drowned at Hamilton—O'Neill Found Dead in Bed by His Wife—Was Asphyxiated.

Hamilton, July 3.—Four suicides, one accidental drowning, a fatal runaway accident, and many minor mishaps is the grim record of the last three days in Hamilton. Early yesterday morning O'Neil, 210 Market street, was found dead in bed by his wife. The gas jet in his room had been turned on and he was asphyxiated. Coroner Baugh will try to discover whether he turned on the jet himself, either by accident or design or whether it was turned on by somebody else.

Fatal Runaway.

Yesterday afternoon a horse attached to a rig containing Mrs. Elizabeth Daniels, Toronto; Mrs. Sarah Ann Daniels, West Avenue and Young street, and her son, Frank, ran away on Red Hill near Stony Creek. Mrs. Daniels, of Toronto, had one leg broken and was injured so badly internally that she died a short time after reaching the city hospital. Mrs. Daniels of Hamilton had one arm torn right off at the shoulder and one leg broken. Her son was also badly injured.

Disappointed in Love.

Charlie Scott, a youth of nineteen, had been keeping company with Miss Amelia Crockett, and his friends claim that they were engaged but that the engagement had been broken off in favor of another suitor last Saturday. Last evening about 9 o'clock the disappointed lover stood in front of the home of the girl, placed a revolver at his right ear and pulled the trigger. The girl's father heard the shot and ran out to find Scott lying on the roadside. He was apparently dead, but later he showed signs of life. He was hurried to St. Joseph's hospital where the doctors have little hope of success.

Other Deaths.

Miss Harris, 355 East Barton street, dressed herself in her brother's clothes and threw herself into the lake on Friday, it is supposed on account of disappointment in a love affair.

Monday morning the body of John McKellar, 11 East Barton street, was found near the Turbine Steamship Co.'s wharf at the foot of John street. He had wandered away from his home last Thursday. He was 74 years of age, and had suffered two paralytic strokes lately. A widow and nine children survive him.

Frank Wright, a youth, whose home is on Sumach street, Toronto, was drowned off the Turbinia wharf Monday evening. He had been employed as a waiter on the Turbinia, and got into a rowboat in the dock with three fellow-waiters. They started rocking the boat, and succeeded in capsizing it. All could swim but Wright, who sank in 25 feet of water, and was drowned.

Choked Under Wheel.

Dunnchurch, July 3.—While teaming on the James Bay Railway, about thirty-three miles from Parry Sound, Jas. McEwen was thrown from his wagon; his neck caught between the wheel and a stone, choking him to death.

Boy Killed on Track.

London, July 3.—Harold Wren, ten-year-old son of John Wren, this city, was struck and killed by a G. T. R. flyer last night while attempting with two other lads to cross ahead of the train. He was thrown to one side of the track with both legs and an arm broken, and jaw and skull fractured. He was taken to the hospital and died a few hours afterward.

Rope Around Neck, Jumps Bridge.

Lethbridge, Alta., July 3.—W. B. Nicholson, up till a short time ago an engineer on the C. N. R., but who recently resigned his position, committed suicide by attaching a rope round his neck and jumping from a bridge into the Vermillion River. He leaves a widow and two children. He came from Chapleau, Ont., to Dauphin, about two years ago.

Three Girls Drowned.

Brockville, July 3.—While bathing at Star Lake three young ladies, Misses Jennie and Alice Burgess and Katie Love were drowned.

There are 4,000 men who assist daily at the toilet of the Parisian streets.

The total mileage of the canals in Great Britain and Ireland is 3,836 miles.

In Russian Douma Call Gen. Pavloff "Murderer" and Drive Him From the Tribune in the House.

St. Petersburg, July 3.—The afternoon sitting of the Lower House of Parliament yesterday, which was devoted to the discussion of the law providing for the abolition of the death penalty, broke up in utter disorder, when Gen. Pavloff, the military procurator, attempted to address the House in behalf of War Minister Ruiger. His appearance in the tribune was the signal for outburst of cries of "Murderer!" "Assassin!" "Organizer of Jewish massacres!" etc., from the members of the Group of Toil, in which the entire left joined. They pounded their desks, shouted, whistled and resorted to every violent means of showing their displeasure.

Gen. Pavloff after listening to the storm for several minutes turned to President Mouromtseff, bowed and left the tribune. Mouromtseff, who appeared to be thoroughly angered at the demonstration, endeavored to quell it with his voice and the violent ringing of his bell, but abandoned his fruitless task and left the chair, signifying that the session was adjourned.

Premier Goremykin was summoned to Peterhof yesterday afternoon, presumably in connection with the reorganization of the Cabinet.

Two Policemen Shot.

Warsaw, July 3.—Though recent rumors to the effect that the terrorists were organizing a general slaughter of the police were partially corroborated yesterday when two policemen were shot dead and three were mortally wounded simultaneously.

Find Infant's Body Dead.

Chesley, July 3.—The body of a dead female child was found on the railway track Sunday. An inquest is being held. Everything points to some person going north on the train Saturday night having pour carbolic acid in the infant's mouth and throwing it off the train. The infant was about four weeks old, and was neatly dressed in factory linen clothes, and was apparently well nourished.

Hobbs Remanded.

New York, July 3.—David Hobbs, the former customs inspector, employed by the Canadian Pacific Railway, arrested here as a fugitive from justice on a charge of perjury, was formally arraigned yesterday before United States Commissioner Alexander and remanded to the Tombs prison, pending the arrival of extradition papers from the Secretary of State.

Chamberlain's Policy.

London, July 3.—(C. A. P.)—Joseph Chamberlain at Sandon Heath, repeated his desire to treat the friends in the colonies better than foreigners, and concluded by saying: "My policy for this country is fair trade; my policy for the Empire is each for all and all for each."

CHILDREN'S TRIBUTES.

Memorial Service to Alex. Muir in School He Long Taught.

Toronto, June 30.—The funeral of the late Alexander Muir will be held to-day at 2 o'clock.

At 11 a.m. the remains will be taken to Chalmers Presbyterian Church, where they will lie in state, and the public will be permitted to view until 2 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by the pastor, Rev. H. A. MacPherson, after which the funeral will proceed to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

The closing exercises for the June term in Gladstone avenue School yesterday were conducted as a memorial service. To be present and have heard "The Maple Leaf Forever" swelling up from the voices of 400 children who knew and loved the departed teacher, and to have observed with what strained decorum and deferential awe the children dispersed at the close of the service have left an impression not soon to be forgotten. Mr. Muir was not only loved but revered. Trustees extolled the virtues of the departed in speeches to the children.

21 ITALIANS HELD FOR WEEK.

Officers Wounded in Kingston Fight Still in Hospital.

Kingston, June 30.—Police Magistrate Farrell had the 21 riotous Italians before him yesterday morning. They were remanded for a week. This is due to the fact that the wounded men, Sergt. Nesbitt, and Detective McGee, are unable to be moved to allow identification of their assailants.

The injured men are doing nicely, and if complications do not arise, will be around soon. Sergt. Nesbitt has a bad cut in his breast, but the lung was not pierced.

The wounded Italian, in the hospital, cut in a melee among themselves, is doing well.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 30.—A plague of insects of a new sort is affecting this city and vicinity. The bugs destroy rose bushes very quickly and Fair View Cemetery, the pride of the city, is being ruined by them. The insects have now attacked the grape vines, and fruit-growers are much alarmed.

FREAKS OF FASHION.

Polonaise and Tunic Effects and Checked Directoire Coat.

The rage for the polonaise or tunic effects seems to be very much on the increase. An early Victorian surname does not sound a pretty one, but when treated by skilful hands it has a style of its own. The newest effects are rucked at the waist and high rather high at the back like a bustle, the ends falling in points over the underskirt. Buttons, too, form an important feature in the construction of the polonaise—buttons at the back, buttons in front and in all the most unlikely places.

BLUE SERGE GOWN.

Long directoire coats in checked materials finished with velvet collars and a number of buttons, worn over plain, sweeping skirts, are to be seen among the new tailor mades. Braids and gimps are being tremendously used, dyed to match the new cloths.

Spanish laces are already extremely fashionable, especially when enriched by darned designs in gold and colored silks.

Some of the corselet skirts are being made with more fullness at the feet, and bands of satin and velvet are favorite trimmings. Quaint ball fringes are also reminiscences of the Victorian era. When successfully treated some of these trimmings strike a pleasing as well as a novel note, but merely chronicled they do not sound attractive.

The natty little costume pictured is of blue serge fancifully trimmed with stitched bands and small metal buttons. The short coat has a waistcoat of cream white cloth. The girdle, coat collar and cuffs are of black velvet.

FRIBBLES OF FASHION.

Cool and Quiet Colors In Vogue—A Great Demand For American Silks.

The spring and summer colors promise to be cool and quiet in tone. The grays, mauves, soft yellows and shades of blue are not nearly so conspicuous as they were last season.

It will be a great silk year, and American weaves are quite to the fore.

BLACK TULLE EVENING BODICE.

These silks have little dressing and rival the European weaves in beauty of texture. The rajahs are the most popular among the many varieties.

Lace bracelets are a fad that has reached us from the other side. They are worn alone or with dog collars to match. Around a low or Dutch neck these collars are very fetching.

Another extreme notion is that of painting postraits on the finger nails. And the craze for all sorts of beads, buttons and chains would set a scientist to wondering whether the savage instinct was not manifesting itself in the feminine portion of the civilized world.

Gowns for afternoon are almost without exception made with long skirts, and both skirts and jackets are elaborately trimmed.

The new girdles are on the order of a swiss belt and are very often made of suede, studded with beads.

The evening bodice illustrated is of black tulle striped with lines of black velvet ribbon and insertions of white lace. Velvet bows diminishing in size toward the waist adorn the front.

FURNITURE HINTS.

DECORATIVE FADS FOR THE SUMMER COTTAGE.

How to Select Porch Awnings—Bath Towels Used For Furniture Coverings—Especial Stationery For the Out of Town Residence.

If you are going away to your own or to a rented cottage this summer, there are hundreds of decorative accessories which will make it bright and gay, and none of them need be expensive. But there's a deal of art and a lot of good taste to be employed both in choice and arrangement if the result is to be a success.

People are now living sensibly so much out of doors that the cottage piazza is almost universally fitted up as a living room. The ideal screen is a vine, but many persons object to this pretty protection as keeping out the light and attracting bugs and insects. Canvas awnings and reed screens are most in use for this purpose and indeed are much smarter, though less beautiful, than the vines. Combinations in colors never were so varied as in this season's canvas awnings. The new awnings are shown in brown with narrow red stripes, in green with broad brown ones, in red and black and in green and yellow. Whether they harmonize or not, these combinations are being sold in preference to last year's styles.

When a striped awning is purchased the buyer knows that the colors will lose from exposure some of their brightness, and the best thing to do is to select the shade that fades least and then take every precaution to preserve it. It has always been a disputed point as to whether during a rainstorm the awning should be rolled up or left to take its share of the water undisturbed. Experts declare that if let down the rain washes through and runs off, taking the dirt with it, while if it is rolled up the water settles in little pools and when dry dirty spots are apt to appear here and there. In case of a windstorm it is best to raise the awning to keep the cloth from flapping and straining. Immediately after the storm it should be lowered so that the material may quickly dry. A wonderfully pretty effect is obtained if the piazza rail is bordered with boxes filled with gay flowers protected by a bright colored awning.

OF TO DATE NOTE PAPER.

Oddest of all summer furnishings is the bath towel which is used as house decoration. These towels are employed as pillow coverings, the fringe being left on or cut off and the toweling scalloped and buttonholed about the edges. Several large towels may be put together with fancy stitches and made into bed spreads and bureau covers. One enterprising woman has covered her upholstered furniture with brown Turkish towels held in position by tape stripes.

To be quite up to date the country home must have its special stationery. White is the correct color, and at the top of the note sheets in the right hand corner is engraved the name of the house. In the left hand corner appears a tiny train of cars between which and a picture of a telephone are telegraph poles and wires. On a line with the railroad train in small letters is the name of the postoffice. Near the wires appears the name of the place where telegrams may be received, and under the tiny telephone is its call number. This is a most feasible fad, as it serves as a guide to out of town friends.

Don't Be a Clinging Vine.

However the time may have liked the clinging woman, the dependent and incapable woman, who appeals to him at every turn for advice and counsel and assistance, there is not one man in a hundred in the world today who is not made weary and sick unto death by long association with a woman of that type.

Independence does not mean recklessness nor willfulness.

Self reliance does not mean deafness to counsel, and executive ability does not mean that a woman should plan a career outside her home.

Not any of these things please the lords of creation, but they like a woman who can carry her portion of the world's worries and responsibilities and carry them with ease and grace and with the air of having performed miracles.

Save Your Soap Scraps.

Odds and ends of soap accumulate in every household and are generally thrown away. To utilize them take a piece of stout flannel about six inches square; bring two edges, also one of the ends, together and sew strongly with worsted. You have then a long bag six inches wide, open at one end. Into this from time to time put all scraps of toilet or kitchen soap. Fold the open end down and you have a square package. The bag will be found most useful for dishwashers.

Assistant Fool Killers.

It doesn't take much for a girl to make a fool of any man. Nature did so much.

FORECAST OF FASHION.

Lace Girdles Attractive—The Tub Princess Frock—Wash Fabrics.

Lace girdles made over the popular gold or silver tissue lining are exceedingly attractive. They are trimmed with narrow flat gold braid. The stock is made to match the girdle, fastened in front with little bows of the braid that look like pretty caricatures of prim ties.

In the case of the "tub" princess frock the material is shirred for several inches above and below the waist line, and there are usually two or three or even more flounces posed in fanciful lines upon the skirt.

The tailor turns out a princess gown that is the perfection of fit and finish. The dressmaker is apt to handle it according to the figure of the wearer.

BUTTERFLY COMBS.

The draped effects, the corselet designs, are topped for street wear by the smart little Eton or bolero.

In the thinner cotton goods there are plain and dotted swisses that make such sweet dancing dresses now and later are equally appropriate for the "best summer frock."

The most fetching dressing gowns are made up in empire style for tiny coquettes of soft china crape or silk, wadded and trimmed with ribbon.

Val lace continues to be the favorite adornment on all kinds of costumes, and later in the season it will be difficult to find desirable patterns.

The illustration shows the latest development in side combs. The butterfly wings are charmingly carried out in tortoise shell and French filigree.

SNAPSHOTS OF THE MODE.

Taffeta Ruffles Take the Place of Lace Frills—New Embroidery.

It is quite a fad to have the sleeves finished with several taffeta ruchings, and they are more practical than the lace ruffles that were so tremendously popular.

On the smartest lingerie blouses appear embroidered motifs of large flowers, such as roses or poppies, worked only on the outer petals, the heart of the flower being done in a succession of tightly curled petals with a bit of lace set squarely in the center. Often the leaves are treated in the same way. These motifs give the whole design an effect of light and shading that is exceedingly attractive.

Fringes and buttons play an important part in the world of trimmings. Buttons are small, and fringes are heavy, but no doubt this order of things will be reversed before long. Just now freaks of fashion are numerous, for many trial trips are being made on the field of dress.

Velvet ribbons are a favorite trimming on hats, made into bows, ruchings and rosettes.

One of the latest fads is the wearing of white lace sleeves on sheer black evening gowns, such as those of net or mousseline de soie.

On all the new frocks there will be an abundance of lace—alencon, baby, cluny, mechlin and Irish crochet. Where the laces leave off the embroideries begin—embroideries that actually rival real laces in their claims to beauty.

Sleeves will be short, but they will be made in a thousand ways of lace frills and ruffles, with cuffs and without; but, whatever else, they will be short.

WHITE SILK WAIST.

Heavy homespun silks make smart all round gowns, but Paris decrees for dressier costumes plain soft weaves of silk.

The waist illustrated is of soft white silk. The material is gathered vertically about the figure into a Louis pointed plastron, finished on each side with ruffles. An empiecement of lace and the neckband are outlined with black velvet. The sleeves have puffings of the same becoming fabric at the elbow, which continue in a novel fashion up to the arm's eye. The sleeves themselves are shirred into the armhole.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

The Spanish soldier, with only two meals a day, keeps in excellent condition on a diet consisting of dry black bread, a little oil, a clove of garlic and his cigarette.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Useful Things For the Housemaker to Know.

The most effectual method of rendering a house moth proof is thorough spring and fall cleaning. Two of the arch enemies of moths are cleanliness and light. Attics and storage rooms require light and ventilation. The cedar chest or closet ranks first as a preventive. Moth balls are efficacious, but one prefers the moth almost. Furs especially fascinate moths. The preliminary step is a thorough combing with a dressing comb; next beat well and air in the sunshine; next sprinkle with gum camphor, cedar dust or tobacco leaves. Place the furs in paper sacks, turn the edges over and paste down with a strip of muslin. Printer's ink is obnoxious to moths. Balls of cotton wadding saturated in oil of cedar are effectual in trunks. Remember this—oil stains. Carpets if infested must come up, be beaten and cleaned. Wash the floor with benzine, then sprinkle with cayenne pepper. Tack down the carpet and sponge with a solution of a quart of water to a tablespoonful of turpentine, changing the water frequently. A preventive is to press every inch of the edge of the carpet, first dampening, then pressing with a hot iron. Lay a damp towel on the carpet, over this a paper to retain the steam, then iron. Steam destroys.

Wall Papers.

When selecting wall paper be careful to choose a pleasing and unobtrusive design, always remembering that the true mission of the paper is to act as a background for pictures, mirror, etc., and not to make itself unpleasantly conspicuous.

The next things to consider are the exposure of the room, the size and the use to which it is to be put.

The exposure of a room must be taken into account when choosing the color of the paper. An apartment facing south must have a cool shade, blue, green, yellow, all being excellent. North rooms are best treated to wall coverings of warm red and pink tones, and blue must be rigidly excluded. This rule also applies to apartments with an eastern aspect, though bright shades of yellow and terra cotta might also be employed.

Green, blue and pale yellow must be the predominating shades for a western room. Pale pink might be used should necessity require it, but reds and terra cottas must find no place there.

It is a golden rule to select a self colored paper of conventional design in preference to one combining many tints.

Having settled upon the color, the next thing is to note the size of the room, remembering that dark papers make a small room appear smaller, while a light paper gives the opposite effect. A large design will dwarf the appearance of a room, both as to height and breadth, and must therefore only be used for spacious apartments. Dados and friezes should also be eschewed unless the room be lofty. A dark room must always be treated to as light a paper as possible.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

Pat's Memory For Faces

By A. M. DAVIES OGDEN

Copyright, 1906, by K. A. Whitehead

It looked very pleasant and homelike in the studio when all was finished. The girl, a brown eyed, slender creature, with masses of soft brown hair around a small oval face, smiled contentedly as she surveyed the results of three days' labor.

A few pretty rugs were scattered over the floor. Pictures in various stages of completion leaned against the wall, and on the hearth a cozy wood fire sparkled cheerily.

Beyond was a glimpse of a tiny bedroom and a kitchenette. Miss Vandervier drew a long breath. It was what she had been dreaming of for years, this return to New York to a studio of her own. Now she could show what the hard work in Paris had done for her; now she could prove what was in her.

The janitor, watching her with his shrewd, kindly old Irish eyes, nodded a silent approval. She would do. Pat was father, friend and counselor to all the eager, ambitious young hearts gathered under the roof of the big studio building, and it did not take him long mentally to fix the status of each newcomer. But to Miss Vandervier, for some reason, he vouchsafed a peculiar attention, studying her face whenever unobserved with sharp intentness. He nodded again.

"HE DO BE CALLING ALL THE TIME," EXPLAINED PAT.

"I hope you will find it agreeable, miss," he said as he gave the fire a rattling poke. "We are rather a nice lot," judicially.

"Thank you," responded the girl gratefully. It was a bit lonely—this much boasted independence. "Are there—are there many other girls here?"

Pat waved the poker.

"Well, there's Miss Delano," he reflected aloud. "She's water, and Miss Brown in oils, and Miss Merriton, who charcoals. All nice, quiet young ladies as you'd wish to find. But the young gentlemen"—lifting eloquent hands—"them's the noisy lot! All but Mr. Lawrence, that is," consideringly.

Miss Vandervier jumped.

"Mr. Lawrence?" she echoed faintly.

The old Irishman nodded.

"Mr. Robert Lawrence. You'll no doubt have been seeing his things. Some likes 'em. But, as for me, I likes a bit of color meself," gazing admiringly at a fragment of vivid blue Venetian water and sky. "But, sure, Mr. Lawrence ain't troubling the paints much these days," harking back to his subject with a sigh. "But, well, well," suddenly changing h's tone, "I must be going. Good evening, miss. And if there's anything you want don't hesitate to call upon old Pat for it."

But the girl had drawn near the door. "Is—is anything the matter with Mr. Lawrence?" she asked in a carefully indifferent voice. "I—I think I used to know him in Paris."

"Did you, now?" The old man shook his head. "'Tis very sick I fear he is," he answered soberly. "I'm thinking that if no one comes to nurse him it's to the hospital he will be going. We've written his family, but they must be away. The doctor said that if no one came he'd most likely be took tonight. 'Tis sad to hear him, miss."

"Sad?" repeated the girl, with averted face.

"He do be calling all the time," explained Pat. "'Marion, Marion,' 'tis that he's whispering."

"'Marion?'" faltered the girl. She bent forward. "You are—you are sure?" she demanded tensely.

"Marion or Maude or maybe 'tis Mary," returned Pat indifferently. "I'm not good on remembering names. But it must be some one he's terrible fond of. His whole studio is filled with pictures of one young lady, drawn every kind of a way. 'Twould fair surprise you. He's sure got his eye on some one," a droll smile tightening the corners of his mouth.

"Well, I wish she'd come, then," the sigh returning. "I'd have a job for her. But good night again, miss," recollecting himself with a start. "Here I am gossiping away when I should be doing my work. And don't trouble your head about Mr. Lawrence. He'll most likely pull through." And with a final clatter of the poker he was gone.

But it is very easy to tell a person not to trouble. To follow such an injunction is a different matter. Miss Vandervier's face as she turned back to the flickering log wore a changed expression. Bob Lawrence upstairs—and ill! That in all the big city of New York she should have happened upon the very building which sheltered Bob! What could be more unfortunate? This had been the first thought which leaped to her mind as the old man chattered on, followed, however, by the consoling reminder that they need not therefore necessarily meet.

And then, with a shock, the unexpectedness of which set her a-quiver, had come the news of his illness and delirium. For a moment a cold finger seemed laid upon her heart. Bob ill and calling for another girl!

Yet why should she care? She did not, she told herself, with a quick toss of the head. She had taken that chance when she sent him away. He had been hers first, hers utterly. A sudden vision of those old Paris days rose before her mind when Bob had begged her to marry him and come home, and she, trying her wings and rejoicing in their strength, had only laughed. Give up her work and go home? How could he ask it?

But he had asked it and then gone away, and now he was upstairs ill and calling for another girl. Her mind reverted constantly to that thought. Naturally she had told him to forget her, but equally naturally, with the fine self confidence of her sex, she had never believed that he would. Reluctantly the truth now forced itself upon her consciousness that in all her day dreams of winning fame the return of a joyful and proud Bob had always been the climax.

With a determined effort Miss Vandervier flung herself into a chair and tried to absorb herself in the cherished studio, but to no avail. The thought of that lonely, ill figure upstairs persisted to the exclusion of everything else. He was ill, very ill, and they were going to take him away, and all he needed was nursing. The girl caught unsteadily at the arms of the big chair and half sprang to her feet. But that other girl—could she, oh, could she?'

And then, with a singularly sweet and gentle expression, Miss Vandervier arose. What matter? If he were delirious he would never know, and at least she might be of service.

Perhaps it would be unfair to accuse Pat of "snooping." Nothing might have been further from his thoughts; but, be the truth as it may, the indisputable fact is that, when a few minutes later the door of Miss Vandervier's studio opened and a slender figure flitted up the stairs, Pat, unobserved in the dark hall, uttered a smothered sound.

In breathless interest he waited. Then came to him a light knock, a low exclamation and then a feeble yet thrilling joyful cry, "Miriam, oh, Miriam!"

Pat, his lids suddenly wet, emitted a long, satisfied sigh.

"Miriam, is it?" he muttered. "Miriam, aha!" with a sly twinkle, born of his knowledge of woman. "Maybe I'm not much good at names, but it's sure the fine eyes I have for a likeness."

And, picking up the empty coal scuttle, he went on down the stairs.

Purely Personal

By ETHEL FRAY

Copyright, 1906, by Homer Sprague

Stetson read the advertisement for a second time. It was seldom that he read the personal column, usually plunging straight into the financial news, but this morning Dodds had chatted with him until he was almost at his destination, and his eye fell idly upon the column.

"Will the gentleman who saved the life of a young woman at Central square yesterday afternoon please send his address to Grateful, box 512?"

He closed his eyes and with mental vision he could see it all again—the automobile, the trolley car which prevented escape and, above all, the piquant little face lying limp against his shoulder. For a moment he was tempted to answer the advertisement.

Twice during the day he penned a note to "Grateful," but each time he tore it up in disgust. It seemed a pretty poor trick to be sending his address that he might be thanked. He would like to look into those blue eyes again when they were not dilated with terror, but he must wait for some other opportunity.

The next morning the advertisement was repeated. He knew, because he turned to the column the first thing. He smiled grimly as he thought of the temptation of the day before. They could advertise until doomsday, but they would get no answer from him.

It was almost with apprehension that he looked the third day, but his mild curiosity was changed to indignation. This time the personal read:

"Will the gentleman who saved the life of a young woman at Central square Monday afternoon kindly return her watch, and no questions will be asked? Grateful, box 512."

This, then, was why she had advertised for his address. She believed that during the excitement he had robbed her of her watch. And all the dreams he had dreamed in the past two days of those blue eyes brimming with gratitude looking into his were but idle visions! He was sorry he had seen the advertisement. He probably never would see the girl, but it had been pleasant to believe that he had saved her.

He hoped now that he would never see her again. Several times in the course of the past year he had encountered her upon the street, and from the very first he had been interested. He was not exactly in love, he told himself, but very near it. Now he would have to dodge if he saw her; he would have to slip into some store or across the street. It would be intolerable. He cut out the advertisement and placed it in his pocketbook.

"I THOUGHT YOU MIGHT CALL THIS AFTERNOON," SHE SAID.

As soon as the morning mail was disposed of he drew toward him a letter head and wrote rapidly. Several sheets were destroyed before he finally decided that the letter would do, and before he slipped it into the envelope he regarded it for a third time.

"Mr. Robert Hardy Stetson," it ran, "begs to assure 'Grateful' that she is in error concerning the disappearance of her watch. Mr. Stetson would suggest that 'Grateful' make application to the police. He is ready to give them ample proof as to his honesty and standing."

The tiny business card in the corner would give the address, and he flattered himself that the note would serve its purpose. It was given a boy to take to the newspaper office, and the rest of the day Stetson divided his time mourning his dead romance and wondering what the girl would say when she read the letter. He flattered himself that it was dignified and eminently calculated to remind her of her transgression.

Possibly could he have seen the recipient when she glanced over the formal lines he would have been surprised, for, with her face breathed in smiles, she nodded at the clerk.

"You needn't put it in again," she said. "Thank you, very much."

Stetson scowled at the pale tinted note on his desk the following morning. The girl could have no justification for her suspicions, certainly none that he would accept. It was impertinent of her to make answer to him. For ten minutes he turned it over and over before he slit the cover and drew forth the inclosure. He stared for a moment dumfounded at the opening lines, which ran:

"Miss Alice Everton Woodrow begs to thank Robert Hardy Stetson for his somewhat tardy answer to her advertisement. She begs to assure Mr. Stetson that she does not believe him to be a thief. His unwillingness to answer the earlier advertisement led to the suggestion on the part of the clerk in the advertisement office that the amended form of personal would be more likely to bring forth an answer. If Mr. Stetson will be good enough to call at 635 Auburn avenue he will not only receive the grateful thanks of Miss Woodrow, but of her father, who would be glad to meet the son of his old schoolmate."

Stetson looked at his watch. He could not in decency call much before 4. It was only 10 now. There would be no use in trying to work when every letter was but a picture of a pair of blue eyes set in a piquant face and framed in golden hair.

He had been trapped, but he was glad of it. He was especially glad to know that she was willing to take such pains to find him. It showed that she really did care and justified his earlier opinion of her.

He wished that he could announce a general half holiday in the office, but since this was not possible without explanation he could at least take one himself.

He was uptown at 11 and spent the rest of the time in pacing his room and deciding upon the important item of a necktie. He could scarcely wait until it was time to start and set out afoot that he might at least kill time that way.

The servant showed him into the library instead of the drawing room. Miss Woodrow sprang from her easy chair by the open fire as he was announced and came toward him.

"I thought you might call this afternoon," she said as he took her hand, "so I told James to bring you in here. I am so glad you have come."

"So am I," said Stetson prosily, "though I did not come to be thanked."

"To meet father," she suggested demurely. "I am afraid he will not be in until 6."

"I don't mind waiting," said Stetson obligingly—"that is, unless I inconvenience you."

"I shall be glad to have you wait," she said sincerely, "but please may I not thank you?"

"Rescues are sometimes their own reward," he smiled. "It was not very much of a rescue, anyway. I probably should not have noticed your predicament only"—

"Only?" she questioned, seeing that he was not going to continue.

"Only—well, for a long time I have been wondering who you were. You see, I've seen you very often and"—He paused again.

"So you have noticed me, too?" she said wonderingly. "How funny!"

"You mean that you have—that you did"— He was distressingly confused.

"I have noticed you often," she admitted frankly. "You seemed so different from so many of the men I know that I often wondered who you were."

"Then it was not altogether because of your gratitude that you advertised?" he urged. She colored, but would not confess, though as she was bidding him goodby a couple of hours later he held her hand a trifle longer than is permitted.

"Won't you say that it was not altogether through gratitude that you put in that personal?" he urged.

The blue eyes fell before the glow in the ardent brown ones. "Perhaps not altogether," she whispered, "but that is very purely personal."

No Day Off Elapsed.

Winnipeg, June 30.—As a result of the passage of the Sunday street car by-law, Manager Phillips announced yesterday morning that the company would be prepared to put on a service on July 8. The Street Railway union employes are uneasy as a result of the passage of the by-law, without any compulsory one-day rest interim, and trouble is said to be brewing again.

The Habit of Health

Many people have a habit of ailing. How much better it would be to learn to keep well. For health, after all, is largely a matter of habit, which all may acquire with a little practise.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

teach good habits to Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels. If you are subject to Bilious Attacks, suffer from Constipation or are troubled with Indigestion, Nervousness or Headache, Beecham's Pills will reform all these bad habits and set an example of good health, which the body will quickly follow. You can break up all sickly habits by occasionally using the health suggestions transmitted by Beecham's Pills.

Prayed For Others While He Was Lying Pinned In Wreck

While Pinned in Railway Wreck and Death Crept On—Rev. Mr. King's Touching End—He, Along With Two Other Canadians, Mr. Walter Barwick, K.C., and C. A. Pipon, of Toronto, Were Killed in the Terrible Salisbury Accident on Sunday--A Graphic Story of the Awful Event.

Salisbury, Eng., July 2 (4 A. P.)—The death of Rev. Mr. King was particularly touching.

He did not lose his senses for a second, and even when he felt death creeping on him and when he was pinned in the wreck he prayed for those around him. He must have been suffering terrible agony, yet to the end although was for others.

When told by the surgeon that he must compose himself, he replied that his duty was to pray.

Barwick Keeping Fit.

The body of the late Walter Barwick, K. C., a victim of the Salisbury wreck, was brought to London last night and now lies at an undertaker's at 33 Baker street. If the Canadian relatives so desire it will be embalmed and sent home, otherwise it will be interred by relatives here.

Col. Atkinson, brother-in-law of Mr. Barwick, who had the sad duty of identifying the remains, returned to London last night, having been in Salisbury since Sunday afternoon. He was present at the inquest yesterday afternoon. Beyond the identification of the bodies, nothing developed. Identification was not difficult.

It is believed the desire to keep an engagement influenced the deceased to take the fatal train.

Mr. Pipon's Interment.

The remains of the late C. A. Pipon are still at Salisbury, where his friends await the wishes of the Canadian relatives. If so desired, interment will be in the family vault on Guernsey Island.

Francis King, brother of the late Rev. E. L. King, went to Salisbury for the inquest and has not yet returned.

Twenty-Seven Persons Killed on London Southwestern Railway Near Salisbury, England, Sunday.

Salisbury, Eng., July 2.—Driving at a mad pace over the London Southwestern Railway the American Line express carrying 43 of the steamer New York's passengers from Plymouth to London plunged from the track just after passing the station here at 1.57 o'clock Sunday morning and mangled to death in its wreckage 23 passengers who sailed from New York June 23, and four of the trainmen.

Besides those to whom death came speedily a dozen persons were injured, some of them seriously.

The Dead.

Following is the list of first-class cabin passengers dead:

Walter Barwick, of Toronto, Ont.
C. A. Pipon, Toronto, Ont.
Rev. E. L. King, Toronto, Ont.

The following second cabin passenger was injured: Miss M. Rask, address unobtainable.

Graphic Description.

In reviewing Sunday's events, it is recalled that while all went well until the train reached Salisbury, some passengers at various points remarked on the very high rate of speed, one or two expressing some alarm, and these talking supper on the train experienced great difficulty in avoiding spilling the contents of their plates and cups.

A short distance out of Salisbury begins a remarkable curve, which sometimes has been described as the most dangerous in the world, and which certainly possesses elements of danger. Not only does the line enter and leave the station on a curve, but where it crosses Fisherton street the line takes a slight rise in order to afford sufficient headway to the dipping roadway below. It was practically at this point that the engine jumped the rails and brought about a disaster, both as regards the percentage of lives lost and the extent of the damage to rolling stock, almost without precedent in the annals of British railway accidents, and especially of boat expresses.

At the scene of the catastrophe there are five lines of rails. Two are main lines, two others are devoted to local traffic, and the fifth is a siding.

Of these five lines only two were occupied at the time of the accident. A milk train loaded with empty cans was leisurely entering the station in the opposite direction to the express, while at the entrance of the siding there is a solitary locomotive ready to furnish any service the milk train might require.

A Startling Sight.

In the meantime the express, which was due to run through with an ample line of rails on either side of her, came pounding along, swaying heavily owing to the enormous speed. The inspector on the station platform, watch in hand, followed her course with his eyes.

He was horrified to see the train leave the rails, jump to the vacant line to the right, and plunge into the rear of the milk train. A crash like the roar of artillery awakened many inhabitants of Salisbury, a mile away. Within some 20 seconds the whole train became a chaotic mass of wreckage, the ponderous engine having smashed the guards van of the milk train to atoms and killed a guard. Instantly all the carriages broke from their couplings. The engine hurled itself against the edge of the strong iron parapet which bounds the bridge over the roadway. Fortunately it struck the parapet almost end on and so probably was saved from carrying away the parapet and projecting the train into the street below. However, the iron work of the parapet was twisted out of all shape, and a portion of it was detached and fell with a crash to the pavement beneath.

Passenger Hurled 30 Feet.

The impact with the bridge was startling in its results. While the under parts of the railway carriages remained on the track, though off the rails, the woodwork of the carriages projected over the bridge and the street below was strewn with glass and splinters. One passenger was even hurled right through the side of a broken carriage 30 feet to the embankment and was killed and mangled by the fall and by the mass of wreckage that fell upon him.

The locomotive and tender rebounding from the parapet now hurled their immense weight against the stationary locomotive, which became a shapeless wreck, its boiler exploding and so severely scalding both the driver and the fireman that the latter has since died.

A Ghastly Pile.

The express engine finally turned turtle, broken-backed. Carriage was piled on carriage as though by giant hands, the stationary engine tilted towards the concrete platform with the wreckage of one carriage on its top, and the engine and tender of the express almost looked into the stationary engine, everything being smashed and splintered with the exception of the guards' van of the express, which, owing to the presence of mind of the guard who quickly applied the brakes, was not overturned.

The instructions to engine drivers over this portion of the line is not to exceed a speed of 30 miles an hour, but it is alleged calculations based on the times at which different signal boxes were passed show that this speed was exceeded. Unfortunately both the engine driver and the stoker are dead, and therefore it may be difficult to obtain reliable evidence as to the speed the train was running when the accident occurred.

Flames Add Terror.

The horror of the scene which now presents itself was intensified by fears of the added calamity of fire. Flames shot up from the furnace of the overturned engine and set fire to debris in the vicinity and a considerable escape of gas from the reservoirs underneath the train. Officials, however, with the greatest promptitude brought hose to play, checked the flames at the outset and turned off the gas.

The few officials at the station who were soon reinforced by willing helpers from the town with the aid of lamps began the work of rescue. The spectacle that met their gaze was heartrending. Instead of the shrieks that might have been expected, ominous silence succeeded to the horrors of the scene. Station Master Lawrence says this was what most struck him on arriving at the spot. Both the injured and the survivors seemed to be too stricken or too dazed by the suddenness of the tragedy to utter even a murmur. The waiting rooms of the station were hastily prepared for use as surgeries or mortuaries. In the carriage huddled in wreckage almost under the wheels of the upturned engine death had been busiest. Here nine men and five women were taken out dead soon after the accident. The driver and fireman were quite dead in their cab.

These were all taken to the waiting room and several of the injured were given first aid and dispatched to the infirmary which fortunately was not far distant.

Bodies in a Heap.

The work of rescue proceeded slowly until the arrival of the break down gangs from London and Exeter and despite the utmost despatch it was soon before the last of the dead was extricated from the ghastly prison house.

When an opening was made into the second carriage, a terrible sight was revealed. At one end of a compartment several bodies were jammed together, in an almost unrecognizable mass. It was six or eight hours before it was found possible to remove them.

The scenes around the wreck were calculated to shake the strongest nerves. The sobbing and cries of young Mrs. Cossitt wrung tears from many of the rough men amoung the rescuers. She herself was little hurt, but her husband was so severely injured that though still alive his case was seen to be hopeless. He died shortly after being taken to the infirmary, and the bereaved bride was taken to the residence of a local doctor, from whence she subsequently went to friends in London. Among the dead is Reeler, the "human enigma." He had telegraphed to his aged mother in London from Plymouth of his expected arrival.

The Morbid Throng.

Throughout Sunday the scene was visited by thousands of people coming by motor-car, by railroad, or on bicycles.

The cause of the accident is still in doubt. It is suggested that the wheels of the engine failed to take the switch, or that a wheel or axle broke. A careful examination may afford some evidence.

The train was regarded as having been light for high speed, but it is notorious that trains always sway and shake going at any speed over this curve. Usually at the Salisbury curve steam is shut off and the brakes applied.

No such serious accident has occurred since 1889, when the New Haven boat train and the Brighton Express collided at Wivelsfield, killing six passengers.

The Inquest.

The inquest was opened yesterday afternoon in the banquet chamber of the City Hall. Representatives of the American Line, the South-Western Railway, the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, and the Association of Engineers and Firemen were present. The American consul at Southampton, Albert W. Swalm, is looking after the interests of the Americans.

Immediately after the jury had been sworn they proceeded to the railroad station to view the bodies. Reporters were not allowed to accompany them.

When the jury returned the coroner announced that only evidence regarding the identification of the bodies would be taken, and that the inquest would then be adjourned for a fortnight. He expressed deep sympathy with the victims and their surviving relatives.

No further deaths have been recorded. The bodies of the dead are still in the waiting-room of the railroad station. Where no relatives are available, the identification of the dead will be made by the doctor and purser of the New York. The bodies of the American victims are being embalmed for conveyance home.

THE DEATH OF MISS WELLS.

Incriminating Evidence Given At the Inquest At Orangeville.

Orangeville, June 30.—Incriminating evidence against Walter Jackson, principal, and A. C. Douglas, accessory, was yesterday submitted at the coroner's inquest into the death of Miss Elizabeth Wells.

Four persons gave testimony Dr. Carson who was called to attend her a few hours before she died; Dr. Thomas Henry, and two drug clerks employed by Douglas, the druggist. The inquest then adjourned until July 20, by which time it is believed one or both of the men will be apprehended.

It is thought that Douglas will return within a few days, of his own volition.

COST OF TEXT BOOKS.

Premier Whitney Appoints an Editor and a Barristers.

Toronto, June 30.—John A. Cooper of Toronto, editor of The Canadian Magazine, and W. Crothers, St. Thomas, barrister, make up the commission appointed by the Ontario Government to enquire into the question of the cost of the production of school textbooks. Premier Whitney made the announcement yesterday. The appointment arises out of one of the provisions of the new Education Act.

DREW REVOLVER; TROUBLE OVER

Fishery Inspector Confiscates Outfit, of Yankee Poachers.

Brockville, June 30.—At the point of the revolver Fishery Inspector Fraser made a capture of poachers above Brockville. He was up the river with his motor boat, and on the south side of Grenadier Island he came on two men with a boat load of minnows and a lot of net. They were getting the minnows for bait.

The strangers hailed from Alexandria Bay, N.Y., and when the inspector proceeded to confiscate the outfit, including the boat, the Americans showed fight, but Fraser drew a revolver and the trouble was all over.

Strikers' Places Filled.

Montreal, June 30.—The strike at Ste. Anne de Bellevue of the laborers on the MacDonald Agricultural College has failed. One hundred and twenty-seven laborers are out, and their places have been filled by Italians. They were given $1.50 and demanded $2.00 per day. The bricklayers did not strike in sympathy, as was reported.

After Ten Years.

Kingston, June 30.—Alexander MacKie, assistant barber at Rockwood Asylum, has been notified of his dismissal, to take place at the end of July next. Mr. MacKie has held office for ten years. He is the first of the Liberals at Rockwood Asylum to be retired.

Mr. Hendrie's Funeral.

Hamilton, June 30.—The funeral of the late William Hendrie took place yesterday afternoon and the remains were followed to the grave by many mourning citizens and friends from outside the city.

TORONTO JUNCTION LIVE STOCK.

Toronto, July 2.—Receipts of live stock at the Junction market were 74 car loads, composed of 1536 cattle, and 49 sheep. The quality of fat cattle considering that the bulk of them had been finished on grass, was good.

Exporters.

Prices for shipping cattle ranged from $4.75 to $5.10 per cwt., with one or two loads of purely stall-fed, at about 5c more per cwt., the bulk selling at $4.90 to $5 per cwt. Export bulls, common, sold at $3 to $3.35; fair to medium bulls, at $3.65 to $3 85; good to choice bulls at $4.25 to $4.40 per cwt.

Butchers.

Choice picked lots of best heifers and steers sold at $4.60 to $4.80 per cwt.; loads of best heifers and steers, stall-fed before putting on grass, sold at $4.70 to $4.85; fair to medium heifers and steers, at $4.50 to $4.70; common loads mixed, with a few cows, at $4.25 to $4.35; stall-fed cows, $4.23 to $4.40; grass cows and canners, $2.90 to $3 90.

Sheep and Lambs.

Export sheep sold at $4.25 per cwt.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, July 2.—(Special.)—Cables from Liverpool on Canadian cattle came easier at 10¼c, while London advices were strong-er and noted an advance of ½c to 1c to 11¼c; exports for week were 8411 cattle, 158 sheep; shipments for June were 19,007 cattle, 3,333 sheep; total to date, 35,503 cattle, 3,333 sheep. Receipts to day were 706 cattle, 300 sheep and lambs, 200 calves, 600 hogs. A feature of the trade was the renewed strength in the market for hogs and prices advanced 25c per cwt. on small supplies and a good demand from packers. One lot of very choice selects sold at $6.20, and balance at $7.75 to $6 per cwt., weighed off cars. The market for cattle was strong on account of small offerings and a scarcity of good to choice stock, but prices show no further advance. The demand was good and sales of choice beeves were made at 5¾c; good, 5¼c to 5½c; fair, 4½c to 5c; common, 3¼c to 4c; inferior, 2½c to 3¼c per lb. Sheep and lambs continue scarce and firm; sheep sold at 3¼c to 4¼c per lb.; lambs, $3 to $6 each.

A Second Silver Trophy Comes The Quakers' Way; Midland League Champions

Score Against Bowmanville Was 2-0—Won on the Round by 3-0—Best Game Ever Witnessed in Peterborough—How the Trick Was Done.

CHAMPIONS OF 1906

Another championship comes the Quakers' way. The beneficient spirit has seen fit to move them on until they have won not only the Junior, but also the Intermediate Championship of the Midland League—and incidentally the Stratton trophy, the much coveted prize of the teams that enter. Their attraction for silverware appears to be very strong and not only will the Midland trophies find a reposeful spot in Peterborough this year, but also the beautiful cup donated by Father Phelan which they won from Bridgenorth yesterday.

On Saturday for the second time this season they put it over Bowmanville's crack eleven—Midland League winners of 1905—by the score of 2-0 and now they are literally wearing the Quaker smile, the one that won't come off. They win the round by 3 up, whitewashing Bowmanville in both games. With but one exception it was the same Quaker team that brought the Junior Championship to Peterborough two weeks ago. It was quite a disagreeable surprise therefore, to Bowmanville to discover their pets trimmed by a junior team. In the ten games in the league in which the Quakers figured, they did not meet with a single defeat, scoring 23 goals to their opponent's 2.

Bowmanville was the hardest proposition the locals ran against — except Lakehurst?—and in both games gave the Quakers a stiff run, but from lack of better system were unable to do the necessary.

Saturday's game appeared to be more of an aquatic sport than otherwise. The clouds opened up just as the play began and at times the ball was almost invisible up in the air. The Quakers, nevertheless, were on the job and from the spectators' standpoint on the grandstand, played a neat phenomenal game. The issue was never in doubt after the first few minutes in which the players tumbled through the mud and water after the greasy leather. Dozens of times the speedy Quaker forwards carried the ball down the field for a shot on the visitors' citadel, who have only the slippery grounds to thank for the small score.

The first counter was sent through the stakes about the middle of the first half in much the same manner as the goal Bowmanville—who seem to be more adept at scoring for their opponents than themselves—put through a week before. Crough kicked a corner which went to Fitzgerald. The latter shot on goal and Moore the half back in his attempt to relieve tossed the ball through the goal in the opposite corner from which James was standing.

The outlook for the visitors was then pretty blue, but they went to work with a vim and subsequently played some nice ball. Their case was hopeless, however, and when Crough shot a stiff grounder through in the latter half they gave up the ghost and the play from then to the finish was Quaker. Nothing but the good work of the ex-champions defence and the juicy grounds prevented a larger score against the western men.

Doc Deritt, their centre forward was laid up with a broken rib and unable to play. This greatly demoralized the forward line as the doctor always made them play the game. Scarcely did they ever combine for any dangerous rushes but kicked the ball to the Quaker backs who never missed an opportunity to boot it back. McFadden was only called upon to save his goal once, but three or four shots came pretty close to the stakes. On the whole the visitors played a good game and did no murmuring over their defeat. They played to win but were up against a better team individually and collectively and certainly the home team won on their merits.

The gate receipts were miserably small—scarcely enough to pay the day's expenses and it should be up to Peterborough's citizens to help along a winning team better than they have done in the past.

The homesters all put up an excellent fight, for the Midland League championship hung in the balance. Every man played a little better than his best—and they got their reward.

Crough made a pretty score in the latter half, shooting the ball from a pass through the whole Bowmanville defence. Armstrong would have notched another, but slipped in the mud a few feet from the goal. A number of others were narrowly averted. James in goal making some phenomenal stops.

Sherin, of Omemee, refereed the game and watched closely all rough plays. His rulings were never disputed. None were penalized on either side.

VASELINE NO GOOD FOR HAIR

Dandruff Germ Thrives in It, as Well as in All Grease.

A well-known Chicago hair specialist invited the Inter-Ocean reporter to come to his office and see, under a microscope, how the germ that causes dandruff, thrives in vaseline. The specialist said that all hair preparations containing grease, simply furnish food for the germs and help to propagate them. The only way to cure dandruff is to destroy the germs, and the only hair preparation that will do that is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Without dandruff no falling hair, no baldness. Ask for Herpicide. It is the only destroyer of the dandruff germ. Sold by leading druggists. A Sunday School Supt. Ran Away With Soloist

A Philadelphia Elopement by Man and Woman Who Should Have Known Better.

Philadelphia, June 30.—The rapturous devotion of Mrs. Lucy Leather, the sweet voiced soprano of the North Frankford Baptist Church, and Charles E. Wilde, formerly its dignified Sunday school superintendent, has culminated in the simultaneous disappearance of both from their homes. The church congregation is deeply stirred and the families of the departed twain are either prostrated or swearing vengeance.

Two notes were left which indicated a determination to remain away indefinitely. Wilde wrote a note saying, "I have gone". That left by Mrs. Leather, to her daughter, Miss Mabel Lee, reads: Dear Mabel, it is no use trying. Someone else can keep house for you as well as I. I have gone where you will never find me. You are better off without me. Mother."

Mr. Leather Has a Pistol.

Letters replete with expressions of undying affection and ever-increasing jealousy written by Wilde to Mrs. Leather, now in the possession of Mr. Leather, who has started in pursuit of the supposed elopers with a revolver in his pocket and blood in his eye.

The prose poems of passion written by Wilde are in pencil and on copy paper used at the Frankford publishing house, of which he was the head.

Wilde dotes on calling himself "your true loving boy" and "your tyrant," and constantly records his "yearning for perfect love." Despite the fact that he and Mrs. Leather are 45, he calls her "Baby Lucy."

In one of the 20 epistles found so far he wrote:—Talleyrand said that only women and fools write letters; but, Lucy, girl, the telephone and the telegraph are inadequate to express the full depth of my devotion. I just have to write you."

No matter what the contents of the letters may be, the superintendent is always "thy true loving boy, Charlie." None of the letters was dated beyond the day of the week. Sometimes the heart burnings and yearnings are in serial form. For example, Wednesday morning, afternoon, evening, night and Thursday morning are all recorded in one set of closely written pages.

Once his conscience smote him heavily and he wrote: "Though we are in the wrong, dearest Lucy, may not God in His infinite mercy bring about a way for us to get together? I have spent the day with the same irresistible longing for you. I am sure you are thinking of your boy. I hope some day you will be a living service to your loving big boy, that you will fulfill my yearning for perfect love."

Sometimes Dropped Into Poetry.

Once Wilde failed of prose expression and forwarded the following verse to his beloved:

Love clothes the criticising tongue
With words of mercy sweet,
And little faults will be unseen
When loving hearts shall meet.
The whole world brighter seems to grow,
When love, appearing, speaks,
And love-warmed hearts find peace and rest
For which mankind e'er seeks.

Mrs. Leather is a petite brunette who doesn't look her 45 years. She led the church choir and sung hymns in the Sabbath school, after Wilde had read the lesson in his soulful voice. He has a wife 30 years old. The deserted Leather is nine years younger than his wife.

Leather has gone to Atlantic City. He claims that Mrs. Leather took money with her that he had supplied to meet heavy household bills.

Mrs. Wilde is prostrated, but refuses to believe that her husband has deserted her for an older woman.

HOW PETERBORO' PEOPLE SPENT THEIR HOLIDAY

57th REGIMENT'S TRIP TO THE TELEPHONE CITY MOST ENJOYED OUTING IN HISTORY

The Soldiery and Civilians of Brantford Gave the Local Regiment a Warm Welcome.

DELIGHTFUL TWO DAYS' PROGRAMME

The Band Scored a Triumph---Red Coated Soldier Boys Captured the Hearts of the Brantford People.

"The best trip in the history of the regiment," was the unanimous verdict of the officers and men in respect to the visit of that organization to Brantford, the Telephone City, during the last two days. It was a thoroughly enjoyable outing, and this morning, those who participated in it, have only the most pleasant memories of the trip, which was commenced under rather depressing weather conditions, which fortunately improved on Sunday and continued fine until the regiment's return home.

This was the first time that the 57th went so far west, and as a result of the trip the members of that organization have a good opinion of the hospitality of the people of the west, if that quality is represented by the Brantford people. They were received literally with open arms, and it is certain that when the good-byes were said last night there were some warm embraces indulged in. That the boys captured the hearts of the Brantford girls was demonstrated when the time to leave came last night, and should the regiment pay a visit to that city at any future time there will be many personal there glad to welcome them.

The officers and men of the 38th Regiment, whose guests the 57th were, are a warm-hearted, open-handed lot of gentlemen, and they succeeded in giving the 57th the time of their lives. They were around bright and early at the camp grounds on Sunday morning, and they stayed with the job, to use a somewhat inelegant, but expressive phrase, until 11 o'clock last night, when the special train pulled out of the T., H. & B. station for the return trip.

From the time that the visiting militiamen arrived in the city until their departure, they were taken in hand by the Dufferin Rifles and well looked after, the officers and men putting forth every effort to give them a good time, which they admirably succeeded in doing.

The beautiful armouries of the 38th Dufferin Rifles were thrown open for the use of the 57th, and in addition to the preparations which the home officers made for the entertainment of the visitors, the sergeants and bandsmen of the 38th were assiduous in their attention to their comrades of the 57th, to whom the trip was a round of pleasure.

The Brantford civilians, too, showed their appreciation of the 57th's visit in many unmistakable ways, and the general impression is that the 57th did themselves credit, and should they ever return they are certain of a warm welcome.

While in the city the visitors took their meals at the hotels, the officers being entertained at the Kirby House, where they received every attention. On the whole the trip was a delightful outing for the men of the 57th, and when the 38th decides to pay the return visit to Peterborough they will be welcomme.

The Trip to Brantford.

The journey from this city to Brantford, though somewhat longer than was at first anticipated, was a pleasant one; the men, having comfortable cars, did not mind in the least, the five hours' trip—enjoyed it, in fact—evidences of this fact not being by any means lacking.

The arrangements for the transportation of the regiment to the Telephone City, were excellent, perfect, in fact, thanks to the capable work of Capt. A. P. McLean, who, as Transport Officer, has established a reputation for himself.

The train was due to leave at 10 o'clock, and the men were in the cars within a few minutes of that hour,

SURG.-MAJOR PALMER,
Of the 38th Dufferin Rifles

but some delay was experienced in getting the necessary despatcher's orders to depart, due no doubt to the fact that since it was the night preceding a holiday there was much more traffic than usual on the line, and things had to be worked out in turn. Three sections of the midnight train on the Canadian Pacific Railway, were run that night, one of them bearing the 7th Regiment of London to Ottawa, and this train was met, and such men of the 7th, as had not yet retired, returned the lusty cheer which the 57th greeted them with.

Once on the way good time was made, one of the new "1100" class locomotives being used to haul the train from this city to Toronto.

The C. P. R. furnished good clean comfortable cars, the men travelling in first class tourist cars, while for the officers was provided a first-class day coach, the officers thus showing their concern for the comfort of the men by providing them sleeping cars, while they themselves rode in a day coach. Mr. W. T. Dockerill, the genial travelling passenger agent of the C. P. R., was along with the train, having preferred to take charge of the 57th's train to that of the 7th Regiment of London, which he had been asked to accompany. With the local city agent, Mr. W. McIlroy, he looked well after the comfort of his special passengers, and his attention furnished fresh proof of the fact, which, as the result of previous trips was established, viz., that he is a jolly good fellow and that he well knows how to attend to the comfort of those who may be travelling under his care.

At 2 o'clock Toronto was reached, and a stop, to change engines, made. The men used these few minutes to advantage, getting what fresh air the union station afforded,

MAJOR MUIR,
Of the 2nd Dragoons, Who Participated in Yesterday's Events.

and incidentally waking up a few of the station frequenters who had fallen into a nap.

The run from Toronto to Hamilton was made over the T. H. and B. tracks, as was also that from the latter city to Brantford, which was reached about 4.20, just as the day of Sunday, July 1st, was breaking. The special pulled into a siding near the camp grounds, the Agricultural Park, where representatives of the 38th Regiment, Dufferin Rifles, with Major Hayes, who had preceded the Rangers, were on hand to meet them and a hearty welcome was extended to the visiting militiamen.

In spite of the somewhat unseasonable hour, there was a goodly crowd of civilians on the streets to witness the regiment parade to camp, and their number was rapidly swollen until several hundred persons, the majority of them young men, with not a few ladies, who, during the whole two days gave evidence of a preference for the red-coated men of the 57th.

Some of the men—a few—took advantage of the few hours between the time of reaching camp and reveille to snatch some sleep, and when the bugle sounded to "fall in" at 9.30 for church parade, it was a bright, cheerful regiment of men who responded.

The regiment was camped in a splendid location close to the centre of the city, the grounds being well adapted to the purpose, and the advance party had made perfect arrangements for the reception of the regiment, the tents having been all pitched and ready for occupancy. Quartermaster Sergeant Edwards with his men had done good work, under the direction of Capt. Eastwood. The quarters for the men were provided in the regular form, the foundation occupying a large square tent and a marquee fitted up as a sitting room was pitched close to the officers' tents.

The Church Parade.

The citizens of Brantford turned out in large numbers to witness the church parade, which took place at 9.30, the 57th, the 38th of Brantford, and the Brantford troop of the 2nd Dragoons, marching to Grace church, where Rev. Canon Davidson, Chaplain of the 57th preached a short, but appropriate sermon, basing his remarks on the story of the Roman Centurion who gave proof of his faith in the Divine power to heal his daughter. The central theme of the sermon was that obedience to God to discipline, and to the earthly powers that be, was necessary. Three bands, one from each of the three regiments taking part in the parade were in the march, and in the church, after the sermon, the 57th readered a voluntary in a musicianly manner.

After the return from church the officers held a reception for the officers of the two home regiments at the marquee, and later adjourned, on the invitation of Col. Cameron, to the armories, where they were installed as temporary proprietors of the officers' mess room, Col. Cameron stating that while the 57th was in the city they must feel that the armouries were theirs.

A number of the officers of the 38th with some citizens of Brantford, including Mr. T. H. Preston, M.P.P., took dinner with the officers of the 57th at the Kerby House, which was made the headquarters of the regiment during their stay in the city, and in the afternoon the visiting officers were given a delightful drive around the city in cabs and autos, the manufacturing districts being visit-

CAMPBELLFORD ENTERTAINS OLD BOYS

A Gathering of Several Thousand Former Citizens and Others---The Greatest Day in Town's History.

Special Staff Correspondence.

It was a "double header," was Campbellford's successful inaugural celebration and "Old Boys'" reunion, as were nearly all the trains that poured their eight or ten thousand freight of visitors which overflowed Campbellford on Sunday and Monday, July 1st and 2nd. The occasion was the formal celebration and declaration of the elevation of the village into a town. The occasion was a double header in the sense of its immense success. It was a success from every point of regard —the spontaneity and unanimity of the people of Campbellford, of all ranks and conditions over the idea of incorporation, the enthusiasm with which the Old Boys, and girls, responded to the invitation to come and make a day of it, the enthusiasm and unanimity with which the people joined in extending a hospitality, which created extraordinary demands upon the village larder, and sleeping accommodation, the justification of incorporation represented by the population, importance and resources of the village, the hopeful future which lies before it, the splendid possibilities of industrial development presented by its splendid water power facilities — all these combined to justify the occasion, the enthusiastic optimism of the people —all these things combined to make the day a phenomenal success.

About a year ago, the idea of incorporation began seriously to infect the people, the contagion spread until it included the village council, and the Board of Trade took action, and without a dissenting voice incorporation was voted, without a vote being taken, and accordingly at the last session of the Legislature an Act of incorporation was passed, to come into force on July 1st., 1906. In pursuance of this legislation, and this provision, at 3.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in the Agricultural Park, Mayor Doxsee, in the presence of political dignitaries, and thousands of people, formally declared that Campbellford had taken on the name and status of a town.

The celebration of the inauguration of the town having been decided upon, it was further decided to conjoin an Old Boys' re-union. Accordingly invitations were sent out, and in response there came from every quarter of the compass former residents of Campbellford, their wives and children, joined by thousands of others, to take part in the festivities. On Saturday the advance guard began to pour in, and on Sunday special patriotic services were conduced in the Anglican, Baptist, Methodist, and Presbyterian churches.

On Monday especially the crowd began to rush in. Every train was long and heavily laden. From East, West, North and South they came. The regular train from Peterborough carried down about 900 passengers, and these were augmented from every station on the line. These added to the other arrivals of Saturday and Monday swelled the total of visitors to what several Campbellford people estimated at ten thousand people. Anyway with the 2,900 population of the village, the number of souls making merry in Campbellford yesterday amounted to fully ten thousand.

The beautiful town, with its beautifully irregular streets, was garbed en fete. Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons of Peterborough, had been retained to decorate the streets and they did their work well. As the Peterborough contingent arrived by train they were welcomed by the committee, and escorted to the centre of the town, along the Grand Road, from the station to the bridge, through gorgeous decorations of fluttering flags and festooned bunting. The principal streets decorated besides were Tise street, Bridge street, Frank street, Rear street and Front street, the latter for its entire length. From the business quarter to the agricultural grounds, a distance of nearly a mile, the street was a blaze of brilliant colour, and scores of private residences and business places were gayly bedecked, some very elaborately. Conspicuous among the private decorations were the clothing house of Mr. P. Corekry, an old Peterborough boy, and the premises of the Bank of British North America. The splendid decorations of the town were a credit to both the taste and and resources of Messrs. Turner & Sons, and the liberality of the citizens.

The Old Boys Re-Union.

There was a hearty response of the Old Boys to come and help their old fellow-citizens celebrate the thirty-ninth Dominion Day. The visitors' register, displayed in the post office though it did not contain half the names possible, embraced visitors from Edmonton in the west, to Almonte in the east. The Old Boys from Peterborough who signed the roll, were as follows, though perhaps not a quarter of those who were in the town, and had a right to sign it, did so, were:

W. S. Russell and wife, Peterborough.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Buller, Peterborough.

A CORRECTION IN THE RESULTS

In the publication of the Collegiate Institute promotion examination results as published on Saturday, a slight error occurred which may cause some confusion. The names of those who passed from Commercial Form I to Commercial Form II, were given as having passed from Commercial Form I to Form II, the word Commercial in the second case being omitted, and as a consequence the sense was lost. Those who are interested will understand.

Souvenir Views of Peterborough.

Unless you have been through the Peterborough Bookstore recently you can form no right idea of the variety, beauty and attractiveness of the many new souvenier views of Peterborough in stock. THE LIFT LOCK OPEN FOR TRAVEL

After having been closed for a few weeks, during the time that repairs were being effected to the canal bank above the lock, the lift lock was re-opened on Saturday, and is now in commission once more and is working satisfactorily, a number of lockages having been made since the opening on Saturday. It is now hoped that there will be no further interruptions to navigation during the remainder of the season.

FIRE ALARM SYSTEM ON EXHIBITION

The National Fire Alarm System was introduced to the Fire, Water and Light Committee of the City Council this afternoon at 3 o'clock by Mr. Alexander Anderson, of Toronto. It is also referred to as the non-interference fire alarm telegraph, and almost identical to that used in Toronto.

SATURDAY, JULY 14, IS THE LAST DAY

To all those who have been putting off going to consult Dr. Montgomery, the eye-sight specialist, it may be well to remind them that his engagement with soon close and many procrastinate will not get the benefit of his advice if they wait too long. Each day for the past seventeen days he has conducted a free clinic at Sanderson & Co.'s store, and a hundred and more eye-sight sufferers have found relief in his skill. Many children have received a benefit for a life-time, and scores of persons with failing sight can say, "One thing I know, now I can see." Reader, if your eyes need help, make up your mind to see him at once.

Stony Lake Beginning To Take On Summer Airs

Many People Spend the Holiday There—Some Breezy Notes From the Popular Summer Resort—Fishing Good at All Points.

Stony Lake, July 3. — Stony Lake was visited by one of the biggest transient crowds in its history yesterday. There two two excursions, the Stony Lake carrying the Auburn Sunday school, while the Majestic went to Buckhorn with the St. Luke's Bible class. Both boats carried all that the law would allow them. In addition, there was a big crowd of holiday makers on the Empress, which was the regular boat of the day. Many Peterborough people spent Sunday and yesterday at their cottages, and the lake wore its brisk summer appearance. There will be an influx of people during the next few weeks, and the cottages are being rapidly opened for the season.

Camp life on Saturday was not a bed of roses, as many who were under canvas found to their cost. The thunderstorm on Friday night, was not as bad as the advance notices in the heavens would seem to indicate. Although there was some severe lightning, no damage is reported around the summer resorts. On Saturday afternoon, however, the heavy downpour of rain, which began shortly after noon, and continued until evening, brought great discomfort to the many campers along the lake. Those who were fortunate enough to be near hotels and cottages sought shelter there; the others had to make the best of a bad situation.

The season is in full swing at Burleigh Falls, and this favourite Stony Lake resort will be crowded all summer, if one may judge from present indications. There has been a large number of guests at the hotel since the middle of June, which number will be decidedly augmented during the next week, as several large parties are booked to arrive during the next few days. The new hotel is one of the finest on the Kawartha waters, and the guests who have been staying there are loud their praise of the modern construction, and the many advantages of the building. Several of the cottages, annexed to the hotel, are already occupied. The fishing here is reported as excellent, especially with the black bass.

Mr. Chase of Rochester, has been one of the most lucky fishermen. He generally scintillates as sure death for black bass, but this year has has great luck with the lunge. Other American visitors have made good catches, as a result of which all are in good humour, and even the mosquitoes, which are at their worst just now, cannot mar the serenity of the colony.

The late arrivals at the Darcy House, included the following: Mr. Sherrick, Cincinnati; Dr. Galloway, Mrs. Mrs. Galloway, and family, of Toronto; Mr. Atwood and party, Peterborough; Chas. Chase, Rochester, N.Y.; Louis Holz and Son, Rochester, N.Y.; Mrs. H. Eppstein, Masters Harold and Earl Eppstein, Rochester; Henry Bailey, Rochester, N. Y.; H. Lyman, J. R. Smith, Buffalo, N.Y.; W. A. Day, H. Webber, of Cleveland, O.

Most of these arrivals are fishermen. The real summer visitors are just beginning to arrive. The next two weeks will see the arrival of a large number from across the line, and from now on Burleigh Falls will be a scene of great gayety.

Buckhorn, one of the most beautiful and popular resorts on the entire chain of the Kawartha Lakes, promises to have the most successful season in its history this year. Since the opening of the fishing season there has been a steady influx of visitors, and many parties are booked for the next few weeks. The Eastwood hotel has been renovated since last season, and in addition to its other advantages, is now equipped with a modern acetylene gas plant, an improvement that is being generally appreciated by the guests at this popular resort. Fishing in the vicinity of Buckhorn has been exceedingly good ever since the season opened, and some big catches, both of lunge and bass, have been made. The American visitors have been meeting with great luck, and as a result the guides are being kept busy.

Among the recent arrivals at the Eastwood House, are William Prise, Pittsburg, Pa.; W. W. Plankerton, Milwaukee, Jas. C. Stewart, New York; Alex. M. Stewart, New York, George R. Hall, Erie, Pa.; H. A. Perkins, J. H. Shaw, Cincinnati, O.; F. A. Rolph and Mrs. Rolph, Toronto; Miss Haney, Toronto; Ernest R. Rolph, Toronto; George Rouse, Cleveland, O.; Dr. Hill, R. Yates, C. Yates, Rochester, W. M. Phillips, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Conway, Rochester, Graham Parsons, Rochester.

The Lakefield Picnic A Delightful Event

Over a Thousand People Gathered on the Exhibition Grounds—Rev. Father Phelan's Annual Picnic Crowned With Success—Young's Point and Lakefield Parishes Combined—Interesting List of Sports—The Addresses.

The weather conditions and good fellowship mingled happily together yesterday in making the Lakefield picnic under the auspices of Lakefield and Young's Point Roman Catholic churches one of the most successful in the history of these popular annual events. The well laid plans of Rev. Father Phelan, the parish priest all converged to the one point —success—and he is certainly deserving of a great deal of credit for his energetic labours in planning such a delightful event as yesterday's picnic proved to be.

Notwithstanding numerous other attractions, the Lakefield Exhibition Grounds were covered with a big crowd which assembled early in the day. Fully 1,100 persons passed through the gates during the day and all were hospitably received by Rev. Father Phelan and his coterie of willing workers from the Lakefield and Young's Point parishes.

The Dining Room.

Nothing but praise can be said of the eatables provided by the ladies of the parishes. Two large and neatly arranged tables in the skating rink on the edge of the grounds were laden with various tempting foods, replenished every half hour and all partaking of the dainties were made to feel at home. One of them was in charge of the Young's Point and the other in charge of the Lakeparishioners and all strove to hospitably entertain those who sat round the festive board.

Two booths erected on the grounds were the centre of attraction for a considerable number of the picnickers —probably more due to the smiling faces and geniality of those who handed out the delicious refreshments. One of these was in charge of Misses Lottie and Jennie Kearney and Mr. Halpin of Young's Point and the other was looked after by Misses Josie Phelan and Etta Garvey and Mr. Wm. Leahy, of Lakefield.

The Light Fantastic.

A large platform was specially erected for the dancers. Youths and maidens were noticed to congregate there in large numbers and while away a pleasant few minutes in going through the many whirl of the dizzying dances. On an elevated platform near by was seated the orchestra composed of Miss Margaret Kearney and the Fanning Bros. The music was all that could be desired and had the effect of dispelling any tired feeling that the dancers may have experienced. The directors of ceremonies in the dance were Messrs. Frank Young and M. Allen, whose reputations in that capacity are very well known.

The Irish jigs were a feature of the afternoon programme and witnessed by as many as could comfortably crowd around the platform. Mr. platform. Mr. Harry Kearney, of Young's Point was the best dancer on the grounds and carried off first prize in the jig. Master J. Spencer won the boys' prize.

The Sports.

The chief of the sporting events was the Bridgenorth—Quaker football game which was followed closely by hundreds of interesting spectators. The handsome silver trophy donated by Rev. Father Phelan to the winners was carried home by the Quakers who won the hard fought victory by the close score of 1—0. The goal was scored in the first half by Huston. Both teams were evenly matched and furnished some rare sport for the onlookers. The teams lined up as follows:—

Bridgenorth—Goal, Forsyth; backs, Forsyth, Cloons; half backs, Brumwell, McQuarrie, Cullen; forwards, Joplin, Forsyth, Cullen, Mann, Kelly.

Quakers—Goal, McFadden; backs, Simpson, Evans; half backs, Deforege, Fitzgerald, Gibbs; forwards, Baker, Sullivan, Huston, Armstrong, Crough.

Referee—Mr. Cornish, Lakefield.

Winners of the Sports.

100 yds. dash—D O'Brien, J Gillogly.

200 yds race—D O'Brien, Wm Milburn.

Boys' race, 12 years and under—Harry Ayotte, Nugie Phelan, Elrick White.

Boys' race, 15 years and under—H Crough, H. Armstrong.

Running hop, step and jump—Shelley McIlmoyle, D O'Brien.

Long jump—Ben Simpson.

Putting the shot—Tommy Deforge.

The tug-o'-war was another interesting contest. The Cement employees were pitted against those of the saw mill; the latter proved the more muscular and narrowly won the cigars. The committee in charge of the sports and to whose energy their success was due was composed of Messrs. Harry LeBrun, Thos. Forbe, Wm. Rudkins and Harry Phelan.

The Addresses.

At the conclusion of the sports addresses were delivered by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, Bethamore; Rev. Father Bretherton, Hastings; Mr. Davidson, Lakefield; Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M. P.P., and Rev. Father Phelan.

Mr. F. J. Moore, Reeve of Lakefield, occupied the chair, and introduced the various speakers. He complimented Father Phelan on the success of the picnic. The large attendance showed the popularity of these annual picnics and he was sure all had enjoyed themselves. As Reeve of the village he welcomed the visitors to the village as he was satisfied many of them would find it such a pleasant place to reside that they would make homes for themselves and become permanent citizens. The village was growing every year and he hoped that the prosperity of the village would be such as to satisfy its people. He had pleasure in introducing the first speaker, the Rev. Father Fitzpatrick.

Father Fitzpatrick.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick expressed his pleasure at being present. He was glad to see all classes and creeds present to spend a pleasant afternoon. He had enjoyed himself and he hoped those present had done likewise. There was no room in Canada for any distinction of class or creed and he congratulated Father Phelan on the popularity of his annual gathering. He would not detain them with a speech. He would satisfy himself by hoping that the day which had been a pleasant one would be as enjoyable to the large gathering. They and the satisfaction of participating in an entertainment the proceeds of which would be applied to a good object—the work of the [illegible].

Father Bretherton.

Rev. Father Brethertonof Hastings, said he hadn't come to make a speech. He merely came to show his kind regards to Rev. Father Phelan and his parishioners. The day was all that could be desired. The surroundings were a most agreeable observer. The sports were enjoyable—in fact everything was so good that all could not help but feel satisfied. He congratulated Father Phelan and hoped that all succeeding picnics would be equally successful.

Mr. Bradburn.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., who had just arrived from the lakes, was the next speaker. He expressed his pleasure and congratulations to Father Phelan on the success of the picnic. He was glad to see that the weather had turned out satisfactory and he hoped that the results would be equally so. He had not intended making a speech, and concluded in expressing his pleasure, represented by the enjoyment of the day.

Mr. Davidson.

Mr. Davidson, Manager of the Traders Bank, Lakefield, joined with the other speakers in the general congratulations on the success of the picnic. He was glad to see the large attendance—the receipts would be equally large, he hoped and he trusted the expectations of the Reverend Father would be realized. He had known Father Phelan but for a few years in comparison to the other speakers, and he could bear testimony to the many kind things that had been said. He believed they were all deserved. The ladies of the parish had provided bountifully and when every thing passed off so pleasantly, it made things very satisfactory for those who had the responsibility in their hands.

Hon. J. R. Stratton.

Hon. J. R. Stratton, upon being introduced, said he always felt at home among the good people of Lakefield. He was honoured with an invitation by Rev. Father Phelan to be present at his picnic, and he was glad of the invitation. He could hardly realize that Father Phelan was the boy he patted upon the head in Peterborough only a few years ago. He had developed into a sober, sadate, dignified priest. From what he could see he was in danger of making his people commit a mortal sin—one could see they almost worshipped him. Father Phelan was appreciated for his sterling worth by all classes of the community, and he deserved it, for he was always considerate and appreciated the views of others.

Well, Mr. Stratton said, he had been asked to speak. He hardly knew what to say. The day was a beautiful one; the picnic was attended by large numbers; the sun was shining brightly; the games had passed off splendidly; the ladies had supplied the tables with all the delicacies of the season; the receipts of the afternoon would be appreciated —what more could be desired? This was Dominion Day anniversary — a lovely day for a picnic. The Canadians were all proud of Canada—no matter what their original country. In all respects Canada is the best country in the world—with a good all round climate, a splendid form of government, with general thrift and prosperity, an absence of poverty, a moral law-abiding people, a good living for all who will work, freedom of speech and liberty of conscience, and every thing that can conduce to comfort, prosperity and happiness. Then what more do you want? This ought to be abundance. We are a nation. We feel we are. Thirty-nine years ago we became one—when Upper and Lower Canada and Nova Scotia and New Brunswick were united. On the 29th of May, 1867, the act was passed, and on the 1st of July, came into force. So we are celebrating the birthday of our nation. But we have grown since then. We were only fourpr ovinces then; now we are nine. In 1870 Manitoba was made a province. In 1871 British Columbia was admitted. In 1873 Prince Edward Island, the tiniest of them all. In 1880 all British North America was added to the Dominion, making a total expanse of 3,745,574 square miles; while the area of the British Empire was only 11,154,393 square miles. So that the sea of Canada is nearly a third as great as the total area of the greatest empire of the world. The area of England, Ireland and Scotland was only 120,947 square miles. It would take thirty countries like the British Isles to cover Canada. The Dominion's nearly four millions of square miles contains a vast collection of resources and given room for homes for millions. When we look back upon the progress we have made since Confederation, what, with our resources, will the progress be during the next forty years?

Figures, he said were dry, but we have had to handle them lately that a little dryness in the shape of a few figures might not be unwelcome. Especially when they show how our country has progressed. Our total revenue in 1867 was $12,500,000, now nearly $80,000,000. Our total trade was in 1867 one hundred and twenty-three millions, now is five hundred million—over $60 per head — the greatest per capita trade of any country, except Great Britain. We had then 3,500 post offices, now two thousand. We wrote then eighteen million in 1902, last year two hundred and seventy millions. We had bank deposits of sixty-one millions, and last year we had nearly four hundred and sixty-six millions. We had at Confederation 2,000 miles of railway and now over twenty thousand miles. The Canadian-built Railway receipts last year amounted to almost one half the total receipts of the country at the time of Confederation. This shows how Canada has grown in its resources—with the Grand Trunk Pacific and a general railway construction of branch and main lines, we will have over two hundred millions of dollars expended for this purpose alone in the next seven or ten years. It all means increase of farm production, increased traffic, increased population and increased wealth to all. He merely mentioned these things to let us see that Canada is no mean country, and that we had no reason to be ashamed of the land we live in. He concluded by referring in a complimentary manner to the reverend gentlemen and the chairman, and trusted ever one would have a pleasant day.

Father Phelan.

Rev. Father Phelan said he thanked all for their presence. They had endeavoured to make the day an enjoyable one, and he hoped they had succeeded. He thanked the speakers for their kindly remarks, which, he said, were altogether too flattering. He had endeavored to improve the conditions round about him, and if he had been successful and his parishioners were satisfied, he was thankful. The various committees had worked faithfully and he desired to thank all those who took part in any way for their kindness. The parish was a small one and required care and economy, and the success which was attending their efforts was appreciated very much by him. The day had been all that could be desired, and he thanked the reeve and various speakers for the inconvenience they had put themselves to to be present to promote the success which had been attained.

The speaking came to a close with cheers for Father Phelan, the various speakers and the King.

Rev. Father Phelan desires to express his especial thanks to the large number from Downeyville, Dours, Emmamore, Peterborough and Lindsay, who were present and contributed so largely to the success of the picnic.

The gross financial receipts amount to the handsome sum of $900.

Locals Won From Lindsay

Ball Game Resulted in Decisive Victory for Whitcroft's Team.

Yesterday afternoon those who assembled at Riverside Park saw the best baseball game of the season. The Y.M.C.A. from Lindsay were down and easily succumbed to Fred. Whitcroft's picked team by 8 runs to 0 and the local boys had also an innings to the good.

"Bud" Swaneton and Parnell was the local battery and their phenomenal work seemed to mesmerize the visitors.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Lindsay—Ferguson and Sugget, c.; Emmerson, p.; F. Moyses, 1b.; Menzies, s. c.; Hart, r. f.; Haddard, c. f.; Perkins, 3 b.; [illegible], l. f.; F. Moyses, 1 b.

Peterborough — Parnell, c.; Swaneton, p.; Sheridan, s.s.; Trainar, 3 b.; Whitcroft, 1b.; Derocher, c. f.; Doherty, r. f.; McWilliams, l. f.; Swaneton, p.

Score by innings:—

	R.	H.	E.
Lindsay ...	0	0	0
Peterborough	3	7	1

Summary:—

Three base hit, Sheridan; two base hit, Whitcroft; struck out—by Swaneton, 10; by Emmerson, 9; base on balls—Off Emmerson, 1; double play, Sheridan to Whitcroft to Shaw; left on bases—Peterborough, 4; Lindsay, 4.

Umpire—W. Galley. Time—1.20.

THE WINNER OF THE SCHOLARSHIP

The scholarship in connection with Mrs. Morrow's recital last Monday night was won by Miss Mollie Young, Reid street. Miss Young was successful in disposing of the $60 worth of tickets—the required amount—her to obtain the honour.

Croup Absolutely Cured.

"There is no remedy in my opinion that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup absolutely in one night. We gave him a dose when he was black in the face with choking. It gave instant relief and cure." — Mrs. [illegible], 49 Wright street, Hamilton, Ont.

57th Regiments Trip To Telephone City

ed as well as the beautiful residential sections, the Institute for the Blind and the old Mohawk church and Indian school. This was a most enjoyable feature of the trip and thoroughly appreciated by the visitors.

There are Sunday cars in Brantford—not the city's car line, but the Grand Valley Railway Company's line operating between Brantford and Galt, taking in Paris on the way, and a large number of the visitors, including some of the lieutenants of the regiment took in the trip to Galt, and spent the afternoon and evening with friends. It proved to be a very pleasant 20 miles run along the valley of the Grand River, through one of the best agricultural districts in the province.

MAJOR HAMILTON,
Paymaster Dufferin Rifles.

The Band Concert.

Glowering skies, portending showers of rain, made the number of persons going to the park to hear the Sacred Concert given by the 57th Band considerably smaller than it would have been had the weather been more promising. However, fully 3,000 persons gathered and listened to a most delightful sacred Concert, rendered under considerable difficulties, one of the most annoying of which was a sputtering electric arc light, which finally became unbearable, the Bandmaster deciding to omit the most important number on the programme, the overture, "Poet and Peasant," after some of the numbers had been played in partial or complete darkness.

The public, however, showed their appreciation of the work of the band in no uncertain manner, and that they enjoyed the programme given was amply evidenced, each selection being greeted with warm applause. Indeed the whole trip was a series of triumphs for the band of the 57th, the citizens and soldiery of Brantford declaring that it was the finest band that had visited the city in years. The men went away to bed early on Sunday night to prepare for a big day's programme on Monday, and at 10.30 all were glad to obey the order "Lights out," and turn in.

Monday's Programme.

Yesterday opened bright and warm—and continued so, particularly the latter—during the day. After the clouded skies of Saturday and Sunday, however, it was welcome though and was appreciated.

There were many attractions outside the city for the holiday, but judging by the crowds of persons who turned out to see the soldiers, not many of the citizens decided to spend the day away from home. In the morning the men were given the liberty of the city—and took it—but they were well behaved, and after a brief interview with Chief Skenan, in which the latter told the boys that they could do as they pleased, only that he wanted to have the city standing where it was — he was heartily cheered, for the speech, too—they set out to make themselves at home—and succeeded. They did it in their usual good-natured way, and the Brantford people took it philosophically, and seemed to enjoy it — including the man who got rid of his goose for $3, the purchaser being a member of the bugle band.

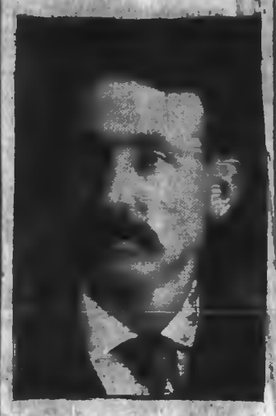
The city turned out en masse in the afternoon to witness the military parade, and the regiment acquitted itself most creditably in the march past, in which the 38th and the 2nd Dragoons also participated, the latter troop being mounted. After a parade through the streets of the city, both sides of the line of parade being crowded with citizens, the troops returned to the park, where the march past took place, the reviewing officer being Lieut.-Col. Miller and the Brigadier Lieut.-Col. Cameron, Major Stevenson commanding the 57th, and Major Ashton the 38th, during these manoeuvres, which took place before several thousand people, the 57th coming in for a good share of their applause.

Trooping the Colours.

After the march past Lieut.-Col. Miller again took charge of the regiment, and the colours were trooped, the 57th executing the movements incidental to this exercise in a most creditable manner, eliciting rounds of applause from the spectators. The men carried out the various intricate movements in connection with the trooping with a precision which would have done regulars credit, and after the regiments were dismissed, Colonel Miller was very warmly congratulated by the officers of the 38th upon the splendid training of the men under his command.

After the trooping the officers held a reception in a marquee on the camp grounds to the officers of the 38th and 2nd Dragoons, and their ladies, during the progress of which the band rendered a choice programme of music.

An interesting feature of the afternoon was a baseball match played at the park, after the military manoeuvres, when a game between two teams in the city known as the Waterloos, and 38th Regiment teams, being the contestants, and it is an interesting fact to record that the 38th team, the battery of which was composed of two former Peterborough men, McCabe and Shea, ran



CAPT. G. W. BENNETT,
Who Acted as Quartermaser of the 57th During the Trip.

victorious. Dan McCabe's work on the slab was a feature.

The evening was the usual last night — everyone who has seen a visiting regiment knows what that means. The men were now thoroughly acquainted with the men of the 38th, and were escorted around the city by them, at least those who have not formed the acquaintance of some of the fair Brantford damsels are. The whole city was out on the streets to see the fun—and they were not disappointed—there was plenty to see.

The officers spent a few pleasant hours with the officers of the Rifles at the latter's mess in the armouries, and at 9.30 o'clock the march — which later resolved itself into a series of good-byes, as the boys said farewell to their new-found friends along the route, was commenced.

The train was boarded, and, amid parting cheers, pulled out for home, the return trip being practically a repetition of the "going journey, the city being reached at an early hour, and the trip of the 57th regiment for 1906, had passed into history, the memory of one of the most thoroughly enjoyable outings in the life of the regiment only remaining.

Bugle Blasts.

Capt. Bennett who acted as Quartermaster during the trip, in the unavoidable absence of Capt. Eastwood, was a busy man. He did his work well, and proved himself a most capable officer.

The boys of the Bugle Band captured a goat somewhere in the suburbs of the city yesterday and at once installed it as the mascot of the regiment. The intention in securing the animal no doubt was that with it no "butting in" ticket would be necessary.

The Band of the 57th was an eye-opener to the Brantford people. On every hand were heard enthusiastic remarks on their playing, which the people said was the best heard there in years. They deserved all the praise too.

The Brantford Expositor on Saturday gave a whole page to the Peterborough Regiment, publishing cuts of the officers, of the regiment. By an oversight the cuts of Capt. Walker and Capt. Eastwood were eliminated, and it is pretty hard to say which was the maddest man.

Thro' a Modern Food Factory

One Who Has Been and Seen Tells of Interesting Methods and Machinery.

MAKING PURE, CLEAN FOOD.

We had the pleasure recently of meeting a friend who had just returned from a trip to Battle Creek, Mich., and were much interested in his account of his visit to one of the world's great food factories. Many of our readers eat Malta-Vita and will probably be interested in knowing just how it is made.

The Malta-Vita factory is an enormous institution, well lighted, perfectly ventilated buildings, and situated on the outskirts of a city famed for its beauty.

Built on a high point the factory has a wide and unobstructed view and an undiminished supply of pure air.

"One might think," said the man who had been there and seen, "that the handling of so much wheat in the factory would cause considerable dust. This is not the case. At any rate the factory is free from any sign of dust. Whatever dust there is does not get into circulation in the air, but is carried away by suction through great pipes to the furnaces, where it is consumed. The factory is just as clean a place as I ever saw, and after you see Malta-Vita made you want to eat it all the more."

Machinery That's Human.

Malta-Vita, "the only malted whole wheat food, is made simply from the whole grain of the finest Red White wheat, pure barley malt extract of the highest digestive value, a little salt, and nothing else. The first step in the process is the cleaning and scouring of the wheat.

After this the wheat is boiled in water for about fifteen minutes and then steam-cooked for an hour or more. By this time the starch of the grain is gelatinized and partly prepared for the action of the malt extract.

Hot and wet when it leaves the cookers, the wheat is cooled and the moisture dried off its surface in special cooling machines in which big fans suck out all the heat and moisture. The next step in the maturing of the cooked wheat in the storage bins. This is a highly important part of the Malta-Vita process.

Malta-Vita is Never Tough.

You may have eaten tough flaked foods. You never ate tough Malta-Vita. Malta-Vita is always short and crisp. The maturing of the wheat is the reason. When it is fully matured the walls of the starch cells have been broken down. Then the wheat is mixed with malt extract and rolled into flakes, and the starch, instead of being confined in the cells, is exposed to the digestive action of the malt extract. Everybody knows that starch in its natural form is hard to digest. The malt extract converts the starch of the wheat into maltose or malt sugar, a most easily digested food element which physicians everywhere recommend because of its strength-giving value.

Baked in Three Story Ovens.

The malted wheat is conveyed, mechanically, through rollers, each grain of the wheat becoming a little wafer flake, and carried into one of the three-story ovens, where it is baked in an intense heat. In each oven there are eighteen moving trays, and the Malta-Vita, beginning with the top tray, is dropped to each successive tray, until, fifteen minutes later, it reaches the last, at the bottom. Thus it is being turned constantly and is always thoroughly and evenly baked.

Leaving the oven, Malta-Vita passes slowly down long chutes where trained inspectors are on the lookout for any evidence of over-baking or under-baking, and soon the finished product just as you receive it from your grocer, is being run into the big card-board boxes, through a machine which fills each box, with the exact amount required—"not a flake more, not a flake less," as the young woman in charge of the machines said. These filling machines are typical of all the wonderful, modern machinery in the Malta-Vita factory — they do things just as they should be done, and they do things which it would seem almost impossible even for Twentieth Century machinery to do.

Filling the Packages.

Each Malta-Vita carton, or package, before being filled, is lined with a paraffine sack which keeps the food dry and crisp. The filling machines fill the cartons at the rate of twenty-five every minute. From the sealing machines they go to the packers, who fill the cases for shipment, thirty-four packages to the case. The cases go direct to waiting cars on the Malta-Vita company's own trucks for shipment to grocers everywhere.

The Way of Escape

By JOANNA SINGLE

Copyright, 1906, by P. O. Eastwood

John Kingdon was thoroughly angry. He pulled his cap over his eyes and rushed down a side street to escape Bradford, whose cheerful whistle seemed to be just behind him. He did not want to be pestered to play cards or golf or be pulled to the country club dance. He wanted solitude and his pipe and a chance to wonder why on earth Elizabeth Treynor should suddenly refuse to have anything to do with him after she had golfed and picnicked and sang with him all summer and after she had succeeded in getting him thoroughly in love with her.

He felt ill treated. He did not fall in love easily and in general he did not care for western girls, being a Connecticut man, Yale trained and Europe finished, before settling to practice medicine in the mid-west. Elizabeth was different, and as he reflected on the difference between her and all other girls in the world he heard Bradford whistling at the Treynor side gate for Jack and then asking if Kingdon were there.

Kingdon slipped over the fence in the twilight and clambered up the first conveniently low branched tree. Panting but triumphant he heard Bradford's account of how he had chased Kingdon and lost him somewhere, and that he wanted him to take Nell Somers to the dance they had just got up on the spur of the moment. And where was Jack's sister? Bradford wanted to ask her to go with him.

Startled by the sound curiously like a suppressed snicker Kingdon decided to climb higher. He reached up for a branch above him and seized a small, warm slipper that gave his hand a little kick.

"Keep still, can't you, and let go my foot?" a whisper admonished him. He looked up and saw Elizabeth sitting high and dry on a horizontal branch, swinging her feet and peering toward the house. "Sh-sh," she warned again, for her brother Jack and Bradford came into the garden.

"Elizabeth!" Jack called. Then: "Confound girls anyhow! She was here five minutes ago, and her wraps are in the hall. She must be near." On the strength of Elizabeth's chuckle Dr. John Kingdon climbed up and sat beside her. Her gray suit made her almost invisible in the growing dark, but he knew by heart the blue of her eyes, the rich brownness of her hair and the coldness of her manner to him of late.

"What are you doing here?" She tried to get hauteur into a whisper and failed.

"What you are—escaping Bradford evidently. I wouldn't go to the dance because you were to be there."

"Thanks," she replied. "Neither would I because you were to be there. That's why I'm here. One has to explain to Richard Bradford, and he always wants to know why."

"I'd like to know why myself."

"Oh, be still. Why doesn't he go?" whispered the girl, for the eternal triangle was under their feet and lighted his pipe.

"Don't wait for me, Jack, old man. I'll wait around a bit, and if she doesn't show up I'll come out alone."

"The confounded idiot!" Kingdon whispered and put out a protecting hand when she seemed to sway a bit. She froze instantly, and he dared not venture excuse or protest.

The darkness had increased, and when the moon came sailing up Bradford swore at his luck and departed, clicking the gate behind him.

"Now, Dr. Kingdon, I think you can make your escape."

"But I don't want to—now! May I not stay long enough to apologize for intruding on your tree solitude?" He spoke softly, with a delicate clipping of the r's. His fine, dark face bent toward her. "I have not meant to persecute you, but you did not answer my letter. I will never trouble you again, but will you not be fair enough to tell me just what I have done? You could do an enemy that justice!" To his surprise she grasped his arm.

"Father and mother!" she murmured. "You'll have to stay. I couldn't explain to them why I am here!" Kingdon hardly breathed, for she forgot to loosen the blessed hold on his sleeve.

Mr. Treynor walked in portly pompousness beside his anxious little wife.

"Elizabeth worries me so," she complained, and they seated themselves on a rustic bench. "She's so difficult! I can't lay it to college and her trip to Europe, for she was lively till just of late. Now she doesn't enjoy society and is getting interested in the poor. And what do you suppose is her reason for refusing to have anything to do with that nice Dr. Kingdon and"—

"Some fool notion," her father grunted.

"And taking up with that Bradford? I hope she won't marry him. I don't care if we have always known him—he doesn't seem quite nice. Well, he told Elizabeth that Dr. Kingdon said at the club that western girls hadn't reserve enough—that he disapproved of co-education because it made girls too free and easy with men and a lot of stuff like that!"

"She needn't be a fool if he did. He never meant it for her."

"No. I'm from New Hampshire, and she has lived there half her time during the last six years. I wonder where she is now? Probably at Anne's. She's safe enough. Jo, if you're going to sleep we might's well go in. I don't like talking to the air, and I don't like Dick Bradford, and I wish the children were home. Listen to that, now!" Two men, laughing and yelling, drove past in a cart at a furious pace.

"It's Sam Brown," continued Mrs. Treynor. "I wish they didn't live next door. He's sure to kill some one sooner or later. He'll come back drunk about midnight and chase the family outdoors. I think the public ought"—Her voice died away as she entered the house with her husband.

Then Kingdon turned and faced the still, proud girl beside him. She held her head high, her beautiful face full in the moonlight.

"Is that true—what your mother said? Is that why you treat me so? Won't you be fair enough to tell me?"

"Well, yes," she admitted. "I don't like being called underbred. It's not true, and you wouldn't like it yourself."

"It was a careless statement, exaggerated by Bradford, and made when he had met only a few girls of the Molly Racer type. You know perfectly well that it never applied to you in my mind or anybody's. I saw at a glance that you were thoroughbred—that you added to the older culture of the east the frank courage and honesty of the west; that you had the poise to be a law unto yourself—and unto me. Oh, I shall finish now, for I shall never speak to you again till you say you wish me to. You are a girl I could adore and be proud of, east or west. I would bear anything for one willing word of love from you. You know me—my pedigree, education and behavior—the best of their kind. I haven't much money, though I shall have, but I have pride—as much as you."

He paused. Elizabeth looked straight at him.

"I was unfair, and I am sorry. I want you to"— A furious rattle of wheels, a sound of cursing and yelling, and Sam Brown's cart careened dangerously as the terrified horse crashed into the fence just beneath. Kingdon started to leap down, then caught the girl's face to his breast and covered her ears with his hands to spare her the sight and sound of the drunken brute being dragged to death.

The horse broke loose and dashed away. A crowd gathered, and Kingdon whispered, "Stay here—I'll be back in a moment and get you down." He slipped down into the alley and out into the crowd.

In about twenty minutes—ages to the girl—he again scrambled up beside her.

"I did what there was to do—told them the life had gone out. He never knew what struck him. It's undertaker's work now. This has been miserable enough for you. Let me help you down and to the house." As she did not speak he looked at her. She laughed and held out her hand.

"Will you speak to me—now that I ask you to? You are—the nicest man—I know." She took his hand and climbed down, he after her.

"Wait," he commanded, swinging down before her. "I shall lift you down." She was just in easy reach of his arms. "And—another thing—I want you to—kiss me!"

His masterfulness took her breath.

"Why should I?" she laughed at last.

"It's improper—reason enough for a western girl!" he teased.

"Impertinent and won't stand," she decided. "Another reason."

"Well, Elizabeth—do it—because you want to."

He held out his arms, and she could not find it in her heart to deny him.

Jean Ingelow and the Nightingales.

One evening at dinner Jean Ingelow confessed that though she had often written poems about nightingales, she had never heard one sing. Every one commented on this as extraordinary, and we agreed that a poetess' imagination was a marvelous gift, but we determined that not another night should pass without remedying this grievous omission. It was in May, and about 9 o'clock we led forth Miss Ingelow to the lime avenue, where the nightingales were singing in scores. We all held our breath to listen as one after another, far and near, broke into song. Presently Miss Ingelow asked anxiously: "Well, are they singing yet? I don't hear anything." It transpired that, being a Londoner and uncertain of unknown shrubberies on a chilly spring evening, she had defied drafts by the simple expedient of putting cotton wool in her ears before venturing out—at least, she said it was on account of drafts, but I thought at the time and still think that her determination to be betrayed into nothing that could savor of sentimentalism had had something to do with it. However, she never minded being chaffed about it and enjoyed the joke as much as any of us.—G. B. Stuart in Lippincott's.

Sea Gulls as Pirates.

There may be an advantage in birds living in colonies, but I cannot see how any other birds would want to live near a colony of gulls. A gull in his own country will steal like a politician and murder like a pirate. They swarm about us like vultures after a battle. The minute our approach drove a murre or cormorant from its nest the saintly looking scalawags swooped down to eat the eggs and young. While the gulls are freebooters and robbers on the island, it is only when other birds are frightened from their nests that they have a chance to carry on their nefarious trade. Eternal vigilance is the price the latter pay for their eggs and young. Except when they are frightened by the approach of some person, their possessions are never left for an instant without a guard. But the fittest manage to survive on the rocks, and these gulls are the most useful birds in the bays and rivers about the waterfronts of our cities. They are valuable as scavengers and should be protected in every way. Three of them are equal to a buzzard. Ten of these gulls are equal to a pig.—The World Today.

Why the Devil Has Cloven Hoofs.

Legends of the devil are quite common in Ireland, but the one which is most interesting and least known perhaps is that which tells why the prince of the infernal regions has split hoofs, like those of a cow beast. Moore alludes to the legend in his story of St. Kevin and Kathleen at Glendalough. In that story Moore makes St. Kevin throw his former ladylove over the cliff in order to be rid of her importunities, but the peasants of the Glendalough district give the story a more poetical touch. They insist that it was not Kathleen that was thrown over the cliff, but that it was Satan, who had assumed the form of the lady in order to tempt the saint. The moment the prince of evil toppled over the edge of the yawning abyss he spread his batlike wings and sailed away in safety, much to the surprise of the holy saint. Later on the devil again attempted to lay a snare for St. Kevin, but the saint managed to get the arch fiend on holy ground, where, of course, he was helpless. While the devil was in this helpless condition Kevin saved off his legs and attached cows' hoofs to the stumps. Since that day Satan has been cloven footed and will be until the end of time.

European Jiu Jitsu.

A French teacher of boxing points out that an art of self defense approximately equivalent to jiu jitsu was known in Europe in the seventeenth century. Its principles are expounded in a work by one Nicolas Peters, published at Amsterdam in 1674 and bearing the lengthy explanatory title: "The art of wrestling and how one can protect oneself in all kinds of quarrels that may occur; how one can with agility and rapidity repel all unfair attacks and meet one's adversary with science." The work is illustrated. The author apparently anticipated many of the characteristic grips of the Japanese exponents of today.

An Island City.

Greater New York consists of forty-five islands. It might be called the Island City. Read the names of some of the larger: Manhattan Island, Long Island, Staten Island, Hart's Island, City Island, Riker's Island, North Brother Island, South Island, Blackwell's Island, Randall's Island, Ward's Island, Berrian's Island, Governors Island, Barren Island and Coney Island. Many small ones in Jamaica bay have large names. One inland island, Marble Hill, near Kingsbridge, has been made by the government channel cut through on the Harlem river improvements.

Usually Effective.

"Sometimes," said the merchant, "I feel like the poet who wanted a lodge in some vast wilderness. I yearn for solitude and silence."

"Well," replied his friend sympathetically, "it's an expensive taste to gratify, but you might start in by taking your advertisement out of the newspapers."

TUESDAY, JULY 3, 1906.

Campbellford's Inauguration Day

Procession was organised and paraded the principal streets, and was composed as follows, and in the following order:

15th Regiment Argyle Light Infantry, Belleville, preceded by the brass and bugle bands.

Carriage containing Town Council and town officials.

Carriage containing Percy council.

45th Regimental Band, Lindsay.

Float consisting of a miniature of the True Blue Orphans' Home, Picton.

The local Lodge of True Blues.

Float of the Woodman of the World, consisting of a rustic log cabin.

Float representing the Campbellford dairy industry, with a real live Jersey cow in evidence.

A wagon containing a load of cheese and cheese boxes.

The Cheese Board of Trade.

Floats of the Trent Valley Woollen Mills, with two looms in operation.

Graham & Little, blacksmith shop in operation.

Chas. Smith, flour mills, with a juvenile staff fantastically attired in grain sacks.

Thomas Bros., grocers.

Fire department, hooks and ladders.

Benor Bros., box works.

Dickson Bros., bridge works.

And several other very creditable trade representations.

After the procession the immense crowd looked after dinner, and, to the credit of Campbellford, there is not known an instance of any of the great throng being unfed. Provision had been made for feeding the multitude, and the enterprise of the hotels and eating houses, temporary and permanent, and the hospitality of private citizens was equal to the urgent demands of the occasion.

About 12.30 the rain began to fall heavily, and the hopes of Campbellford were below zero, but the rain ceased, and at about 2.30 the inauguration proceedings began at the grounds.

After a series of military evolutions by the 15th Regiment Argyle Light Infantry, under command of Lieut.-Col. Helliwell, Mayor Doxsee without preliminary, thanked the people for their attendance, and called upon the chosen speakers of the day.

Hon. Dr. Willoughby tendered his congratulations upon the added dignity the village had assumed, and pointed out the larger responsibilities this advance to a town represented. He spoke of the greatness of the water powers as a factor in future progress. Peterborough was growing fast, and Campbellford might soon be as large a manufacturing centre. Being a town would attract capital and would make Campbellford the busiest, as it was the prettiest, town in Ontario. He concluded by calling upon Mayor Doxee to declare Campbellford a town.

The band played "God Save the King."

The Mayor declared Campbellford a town and amidst loud applause and their hearty cheers, the band playing "The Maple Leaf Forever."

Mr. E. Conbrane, M.P., also offered his congratulations, and in speaking of the power advantages of the town, said that the people of Ontario did not realise their own resources.

Mr. E. Gus Porter, M.P., in a few pleasant remarks, brought the congratulations of West Hastings and added his own.

Mr. E. C. S. Huoyke, after offering his most cordial congratulations, remarked that he had the advantage of previous speakers, while they had possibly a good deal of the "old boy" about them, it was not the right kind. He was a Campbellford old boy himself and had delightful recollections of his school days in the village. He congratulated the new town upon its promising future and the great success of the inauguration of its new dignity.

After remarks by Mayor Ewing, of Cobourg, members of the Council, Aldermen Abernethy, McNeil, Irwin and Cassan gave brief addresses.

At the conclusion of the speaking the Lindsay Band, under the capable leadership of Mr. W. H. Roenick, gave a programme of several selections, performing with especial good effect, taste and expression Rossini's Tancredi overture.

The Sporting Side.

Then the sports and races went on. The juvenile game of baseball between Campbellford and Peterborough, went to the new town by a score of 7 to 4.

The game between the Campbellford new boys and the old boys was won by the former, which rather unhospitably turned down their guests by a score of 13 to 9.

The result of the next game. The Charlotte Street Guild League champions, defeated the Campbellford nine by a score of 8—2. The champions shut the Campbellfords out completely at the beginning—the score was Ranney's Falls, and the first infourth innings.

The trotting races were not very exciting as races, but had rather lively fights by play on the part of two of the drivers. The races were well conducted by the following officials: Judges—Messrs. C. L. Owen, A. A. Mulholland, F. Peake; starter, Mr. G. A. Hay. Timers—Messrs. T. Stephens and C. S. Gillespie; Clerk of the Course, J. B. Ferris. The track was heavy and the time slow. Following is the summary:

The 2.40 Class.

Electric Girl, W. Dunsan	3	2	3
Little Girl, Jas. Elmhirst	1	1	1
Little Will, Arthur Elmhirst	2	3	4
Little Jar, R. J. Munro	4	4	2

Time—2.37, 2.38, 2.38.

The Named Race.

Gracie Pointer	1	1	1
Miss Paisley	2	2	2

Time—2.31 1-2, 2.31 1-2, 2.30.

The Place, Past and Present.

Campbellford's age is about sixty years. It was settled in the early fifties and was then known as "The Brgidge," though it derived its name from its first important settler, Major Campbell, a British officer, and the ford in the river that then existed at this point. The first site was Ranney's Falls, and the first industries were saw mills and flour mills. The village was incorporated in 1876 and in less than the generation that has elapsed it has grown to a population of nearly three thousand and the dignity of a town. Campbellford has splendid water power and its best citizens say that there is water power for development within a radius of five miles 40,000 horse power and great hopes are entertained of making the place a great manufacturing centre, and of this hardly 20 per cent. is developed and is used by several important industries, the Trent Valley Woollen Mills, flannels and light tweeds; Northumberland Paper Mills, Weston Shoe Company, Dickson Bros. Bridge Works. The flour mills of Mr. Chas Smith, capacity 125 barrels per day, has perhaps a special interest for Peterborough citizens, for Mr Smith is a Peterborough old boy, having learned his trade as miller in the flour mills standing, in the early fifties, on the present site of the Peterborough Canoe Company. The old handfire engine "Brittania," that was used in this city, is now stowed away in Campbellford as a piece of venerated junk. James Benor & Son, and Mayor Doxsee conduct flourishing sash and door factories. The commercial interests of the town are well represented, and the citizens bear their new new departure with pride and great hope for a future development and growth. The present officials of the town, who automatically blossom out from reeve and councillors into mayor and aldermen, are: Mayor, W. H. Doxsee; Aldermen A. H. McKeel, J. A. Irwin, D. J. Abernethy, C. H. Cassan. Town Clerk, E. C. West.

The town of Campbellford is now a full-fledged town, a place worthy of the title, and a title well suited the place. Campbellford and Peterborough have a firm feeling of mutual regard and esteem. Campbellford sets up this city as a standard which in a few years it hopes to reach. It is to be hoped that this aspiration may be realized. The town has had a good beginning. The inauguration was a tremendous success. The ceremonies and programme were carried out without a hitch, except the slight delay caused by the rain and the committees entrusted with the organiation of the affair deserve great credit for its success.

Anglers' Club Had Enjoyable Outing

C. G. E. Crowd Holidayed at Lovesick Lake—Fishing Was Good—Some Amusing Incidents in Connection With the Camp.

The C. G. E. Anglers' Club had one of the most enjoyable outings in the history of the organization, during the last three days. Lovesick Lake was the spot chosen by the death-on-fish crowd who encamped near the lock and proceeded to make themselves at home at once. The advance party consisting of Messrs. J. J. McCabe, P. Byshe, "Scotty" McGee, H. Latimer, Percy White, W. Greenwood and J. C. M. Wilson were on hand on Friday morning and had the camp in good order for the remaining anglers who arrived Friday night. They were composed of Messrs. John Trombley, the popular chef, J. A. Brown, T. Walker, J. Tompkins, —. Perrot, A. Larocque, J. Grose, J. Richardson, and Chas. Quinn. The party were met at Burleigh Falls by their comrades and here the first incident of note occurred. Messrs. Perrot and McGee went for a stroll on the concrete dock, evidently mistaking it for a pavement, but the walk terminated suddenly, when the two disappeared over the edge of the dock into lake. The anglers made a noise like a theatre panic and their splashing could be heard for miles. A rescue party headed by Jack McCabe arrived on the scene and with the aid of a derrick succeeded in hauling the unfortunate pair to terra firma.

Mr. Perrot displayed a marked fondness for water. On another occasion when he was washing in a pail on the wharf at camp, someone did a shunting act that deposited the angler out into the lake.

The club had a very enjoyable time during their sojourn at Lovesick. Even the disagreeable weather and the mosquitoes could not dampen the spirits of the crowd. Saturday was a terrible day in camp. The rain came down in torrents all afternoon and a miniature Johnstown flood drove the anglers out of their canvas homes to seek something more substantial. The popular Lovesick lockmaster, Mr. J. McFarlane, kindly put his cottage at their disposal and they had to stay there during the night. The members of the club have nothing but good words to say of Mr. McFarlane, who entertained them regally. During the storm Messrs. Wilson and Byshe rusticated in the ice-house. The members are unanimously agreed that the output of mosquitoes at Lovesick has all previous records backed into a corner. They were there in millions, big as bees and hungry as tramps. After their experience with these ferocious man-eaters, the following bulletin was hung out at headquarters:—

"Examination in patience."—C. G. E. Anglers, 3 Job.

Jack Wilson proved to be the prize-winning fisherman. He corralled a twelve pound lunge and incidentally the box of cigars presented by W. O'Brien for the biggest fish caught. Jack McCabe landed several lunge, but none weighed as much as the prize winner.

An amusing story is told of Mr. Perrot. On Saturday morning he went out trolling and shortly after was found by some of the party fast asleep in the bottom of the boat with his trolling line firmly clutched in his hand. Several others of the party were equally guilty.

Mr. Brown was outclassed, as a fisherman. He was on the water all the time but got nothing save a bad attack of sunburn.

The chef had a busy time in guarding his property against the onslaughts of a hungry colt. The animal started in by eating a side of bacon and ended up with the chef's dish towel and last shirt. His promiscuous lunching, however, has caused great distress among

Sunday he swallowed a temperance paper and has since gone dry.

Scotty McGee's singing was a feature of the camp. He kept things on the move all the time.

Altogether the trip was a great success and the only regret of the members was that it was over so soon. The members returned to the city yesterday.

OBITUARY.

MRS. CLARENCE FITZGERALD.

The many friends of Mrs. Clarence Fitzgerald, will learn with deep regret of her death, which occurred at noon to-day, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Hannah Smith, after an illness of six weeks, during which time he suffered from tubercular peritonitis. The late Mrs. Fitzgerald was 21 years 6 months of age, and was married two and a half years ago to her now sorrowing husband, who with a twenty months old child, is left to mourn her death. She had two brothers, Ernest and Russell, and one sister, Miss Daisy.

The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her parents' residence, 6th line Smith, to the Little Lake cemetery.

ROBERT FREDERICK BUNTEN.

Much sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Bunten, 32 Parnell street, by their numerous friends in the death of their little child, six months old on Sunday. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon to the Little Lake Cemetery, Rev. Mr. Brace conducting the services.

ROSE IVY BASSETT.

The death occurred yesterday of Rose Ivy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basset, 34 Parnell street at the age of one year and six months. The funeral took place this afternoon to the Little Lake Cemetery. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Major, of All Saints'.

CRY OF "FIRE" CAUSES MUCH CONSTERNATION ON STEAMER

Much ado about nothing" suddenly caused great consternation among the jolly crowd of excursionists on board the steamer "Stoney Lake" yesterday evening which marred to some extent the full pleasure which the day should have occasioned. The steamer had just hauled in the ropes at Juniper Island to begin the downward journey when a mud port in the boiler blew out. Some steam and water escaped and some idiotic smart Aleck called "fire." Several ladies fainted and the life preservers were pulled down and buckled on, readoy for a plunge should the flames have spread. About 300 were on board who soon became a struggling, frightened mass dispairing of their lives.

The cause of the trouble and its smallness was quickly explained and in a few minutes quietus reigned again.

Had the boiler been cool a remedy could have been effected in ten minutesutes and the fire was pulled out of the furnace for this purpose. The distres whistle was blown and in the meantime the Ajax tug hove in view and towed the steamer to Lakefield where the boiler was repaired.

THE WEATHER

The rainfall of Saturday last, if it did not constitute a record for Peterborough, came very close to it. The official figures are 2 inches and 34-100 of an inch on the level. This has not been exceeded but once in many years. The rainfall for the month of June was also more than twice the usual depth, being 6 inches and three-quarters of an inch on the level. This equals 675 tons of water on each acre of land in Peterough during the month of June!

Jerking of the Limbs.

"Before using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I could not sleep, had no appetite, hands and feet were cold, my digestion was poor, and I had jerking of the limbs. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has made a radical change in my condition, building up the system and strengthening the nerves." — Mr. William Brenton, Victoria Street, Strathroy, Ont.

Buffalo Man Has Good Luck

Captured His Share of the Elusive Finny Creatures.

Mr. Frank Measure, of Buffalo, who has been spending a holiday at the Lakeview House, Young's Point, left for his home yesterday, the proud possessor of fifteen bass and four lunge. This was the result of two days' fishing in Clear and Katchawanooka waters and is a record hard to beat. The biggest lunge weighed 15 lbs. 3 oz.—the whole lot tipping the scales at 102 lbs.

Mr. Measure believes he has made the record one-man catch of the season, and went home yesterday with a smiling countenance.

ANOTHER HELLO LINE FOR CITY

The Garden Hill correspondent to the Port Hope Times, says:—

"One of the speakers at the Ladies' Institute was surprised to find such an up-to-date people with so few telephones and remarked that in a great many places nearly every one had a telephone. Arrangements are under way to unite the telephone system of East Durham with that of West Durham. This will be accomplished in a very short time then every subscriber will have free connection with several hundred 'phones, which will be a boon to business men. It is expected that the great trunk line of the Provincial Independent line will reach Orono and from there extend to Garden Hill with connections in Millbrook, Port Hope and Peterborough where Independent 'phones are giving excellent satisfaction. Several large crates of telephones arrived at Garden Hill station yesterday for the independent lines.

Friends and fellowmen, let me remind you that it is very warm and the sooner you provide yourself with the means of being cool the better. Now at B. Y. MOYES you can get all sorts of cool Summer Underwear, Blouses and Neckwear for prices that are simply cheap.

Seventh T. A. S. Picnic Was Grand Success

Over 2000 People Gathered at T. A. S. Park on the Otonabee Yesterday—The Winners of the Various Sporting Events—Steamer Made Five Trips.

Favoured by perfect holiday weather the excursion under the auspices of St. Peter's T.A.S. to T.A.S. Park yesterday was by long odds the most successful in the history of the society. In point of numbers and of enjoyment no excursion held by the T. A. S. in the seven years of its existence has come anywhere near equalling that of yesterday. A low estimate of the crowd on the grounds is placed at 2,000 people. The beautiful T.A.S. Park, which was chosen by the society as the spot for the picnic prominently suited for such a purpose. It is situated about five miles down the Otonabee on a pretty point and has splendid shade.

Some idea may be formed of the crowd when it is known that the steamer Water Lily had to make five trips down to the park, taxed to its capacity on every occasion. The first started at 8 o'clock. In addition to those who came in the steamer many went down to the spot in canoes and other small craft while the people of the surrounding country drove there in large numbers. Returning the Water Lily commenced her trip at 4 o'clock and the last one was made at 8 o'clock. The committee desire to thank Capt. White and his crew for the courteous and efficient way in which he handled the big crowd. The street railway people provided extra cars and the committee are grateful to Mr. Larmonth and Mr. McCann for the splendid service given. Previous arrangements had to be cancelled in view of the surpassingly large proportions of the crowd.

The excursionists had a pleasant time at the grounds where every arrangement had been made for their comfort and amusement. Messrs. Robert W. Chambers and Jas. Chambers the owner and tenant respectively of the T.A.S. Park were on the grounds all day and did everything in their power to enable the crowd to have a good time.

The clergy present were Rev. Father McColl, Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Rev. Father Kelly, and Rev. Father O'Connel. Rev. Dr. O'Brien was on the first boat to go down and the last to leave. He was everywhere on the grounds and interested himself in the amusement of the people.

The programme of sports resulted as follows:—

Girls under ten—1, Myrtle Wolfe; 2, Madeline Hickey.

Girls, 12 and under—1, Mary May; 2 Muriel O'Dotte.

Girls, 16 and under—1, May Rose; 2 Myrtle Wolfe.

Girls, 20 years and under—1, Muriel O'Dette; 2, K. Crowley.

Boys, 10 years and under—1, R. Sullivan; 2, F. Eano.

Boys, 12 years and under—1, Ray Rose; 2, V. O'Connel.

Boys, 16 and under—1, F. Eano; 2, R. Sheehy.

Boot Race—1, R. Cassan; 2, F. Dunn.

Three-legged race—1, T. Cronin and L. Brooks; 2, Sheehy and Giroux.

Men's race, 100 yards—1, T. Cronin; 2, George Gauthier.

100 yards, T. A. S. members—1, L. Brooks; 2, Huffman.

200 yards race—1, L. Brooks; 2, Howrigan.

100 yards, married men—1, T. Cronin; 2, L. Brooks.

Married men over 45 years—1, Geo. O'Hern; 2, M. J. Hickey.

Standing broad jump—1, Angelsy; 2, J. Corkery.

Running broad jump—1, Angelsy; 2, J. Corkery.

Three quick jumps—1, Angelsy; 2, Corkery.

Running hop, step and jump—1, Corkery; 2, Angelsy.

Standing high jump—1, Angelsy; 2, Jones.

Running high jump—1, W. Cahill; 2, Jones.

The tug of war contest between the married and single men was won by the Benedicts.

Step dancing, best lady and gentleman—1, Mr. L. Mulaney and Miss V. Legree; 2, Mr. M. English and Miss Cadigan.

The contest for the largest family on the grounds was won by Mr. A. O'Dette, with a sum total of twelve. Mr. C. P. Murty and J. Hickey tied for second place with ten. Many other families were there with eight and there doesn't seem much danger of race suicide.

The committees in charge all worked like Trojans to make the affair a success and their efforts were crowned with success. The officers of the general committee were Messrs. C. P. Murty, Chairman; J. Maher, secretary; and J. Primeau, treasurer.

The management of the excursion, as well as the excursionists, has reason to very cordially recognize the kindness and consideration of the Messrs. Chambers, owner and tenant, in connection with the property used for the occasion. Both were on the grounds and made themselves very pleasant and obliging and extended courtesies outside of what could be demanded as a right in connection with a business transaction.

Auburn Picnic Was Big Success

Many People Took in Trip to the Lakes Yesterday.

It was a large and jolly crowd which went with the Auburn Methodist Sunday School on its annual picnic up Stony Lake yesterday. At 8.30 in the morning, accompanied by the Salvation Army Band, the excursionists boarded the long train at the G. T. R. station for Lakefield. There were eight coaches on the train which was a double-header, and the run to Lakefield was made in quick time. As soon as the pretty little lake town was reached the Auburn people with their friends boarded the steamer Stoney Lake.

The band took up its position on the bow of the top deck and there they rendered an excellent programme of sweet sacred and secular music. Several sacred songs and hymns were sung in which many of the passengers joined. This was by no means one of the minor features of the trip, for the Army Band is a splendid musical organization.

A number of stops were made on the trip and those on board were given an opportunity to get dinner on land or to patronize the stores or to chat for a while with friends who had gone up before.

The Stoney Lake covered most of that body of water from which it derives its name. It was an enjoyable outing and the day was well spent.

Steer Ran Amuck On George Street

Exciting Episode Broke Up the Stillness of the Holiday.

About the only excitement in the city yesterday was caused by the manoeuvres of a herd of cattle that were being driven up George street to be weighed at the market scales. One steer in a holiday humour made a dash at a woman standing on a corner and the situation looked dangerous. The Bovril producer, however, stumbled on the pavement and fell, after which several men dropped on him and held him. There was considerable difficulty in getting the animal on his feet. The cattle belonged to Messrs. Alex. Gordon and Wm. Kemp.

Endless Annoyance and Misery.

"As a man of seventy years I am grateful to God and to Dr. Chase's Ointment for a cure of piles which has caused me endless annoyance and much misery. The itching and burning was almost beyond endurance, but Dr. Chase's Ointment brought quick relief, and I believe that the cure is lasting." — Rev. Wm. Thomas, Brownsville, Ont.

WEDDING BELLS

TURNER—GARROW.

A quiet wedding took place this morning at 9.30 at the residence of Mr. Jas. Garrow, 462 Park street, when his daughter Miss Elizabeth, was united in the bonds of matrimony to Mr. Reginald Turner, son of Mr. J. J. Turner, Rev. Dr. Torrance officiating. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few of the relatives of the bride and groom who were unattended. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a dainty wedding breakfast spread on a nicely decorated table. Many handsome gifts were received by the bride and groom who are very popular among the young people of the city. They left on the 11.45 G.T.R. train for Port Hope and other points, and on their return will reside on Gilmour street.

BRUNDRETTE—HALL.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at All Saints' church, at 5.45 o'clock yesterday morning, when Miss Ellen Alberta Hall, daughter of the late Frederick Hall, was united in marriage to Mr. Albert Edward Brundrette, formerly of Peterborough, and now of Toronto. Rev. Mr. Major performed the ceremony in the presence of a few intimate friends. The young couple, who were unattended, left on the 7.20 train for Toronto, where they will reside at 130 Seaton street. Both have a host of friends in Peterborough.

RITCHIE—BROOKS.

A quiet wedding was performed at the Bishop's Palace on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. Dr. O'Brien, the contracting parties being Mr. Thos. Ritchie and Miss Blanch Brooks, daughter of the late M. A. Brooks. The witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Brooks, of this city. After the wedding the usual dejuner was partaken of at Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Simmons', Chambers street. Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie will reside at the corner of Brock and Park streets.

EXCURSION OVER THE LIFT LOCK

To-morrow St. Paul's Sunday School excursion goes up to the pretty park at Dam No. 5, on the banks of the Otonabee. The steamer Water Lily leaves the Wolfe street wharf at 1 o'clock, going over the lift lock which is again ready for operation.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, July 3.—Further liquidation and continued pressure from the bear interests made the whole market soft early this morning. Interboro was particularly weak, while Steel Preferred declined to a new low level for the year. The market was not very broad and actively was confined to a dozen specialties. The London market was quiet.

About 11 o'clock Reading advanced two points, starting some short covering elsewhere which gave the market a firm appearance. Penna rallied smartly as did B. & O., U. P., St. Paul and Copper.

In the afternoon a break of over four points in like Securities and a sympathetic decline in B. R. T. caused some recessions but the general market continued firm. The grain market showed more firmness to-day with wheat, corn and oats all up.

Considerable strength was shown in the late trading on short covering and the close was quite strong. Holiday to-morrow and all exchanges closed.

Nervous and Worried.

Mr. Archibald Sutherland, Principal South Bar School, Sydney, N.S., writes, "I was greatly troubled with nervous dyspepsia, and after meals I often felt like vomiting, and my stomach was sore. I was nervous and worried, frequently had headaches and shortness of breath. When several doctors failed I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and it has entirely cured me. I shall be glad to be the means of bringing this medicine to the notice of any one who is suffering as I did."

Kirkfield Farmer Murders His Wife, Then Kills Himself

Duncan McArthur Shot His Wife Yesterday Morning—Took His Own Life Later—No Reason Can be Assigned for the Deed—Has Shocked the Whole Community—He Left Note Telling of His Plans.

The Lindsay Post of yesterday had the following special despatch:—

Kirkfield, July 2, 1.30 p.m.—This morning a horrible tragedy occurred a few miles south of this village. Duncan McArthur, a well-known farmer, aged about 35 years, and his wife, some years younger, were found dead outside their home, the indications being that McArthur had first killed the woman and then committed suicide.

The horrible affair has shocked the entire community, following so closely upon last winter's tragedy, and people are asking each other the question, "What next?" McArthur and wife attended Gleanarm picnic together yesterday, and appeared to enjoy themselves. They drove back by way of this village, McArthur desiring to hire a man named Bell to work for him. The bargain was made, and this morning Bell walked to the farm, about two miles south, to begin his duties.

The man approached the house by way of the garden, and there he came upon a sight which will remain with him to his dying day—the body of McArthur with the whole top of the head blown off. An old shotgun, owned by McArthur, lay with the muzzle between his feet, and close by was a stick that had probably been used to explode the charge.

Thinking the deed had been done unknown to the wife, Bell hurried towards the kitchen, and just outside the door came upon the body of McArthur's wife, which presented an appearance even more repulsive and sickening than the one just left, the whole left side of the face and head being torn away. Bell then turned and ran back to the village, and gave the alarm, whereupon the authorities and others proceeded to the spot. A note in McArthur's handwriting was found, in which he stated, among other things, that he had stabbed his wife at 7.40 a.m., and intended shooting himself at 8.15. Coroner Dr. Wood, of Lindsay, has been summoned, and there may be interesting disclosures at the inquest this evening.

No plausible theory can be advanced to account for the dreadful incident. McArthur was a temperate man, and so far as known the couple lived lovingly together. They were married about two years ago, the wife being a daughter of Mr. Neil Brown of this village, and highly respected.

Children Narrowly Escape Drowning On McDonel St.

Force of Water Heaved the Sidewalk—Rescued Just in Time—Ald. Hicks' Wood Yard Partly Submerged—The Second Little Flood This Season.

Ald. Hicks' wood-yard for the second time this season was a miniature lake last night. The recent heavy rains dragging down sediment from the Smithtown hill choked up the outlets into the creek, and made Mr. Hicks' yard a reservoir for the surplus water. The force of the water running through the drain beneath the sidewalk, from Aylmer to Bethune streets on McDonel street, heaved up several boards and made a gaping and dangerous hole. Two little children were just on the verge of tottering into the deep drain when rescued. The road and sidewalks on McDonel street were so submerged that pedestrians were forced to go around the block. Children were paddling on rafts in Mr. Hicks' yard. Here also lumber and other material was floating about in two or more feet of water. Cellars in that vicinity were partly filled with water, and a number of things were destroyed.

This is the second time this year that the same conditions have existed in that section of the city, but the spring freshet did not do so much damage as the water last night.

This morning the little flood had disappeared again, but the destruction was left in the wake. Residents of that portion of the city whose premises were affected, believe it pretty nearly time the city authorities would look after the improvement of the condition of the creek and sewer as a protection against a third occurrence, and it is probable some steps will be taken to remedy the evil.

Fire Alarm System Was Exhibited To Aldermen

Non-Interference Fire Alarm Telegraph Was Seen in Operation—Some Advantages Which the System Possesses Over Others.

Mr. Alexander Anderson, of Toronto, the manufacturer of the National Fire Alarm system, was in the city yesterday for the purpose of explaining the working of his system to the members of the Fire, Water and Light Committee. It is the intention of the committee to call for tenders in a short time, and Mr. Anderson desired them to see his system in operation before this step was taken.

The committee met in the city clerk's office at 3 o'clock, when there were present, in addition to Mr. Anderson, Ald. Adams, Elliott and Duncan; Chief Rutherford, of the fire brigade, and City Engineer Hay. Mr. Anderson had his apparatus installed on the wall of the room, and with the aid of a battery was able to show the committee just how the box operates.

The National system is sometimes known as the non-interference fire alarm telegraph, and is the same as used in Toronto and other Canadian cities. A feature that distinguishes it from the old style of fire alarm boxes is that it is non-interfering and permits of only one alarm being sent in at once, thus preventing the confusion that would sometimes arise. The committee were greatly impressed with the system. The mechanism of the box is simple and works easily without the slightest hitch. By pulling down a slide in the box an alarm is sent in which rings the large gongs in the fire station and pump house, small bells in the houses and alarm in the city clock. The of the firemen, and also strikes a gen- box is equipped with fuses which prevent destroyed by lightning or by the line crossing a high voltage wire.

Chief Rutherford expressed himself as impressed with the system, which Mr. Anderson claims has advantages over the Gamewell system, an exhibition of which was seen here some time ago.

MACKENZIE AND MANN VISITED PETERBOROUGH

Mackenzie and Mann, the railway men, were in the city last night and to-day. These men are not the famous Dan Mann and William Mackenzie, but they are their namesakes, and are in the same business. "A. C. Mackenzie and A. R. Mann," was the way they registered at the Oriental last night on their arrival by the ten o'clock G.T.R. flyer. Mr. Mackenzie comes from Beaverton, and Mr. Mann from Toronto.

This morning they were driven along the proposed route of the new C. P. R. line from Peterborough to Lindsay, and from there they took the train for the west.

The object of their visit could not be learned but the fact that they are railway men and that they bear names identical to the two greatest Canadian railway magnates lends interest to their visit.

BIG WOOL PURCHASE BY A LOCAL FIR

The woollen industry cannot be in such a bad condition after all. The Lethbridge Herald of this week has the following item which is an indication of the satisfactory condition at least of the local woollen mills:

"Jas. Kendry, ex-M.P., the Peterborough Woollen Mills man, made a big purchase of wool this week. He secured the shearing of about 30,000 sheep, taking the output of the ranches of Messrs. Gray, Harper, Chipman and Young Bros. The price paid is not announced. Mr. Kendry and Mr. Seigel leave for the Coast to-night."

Nervous and Worried.

Mr. Archibald Sutherland, Principal South Bur School, Sydney, N.S., writes, "I was greatly troubled with nervous dyspepsia, and after meals I often felt like vomiting, and my stomach was sore. I was nervous and worried, frequently had headaches and shortness of breath. When several doctors failed I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and it entirely cured me. WEDNESDAY, JULY 4, 1906.

BRING THEM IN.

The letter from a resident of North Monaghan, published in another column, regarding the route of the proposed extension of the C. P. R., illustrates, or, at least, calls attention to, the certain degree of absurdity of the action of some border residents of that township in asking the City Council to divert the route. In the first place, the action is somewhat selfish. If the line is to be built it must be placed somewhere—cut through the city east of the boundary, pass where the residents referred to object, or pass through the township further west, where our correspondent, on behalf of his neighbours, objects to its being placed. The building of the proposed line will be for the advantage of the city and the general advantage of the county, but wherever it is placed, it will disturb existing conditions and be objectionable to somebody. The application of the deputation to the City Council is a natural action, but they have no more claim, by right, than residents of the township further west, and if the City Council do anything—and its ability in this direction is doubtful — one part of a municipality outside of the city has as much claim as another. If the residents now close to, but outside, the boundary were in the city, than the latter would be, in duty bound, to act, supposing action would do any good. This suggests the advisability of this part of the township being added to the city limits. The whole range of property adjoining the western limits of the city, from Jackson Park to St. Peter's cemetery, should be annexed to the city. The residents possess, to a certain extent city privileges—access to the water and sewer systems, etc. Their property is increased in value by the building which is going on up to the boundary. In the southern parts, the township property next the city is being divided into building lots. The city is growing westward, and it seems only fair that property made valuable by the enterprise of the citizens should pay a fair proportion of the advantages it derives from being in contact with city conditions. It hardly seems fair that a man having a house on the east side of the boundary should pay 18 or 20 mills on the dollar, while a man with a house 66 feet distant, but outside the boundary, and with almost equal advantages, should escape with a rate of five or six mills. The township property along the boundary is increased in value by the improvements alongside, within the city. The outside man has the value of his property indirectly increased at the expense of his city neighbour, and directly by the fact of low taxation—with the enjoyment of city privileges—permitting him to undersell the owner of building lots on the city side of the boundary. If the township residents want to have a valid and real right to the good offices of the city in diverting a railway route or otherwise, they can gain it by being brought within the city limits. A few years ago Park street was the western limit of the city. Now, the most thickly populated or, if not already, rapidly becoming so—part of the city is west of Park street, and a further extension is called for by including the range of properties along the township side of the western boundary.

Mr. W. McIlroy's Mother Died Very Suddenly

A Highly Esteemed Lady Passed Away in Her Husband's Arms at St. Thomas--Was for Twenty-three Years Resident of That City.

Mr. W. McIlroy received word yesterday of the sudden death of his mother in St. Thomas, the Journal of that city giving the following particulars of her sad demise:—

Death came with tragic suddenness to Mrs. Grace McIlroy yesterday afternoon at five o'clock. Deceased, who has been an invalid for some months, while being assisted from her chair to her bed by her husband, without uttering a word fell dead in his arms. She had been a resident of St. Thomas for the past twenty-three years, coming here with her husband and family from England, and was in her seventieth year. Previous to leaving England she had spent a number of years in various parts of the British Empire with her husband, who was army officer on foreign service. Besides her husband, three sons and one daughter survive: Wm., C. P. R. agent at Peterborough; Edwin, London, and Frank, Liverpool, Eng., and Mrs. W. Hayden, city. Mrs. McIlroy, this city, is a daughter-in-law. A most estimable lady, she had a wide circlee of friends in the city who will regret her sudden demise. The funeral takes place on Thursday from the family residence, Cathcrine street, to St. Thomas Cemetery.

Some Bouquets From The Brantford Press

What the Papers of the Telephone City Have to Say of the 57th Regiment—The Best Looking and Best Behaved Regiment That Ever Visited the City—People Are Greatly Pleased With Conduct of the Peterborough Men.

That the men of the 57th Regiment created a favourable impression on Brantford, is indicated by the references made to them in the papers of that city.

The Courier pays them the following tribute:

"The best looking and best behaved regiment that has ever visited Brantford is the general verdict with regard to the 57th Regiment of Peterborough. From Col. Miller down they all proved themselves to be right good fellows and although they had plenty of fun they did not in any single instance violate the hospitality which was being showered upon them on all sides.

"The visitors proved themselves to be a fine lot and during their stay in the city and in their fun along the streets they did not do one thing to create any damage, and there was no misconduct in any way. From first to last they proved themselves to be a credit to Peterborough and Brandforditcs are not only proud to have had them as guests but sincerely hope that they may come again.

"Chief Slemin reports things were very quiet yesterday. The visitors, he says caused the police no annoyance or trouble whatever. 'The Peterborough boys certainly know how to behave themselves when away from home,' he remarked."

10,000 SQUARE FEET OF NEW BILL BOARD SPACE

Mr. Walter Stocker is erecting 10,000 square feet of bill boards in preparation to handle the rapidly increasing business which he expects this fall. He states that all the bill-board advertisers are increasing their space, and he finds it necessary to provide this additional accommodation. The Barnum and Bailey people will use considerable space and at the same time the commercial paper has to be taken care of.

This fall will see the largest amount of bill-board advertising in the history of that form of publicity, the big advertisers supplementing their newspaper business pullers by outside advertising.

A WILD STEER SCARES THE LAKEFIELD CITIZENS

Mr. William Stabler, the local hog and cattle buyer, had quite an experience with a wild steer at Lakefield yesterday. Mr. Stabler was bringing a load of cattle from Smith to the yards at the Grand Trunk station, Lakefield, when the infuriated animal revolted and made a dash for liberty in the canal waters, just below Hull's mill.

Many methods were applied to entice or compel him to come ashore, but without avail. Swimmers were sent out to drive him towards the banks, but he turned on these, and forced them to take refuge on the shore. Finally he was lassooed, and with the strength of six men, was dragged to the bank, and after a stubborn resistence taken into camp.

The experience was of an exciting character, and intimidated a number of the Lakefield residents for a few minutes.

ONE OF VICTIMS OF WRECK WAS WELL KNOWN HERE

Readers of the papers yesterday were horrified to learn of the railway accident at Salisbury, England, by which three Canadians lost their lives. To a number of Peterborough people, however, the news came as a peculiar shock. The late Rev. E. L. King, who was one of the victims of the accident, was quite well known in this city, and preached here no longer ago than last Lent, taking one of the Wednesday night services in St. John's church for Rev Canon Davidson, of whom the deceased was a close personal friend.

Miss Davies' Work Praised

Mail and Empire Says She is on Brink of a Great Future.

The Mail and Empire's report of the Commencement Recital of the Toronto Conservatory of Music has the following reference to a Peterborough young lady who will receive hearty congratulations upon what Peterborough people will regard as an expected success:—"The programme itself, rendered by the most distinguished pupils of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, was a pleasurable one, not only to the novice, but the blase concert-goer. Unquestionably the event of the evening was Miss Helen Davies rendering of "Hear Ye, Israel," from Mendelssohn's "Elijah."" Miss Davies has been heard here on two occasions as soloist of the National Chorus, and her teacher, Dr. Albert Ham, conducted the orchestra last night. Her splendid declamatory style and pure diction were evidenced, as well as the broad, beautiful and thrilling quality of her voice. Miss Davies is obviously a singer on the brink of a great future."

Mr. Stevenson's Niece's Death

Late Mrs. Jos. Finlay Frequently Visited Here.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson received word yesterday of the death at Oak Park, Chicago, of his niece, Mrs. Finlay, who had frequently visited in this city, being well known here. The following despatch from Guelph tells of her death:

"There are many people throughout the counties of Wellington and York who will regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Finlay, widow of the late Jas. H. Finlay, who was for many years manager of the Bank of Montreal branches in Goderich and Guelph.

"The deceased lady was noted for her kindly heart and the generous hospitality she exercised. Her death was not unexpected during the past week. For a year she had been an invalid. The death took place at Oak Park, Chicago, on Dominion Day. She leaves three sons and one daughter to mourn her loss. The sons are Mr. Alfred Finlay and Mr. Hector Finlay, of Chicago, and Mr. Gilbert Finlay, of Vancouver, and Miss Mollie Finlay of Chicago."

The deceased was a sister of Mr. Arthur Cross the well known Chicago millionaire.

The funeral takes place this afternoon from Christ church, Whitby, to the Whitby cemetery.

Bowel Troubles of Childhood

It is impossible to exaggerate the value of FRUIT-A-TIVES as a medicine for children. They contain no alcohol — no morphine or cocaine—no dangerous drugs of any kind.

Fruit-a-tives are fruit juices—concentrated and combined with the most valuable tonics and internal antiseptics known to medicine.

Fruit-a-tives are free of calomel, cascara, senna and the host of violent purgatives that simply act by irritating the bowels. Fruit-a-tives are made from fruit and tonics and are pleasant to take, and so mild in their action that they never gripe or pain.

During the summer, when children are so apt to eat improperly, mothers should have a box of Fruit-a-tives always handy.

At the first sign of Diarrhoea, Indigestion, Headaches, Biliousness, Peevishness, Vomiting — give Fruit-a-tives according to directions. These splendid fruit liver tablets will instantly correct faulty digestion—clean and sweeten the stomach—regulate the bowels, kidneys and skin — and so invigorate and strengthen the whole system, that the little ones can quickly throw off the temporary illness.

Belleville Cheese Board.

—The Belleville Intelligencer says: There was quite a little breeze at the local cheese board on Saturday, when one buyer complained that another buyer had violated the rules of the board by a personal canvass of salesmen after bids were made but before they were accepted. The president ruled that the objection was well taken, and ordered that the offence be not repeated. This naturally caused a little flurry, and there were some recriminations, but everything eventually resumed a peaceful aspect. The highest price paid was 11 1-2c.

WEDDING BELLS

HARDILL–RUTHERFORD.

A charming Marguerite wedding was celebrated at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Mr. Thomas Rutherford, 25 Union street, when his second daughter, Miss Ida, was united in marriage to Mr. George Nelson Hardill, formerly of Peterborough, but now of Huntingdon, West Virginia, and son of Mr. Wm. Hardill, city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Crothers, pastor of the George street Methodist church. The guests in attendance numbered about seventy-five, including many from outside points.

The nuptial knot was tied beneath a handsome arch of marguerites. This pretty flower was widely used in the decoration of the house and the whole had a very artistic and striking effect.

The bride was given away by her father. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Annie Hardill, sistor of the groom.

The young bride looked charming in a very handsome gown of cream silk colienne over taffeta. She carried cream roses. The bridesmaid, her sistor, Miss Sadie Rutherford, was attired in a pretty gown of white cream over pink taffeta, and her bouquet was of pink roses. Little Miss Ruby Sharpe, the bride's cousin, acted as flower girl and wore a pretty dress of creammull. Another little cousin of the bride, Miss Madiline Rutherford, was ring bearer, and was attired in a becoming dress of cream silk. Mr. Bert Hardill, of Toronto, cousin of the groom, was best man.

The ceremony was followed by a delightful wedding dejeuner, at which many congratulations were offered and good wishes exchanged.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardill left on the 5.15 C.P.R. train on a wedding trip to Toronto and other western points, after which they will go to Huntingdon, West Virginia, to take up residence. The bride's going away gown was of blue broad cloth with a Tuscan hat trimmed with Mulberry.

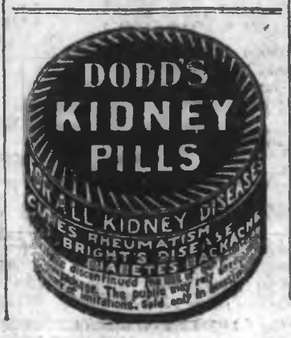
The presents received were numerous and expensive, affording ample proof of the popularity of both contracting parties. Mr. and Mrs. Hardill have a host of friends here and elsewhere who will join in congratulating them and in hoping that prosperity will ever be with them.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold watch and chain; to the bridesmaid, a pretty gold bracelet; to the groomsman, an old English gold coat ring, and to the flower girl and ring bearer, handsome rings.

Among the guests from a distance were Mrs. Reid, Toronto; Mrs. Janes, Mitchell; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hardill, Toronto; Mr. Will Wilson, Galt; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Burnham, Toronto; Miss Lena Melrose, Guelph; Miss Jessie Bennett, Toronto; Miss Elma Purvis, Obatham; Mrs. E. H. Fogarty, Port Hope; Miss Jessie Vair, Galt.

MOORE–LANGLEY.

The wedding was solemnized by the rector of All Saints' church, Toronto, yesterday afternoon of Mr. Ethelbert Moore, Glenn's Falls, N. Y., to Miss Millie M. Langley, daughter of Mr. Joseph Langley, Toronto. The nuptials were quietly observed. Miss Flo Langley, the bride's sister, acted as bridesmaid, while the groomsman was Dr. Edmison, of Hastings. The young couple left last evening on a wedding trip to eastern points. They will reside in Glenn's Falls, N. Y. Mr. Moore is a son of Mrs. Mary Moore, city, and a brother of Mr. Ira D. Moore, of the American Cereal Company's office staff.



Over Seventy Years a Resident

Andrew Montgomery Passed Away at Advanced Age of 92 Years.

In the death of Mr. Andrew Montgomery, 210 London street, at noon on Monday, the city lost one of the oldest and most respected citizens. Mr. Montgomery was born in Belfast, Ireland on Dec. 3st, 1814, and came to Canada when but a boy. His parents settled in Smith township in 1830 and the deceased lived in Peterborough County ever since. He was well known both in Smith township and in Peterborough, where he removed in 1879.

The deceased was prominent in municipal affairs in Smith township and served his fellow citizens also as a representative on the township council for several years. Many years ago he was married to Elizabeth Bradon, who predeceased him about a year and a half. In 1903 they celebrated their diamond jubilee. Three sons and six daughters are left to mourn his loss. The funeral which was private took place this afternoon to Little Lake Cemetery.

OBITUARY.

JOHN J. CALLANANE.

Word has been received here of the death in Syracuse of John J. Callanane, son of a former well-known Peterborough citizen. His father was at one time proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, and afterwards of the Southern House. The Syracuse Stat says:

John J. Callanane died at the Hospital of the Good Shepherd at 10.15 o'clock last night, aged 22 years. Mr. Callanane is the conductor who was injured on a Lakeside car Sunday evening. After he fell from his car he never regained consciousness; death resulted from concussion of the brain. Mr. Callanane was a graduate of St. Michael's College, at Toronto, and came to this city to live about four years ago. He had been connected with the Syracuse, Lake Shore and Northern Railroad for the last three years, and was highly thought of by his employers. He was a member of the Skaneateles Branch of the C. M. B. A., the Holy Name Society of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception and of Salt Springs Lodge of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Callanane, he is survived by two brothers, Edward and Daniel Callanane, and four sisters: Mrs. W. J. Walsh, and the Misses Minnie, Josephine and Margaret Callanane, all of this city. The body was removed to the family home, at No. 215 Baker street, last night. The remains will lie at the home until 10 o'clock to-morrow night, when they will be taken to Dundas, Ont., for burial.

SCOURING YOUR SCALP

Will Remove the Loose Dandruff Scales But It Won't Cure Dandruff.

If your hair is brittle and thinning, you have dandruff. The mere scouring of the scalp of the loose scales won't cure dandruff, because dandruff is nothing but scales of scalp being thrown up by a pestiferous little germ in burrowing its way to the root of the hair, where it sap the vitality, causing falling hair, and in time baldness. Now, you can't stop dandruff nor falling hair, nor prevent baldness unless you destroy that germ; and the only preparation that can do it is the new scientific discovery, Newbro's Herpicide. In fact, no other hair preparation claims to kill the dandruff germ—all of them will clean the scalp; soap and water will do that, but only Newbro's Herpicide gets at the root of the trouble and kills the dandruff germ. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

THIS HORSE DROPPED VERY SUDDENLY

Mr. Albert Crouter's horse suddenly collapsed on Charlotte street this morning while tied in front of a residence near Lewis street. Mr. Crouter untied the animal and assisted it to its feet. When it "found its pipe" again it did not seem to be weak or unsteady in the least. The cause of the horse's sudden collapse is unknown.

A PRETTY MATRON OWES HEALTH TO PE-RU-NA.

MRS. ANNA N. KAISER,
Had Suffered Severely From Pelvic Catarrh—Cannot Praise Peruna Too Highly—Read Her Letter.

MRS. ANNA N. KAISER, Two Rivers, Wis., was a sufferer from pelvic catarrh to such an extent that she could scarcely do her own work. In describing her symptoms, she wrote:

"I have such terrible backaches and pains below my shoulder blades, way down my back and across my hips, and at times pains in the pelvic organs, so that I am not able to lie down or sleep. I also have pains through my left side and am afraid I may be getting heart trouble."

After taking Peruna and following Dr. Hartman's instructions for several weeks, Mrs. Kaiser reported as follows:

"I feel much stronger and do not get nervous as I used to. The pain is entirely gone, except when I work a little too hard. The medicine has done me wonderful good. I am taking Peruna and Manalin. My bowels are also in good condition."

Reports Her Cure.

After continuing the treatment a short time longer, Mrs. Kaiser reports her cure, as follows:

"I must drop you a line to let you know that I am well now and cured with your medicine. I must thank you for the advice you gave me.

"The medicine is something wonderful. I cannot praise it enough for the good it has done for me and I hope many others will be freed from their suffering.

"I have advised others who are suffering as I did to consult you and many are taking my advice. If ever I need medicine again, I know that Peruna will help me."

Dr. Hartman's Advice.

To every woman suffering from the symptoms above indicated, Dr. Hartman extends an earnest invitation to write to him for medical advice.

Objection Of North Monaghan People To New C. P. R. Answered

"A Resident of Monaghan" Points Out That the Present Proposed Location of the Line is in Best Interests of All Concerned—Asks Why the City Council Should Interfere.

Mr. Editor,—In your Saturday's issue I notice that a deputation of residents and property owners of North Monaghan waited on the City Council, protesting against the entrance of the C. P. R. branch line to Victoria Harbor into the city, through their respective properties. While they do not state, we must infer that they wish the line located further west, so as to leave them free from trouble, now and in the future. Why should those people ask a public body like the city council to undertake to have their trouble and loss shifted further west to other residents of the township, less able to bear them? Is it because they happen to be wealthy men that they and other families should be shielded by the city council from loss and danger? Those men should first consider that railways have the right by law to go almost wherever they please as long as they pay fair price for the right of way and damages that might be considered and no matter whose property they may happen to traverse, they damage it for all time to come. Now, sir, in my estimation there will be less collective damage done where the line is now being located, than any place in the township of Monaghan; 1st, because those places are nearly all small holdings and are not farmed, but largely held for a raise in value as the city grows and 2nd, the line located there will be less dangerous to cross for the heavy vehicular traffic passing into the city, which will be much better protected than if located further west. 3rd, those men are all wealthy and will be in a much better position to demand their rights than if they were farmers or labouring men. 4th, if the line was located further west it would cut up farms and market gardens and leave them almost useless and entail no end of hardship, opening gates, crossing and re-crossing, leaving V-shaped fields, destroying drainage, etc., incidental to the going through farms. Why, sir, there are farms in the Township of Smith that this line enters lots at the south-east corner and exits at the north-west corner, leaving every field a triangular shape still the owners have to manfully bear it alone, and they don't try to shift the load on their more fortunate neighbors. Mr. Dumble claims that it will do great injury to Jackson Park. Well, sir, grant that it will, but there was one railroad there when the trustees of the Nicholls estate bought the property for a Park and the town did not object. If they considered a railroad good for a Park then they should not object too strongly now when they are going to be favoured with a second one.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I think that the objections of the quartette that waited upon the city council are acting in a selfish manner as the line is being located west of them. They should not be so unneighbourly as to not first canvass their less wealthy neighbours in the city and Monaghan, and find out if they would be willing to accept the line located in another place. Then, if they find the people satisfied to relieve them of the incubus, then they, not the city council, should locate the line to the satisfaction of the C. P. R. Company. If they cannot find those conditions they should like Paul of old, bear their troubles manfully.

Yours,
A RESIDENT OF MONAGHAN.

Customs Collections Were Over $1000 Per Day

Remarkable Record at Port of Peterborough—Increase of $34,036.50 Over the Amount Last Year—Figures Indicating Progress of Peterborough.

Collections amounting to over one thousand dollars per day for every day in the year, is the record established at the local custom house during the year 1905-06.

The total collections taken this year, up to the end of June, the last month in the fiscal year, was $369,673.79, an increase over the previous year of $34,036.50. This is an increase that goes to show that Peterborough's trade and commerce is steadily, indeed rapidly, growing.

For the last ten years the collections have been increasing as the following figures will show:

1896-7	$ 52,355 42
1897-8	74,016 33
1898-9	87,082 06
1899-00	122,496 07
1900-01	130,050 07
1902-03	213,626 24
1903-04	222,751 15
1904-05	335,637 29
1905-06	369,673 79

The collections for June, this year, amounted to $31,069.47.

Cheese Price At Season's Highest

11 3-4c. Was the Top Price Paid at the Board To-day ---4747 Boxes Boarded--Mr. Kerr Took Bulk of Cheese Offered.

The highest price of the season was reached at this morning's meeting of the Cheese Board, when 11 3-4 cts. was paid for first selections. The number of boxes boarded, 4,747, was also the largest of the year. The bidding was brisk. Mr. Kerr at 11 9-16 secured the greatest number of boxes.

The buyers present were Messrs. James, Kerr, Gillespie, Cook, Brenton, Brentonell, Grant, Wrighton, Warrmington, Morton and Squires.

The factories boarded as follows:

Mr. Cook opened the bidding at 11c., Mr. Kerr raised to 11 1-16, Mr. Brentonell to 11 1-8, Mr. Squires to 11 1-4, Mr. Gillespie to 11 5-16, Mr. Brentonell to 11 3-8, Mr. Cook 11 7-16, Mr. Brentonell 11 1-2, Mr. Gillespie 11 9-16, Mr. Brentonell 11 5-8 and Mr. Gillespie 11 11-16, getting the call. Mr. Gillespie called Westwood, Villiers, Central Smith, Buckhorn and Keene, all accepting.

Mr. Kerr offered 11 11-16 for further selections and Mr. Brentonell raised to 11 3-4. At this figure he took Shearer, Myrtle, Lang and Peterborough.

Mr. Kerr at 11 9-16 got Mount Pleasant, Cavanville, Bonsfort, Maple Leaf, Warsaw, Warminster, Pine Grove, Young's Point, Trewern, East Emily, North Dummer, Norwood, Cedardale, Melrose Abby, South Burleigh, Hope, Brickley, Shamrock, Indian River and Selwyn refused to accept.

At 11 5-8 Mr. Warmington took Selwyn, Indian River and Fleetwood, which cleared the Board.

The Board then adjourned to meet again in two weeks.

Commissioner Cadman Tells Story Of His Life

Rise From Chimney Sweep to Permanent Position in the Army—Hardships of the Earlier Days of His Career —Was Given an Enthusiastic Reception by Local Corps.

The Salvation Army barracks contained a large audience of several creeds last night, who had come to hear Commissioner Cadman, of London, the first captain of the Salvation Army. The Commissioner arrived in Peterborough by the C. P. R. local from Toronto, where he had just concluded a number of successful meetings. He was met at the station by the band and by part of the local corps, and royally escorted to the barracks.

Brigadier Turner, of Toronto, led the meeting in the preliminary devotional exercises, and introduced the speaker of the evening. He assured the audience that they would listen with interest to such a famed personage, as the Commissioner, and would enjoy the story of his eventful life.

Commissioner Cadman, when he rose to speak, was given a grand

COMMISSIONER CADMAN,
Who Told the Story of His Life at the Barracks Last Night.

ovation, and for several minutes was not allowed to commence his story. He said that he was pleased to be able to answer to the call of the local corps to address them, and glad to respond to the royal reception tendered him, both at the station and at the barracks. His address was tinged with a vein of humour throughout, which lent a pleasing nature to the interesting story. He retraced his life from the story of the early days of hardships and troubles to the prominent position he holds among the great body—the Salvation Army—to-day.

His boyhood days were by no means a life of roses. His family was poor, his father a drunkard, and to make matters worse he died when the speaker was only 15 months old. At the age of three years he and his mother were taken to the poor house. His reminiscences of these days were particularly humourous and he related many amusing incidents in such an affable way that the audience was kept in a continuous state of laughter. At the age of six years he joined the labour class and became a chimney sweep in the town of Rugby — practically a white slave. The difficulties and hardships of such a life were almost unbearable, and often his surroundings were unfit for human beings.

When he became a man his ambitions turned to prize fighting and for many years he carried on a boxing saloon in connection with an hotel at Rugby, but with his conversion, 42 years ago, this was completely eliminated from his life, and from that time he became a worker for God. The tale of his conversion was a pathetic one, and moved many of his audience to tears. His courtship and marriage proved to be a humourous story, made more so by his fund of witticisms. His removal from Rugby to London was graphically depicted and his succeeding steps in his education and rise among the nobler of mankind were minutely described — how he became the influential representative of the Salvation Army to-day, from the insignificant chimney sweep of the Warwickshire town.

Commissioner Cadman's address was not only thoroughly enjoyed, but proved a very profitable and helpful one to those who listened to it.

CARD OF THANKS.

I beg to express my sincere thanks to the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association for their promptness in payment of the amount of the Insurance on the life of my late husband and for many other kindnesses shown me by members of the order.

BOUNDARY DISPUTE IN COUNTY COURT

At a special sitting of the County Court, to-day before His Honour Judge Weller, Mrs. Sarah Cooper is suing Frederick Calder for damage for trespassing. Both parties reside in the township of Dummer.

The point of dispute is the boundary line between lots 18 and 19 in the 6th concession of Dummer. There is a big array of witnesses in attendance and the case promises to be an interesting one to the people of that township.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams is acting for the plaintiff, and Mr. F. D. Kerr for the defendant.

WILL RETURN TO ENGLISH HOME

Robt. W. Pittway, a resident of Canada (formerly of England) for sixteen years, and a resident of the city for the last 2 years, leaves soon by G.T.R. for his old home, Monmouth, of Monmouthshire, England. One of the pleasant associations connected with the trip is the fact that Mr. Pittway will bring home to Canada a better half to share with him the weals and woes of a new country. His friends all wish Mr. Pittway and his bride to be, life's best things. Mr. Pittway is an employee of the Peterborough Manufacturing Company, and the boys all wish him all kinds of success through life.

Annual Picnic Of Girls' Guild

Will be Held To-morrow Afternoon at Jackson Park.

The annual picnic under the auspices of St. John's Girls' Guild will be held at Jackson's Park to-morrow afternoon, commencing at four o'clock. A meeting of the committee in charge was held in the school house last night when arrangements for the outing were completed.

A committee has been selected to take charge of the baskets of the picnickers from the time of their arrival until 6.30 o'clock, the hour set for the serving of tea. After tea there will be races for the members of the Guild and a baseball game, Girls vs. Boys.

A general invitation is extended to the members of the church and their friends as well.

Almost Drowned In Little Lake

Stepped on a Log Which Sank—Saved by a Lady Friend.

Dominion Day did not pass away in Peterborough without its mishaps. A drowning accident was providentially averted in the Little Lake, near Crescent street, through the presence of mind of a young lady.

Mr. Alberic Breton, formerly of Quebec, but now residing in this city, was out canoeing in the Little Lake with a friend. Not being very well acquainted with the shores he stepped on a floating log, and, as naturally would be expected, was immediately submerged. For a few moments nothing but his hat could be seen floating above, and it was feared that he had sunk. Had it not been for the presence d'esprit et si gentille of his lady friend, he would have undoubtedly met a watery grave.

Toronto Specialist Doing Great Work

He Remains in Peterborough Until July 14th.

Many eye-sight sufferers have found relief through the skill of Dr. Montgomery, the "shadow test" specialist, who has been demonstrating his new system of sight testing during the past three weeks at the jewellery store of W. A. Sanderson & Co. It has been said that "there is nothing new under the sun," but when one comes to contrast the way Dr. Montgomery does sight-testing, and the way it is done by others, and to notice the quick results by his method, as compared to the slow examinations and continual changes of glasses necessary by any other method, then is realized the fact that in ocular science there is something new. In sight-testing there is a new way, and in all cases of imperfect or impaired vision there is new hope for those who suffer. Dr. Montgomery says, "There is no need for any person to suffer one moment with eye headaches," which means that he can and is willing to cure any case. Messrs. Sanderson & Co. engaged Dr. Montgomery to teach them this new system in order that they may serve the public better in the future, and that eye-sight sufferers will not be obliged to go to Toronto to be suited with glasses. Dr. Montgomery will remain until and including Saturday, July 14, and will continue to conduct free examinations daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. d-w.

Why everybody likes Abbey's Salt.

It is so pleasant to the taste that even children take it with pleasure.

It does not "cake" or flake on top of the water.

It effervesces slowly—may be drunk leisurely, without choking or blinding the user like seidlitz powders.

The granules all dissolve—thus the full benefit of the salt is obtained with every dose.

It is the ideal laxative and tonic to purify the blood—regulate stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels—and build up the system.

The Accidents Many Fatal Of One July Day

Body of Unknown Woman Found in Toronto Bay.

WAS SHE MISS MAY BUTTON

Articles Found on Body That May Yet Lead to Identification — Mysterious Death of Young Man at Montreal —Large Number of Fatalities in Toronto — Several Killed or Badly Hurt—In Murray Bay.

Toronto, July 4.—The body of a well dressed woman between 25 and 30 years of age, possibly a school teacher from Teeswater or vicinity, was found floating in the bay at the foot of Bay street at 7.30 o'clock last evening. The body had been in the water about two days, evidently, and fragmentary evidence indicates that the woman walked off an excursion boat. She was dressed in a plain black traveling suit, and wore a blue serge cap, strong black laced boots. In her waist was found a black purse containing the return portion of a Grand Trunk excursion ticket from Teeswater to Toronto, dated June 26, and $2.65 in money. In her belt was a small lady's open face gold watch, Waltham make, No. 5573130, attached to which was a "friendship fob" of five silver coins—five cent pieces, Bearing ladies Christian names Cora, Mabel, Lulu, Lydia and one other. A small telescope hand grip was delivered to the police at the union depot on receipt of a claim check, which also called for a bandbox containing a plain black summer hat of conservative style. In the grip was discovered a letter without envelope, dated Port Locke, June 23, 1906, addressed to Miss May Button, Gordon Lake, and signed "Ed. Smith." An acquaintance of Miss May Button of Teeswater, who viewed the body, said it was not her. Two baggage checks were found in the grip, and the police have ordered this baggage returned from Teeswater to which point it had been checked.

Boy Badly Injured.

Toronto, July 4.—Little Gordon Hackett, the 11-year-old son of W. J. Hackett, of 149 Simcoe street, engineer in the fire department, lies at the General Hospital in a precarious condition, the result of having been run over by a street car, yesterday afternoon. He was picked up with one leg almost severed, and the other badly crushed.

Jumped and Broke His Neck.

Toronto, July 4.—Angus McLeod, a stonemason, who had spent the holiday in Buffalo, was instantly killed yesterday morning. He jumped off the G.T.R. express in the yards west of Strachan avenue, while the train was running at about 20 miles an hour, and was found later beside the track with a broken neck. McLeod was unmarried. He came from Stornoway, Scotland, about four years ago. An inquest will be opened to-night.

Child Killed in Toronto.

Toronto, July 4.—The 18-months-old son of William Bellatz, 117 York street, toddled in front of a horse driven by George Vaughan, 85 Sumach street, yesterday, was knocked down and killed by the wheels of the rig, which passed over the baby's head. An inquest will be opened by Coroner Young tomorrow evening.

Terribly Mangled by a Train.

Toronto, July 4.—A man between 40 and 50 years of age was horribly mangled by an east-bound passenger train at Sunnyside crossing last night shortly before 9 o'clock. The man was attempting to cross the several tracks when a train struck him. On his person was found a pay envelope, possibly from the Ontario Bolt Works, and which bore the name of P. McKelroy. No address was marked on it, and no other evidences of identification could be found in his clothing. The body was crushed almost beyond recognition, and was taken to the morgue.

Drowned at Montreal.

Montreal, July 4.—The body o a man, apparently about 25 years of age, dressed in a grey suit, was taken from the river at the King Edward pier yesterday morning. No marks of violence were noticeable. Two letters were found in his coat pocket. One was from his mother, who signs her name Emily Plumridge, and gives her address 47 Trevelyan road, Tooting, S. W.

Toronto, July 4.—Mrs. W. F. Gothard keeps a boarding-house at 266 Adelaide street west in this city. She had a boarder there named Plumridge, an Englishman, who had only been in Canada three weeks He left last Thursday to secure passage on a cattle boat to the old country

Killed Boarding Train.

Watford, July 4.—Harry A. Ferguson, an Ann Arbor law student, was killed on the G. T. R. here Monday night. He caught on to No. 5 express on the blind side, and was evidently drawn under the cars, as the body was found early yesterday morning a short distance from the depot.

Engineer Mangled.

Georgetown, July 4.—A fatal accident occurred in the G. T. R. yards on Sunday morning, in which Bert Pennington, locomotive fireman, lost his life. He had just stepped out from under his engine to be struck by a train on another track. The body was horribly mangled.

Drowns in Sight of Parents.

Moncton, N. B., July 4.—Before his parents' eyes, Frank Barnes, aged 16, son of H. C. Barnes, merchant, of Salisbury, was drowned Monday evening.

Drowned in Murray River.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., July 4.—The nine-year-old son of James Livingstone was drowned Monday in the Murray River by falling from a raft while out bathing.

'Phone Splicers Strike.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 4.—One thousand splicers and linemen comprising the entire force of the Bell Telephone Co. in this section are on strike for more pay and shorter hours. The linemen are now paid $2.75 a day, and demand $3. Splicers who received from $3 to $4 want a minimum wage of $4.50.

Murderer Sentenced.

St. Hyacinthe, Que., July 4.—Price Lapointe, a noted character, was sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary for the murder of Mrs. Gendreau.

A PUBLIC FUNERAL.

Burial of Rev. E. L. King—Citizens Line Route to Ancient Cathedral, Where Funeral Service is Held.

Salisbury, Eng., July 4.—The city yesterday gave a public funeral to Rev. E. L. King of Toronto, one of the victims of Sunday's disaster. All the shops put up their shutters and citizens lined the route to the ancient Cathedral of Salisbury, where the first portion of the burial service was read. The mayor and corporation marched in the cortege, as well as representatives of the American Line and the Southwestern Railway. Flags were half-masted.

Whole Family Perish.

Durango, Col., July 4.—Leonard Boat, his wife and six children, were drowned while attempting to ford the Animas River, near Cedar Hill, New Mexico, yesterday.

Committed For Fraud.

Montreal, July 4.—Richard Ahuloff and Louis Berger were yesterday committed for trial for conspiracy to defraud creditors of the New York Skirt Co. out of sixty thousand dollars.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

Latest News Of Various Sports

Reg. Blomfield Leaves Toronto For The West

Peterborough County Boy Who Has Made Himself a Fine Athlete Going to Edmonton—An All-Round Sport.

Under the heading "Toronto loses fine Athlete", the Star of last night refers in the following terms to the departure for the west of a young man well known in this city:—

"When Reg. Blomfield of the Toronto Canoe Club leaves to-night for Edmonton, Eastern Canada loses its best all-round canoe paddler. Blomfield is the king pin of them all, and has won so many prizes that he has forgotten to keep tab on the total. The loss to the Canoe Club will be a severe one, for not only was Blomfield a magnificent individual paddler, but he was the steersman of the club's fastest war canoe crew, and paddled in its winning doubles, tandems, and fours.

What Blomfield can't do in a canoe isn't on the programme. He was the originator of the "follow the ferry" stunt now so familiar to those who travel on Toronto Bay, and holds the record for upset and recovery. To see Blomfield at play in a canoe is a delight. He was always a hockey player of note. He played last year with the great Argonaut O.H.A. team. Blomfield is on the staff of the Dominion Bank, and his bank is sending him out west.

THE SOURIS LACROSSE TEAM IN PETERBOROUGH

The Souris Lacrosse team which played in Montreal on Monday will arrive in the city to-night at 5.15 by C. P.R. and will remain here until to-morrow at 11.45 when they will go to Millbrook, former residents of which place, were the first settlers and founders of the town of Souris, Man. They will be the guests of the corporation of Millbrook, and will remain there three or four days. Whil'e in Peterborough the lacrosse players will be given a trip over the lift lock, being arranged for them by Mr. E. S. Clarry on behalf of the people of Millbrook Mr. T. G. Kells and Mr. H. M. Wood who are the prime movers in the celebration will likely be here in the morning to accompany the team over the lock.

Rosedale Won The Golf Match

Defeated Local Club by Eight Points in Holiday Game.

Fourteen members of the Rosedale Golf Club played a friendly game here with a similar number of local players Monday. The honours went to the visitors who won by 8 points. The score was as follows:—

Rosedale.		Peterborough.
L. P. Wood,	1	M. Hamilton, 0
Jos. Ince,	0	S. Ray, 1
W E Rundle,	2	R Neill, 0
Wm. Ince,	2	H D Burnett, 0

Dr. Thore,	2	Blanchette, 0
W H Denham,	0	E H D Hall, 2
R Coulthord,	0	T Medd, 1.

Totals 19 and 11.

The visitors were entertained to luncheon at the Club House. Many people visited the links during the afternoon.

Quoit Match Was Interesting

Mr. Ed. O'Brien Won the Event at the T.A.S. Picnic.

One of the most interesting contests in the T.A.S. sports at the annual picnic on Monday was the quoit match, an account of which was inadvertently omitted in yesterday's issue. There was a very large number of entries and the match continued all afternoon. Messrs. Ed. and Jas. O'Brien were the pair to reach the finals in the play-off, Mr. Ed. O'Brien took first prize, a case of Quaker Oats. The second prize was a box of imported cigars.

Lindsay Team Is Satisfied

With the Game Played Here on Monday.

Times have evidently changed since the Lindsay Post used to roast any Peterborough ball team that won from Lindsay, as the following paragraph from that paper yesterday indicates.

"For the third consecutive year Peterborough have succeeded in winning from a Lindsay ball team, yesterday's game between Peterborough and the local Y.M.C.A. Town League team, completing their 1st of July win. In this game the "Y's" were not outclassed, but just the same were fairly beaten to the tune of 8 to 6."

That journal has stopped roasting Fred. Whitcroft, too. It says:—

"It was none other than "Maggie" Whitcroft, the famous trundler of baseball in Peterborough, who carried the lucky horseshoe. "Whitty", dear old "Maggie" is as spry as ever, and it was his great hitting that opened the run-getting."

SOURIS WILL PLAY MILLBROOK TEAM

There will be some excitement in Millbrook to-morrow when the Souris Lacrosse team, challengers for the Minto Cup, will play the Millbrook team. Souris is settled largely by Millbrook people and preparations are being made to regally entertain the visitors.

FOOTBALL

The Intermediate Quaker team, Midland League champions, are entered in the schedule of the Ontario Football Association for the intermediate championship of the province. They will probably have to play first with the Little Yorks, of Toronto.

No Celebration At Hiawatha

For the First Time in Over Twenty Years.

Examiner Special.

Keene, July 4.—For the first time in over 20 years Dominion Day was was allowed to pass without the picnic at Hiawatha. This picnic was considered one of the best of the season, and large crowds of Peterborough and Otonabee people attended, while usually two or three steamers were required to bring the crowd from various points on the lake. Last year, however, the picnic was not quite such a success as in former years, and it was decided this year to have no picnic.

Editor Post Card Column:

I saw a notice some time ago that the gates at the entrance to Jackson Park were to be closed to vehicles at 7 o'clock. No explanation was given for this proceeding and I think it a great injustice to those who wish to drive in the Park in the evenings. It looks to me as if the Street Railway were trying to monopolize the park grounds and also to collect a few extra pieces of silver. I would like very much, Mr. Editor, to find an explanation to this act on the part of the Railway Company and if possible to have the gates re-opened again and the injustice remedied.

POLICE COURT.

The inadvisability of George Harris was the only cause for holding Police Court this morning. Harris admitted that he was drunk in a public place and was informed that it was up to him to boost the city's finances by $2. He was given ten days in which to hand over the money.

Two Small Boys Among The Toys

Mr. B. Lastar's Premises Were Broken Into While He Was Away.

While Mr. B. Lastar was away for the holiday, two small boys, about 8 or 10 years of age, broke into his cellar through a window, and caused a general disturbance amongst the toys stored there. Some were carried away, and others were tossed about in great disorder.

Mr. Lastar called at the police station this morning and laid bare his troubles to the chief. The latter informed him that owing to the tender years of the offenders very little could be done. "You may summon the parents for the damage done," he said.

Mr. Lastar coincided with him in the opinion that this was the only course of procedure open.

Mr. Ken. Crane spent the week's end the guest of Mr. Harold Meldrum, Cairndhu.

Mr. Alex. Gibson spent the holiday at his cottage.

Messrs. P. G. Might, Toronto, and R. Bruce Bell, Peterborough, were guests at Idle Side on Monday.

Miss Ida B. Sanderson, Peterborough, spent the holiday at the lakes.

Mr. Felix Brownscombe, Mrs. Brownscombe and their family are cottage, Er Le Minto.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carey, Miss M. Edgar and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stubbs, Peterborough, are staying at Bonniecastle.

Messrs. J. Gouinlock and W. May who brought Mr. Gouinlock's yacht from Bobcaygeon Saturday, returned to Toronto this afternoon.

Mr. H. P. and Mrs. Lindsay and Miss Maud Lindsay opened their cottage for the season on Saturday.

Mr. H. P. Gray and Mr. Chas. Curtain, Lakefield, Mr. Geo. Wright and Mr. John Gallagher, Bobcaygeon, are registered at Mt. Julian Hotel.

Recent arrivals at Viamede are:—Miss Clemes, Miss Harmer, Toronto; Miss Hulda Dobbin, Peterborough; Mr. Geo. E. Oxley, Toronto; Dr. and Mrs. McIlwraith and Master Archie McIlwraith, Toronto; Messrs. John, Gerald and Wm. Leach, Toronto; Mr. Chas. Tanner, Lakefield.

Every day is Friday at Viamede this week. This afternoon Miss Harmer and Mr. Oxley, of Toronto, made a record catch off Viamede wharf by landing 10 big bass. The Viamede party will go on a fishing expedition to Kel's Creek on Tuesday.

Among those who took the round trip on the Empress to-day were:—Mr. Alf. Cox, Toronto; Miss L. Cox and Miss Ola Cavanah, Peterborough; Mr. Vernan Edwards, Ontario Bank, Montreal; Mr. Frank Simpson, Mr. Clarence Snider, Mr. Edward Page, Miss Gillespie, Miss Yelland, Mr. W. H. Meredith, Mr. Emmett Doherty, Petgerborough.

To Mrs. J. Sutherland, wife of the proprietor of "Eaglestone Cottage," belongs the honour of making the catch of the season, as far as recorded up to date. On Dominion Day she landed six big bass, and friends are complimenting her on her especial good luck, at a time when hardly anybody else is getting a bite.

What an eye-witness describes as a narrow escape occurred at Eagle Mount on Monday. Mrs. J. Sawers and Mrs. J. Carey, who are neaa neighbours, undertook to walk a boom a short distance out in the lake, when one slipped and fell into the water, followed quickly, of course, by the other. Besides a real good wetting, no harmful results ensued, but it just showed how easily it could be done.

Messrs. Harry Hall and J. S. Davidson, Peterborough, came to Mr. Richard Hall's cottage, "The Anchorage," yesterday.

Miss Gwen. Hall, city, came this morning to "Wenonah."

Mrs. G. H. Thompson (nee McBain) and Mrs. A. P. MacLean, Peterborough, are at Bona Vista. Mr. Thompson returned to the city this morning, having spent a few days at the cottage.

Mrs. T. W. Robinson and Misses L. F. Morrow and S. G. Robinson are at Juniper for a time.

Misses B. F. Brown, H. F. Reid and Mr. C. N. Brown, Peterborough, and Miss Francis Stewart, Kansas City, Mo., are at Forest Nook.

Mr. L. H. Jones, Ridley College, is at Kimo Cottage.

Dr. Morrison, Misses Madelene and Ethel Morrison, and Mr. B. D. Hall, came to the Morrison cottage this morning.

Mrs. Dunn, Lakefield, came up this morning and is at her pretty cottage, "Dunlogie."

The Buell party, Rochester, N. Y., numbering six persons, opened their cottage for the season this morning.

High County Constable Cochrane and Master Wilson were among those who came this morning.

Ald. Wilson, Mrs. Wilson and Messrs. Ray Best and Norman Wilson will join the party to-morrow.

Mrs. Thos. Barrie and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Carter came to the lakes this morning. Mr. Barrie is expected on Sunday.

Mrs. R. J. Donnal and Miss Alice Donnal, city, are at the cottage for the season.

Mr. R. B. Rice, Toronto, arrived at his cottage, Grassy Island, this morning.

Mr. Hunter, Millbrook, who has been at "Pepacton" for a week, returned home to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Armstrong, Havelock, were guests at Mt. Julian Hotel for a few days this week.

Miss Clarke, Toronto, is a guest at Victoria House.

Recent arrivals at Viamede are:—Mrs. G. H. Campbell, Toronto; Mr. G. E. Oxley, Toronto; the "Q. Q's the Quite Quiet sojourners' Club, of Rochester, N.Y., composed of the following gentlemen:—Messrs. W. S. Firman, H. M. Webb, G. W. Kirkpatrick, A. S. Osborn, G. E. Mosher, J. M. Walmsley, T. G. Skuse and John Skuse, F. W. Thompson and wife, Toronto; Rev. Christopher Lord, Apsley; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Simmons, Peterborough, Miss Hulda Dobbin, Peterborough, and Dr. and Mrs. McIlwraith and son, Toronto.

The telephone line to Viamede, which was completed last week, is found to be a great convenience.

Mr. Thompson, proprietor of the Mt. Julian Hotel, is erecting a new store near the wharf.

THE WEATHER

If July continues as it has begun, it promises to equal the month of June for heavy rain. Yesterday's down-pour, though hardly equal to that of Friday night and Saturday, was still worthy to be ranked as one of the greatest down-pours ever seen in Peterborough. The rainfall on the level was 2 inches and 15-100.

Many Guests At The South Beach Hotel

This Popular Summer Resort Has Opened What Promises to be a Most Successful Season—The Recent Arrivals There—Some Good Fish Catches Reported.

Special Staff Correspondence.

South Beach, (Clear Lake), July 3rd. — Perhaps no other summer resort on the Kawartha Lakes shows a better filled register, or a larger list of guests for the season, thus far, than the Park Hotel, at South Beach. One thing, at least, is certain, that "mine host" Brooks "has no kick coming" about the way his house has been patronized by both Canadian and American guests. During the last half of June rooms have at times been at a premium. Visitors have been coming in, and parties of ladies and gentlemen, to stay for a week or more, and not as in former years, when a few enthusiastic fishermen would rush in when the season opened to slaughter the fish for a day or two, and then rush back home again.

The following additional guests are noted at this date: Herman Sobbart, F. Willimek, C. S. Smith, F. H. Sheridan, H. B. Carlton, Geo. Atkinson, Mrs. Geo. Atkinson, Rochester; Mrs. Strickland, Miss L. Strickland, Lakefield; Sam Mora, Mrs. Sam Mora, Rochester; Wm. Menzies, Mrs. Wm. Menzies, Miss Bella Menzies, R. Hicks, Mrs. R. Hicks, Peterborough; John W. Wallace, Rochester; Matthew Killner, Buffalo H. G. Fitzgerald, Mrs. H. G. Fitzgerald, F. LaPlante, Miss C. Cahill, Miss V. Donoghue, Peterborough; Geo. Wasp, Mrs. Geo. Wasp, Charlotte, N.Y.; Mrs. H. B. Wasp, Rochester, A. G. Stirling, Toronto; Dr. D. J. Bagshaw, Miss B. M. Morrow, Miss E. J. Morrow, Peterborough; Miss Lightfoot, Miss Montgomery, A. Kilburn, G. M. Kilburn, Lakefield; Mrs. H. B. Carleton, Rochester, Wm. Menzies, jr., Mrs. Wm. Menzies, Peterborough.

Most of the American guests have left South Beach, in order to be at their own homes for the celebration of the 4th of July, but will return again about the end of the week. The next contingent from Buffalo and Rochester is due on Saturday, to be followed by almost daily arrivals during the rest of the season, according to the slating.

Everyone you ask reports the fishing in Stony Lake to be generally very poor this season, so far. Even those cottagers who have been up for two weeks or more fail to report good catches — bbut lots of "bites" and "got-off-hooks." Clear Lake, however, has a better record — at least in the vicinity of South Beach. Quite a number of the guests have had lively tussles with the gamey bass and maskinonge. Mr. Carlton's party, who were here a week, left on Sunday evening, and took home with them a good sized box of fish as a souvenir of their visit to South Beach. A few evenings ago Miss Isabel Menzies, while out trawling with Ald. Hicks, succeeded in hooking a good sized maskinonge a short distance out from the park. On Monday Mrs. W. G. Menzies also caught a fine lunge just about the same spot. On Tuesday evening, Mr. J. W. Wallace, of Rochester, while waiting for the second breakfast bell, caught three bass off the end of the dock in twenty minutes.

COME

Let nothing keep you from coming to consult with DR. MONTGOMERY the Toronto Specialist who is with us. His stay is limited, he has been at our store for the past two weeks and his engagement closes on Saturday, July 14. What Drove McArthur To Murder And Suicide

He Left Letter Explaining That His Wife Killed All Her Offspring and That There Was "No Living for Man or Beast"—A Desperate Deed of a Man Driven To It By His Wife Who Had Lost All Motherly Instincts—The Inquest.

"July 2, 1906.

"To Dan Fraser goes all the property, real estate, and personal, and pay all legal debts, for there is no living here for man or beast with the woman, for she kills all the offspring she has. So endeth this life.

"Signed, DUNCAN McARTHUR.

"I will follow later——8.15.

"Woman died first, 7.40 p.m."

"(Over.")

"Pay Hugh Logan $70 balance on note."

This letter, found tacked to a door in the house occupied by Duncan McArthur, near Kirkfield, explains the motive prompting him in murdering his wife and later committing suicide. It was produced at the inquest held at Kirkfield on Tuesday. The letter was produced by Mr. Samuel Trueman, a farmer living near the deceased's farm. Bell, the man hired by McArthur, to work, on the morning of the tragedy, found McArthur lying dead, and went to call Trueman, who came and found the paper referred to pinned to a door. It throws light on what was up to this time a deep mystery. McArthur and his wife were said to have lived happily, so far as any one was able to judge, but that they did not, and that the reason was the same as that which is ruining many homes to-day, is indicated by the letter which the man, driven to his desperate deed, left.

At the inquest, Malcolm Fraser stated that he could prove that the writing was that of McArthur, as he had samples of it at his home.

Messrs. Donald Fraser, Chas. McDonald and John McKay were also examined, after which the jury brought in the following verdict:

"That Catherine McArthur came to her death through a wound caused by a shotgun, fired by her husband, Duncan McArthur."

In reference to the death of McArthur the following verdict was dered:

"That from evidence produced Duncan McArthur caused his own death by shooting himself through the dead."

Barn Burned Three Times By Lightning

Another Fire Reported as a Result of the Recent Thunder Storms—Wm. Murphy, of Cavan, Loses Buildings and Stock.

Among the sufferers by fire during the recent storms was Mr. William Murphy, lot 1, concession 12, Cavan. His barn was struck by lightning, and, together with all the outbuildings was burned to the ground. The building was struck about 10 o'clock on Friday night and with the contents, was destroyed. In the barn were two cows, four calves, six sheep, five hogs and about 100 hens. A threshing machine belonging to Mr. J. H. Murphy, which was being stored in the barn was also destroyed.

The loss which will be considerable, is partially covered by insurance. This is the third time that barns on this same foundation have been destroyed by fire, the present structure having been erected only four years ago. It is rather a peculiar coincidence too, that each time lightning has caused the fire.

It was with the greatest difficulty that the house was saved the last time, and only for the fact that the wind shifted during the progress of the fire, it, too, would have been destroyed.

The Normal School Goes By Peterborough

Kingston, Not Peterborough, Will be the Location for the School in the East—Toronto World Says So.

A despatch from Toronto, referring to the proposed location of the new Normal Schools says:

"Kingston is pretty certain to have one of the new structures. The present Normal Schools accommodate about 200 each, and the new buildings, which will be about the size of the Parkdale Collegiate Institute, will be arranged for 150 each. They will cost $50,000 apiece, the first grant of $100,000, being sufficient to carry on work on the four which it is proposed to build this year, until the next session of the Legislature, when a further grant of $200,000 will be made."

If this is true it means that the hopes entertained by Peterborough people, that one of the new schools would be located here, are doomed to be rudely shattered. If one goes to Kingston, as the despatch states, Peterborough will have none.

Provincial Board To Be Re-organized

Report That the Board of Health Will Shortly be Re-organized—Dr. Boucher a Member—Only Two Members of Original Board Left.

The Provincial Board of Health, which concluded its sittings yesterday, was instituted in 1882, the members being William Oldwright, M.A., M.D., Chas. W. Cornerton, M. D., Horace P. Yeomans, B. A., M.D., Peterborough; Francis Rae, M. D., Oshawa; J. J. Cassidy, M.D., John Galbraith, M.A., C.E., Peter H. Bryce, M.A., M.B., secretary.

Only two of these survive on the present board. The recent deaths of Drs. W. J. Douglas, Cobourg, and Alex. Thompson, Strathroy, leave upon the board only Dr. E. E. Kitchen, St. George, chairman, of the board, a member for 12 years, and Dr. C. A. Hodgetts, secretary, appointed on Dr. Bryce's removal to Ottawa in 1902. The members of the board are appointed for three years, and at the conclusion of their present term the present regime will be brought to a close. It is the intention of the government if reports be true, to reconstitute the Board of Health on a thoroughly business basis. The present secretary, Dr. Hodgetts; Dr. J. A. Amyot, bacteriologist; Dr. R. W. Bell Medical Inspector; Dr. G. G. Nasmith, provincial chemist; and Prof. Ellis, provincial analyst, will probably be the members ex-officio of the new board.

Much delay now results from the practice of holding over municipal plans for sewerage, waterworks and other projects for the approval of the quarterly board meetings. The new board would have executive power in dealing with all such matters. They would have the benefit of the advice of a council of medical men from various parts of the province who would not be called together except in cases of the gravest importance.

SUCCESSFULLY PASSED MUSIC EXAMINATIONS

The examinations in music conducted by the University of Toronto have been concluded, except in Vancouver, and the results are published to-day. Those from Peterborough who were successful are:—

Junior theory—Class I.—1, Miss G. Taft, Pass — 1, Miss I. G. Sanderson. Junior pianoforte—Pass—1, Miss A. E. Sisson; 2, Miss L. Davidson; 3, Miss Dwyer, 4, Miss G. Sanderson. Senior pianoforte—Class II.—1, Miss G. Taft; 2, Miss R. Milburn. Primary violin—Class I.—1, F. Halpany. Class II.—Miss E. Davis. Junior violin—Pass—1, Miss B. Girvan; 2, Miss E. K. Wallis.

Some Local Men Buy Launch

Boating Increasing With Great Rapidity in Local Waters.

The Peterborough Canoe Factory is turning out a considerable number of launches and dingbys for local people. The business this year is greater than ever, and the demand for canoes, skiffs and other boats is above the normal. One of the employees remarked to the Examiner last night that he did not know what all those purchasing dingbys were going to do with them.

Messrs. Talbot, Campbell & Co. Faint will soon have gasoline launches on local waters and the season this season promises to eclipse those of other years.

No Municipal Light System

Port Hope Ratepayers Decide Against It.

Port Hope, July 4.—The vote on the bylaw to enable the town council to expend $10,000 on a municipal electric light plant took place to-day and the bylaw was defeated by a majority of 75. There was a majority against the bylaw in each ward.

An Italian employee of the Kootenay Power and Light Co., Nelson, B. C., committed suicide by jumping into the Kootenay river from below the company's bunkhouse. He had been acting queerly for some time.

ITS MERIT IS PROVED

RECORD OF A GREAT MEDICINE

A Prominent Montreal Woman Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Completely Cure Her.

The great good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many leading scientists, and thinking people generally.

Mrs. M. A. C. Letellier

The following letter is only one of many thousands which are on file in the Pinkham office, and go to prove beyond question that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound must be a remedy of great merit, otherwise it could not produce such marvelous results among sick and ailing women:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Soon after my marriage my health began to decline. My appetite failed me: I was unable to sleep, and I became very nervous and had shooting pains through the abdomen and pelvic organs, with bearing-down pains and constant headaches, causing me much misery. The monthly periods became more and more painful, and I became a burden and expense to my family instead of a help and pleasure. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me within three months. Soon after I began using it I felt a change for the better, and at the time of my next period I noticed a great difference, and the pain gradually diminished until I was well. I am stronger and look better than I did before I was married, and there is great rejoicing in the house over the wonders your medicine worked." Mrs. M. A. C. Letellier, 732 Cadieux St., Montreal, Quebec.

If you have suppressed or painful periods, weakness of the stomach, indigestion, bloating, pelvic catarrh, nervous prostration, dizziness, faintness, "don't-care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, backache or the blues, these are sure indications of female weakness, or some derangement of the organs. In such cases there is one tried and true remedy—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1906.

THE HOUSEHOLD PEST.

Toronto Star.

Baby-by,
Here's a fly,
Let us watch him, you and I.

For he is well worth watching. In the first place, my dear, how did he get in? Every window screened. He must have waited for the postman and slipped in when the maid opened the door. To be sure the creature has a head that is all eyes and so can see everything that passes, and he never lets a chance get by to seize an opening, but just think of the intelligence of the little brute, sitting out there on the front stoop like patience on a monument, until the man came along with the letters! The sluggard may go to the ant for an inspiration, but the fly for us, eh, baby?

Observe, again, how the cunning little plague avoids the fly poison, or at best uses it as a sort of pick-me-up to clear his brain and enliven his understanding. You will notice that he never takes enough to hurt him. He has learned the lesson of temperance from the sad example of several members of his family who filled early graves through addiction to such stimulants. He has become a philosopher of the School of Aristotle. He knows that the mean is always the virtue, that use not abuse of these liquid comforts makes for long life and happiness, that it is better to leave the dish feeling that one could drink more than to suffer the pains of relation, that, in short, one may have too much of a good thing, even of fly poison. Mark, too, how he makes mock of the fly paper, turning the gummy snare into an instrument to aid him in his business. He goes up to it, and rubs his feet on it, as an acrobat does in his pan of resin before he mounts the tight-rope. The dear little fly thanks the kind people of the house for putting the pretty mat on the table and making his ground and lofty performance that much easier This partly explains

How he crawls
Up the walls

And along the ceiling without falling and breaking his neck.

The blood cannot rush to his head, because, as we said before, his head is all eyes, and anything that is left over is needed for his mouth. Baby will readily discover that the little fly hasn't a pretty mouth. He has the Hapsburg under lip and the Galway upper. The two together make a tube through which he sucks refreshments as we do ice cream soda through a straw. Lucky for us he isn't built on a larger scale, for then he would draw the very thoughts out of our minds, and that would be hard on some people. Take a man with a mouth like that and imagine him spouting. Wouldn't he trip a goat! It's just as well for everybody that things are as they are.

The nasty fly is biting baby! Never mind, precious! It's his way of paying a compliment. He feeds only on the rosiest, fattest faces. A rueful countenance like George E. Foster's has no charms for him. Sometimes, through a sense of humour, he alights on the red nose of a toper, but not often. He has found out that the juices are elsewhere hidden. Bald heads are a shining mark to him, not as pasture, but as skating rinks. He has feathers on his legs like a turkey and feet like a lobster, and when he glides over these glossy surfaces it tickles. What biting baby again! It must be going to rain. Though why that should make any difference who can tell? Did Noah bite harder just before the deluge? Nor do we wonder at Nero, who caught flies and pulled their wings off. He was goaded to it. He had great wrongs to avenge. The pesky things had been nipping the royal features all morning. They had made him get up an hour earlier than he would have done if they had let him alone. Which teaches us that we should take our history with a grain of salt.

Sir Richard Cartwright was quite wrong when he spoke of the fly on the wheel as the very type and symbol of helplessness. The fly is full of high courage annnd tactical skill. He is no convert enemy, either. He gives warning. He attacks with a great buzzing as of trumpets and snare drums, which ceases only when his sword is fleshed. Such brilliant approaches, such swift retreats, such energy, such perseverance, such masterly inaction when he withdraws to his fastness on the ceiling! Was there ever general that could beat him?

Baby-by,
Here's a fly,
Let us kill him, you and I—

Shoo! There, we've caught him. Well, that's one less!

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Stanford White may have been bad—no doubt he was, as many men in New York, and in Ontario are; but this fact is no justification for the crime of Harry Thaw.

Why, asks an intelligent contemporary, do people read murders? The only reply to which is, that for ages human nature has been weak enough to take an interest in anything that is interesting.—Toronto Star.

Ottawa, according to the Journal, contemplates the acquirement of the electric business owned and operated by the Ottawa Electric Company. The city cannot make money by municipal ownership while there is cut-throat competition. Hence a monopoly of the business is desired.

Officers in charge of the Salvation Army immigration are to be commended for the care they exercise in sending none but the better class of immigrants to Canada, says the Ottawa Free Press. The no'er-do-wells of London may be good enough for South America, but Canada has no use for them.

Dr. Hodgetts, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, has spoken none too plainly with regard to the necessity of a better and more general education of the public in nursing and in the care of infants. The alarming death rate of tiny infants seems to necessitate some steps being taken in the way of reform.—Ottawa Free Press.

The Toronto News last night intimated that the Government had decided to erect one of the new Normal Schools at Kingston, which means, no doubt, that Peterborough loses it. What is being done locally to induce the Government now that decision time has come, to bring one of these new institutions here, which is admitedly a good location? Has the Whitney Government nothing to be grateful to the people of Peterborough for?

Helpful to Both.

Chicago Record Herald.

It is a pleasure to add that the Canadians seem to have the best of feeling toward the United States, and the season of holidays is a good season for mutual congratulations. Canada gained much from the effect of the American revolution upon British politics; the United States is gaining every day through the growth of Canada. The enormous business between the two countries is in fact very beneficial to both, and the people have so much in common that they should feel closely united even without a political union.

Girls' Guild Picnic At Jackson Park

St. John's Young People Had a Most Enjoyable Time.

Last evening, after six o'clock, at Jackson Park, the annual picnic of St. John's Girls' Guild was held, and it proved to be a most gratifying success. A good crowd of the young people of the congregation were present, and their usual good-fellowship and sociability prevailed prevailed throughout the entire evening. Tea was served on long tables, and the gathering presented a merry appearance, everybody seemingly enjoying the repast within the shade of the sheltering pines.

Owing to the crowded condition of the park, during the afternoon and early part of the evening, it was considerably later than had been expected before tea was over, and consequently the evening's programme was partly omitted. The gathering however passed a pleasant hour in watching the moving pictures, after which the young people found their way to the home of the Misses Dawson, on Bonacord street, where the remainder of the evening was spent in various amusements, the party breaking up at about 11.30 after a most delightful evening.

Miss B. Dawson, the president of the Girls' Guild, with her sister, Miss Ruth, are excellent entertainers, and are to be congratulated, both on the success of the annual picnic, and the pleasant outcome.

During the evening singing was indulged in and the solos of Miss Ruth Dawson and Messrs. Edwin Hooker and Wilson were greatly appreciated.

Fourth Annual Quaker Excursion

Goes to Orillia To-morrow by Special Train.

The fourth annual excursion of the Quaker Oats employees of the American Cereal Company will be held to-morrow to Orillia. A special train leaves the Grand Trunk station at 6.40 a.m., arriving at its destination shortly after 9 o'clock, and returning, will leave Orillia at 6 o'clock p.m.

The Quaker excursions are very popular events and always successful. To-morrow's little journey to the northern town is being kept in view by a large number who look forward to these interesting events. The excursionists will be accompanied by the champion Quaker football team. During the day, sports, consisting of running, jumping, tug-of-war, putting the shot, etc., will be run off on the beautiful Orillia park grounds.

Semi-Ready Is Entering Suit

Against a Rival Clothing Concern in Montreal.

The Montreal Herald of yesterday said:—The Semi-Ready Clothing Company has entered action for $10,000 against the Richards Company, Limited, who are now advertising the "Fashion Craft" brand of ready-made clothing.

The Semi-Ready Company allege that by the terms of a contract with the defendants, the latter were permitted to sell the Semi-Ready goods in certain parts of the city on the removal of trade-marks, tags, etc. The contract terminated some time ago, and the plaintiffs allege that the Richards Company continued in business advertising their new brand, the "Fashion Craft," and at the same time stating that they had formerly been agents of the Semi-Ready Company, but were "going up higher" and "graduating into better quality." They maintain that the rival company had no right to mention their names in the advertisements. They ask an injunction to restrain this, together with the entering of the action for $10,000, at which they estimate their damages. Messrs. Clarkson and Kerr are solicitors for the plaintiffs.

—This morning a special train, carrying the Sunday school pupils and officers of the Methodist church, Port Hope, passed through the city on its way to Lakefield, where the steamer Stoney Lake was boarded for a sail around the lakes.

'Prentice Boys Attention!

The members of Jubilee Lodge, No. 7, 'Prentice Boys, are requested to meet at the Orange Hall, Simcoe street, on Sunday morning, July 8th, at 10.30 o'clock for the purpose of attending Divine service at the Park street Baptist church. By order, G. A. Macdonald, W. M. 3d

To Take With You on Your Vacation.

—A Fountain Pen should be the companion of the tourist and traveller; if it is not used at other periods it is indispensable on the vacation trip. We sell the "Stratton Special," a good dependable fountain pen, for $1; also Waterman's fountain pens from $2.50 to $7. A. H. Stratton & Co.

Of Local Interest.

—The Millbrook Mirror says: Rev. A. K. Edmison, of Brighton, is the new pastor for Cavan South Methodist church. Mr. Edmison was stationed at Tyrone last year, where he was very popular. We extend to him a hearty welcome to this vicinity. Rev. Mr. Edmison is a son of the late Rev. T. J. Edmison, a native of Peterborough.

A Bad Storm.

—The worst electrical storm of the season that has struck here occurred here Friday evening, and as a result nearly all telegraph and telephone lines were put out of business until repairs could be made. There was one bolt that struck the wires in Mr. Leach's drug store, which sounded like the firing off of a double barrel gun.—Millbrook Mirror.

Empress Arrived.

—The Toronto Star of last night said: "Mr. S. J. Sharp received word yesterday that the new Canadian Pacific steamer Empress of Ireland, which left Liverpool at 6.30 p.m. on the 29th, and Moville at 2.30 p. m. on the 30th, was at 9 o'clock yesterday morning in wireless communication with Cape Race. She is expected to be in Cape Race to-morrow." Miss Halliday of this city is a passenger on the steamer on this, its first trip.

Empty Handed.

—Two local sportsmen went up to Lakefield yesterday for a day's cruise in Katchawanooka waters in pursuit of the finny dwellers, but returned in the evening empty handed. They "fell in" with Mr. Geo. Jackson, foreman of the Dickson Company's drive above Lakefield, whose geniality and culinary provisions proved a greater attraction than the hope of landing the monsters from the depths of the lake. Both maintain that pork and beans is the proper food to live upon.

Brewing Company Enlarges.

—At a meeting of the stockholders in the Cornell Brewing and Malting Co., town, held here yesterday, it was decided to proceed at once with the erection of a malt house of large capacity. Business has been good since the first brewing, and profits have been in the neighbourhood of 20 per cent. on the money invested. With their own malt house, the margin of profit will be considerably higher. It pays to brew good beer. —Lindsay Post. A number of Peterborough men are interested, financially, in this company.

Ask Mr. Elcome.

—Was the fish shipped to Mrs. Walkey, of Sturgeon Point, by Butcher O'Halloran, of Lindsay, a maskalonge or a salmon trout? Members of the association who have been catching 'lunge all their lives (at legal times, of course), say they are ready to bet a million that the fish Secretary Crandell seized was a 'lunge, while Inspector Bradshaw, Mr. O'Halloran and the merchant who sold to the latter are just as emphatic in pronouncing that the fish was a salmon trout from Georgian Bay.—Lindsay Post.

Electrical Expert Is Inspecting The Wires

Mr. K. L. Aitken, the Well Known Engineer of Toronto, Here—Inspected the Various Power Houses Yesterday.

Mr. K. L. Aitken, of Toronto, the well-known electrical expert engaged by the City Council to go over the wire system of Peterborough and to suggest measures that would prevent any repetition of the accident which occurred some months ago, arrived here yesterday. Since the mishap which befell Mr. Gibb's horses at the corner of George and Mcllonel streets, there has been an agitation to have this work done, and the Board of Works have wrestled with the problem.

Yesterday, in company with Mr. W. C. P. Heathcote, Mr. Aitken visited all power houses supplying power to the city. They went as far as the Otonabee Power Company's plant and inspected the power stations and also wires on both sides of the river from there down to the city. To-day Mr. Aitken is engaged in inspecting specimen sections of wiring throughout the city. He expects to be finished to-morrow.

When interviewed by The Examiner, Mr. Aitken declined to say anything about the condition of the wiring system, and refused to supply any information until he has made his formal report to the Council.

Garden Party A Great Success

Ladies' Aid of Springville Church Gives Enjoyable Social.

Examiner Special.

Springville, July 6.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Springville Presbyterian church are to be congratulated on the success of their garden party last evening at the residence of Mr. Alex. Laing. The balmy eventide with full moonlight, together with the ability of the ladies of this congregation to provide for such occasions, would all point to a successful evening's entertainment, but particularly so last night. In the early evening vehicles from every direction were seen wending their way towards the Laing residence until a crowd of five or six hundred had assembled. 'Bus loads come from the city, especially from St. Andrew's church (for which the congregation at Springville has a strong attachment,) the Nicholls Hospital staff, besides very many private conveyances. Chemong to the north, Centreville and Ballieboro to the south and Carnville to the west were all represented by their brightest and best, which is saying a very great deal.

The informality of the evening was one of the enjoyable features of the entertainment. The guests were cordially welcomed and conducted to sumptuously laden tables or to partake of luscious ice cream, while happy conversation mingled with the strains of music from the 57th Regimental Band of Peterborough, whose frequent selections were enjoyed by all. A regrettable incident was the breaking loose of a horse, which was quickly captured before any damage was done to the owner's buggy. The crowd was delighted with the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Laing, with the entertainment provided by the ladies, and will eagerly look forward to another similar occasion.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, of Northport, and Mrs. (Prof.) Doxee, of Albert College, Belleville are visiting at the home of Mr. D. E. Wilson, J.P., Springville, for a few days.

Miss Teenie McIntosh is home from the West, the guest of Mr. John McIntosh.

Central Canada's Attractive Fair

The Ottawa Show Taking the Lead--Many New Features.

What with changes from past years and innovations, the new Central Canada Fair at Ottawa, will be a new show in many respects this year. And the new features are of such a character that altogether the Fair promises to be the most attractive exhibition in America this fall. This is a big statement to make but the arrangements announced justify it. The special attractions this year will include the following:

Running and Trotting Races, Balloon Ascensions, with triple parachute descents, Hurdle Jumping, Chariot and Roman Standing Races, and other specialties, every afternoon in front of the grandstand. Two two-hour performances of high class vaudeville, including illustrated songs, and moving pictures every afternoon in the large new theatre hall being erected. This hall will be fully equipped as a modern theatre and have a seating capacity of 6,000.

A great Lacrosse Championship Lacrosse Match between the Shamrocks, champions of the world, and the Capitals, on the closing day of the Fair, Saturday, 15th September.

Interesting and instructive exhibitions on the lake within the grounds of the famous Wilson Automatic Gas Buoys in operation.

Presentation on a large scale every evening in the new theatre hall of the popular comic opera, "The Gingerbread Man." This will take the place of the spectacular heretofore given.

These attractions and the exhibition proper should certainly draw a record attendance to the fair, which is to open September 7th.

To make the exhibition proper larger and better than ever before the directors have increased the prize list and are erecting new buildings and beautifying the grounds. In horses and cattle, sheep and swine, the increase in the prize list amounts to over $1,500, and the competitions have been so arranged that exhibitors from Central Canada will not have to compete with what are generally known as the professional exhibitors and dealers of the east and west.

There will be separate classes for both classes of exhibitors.

The modern Dairy Building, erected last year, will be available for the first time, and arrangements have been completed for lectures and demonstrations in butter and cheese making by Government experts.

There will be a new building for the poultry and pet stock, and the prize list has also been largely increased for this class of exhibitors.

The number of Gold Medals offered as special sweepstake prizes is also greater than ever before. Forty-two will be given this year, and in each case the winner will have his choice of the medal or its equivalent in cash.

Yet another decided improvement will be the Art Gallery. Arrangements have been made with the Ontario Society of Artists to make a large display of paintings in addition to the regular exhibit by amateurs, and the building this year will be completely filled with choice productions.

The Dog Show will be bigger and better than ever, and altogether the Ottawa show will be the main exhibition to see this year. As last year, the buildings will be open till ten every evening, and attention is drawn to the fact that for the additional day this year, Saturday, September 15, one of the great annual events in the Ottawa Valley, the Championship Lacrosse Match between the famous Shamrocks and Capitals will take place on the grounds.

Lake Was Rough On Both Trips

Peterborough Gentlemen Report Stormy Weather on Lake Ontario.

Messrs. Jas. Weir and Jas. Johnston, returned this morning from Rochester, where they have spent the last week. They were accompanied on their return trip by Mr. Johnston's father, Mr. Wm. Johnston, who will spend a couple of weeks here. They report a very stormy passage both going and returning. On Saturday, especially the lake was very rough, and all but a few of the passengers suffered from mal de mer. Coming back yesterday the Cayuga was three hours and a half late in reaching Port Hope.

Mira
TRADE MARK REGISTERED.
Ointment quickly cures Itching Piles, Eczema, and other skin troubles.
Leo Corrigan, 475 Ferguson Ave., N. Hamilton, had Eczema since childhood. He consulted specialists—lay weeks and weeks in hospitals—and despaired of ever getting better. "I thought Mira would be like other remedies I had tried," he writes, "but, to my delight, a few hours after the first application I felt great relief. It has worked wonders for me." Don't put it off—get a box of Mira Ointment at once and be relieved. Price 50c.—6 for $2.50. At druggists—or from The Chemists Co. of Canada, Limited, Hamilton, Canada.

The New York Stock Market

(Furnished by J. R. Heintz & Co.)

New York, July 6.—After a rather weak opening, stocks showed a general disposition to advance to-day. The Hill stocks were marked up right from the start and St. Paul quickly followed suit. Floor traders started to cover and what promised to be another day of declining prices was soon turned into one favourable for the bulls.

There was not much news bearing on values but it was reported from the floor that buying orders on a scale down were placed in Copper, U. P., and Reading and the bears were not anxious about pressing things to-day. Philadelphia was reported very bullish on Reading and there were bull tips on St. Paul and C. F. I. both of which were made good. The general London market was rather heavy. Grain was weaker in Chicago.

The afternoon market continued strong and advanced right up to the close which was at the best of the day.

THE CELL INSTEAD OF COLLINGWOOD

With a ticket in his pocket for Collingwood a "drunk and disorderly" was gathered in to a cell this afternoon by P. C. Adams. He was found at the Grand Trunk station in a rather helpless condition and so far his name remains a mystery.

He missed the morning train and almost fell beneath the wheels of an engine on the Port Hope excursion train. A good samaritan placed him in a room at the station. He was afterwards taken to the police station. He was anxious to get to Collingwood this evening and was allowed to take his departure from the city.

Hats Off To The 57th Bugle Band

Receiving Great Praise for Their Splendid Showing in Brantford.

The members of the 57th Bugle Band are receiving much praise for their fine work in Brantford, and the tributes are certainly deserved. The band is a very creditable one, in fact, those who should know say that it is one of the best ever connected with the regiment. The members have practised faithfully and well as is announced by their recent trip to the Telephone City, where their playing delighted the people and was thoroughly satisfactory to the members of the regiment as well. Sergt. Cookson has devoted a great deal of time and attention to the affairs of the band, and the present splendid condition of the organization is, in a great measure, due to his efforts.

NEW SCIENTIFIC PROCESS.

A Preparation Discovered That Will Destroy the Dandruff Germ.

For some time it has been known that dandruff is caused by a germ that digs up the scalp into little white flakes, and by sapping the vitality of the hair at the root, causes falling hair, and, of course, finally, baldness. For years there have been all kinds of hair stimulants and scalp tonics on the market, but there has been no permanent cure for dandruff until the discovery of a preparation called Newbro's Herpicide, which destroys the dandruff germ. Destroy the cause, the effect will cease to exist. Kill the dandruff germ and you'll have no dandruff, no itching scalp, no falling hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, Special Agents.

Police Court Docket Was A Lengthy One

Boys Fined for Raiding Strawberry Patch—Each Was Charged With Twenty Boxes—Abusive Language Charge—Two "Drunk and Disorderly"—An Assault Case.

This morning saw a busy session at the police court. The first case was one in which a weakness for the strawberry fruit brought in a number of the juvenile population. Four lads, young Moss, Killingbeck, McLelland and Cecil Boskill, were arraigned before the Magistrate, who termed them "the strawberry boys." The charge was laid by Mr. Pearson, a gardener, whose fruit had suffered from their sallies. All pleadrd guilt but Killingbeck, who was discharged. The rest were assessed $2 each or ten days in gaol.

In passing the sentence the magistrate intimated that he intended placing a fine on all such cases as came before him.

"If ever you boys appear again before me I shall make the fine greater; the people shall be protected," he concluded.

ABUSIVE LANGUAGE CHARGE WAS NOT PROVEN

Robert Smith was charged with using insulting and obscene language towards Alfred Sherwood, on Saturday morning last at the corner of Reid and King street. Mr. Gordon appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. R. F. McWilliams for the accused.

The little episode on Saturday was the sequel to hard feelings existing between the two men for some time regarding a sewer contract. A scuffle on the roadside was the outcome, witnessed by only two men, one of whom could not be obtained. Sherwood had no witnesses, and the evidence of Mr. Locke contradicted his statements.

"The complaint fails because it is not proved," said the magistrate, and discharged Smith.

PLEADED GUILTY BUT WAS SORRY IT HAPPENED

"Guilty," said George Finnie, to the drunk and disorderly charge against him. "I am sorry it happened, but if you let me off this time it won't occur again."

Two dollars and costs was the fine which he handed over and left the box with the remark that he was leaving the city to-morrow.

WAS DRUNK BUT HE PROMISED TO REFORM

A citizen was charged with being drunk and disorderly, but on the promise of reform he was discharged.

NO EVIDENCE; ASSAULT CHARGE WAS DISMISSED

The police court ended with an assault charge preferred against John Pogue by Ernest Woods. The latter affirmed that Pogue struck him in the nose and face on July 2, in the Queen's Hotel, without provocation. The accused pleaded not guilty and denied having even spoken to or having had any dealings with Pogue in his life. The charge was dismissed as no evidence was given to convict.

Rules And Regulations Governing Express Men

New By-law Has Been Passed by the Police Commissioners —Summary of the Most Important Clauses—The Tariff Schedule.

The Board of Police Commissioners met on Wednesday night, when an important bylaw covering owners and drivers of express wagons, trucks, etc., was passed and will go into force on August 1, 1906.

The bylaw provides that no person shall use for hire any carriage, cart, sleigh, or other vehicle whatever for the conveyance of goods within the city limits, or from any point within the limits to any point not more than three miles of the limits, without being licensed to do so.

The persons to whom licenses will be granted must be 21 years of age, of good character, and must be possessed of, to his own use, one or more good horses, express wagons, etc., and the owners of express wagons so licensed shall, when required, submit the names of drivers to the clerk of the Board, who shall register the names and endorse them on the license.

The clerk is authorized to furnish the person obtaining a license with a number, plate or badge, which must be placed on the left side of the vehicle and near the front. This plate will remain the property of the city, and must be returned when a person fails to renew his license.

The amounts to be paid for licenses is fixed by the bylaw as follows:—

For each motor car, $10.

For each two-horse express wagon, $7.50.

For each one-horse express wagon, $5.

For each transfer of license, $1.

Every licensee must, if required by any person employing him, or by any member of the said Board, or any alderman or any officer whose duty it is to enforce the bylaw, give his name and number and produce his certificate.

Every licensee must give full information as to the address and place from and to which he has or had conveyed goods if requested to do so by the chief constable or any police officer whose duty it is to enforce the bylaw.

No licensee, under the bylaw, shall abuse or ill-treat his horse or horses.

The bylaw provides for the conduct of the licensee. He must not needlessly snap his whip nor use obscene or profane language, and must not leave his vehicle unattended at any express stand.

Every licensee is requested, when called upon, to aid and assist by himself and with his vehicle in the apprehension and conveying to prison of any person charged with an offence for which he may be apprehended.

No licensee shall block any approach to any wharf or railway station, and all must obey the orders of the police.

Licensees must not gallop their horses nor drive at an unreasonable rate.

No licensee shall drive for hire on Sunday except for the conveyance of baggage to and from train and boat, in case of fire or other emergency.

No licensee shall demand or receive more than the tariff fixed by the bylaw, or shall he solicit any person to use his express wagon, and shall serve the first person requiring his express wagon, and in case of a plea that he has accepted a previous order, he must, on demand, give the name of the person whose order he has taken. No driver is compelled, however, to take an order from a person who owes him for previous service.

It is the duty of the police to be active at all times in preventing extortion or over-charge by owners or drivers of express wagons, and all officers on duty at stations, wharves, etc., shall have supervision over the licensee, and in case of dispute as to the charge to be paid, shall decide the matter and prosecute the offender if an over-charge has been made. Persons must be left to choose express wagons without solicitation.

No licensee shall induce any person to employ him by misinforming misleading or deceiving him as to the time or place of the arrival or departure of any train or boat, or as to the location or distance between points.

Every licensee must punctually keep all his appointments, and if he neglects to fulfill his engagement, or is not punctual, is subject to the penalties of the bylaw, and any person hiring an express wagon and not using it shall pay the owner the charge.

The tariff of charges is as follows:—

For a two-horse vehicle—

For every service not exceeding half an hour, 50c.

For each additional half hour, or fraction thereof, 25c.

For a one-horse vehicle—

For every service not exceeding half an hour, 25c.

For every additional half hour, 15c.

When a two-horse wagon is engaged for a full day of nine hours, $4.

When a one-horse wagon is engaged for a full day, $2.75.

Fifty per cent. to be added to these rates for any hour employed between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m.

Persons hiring vehicles and neglecting or refusing to pay the rates mentioned are liable to the penalty hereafter set forth.

Carters must occupy such stands as may be assigned to them by the City Council.

The bylaw provides a penalty not exceeding $50 exclusive of costs for each offender, and in default of payment and distress, the convicting magistrate may send him to the common jail for a period not exceeding six months.

The bylaw takes effect on August 1, 1906.

Endless Annoyance and Misery.

"As a man of seventy years I am grateful to God and to Dr. Chase's Ointment for a cure of piles which has caused me endless annoyance and much misery. The itching and burning was almost beyond endurance, but Dr. Chase's Ointment brought quick relief, and I believe that the cure is lasting." — Rev. Wm. Thomas, Brownsville, Ont.

Improvements To The Children's Aid Shelter

Grounds and Building Being Repaired and Many Improvements Affected—Children Are Happy and Contented —A Glimpse at the Good Work.

Repairs to the verandah and steps of the Children's Shelter are being made, and these much needed improvements have improved the appearance of the premises very materially. Considerable whitewashing and painting has also been done to the interior, and as a result the Shelter presents almost a new appearance. These brightened premises constitute an object lesson to the children which cannot help being beneficial.

The Examiner saw playing around on the lawn six or seven bright, happy-looking children, and questioned Mr. Henry, in charge, as to whether they were always as well behaved as they were at that particular time, and the reply was that on entering the Shelter some of the children were at times inclined to be obstreperous, due doubtless to the lack of training and restraint which they had experienced prior to entering the Shelter. After the first few days, by the exercise of firmness and discretion, but no severity, a marked change was noticeable, and they were soon transformed from rebelliousness and violence into pleasant mannly-behaved children.

It is gratifying to notice the salutary influence exerted by the Society and its officers upon these young waifs, who are being led into happier lives.

St. Andrew's Sunday School Excursion

An Enjoyable Day Was Spent at Jubilee Point—Steamer Water Lily Carried Jolly Crowd—The Sports Warmly Contested.

A most charming day greeted the scholars of St. Andrew's Sunday school yesterday in their annual outing. The steamer Water Lily with the spacious barge, carried the excursionists, and throughout the day it was remarked on every hand that it was the best trip they had ever had. The day was ideal — the scenery to Jubilee simply magnificent —and the fact that almost all were able to be on "observation deck" added to the comfort and delight.

Mrs. C. Ross, Bonacord street, has attended this annual picnic without missing a year, for the past 40 summers.

Visitors from Montreal, Toronto and Texas were among the passengers who thoroughly enjoyed the day, and were well pleased with the waterways of Peterborough and vicinity.

After dinner at Jubilee Point every one seemed to enjoy the opportunity of gathering flowers, ferns and water lilies, while others took to the boats, and a number to bathing. At 3 o'clock the sports were carried through in splendid fashion, Mr. T. C. Elliott being the starter. A very large number took advantage of the different races, and the winners are as follows:

1—Boys 14 and over, 100 yard dash —1st, Arthur McKnight; 2nd, Cooper Smith.

2—Girls 14 and over, 100 yard dash —1st, Helen Harper; 2nd, Ella Mathieson.

3—Boys' three-legged race— 1st, Fred. Dobson, W. Robson; 2nd, Stanley Wade, Allan Wade.

4—Girls 8 and 9—Eileen Wade and Rea Potter, equal.

5—Girls 9 to 14 — 1st, Ines Allen; 2nd, Ethel Robson.

6—Boys 10 to 14—1st, Allan Wade; 2nd, Ed. Hatton.

7—Boys 8 to 10—1st, Walter Evans; 2nd, Victor Thorndyke.

8—Girls under 8—1st, Louise Robson, 2nd, Bessie Mather.

9—Boys under 8 — 1st, Jack Counnon; 2nd, Stewart Henry.

10—Pig-a-back—1st, Allan Wade, Gordon Fallon; 2nd, Will Robson, Stanley Wade.

11—Ladies—1st, Mrs. Mellon; 2nd, Miss Irwin.

12 — Wheelbarrow — 1st, Allan Wade, Gordon Fallon; 2nd, Roy Brand, Arnold McWilliams.

The return trip was made at 4 o'clock and tea was served on the scow, ice cream and other refreshments being served. Mrs. Wm. Stevens, Miss E. Martin and Mr. Hart cheerfully undertook the catering to the wants of the children and others in confectionery, fruit and ice cream and soda water. Home was reached at 8 o'clock, after one of the best of days.

Settlers Continue To Pour Into Northwest

Mr. M. E. Sanderson Returns From a Month's Trip Through Western Canada—Crops There Are Looking Well—His Family May Go to the West Soon.

Mr. M. E. Sanderson, of Selwyn, returned to-day from a month's trip to the Northwest, during which time he visited Winnipeg, Calgary, Macleod, Edmonton, and a number of places in Saskatchewan Province.

Mr. Sanderson's trip was partly for pleasure and partly on business. He enjoyed it, and as a result it is possible that Smith township may lose the Sanderson family, which is recognized as one of the most prosperous farming families in the township. He has partly bargained for some land near Macleod, Alta., where his son, Mr. Roy Sanderson, after spending two years in the Arcola district, has located.

As to the crop prospects, Mr. Sanderson states that the people are very well satisfied. At the present time the grain is looking fine, and while in some places there has been considerable rain, it is not anticipated that the crops will be injuriously affected. The grain there is considerably behind that of Ontario, and Mr. Sanderson saw only one field headed out.

The settlers continue to pour into the west, and homesteading is being done all through the west, wherever there is any good land. The Americans, especially, are flocking over to Canada, where the cheap land is proving attractive.

WILL DEAL PROMPTLY WITH THE OFFENDERS

At the meeting of the Provincial Board of Health, of which Dr. Boucher is a member, the report of Dr. Hodgetts, the Secretary, on his recent tour of investigation of the Otonabee River banks, will be presented, and action will be taken in connection with the matter. It is understood that the report strongly condemned the conditions existing, especially at Lakefield, and prompt and radical measures will in all probability be taken.

NO WORK YET ON THE YOUNG'S POINT LINE

"That's the first I've heard of it," said Mr. Larmonth in response to a question as to whether the report that the Radial Railway Company had commenced work on the Young's Point line was true. This morning the statement was made by a gentleman who came to the city from the north, that work had actually been commenced, but apparently this is not the case. Mr. Larmonth stated to-day that there was nothing new in the situation, and that he did not know now when the work would begin.

George Street S. S. Excursion

Trip Around the Lakes a Most Delightful One.

A beautiful day greeted the George street Sunday School excursion to Kawarthadom yesterday. The regular morning Lakefield train carried the party to the northern village and when it left Auburn station there were some 200 excursionists on board. They embarked on the steamer Stoney Lake at the Lakefield wharf and enjoyed the beautiful sail through Katchewanooka and Clear Lake waters, calling at a number of the lake points. The Juniper Island rocks formed the dinner table and here a pleasant hour was spent at this popular spot. The beautiful sail up through Boschink Narrows to the head of Stony Lake was the next route and the pretty landscape which never tires the eye was the source of a great deal of favourable comment.

The return voyage to Lakefield in the twilight was probably the most enjoyed portion of the day and all on board were thoroughly satisfied with this year's annual George street excursion.

MR. FORSYTH'S PUPILS' SUCCESS

The following pupils of Mr. Cecil Carl Forsyth have successfully passed the June examinations of the Metropolitan School of Music, Toronto:—Miss Mabel Harrison, Junior vocal, 1st class honours; Miss Annie Ivory, junior vocal, 1st class honours; Miss Laura Quinn, junior vocal, 2nd class honours; Miss Marian Whitelaw, junior vocal, pass; Miss Violet Copeland, primary piano, honours; Miss Laura Quinn, rudiments, 1st class honours; Miss Marian Whitelaw, rudiments, pass; Miss Violet Copeland, rudiments, pass.

ATTEMPTED TO FLIT BEFORE SETTLING UP

An Aylmer street boarding house episode caused considerable excitement to residents in the vicinity this afternoon. Mr. Mitchell, a boarder, made a bold attempt to take his exodus from the camp without settling with the landlady. His earthly affairs were squeezed into a trunk and a carter ready to draw it to the new lodging rooms. The lady telephoned the police and the trunk taken to the police station and held in bondage until the board money was forthcoming. Mr. Mitchell was then allowed to go.

MUCH TALKED ABOUT IN PETERBOROUGH

The first week Dr. Montgomery was here people said, "wonder if he can really do good work." The second week the expression changed to "We hear that he is doing splendid work." The present week all doubt is gone. Doctors are sending in their patients, and eye-sight sufferers are coming from distant parts of the country to consult him. His daily free clinics are well attended and during the past week nearly a hundred persons have called. Dr. Montgomery remains by contract until and including Saturday, July 14th—but no longer.

The Local Option By-Law Quashed At Osgoode Hall

Mr. Justice Mabee Gives Judgment Against Owen Sound.

BUT THE TOWN WILL APPEAL

Many Irregularities Found In Taking the Vote on Local Option—One Hundred Persons Voted Who Had No Right to Do So—Carelessness Attributed to Deputy Returning Officers — Votes Thrown Out.

Toronto, July 6.—Judgment was yesterday morning given by Mr. Justice Mabee quashing the local option by-law in Owen Sound. A vote was taken on the question and resulted in a poll of 1,238 for and 762 against local option. The result was disputed by a ratepayer, who moved to have the by-law quashed.

Mr. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., appearing on behalf of W. H. Sinclair, a contractor of Owen Sound, charged that women had lobbied and been influential in securing the vote. He also specified other irregularities.

His Lordship in giving judgment finds that the courts do not interfere with the preponderating will of the electors except for the clearest and plainest of reasons.

No Authority For This Notice.

It was argued that the by-law was not duly approved, because the ratepayers in the different wards were not allowed to vote where their names appeared on the lists. The decision quotes in full the printed proclamation issued by the Town Clerk to the effect that voters must poll in the subdivisions in which they resided and there only, and calling attention to the statutory penalty for voting more than once.

"There is no authority in the act for giving a notice of this sort,' says his Lordship, "and the Town Clerk was a friend of the by-law."

The act is quoted to show the ratepayers are entitled to vote in each ward where they are qualified, and, although the Town Clerk claimed that wards had been abolished in Owen Sound by by-law in 1898, the by-law did not have this effect.

316 Good Votes Thrown Out.

As ratepayers were entitled to vote in each ward where they qualified, Mr. Justice Mabee finds that 316 votes against the measure were thrown out which should have been counted, and it was shown that in addition 100 people voted who had no right to. These favored the by-law, and this reduces the majority to 60 votes. It was contended that there was nothing to show that the 573 votes to which 257 persons in one ward were entitled to in all wards were cast, and if so this effectually sets aside the by-law; on the other hand, if 257 were assumed to have voted, the majority of 476 is reduced to 160, and the 100 illegal votes reduces it to 60.

"It appears that some at least who had no votes not only voted, but were very energetic supporting the law. Practically a threat of prosecution was held over the heads of the voters," says the judgment.

"The very greatest confusion was likely to arise from the similarity in size and color in the local option and the Keenan by-law, in his Lordship's opinion, and error actually did occur, a clergyman and a banker voting in mistake.

"The applicant complains of many irregularities connected with the vote, and certainly very many existed.

Omitted Certain Duties.

"The clerk, Charles Gordon, entirely omitted to comply with the provisions of secs. 152 and 348, but furnished each deputy with a large printed volume, entitled 'voters' lists of the town of Owen Sound,' declaring it to be the revised list.

"Many irregularities were attributed to the carelessness of deputy returning officers.

"In one case James Buchanan, deputy returning officer in No. 10, and Joseph Meeburn, poll clerk. The deputy certified that all proper entries had been made in the poll book. There were 267 votes recorded at the poll, yet the poll book does not show that a single voter voted on either of the by-laws.

"Very many glaring omissions and irregularities," observes his Lordship, "appear in connection with proceedings upon the vote, leading to the irresistible conclusion that the election officials were selected without regard to fitness. I think the by-law must be quashed, with costs to be paid by the town corporation to the applicant."

There Will Be An Appeal.

Mayor Joyce, Owen Sound, wired the license department yesterday that the local option by-law had been quashed and requested that no licenses be issued in the town pending the result of an appeal against the decision. The department telegraphed the chairman of the commissioners of North Grey saying that no licenses are to be issued until the appeal is disposed of.

School Teacher Drowned.

Brougham, July 6.—Geo. R. Brown was drowned yesterday afternoon at Pickering. Mr. Brown was with a Sunday school party from here at Lake Ontario, and while in bathing got beyond his depth. Mr. Brown has been teaching school at Locust Hill, Ont., for the past year.

St. Thomas, July 6.—The condition of Chas. Duncombe, the 15-year-old son of T. H. Duncombe, druggist, who was accidentally shot in the eye by another lad named Dempsey, Wednesday night, is critical.

A Lawyer Robbed.

Busy Day Was Spent in The House Friday

Amendment to the Railway Act Passed.

EMMERSON'S BILL THROUGH

Control of Streets by Unincorporated Villages, So Far as Telephone Poles Are Concerned, Given — Two-Cent Passenger Rate Amendment Defeated — Protection of Level Crossings—Militia Estimates.

Ottawa, July 6.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, announced yesterday in the House that the report of the committee on the revision of the rules would be considered on Monday, thus disposing of the hope that Parliament would prorogue this week.

Replying to Mr. Borden, Mr. Aylesworth said the bills relating to the election laws and independence of Parliament had been referred to a special committee, which had failed to meet. They were too late to be dealt with this session.

Subsidies For Mail Carrying.

Mr. Fielding submitted a statement showing the annual return made by various railways which have received subsidies to the Dominion by way of service in carrying mails, etc. This commenced in 1901 with $700 and grew to $18,200 last year, and made a total of $32,072.

Railway Act Amendment.

In committee again on Mr. Emmerson's bill to amend the railway act, Mr. Lancaster moved an amendment embodying the conclusions of the special committee on his bill. The amendment provided that trains may run up to a speed of ten miles an hour over level crossings in thickly peopled parts of cities, towns and villages, but if they desire to exceed that speed they must protect the crossings in a manner satisfactory to the Railway Commision. The amendment was adopted and the date of coming into force was fixed as Jan. 1, 1908.

An amendment by Mr. Emmerson was accepted relating to regulation of express charges, providing that it shall not apply to existing contracts prior to Nov. 1, 1906, or until such time as the Railway Commission may determine.

Mr. Lancaster appealed for the insertion of an amendment giving townships, as well as cities, towns and villages, control over the erection of telephone poles, etc., on their highways.

Mr. Emmerson was willing to give control of villages, "incorporated or otherwise." He was willing to go far enough to give control in settled communities, but he did not think it fair to require a telephone company to get such permission in large, unsettled regions.

Mr. Lalor supported the amendment, which was not disposed of when the House rose at 1 o'clock.

Continued In Afternoon.

The debate continued after luncheon. Mr. Monk opposed the amendment as unnecessary and provocative of delay.

Mr. Emmerson's amendment giving villages, incorporated or unincorporated, the right to regulate the erection of poles as well as cities and towns, was adopted.

Mr. Lancaster's amendment was voted down by 27 to 61.

Provincial Rights of Expropriation.

Mr. Staples moved to reconsider clause 29, for the purpose of inserting a provision giving the Provinces the right of expropriation of any telephone company with the special purpose of meeting the situation in Manitoba.

Mr. W. F. Maclean supported Mr. Staples' amendment.

Mr. Stockton appealed to the Minister of Justice for an opinion on the question.

The Minister of Justice.

Mr. Aylesworth said if he might be permitted to express an opinion it was that the adoption of the principle of public ownership was a long distance away. It would be a great deal more inexpensive to Manitoba or to a municipality to build its own line than to buy a line already built. They could not expect to obtain the ownership of a property in existence and operation without paying what the property is worth, as a going concern. With regard to the proposal which asked Parliament to say that a work, which had been by law declared to be a work for the general advantage of Canada, is in a certain part of it to be handed over to the legislative jurisdiction of one of the Provincial Legislatures, that was a direct proposal that this Parliament should declare that no longer possessed that legislative jurisdiction, and that one of the Province possessed it. If the Dominion Parliament can denude itself by its own act of this part of its legislative jurisdiction he saw no reason why it could not, by the same method, denude itself of its legislative jurisdiction with regard to trade and commerce. If it could consign its power to a Legislature in regard to one function, why not in respect to three or four, or the whole of its jurisdiction? If such a measure passed as proposed by Mr. Staples it would probably be disallowed in Great Britain. It seemed to him to be legislation quite beyond the power of this Parliament.

Mr. R. L. Borden.

Mr. R. L. Borden admitted that this was a somewhat novel proposition. If the Bell Co.'s lines in Manitoba were taken the Bell Co. could build another line. At the same time he admitted there was a very serious question. As to the question of jurisdiction, he did not think the act would be ultra vires. Parliament was continually delegating power to the Governor in Council, for example. He thought the question should be treated seriously.

The amendment was lost, finding very few supporters on either side, and the bill was reported.

Two-Cent Passenger Rate.

On motion for the third reading, Mr. W. F. Maclean moved an emendment providing for a two-cent standard passenger rate in Canada.

Mr. Emmerson said there were many reasons why it would be impossible to apply a general two-cent rate. The two-cent rate might come in time but not by legislation.

A division being demanded, the amendment was lost by 8 yeas to 104 nays.

Dr. Sproule moved to amend the telephone clause by striking out the limitation of compulsory interchange of traffic to long-distance lines, that is to say, by requiring all telephone companies to interchange. This received 31 supporters, while 86 opposed it.

The bill was then read a third time.

Some minor amendments to the indemnity act were passed, and the New Brunswick Supreme Court bill was reported.

The House then, in less than two hours, passed all the militia estimates—almost a record even for the closing days of the session.

Canadian Hall Mark.

Ottawa, July 6.—The Commons banking and commerce committee yesterday morning passed the Senate bill respecting the sale and marking of manufactures of gold and silver, i.e., to establish a Canadian Hall Mark.

Retail Merchants Feel Restraint.

Ottawa, July 6.—Yesterday morning a large delegation, representing the Retail Merchants' Association, waited upon the Premier, Mr. Paterson and Mr. Aylesworth and asked that they be relieved from the existing law under which the retail merchants could be held guilty of conspiracy for restraint of trade because they met in conference with wholesale merchants to discuss prices. Sir Wilfrid Laurier assured the deputation that the Government would give the matter most careful consideration.

GLORIOUS FOURTH'S RECORD.

Number Killed 38; Wounded 2,789 Damage by Fire $66,450.

Chicago, July 6.—The Tribune yesterday publishes its ninth annual summary of the deaths and injuries caused throughout the United States by Wednesday's celebration of the declaration of independence. The figures up to an early hour yesterday were as follows:

Dead—38; by fireworks 9, by cannon 1, by firearms 11, by explosives 7, by toy pistols 4, by runaway 1, by drowning 5.

Injured—2,789; by fireworks 1,099, by cannon 261, by firearms 393, by explosives 297, by toy pistols 204, by runaways 35.

Fire loss, $66,450.

Last year 42 persons were killed outright, but when lockjaw and other diseases induced by injuries completed their work over 400 lives had been sacrificed.

The number of injured, 2,789, is in excess of last year's figures by 258.

U. S. Consul Hurt.

Kingston, July 6.—Howard D. Vansant, United States consul at this port, met with an accident Wednesday at Capt Vincent. A giant fire-cracker prematurely exploded in his hand, which was somewhat shattered, but no serious results are anticipated.

Synopsis Of Canadian North-West HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

Royally Entertained By People Of Millbrook

Souris Lacrosse Team Were the Guests of the Villagers Yesterday—Were Presented With a Loving Cup and Eulogistic Addresses.

The Souris lacrosse team returned to the city this morning from Millbrook and spent the day here before leaving to-night for Toronto. The team were given a great reception in Millbrook yesterday and report it as the most enjoyable incident of their eastern trip. Souris was largely settled by Millbrook people and as a result the villagers were desirous to show their good feeling towards the members of the team. A half holiday was declared in Millbrook and practically the whole population turned out to give the visitors a royal welcome.

A committee of Millbrook citizens came up to Peterborough to meet them The committee consisted of Rev. W. S. Queen, councillors J. C. Kells, R. J. Doak, Messrs. T. T. Kells, John Deyell, H. M. Wood and Alex. Allen.

The Souris team and the Millbrook outfit played a practice game which aroused a great deal of interest. A very large crowd gathered to watch the game and both teams were warmly applauded. The challengers for the Minto Cup won the game by 6-3. They were without five of their regular men but managed to win out despite their crippled condition. Peterborough men figured largely in the game. Myles McDonough and Bunch Rickey, formerly of this city and Fred. McGrath, played for the winners and W. Galley played goal for the villagers. The Souris team lined up as follows:—Goal, Lockhart; point, Hewer; cover point, McDonough; defence, McGregor; McDonald, Rickey; centre, Barber; home, McLeod, McLean, McGrath; outside, Burns; inside, Lawrence.

In the evening a big crowd assembled in the town hall where an interesting programme took place. A feature was the presentation of a very handsome loving-cup to the Souris team by the people of Millbrook. Speeches were made by several leading citizens and Mr. J. A. Taylor of the visitors made an appropriate response.

Manager McGregor of the Souris team when seen by the Examiner was loud in his praises of the hospitality of the people of Millbrook and of the reception given the team there yesterday.

The Souris team will leave to-night for Toronto, where they will spend a few days before leaving the west. The return trip will be made by steamer through the great lakes and the entire eastern journey will have taken a month by the time the team reach home. They are a fine bunch of fellows and during their stay here have made many friends who would have liked to have seen them carry back the Minto Cup with them.

TO FINISH SCHEDULE IN THE GUILD LEAGUE

The schedule of the Guild Baseball League will be played out. This was decided last night at a meeting of the executive, held at the Y.M.C.A. hall. While Charlotte street team has won all the games finished the George street and St. Paul's teams have not finished their games, only half a game having been played between these two teams, the score for four innings being 12-7 in favour of St. Paul's. Should St. Paul's win this game it would mean that Charlotte street would win the championship without any further games, but should it go to George street there is a chance that the two Methodist teams may tie.

St. Paul's and George street teams will meet again on Monday night to finish their game. It will be played on the Riverside Park.

Committee In Charge of Regatta

Met Last Night and Discussed Some Details—Not Much Business Done.

The committee in charge of the Peterborough-Otonabee regatta and aquatic sports met last night at the Oriental, when there were present Mr. W. S. Davidson, in the chair; Ald. Elliott, Messrs. H. Kye, H. C. Winch, Mr. Tate and Mr. R. M. Glover. Mr. E. S. Clarry, the chairman of the committee, was not present, and on this account not much business was transacted, but several details were discussed, and will be finally disposed at the next meeting, to be held on Thursday next, when there will be a report from Mr. Johnston Paudash regarding subscriptions. Mr. Paudash was unable to be present last night.

BASEBALL GAME WITH ORILLIA

To-morrow a baseball game between a team chosen by Fred Whitcroft and an Orillia team, will be played at the latter town, in connection with the Quakers' excursion.

The team to represent Peterborough will be chosen from the following: Whitcroft, Sheridan, Heaslip, Fitzpatrick, Trainer, Quinlan, Roddy, Long, Gillespie, Shaw, Derocher and Callaghan.

FOOTBALL

A rumour is afloat that the Bridgenorth football team are putting up a silver trophy as an enticement to get at the Quakers again.

The Peterborough Quaker Club held a meeting last night in the Y.M.C.A. parlours to consider whether they play off with the Little Yorks of Toronto to-morrow in the first semi-final game for the championship of Ontario. Those present were Armstrong, Boycott, Sullivan, Crough, Fitzgerald, McFadden, Archibald, Baker Morgan.

The club found it impossible to play to-morrow and will wait for instructions from the Match Committee of the Ontario Association.

Threatening Attitude Of The Egyptians

British Parliament and Country Receive Surprise.

SIR EDWARD GREY'S SPEECH

Delivered in Solemn Tone Amid a Tense Silence—Momentous Character of its Matter—Attacks on British Officers a Deliberate Manifestations of Fanatical Spirit—Britain Must Show Her Strength Now.

London, July 6.—Parliament and the country were given a surprise last night by an unexpected and sensational speech by Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary, on the situation in Egypt.

Speaking in a solemn tone and amid a tense silence, the Minister declared that the recent attacks on British officers at Tabah was not accidental, but a deliberate manifestation of the fanatical spirit which had necessitated the strengthening of the garrison in Egypt.

He declared that unless the authority of Lord Cromer and the Egyptian Government were strongly upheld it might lead to a situation requiring the adoption of such unconstitutional measures to meet the emergency as would be especially distasteful to the Liberal Government.

During the consideration of foreign estimates several members offered criticisms specially urging that a fleet be not sent to Constadt.

John Dillon (Nationalist) strongly denounced what he termed the brutal barbarism of floggings and executions in Egypt, accusing Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary, of a desire to cloak the affair.

Sir Edward, in a general reply, stated that all foreign relations were friendly, and, speaking in a solemn manner, said:

"As things are now, I say deliberately and with a full sense of responsibility that if Parliament does anything at this moment to weaken or destroy the authority of the Egyptian Government, you will come face to face with a very serious situation, for should fanaticism get the better of constituted authority there might arise the necessity for extreme measures."

Dealing with the Congo question, the Foreign Secretary said he distrusted the proposed reforms because the system was wrong. If other powers would join Great Britain in insisting on reforms the Government would welcome them

Mysterious Fire Did Considerable Damage

Home of Mr. John Londry Was Scene of a Blaze—No Explanation is Offered of the Origin—Damage Will Amount to at Least $500.

The home on Bethune street of Mr. John Londry, the well-known flagman at the Brock street G. T. R. crossing, was the scene of a somewhat disastrous fire about eight o'clock last evening. The damage from smoke and fire will amount to at least $500.

The fire broke out in the woodshed at the side of the house, and had gained considerable headway before the brigade arrived. They succeeded in quickly extinguishing the blaze before the fire had seized upon the front part of the house, the kitchen and sheds suffering the most damage.

A somewhat unusual incident occurred during the progress of the fire. While the firemen were fighting the blaze in the rear of the house, a mattress in the front bed-room upstairs suddenly broke into flames and much damage was done to the room before the fire there was quenched. Chief Rutherford attributes this blaze to spontaneous combustion.

The origin of the fire remains a mystery, but the blaze apparently began in a pile of shingles in the woodshed. How they caught fire is something which no one seems able to account for.

Mrs. Wright, who lives next door, was the first to detect the fire. She saw flames burst out from the woodshed, and gave the alarm at once to Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald, who sent in the call. A number of the members of the bowling club were on the green and went to the rescue, doing good service before the brigade arrived. Mrs. Londry was alone in the house at the time the blaze began and knew nothing about it until informed by the neighbours.

Mr. Londry, when seen by the Examiner last night, was naturally much excited over the affair, but could give no explanation as to the origin of the fire. The building is white plastered structure and is the property of Mr. Londry.

Peterboro's "Finest" Has Been Re-organized

Constables Stewart and Rutherford Have Resigned and Police Commissioners Have Filled Their Places—Messrs. John Meharry and Samuel Newhall Are New Men.

The last twenty-four hours has seen great changes in the city police force, and to-day two new men are wearing the blue uniforms and brass buttons.

Constable Stewart, after eighteen years and four months on the force, has resigned, to take the position of License Inspector of West Peterborough, and is now retired from duty. Constable Rutherford, the recently appointed addition to the force, has also handed in his resignation, and his term as an officer terminated last night at 12 o'clock.

The two new policemen are John S. Meharry, son of W. H. Meharry, city, and Samuel Newhall, an Englishman, who has seen much service. Both should make good officers, and seem well qualified to fill the position. Mr. Newhall was for eight years on the London, Eng., police force, during which time he naturally saw many phases of the life of a policeman. He is in addition a South African veteran. Mr. Meharry has the physical qualifications necessary for the position.

These appointments were made at a meeting of the City Police Commissioners at four o'clock yesterday afternoon. A previous meeting held on Tuesday night had adjourned un-

To-night the installation of Havelock Lodge will take place, when several will go down from Peterborough to take part in the ceremony.

Nervous and Worried.

Mr. Archibald Sutherland, Principal South Bur School, Sydney, N.S., writes, "I was greatly troubled with nervous dyspepsia, and after meals I often felt like vomiting, and my stomach was sore. I was nervous and worried, frequently had headaches and shortness of breath. When several doctors failed I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it has entirely cured me. I shall be glad to be the means of bringing this medicine to the notice of any one who is suffering as I did."

Sir,—I have the honour to submit my annual report on Indian Affairs in my Agency for the year ended June 30th, 1906.

Rice Lake Band.

Reserve.—The Rice Lake Reserve is located on the north shore of Rice Lake, in the Township of Otonabee, County of Peterborough. It contains about 1,960 acres of land, of which about 855 are cleared; about 188 acres of this is under lease to white tenants while the locatees cultivate the remainder of said cleared land.

Population.—The total population shown by the present census is 87.

Health and Sanitation.—The health of the members of this Band has been very good, there being but one death during the year.

Occupations.—The occupations are gathering wild rice and trapping. A number of the men work in the lumber camps in winter, and others work their locations.

Buildings, Stock and Farm Implements.—Nearly all the buildings on this reserve are frame and are fairly well kept, the majority of the Indian women keep their homes clean and tidy. The stock is mostly good and in many cases well kept, and those who farm have all the modern machinery.

Education.—The children are making fair progress in their studies, they attend the public school with the white children, and have at present Miss Doris as their teacher.

Temperance and Morality.—The greater number of these Indians are temperate and very well behaved and law-abiding.

Mud Lake Band.

Reserve.—This Reserve is located on the shore of Mud Lake, in the Township of Smith, County of Peterborough. It contains 2,000 acres of land, of which little more than 300 acres are cleared.

Population.—The total population shown by the present census is 135.

Health and Sanitation.—During the past year the health of the members of this Band has been fairly good. Sanitary measures are very well observed.

Occupation.—In agricultural pur-

No Underground Wires For City Says Bell Company

Have Given Up the Project and Will Put Up More Cables Instead of Taking Down What Are Now in Use—Prominent Construction Officials Here Yesterday.

The Bell Telephone Co. have practically decided to give up their proposed plan of placing their wires underground, and will use their poles now in use to carry the wires considered necessary in view of the growing business of the company. The apparatus which has been here for some weeks will be shipped to Berlin, where the company will bury the wires on the principal streets, as they were anxious to do here. The reason for this step is that the conditions presented by the City Council were such that the company could, or would, not accept.

Mr. W. H. Winter, general superintendent of construction of the Bell Telephone Co., and Mr. T. H. Wadland, superintendent of construction of the Ontario department of the Bell Company, were here yesterday, and went over the lines to decide on the amount of overhead wiring and additional cables needed. As a result of their visit, it was decided to place five more cables of 500 units on George street, instead of putting them underground and removing the poles, as was the original intention of the company. The work according to Mr. F. D. Doan, the local manager, who was seen to-day by The Examiner, will be proceeded with at once, as the additional wiring is very badly needed. A carload of cable is expected to arrive here on Monday, and the placing of the necessary cables will be commenced immediately.

Mr. Doan said that his company had the right, under their charter, to proceed with the underground work as proposed, but they preferred to try to come to an amicable arrangement with the Council. The ultimatum given by the Council was such that the company could not consider it at all.

HIGHER PRICES FOR CHEESE LOOKED FOR

The prices on the Peterborough cheese board, appear to have considerable influence on the cheese market at Montreal. The Star yesterday had the following:

Notwithstanding the advance in the Peterborough chees board, reported yesterday, where as high as 11 3-4c was paid, the local market remains about steady. It was claimed that purchases could have been made here to-day at 11 3-4c, but that there were no orders in at that figure, so that trading was almost absent. Sales of Quebec cheese were reported at 11 3-8c today and 11 3-4c to 11 1-2c was the quotation for finest Eastern cheese.

Receipts of cheese reported on the Board of Trade to-day were 20,625 boxes.

Although there is practically no trading at present high figures merchants allow that the market is firm and some even express fears that the market will be forced even higher during the next few days.

REV. E. A. LANGFELDT MAY BE TORONTO RECTOR

The Toronto Star said in a recent issue: "Among those whose names are most carefully being considered by the bishop in connection with St. Luke's church are those of the Rev. R. J. Moore, of St. Margaret's, and the Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A., of St. Luke's church, Peterborough." This church is the one which Ven. Archdeacon Langtry, D.C.L., was rector of, and is one of the best Anglican churches in Toronto. It will be remembered that some few weeks ago a meeting was held at which Rev. W. R. Boal was selected as rector by the congregation, but it later developed that there was considerable opposition to his selection, and the bishop has not yet appointed him.

DIED FROM LOCKJAW IN OSHAWA MONDAY

—Mrs. L. Spry, of Rubidge street, yesterday received the sad intelligence from her sister, Mrs. W. H. Dearborn, of Oshawa, of the sudden death of her son, on Monday. He was a bright young lad of 14 years who seemingly was enjoying his usual good health last Saturday. Lockjaw is said to have been the cause of death, induced by a wound on the foot. The friends of both Mrs. Dearborn and Mrs. Spry will sympathise with them in their sudden bereavement.

Some Freaks Whose Deformities Pay Well

Their Misfortunes Are Worth Fortunes—Where They Come From and Where They Go—Some Peculiar Experiences.

The following article in reference to Mlle. Christine will be of special interest to those citizens who saw her perform here about 30 years ago. The show was held in the late E. C. Hill's old opera house.

"One of the funniest freaks I ever ran across," said Frank M. Drew, an old timer in the dime museum business, "was Millie Christine, 'the two-headed Nightingale.'"

"Millie certainly could sing. And she had two heads all right enough, which caused me several times two kinds of trouble.

"I contracted to bring her to Cleveland," explained Drew; "she was to have so much a week and her hotel and travelling expenses. I took her over to the old Kennard House, and the manager started an argument. He said that as two mouths had to be fed I would have to pay two board bills. That opened the question, and when she left town the ticket agent compelled me to pay two railway fares. She was an expensive proposition.

"Millie was coloured and highly educated. The heads would hold conversation with each other in all sorts of languages. She had travelled all over the world as a freak and she had learned every language.

"She could give an entire programme by herself. First she would sing an alto solo, and then a soprano solo. Occasionally she would sing a duet.

"She had four arms and four legs. When it came time for the instrumental music she would play a simple thing with two hands, or she could play an intricate composition with four hands. Great girl, she was.

"The most expensive exhibit I ever had was Lucy Zarote, the Mexican midget. She was really the smallest woman in the world. She was about 22 inches high and played like a little child. She got $20 an hour for sitting on the stage.

"I don't believe there ever was a boy who has not heard of Barnum's "What is It?" The bills called him Zip. He was a Southern coloured man with a peculiarly shaped head. I don't believe anyone ever really figured out what the matter was with him.

"Living skeletons and fat men and women were plentiful as the air. The best skeleton we ever had was Isaac Sprague.

"Isaac used to walk around with a can of milk in his hand to keep himself alive. He was sure a thin one. We had a fellow though who was almost as thin as Isaac, who could eat anything and everything. I never saw such an appetite. Still, he couldn't get fat.

"During one particular week we had two fat women on exhibition. Big Laura' Wolford was the star, and Hattie Bowen was the other. Laura was coloured; Hattie was white. Laura weighed almost a thousand pounds, and Hattie weighed a little less than 800.

"A Circassian girl could be made in a few minutes. All that was needed was a luxuriant head of hair or a good white wig. Nothing else was needed except a little bleaching material for the long haired girl.

"Jo-Jo and Creo were the once famous hair man and hair woman. Both were completely covered with hair—real hair, too; there was nothing fake about them.

"The camel girl was a funny looking object. Whenever she walked she walked away from herself. From her thighs down her legs were turned the wrong way. If she stooped over her knees would stick out behind like a camel's.

"Ivanovitch, the 'Siberian exile,' was one of the most versatile exhibits. He was a hideous little fellow, nearly covered with hair. One day he would be the exile. Next day he might go into a cage and be a wild man. He got a better salary for being a wild man, but it didn't make much difference to him which he was. If anything he would rather play the exile because the wild man had to try and eat raw meat which Ivanovitch didn't like to do.

"Trip was the armless wonder. He used to travel with Barnum. Trip was really good. He could write, sew, feed himself and do anything else merely by the use of his toes.

"We had a girl, too, who was born without arms. She went Trip a little further and played the piano with her toes. That is no joke.

"Next to the Circassian girls the snake charmers were the easiest found. Anybody could go into a cage with the snakes. Bill Doris had the largest one that ever played Cleveland. One of them died at the museum. It swallowed a big woolen blanket and choked to death. Sad end for him. The blanket got caught in his teeth. You know that their teeth slant backwards, so that whatever food is swallowed it has to remain in the stomach until it is digested. That is what queered the reptile.

"The ossified man I found up in Canada. I brought him down here by paying the expenses of himself and his son, and giving them a little money. They stirred up the most attention the museum ever had.

"Myrtle Corbin, one of the four-legged girls was a good drawing card until she married. She married a lecturer in a museum. It is a peculiar thing about the freaks that practically all of them are married. They marry each other, or they marry some one who is anxious to get in on the salary they make.

"We got a lot of free advertising out of Lizzie Mills, the big footed girl. We had an offer published of $500 to anyone who would marry her. We never had to make good with the money, for no one would take her. If her feet were concealed she was really a nice looking girl. She had an attack of elephantiasis, I guess."

Advanced Rate Ruled Illegal

An Important Decision Affecting the C.M.B.A.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 5.—Justice White, in equity term of the Supreme Court yesterday rendered a decision which is of far-reaching importance to the members of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association.

The judge holds that the advance in rate adopted by the Supreme Council at the 1903 convention held in Pittsburg was illegal on the ground that a certificate of insurance is a contract, and the rates named in the certificate cannot be raised.

NUBBINS OF NEWS FROM ALL OVER

A WOMAN DIRECTOR OF A STEAMBOAT LINE

Miss Clara Freymark, of St. Louis, was made a director of the Diamond Jo line recently at the meeting of the officers of the company. Miss Freymark enjoys the distinction of being the only woman director of a steamboat company. She has been with the Diamond Jo Company for the last ten years as a stenographer, which position she will still fill.

Miss Freymark is a brunette, with large brown eyes. Her employees praise her business ability and cleverness and have made her a director of the company in appreciation of her services.

HALF A PECK OF MONEY FOUND BY A KENTUCKIAN

Capt. Louie Kotmyer thought he had struck it rich one day last week, when upon landing his boat on the Ohio side of the river, he discovered about half a peck of silver money, halves and quarters.

At first he thought that he was dreaming, and he pinched himself severely several times, and then had a passenger kick him good and hard before he was certain that he was awake. He then gathered up his find, which amounted to almost fifty dollars, and he would have felt better but along with the money he picked up the dies in which the spurious stuff was cast.

Some manufacturer of counterfeit money had evidently concluded that he was about to be caught, and had dumped the money and dies in the river, which had fallen until they were exposed.

AN OCEAN STEAMER ATTACKED BY FISH

The steamer Claudine was attacked by a school of flying fish in the Hawaii and Maui channel recently. The searchlight on the vessel evidently attracted and angered the fish.

A large school of the fish suddenly rose out of the water and instead of flying away from the boat as is usually the case with that variety of fish, they flew over the bow of the craft, one flying directly for the light, breaking the glass and putting the light out of commission. A dozen fish reached the upper bridge of the deck, and two struck the side of the man on watch nearly knocking him over.

It has been noted by island captains that the searchlights seem to affect the flying fish in a very strange way. The fish evidently do not like the bright light cast upon the waters, for they invariably fly at the light, just as other fish are attracted by a torch.

A LEGHORN HEN ADOPTS SEVERAL KITTENS

Josiah L. Day, a rural free delivery mail carrier of Danbury, Conn., has a buff leghorn hen which, in lieu of chicks, is mothering a litter of five small kittens. Leghorns are known as "non-sitters." Consequently, when this hen manifested an intention to sit she had nothing but a door knob allowed her, the exegetation being that she would get tired of her job and quit in a few days. After she had been sitting two or three days it was found that she had a brood of kittens.

It is supposed that while Mrs. Leghorn was off her nest the mother cat hid there, afterward being chased away and perhaps killed by a dog.

The hen ruffles her feathers and seeks at anyone who attempts to disturb her kittens. She scratches in the earth to find food for them, and looks surprised while they lap up the milk fed to them by members of the family. She covers them with her wings at night and protects them at all times.

THE MEAN MAN WHO BOILED A FORTUNE

By the confession of Thomas MacDougal, of Cape Breton, made on his deathbed, a mystery of 10 years has been cleared up. Here is the story:—

Twenty-five years ago MacDougal and Jonathan MacFarlane were neighbours, and both fell in love with the same girl. MacFarlane won out, but his neighbour did not consider that the means he used were quite above board, and being a disbeliever in the old saying that all is fair in love and war, he became a bitter enemy of his old friend. After the marriage he became a recluse, and seldom left the house except to go to the store to purchase supplies.

Both men were prosperous and made money farming. MacDougal banked his money, but what his neighbour did with his cash was a mystery. It was known that he sent sums of money to Boston and received in return small, flat packages forwarded by registered mail, but what was contained therein no one could guess. They were always received at stated times, and were guarded so carefully that everyone judged them to be of great value.

Finally, in some way, MacDougal discovered that the mysterious packages contained United States postage stamps in various denominations, and that his neighbour was secreting them somewhere in his house. He was well aware that MacFarlane was afraid of banks, but why he should convert his wealth into foreign postage stamps was not clear. On making the discovery a way to square accounts for (the fancied or real wrong done him suggested itself, and he bided his time.

In the summer of 1895 a servant who had been employed by the MacFarlanes since the day of the wedding, died, and (when the) body was taken to the grave the entire family accompanied it, leaving the house unguarded for the first time in 10 years. The day after the funeral MacFarlane suffered a slight shock of paralysis, and two years later died from the effects.

At that time his widow created a sensation, by telling of a statement made by her husband while he was dying. This was to the effect that his entire wealth had been converted into United States postage stamps, and concealed in an old copper kettle in the cellar. The stamps were in good condition when he left for the cemetery the day the servant died, but when he returned he found that someone had boiled them during his absence and that they were dissolved into a sticky, unrecognisable mass. His reason for putting his wealth into stamps bought in the United States instead of into Canadian postage was that thieves would be unable to dispose of the plunder without leaving Cape Breton. How much money was lost he refused to say, but the shock killed him.

MacDougal was suspected, but there was no evidence against him and no arrest was made. His confession was complete and bears out the story of the widow. He said that he sneaked into the house after the funeral, searched until he found the stamps and then boiled them on the kitchen range. He completed his work an hour before the party returned from the grave.—New York World.

A delightful lawn social was held on on Monday night by the ladies of the Warsaw Methodist church. The church grounds were handsomely decorated and a large tent was erected, where strawberries, cakes and other dainties were served. The Smith brass band which had promised to play did not put in an appearance but an impromptu programme of fifteen numbers was given, and was much enjoyed by a large number of young folks who were present. The ladies in charge of the social are much encouraged by the large attendance.

The fifth meeting of the municipal council of the township of Dummer for the year 1906, was held in the town hall on Saturday, June 30th. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. The following accounts were passed for payment and orders issued on the treasurer for the same: Nathan Payne re-building Dewart's bridge, $18; Wm. Miles, repairing canal bridge, $10.87; H. S. Brock, 600 feet of cedar, $9.60; W. Miles, opening up road to Crowe's ward, $47.50; Junkins, gravel and damage to crop, $2.80; John A. Patterson, special grant on secondary, $100; Girven, gravel and damage to crop, $2.80; Jas. Long, gravel, $3.60; Deen, conveyance of road allowance from J. W. Burgess to the municipal corporation of Dummer, $2; Thomas Clements, gravel, $4.70; Samuel Bryson, special grant on boundary, $10; Chas. McNutt, for new culvert bridge, $5; Jos. Dunsight refund of statute labour tax, $2.

On motion a special grant of $50 was made to gravel the new road between the east and west halves of lot 1 in the 11th concession of Dummer, and an order was drawn on the treasurer in favour of Councillor Martin for the expenditure of the same.

On motion of Councillor Miles and Martin a special grant of $40 was made to be expended by Jas. H. Dewart on the 6th line of Dummer.

The reeve and, Councillor Payne were appointed to go over the lots lands in Stony Lake, and ascertain whether all the owners are assessed.

A deputation from the Women's Institute waited on the council and called attention to the ill-treatment received by them at the hands of the janitor of the town hall on the night of their recent concert. They also objected to the over-charge for rent. The council promised to investigate and have the matter adjusted.

The council then adjourned to meet on Saturday, August 4th, at 10.30 a.m.

At Warsaw, Russia, terrorists attacked the city paymaster and robbed him of 2,000 roubles. Another band robbed the gas works paymaster of 2,500 roubles, and a third band robbed the Nonfelds bedstead factory of 750 roubles.

The Two Vanrevels

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,

Author of "The Gentleman from Indiana" and "Monsieur Beaucaire"

Copyright, 1902, by S. S. McClure Co.

"Because," and answered at last, speaking hesitatingly—"because it isn't so easy a matter for me as you seem to think. You have not been introduced to me, and I know you never will be, and that what you told me was true."

"Which part of what I told you?" The question escaped from him instanter.

"That the others might come when they liked, but that you could not."

"Oh, yes, yes." His expression altered to a sincere dejection, his shoulders drooped and his voice indicated supreme annoyance. "I might have known some one would tell you. Who was it? Did they say why I"—

"On account of your quarrel with my father."

"My quarrel with your father!" he exclaimed, and his face lit with an elated surprise. His shoulders straightened. He took a step nearer her and asked eagerly, "Who told you that?"

"My father himself. He spoke of a Mr. Vanrevel whom he disliked and whom I must not meet, and, remembering what you had said, of course I knew that you were he."

"Oh!" Cralley's lips began to form a smile of such appealing and inimitable sweetness that Voltaire would have trusted him, a smile altogether rose leaves. "Then I lose you," he said, "for my only chance to know you was in keeping it hidden from you. And now you understand."

"No," she answered gravely, "I don't understand. That is what troubles me. If I did and believed you had the right of the difference I could believe it no sin that you should speak to me, should take me home now. I think it is wrong not to act from your own understanding of things."

The young man set his expression as one indomitably fixed upon the course of honor, cost what it might, and in the very action his lurking pleasure in doing it hopped out in the flicker of a twinkle in his eyes and as instantly sought cover again—the flea in the rose jar.

"Then you must ask some other," he said firmly. "A disinterested person should tell you. The difference was political in the beginning, but became personal afterward, and it is now a quarrel which can never be patched up, though, for my part, I wish that it could be. I can say no more, because a party to it should not speak."

She met his level look squarely at last, and no man ever had a more truthful pair of eyes than Cralley Gray, for it was his great accomplishment that he could adjust his emotion, his reason and something that might be called his faith to fit any situation in any character.

"You may take me home," she answered. "I may be wrong and even disloyal, but I do not feel it so now. You did a very brave thing tonight to save him from loss, and I think that what you have said was just what you should have said."

So they went down the street, the hubbub and confusion of the fire growing more and more indistinct behind them. They walked slowly, and for a time neither spoke, yet the silence was of a kind which the adept rejoiced to have produced thus soon—their second meeting. He waited until they passed into the shadows of the deserted Carewe street before he spoke. There he stopped abruptly, at which she turned, astonished.

"Now that you have saved my life," he said in a low, tremulous tone, "what are you going to do with it?"

Her eyes opened almost as widely as they had at her first sight of him in her garden. There was a long pause before she replied, and when she did it was to his considerable surprise.

"I have never seen a play except the funny little ones we acted at the convent," she said. "But isn't that the way they speak on the stage?"

Cralley realized that his judgment of the silence had been mistaken, and yet it was with a thrill of delight that he recognized her clear reading of him. He had been too florid again.

"Let us go." His voice was soft with restrained forgiveness. "You mocked me once before."

"Mocked you?" she repeated as they went on.

"Mocked me," he said firmly. "Mocked me for seeming theatrical, and yet you have learned that what I said was true, as you will again."

She mused upon this, then, as in whimsical indulgence to an importunate child:

"Well, tell me what you mean when you say I saved your life."

"You came alone," he began hastily, "to stand upon that burning roof"—

"Whence all but him had fled!" Her laughter rang out, interrupting him. "My room was on the fourth floor at St. Mary's, and I didn't mind climbing three flights this evening."

Cralley's good nature was always perfect. "You mock me, and you mock me!" he cried, and made her laughter but part of a gay duet. "I know I have gone too fast, have said things I should have waited to say, but, ah, remember the small chance I have against the others who can see you when they like. Don't flout me because I try to make the most of a rare, stolen moment with you."

"Do!" she exclaimed, grave upon the instant. "Do make the most of it! I have nothing but inexperience. Make the most by treating me seriously, won't you? I know you can, and I—I"— She faltered to a full stop. She was earnest and quiet, and there had been something in her tone, too, as very often there was, that showed how young she was. "Oh," she began again, turning to him impulsively, "I have thought about you since that evening in the garden, and I have wished I could know you. I can't be quite clear how it happened, but even those few minutes left a number of strong impressions about you. And the strongest was that you were one with whom I could talk of a great many things, if you would only be real with me. I believe, though I'm not sure why I do, that it is very difficult for you to be real. Perhaps because you are so different at different times that you aren't sure yourself which the real you is. But the person that you are beginning to be for my benefit must be the most trifling of all your selves, lighter and easier to put on than the little mask you carried the other night. If there were nothing better underneath the mask, I might play too."

"Did you learn this at the convent?" gasped Cralley.

"There was a world there in miniature," she answered, speaking very quickly. "I think all people are made of the same materials, only in such different proportions. I think a little world might hold as much as the largest, if you thought it all out hard enough, and your experience might be just as broad and deep in a small corner of the earth as anywhere else, but I don't know! I want to understand—I want to understand everything! I read books, and there are people, but no one who tells me what I want—I"—

"Stop!" He lifted his hand. A singular exaltation rose in him, together with the reckless impulse to speak from the mood her vehement confidence had inspired. He gave way to it.

"I know, I know," he said huskily. "I understand all you mean, all you feel, all you wish. It is all echoing here and here and here!" He touched his breast, his eyes and his forehead with the fingers of his long and slender hand. "We sigh and strain our eyes and stretch out our arms in the dark, groping always for the strange blessing that is just beyond our grasp, seeking for the precious unknown that lies just over the horizon! It's what they meant by the pot of gold where the rainbow ends—only, it may be there, after all!"

They stopped unconsciously and remained standing at the lower end of the Carewe hedge. The western glow had faded, and she was gazing at him through the darkness, leaning forward, never dreaming that her tight grasp had broken the sticks of the little pink fan.

"Yes," she whispered eagerly. "You are right; you understand!"

He went on, the words coming faster and faster: "We are haunted, you and I, by the wish to know all things, and by the question that lies under every thought we have, the agonizing Whither? Isn't it like that? It is really death that makes us think."

She shivered slightly, but her steadfast eyes did not shift from him. He threw back his head, and his face, uplifted to the jeweled sky of the moonless night, was beatific in its peacefulness as he continued in an altered tone, gentle and low:

"I think all questions are answered there. The stars tell it all. When you look at them you know. Do you see the constellations swinging above us, such unimaginable vastnesses, not roving or crashing through the illimitable at haphazard, but moving in mere excellent measure and to a finer rhythm than the most dilicate clockwork man ever made? Ah, when you wonder look above you—look above you in the night, I say," he cried, his hand upraised like his transfigured face. "Look above you and you will never fear that a sparrow's fall could go unmarked."

It was not to the stars that she looked, but to the orator, as long as he held that pose, which lasted until a hard ridden horse came galloping down the street. As it dashed by, though the rider looked neither to right nor left, Miss Betty unconsciously made a feverish clutch at her companion's sleeve, drawing him closer to the hedge.

"It is my father."

"It is my father," she said hurriedly in a low voice. "He must not see you. You must never come here. Perhaps"— She paused, then quickly whispered: "You have been very kind to me. Good night."

He did not speak again, but, taking a step backward, smiled faintly, bent his head in humble acquiescence and made a slight gesture of his hand for her to leave him. She waved him an uncertain farewell and ran into the garden, both palms against her burning cheeks.

CHAPTER VIII.

MR. CAREWE was already at the breakfast table, but the light of his countenance, hidden behind the Rouen Journal, was not vouchsafed to his daughter when she took her place opposite him, nor did he see fit to return her morning greeting, from which she generously concluded that the burning of the two warehouses had meant a severe loss to him.

"I am so sorry, father," she said gently. (She had not called him "papa" since the morning after her ball.) "I hope it isn't to be a great trouble to you." There was no response, and after waiting for some time she spoke again rather tremulously, yet not timidly, "Father?"

He rose, and upon his brow were marked the blackest lines of anger she had ever seen, so that she leaned back from him, startled, but he threw down the open paper before her on the table and struck it with his clinched fist.

"Read that!" he said, and he stood over her while she read.

There were some grandiloquent headlines: "Miss Elizabeth Carewe an Angel of Mercy! Charming Belle Saves the Lives of Five Prominent Citizens! Her Presence of Mind Prevents Conflagration From Wiping Out the City!" It may be noted that Will Cummings, editor and proprietor of the Journal, had written these tributes as well as the whole account of the evening's transactions, and Miss Betty loomed as large in Will's narrative as in his good and lovelorn heart. There was very little concerning the fire in the Journal. It was nearly all about Betty. That is one of the misfortunes which pursue a lady who allows an editor to fall in love with her.

However, there was a scant mention of the arrival of the volunteers "upon the scene," though none at all at the cause of their delay, and an eloquent paragraph was devoted to their handsome appearance, Mr. Cummings having been one of those who insisted that the new uniforms should be worn. "Soon," said the Journal, "through the daring of the chief of the department and the captain of the hook and ladder company, one of whom placed and mounted the grappling ladder, over which he was immediately followed by the other carrying the hose, a stream was sent to play upon the devouring element, a feat of derring-do personally witnessed by a majority of our readers. Mr. Vanrevel and Ms. Gray were joined by Eugene Madrillon, Tappingham Marsh and the editor of this paper, after which occurred the unfortunate accident to the long ladder, leaving the five named gentlemen in their terrible predicament, face to face with death in its most awful form. At this frightful moment"— And all the rest was about Miss Carewe.

As Will himself admitted, he had "laid himself out on that description." One paragraph was composed of short sentences, each beginning with the word "alone." "Alone she entered the shattered door! Alone she set foot upon the first flight of stairs! Alone she ascended the second! Alone she mounted the third! Alone she lifted her hand to the trap! Alone she opened it!" She was declared to have made her appearance to the unfortunate prisoners on the roof, even as "the palm laden dove to the despairing Noah," and Will also asserted repeatedly that she was the "heroine of the hour."

Miss Betty blushed to see her name so blasoned forth in print, but she lacked one kind of vanity and failed to find good reason for more than a somewhat troubled laughter, the writer's purpose was so manifestly kind in spite of the bizarre result.

"Oh, I wish Mr. Cummings hadn't!" she exclaimed. "It would have been better not to speak of me at all, of course. But I can't see that there is anything to resent. It is so funny!"

"Funny!" Mr. Carewe repeated the word in a cracked falsetto, with the evident intention of mocking her, and at the same time hideously contorted his face into a grotesque idiocy of expression, pursing his lips so extremely and setting his brows so awry that his other features were carried out of all familiar likeness, effecting an alteration as shocking to behold in a man of his severe cast of countenance as was his falsetto mimicry to hear. She rose in a kind of terror, perceiving that this contortion was produced in burlesque of her own expression, and as he pressed nearer her stepped back, overturning her chair. She had little recollection of her father during her childhood, and as long as she could remember no one had spoken to her angrily or even roughly.

As she retreated from him he leaned forward, thrusting the hideous mask closer to her white and horror stricken face.

"You can't see anything to resent in that!" he gibbered. "It's so funny, is it? Funny! Funny! Funny! I'll show you whether it's funny or not! I'll show you!" His voice rose almost to a shriek. "You hang around fires, do you, on the public streets at night? You're a nice one for me to leave in charge of my house while I'm away, you trollop! What did you mean by going up on that roof? You knew that rascal Vanrevel was there! You did, I say, you knew it!"

Bess ran toward the door with a frightened cry. But he got between it and her, menacing her with his upraised open hands, shaking them over her.

"You're a lovely daughter, aren't you?" he shouted hoarsely. "You knew perfectly well who was on that roof, and you went. Didn't you go? Answer me that! If I'd had arms about me when I got there I'd have shot that man dead! He was on my property giving orders, the black hound! And when I ordered him out he told me if I interfered with his work before it was finished he'd have me thrown out—me that owned the whole place—and there wasn't a man that would lend me a pistol! 'Rescue!' You'd better rescue him from me, you palm laden dove, for I'll shoot him, I will! I'll kill that dog, and he knows it. He can bluster in a crowd, but he'll hide now! He's a coward and"—

"He came home with me. He brought me home last night!" Her voice rang out in the room like that of some other person, and she hardly knew that it was herself who spoke.

"You lie!" he screamed, and fell back from her, his face working as though under the dominance of some physical disorder, the flesh of it plastic beyond conception, so that she cried out and covered her face with her arm. "You lie! I saw you at the hedge with Cralley Gray, though you thought I didn't. What do you want to lie like that for? Vanrevel didn't even speak to you. I asked Madrillon. You lie!"

He choked upon the words. A racking cough shook him from head to feet. He staggered back and dropped upon her overturned chair, his arms beating the table in front of him, his head jerking spasmodically backward and forward as he gasped for breath.

"Ring the bell!" he panted thickly, with an incoherent gesture. "Nelson knows! Ring!"

Nelson evidently knew. He brought brandy and water from the sideboard with no stinting hand, and within ten minutes Mr. Carewe was in his accustomed seat, competent to finish his breakfast.

For Miss Betty had fled to her own room and had bolted the door. She lay upon the bed, shuddering and shivering with nausea and cold, though the day was warm. After a time she began to grow quieter, turned and lay

"You're a lovely daughter, aren't you?"

with wet eyes staring unseeingly at the wall, her underlip quivering with the deep intake of each broken sigh.

"Missy?" There came a soft knock upon the door and the clink of silver upon china. "Missy?"

"What is it?"

So quick was Miss Betty that, although she answered almost at once the tears were washed away and she was passing a cool, wet towel over her eyes at the moment she spoke.

"Jass me. I brung yo' breakfas' honey."

Old Nelson's voice was always low and gentle, with a quaver and hesitancy in the utterance. Now it was tender and comforting with the comprehension of one in suffering, the extraordinary tact which the old of his race nearly all come to possess. "Li'l chicken wing on piece brown toast, honey."

When she opened the door he came in, bending attentively over his tray, and without a glance toward his young mistress made some show of fuss and bustle as he placed it upon a table near the window and drew up a chair for her so that she could sit with her back to the light.

"Dah, now!" he exclaimed softly, removing the white napkin and displaying other dainties besides the chicken wing. "Dass de way! Dat ole Mamie in de kitchen, she got her fallin's an' her grievin' sins, but de way she do han'le chicken an' biscuit sutney ain't none on 'em. She plead fo' me to ax you how you like dem biscuit."

He kept his head bent low over the table, setting a fork closer to Betty's hand; arranging the plates, then rearranging them, but never turning his eyes in her direction.

"Has father gone out, Nelson?" asked Betty in a low voice.

"Yes'm; he uptown." The old man's tone sank at once to the level of her own; became confidential, as one speaks to another in a room where somebody is ill. "He mekkin' perpetration to go down de rivuh dis aft'noon. He say he done broke de news to you dat he goin' 'way. Dey goin' buil' dem wa'house righ up, an' yo' pa he necistate go way 'count de contrack. He be gone two week, honey." Nelson finished without too much the air of imparting cheery tidings, but with just enough.

Will be continued next Saturday.

Hot Weather HEADACHES

Tablets, powders, drugs, of any kind will NOT cure headaches. Simply because they never reach the CAUSE of the headache.

What causes headaches? Poisoned blood, always.

If the bowels are constipated—

If the kidneys are weak—

If the millions of pores of the skin are not active—

There are bound to be headaches.

Fruit-a-tives

OR "FRUIT LIVER TABLETS"

cure headaches because they cure the cause of headaches. They do not drug the nerves. They go to the root of the trouble, invigorate and strengthen the liver and increase the flow of bile into the bowels, which cure constipation. Act directly on the kidneys, heal all kidney irritation. Act on the skin, stimulate and open the pores.

With bowels, kidneys and skin all healthy and working in harmony, the blood is kept pure and rich and there can be no headaches.

FRUIT-A-TIVES are pure fruit juices—combined by a secret process with tonics and intestinal antiseptics.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets Will Make her Pleasant

Many a woman is irritable, melancholy and hard to live with, just because she is run-down in health. Or perhaps she is suffering from something peculiar to her sex.

Such a woman should get sympathy not blame.

It is really remarkable, however, how soon Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets will make a change in such a woman.

Mrs. D. McDonald, 12 Outremont Terrace, Montreal, says:

"Shortly after taking them I forgot I had any nerves."

Mrs. James Arthur, North Rustico, P.E.I., says:

"Since commencing them I use I feel more buoyant, more vitality."

We might go on indefinitely citing the words of those who have had the old time spirits and vigor restored by this remarkable twentieth century preparation for women.

Cures Rheumatism

"I had an attack of Rheumatism—pains near my heart—which increased to such a degree that I became very anxious. I lost my appetite, and an intense itching or heating of the head made life miserable. I asked a druggist, was there nothing he could suggest that would help me, and he replied 'Why not try ABBEY'S SALT?'

I did so, and can now state positively, and without solicitation that the Rheumatism has disappeared—my appetite is grand—and the itching of my scalp has ceased.

I suggested to my aged Father and Mother that they should try ABBEY'S SALT for their Rheumatism—and they tell me they have received immense benefit."

LITTLE Bell BIOGRAPHIES

Schumann

ROBERT SCHUMANN, born at Zwickau, 1810, died near Bonn, 1856, was celebrated as a composer and as a critic of music. He might have become a pianist of the highest order had he not crippled the third finger of his right hand in an attempt to make it stronger and more facile by some mechanical device. This accident proves that there is no short cut to this end; it is reached only by persistent finger exercises in the hard old modern way at the keyboard.

If Schumann could not become a great pianist, he did become a great composer. Although he wrote an opera, choral and orchestral works, he will, like Schubert, retain a high place in the musical world by his songs, pianoforte pieces and other short compositions. His style is very striking and original. And all his songs and pianoforte pieces are of the highest excellence and beauty. There is not even among Schubert's vast collection any more perfect song than Schumann's "Ich Grolle Nicht" (I Do Not Complain). And for a pianoforte piece, strictly such, there is not in the realm of music anything so ravishing and haunting as his sensuous "Traeumerei" (Dreaming).

Schumann's pianoforte works have this virtue also—they are indispensable to the teacher and the student. To the young player Schumann had said—"Make Each your Daily Bread," to which we add, and

SARTORIAL MATTERS

THE LITTLE THINGS OF DRESS THAT INTEREST WOMEN.

Dainty Accessories Made of Ribbon. Footwear Never Before So Fanciful or Fantastic—Slippers That Look Like Birds—Butterfly Bangles.

Boas, collarettes, hats, warm weather muffs for ornament only, sashes, boleros, epaulets, sleeves, girdles, artificial flowers—all these things are made of ribbons. Some of the boas are made of a thousand satin loops from an inch to five inches long. They look like flower petals. Other boas are made of pinked and rosetted ribbon.

Some of the sashes have butterfly bows and long, streaming ends. Others have a rosette and long ends caught into knots or bows at frequent intervals. A ribbon ceinture has a deep point in front and back, and bretelles of the flowery ribbon go over the shoulder, making a gay little harness for the wearer and a very effective addition to a white lace or lawn blouse.

Capes and collarettes are of ribbon and lace insertion and have Pierrot frills of ribbon and lace around the neck.

Ribbon flowers, from tiny forget-me-nots to big, splendid roses, are made of ribbon for corsage and hair ornaments and trimmings.

Very smart and dainty and not nearly as perishable as they look are the little dressing sacks and house gowns of lace and ribbon insertion. One of these is made of inch wide coral satin ribbon and two inch wide strips of valenciennes lace. It falls in accordion plaits from neck to waist.

Another is of broad pompadour ribbon and narrow stripes of plain cream net. The effect is very ornate and odd and charming.

Footgear was never so fanciful, not to say fantastic, as it is this season. Shoes of all colors and of all leathers and skins and fabrics are worn. Russian calf, gun metal kid, canvas, brocaded silk, tinsel, suede, linen—all are used for shoes and slippers.

A pair of slippers made by a smart shoemaker the other day is fashioned to look like birds. They are of black satin embroidered in jet. The heads are on the top of the insteps, the outspread wings form the vamps, the tails were the toes. No wonder the wearer can dress with the grace of a thistledown—with wallows at her feet. Suede slippers with toes embroidered with crystal beads or ribbon embroidery are pretty and smart, and sprays of small flowers beginning at the toe and running along one side of the slipper only are a fad of the season.

Bracelets are seen on most of the short sleeved sisters. The daintiest ones are of gems set lightly and delicately in filigree lacework, with possibly a pendant at the fastening.

Butterfly bangles are airy things with slender bands of golden wire caught in by butterflies of gold and pearl or with gem encrusted wings.

Bangles of flexible golden wire mesh, like gold belts, fastening with little miniature buckles or framed gems are odd and pretty, and the little bracelet with pendent gold fringed tassels is seen again among quaint novelties.

The illustration shows two very smart novelties of the season, the sleeveless lace bolero being probably the latest wrinkle, but the deep bertha of combined laces runs it a close second.

Making the Shy Girl Talk.

The girl who knows herself to be tongue tied, though she regrets it, need not despair of popularity. Nobody is socially more disagreeable and more dreaded than a woman who talks too much, monopolizing the conversation and giving no one else a chance to speak. People fly from this overgifted and aggressive talker. A mere chatterbox is equally disliked. A good listener is always sure of appreciation. If you can but master the fine art of listening to each person with an air of deep interest, just as if there were nobody else at the moment in the wide world and as if your greatest wish were to understand what the other is trying to tell you, you will have the effect of talking well. All that is really necessary is not to let your attention wander and at the right moment in the right places make some brief rejoinder or affirmation. You need never fear that you will be thought too silent if you listen well and say yes or no at proper intervals. A good listener is never a bore, while a great talker frequently gains that unhappy distinction. Girls are sometimes tongue tied because of indifference. A bashful manner, up to a certain point, is attractive, but when it has its root in a hampering self consciousness which makes one awkward and clumsy or surly or defiant it is a fatal handicap.

JUVENILE MODES.

Attractive Gowns For the Small Girl. Crossbarred Muslin Used.

A stunning "best" dress for a little girl is of finest white organdie. The short skirt has a lace inserted yoke and a panel front embroidered in delicate white traceries. The sleeve caps are of lace trimmed organdie, and the waist and skirt are joined with a valenciennes insertion. The waist part is rather long and the brief skirt shirred on full. Worn with the dress is a new sash of ottoman ribbon heavily fringed. Each alternate fringe knot is ended with a tiny blossom made of pink ribbon.

Suspender dresses of pretty ginghams and madras are very useful. A fresh blouse makes the suit always dainty. In checked black and white silk this style is also attractive trimmed with lines of narrow black velvet.

The small boy's coat is more mannish in cut this summer. The linen models are very smart and come in all the season's colorings, including Alice blue and the modish rose shades.

Crossbarred muslins and Irish dimities are making some of the prettiest children's dresses of the season. And the heavier linens and piques in tailored models of Russian blouse with low, round neck bertha designs are smart. The simpler of these dresses are trimmed with scalloped buttonhole stitched edges worked with mercerized thread.

The dress in the cut is of white linen. The yoke and cuffs are of pale blue linen. The belt is of white suede.

Health Is a Habit.

Health is really a habit—that of living right. If we get into the right habit of living we shall have little trouble in keeping ourselves in good condition, physically and mentally.

Get into the habit of breathing properly. Expand the lungs and fill them full of air as often during the day as you think of it.

But good physical habits are not all. The mental habits must also be regulated. If you are in the habit of talking about every little ill, pain or ache step it at once. Don't think that you have to tell somebody every time your head aches or your heart palpitates or your stomach refuses to digest some horrid food you have forced upon it. There are so many other things to talk about.

Manitoba grows more wheat than country in the world.

CHILDREN'S HEADGEAR.

Charming Hats For Wee Folks—Models of Straw and Embroidery.

A charming hat for a little girl of eight or ten is of leghorn in a floppy round shape. The crown is of pink neapolitan straw arranged in a soft fashion. Tightly encircling the crown is a band of light blue flowers.

Large hats of English embroidery will be the favorite form of children's headgear this summer. There are delightful models formed of a combination of straw and embroidery simply trimmed around the crown with wreaths of wild flowers.

Among the newest hats for little girls is the "cantaloupe melon." It is somewhat like the old melon or dome shaped hat of the winter, but the hard line around the face is softened by rows of chiffon ruching or frills of lace, which constitute the most becoming setting for a small face with its fringe of fair curls.

A pretty little model of the melon description is carried out in pale blue crinoline straw, the border ornamented with three superposed frills of white kilted valenciennes lace. Two tiny bunches of forgetmenots are half concealed on either side of the hat in a rosette of lace, while a bow of blue satin ribbon a shade deeper than that of the straw decorates the crown of the hat. Streamers of ribbon tie under the chin.

The illustration shows a pretty little hat for a small girl. It is of tan colored straw. Through the indented brim is run a scarf of soft brown silk fastened at the side in a knot with fringed ends.

SAVE THE BABIES.

Mother, an investment of 25 cents now may save your baby's life. Colic, diarrhoea and cholera infantum carry off thousands of little ones during the hot weather months. A box of Baby's Own Tablets costs but 25 cents and there is security and safety in this medicine. Give an occasional Tablet to the little one and you will keep it well. Give them to the child if trouble comes swiftly and see the ease and comfort this medicine brings. And you have the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine contains no poisonous opiate. Mrs. R. Metlin, Halifax, N.S., says: "Baby's Own Tablets are a valuable medicine for stomach and bowel troubles." Sold by all medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Keep the Tablets in the house.

La Mode's Trend.

Utmost importance attaches to the small belongings of dress this season, and the accessories portrayed in the cut show some of fashion's latest vagaries.

The girdle is one of the new lingerie affairs developed in soft silk which is shirred over a pointed foundation of wire and bound with strips of ribbon. This particular style is much used with separate skirts to gain the popular princess effect, and in cutting and fitting requires the skill of an artist, for it's a work of art. Girdles of tucks and embroidery are unusually smart, the tucks being used to fill in the center, with embroidery for the border, but there is really no limit to the materials and trimmings combined in the true up to date girdle.

The collar shown is extremely simple and entirely within the scope of the home artist. It is a band of silk, with pointed ends buttoning over a tucked strip, which is finished with a jabot of lace.

Strange Careers For Women.

American women are seldom wanting in enterprise. Among the original ways of earning a living discovered by some of them may be mentioned those of visiting hairdresser, plant and cut flower adviser and furniture remover and packer. The latter is in great demand, for the presence of a capable woman in addition to the contractor during the domestic upheaval of a removal from one house to another has been found to be of untold comfort.

FRENCH LINGERIE.

AN IMPORTANT FEATURE OF THE SMART SUMMER WARDROBE.

Dainty Chemises For Wear With Empire Gowns—Few Women Can Resist These Fascinating Garments of Fine Linen.

Whatever may be the opinion of the universal suitability of empire frocks and topcoats, there can be little doubt in anybody's mind concerning the overwhelming charm of the empire underwear. Chemises and nightgowns are being made up in this style in great numbers in the fashionable French houses. Few women will be able to resist these fascinating new garments of fine linen, batiste, nainsook, lace and embroidery. The empire chemises are quite an important item of an entire empire outfit, and since they are of such delicate material and so carefully cut it does not seem that they could interfere appreciably with the longest waisted of tight fitting bodices.

The empire chemises have much more of the charm of the old empire frocks than have the outer garments of the revival. Careful study of these garments side by side has revealed the reason for this as lying in the fact that the chemises are cut actually on the old empire lines and are trimmed with the same ideal in mind. The chemises, like the old empire frocks, are very scanty in the body and indeed throughout their length. The sleeves are merely straps or the tiniest of puffs, perfectly flat and not falling much off of the shoulder. The trimming is simple and on decided lines in border effects. These things all re-create the old empire model, and these details are necessary in order that the empire may be satisfactorily carried out.

The modern empire dress is, on the other hand, too apt to rejoice in an overabundance of material. The waist is made too full, whereas its scantiness is its chief beauty. The skirt is made a great deal too full. While it may not be full at the front or sides, the back is made so full that the effect is spoiled or the skirt is allowed to widen out too quickly. Thus the line of the figure is lost in folds, and the empire dinner gown or ball gown looks oddly like a wrapper and very much unlike anything intended for more formal wear.

Added to this fearful fullness, which seems to have settled upon us for life since the vogue of the blouse, the modern empires have a superabundance of trimming, which also helps to destroy their lines, and they are apt to have sleeves that are quite full at the top and set quite high, a most impossible incongruity.

But the empire underwear has avoided all such pitfalls, and in consequence it is simply the most tempting article of woman's attire which has recently been imported. It is made of the most exquisite quality of linen batiste, skilfully put together. The trimming that is used is put on in the flattest, least showy manner. Lace not very wide, but of valuable quality, is used and occasionally a trifle of hand embroidery of the finest workmanship and the most beautiful design. The real beauty of the garments, however, lies in their charming lines, the fineness of the material used and the perfection of fit and finish. The empire chemises and nightgowns are highly becoming, especially to thin women.

How to Care For Lawns.

Rake the dead leaves from the lawn as soon as you can get on to it without leaving a footmark in the damp soil. Do this carefully, to avoid tearing the sward, which is easily injured in the spring. Apply a good fertilizer. Use it liberally in order to secure a rich, velvety sward. That is something you cannot have unless you use good food and plenty of it.

I would advise a commercial fertilizer, as barnyard manure will bring in weeds, and they are the last things one cares to introduce to his lawn. There will be enough of these in spite of all your efforts to prevent them from coming to keep you busy in trying to get rid of them. Dandelions should be cut off below the crown with a thin bladed knife or a pointed hoe. Simply clipping their tops will do no good whatever. Plantain, so far as my experience goes, cannot be eradicated from any lawn. It is there to stay. But it can be kept down by close mowing. A lawn without weeds calls for the services of a gardener who can devote his entire time to it. Most of us cannot afford this expense, but we can have pretty lawns even though there are some weeds in them if we keep the grass growing luxuriantly and give them the regular attention they demand in the way of mowing and raking.—Ellen B. Rexford in Outing Magazine.

ENGLAND

A mysterious affair occurred at Camberley, Surrey, a few days ago, at a house in London Road known as Heathfield, the residence of two elderly unmarried ladies named Hogg. Early in the morning the younger Miss Hogg appeared at the door of a neighbour's house with her face and clothing covered with blood. On Heathfield being entered the body of the elder sister was found on the floor face downwards, with the head practically severed, and grasping in her hand a heavy hammer, with which she appeared to have been defending herself when struck down. It transpired, however, that the hammer shaft was broken, and that the weapon had been placed in her hand after death. In addition to gashes in the throat, both sisters had marks of severe blows on their temples, and these marks again could not have been self-inflicted. The body of the elder sister presented a shocking spectacle, all the upper portion being saturated with blood, and the head more than half severed from the trunk. The Misses Hogg, although extremely wealthy, lived entirely alone at Heathfield, keeping no servants, though the house is a large three-storeyed building with stabling attached. Robbery was not the motive of the murder, as the jewellery belonging to Miss Hogg was not touched.

The new battleship, Africa, which cost about £1,500,000, had a remarkable escape recently from being lost on the rocks near the Lizard, Cornwall, while undergoing a portion of her trials. During the same night that the battleship Montagu went ashore on Lundy Island—the Africa was off the Cornish coast, steaming at about 15 knots, in a heavy fog. Suddenly the look-out man shouted that land was ahead, and the officer on the bridge promptly ordered "full speed astern." Equally prompt response to this order saved the battleship from becoming a total wreck. The crew of the battleship could hear the surf dashing against the coast, and when the fog lifted a few minutes later, the Africa lay so close to the rocks that, in the language of one of her officers, "you could have thrown a small stone from the deck and hit them." Rocks threatened the battleship on both sides. She was rescued from her exceedingly perilous position only by the most skilful navigation.

The historic Charter Fair at Rothwell, near Kettering, Northamptonshire, was celebrated a few days ago. At the head of a procession, mounted upon a charger, rode the deputy of the Lord of the Manor, who at a certain point read aloud a copy of the proclamation of the chartter of the city, the parchment being tied to his neck with blue ribbon. This official can claim a free drink for the people at each inn, and there are ten of them. The fair lasts for five days. Fifty years ago Rothwell Fair was second to none in the kingdom. At that time a great deal of ale was consumed, and, despite the fact that there were nine or ten public-houses, cottages had the special right to sell beer during the fair. At that period Bucks sent its wooden hoops, Leicestershire its willow bowls, Kings' Cliffe its taps, spoons and carved ware, Bandbury its cakes, Corby its rakes, and Northampton its ladders.

An extraordinary story of suicide by fire comes from Colsal, a village near Wolverhampton. Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Walker were awakened at an early hour a few mornings ago by a smell of smoke. They saw fierce flames in the yard, which Mr. Walker extinguished with a garden hose. The fire appeared to be in a heap of wood and shavings that had been saturated with paraffin. The village policeman was called and Mr. Walker's household murdered, when it was discovered that the cook, Elisa Davies, was missing. An examination of the remnants of the fire disclosed charred human remains, which were identified as those of the missing cook. It appeared that the young woman found paraffin in the kitchen, and made her exit by a window to the yard, where she built and ignited her funeral pyre.

The London County Council is alarmed over the fact that approximately nine-tenths of the alien cigarette makers whom the German Government has ordered to leave the country as undesirables intend to make their way to England. This means that between 2,000 and 2,500 aliens of all nationalities, who are practically penniless, will be dumped into the East End of London, to take whatever work offers itself in the tobacco trade at starvation rates. They are, with few exceptions, Russian subjects of Polish nationality. Although they have been expelled for no other reason than they displaced German workers by underselling them in the labour market, they will gain admittance to England by declaring themselves political refugees.

The famous Besses o' th' Barn band are starting on a record world tour. They will visit the principal cities in the United States and Canada, paying a special visit to Washington. They go on to British Columbia, and then to New Zealand. At Christ Church New Zealand, they have an engagement with the Government to play at the exhibition in the town throughout January. After New Zealand they go on to the different States in Australia, then back to America for another tour, returning to Lancashire at the end of next year. The tour will take eighteen months, and the bandsmen will cover 50,000 miles in their journeyings.

An exciting scene was witnessed on the Prince of Wales pier, Dover, recently, on the departure of the liner Pretoria for New York. Amongst the passengers to embark was the Russian giant, Mackmow, who is 9 ft. 3 in. high, and who has been in England for five months. The giant has an aversion to the sea, and at the last moment refused to leave the railway carriage. The only alternative was to carry him on board, and for this purpose the services of about 20 seamen were engaged. It was a considerable time before Mackmow could be extricated from the compartment.

SCOTLAND

The story of a buried heart—brought back by sorrowing friends from Holland, when the body itself could not be conveyed to the family vault—has been recalled from the mists of tradition by the recent search for the relic among the ruins of Culross Abbey, Perthshire. In a vault in the abbey is a small brass plate, which tells the story of the buried heart. The inscription is as follows: "Near this spot a deposited the heart of Edward, Lord Bruce of Kinloss, who was slain in a bloody duel fought in 1613 with Sir Edward Sackville, afterwards Earl of Dorset, at Bergen-op-Zoom, Holland. The heart is embalmed in a silver casket of foreign workmanship, secured between two flat and excavated stones clasped with iron." Lord Elgin and the present Lord Bruce recently visited the abbey—which is being restored—and in the presence only of the master of works and the foreman mason, searched the family vault of the Bruces. The search proved that the vault was empty, but about a foot below the pavement a large stone was discovered. It is believed that beneath it the heart will be found. The story of the duel is a tradition in the neighbourhood. Insulted by Sir Edward Sackville in a public place, Lord Bruce challenged his detractor, and the two gentlemen repaired to the Low Countries to fight out the quarrel. The conflict was fierce, and Bruce was mortally wounded. He was buried in the great church of Bergen, but ere he expired he begged his comrades to take his heart back to Scotland, and day it in the old abbey at Culross.

Mark All, an old man of 78, who is attempting to walk 60,000 miles in 7 years, reached Glasgow a few days ago. All, who started his task in 1900, has been promised £500 if he completes it. Up to the present he has walked 51,750 miles. When he started he weighed 160 pounds, but now he does not draw the scale at 140 pounds. His travels have been by no means devoid of incident. He has been lost in snowdrifts five times, he was struck down by lightning at Marseilles, and stoned and shot at in Germany. All wears a Union Jack tied round his arm, and to it he attributes his ill-treatment in Germany. All has earned £175 at his trade in various places while on his walk, and has also received £45 in gifts. He has worn out 39 pairs of boots. He has toured the British Isles seven times, And has also been through France, Portugal, Spain, Holland, Switzerland, Italy and Germany. He hopes to be allowed to walk through Russia.

A most interesting and valuable MS. book was found recently in the safe of the new college library at Edinburgh. It is entitled "A Perfect Inventor of all the Pious Donations Given to the Kirks and Hospitals in Scotland since the days of James I. to the reign of King James the VI., with Additions. Edinburgh, written 12 Novr., 1762, by R. M." As the book bore conclusive marks of having belonged to the Advocates' Library, inquiry was made to ascertain if any light could be thrown on when and how the MS. book had entered the New College Library. The former librarian of the New College reported that he was not able to give any information, and had not in fact been aware that the book was in the library. Probably, therefore, the mystery of its passage from the one library to the other will never be cleared up, but if it could be, another chapter would, no doubt, have to be added to the romance of missing MSS. The MS. is of the highest interest for Scottish history.

During the illness of a woman, named Lowell, who died recently in Edinburgh, her doctor observed a certain unusual symptom. He, in consequence, pared his nails, and the parings were submitted to analysis and the Home Office was communicated with. The report of the analyst was not received until some time after the burial, and orders have now been received from the Home Office for the exhumation of the body. The result of the analytical examination of the finger nail parings, it appears, was that arsenic was found in comparatively large quantities. Exhaustive inquiries were made, and samples of the beer sold in the neighbourhood were taken to ascertain whether the case was one of accidental arsenical poisoning. No trace of arsenic, however, was found in any of the samples.

Among the novelties in the construction of the battleship Agamemnon, of 16,500 tons, which was launched at Glasgow recently, are the following:—All her guns will be above the upper deck, and her heavy guns will be more concentrated in the centre of the vessel, while the smaller pieces will be carried on a central platform deck, extending about one-third the length of the ship, and upward of 30 feet above the water line, giving great command on all sides of the water round the ship.

Extraordinary conduct, which probably cost a man's life, is reported from Kilsyth recently. John Morrison was seized with cramps while bathing in the Forth and Clyde canal. William Welsh, who is a swimmer, jumped into the canal to rescue Morrison, but several men seized Welsh, fearing he would also take cramps, and pulled him out. The attempted rescue of the drowning man was therefore prevented.

IRELAND

The Dublin corporation have created a sensation by refusing to submit their books and accounts to Mr. Drury, the official auditor, whose criticisms have aroused the anger of the members. Under the orders of the local Government Board, Mr. Drury recently waited on the town clerk, Mr. Henry Campbell, ex-M. P., and asked for the production of the corporation books. Mr. Campbell replied, that having regard to the terms of the resolution, he could not comply with the request. During the day an order was applied for in the King's Bench Division, directing the town clerk to give up the books. In the meantime corporation have not been idle. They have resolved to act up to the terms of the resolution, they have approved of the town clerk's action, and the Lord Mayor and the members have expressed themselves very clearly regarding the action of the auditor. The prospect of the town clerk being committed to gaol for contempt of court is being seriously considered.

There has just been unveiled in Belfast a stately monument to the late Marquis of Dufferin and Ava. The Marquis of Londonderry performed the ceremony. The late Marquis, who was a descendant of the great dramatist, Richard Brinsley Sheridan, was one of the foremost diplomatists of the nineteenth century, and for many years held post of British ambassador in Paris. He loved his own country, Ireland, according to his lights, but his talents and services were given to the British Government. He was a man of much culture and charm of manner, and one of the most attractive public speakers.

Considerable public interest was shown in the funeral of Lady French in Dublin recently, as she represented a peerage unique in the annals of the country. The Ffrench peerage is famous in the fact that it is the first peerage really created for a Catholic since the Revolution. Though it was conferred on Lady Ffrench, who was regarded as a Protestant, in 1789, it was so conferred for the express purpose of passing to her son, Sir Thomas Ffrench, Bart, who had rendered important services to the Irish Government. George III. required a good deal of persuasion before he sanctioned the granting of the title, even in this indirect manner, but Lord Camden, the Viceroy, prevailed.

James Loughran, Doumealand, Derrynoose, Middletown, county Armagh, has just celebrated his 112th birthday. The veteran is living in the house in which he was born, and a yew tree which is growing alongside, was planted by him over ninety years ago. Every morning he rises at five o'clock and delights in listening to the songs of the birds. Loughran was always a non-smoker but used spiritous liquors in moderation. He has no fondness for tea or coffee, preferring he says to use the food which was popular in his early days, and to the exclusive use of which he attributes his longevity — porridge, potatoes and plenty of new milk.

Richard Crocker, who has become one of the most active owners on the Irish turf, has been trying to purchase the Leopardstown Racecourse, the most exclusive track in Ireland. It was reported that he offered $250,000 but that the club would not sell, in spite of the fact that the meetings have been unsuccessful for some time past, owing to their social exclusiveness. Mr. Crocker lives within a stone's throw of the track and has lately purchased a farm adjoining it. His idea in buying Leopardstown, it is said, was to make it a private concern and run it on popular democratic lines.

While some turf cutters were at work in the bog of Coolamber, near Granard, county Longford, a few days ago, they found a headless skeleton, in which some fragments of a military uniform adhered. On some of the accoutrements near the body was found the fleur-de-lys of France, and it is thought that the skeleton is that of a French officer who, after the allied forces of Ireland and France had fled from the battlefield of Ballinamuck, which is in the vicinity, in 1798, was probably captured and executed, his head being taken as a trophy.

A resolution was carried at a recent meeting of the Dublin Corporation to remove from the hall of the municipal buildings the statue of George III. The mover of the resolution, Ald. Kelly, said that it was not a work of artistic merit and was not executed by an Irishman but by a Dutchman, and that the King was represented as a Roman Highlander.

Shall The Auto Ride Rough-Shod Over Farmers?

"Farmer First" Points Out That the Tillers of the Soil Should Have First Rights on the Roads Which They Built--An Answer to "Canada First's" Letter.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—There appeared in the "Weekly Review", of June 28th, a letter on "Automobiles in Peterborough", and signed "Canada First". Although we admit two of his statements, viz., that automobiles are bound to come into use, and that their manufacture will be an important one in the near future, yet, we do not admire the sledge hammer blows which he hands out to the legislative bodies and to the drivers of horses, not city broken, or in other words, the humble and submissive farmers. Mr. "Canada First" evidently contradicts himself or as the saying is "gets off his trolley" for, in one paragraph he says "Horses, too, are intelligent animals. The majority of them have far more common sense than lots of the people who drive them. A horse will never deliberately get into danger, their animal instinct will keep them from it, but man is given a superior mind." In another he says, "But a horse, especially a spirited one, of which there are so many in this district cannot be left alone." One never knows when they are going to start. A thousand little things may frighten it and then there are so many fool drivers that a horse is far more dangerous in a crowd in a park than an auto."

Sure!

Some men (with a superior mind) have certain fixed ideas on political questions and those particular ideas cannot be changed either by gentle persuasion or a hard club.
